

Gauntlet Thrown Down.
Question is not confined to the alone; not by any means. It rectly every trades union and on the country, and it is a that will be brought right into chambers of all these bodies, is true, gained his point in struggle. It was no doubt a victory for him. But he was not His vanity needed further s, and he therefore issues an that no employee of his road to that organization known ights of Labor.
he was arbitrary, foolish and

There are in this country izations among the employees s alone which, if united in one pose, could stop every wheel lantic to the Pacific, and just action as this latest piece of at will lead to the unification odies. If they would main-liberties, their manhood, they this challenge remain unanthe gauntlet has been thrown all of them. It is the Knights ll be other unions later on, toil in this broad country lift up his voice in one com-and take issue against this and unwarrantable tyranny.—
Secretary A. F. L. in In-

No-Strike Conductors.— cent meeting of the executive Independent Order of Rail-conductors the following was their principles on the sub-ity refusing to engage in a a strike and sympathy.
e conductors can have no with the disorder and lawless-the methods of striking it incumbent upon our form all dues to our em-est, loyally and faithfully, best possible service as the for increased remuneration
ment.

owe a duty to the public ands sacrifice of personal con-and under no possible cir-can we assume the right to business of the company or nt travelers in order to right rievance.
ve all violent attempts to or employment are unne-elligence and wisdom of the nd official of this age are amicably and honorably ad-ances of whatever character a just and reasonable man-at the Knights Say.

Labor say that H. Walter vice president of the New l railroad, could not have better service than by pub-actions to the heads of to ostracize all members of they claim that Mr. Webb motive, which will de-six months have elapsed, a wholesale reduction of ly on the Central, but on the tib system. They say that eased the wages of yard-men, switchmen and shop-to $10 a month, and that will now get the wages basis before the Knights stence on the road. They ction of the Fourth Ave-and other surface roads in demonstrate their claim.
ption of the order on the wages have been reghened. Such, it is said, the case when an organization is formed.—New York Press.

Control of Railways.— recent events it is timely at the national control of the only way by which the of the country can be stant interruption as the between the corporaemployees. National con-hand would be based anted rights of employees, of public opinion, informed publicity of the manage-directly through con-ensure their just and hu-gent and the redress of in the other hand the power would guarantee the pub-against any forcible inter-the railroad lines. It is that so vast and so vital a as the railroad service dependent upon the main-groups of capitalists and —Edward Bellamy is ful co-operation.

ed Rochdale co-operators,
ly twenty-six years ago, ast scale imaginable, have every share of which is e earner, of $2,355,000. uted to members have 00,000, while the total showed an increase over of $10,000,000.—New York advertiser.

ark board of walking dele-District Attorney Fel-of the September grand the advice of Col. Feljury returned an indictmacy against the delethe colonel and the court utes to knock the indictand read the fresh jury
t.

is getting a hold in Engtelegram from London Shipowners' federation ister for the purpose of labor league, and all be locked out by the federation.

ference of labor editors stated that in spite of ictions placed upon the country the circulation n's papers has increased the last three years.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 172.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

A PICNIC
IN
UNDERWEAR.
Saturday, November 1st.
ONE DAY ONLY!

4 Pieces to each Customer. 24 Dozen Swits Conde, ALL WOOL. Regular Price $1.25. Our Price for Saturday,

75 CENTS.

These Goods can be seen in our Window after Tuesday.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,
DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BEST IN THE MARKET!
FOR $6.50 CASH
WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.
[FRANK S. PATCH.]

Quincy, July 9.

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY
ORGANS AND PIANOS
AT THE NEW ROOM OF
R. D. CHASE,
In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,
AS HERETOFORE.

Oct. 25.

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.
CORRESPONDENCE OF
JOHN STETSON COMPANY.
OPEN FOR BUSINESS
THURSDAY, OCT. 16,
IN ADAMS BUILDING.
STOCKS, GRAIN and PETROLEUM.
TELEPHONE 9-8.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

Oct. 15.—tf

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

MUST be higher, as the pack is small. We are receiving a large variety of NEW CANNED GOODS of all kinds, which we shall sell at present at last year's prices.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY,
Durgin & Merrill's Block.

Quincy, Sept. 24.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT

AND THE
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

ONE YEAR FOR $6.

PROTECTION.

American Market for American Labor.

Congressman Morse was the Principal Speaker.

Talks on the Tariff and the Work of Congress.

A Common Sense Address by Mr.
Theophilus King.

The first and only Republican rally in Quincy at this election was that of last evening at Hancock hall. The audience was largely in excess of the seating capacity, and very close attention was paid the speakers.

Ex-Representative Merrill, chairman of the Republican city committee, called the meeting to order, and briefly introduced the speaker.

President Officer, John Shaw,

The Republican candidate for Representative.

Mr. Shaw complimented Congressman
Morse as a worker for the Second District, which he had faithfully represented in the Fifty-first Congress. He hoped, and felt confident, that the election would go as two years ago, when Hon. Elijah A.

Morse was handsomely elected. He then introduced

Congressman Morse,

Who was warmly received and spoke for over an hour. He thanked the audience for the cordial greeting and spoke a good word for Mr. Shaw, as candidate for the Legislature. Following is an abstract of his address:

First of all, I desire to congratulate the city of Quincy upon its growth and prosperity. Through the youngest, she is by no means the least of "the cities of Judah."

The growth and development of this beautiful city in which you live, is a monument to the wise and beneficent policy of protection, inaugurated by the passage of the "Morrill Tariff Bill," in 1861, which declared in favor of American markets for American manufactures, and American wages for American workmen.

The great granite interests of this city was one of those industries of New England which was marked for slaughter in the Fifty-first Congress, by the Democrats, Mugwumps and Free Traders.

I presented to the Committee on Ways and Means, a petition signed by nearly every manufacturer in Quincy, representing that foreign granite was brought to the United States at nominal freight as ballast, and that American wrought granite, and American manufacturers and granite workmen came into direct competition with the poorly paid, and half starved granite workers of Europe.

What, Tammany Hall talk about blacking, an organization that has made a Republican form of government a hiss and a
by-word among civilized nations in every country on the face of the earth?

Under the rule of Tammany Hall, the man who plastered the city hall in the city of New York, made out his bill for fifty-five thousand dollars, received five thousand, and the remainder of fifty thousand was divided among the "boys."

Talk about blacking the Democratic party,
when the taxpayers of the city of New York
paid as much for carpeting that same city hall, as would carpet the shore line, R. R. from New York to Boston.

Why, do you know I quote a distinguished authority here tonight, when I say, that life and property are safer, that crime is swifter and surer of punishment, that taxation is lower in the city of St. Petersburg, under the absolute monarch of all the Russians, than it is in the Democratic city of New York.

A Tammany chief talk about blacking.

Why, he had better spend his money for soap and white-wash, to wash away the crime of the Democratic party in the city and state of New York, against the best government on the face of the earth.

Mr. Morse then considered the Federal

Electoral Bill, declared that the Republicans had proven themselves to be the friends of the soldiers, denied the charge that the McKinley Tariff Bill had enhanced prices, said that the Democratic speakers had evidently come to the conclusion that a well stuck to was as good as the truth,
and one had only to turn from the editorial
to the advertising columns of the Democratic papers for its confirmation.

Mr. Morse said,—If I understood the speeches of the Democratic party in the

Fifty-first Congress, the Southern wing of the party, that controls its policy and

shapes its legislation, declared in no uncertain way, in the most emphatic manner,
in favor of absolute, unqualified free trade.

No tariff reform foolishness about Mr.

Crisp, Mr. Breckinridge and Mr. Mills,

the leaders of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives. Democratic

success in this campaign means, not only

free trade, dissemble or cloak it as you may,

but it means a debased currency, and an unsettling of values by the free coinage of silver. The Democratic party are erecting false lights along the shore to allure the manufacturing and financial interests of the country to the ruin. But Rev. Dr.

Everett cries out against free trade in labor.
I declare myself, here and now, to be in favor of restricting immigration to this country. We have closed our gates against the 450,000 Mongolians from the Chinese Empire, and I believe it high time that some restriction was placed upon some of the immigration that is coming to us from European countries, as well, and such legislation should be among the first acts of the next Congress.

The Republican Senate voted that increase, and Benjamin Harrison, the Republican president, signed the McKinley bill, which gives you the protection for which you pray.

So I say to the workingmen of Quincy, by the love that bear the wife of your bosom, by the kisses of your children that may rest warm upon your lips, by the love you bear the name of the town, where rest the bones of two presidents of the United States, where sleeps one of my illustrious predecessors, I say by all these considerations, I solemnly, earnestly exhort you to stand by the Republican party now.

There is a fable in mythology that Ulysses once on a time made war upon the Trojans.

In the night he was interviewed by the gods, who warned him of a certain dangerous island in his path, where the songs of sweet sirens would allure him and his sailors ashore to destroy; so to be forewarned was to be forearmed.

He filled his sailors' ears with wax; he lashed himself to the mast. When they passed the dangerous island the sweet sirens came out and ravished his ears with the music, and he cried out to the sailors to go ashore, but he had stopped their ears and they heard him not, and he passed the dangerous island in safety.

Oh, you workmen of Quincy, when you hear the voice of the siren of free trade, though she call herself a "Tariff reformer," by the love you bear your native land, as you desire your beautiful city's prosperity, I solemnly, earnestly exhort you to stop your ears, that you may pass this dangerous island in safety.

I affirm here and now, and challenge contradiction when I say that there is not a country on the face of the earth where laboring men are so well warmed, and clothed, and fed and have so much that goes to adorn and embellish civilized life, as in this favored land of ours, under the wise, protective policy of the Republican party; and it is not a safe axiom in affairs of State, nations, families, and individuals to let well enough alone?

Referring to the attack of John E. Russell upon him, on Tuesday evening at Brookton, he said:—I saw that John E.
Russell introduced the subject of stove blacking into his speech at Brookton on Tuesday evening. Representative Spinola, of New York, one of the idols of Tammany Hall, introduced that subject in the middle of a debate in the Fifty-first Congress.

Now I submit that any talk about blacking comes with a bad grace from Tammany Hall end of the Democratic party at least.

I told Spinola that we made good blacking in New England, but I did not know any but what would make a white mark on Tammany Hall chief.

What, Tammany Hall talk about black-
ing, an organization that has made a Republican form of government a hiss and a
by-word among civilized nations in every country on the face of the earth?

Under the rule of Tammany Hall, the man who plastered the city hall in the city of New York, made out his bill for fifty-
five thousand dollars, received five thousand, and the remainder of fifty thousand
was divided among the "boys."

Talk about blacking the Democratic party,
when the taxpayers of the city of New York
paid as much for carpeting that same city hall, as would carpet the shore
line, R. R. from New York to Boston.

Why, do you know I quote a distinguished authority here tonight, when I say, that life and property are safer, that crime is swifter and surer of punishment, that taxation
is lower in the city of St. Petersburg, under the absolute monarch of all the Russians, than it is in the Democratic city of New York.

A Tammany chief talk about blacking.
Why, he had better spend his money for soap and white-wash, to wash away the crime of the Democratic party in the city
and state of New York, against the best
government on the face of the earth.

Mr. Morse then considered the Federal Electoral Bill, declared that the Republicans had proven themselves to be the friends of the soldiers, denied the charge
that the McKinley Tariff Bill had enhanced prices, said that the Democratic speakers
had evidently come to the conclusion that
a well stuck to was as good as the truth,
and one had only to turn from the editorial
to the advertising columns of the Democratic papers for its confirmation.

Mr. Morse said,—If I understood the speeches of the Democratic party in the

Fifty-first Congress, the Southern wing of

the party, that controls its policy and

shapes its legislation, declared in no uncertain way, in the most emphatic manner,
in favor of absolute, unqualified free trade.

No tariff reform foolishness about Mr.

Crisp, Mr. Breckinridge and Mr. Mills,

the leaders of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives. Democratic

success in this campaign means, not only

free trade, dissemble or cloak it as you may,

but it means a debased currency, and an injurious to development.

By the McKinley bill the cost of some manufactured goods has been increased, and for a reason—to develop their manufacture in this country. When the tariff

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)
BY
GREEN & PRESCOTT,
115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Shorter notices, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion. Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

An Old Time Senator.

He comes down the street looking like an antique painted on ivory which has stepped out of the frame. His features are delicate and aquiline, with jet black eyes, which have looked the world in the face for eighty-seven years. Upon a head of wavy curls, spotlessly white, sits an antique silk hat, polished till it shines anew. The Van Dyke beard is white and curly and the snowy mustachios are artistically waxed. Around the shoulders hangs a military cape of the pattern of 1840. Under the cape is a long, black Prince Albert coat and a waistcoat of fancy stuff. His boots are small and exquisitely polished. From his watch pocket a curiously carved golden charm hangs on a black silk ribbon. He carries a slender gold headed cane.

His figure is light, sinewy, graceful, almost jaunty in its bearing. He stops now and then and looks around him with the wondering air of a man who is in a new and strange country. An electric street car flashes by him, and he watches it out of sight with an almost startled look in his eyes. He has a courtly salute for every lady and a smile for the bright eyed girls who bid him good day as they pass. The writer saw him at the opera the other night, carrying him nine-tenths of the way as though they were but thirty. He enjoyed the music heartily, and between the acts visited the various boxes to chat with the occupants. That is Gen. George W. Jones.—Dubuque Cor. Chicago Times.

England's Torpedo Repair Shop.

The Vulcan, new torpedo depot ship, was laid down at Portsmouth in June, 1888, and was intended to be completed some time next year. She is of 6,620 tons, 12,000 horse power, and designed for a maximum speed of twenty knots. Her armament is to consist of eight 4.7-inch and twelve three-pounder quick firing guns. She is also a floating factory for the repair of torpedoes, torpedo boats and their engines. It is impossible to exaggerate her usefulness to a squadron, and it was of extreme importance that she should be got out of hand with the least possible delay.

Now I am informed that the mountings and supports of her 4.7-inch guns are considered insufficient, that they are being strengthened, and that this involves the pulling up of decks and the pulling down of cabins at the cost of much time and money. Is it Mr. White and the constructors, or Elswick and the gunners, who are to blame for this last bit of mismanagement?—London World.

A New Dish.

The best autumnal breakfast dish that has come to the cognizance of people who know what's what is described as a compound of hashed chicken, tender green peppers and small clams. The first impression on the senses is made by a savory, stimulating perfume, which is said to be calculated to convince the most jaded reveler that he was mistaken in the miserable supposition that he "couldn't eat anything." The second assault on his appetite is made through the eye, which gradually discerns that it isn't simply a chicken hash which invites, but a glorified medley of clams, peppers and hashed chicken. The third result of contact with this new plat is effected through the sense of touch, and taste alone fits justice. Its creator is George Boldt, who, in anticipation of taking charge of the new Astor house, has recently dispatched one of his young men all through Europe to gather ideas.—New York Letter.

A Trackless Street Car.

An exhibition run of the "cigarette," a diminutive street car without a track, which has been in use in Chicago for several weeks, was given the other afternoon. The "cigarette" is light and easy in motion, and no jolting or discomfort was felt in riding it along the part cobblestone paving of Chestnut street. It cannot run on the ordinary street car track, the distance between the wheels being greater than the car track width. It avoids delays or blockades, and stops at the curb to receive or discharge passengers. It seats twenty persons, is drawn by two horses and has a conductor and a driver. It is said to be very popular in Chicago among ladies and children.—Philadelphia Times.

The new bridge to be built over the Hudson river between New York and Jersey city will eclipse the monster Brooklyn structure. The great central span will be 2,800 feet long, nearly twice the length of the span over the East river. There are to be five towers, rising to a height of 500 feet above the water. It is one of the most daring feats of engineering undertaken in this or any other country.

TAMMANY'S CHANCES.
Its Members Reported Panic-Stricken—Waldorf Astor's Interest.

AN OCEAN HORROR

Steamer and Schooner in Collision Off Barnegat

BOTH VESSELS SUNK.

Fifty-Eight of Steamer's Crew
Find a Watery Grave.

FOURTEEN PASSENGERS LOST.

The Spanish Steamer Vizcaya Run Down by the Fall River Schooner Cornelius Hargraves—in Seven Minutes After the Collision Both Vessels are at the Bottom—Disaster Occurred Six Miles from Shore on a Bright Moonlight Night—Stories of the Catastrophe by Survivors—Narrow Escape.

A FOOLHARDY FELLOW

Plays with an Electric Wire and Drops to the Floor Dead.

BRADDOCK, Pa., Nov. 1.—A horrible accident occurred here in the Edgar Allan Poe's "The Fall River Mystery" in which a carefree bravado of the victim, a colored man named Robert Washington. Last night at 10 o'clock Washington was seen to climb up several steps and reach out his hand toward the electric light lamp. Some one shouted a warning to him, but it was too late. His hand touched the wire, and in an instant his frame stiffened and he fell to the floor below, dead. Not a muscle twitched, and his death was instantaneous. His right hand had touched the wire, and his left, clinging to an iron rod, had completed the circuit. The treacherous man, except for the right hand, where a slight scar was found where he had grasped the wire.

Notice to Mariners.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Notice is given by the lighthouse board that a spur buoy painted with red and black horizontal stripes has been placed in 15 1/2 fathoms of water to mark the wreck of the schooner Louisa Smith, sunk in Broad entrance to Boston harbor. A spur buoy, having a shank of a fixed white light, has been placed on the mast of the wreck. Magnetic bearings of prominent objects are as follows: Egg Rock lighthouse, N.; Long Island Head lighthouse, S.W.; Boston lighthouse, S. by W., 1 1/2 W.

An Unexplained Double Murder.

WESTPORT, Cala., Nov. 1.—Frank Mason scolded and killed his two brothers-in-law while they were asleep in his house. He then fled into the woods, armed with his rifle. His wife, Mrs. Frank Mason, had made threats against others in the neighborhood, it is feared that he has killed them or may have killed himself. No cause can be assigned for the murder, one dead except insanity. Officers are scouring the woods for the murderer.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The Nicaragua canal has progressed 13 1/2 miles into the interior.

An anti-trust whiskey distillery company has been organized at St. Louis. Leopold Broes & Co., wholesale clothiers, Chicago, have failed for $149,000.

Irish landlords are to ask Mr. Baldwin to make certain changes in the land bill.

A small riot was caused by the rush for seats to hear Patti sing in St. Petersburg.

Russian police have been commanded to enforce the anti-Jewish law to the letter.

One thousand miners have struck at Swanses, Eng., for an advance of 15 per cent.

The czarina will make a tour of the interior of Greece and will thence go to Egypt.

The report that a Russian guard fired on a party leaving the country is confirmed.

Gen. Benjamin Molina has been appointed minister from San Salvador to the United States.

Brazil has reduced the export duty on coffee from 11 to 4 per cent., to take effect Jan. 1 next.

The recent festivities attending Count von Moltke's birthday were almost too much for the aged warrior.

The Count of Paris undertook the American trick of jumping on a moving train with nearly fatal results.

London dock companies disclaim all hostility toward the union of their employees in their proposed changes.

Close to the life of the Prince Imperial, just published in Paris, insinuates that Lient. Carey, a political agent, was paid to get rid of the prince.

W. J. Buchanan has resigned the general management of the Bank of Montreal, owing to ill health. He retires on a pension of $5000.

The porte has ordered the authorities in Tripoli to prepare provisions for large additions to the garrison and fortifications of the provinces.

Two Texas farmers, having been robbed by a single highwayman, were laughed at by a couple of lawyers, but the latter fared no better.

An alarming increase of smallpox cases has caused the French authorities to move for a more thorough enforcement of the vaccination law.

The Count of Paris undertook the American trick of jumping on a moving train with nearly fatal results.

London dock companies disclaim all hostility toward the union of their employees in their proposed changes.

Close to the life of the Prince Imperial, just published in Paris, insinuates that Lient. Carey, a political agent, was paid to get rid of the prince.

The Liverpool underwriters have presented £100 to the captain and crew of the steamer Amethyst for their bravery in saving the vessel from fire.

John Hackley, who has given a $100,000 library building to Muskegon, Mich., won his way from Baltimore to that city twenty years ago, a poor boy, on a lumber vessel. He made a fortune in lumber.

In July last Rev. Joseph Ryland, pastor of St. Mark's church, New York, gave a sum of $10,000 against Nicholas Gresham's bonds for libel. The latter hadn't that much money, so Dr. Ryland has taken $3000 and acknowledged satisfaction.

The new bridge to be built over the Hudson river between New York and Jersey city will eclipse the monster Brooklyn structure. The great central span will be 2,800 feet long, nearly twice the length of the span over the East river. There are to be five towers, rising to a height of 500 feet above the water. It is one of the most daring feats of engineering undertaken in this or any other country.

board the Humboldt. We could not have held out much longer."

The Second Officer's Story.

From the second officer some more facts were obtained. He was on the deck standing under the bridge when the collision occurred. He said the steamer's lights were burning all right and the watch on deck at their posts. He did not see the schooner until the first officer on the bridge rang the signal "stop." "said Second Officer Covas, "Capt. Cunill had just come from supper and was going up the bridge. Before he reached me, however, the steamer struck us, her bowsprit striking, and as far as I could see, instantly killing Capt. Cunill.

"Our headway carried us along, and that bowsprit knocked down the bridge-house and rigging. I was covered by the debris and badly cut in the head and side of my neck. I got out of the tangle about the time the water commenced to run over the deck, and then I took to the rigging with the harpooner attached upon leaving port. Only those on duty were up and about. He said that before the lashings of the boats could be taken off preparatory to lowering them, the Vizcaya's decks were under water. He saw several persons in the water clinging to floating debris, spars, hatches and wreckage, but all these soon sank.

Sailors Were Nearly All Asleep.

Last evening about one of the shipwrecked men seen aboard the Ciudad Condal, a member of the crew of Coballos & Co., lying at about 21, North river. He said that at the time of the collision nearly all of the Vizcaya's crew were asleep, being worn out with the harpooner attached upon leaving port. Only those on duty were up and about. He said that before the lashings of the boats could be taken off preparatory to lowering them, the Vizcaya's decks were under water. He saw several persons in the water clinging to floating debris, spars, hatches and wreckage, but all these soon sank.

Information Could Not Be Obtained.

The information could not be obtained. No interviews would be had with the survivors, and those obtained were gotten outside the office. It was stated that Senor Calvo, who perished with his wife and son, was a partner in the house of Franck & Co., of Havana, the biggest and richest sugar house in Cuba. He was on his way home with his family.

The Vizcaya Was One of the Steamers of the Compania Transatlantica.

The Vizcaya was one of the steamers of the Compania Transatlantica, owned by J. M. Ceballos & Co.

It had just been overhauled and this was her first trip after being refitted. She was an iron vessel and formerly plied between New York and Mediterranean ports. She was of 1888 tons registered, 287 feet long and had accommodations for forty passengers. She had several clerks, and all the money which came into his office was debited to Mr. Stratton by his chief clerk, so that the books showed the exact amount of the receipts. The first of the present month the business of the auditor and transfer agent was transferred to the Boston and Maine headquarters in Boston, and Mr. Stratton was to have been fully relieved from duty as soon as his accounts here were squared up. It was expected that he would have concluded his labors here last night. In the examination of the accounts made necessary by the change of business to Boston, it was discovered that a deficit of $600 a month.

He had several clerks, and all the money which came into his office was debited to Mr. Stratton by his chief clerk, so that the books showed the exact amount of the receipts. The first of the present month the business of the auditor and transfer agent was transferred to the Boston and Maine headquarters in Boston, and Mr. Stratton was to have been fully relieved from duty as soon as his accounts here were squared up. It was expected that he would have concluded his labors here last night. In the examination of the accounts made necessary by the change of business to Boston, it was discovered that a deficit of $600 a month.

Information Could Not Be Obtained.

The cargo of the Vizcaya was a general one, comprising lumber, provisions, hardware, furniture and machinery. The whole cargo was valued at $150,000. The vessel was insured by the owners.

An Investigation Will Probably Be Made.

An investigation will probably be made by the company. Mr. Bennett of Ceballos & Co. was sent to Barnegat as soon as possible.

The men were chilled to the bone from their exposure to wind and wave and could have held out but a little longer.

Reaching this city they were taken at once to the office of J. M. Ceballos & Co., 99 Wall street, the owners of the Vizcaya.

The news of the loss of the steamer had preceded them but a few minutes. For the next hour all was excitement in the office of Ceballos & Co. None of the survivors could talk English, and for some time it was impossible to obtain from any of them a correct account of the wreck.

It was learned, however, that all the passengers were lost.

The crew of the Vizcaya was 50 men, all of whom were lost.

The crew of the Fall River Schooner Cornelius Hargraves was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

The Fall River Schooner, the Vizcaya, was 14 men, all of whom were lost.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.—SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1890.

Today's Anniversaries.

1890 November. 1890

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 1.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Field—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts Cities and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

Nov.—William Coddington, a public benefactor died.

Nov.—Mount Wollaston Cemetery consecrated.

Nov.—Christ Church (No. 3), burned.

World Wide.

November (Nov., nine), anciently the ninth month of the year. The Roman senators wished to name this month in honor of Romulus, who was born on its date; but the emperor refused, saying, "What will you, contemptuous fathers, if you have thirteen months?"

Nov.—Birth of Bernardo Cellini, celebrated sculptor of the 16th century.

Nov.—Death of Sir Matthew Hale, distinguished English lawyer.

Nov.—Lisbon, Portugal, nearly destroyed by earth quakes.

Nov.—A day of mourning in the American colonies—Stamp act was to take effect; the Sons of Liberty were organized a few days afterward.

Nov.—Death of Alexander Cruden, author of Concordance of the Holy Bible.

Nov.—Death of Sir John Horne Tooke, English antiquarian.

Nov.—Death of Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan, appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The war with Spain was made in April, 1807.

Nov.—Death of Ahmad Shah, the key of Afghanistan.

Nov.—General Scott, commander United States army retired, and Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan appointed in his place.

Nov.—Savery dissolved in Maryland.

Nov.—The new system established in the United States.

Nov.—Death of Oliver P. Morton, United States senator from Indiana.

Nov.—Spain made war on the Persians, who had revolted against the king.

Nov.—The

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Ledger Office, Adams Building, Quincy
McDermott's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
Coram's Store, Copeland Street, West Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner, Quincy
Post Office, Wollaston Heights, Braintree
Depot, Henry B. Vinton, Weymouth
M. K. Pratt, Weymouth

Today's Almanac.—November 1.

High water at 2.00 A. M. and 2.00 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:18; Sets at 4:38.

Moon rises at 8:05.

Last quarter Nov. 4.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by

Ledger Reporters.

Ice this morning.

Thanksgiving Nov. 27.

Democratic rally at Hancock hall this evening.

New Sunday timetable on the street railway tomorrow.

Mr. D. Fred French and George W. Starbuck have returned from their trip to the south.

The instalment of taxpayers is omitted today, because of a rush of work in the LEDGER office.

The annual meeting of the Quincy Charitable Society will be held on Monday with Mrs. Charles A. Spear.

An iron gate was stolen from the fence at the residence of Mrs. Lloyd G. Horton, Hancock street, last night.

Councilman Shea has bought the fast pacing mare, "Electric Girl," from Supt. Voorhees of the Electric Light Co.

A special meeting of the Quincy and Boston Street Railway will be held Nov. 15, relative to an increase of stock to $100,000.

One candidate has already replied to the questions propounded by "Granite Worker" in Friday's DAILY LEDGER, but all the letters received will appear in Monday's issue.

Congressman Morse set his audience right on the granite duty last evening. It was formerly 20 per cent., instead of 25 per cent. as has been stated, and is now 40 per cent., or double.

The questions in the Methodist Episcopal churches of admitting women to the next General conference, was voted on at the St. Paul's church Friday evening and all voted against except two.

An entertainment was held in the Presbyterian church last night, consisting of singing by the Wyllie Bros., Mr. Kemp and others. After the concert a beat supper was served to a large number.

Mrs. Buffum has such a large and successful class in dancing at Robertson hall, that she has been obliged to refuse all pupils who do not know how to dance. She has over fifty scholars at the present time.

Voters should be careful not to cast any blanks for any office on election day, that is carelessly. Heed the advice against each office. For representatives to the legislature you can vote for three, but in all other cases only one.

A large number attended the Democratic rally in Reynold's hall, Weymouth, last night. Messrs. David Moreland of Woburn, Josiah Quincy and James F. Burke of Quincy, and Mr. Worthen of Weymouth Landing addressed the audience.

The City Council will give three public hearings at its meeting on Monday evening next, viz: on petitions for the acceptance of Trafford and Reardon streets, and on the location of the public drinking fountain. The sewerage system will be further discussed.

About thirty couples from West Quincy had a very enjoyable dance in Robertson hall Friday evening. At twelve o'clock ice cream, cake and coffee were served. The floor was in charge of Mr. Charles C. Hearn of Ward Four. At 2 A. M., the affair ended, the party being conveyed to West Quincy in an electric car, which was chartered for the occasion.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR. On Thursday evening of this week the Braintree Lodge, K. of H., held a grand rally at Braintree; E. A. Fisher, presided. The exercises were opened with piano selections by Prof. Houghton, of Braintree, next came a duett on the piano by Mrs. Stone and Mr. Houghton, rendered very finely, then singing by the Vincent quartette of Boston, who were encored most heartily. Ex-mayor Hill of Northampton; Richardson, of Boston; Brown, of Wollaston; Pratt, of Quincy; and Conant, of Lowell; were the speakers. A good audience was present, and the occasion was a very enjoyable one.

Connoisseurs pronounce the wines and liquors, especially the "Elite Whiskey," sold by the Importing House of A. Hetherston & Co., 44 and 46 Broad street, corner of Milk, Boston, to be highly palatable and without a rival for purity or strength. Their latest importation of wines is particularly noted for their full rich body, golden color and delicate flavor, so beneficial to invalids and brain-workers. The firm ship C. O. D. from one gallon up, and send their latest catalogue free on receipt of your address.

Free show at Robertson hall, on Monday night.

AT MRS. LANE'S.

The Three Patients Improving Very Rapidly. Have been Out of Doors.

A LEDGER man called at the residence of Mrs. Cushing Lane, on Goffe street this morning to inquire after the injured in the disaster, and was agreeably surprised to find that Miss Chase took her first ride out on Thursday. That yesterday Rev. Mr. Dimmick had ventured out on the veranda for the first time without injurious effects. While at the house Mrs. Dimmick came down stairs for the first time, and went out on the veranda. They are improving quite rapidly.

The time of their departure for California is yet uncertain, but it will probably be before the middle of the month. Dr. Hunting of this city will accompany him.

MAN MISSING.

His Friends Very Anxious to Discover His Whereabouts.

John F. Holland, who has been employed for a number of years by Miss Carrie Beals, on Adams street, has been missing since last Tuesday. That morning he came to the bank in the Centre and drew $337 which he had deposited. He then took the 10:40 train from the Quincy depot, and nothing has been heard from him since that time. He was a very steady, industrious young man. He is 23 years old, has clear skin, smooth face, dark eyes, very nice teeth, weighs about 165 pounds, is five feet nine inches in height, and at the time he went away wore a dark suit and light spring overcoat.

Sunday Services.

Universalist Church.

Preaching at 10:30 A. M. by Mr. H. F. Fister of Tuft's Divinity School. Sunday school at 11:45.

Swedish St. Paul's Church.

Rev. H. Hanson pastor. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. Sabbath school at 12 M. Communion service at 7:30 P. M.

Congregational Church.

Rev. Edward Norton, pastor. Preaching at 10:30 A. M., by the pastor. Sabbath school at 11:45 A. M. Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at 6:00 P. M. Usual evening service at 7 o'clock. All have welcome.

Christadelphian Services.

At French's hall, at 7:30 P. M., there will be a lecture delivered by Mr. H. H. Rich of Boston. Subject, "Transfiguration of Christ," (and its lesson.) All are welcome.

TODAY'S COURT.

Rev. W. F. Lawford, pastor. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. Communion at 11:45. Sunday school at 6:00 P. M. Epsworth League at 7:00. Illustrated sermon.

His Last Half Dollar for a Hearty Laugh.

"I remember once in my career that I spent my last half dollar to buy a good, round, hearty laugh," said Lew Dockstafer, "but the day after the next day, I struck town broke, having done it."

I was actually thinking of giving this planet the shake, either with the help of morphine or the East river. You'd hardly believe it, but I kept a bench in Union square warm for seven consecutive nights.

One night I felt something hard in the lining of my coat. I tore the lining and rolled a fifty cent piece. I invested it in a gallery ticket to see a play called "French Flats." I had resolved to have one broad grin before I cashed in, and I did. I laughed until the lights were put out; and it brought me good luck, for that very night I secured a good job.—Ernest Jarrold in New York Journal.

QUINCY POST OFFICE.

Letters advertised Nov. 1:

Adams, Mrs. C. Luben, Carrie
Bowens, W. C. Lindell, Anton Bartlett, Bert Longual, Harry Cremins, Patrick Laudin, Elizabeth
Dodd, O. H. Longual, O. S.
Doughaugus N. Martin, H.
Ellis F. C. McKinnon, Dan
Godwin, Wm. H. Robertson, George Holmberg, Carl Swanson, John
Howe, Thomas Sullivan, Charles
Jennings, John Torn, C. G.
Jansson, Mr. V. Tomlin, John Karkson, Mathilda Welch, Thomas

M. E. Church, West Quincy.

Rev. W. F. Lawford, pastor. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. Communion at 11:45. Sunday school at 6:00 P. M. Epsworth League at 7:00. Illustrated sermon.

West Quincy and Boston.

It is well established, and will be sold low. Apply to

J. C. WHITE,
West Quincy.

Oct. 23. 6t*

Patent Leather, Congress or Bal.

SAVILLE & JONES.

Natural History Notes.

An Irish naturalist, Rev. S. A. Brennan, records these interesting observations: 1. A hen was seen going down the chimney of a cottage in Arboe parish. The owner was asked how it came to do this. He said the house was often locked up when he was at work, and this particular hen discovered this strange way of ingress. 2. A hen sitting on eggs in an outhouse at Cusheadon, where there was a small hole in the roof just above her nest, moved the nest and eggs to one side to prevent the rain falling on her. 3. A goose made her nest and laid on the top of a thatched cottage in Glen-dun. She followed out the time of the rigging of the roof, and sat there during the time of incubation. She had to fly up and down.—Arkansas Traveler.

A Bachelor's Perfect Custom.

Peter Marley of the Union club, and one of the old bachelors of New York society, collects photographs after a much more costly fashion than anybody else. After the photograph comes into his possession he has it daubed colored by an artist, and in some cases has miniatures painted.

Whenever he has gathered a considerable supplement to his collection he disposes of it on walls of his drawing room, and invites the originals to a dinner and places an original poem by the side of each plate, reading the collection of poems himself during the evening.—New York Cor. Globe-Democrat.

A Special invitation is extended to ladies to attend the free show at Robertson hall, Monday night.

BORN.

WALDRON.—In Quincy, Oct. 30, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. George T. Waldron of Chestnut street.

MORRISON.—In Braintree, Oct. 22, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Morrison.

DECOTTA.—In Braintree, Oct. 22, a son to Mr. and Mrs. John DeCotta. The child's name is Simeon Hubert DeCotta.

TO LET.—Houses, Stores, Offices, Society Hall, Light Manufacturing Rooms in Quincy and vicinity. Large rooms for sale on easy terms. GEORGE H. BROWN & CO., Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Agents, Adams Building, Quincy. Oct. 3-11

Do You Know

THAT

Saville & Jones

are offering a Full Line of

Underwear?

Comprising Everything from the

Cheapest to the Best!

SEVENTEEN BROTHERS IN THE WAR.

They Came of a Remarkable Family of Thirty-five Children, All Sons.

"If it came within the field of his inquiries," said W. C. Morris of St. Clairsville, W. Va., "the census enumerator for Monsville, near where I live, must have found about as wonderful a domestic history as an enumerator ran against elsewhere in this country. I refer to a family by the name of Brandon. The father of that family, Charles Brandon, died when he was 90 years old, but his youngest child was then less than a year old. He died just as the civil war broke out, from a broken heart, his wife having refused to live with him any longer. He had at that time five living children, and had been married three times.

"His first wife bore him two children. His second wife died after bearing him eight. At the age of 75 he married Sarah Barker, she being 16, and the youngest of sixteen children. She lived with him twenty-one years, bearing him fifteen children, and then left him, taking her year-old son with her. Brandon was still half bald and bearded, but the desertion of his wife broke him down, and he died within a month after she left him.

"When his third wife married him the oldest of his twenty children by his two previous wives was 39, and the entire twenty lived under the paternal roof. The young wife reared all of the twenty when young enough, though her husband, before her death, had been too feeble for the fifteen of her own to care for. The oldest was but 20 when she left them.

"The family of thirty-five kept together for many years after their father's death, and if the patriarchal Brandon had lived a few months longer he would have seen seventeen of his sons enlist in the Union army. It is a question if in this or any other country an instance can be found where one family ever before contributed seventeen sons to their country's service.

"These boys all came of good fighting stock, for their father was a famous Indian fighter himself, a veteran of the war of 1812 and the Mexican War. When he died, Peasey Lyons was the frontmost, and the Indian fighter was the most important and indispensable person in the settlements. Charles Brandon, according to all traditions, was one of the best and most daring of all the active foes of the red men. His father was killed by Indians when Charles was only 3 years old. He himself was made a prisoner, and lived with the Indians twelve years, hating them more the longer he was with them. At the age of 15 he escaped, and after learning his mother tongue, spent all of his time, until they were driven away to more remote settlements, in hunting and killing Indians.

"He was 51 years of age when he joined the first to join the American army, and was in it when peace was declared. He was 74 when he enlisted in the Mexican war.

"The third wife of this virile old fighter is living in Moundsville, Hale and Keeler at the age of 67. She is over six feet high and as straight as an arrow. Of her thirty-five children and stepchildren, she knows positively of the whereabouts of but fifteen. The rest are scattered about the country and dead. The thirty-five children were all sons."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

These boys all came of good fighting stock, for their father was a famous Indian fighter himself, a veteran of the war of 1812 and the Mexican War. When he died, Peasey Lyons was the frontmost, and the Indian fighter was the most important and indispensable person in the settlements. Charles Brandon, according to all traditions, was one of the best and most daring of all the active foes of the red men. His father was killed by Indians when Charles was only 3 years old. He himself was made a prisoner, and lived with the Indians twelve years, hating them more the longer he was with them. At the age of 15 he escaped, and after learning his mother tongue, spent all of his time, until they were driven away to more remote settlements, in hunting and killing Indians.

"He was 51 years of age when he joined the first to join the American army, and was in it when peace was declared. He was 74 when he enlisted in the Mexican war.

"The old saying that "money goes" was illustrated recently. A customer tendered a $20 bill. The tradesman had it changed by a neighbor, who, being in a hurry, gave a pocket piece of $10 in gold of the issue of 1861, which he prided highly and did not want to part with. He went to the tradesman as soon as he had given the valued coin, and the latter went out and hunted up the customer to whom he had given it. He had bought some cigars at a neighboring store and had given the gold piece in payment.

Upon going to the cigar store it was found that the proprietor had transferred the coin to a saloon keeper nearby, and at that place it was found that the saloon keeper had used it in liquidating his brewery bill. The next day a neighbor went to the brewery and found that the cashier of that institution had just parted with the coveted piece of money to a dissatisfied employee. The individual was at last located and the coin recovered.—Chicago Times.

American Razors in Demand.

The best razors no longer come from Sheffield, and even Englishmen are alive to the fact. The best customers for razors are of English and Scotch descent, as very few Germans or Irishmen act as their own barbers. Formerly nothing without a genuine or fraudulent Sheffield trade mark cut into the blade would be looked at by an ex-subject of Queen Victoria, but now American goods are generally preferred, and some eastern makes are very popular. The greatest run the last two years has been on a razor with a distinctly military name, and although I have sold a great many of the kind I don't know where they are made. But the fact is immaterial, for no purchaser ever finds fault with anything connected with one in any respect save price, and even that is not seriously objected to. Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Brief Wedding.

A certain Georgia editor, who is also a real estate agent, a building and loan association director, an attorney at law, clerk of the town council and pastor of the village church, was recently asked to marry a couple. He was in a great hurry, and the couple surprised him in the middle of a heavy editorial on the tariff. "Time is money," said he, without looking up from his work. "Do you want her?" The man said yes. "And do you want him?" The girl stammered an affirmative. "Man and wife," cried the editor. "One dollar. Bring me a load of wood for it—one-third pine, ready altogether from the carrier pigeons, and see that they are always in perfect health and condition, and ready for use at any moment. A bushel of grain is allowed to each bird."—Atlanta Constitution.

Homing Pigeons in Russia.

The Russians established pigeon stations in various parts of their territory about sixteen years ago. They have eight stations in all. There are five officers, twelve trainers and twenty-four servants connected with the pigeon service.

It is their duty to look after the carrier pigeons, and see that they are always in perfect health and condition, and ready for use at any moment. A bushel of grain is allowed to each bird.

—New York Evening Sun.

A baggage smasher calls for a baggage lifting machine. He says the baggage smasher wears out almost as fast as the trunks he is thought to take such a fenderish delight in breaking. No mortal man can endure the strain of lifting hundreds of huge, unwieldy trunks day after day, year after year, and no mortal man ought to be expected to stand it.

A baggage smasher calls for a baggage lifting machine. He says the baggage smasher wears out almost as fast as the trunks he is thought to take such a fenderish delight in breaking. No mortal man can endure the strain of lifting hundreds of huge, unwieldy trunks day after day, year after year, and no mortal man ought to be expected to stand it.

Cassell's Magazine.

Jumbo's stomach contained many English coins, gold as well as silver and bronze. The elephant's skin was one and a half inches thick. The skeleton weighs 2,400 pounds, and the total weight of the body was over six tons.

Wines and Liquors

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 173.

QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

50 DOZEN

Children's Knee
Pants,

Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,
DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BEST IN THE MARKET!
FOR $6.50 CASH
WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.
(FRANK S. PATCH.)

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY
ORGANS AND PIANOS
AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,
In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,
AS HERETOFORE.

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.
CORRESPONDENCE OF
JOHN STETSON COMPANY.
OPEN FOR BUSINESS
THURSDAY, OCT. 16,
IN ADAMS BUILDING.
STOCKS, CRAIN and PETROLEUM.
TELEPHONE 9-8.
OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

OCT. 15.—Tf

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

WE EARN $100 a Day.
Hence, A. Parr has practiced for the profession, and the most for himself. He what is known in dentistry as bridge, and many other useful. His income has estimated. It is probably $100 a day, and that is about what a dentist can make.

In New York change their work with regard to it. Dr. Dunn, who in certain place, was said to be one of the greatest benefactors he made it possible with the rubber plate, reduces the gums to a pulp,
is a very painful experience, mention of Dr. Dunn's inventive.

Now Cheap Now.
He found a single which does not contain any of the decesses of the shop of dealers in instruments, too hard manage, scarce, twanged by before they found them observes, are so cheap as now, the performer can find many friends.

The happy couple were recipient of numerous, beautiful and useful presents.
They were overjoyed and appeared as young as the youngest. Both are enjoying good health, and are so smart that they look forward with more pleasure to the diamond anniversary, and may they live to enjoy it, is the wish of their many friends.

The annual meeting for the election of officers of the St. Mary's C. T. A. society was held in the Hose house, West Quincy, Sunday afternoon. About fifty members attended. Thomas J. Shortle was chairman and W. F. V. Cole, secretary.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Thomas D. McGrath.

Vice President—Richard Walsh.

Recording Secretary—John Reardon.

Financial Secretary—John Milford.

Treasurer—Robert J. Teasdale.

Directors—John A. O'Brien, John P.

Minihan, William Barry, Patrick Kelliher,

and Charles Riley.

Chairman Dramatic Board—John A.

Gowan.

Visiting Committee—Michael Minihan,

Thomas J. Shortle and John A. McGowan.

MANUFACTURED BY FLANDERS TONIC, WOBURN MASS. U.S.A.

CAR ACCIDENT.

Woman Seriously, if not Fatally Injured.

STRUCK BY AN ELECTRIC CAR.

Eye Witnesses Think No Blame Should be Attached to the Motorman. The scene at Atlantic Where City is Rebuilding
Hancock Street.

The electric car of the Quincy & Boston Street Railway, which left Atlantic for Quincy at 10:30 this morning, struck an aged lady on Hancock street about half way between the church and Squantum street, Atlantic. It was first thought the woman was killed, but she was alive when the LEDGER went to press.

The woman was Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, who lives with her son Dennis on Fanning street. The car was moving very cautiously at the time because of the condition of the street, which the city is rebuilding and is closed to travel. Mrs. Sullivan was noticed some distance ahead by the motorman. She was in the road not far from the rail. The bell was rung and the motorman hollered, but the old lady who was going in the same direction as the car probably took the warning to be from a team and stepped directly in front of the car when it was within five feet of her. The current was promptly turned off and reversed, but when stopped she was under the pilot.

Doctors were summoned by telephone.
She was removed to her home where Dr.
Gordon attended her. Her fears that her skull is broken. But if not it is doubtful if she can recover from the shock.

The motorman was William O'Brien, and his story as above corroborated by Mr. C. W. Sullivan, who was on the front platform; Clarence Hunter, the conductor; and other eye witnesses. It would seem that the railroad employees took due precaution.

Mrs. Sullivan is about 80 years of age, but her eye sight and hearing are generally good. She left home this morning about eight o'clock. It is her custom to roam about nearly all the time among residents of Atlantic.

Supt. Duggan was promptly on the spot and saw that everything possible was being done for the injured woman. At his request, Mr. Bussell has photographed the scene.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY.

Addressed by Josiah Quincy, Thomas J.
Gargan and Frank K. Foster.

A very large audience assembled in Hancock hall on Saturday evening to hear the questions of the campaign discussed by Democratic orators.

M. J. McEltrick and Signourney Butler, who were billeted, failed to appear.

James F. Burke of West Quincy was the presiding officer and introduced Josiah Quincy as the first speaker, who talked for some time on state issues and the need of a change in the State government.

Thomas J. Gargan of Boston was the next speaker, and held the attention of those present for some time.

Frank K. Foster was the last to speak, and was received with enthusiasm. He was obliged to leave early to take the train.

Golden Wedding.

Mr. Elwood Litchfield and family and Mrs. Walter Packard and daughter, went to North Scituate on Saturday evening last, to celebrate the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Litchfield, parents of Mr.
Litchfield, and grandparents of Mrs.
Packard. There were 112 present to enliven the occasion.

The eight grandchildren were all present,
also one great grandchild, daughter of Mrs.
Walter Packard of this city, four generations was represented.

A poem written for the occasion was read by Mrs. Samuel Loring of Norwell, reading by Miss Minnie Litchfield of Quincy, and singing by Miss Lillie Crane of Braintree.

The happy couple were recipient of
numerous, beautiful and useful presents.
They were overjoyed and appeared as young as the youngest. Both are enjoying good health, and are so smart that they look forward with more pleasure to
the diamond anniversary, and may they live to enjoy it, is the wish of their many friends.

The following officers were elected for
the ensuing year:

President—Thomas D. McGrath.

Vice President—Richard Walsh.

Recording Secretary—John Reardon.

Financial Secretary—John Milford.

Treasurer—Robert J. Teasdale.

Directors—John A. O'Brien, John P.

Minihan, William Barry, Patrick Kelliher,

and Charles Riley.

Chairman Dramatic Board—John A.

Gowan.

Visiting Committee—Michael Minihan,

Thomas J. Shortle and John A. McGowan.

VOTE OF QUINCY IN 1889.

With One Exception the Democratic Candidates Went Out of Quincy With Pluralities.

In 1888 Josiah Quincy Led Elijah A. Morse in this City for Congress, by 122 Votes.

The State is on the eve of an important election, for Congressmen, State officers, a Legislature and other officers; also to vote on two amendments to the Constitution.

The LEDGER's prediction in regard to Quincy is that a much larger vote will be thrown than last year. The voting lists contain 72 more names than at the last State election. Then 2106 votes were cast out of a total of 2666. Tomorrow it would not be surprising if the vote exceeded the Presidential vote of 1888, when 2400 were cast.

One reason for this is that the voting lists are 101 larger. Although the parties have held but one rally each, it is a fact that considerable interest is felt in the election.

The increased vote means a much smaller plurality for the Democrats, and in many cases Republican pluralities.

Some offices filled last year are omitted from the list below because they are not to be re-filled. The vote of 1889 was:

Governor.	WARDS						Total Vote.
	One	Two	Three	Four	Five	Six
John Blackmer, P.	9	11	12	14	16	6	68
John Q. A. Brackett, R.	206	131	176	115	169	62	859
William E. Russell, D.	216	184	192	329	88	86	1095

Lieutenant Governor.

Lieutenant Governor.	194	169	184	332	75	82	1036
John W. Corcoran, D.	194	169	184	332	75	82	1036
William H. Haile, R.	220	141	186	108	184	58	899

Secretary.

Secretary.	11	9	5	5	11	6	47
George D. Crittenton, P.	11	9	5	5	11	6	47
William N. Osgood, D.	170	161	177	327	68	80	983

Treasurer and Receiver General.

Treasurer and Receiver General.	231	148	190	115	187	61	932
Edwin L. Mann, D.	168	155	178	333	68	78	980
Frederick L. Wing, P.	11	10	6	9	11	6	53

Auditor.

Auditor.	16	9	12	9	13	7	66
William H. Gleason, P.	16	9	12	9	13	7	66
Charles R. Ladd, R.	225	153	187	126	192	60	943

Attorney General.

Attorney General

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,

(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)

—BY—

GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one month, $1.00; one month, $3.00. Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion. Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

An Illustration.

Senator Frye gave a very good illustration of the working of the protective tariff at Laconia, N. H., the other evening. He said:

"We imported last year $56,000,000 worth of woolen cloths. Now just think of that! We have the capacity to raise all the wool we want; we have the machinery and the capital; the experience, the courage, every requisite to manufacture every yard of woolen cloth that any man and woman can use in this country. And yet, last year, we bought of Germany and England and France $56,000,000 worth. How many men did it take to make $56,000,000 worth of woolen cloth? About 200,000 men and women. So we in the United States last year supported in Germany, France and England 200,000 men and women; furnished them with all they ate, and all they wore; their houses and everything else. They didn't do a single thing for us; didn't pay any taxes for us. Now is there a man here who does not believe that it would have been infinitely better for us as a country to have paid 200,000 men and women here for making that cloth where they would have spent every dollar that we paid them for the benefit of our farmers, our mechanics, our manufacturers, our storekeepers, our boarding house keepers? Surely there is no man so stupid as to deny a proposition of that kind. Well, why didn't we? Because the fine class of woolen goods required so much more labor to make them than the coarser cloths that the duty on woolen goods was not equivalent to the difference in labor. Therefore, they could come in here and undersell us. Now that is all the reason. Do you believe it is wrong to put there a duty which shall be equivalent and thus induce about $50,000,000 of capital to build woolen mills in the United States and employ 200,000 men and women over here and pay them good wages? Well, the McKinley bill did it."

Again we imported last year $29,000,000 worth of cotton goods. Just think of it! We raised the whole of it here. We sent it away across the ocean and those people took it and manufactured it into goods, and then sent it away back across the ocean and sold it to us! Twenty-nine million dollars' worth!

"We imported last year $40,000,000 worth of manufactures of iron and steel. Only think of that! Iron enough, buried by the finger of God, in the bosom of this country to make all the iron and steel for the whole world for the next thousand years. Mountains of it!"

"It took about a million of men and women to make the goods that we imported last year, every bit of which we could have manufactured in the United States. Suppose the capital had been invested in the manufacture of all these goods and had demanded 1,000,000 men and women to do the work, would not there have been an increased demand for labor? Well, whenever there is a demand for labor, wages go up. If there is no demand, if there is more supply than demand, they go down. If two men want one job, the job will be done cheaply. If one job wants two men and only one man is to be found, it will be done dearly."

When we see how hard communities strive to induce manufacturers to settle, we realize at once that they are a great benefit. But capital is timid and wishes to see in advance a fair prospect of return. Capital does not need protection; if it fails in one place, or in one business, it can seek another place and another business, either in this country or across the ocean. It need not do any business at all; it may buy railroad bonds and put them away in the safe; it may buy United States bonds and draw 4 per cent. interest and pay no taxes; it may go into savings banks and lie there and draw 4 per cent. interest; it may go into iron safes; it may go into stockings and be laid away on the shelf.

The widespread interest manifested in the election tomorrow, says the Milford Gazette, is evidenced by the heavy registration in the cities and towns throughout the commonwealth. Considerable gains are reported in most instances over last year, which indicate that a much larger vote will be cast than was the case a year ago. A spirited campaign has been carried on by both parties, and the general public has shown a livelier interest in the questions discussed by the campaign orators than in some previous years. Estimates as to results are not as numerous as in former elections, although both sides express the usual ante-election confidence, which is, of necessity, somewhat modified when the returns come in.

BURGLARS WITH NERVE.

They Coolly Enter an Express Office, Bind and Gag the Agent, and Go Away Many Thousands Richer.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Nov. 3.—One of the boldest robberies perpetrated in this city for many years occurred at 10:30 Saturday evening, at the office of the Wells-Fargo Express company. It appears that the agent, C. P. Moore, was alone in the office, which is situated the width of the street from the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio passenger depot, and in a locality where scores of people annually pass through, carrying the contents of his cash drawer, preparatory to balancing his account, when a rap at the door attracted his attention. He placed the money in the drawer, stepped outside of the office railing, and opened the door, admitting two strangers. Upon entering they had him good evening, then levelled a revolver at his head and cautioned him not to move or make an outcry on the pain of instant death. He was then bound and gagged and laid upon the floor. The robbers opened the large safe, which was unlocked, and tore open and appropriated many money packages, valued at from $3000 to $5000, after which they made their escape.

Mr. Moore was so severely tied that it was fully a half an hour after they left before he liberated himself and made an outcry for assistance. Fortunately for the company, the money which the agent was counting when he was interrupted in his work, amounting to several hundred dollars, was untouched by the robbers. When the safe had been ransacked, the robbers evidently were disgusted with the value of his watch and the contents of his wallet, for they returned the same to him with the remark that they could do better. The police are now searching the city for the perpetrators of the outrage.

TWO DEAD, ONE WOUNDED.

An Anarchist the Leading Actor in a Terrible Tragedy at St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 3.—A sickening tragedy was enacted at the St. Paul yesterday. Two men, now being dead and a third wounded. Benjamin F. Rogers of the live stock commission firm of Rogers & Rogers, and one of the best known stock dealers in the northwest, was killed by George Robarge, near the latter's house, a mile and a quarter from the stock yards. Some cattle belonging to Rogers, in charge of a young herder named Loren Mickle, were being driven across Robarge's premises to the grazing ground, when Robarge assassinated Mickle. Mr. Rogers went to the scene of the crime and found that it was unnecessary to say much about him and Mr. Dillon's reasons for leaving Ireland, and he fully concurred in our objects."

Mr. O'Brien then stated that there was absolute unity in the ranks of the parliamentary party and among the people. The old taunt of instability of republicanism will be repeated at Ireland. It is necessary to say much about him and Mr. Dillon's reasons for leaving Ireland in the peculiar manner in which they did. Mr. O'Brien said, "We waited," he continued, "in Tipperary so long as there seemed the least chance of forcing a prompt disposal of the charge. As soon as the tactics of the government were quite clear, we took leave to tumbler their elaborate house of cards about their ears, and we came away to appeal to America again. Mr. Parnell's ignoble dodge for staying at the country whom he has failed to intimidate.

"We will, of course, return the moment our business here is quite finished. Then we shall have in the meantime secured the means of preserving the Irish ranks unbroken until the general election. We will not grudge Mr. Balfour whatever comfort he can derive from keeping us in jail for our success. One of our chief objects in America will be to explain the character of the struggles in Ireland and the system of oppression there. I hope Americans will be educated to hear the story of Tipperary. For the present, the question of a national fighting fund and the question of a charitable fund are wholly separate.

"The danger of a famine along the western portion of the western seaboard is unquestionably real and horrible. Nobody with less than Mr. Balfour's capacity for heartless jokes would effect any relief of light it.

NEWS FROM THE ORIENT.

Chinese Man-of-War Founders in a Gale. Waves of Cholera in Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Advices from Yokohama here from steamship Oceanic state that a telegram from Isaka, dated yesterday, says that Chinese men-of-war, bound from Fuson to Jinsenbad, founded in a gale on Oct. 4, sixteen miles from the latter port.

The Japanese man-of-war Kongo, left Kobe for Turkey Oct. 10, with 100 sailors of the Turkish man-of-war Ertugrul. Of the 200 persons lost on the Ertugrul, the bodies of 150 have been washed ashore.

Since the outbreak of cholera in Japan, there have been 38,425 cases and 25,911 deaths. The epidemic has almost subsided.

PANAMA CANAL A WRECK.

Disastrous Results After the Expulsion of Much Time and Money.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 3.—The official liquidator of the Panama Canal company denies that the contractors of Louis Wigand and the Columbia government for an extension of the canal concessions have been ruptured. He admits, however, that the process of effecting a settlement with Columbia is slow and full of difficulty. Reliable advice from the Isthmus of Panama indicates that the canal work is wrecked, and says that even traces of the excavations made for non-payment of rent on small holdings in the distressed districts. A measure of this kind, combined with a large system of public works and a more liberal administration of the poor laws, would go far to avert any danger of a general famine. The opinion of the Irish party is that any general American fund poured into Ireland at this time would possibly have been wholly confined to her bed, life often being despaired of. Though her sufferings had been terrible her Christian fortitude has been remarkable. She will be buried at Eastford, Ct., where she was born, on Thursday.

Desperate Liqueur Dealers.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Liquor Officer O'Neill served a warrant at an unlicensed place kept by Thomas Hamilton, last evening. While the officer was executing his duty, it is charged, the wife of Hamilton hit him in the back of the neck with a milk can. A man named Brabec, who was present, was present ordered by the officer to call another policeman. He did so, and it is charged, was after ward terribly beaten by Hamilton and a man named Shattuck. Hamilton was arrested.

Were Determined to Pray.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 3.—A crowd of Caphalians forced their way into the Greek church of Galata and performed their devotions by themselves in the absence of the priest, a protest against the recent general closing of the Greek churches. The police at first offered resistance, but soon yielded to the people. Wahran Bey has again been arrested for Armenian intrigues.

Anarchist's Brother Commits Suicide.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 3.—Charles Fischer, brother of the notorious Adolph Fischer, the Chicago Anarchist, who was hanged for the murder of Mrs. Wm. McKinley, committed suicide in this city. Fischer was a compositor on the Freiheit Freund, a Pittsburgh German newspaper, and for some time had been suffering from ill-health.

Was Drowned.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 3.—William Field of Aldeborow was drowned in Norton reservoir by the swamping of a skiff. Two others of the hunting party, one Bullard of Hyde Park and a man named Dow, narrowly escaped.

In a Fitful Condition.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3.—Grand Duke Nicholas, who became insane during the recent army maneuvers in Volhynia, is now completely paralyzed and in a comatose condition. There is no danger of a violent crisis.

Corse Found by Boys.

LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 3.—Two boys found the body of Moses Wheeler of Lowell in the woods at Chelmsford. Wheeler had been missing for over six months, having left home in a fit of despondency.

ON FREEEM'S SOIL.

Dillon and O'Brien Have Arrived at New York.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME.

Mr. O'Brien, as Spokesman, Speaks of the Condition of Ireland, and States the Object of the Journey to America.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—William O'Brien and his wife, John Dillon, Timothy Harrington and T. D. Sullivan, and his wife arrived here yesterday by the LeChamplain. They were met down the bay by a large delegation of Irishmen on board of the tugboat John E. Moore, which was chartered by the Irish Society of the city of New York. The members of the society were in charge of the reception arrangements. There were about 100 on board the John E. Moore, representing twenty-three Irish societies. The Irish visitors were vigorously cheered as one by one they were distinguished on board the LeChamplain. Gen. Oberine then joined them on the steamer's deck, and was welcomed by all those on the tugboat.

On arrival of the steamer at her dock the visitors were driven to the Hoffman House. Shortly after noon Governor Hill called on Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien. He had a short talk with them, in which he told them that his sympathy was with the Irish movement. Mayor Grant came a few minutes later and paid his respects. Eugene Kelly, the banker, and Joseph J. O'Donohue were also among the callers. After luncheon Messrs. O'Brien, Dillon, Gill, Sullivan and Harrington met the reporters and Mr. O'Brien, who acted as spokesman, spoke briefly. He read an article on the situation of Irish affairs and his friends.

"We are coming to America," he said, "by the desire and with the approval of Mr. Parnell and the Irish parliamentary party. I had a most cordial interview with Mr. Parnell before leaving Ireland, and he told me that his sympathy was with the Irish movement. Mayor Grant came a few minutes later and paid his respects. Eugene Kelly, the banker, and Joseph J. O'Donohue were also among the callers. After luncheon Messrs. O'Brien, Dillon, Gill, Sullivan and Harrington met the reporters and Mr. O'Brien, who acted as spokesman, spoke briefly. He read an article on the situation of Irish affairs and his friends.

"We are coming to America," he said, "by the desire and with the approval of Mr. Parnell and the Irish parliamentary party. I had a most cordial interview with Mr. Parnell before leaving Ireland, and he told me that his sympathy was with the Irish movement. Mayor Grant came a few minutes later and paid his respects. Eugene Kelly, the banker, and Joseph J. O'Donohue were also among the callers. After luncheon Messrs. O'Brien, Dillon, Gill, Sullivan and Harrington met the reporters and Mr. O'Brien, who acted as spokesman, spoke briefly. He read an article on the situation of Irish affairs and his friends.

Two Bad Men.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. Hume, has made a confession.

TWO BAD MEN.

Crimes Committed by a Pair of Notorious Road Agents and Burglars.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 3.—George Thorin, who with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorin, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and were captured in Chicago by Detective J. B. H

NEWSPAPER OF TODAY.
of Religion, Science, Education, and All Good Works.

she or editor pretends that he is not making of a newspaper a sake. He publishes his journal publisher publishes his profit as a means of living or profit. Publishing a newspaper business, though there is no loss on the face of the earth of anthropology and patriotism are so paper is the helper of the school of religion, science, art, industry, agriculture--of which concerns the good of the state. It is the very prop and stay of public spirit; the most of public wrong or injustice must be ascertained as is sentiment reflected in type. The depends for its success upon for, and the aim of every one with it is that of winning popular sympathy upon parallel lines with morality. To say that the news published for money is to say no used into a "universal maxim" which lives by the altar--by the cross. And it is true that it is not the newspaper press is general in morals and intelligence as conscience and mind; higher can never be permanently, as that society demands it shall be of fact, it frequently runs rarely, of public morality; it the public sentiment that deems wrongs; it often secures justice among the injustice. It is without its faults, but growth for its sake is not more faults in its particular inability to perceive that serves its country best. It does not lie for political expediency's fail to recognize the truth can for money's sake, nor seek profit's sake though it may under into the care or into through want of good judgment of the United States--of course, of that greatable newspapers which really readers more intelligence and morals it rises day by day to higher diligence and morality.

The best, the truest, the paper, all other things being like the most profitable one.

experience of every publisher of a great and peccatual public journal. The says have its adverse critics, a earth will be found to be very discredited indeed. It is not the press had to practice in them in mercy. As to most mendacious criticism, it daily for it is compelling of scores of millions of readers, its public spirit, its inmorality. --Philadelphia and ingenious experiments writing a book on "San from the Roots?" a question calls to answer with a definite. To those who merely "run the question and answer a very slight matter indeed, ever, the right answer to the great moment to us all. A simply means the ruthless our preconceived ideas, the it has been taught in schools this theorizing is proved to hall not only have to alter thinking, but largely modify in practice. Clearly, if the branch, or otherwise collect the organic and inorganic sap from the soil, then they become exhausted and re-feeding, while the leafy parts must be cut and pruned the present practice. And worthy of remark that our sunken lawns and gardens are those mainly from blight and disease.

Idea About Sap.

London Globe.

Monah White--Doctor.
my little chile don catch a hoorah' cough. Doctor Blane after (longous thought) You make tree hairs from a male's adi and eat em on dat chile. Dey will die deat, but it'll kill de male. But see here, doctah, I's a poor man, I can't afford no lese dat're male. Wait takin' de hairs from some odder place de chile without killin' de male? "Only one. You can take 'em frum de male's hind legs."

"But did it kill me?" Exchange.

No Donations There.
Let's go and see how old Skinflint is going along, suggested one of his neighbors.

"What's the matter of him?" "Get the smallpox."

"Smallpox! Well Pre've never had it." "Don't make any difference."

"But I don't want to get it."

"Oh, well, you'd never get it of Skinflint."

"Why not?"

"He's too stingy to give it."--Whitese Bird.

A Natural Conclusion.

Young Brasie to Banker Wall, who doesn't know him--"Say, governor, let me have a hundred, will you?"

Banker Wall--"Why in Halifax should I sit you money, you jackanapes?"

Y--"Your daughter told me last night that she would be a sister to me. Doesn't that make you son?"--New York Her.

Educational.

Farmer Harrington--Here I read o' col'en men 20 years old. It seems a pity to waste so much time on schoolin'!"

Farmer Summerholder--"Humph! You hasn't seen so much o' those fellers as I have. Ef some' them were to stay till they was 20 they wouldn't know any too much--punk."

To Keep, of Course.

Little Girl (timidly)--Please, Mr. Storekeeper--How long do you want me to keep them?

Little Girl--I want them to keep, sir, if you please--Journal of Education.

Some Resignations About It.

You were dissatisfied with your pastor two months ago?"

"Yes."

"Has he resigned yet?"

"No, but the congregation is."--Yenko.

A Difference.

Anna-Jack is in love with you.

Anna-Nonsense.

Anna--That's what I said when I left it.

Anna--How dared you!--Puck.

Would Like It to Escape.

So the fair will be held in Chicago?" reported an eastern visitor.

"Oh, you're regular a subscriber mournfully, "there seems to be no possibility of getting away."--Life.

Simplest.

a reach a long tunnel,

Araminta on their wedding Araminta. "What's

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young feller, my new book the people are

the name, please?"

ng--Young f

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER--MONDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1890.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Lester's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGowen Bros.' Store, Plumer's Block, Quincy
Coram's Store, Copeland Street, Quincy
Miss Clark's Store, Jones' Corner
Post Office, Wollaston Heights
Depot, Quincy Point
Henry B. Vinton, Quincy
M. K. Pratt, Weymouth

LETTER FROM MISS CHASE.

The following beautiful and touching letter, written by Miss Chase to her home paper, at Santa Rosa, Cal., we take pleasure in republishing. Although it repeats much that we have already published about the horrid railroad accident, still it speaks so fully of the kindness shown by our citizens, we cannot refrain from giving it space in our columns.

QUINCY, MASS., Oct., 1890.

To the Editor of the Republican:

Today's Almanac.—November 3.
High water at 3:45 A.M. and 3:45 P.M.
Sun rises at 6:20; Sets at 4:35.
Moon rises at 9:58.
Last quarter Nov. 4.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

City Council tonight.

Three public hearings at the City Council meeting this evening.

Mr. Calvin M. Nichols, of Wollaston, has moved to Savin Hill.

It is rumored that the substitute sewerage bill will be buried deep.

The city hospital staff will meet with Dr. Gilbert, at his house, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. John A. McKie, for many years a resident of Wollaston, has moved to Chelsea.

Annual meeting of the Quincy Charitable Association this afternoon at Mrs. Charles A. Spear's.

Voters should remember that they can vote for three representatives. For each of the other offices cross but one.

Andrew McCaffery employed for some time at Hall's stable has accepted a position as coachman at J. H. Emery's.

The friends of Rev. Eben Mewill be sorry to learn that he is lying dangerously ill at his home on Quincy street.

Mr. Walter S. Quincy and family have moved from their summer residence The Elms, to their winter residence in Malden.

Collector Adams reports taxes to the amount of $68,592 to have been paid last week, making a total of $102,000 received by him this year.

Woman's Relief Corps, No. 103 of this city, will visit the corps at Hingham, on Thursday, to witness the inspection of that corps. G. A. R. hall at one o'clock.

The collection for the city hospital was taken up yesterday at the First Church. There were only 150 present. The amount taken has not been announced.

Maple Lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, No. 318 of this city, will have a children's sociable at G. A. R. hall on Wednesday evening Nov. 5; supper at 6.

There are less names on the ticket this year than at the last election. Last year the vote in the last ward was not declared until 1:30 A.M. It is hardly probable that complete returns will be received this year before 10 P.M.

At the G. A. R. fair which is to be held in Hancock hall from Nov. 17 to 22 inclusive, the Councilmen are to compete for a gold-headed cane; the Sons of Veterans for a gold watch; members of the Woman's Relief Corps for a parlor lamp, and the boys of the G. A. R. for a uniform. Be ready with your small change, and contribute as freely as possible; help the boys to make this fair the most successful they have ever had.

The illustrated lecture on "Luther," given by Rev. G.H. Hosmer, in the chapel of First church last evening was largely attended, and very much enjoyed. Rev. D. M. Wilson announced before the lecture, that if the chapel was not large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend the course of lectures, they would open the church, and from the large number standing throughout the evening it looks as though an adjournment would soon be made to the church.

The lecture by Rev. R. Stebbins next Sunday evening will be very interesting the subject being, "The Franciscan Monasteries of California."

TODAY'S COURT.

Timothy Sheehan and John Gouthrie of East Weymouth, loaded up with a fine line of goods Sunday afternoon and started to have a good time. Everything moved along smoothly until they met Officer Butler, who proceeded to arrest Gouthrie. Sheehan objected and the officer called assistance and arrested both after a hard struggle. Sheehan and Butler had a rough and tumble fight but the former was worsted. This morning Gouthrie was fined $10 for being drunk and $10 for disturbing the peace. Sheehan was fined $10 for being drunk and sentenced to three months in the House of Correction. He appealed, but afterwards withdrew his appeal. Both were unable to pay the fines so they were committed.

John McAndrew of Boston for being a tramp, sent to State Farm at Bridgewater for nine months.

Daniel Cronin, of Quincy, for being drunk fined $0.

Last year at the State election the votes were declared as follows: Ward One, at 9:50 P.M.; Ward Two, at 10:35 P.M.; Ward Three, at 1:30 A.M.; Ward Four, at 12:15 A.M.; Ward Five, at 8:40 P.M.; Ward Six, at 7:45 P.M. Or thirty-six men—a total of 38 hours, 35 minutes.

For the Ledger.

The Exchange Coffee House.

November 3d, 1818, seventy-two years ago tonight the Exchange Coffee House, at that time the principal hotel in Boston, Boston, was destroyed by fire. It was seven stories high above the basement. It stood near what is now Congress Square, it was built in 1808 and cost half a million dollars. Among the distinguished guests who were entertained within its walls was President Monroe who visited Boston on July 4, 1817. A writer in the Boston Budget a few years ago said, "a sumptuous dinner was served and was attended by the most distinguished men of the day then in Boston. Among them was the venerable John Adams who subsequently entertained Mr. Monroe at his residence in Quincy. This was quite a favor, for the bluff old ex-President seldom proffered his hospitality outside his family." The writer seemed to forget that Mr. Adams entertained at his home the West Point Cadets in 1821 and Lafayette in 1824. It was said that the light of this great fire was plainly seen for more than forty miles distant. The writer of this saw the light of this great conflagration from the north chamber of the John A. Newcomb house on Hancock street, and Mr. Charles Breck at that time about twenty years old, saw it from the top of Baxter's hill near East Milton, and said the illumination as seen from that elevated position was truly grand. Mr. Breck said that when the ship that carried the news to Europe returned the fire was still burning in the cellar. In those days it generally took a vessel about thirty days for a voyage to London.

H. W. N.

BORN.

KEENAN—In Milton, Nov. 3, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Keenan.

Hair Dressing ROOMS.

MR. JAMES COBURN

Wishes to notify the public that he has opened First-class Hair Dressing Rooms at

W. H. Doble's Block,

SOUTH QUINCY.

Only First-class Work will be done, and by so doing he hopes to receive a share of patronage.

Quincy, Nov. 3.

GEO. F. MURRAY.

THE WHEEL THAT GRINDS.

How the Workingmen Add to Its Momentum and Are Crushed by It.

[Special Correspondence.]

There is a large wheel. It is nicely adjusted and controlled by skillful hands. For ten months in the year it grinds exceedingly fine. Then the fine Italian hands that guide its cunning ways relax, the pressure is relieved and the grinding process ceases for a while. What is it? Machine politics.

For ten months in the year, under the crushing process of this mighty engine, the workingmen groan and groan and whine about the unjust laws, the oppression of capitalistic methods, the arrogance of politicians and the corrupt ways of the lawmakers, and rant and rave about putting their own candidates in the field, and voting for them, too.

In the other two months just preceding election, when the politicians and office seekers condescend to shake hands with the common working people, the whiners are so overcome by the "honor" shown them, and so delighted to be seen drinking or smoking or talking with the big guns, that they suddenly realize that fealty to the party is the only hope of saving the country, and with the collar more firmly riveted about their necks than ever, and with a docility that is agonizing in its meekness, they march to the polls and deposit the same old ticket.

Then the politician has other fish to fry, has no longer time to shake hands; the pressure on the wheel is again renewed and the whining again commences.

We are on the eve of another great congressional election, and it is safe to assume that in many places candidates will be nominated by the various labor parties, and it appears to also be safe to assume that the same vicious knife that was plunged into brave old John Swinton when he was a candidate in New York city will be used again; it is safe to assume that the indifference on the part of the workingmen which caused the defeat of Henry George in New York and Robert Nelson in Chicago will again be a potent factor in perpetuating the power of the reigning parties. We shall see.

How long will it be before the men who are classed as workingmen will realize that the open sesame to a higher, more just and equitable system than exists at present is unanimity at the polls? How long, O Lord, how long?

GEO. F. MURRAY.

New York City.

Chickens Come Home to Roost.

[Special Correspondence.]

The failure of the Federation of Railways to give their support to the striking Knights of Labor on the New York Central road, and Webb's circular boycotting the Knights, while saying nothing against the other organizations on his road, should make the men who have shaped the course of the order do some talk thinking. It looks like fate. Every labor man, Knight, ex-Knight or never a Knight, deeply regrets the failure of the strike; but those who remember the course of the administration, backed by influential though mistaken members, in 1882-6, must be pardoned if they remark, "For whatsoever a man soweth that shall he reap." In the years mentioned, and particularly at the general assembly of 1886, when the Knights had reached their greatest power, the bitterest antagonism was shown toward other labor organizations. Under the influence of the leaders (and subsequent destroyers) of district assembly 49, annihilation of trades unions was written on the K. of L. banner. It is not likely that the railway men, brakemen and switchmen were influenced by this fact in refusing to support the Knights on the Central, and the lesson is so much the stronger that they were not.

JOS. R. BUCHANAN.

A Little Obstruction.

I earnestly wish and hope that The Herald will follow up this matter with similar trenchant blows against these monopolies which the foolish people have created to crush themselves, and that it will give its powerful aid to the movement now making by the Labor party to elect members to the legislature who shall be pledged to do all they can, if necessary, by obstructing the organization of the house, to bring about such legislation as shall make the railroads, telegraphs, etc., to be the property of the people, and to be conducted in the interest of the people, so that the rule of railroading henceforth shall be that the public get the best service at the price of barely what the traffic will cost.—Dr. McGlynn in New York Herald.

A Bright Drummer.

The drummer who cannot do his share of bragging, and perhaps a little more, is as rare in the community as the black swan of antiquity. The latest specimen of drummer's hyperbole I give here world for word as it was told to me: "You can't begin to conceive of the enormous dimensions of our establishment. Just think of it! We didn't find out until we began to take stock lately that two of our cashiers had been missing for four weeks!"—Jeweler's Weekly.

Respect for Age.

Proverbs and sage advice for the young are perhaps common enough. Counsel to the aged is not so frequent, doubtless because it is not supposed to be so much needed.

Here, however, is a very wise and witty bit of advice to those who are growing old, uttered by French philosopher:

"Always respect gray hairs—above all when they are on your own head!"—Youth's Companion.

Contents of This Sphere.

Statisticians divide the earth into: Cultivable land, 23,469,000 square miles; steppe, scrub, poor grass, etc., 13,901,000 square miles; barren deserts, 4,150,000 square miles; a total of 46,520,000 square miles. The population living upon this is reckoned at a little over 1,467,000,000, divided thus: Europe, 360,000,000; Asia, 50,000,000; Africa, 127,000,000; Australia, 4,730,000; North America, 89,250,000; South America, 36,800,000.—Exchange.

After Striking the Iceberg.

Captain—Hurry up there. Get into the boats. She'll go to the bottom in five minutes.

Excited Passenger—But I say, captain, give me time to get my rubbers, won't you? If I get my feet wet it'll be the death of me.—Epoch.

In Berlin a schoolmistress receives $300 annually during the first years of her service, a schoolmaster $400. After forty-two years of unbroken service the schoolmistress' maximum salary is $400, the schoolmaster's $300.

Must be higher, as the pack of years' prices.

BOSTON BR.

Durgin &

Quincy, Sept. 24.

A BEDTIME SONG.

Sing to me for to the night gray,
This is the ferry of Shadwell town;
It always sails at the end of day;
Just as the darkness is closing down.

Rest little head, on my shoulder, so;

A sleepy kiss is the only fare;

Baby and I in the rocking chair.

See where the fire logs glow and spark;

Glitter the lights of Shadow town;

The winter rain on the window—hark!

Are ripples lapping upon its strand;

Those over there on the window sill.

Rock slow, move slow, in the jucky light;

Silently lower the anchor down;

Dear little passenger, say "Good night."

We've reached the harbor of Shadow town.

—W. Douglas Claypool.

The Czar's Lesson.

During his stay at Fredericksburg Prince Albert, a son of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, diverted himself by tormenting the life out of the czar's favorite dog. One day the emperor of Russia, as he passed along the shore of the Lake of Esrom, which bounds the park of Rosensburg on one side, perceived the young prince in the act of taking up his dog in his arms and throwing him into the water. Half in sport, half in anger, Alexander III., who possesses uncommon muscular strength, went up to the young man—who is his nephew, by the by—and seizing him by the coat collar threw him into the lake in his turn, saying:

"As you seem to be so fond of water, I'll give you a taste of it for once."

Since this occurrence Prince Albert has given the czar's pet dog a wide berth.—La Morale Amusante.

An Ancient Custom at Yale.

In the chapel on either side of the middle aisle sit the dignified seniors, while in other parts are the lower classes. Away up in his high pulpit sits "Prexy" (which is the cognomen that the honorable president goes by). After the service is over a most ancient and curious custom takes place, which is both interesting and amusing to the visitor. As the president leaves the chapel he passes down the middle aisle between the lines of standing seniors, who all bow very low at his passage. It is almost funny to see the men double up and bend almost to the ground, and it is hard to repress a smile. At the end gallery seats are reserved for spectators, and during "Prom." week, when these seats are filled with pretty girls, the point of general interest is generally that end of the chapel and not the other.—New Haven Cor. New York Telegram.

Best Fodder for Cavalry Horses.

A series of experiments, made with a view of discovering the best fodder for French cavalry horses, has established the fact that straw and oats are, in reality, preferable to hay. It appeared that when the ration of hay was reduced, and that of the straw and oats proportionately increased, the staying power of the horses was much improved; they sweat less and bore fatigues better. These experiments have excited much interest in military circles, and it is very generally recognized that there is imperative need for a complete and careful study of the question of cavalry forage.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Bible Three Centuries Old.

Mrs. Barbara Miller, who resides at No. 419 East Sixty-first street, has in her possession a very old Bible. It is a German Catholic Bible, and was printed in 1549. The ancient volume is 18 inches long, 9 inches wide and 6 inches thick. The leaves are yellow with age, and would not bear handling. The type used in printing the Bible was made of wood. The book has always been in the family, and has been handed down from one generation to another. Mrs. Miller has frequently been offered good prices for the Bible, but refused to part with it.

New York World.

AND NOW ORGANS AT DURGIN & MERRILL.

R. D. In Durgin & Merrills.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 174.

QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

We Have a Large Stock

—OF—

Imported and Domestic Cigars.

ALL THE POPULAR BRANDS.

5 and 10 Cent Goods.

Also, a Large Stock of Chewing and Smoking Tobacco.

GIVE US A CALL!

ROGERS BROS., Adams Building, Quincy.

50 DOZEN

Children's

Knee
Pants,

Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BEST IN THE MARKET!

FOR $6.50 CASH

WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.

[FRANK S. PATCH.]

Quincy, July 9.

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY

ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,

In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,

AS HERETOFORE.

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.

CORRESPONDENCE OF

JOHN STETSON COMPANY.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

THURSDAY, OCT. 16,

IN ADAMS BUILDING.

STOCKS, CRAIN and PETROLEUM.

TELEPHONE 8-3.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A.M. TO 5 P.M.

Oct. 15.-tf

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

MUST be higher, as the pack is small. We are receiving a large variety of new CANNED GOODS of all kinds, which we shall sell at present at least.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY,

Durgin & Merrill's Block.

Quincy, Sept. 24.

A BIG VOTE.

Weather Favorable to Republicans.

Democrats Anticipate 125 Plurality for Russell.

Republicans Believe He Will Have Less Than 100.

A Plurality Predicted for Elijah A.
Morse in This City.

The day is fair and pleasant. The voting is proceeding quietly, although considerable interest is manifested and a heavy vote is being thrown. The total will be over 2300 and perhaps 2400 out of a total of 2741.

The following summary gives a good idea of the vote that is being cast in each ward. There is yet three hours in which to vote:

Names Vote Cast
on List. in 1889. at 1 P.M.

Ward One,	559	445
Ward Two,	473	339
Ward Three,	505	396
Ward Four,	624	490
Ward Five,	322	278
Ward Six,	258	158
	2741	2106

John J. Byron, secretary of the Democratic City Committee, predicts a plurality of over 125 for Russell and the State ticket.

John F. Merrill, chairman of the Republican city committee says Russell's plurality will be less than 100, and thinks it will be much less. He believes also that Congressman Elijah A. Morse will go out of Quincy with a plurality.

About noon lunch was furnished by the city to the election officers in each ward.

It consisted of sandwiches, doughnuts, vanilla cakes, cheese and coffee which was served by Caterer Nash. The city does not furnish a very elaborate bill of fare, but it was relished by the men on duty.

The Board of Registrars were in session at City Hall most of the morning but little was required of them. A prominent citizen of Ward Five found his name off the list, and told the Registrars he was going to vote or know the reason why. He found out why very soon. He had not paid his taxes for two years.

WARD ONE.

Warden Packard read the warrant at 7 A.M. and in answer to the roll call all the election officers were present except John J. Byron and Edward B. Souther. Their places were filled by deputies D. C. McCarthy and Francis Veazie.

The election officers to serve were:

Warden, —Walter M. Packard, D.

Clerk, —George E. Safford, R.

Inspectors, —Luke J. Coyle, D., Francis A. Spear, R., Daniel C. McCarthy, D., Francis Veazie, R.

The official ballots, cards of instruction, etc., were posted, and at 7.17 the polls were open. Messrs. Spear and Coyle had charge of the ballots and the first check list; Messrs. Packard and McCarthy were at the second list, and Mr. Veazie was in charge of the ballot box. Police officers Nichol and Hunt were on duty.

The first voter to enter was John C. McGowan, with J. O. Williams second, F. B. Davis third and J. M. Gilson fourth.

H. B. Bent, however, cast the first ballot.

The voting was not very brisk; at 7.30 but 29 votes had been cast. At 8 o'clock, however, the number was 71.

John Quincy Adams and Mayor Porter were in the booths at the same time, and cast respectively the 7th and 8th ballots.

The following summary shows the progress of the voting:

Hour. Votes Cast.

Eight o'clock,	71
Nine "	130
Ten "	193
Eleven "	216
Twelve "	262
One "	359

The polls close at four o'clock. Total in 1889, 278.

WARD TWO.

When the polls closed at four o'clock last year, 445 votes had been cast.

WARD THREE.

The officers in Ward Two attended to their preliminary duties promptly, and at 7.07 the balloting commenced and was unusually lively the first hour.

All the election officers answered the roll call and the following served:

Warden, —Isaac M. Holt, R.

Clerk, —Michael T. Sullivan, D.

Inspectors, —Albert Keating, R., Edwin W. Newcomb, R., William H. Sampson, Jr., D., Michael F. King, D.

Officers Hayden and Young maintained ordered.

Messrs. Keating and Sampson had charge of the first check list and ballots, and Messrs. Newcomb and King of the second list and ballot box.

The first to vote was Alfred L. Mead.

The progress of the voting is given below, also a comparison with that of last year at each hour:

Hour. This Year. In 1889.

Eight o'clock	—	50
Nine "	—	90
Ten "	—	118
Eleven "	—	150
Twelve "	—	175
One "	283	244
Two "	—	284
Three "	—	308
Four "	—	340

WARD THREE.

In this ward the polls were opened at 7 A.M. and Warden Parker read the warrant. Every officer who had been appointed responded. Those to serve were:

Warden, —Edward J. Parker, D.

Clerk, —Franklin Curtis, R.

Inspectors, —James H. Sullivan, D., William A. Kelly, D., George O. Shirley, R., Charles H. Grindell, R.

Officers Ferguson and Litchfield were on duty.

When the polls opened, the voting was lively but soon became slow.

James Parker took the first ballot but Stephen Swan voted first. The first hour 54 votes had been cast. The progress of the voting is noted below:

Hour. Vote Cast.

Eight o'clock	54
Nine "	83
Ten "	102
Eleven "	128
Twelve "	150
One "	282

The polls will not close until four o'clock.

Last year's total was 306.

WARD FOUR.

The polls were opened this morning at 7 A.M. Warden Ames read the warrant. All the ward officers were present with the exception of Clerk Thomas J. Foley. Daniel C. Little was appointed to fill the vacancy. The officers to serve were:

Warden, —Nathan Ames, R.

Clerk, —Daniel C. Little, D.

Inspectors, —William H. Teasdale, R., George W. Thayer, R., William D. Burns, D., John H. Rooney, D.

Officers Daniel McKay and James Bean were on duty.

The first half hour 34 votes had been cast and 11 the next quarter.

Josiah Randlett of Crescent street cast the first ballot. The voting in this ward was not very brisk until noontime.

The progress of the voting is shown in the summary below:

Hour. Votes Cast.

Eight o'clock,	56
Nine "	108
Ten "	182
Eleven "	205
Twelve "	274
One "	395

The polls will close at four o'clock. The total vote in the Ward at the last election was 490.

WARD FIVE.

Before seven o'clock a considerable crowd, including election officers, had gathered in Hose 2's house. As the hands of the clock pointed to seven, Wendell G. Correll, the Warden called for order and read the warrant.

Owing to some delay in tacking up the instructions in the voting compartments, the polls were not formally declared open until 7.08, at that time there were thirty voters in line.

The first man to cast his ballot was James C. Porter, and he was closely followed by Charles W. Johnson.

At 7.15, eight minutes after the first vote was cast, the machine registered 20 and the line outside of the rail numbered 20.

At 7.30, 59 votes had been cast and the line had dwindled to 5, and at 7.34 the line had disappeared. The voting is about the same as in previous years.

All the election officers responded to the roll call, and the following served:

Warden, —Wendell G. Correll, R.

Clerk, —William P. Chase, Jr., D.

Inspectors, —A. G. Olney, R., John H. Roberts, R., W. H. Braze, D., H. A. Jones, D.

Police, —Mark Hanson, W. C. Seelye.

A summary of the vote as taken from the ballot box each hour shows the progress of the voting:

Hour. Vote Cast.

Eight o'clock,	71
Nine "	130
Ten "	193
Eleven "	216
Twelve "	262
One "	359

The polls close at four o'clock. Total in 1889, 278.

WARD SIX.

Warden Pope read the warrant promptly at 7 A.M. and the polls were soon opened.

Daniel C. Lyons, Democrat, and also the two Democratic deputy inspectors were absent and George F. Cunningham was elected to serve. The corps of election officers serving is:

Warden, —Edmund Pope, D.

Clerk, —Cephas Drew, R.

Inspectors, —George F. Cunningham, D., Michael W. Gerry, D., Herbert B. Hallett, R., Daniel C. Nelson, R.

Councilman Jones offered a resolution requesting the Mayor to locate an incandescent light corner of Mill and Pond streets.

After a recess of five minutes a public hearing was given on the petition to lay out

Trafford Street.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING.
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)
—BY—

GREEN & PRESCOTT,
115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,
By Carrier or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50. Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, etc., 10 cents; exceeding four lines, length 25 cents first insertion, 10 cents each additional insertion. Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Representative Apportionment.

The representative districts were apportioned in 1886 and went into effect that year and will continue until 1896. The average ratio of voters to a district in the State was 1,844. Quincy was put into a district with Weymouth and the total of 5603 voters gave her three representatives. Quincy is looking forward to the time when she will be entitled to two representatives, but the prospects are not very flattering now toward reaching that goal in 1896. Each district will then have to have about 2000 voters. Quincy has not 100 more voters than 1885; Weymouth has 500 less than those; so the total now is not up to the average required for three.

By the present agreement, Weymouth is entitled to two of the three representatives in six out of the ten years, as she had 250 more voters. But Quincy has now 300 more voters than Weymouth, and should the union continue another ten years, would be entitled to two representatives for six or seven or more, of the ten years.

Governor Page of Vermont has adopted a new and somewhat surprising departure in appointing as chief of his staff his democratic rival for the governorship, while another prominent democrat and a former candidate for Congress is also named as a member of the staff. Such an exhibition of kindly feeling to a political opponent is as refreshing as it is rare, but we see no reason why the example set by Gov. Page might not be followed elsewhere with good results. It would have a tendency to soften the animosities and bitterness which are too common features of political contests as at present conducted.—Milford Gazette.

In Milford, the new Street Railway Company are obliged to contribute $300 to fix up the street after the tracks are laid. This only applies to one street, and shows that in many places a railroad franchise is valuable.

Folding Napkins by Pattern.

Commercial enterprise has entered a fresh field in the recent issue by a New York firm of paper patterns for folding table napkins. This art has up to this time been relegated to the butler's and parlormaid's repertoire, and competency or the reverse in its accomplishment has frequently been one of the tests of eligibility to service. Now, however, this is done away with, and the mistress of an establishment may have the knack at her finger ends to teach the merest novice in her employ. It is a question, however, if this universal knowledge will not deprive fashionable tables of one element of individuality now imparted by the exclusive napkin lore of some treasure of a "Jeems" or Martha.—New York Times.

Bogus Stamps.

A Hamburg firm is making a fortune by selling bogus Heligoland postage stamps to collectors in Germany. As soon as the Anglo-German agreement concerning the island became known there was a tremendous demand for the old Heligoland stamps, and the prices went up to forty-five and fifty cents apiece. The firm in question at once bought the Heligoland stamp for little more than its value as old metal, and has kept it a-going day and night ever since. It has sold already 20,000, and has more orders in sight than it can fill. At a recent meeting of the postage stamp bourse in Berlin a movement to stop the fraud was started.—Exchange.

A Religious Census.

Something new in the census line is under way in the village of Waterford. It is called a "religious census" and is being taken under the direction of a committee representing the four Protestant churches of the village. The members of the committee or their assistants call at each house and ascertain how many there are in the family of a church going age; what church they attend, if any, or to what denomination they have a predisposition. When persons are found who do not attend any church they are also noted down.—Albany Express.

A Mother's Eulogy.

Judge Howell C. Glenn, of Atlanta, is dead. His old mother pronounced this eulogy upon him: "In all his life he never gave me an impatient word, and that is why I love him so dearly."—Richmond State.

FIGHT FOR PRIZES.

Election Battles Waging in Many States.

IT LOOKS LIKE BRACKETT

In Massachusetts, Though an unusual Doubt is Felt.

NO CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR

The Probability in New Hampshire, on Account of a Majority Being Required to Elect—Both Parties Confident in Indiana—Republicans May Lose Minnesota—McKinley's Friends Have Fought Nobly for Him—School Question the Main Issue in Wisconsin—Results of Pennsylvania's Vigorous Campaign Uncertain—Farmers' Alliance Showing Its Strength in Many Places—Tariff Bill a Great Issue—Brief Mention of the Outlook in Other States.

POLL-TAX War Affects Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 4.—The election in this state is for a justice of the supreme court, state comptroller to fill a vacancy, members of the legislature, district attorneys and county officers, Republican, Democratic and Prohibition. The Union Labor party placed a ticket in nomination, but failed to file the nominations in season to secure a place in the official ballot. This will be the second state election and the first congressional election in Massachusetts under the Australian ballot law. The candidates for the judicial offices on all three state tickets are, in the main, the same as last year. The notable exceptions are named as conceded.

ESTON, Nov. 4.—The election in Massachusetts is for governor and other state officers, twelve members of congress, a legislative, district attorneys and county officers, Republicans, Democratic and Prohibition. The Union Labor party placed a ticket in nomination, but failed to file the nominations in season to secure a place in the official ballot. This will be the second state election and the first congressional election in Massachusetts under the Australian ballot law. The candidates for the judicial offices on all three state tickets are, in the main, the same as last year. The notable exceptions are named as conceded.

State Issue in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4.—The Bennett poll-tax bill is the issue which overshadows all others in Wisconsin. When a full state ticket is being closed, the organization of the Republicen city of Milwaukee by the aid of the sectarian opponents of the Bennett law forced him to the front last spring, and he was only a few weeks afterward nominated by the Democrats for the governorship. His Republican opponent is Governor Hoard, the present governor, who has boldly taken the position with his party that the issue is sound and constitutional upon the state constitution. By pledging themselves to its modification or repeal, the Democrats hope to secure considerable support from the Lutherans and other sectarian societies for their ticket. The Republicans are confident that they will gain from the Democratic ranks a sufficient number of voters who favor the law to more than offset the sectarian vote. In the congressional contests alone has the tariff question been a subject of any considerable discussion. There are nine congressional districts in the state, but the indications point to the following result:

• Two are "Still Hunt" in New Hampshire.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 4.—The election in New Hampshire is for state and county officers, members of congress and legislature. Hon. Hiriam A. Tuttle is the Republican gubernatorial candidate, Hon. Charles H. Amsden the Democratic, and Josiah M. Fletcher the Prohibitionist. The Republican candidate for Congress in the First district is Hon. David A. Taggart of Goffstown. The Democratic Congressman Luther F. McKinney of Manchester, Second district, Hon. Orren C. Moore of Nashua, is the Republican candidate for the Australian ballot. The legislature to be chosen will elect a successor to Hon. Henry W. Blair, United States senator. Senator Blair is a candidate for re-election. The leading parties have conducted a "still hunt" in New Hampshire. The probability seems to be, however, that Governor Brackett will be re-elected by a small plurality, that the rest of the Republican state ticket will be elected by the usual majority, and that the Democrats will gain one member of congress.

• Two are "Still Hunt" in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—In Indiana, the Farmers' Mutual Benefit association is a new political factor, which makes it impossible to predict with any degree of certainty the result. The probability, however, is that the coming legislature will be Democratic by a small majority, and this will insure the re-election of Senator Voorhees, as his own successor in the United States senate. No governor is to be elected in Indiana this fall, but a secretary, auditor, treasurer and other minor state officers are to be chosen, and both parties claim the state ticket. In the congressional fight the Republicans have derived a decided advantage in several districts by fortunate combinations with the Farmers' Alliance. The alliance being the most prominent issue, the vote will be smaller than that of 1888, when it aggregated 90,681. The indications are that there will be no choice for governor, a majority vote being required to elect; that Mr. McKinley Dem., will be elected congressman in the First district, and Mr. Moore, Rep., in the Second district, and that the legislature will be Republican by small majority. The Prohibition vote will be small.

• In the Keystone State.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—The most active campaign in Pennsylvania for several years, ended last night. A most thorough canvass of the state has been made by the two leading parties, selected the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor—Messrs. Doleman and Patterson—have personally taken an active part, each having addressed meetings in almost every county. The Prohibition and Labor parties both have full state tickets in the field, but neither has shown much activity in the campaign and very few labor or prohibition meetings have been held. The officers are to serve four years. In 1888 James A. Beaver, Rep., was elected governor by a pluralty. In 1888 Patterson, the present Democratic candidate, was elected governor through a split in the Republican party, an independent candidate having been placed in the field. Members of congress are to be chosen in the twenty-eight districts. The present delegation in congress consist of twenty-one Republicans and seven Democrats. Twenty-six members of the state senate are to be elected. The entire body of the lower house of the legislature is to be chosen to be the United States senator to succeed Senator James Donald Cameron, whose term will expire March 4, 1891, and the twenty-five state senators elected to-day will also have a vote for the successor of Senator Mathew S. Quay, whose term will expire April 3, 1890.

• Farmers' Alliance Solid in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 4.—The contest in Georgia is confined to the election of ten congressmen. In all but two districts the Republicans oppose the Democratic nominees. In the Seventh district the "Jeffersonian" Democrats called a convention after the regular Democratic convention and chose Dr. W. Everett (an Allianceman) chosen by plurality the nominee of the party, and nominated Dr. W. H. Felton. Dr. Felton is making the issue against the Alliance, and the race is a close one. A striking feature of the situation is the fact that the Farmers' Alliance movement has captured a majority of the German delegation, though this was done entirely within the Democratic party, subject to the Democratic nomination. The Alliance men went to work and the Democracy have combined in about one nominated their men. The sub-treasury has made an issue, more or less, in each of these six districts, but the members-elect announce that they will abide by the action of the Democratic caucus, not only on this but on all other questions. Col. Livingston, the Democratic candidate in the Fifth district, is the president of the Georgia Alliance, and an enthusiastic advocate of the sub-treasury plan, of which he will become the special champion in congress.

• In McElroy's State.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—Ohio will elect a secretary of state, a judge of the court of appeals, two justices of the supreme court, a member of the board of public works, a representative to congress from each of its twenty-one districts and county officers. The election of members of the legislature will be by the use of the re-apportionment of districts made by the legislature by the act of March 11, 1890. The campaign has very little of state issues in it. The election of congressmen has made national issues prominent. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the campaign in Ohio is the candidacy of William McKinley in the Sixteenth district. Last year the counties in his district gave a Democratic majority of 300. Yet there has been a most earnest effort by the Republicans to elect McKinley, partly on account of his value to the party in congress and partly as a vindication of his policy as exhibited in the tariff. Equally important, however, has been made to elect his opponent, Judge Warwick. Another interesting feature is the effort of ex-Governor Charles Foster in the Eighth district to overcome a Democratic majority of 1000. The Republicans are inclined to claim the election of congressmen, besides six already named as conceded.

• The Empire State.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The election in New York state is for a judge of the court of appeals, two justices of the supreme court, and members of the assembly. The interest centers in the vote for congressmen and also for members of assembly, as the next legislature will select a successor to Senator Evarts.

The Democrats are hopeful of making some gains but the Republicans are equally confident that they will hold their own, to increase their numbers.

The state holds over, and will hold the newly redistricted state.

The Godfather knows.

The Godfather kneels while he holds the baby and the priest asks a lot of questions of the baby, which the godfather, as its mouthpiece, is to answer.

The Godfather answers for the child, replies to the priest, and the priest replies to the Godfather.

The Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "With doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the baby and dips it into the water, and after a long ceremony declares that it is a child of Christ. He then dresses the child, after blessing its garments, and puts a taper of red and green wax into its hand, after which it kisses the altar and the cross and the ceremony is over. During this time the priest has taken off his coat and put on a white robe, and the priest asks the eight-day-old baby, "What doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the baby and dips it into the water, and after a long ceremony declares that it is a child of Christ. He then dresses the child, after blessing its garments, and puts a taper of red and green wax into its hand, after which it kisses the altar and the cross and the ceremony is over. During this time the priest has taken off his coat and put on a white robe, and the priest asks the eight-day-old baby, "What doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the baby and dips it into the water, and after a long ceremony declares that it is a child of Christ. He then dresses the child, after blessing its garments, and puts a taper of red and green wax into its hand, after which it kisses the altar and the cross and the ceremony is over. During this time the priest has taken off his coat and put on a white robe, and the priest asks the eight-day-old baby, "What doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the baby and dips it into the water, and after a long ceremony declares that it is a child of Christ. He then dresses the child, after blessing its garments, and puts a taper of red and green wax into its hand, after which it kisses the altar and the cross and the ceremony is over. During this time the priest has taken off his coat and put on a white robe, and the priest asks the eight-day-old baby, "What doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the baby and dips it into the water, and after a long ceremony declares that it is a child of Christ. He then dresses the child, after blessing its garments, and puts a taper of red and green wax into its hand, after which it kisses the altar and the cross and the ceremony is over. During this time the priest has taken off his coat and put on a white robe, and the priest asks the eight-day-old baby, "What doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the baby and dips it into the water, and after a long ceremony declares that it is a child of Christ. He then dresses the child, after blessing its garments, and puts a taper of red and green wax into its hand, after which it kisses the altar and the cross and the ceremony is over. During this time the priest has taken off his coat and put on a white robe, and the priest asks the eight-day-old baby, "What doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the baby and dips it into the water, and after a long ceremony declares that it is a child of Christ. He then dresses the child, after blessing its garments, and puts a taper of red and green wax into its hand, after which it kisses the altar and the cross and the ceremony is over. During this time the priest has taken off his coat and put on a white robe, and the priest asks the eight-day-old baby, "What doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the baby and dips it into the water, and after a long ceremony declares that it is a child of Christ. He then dresses the child, after blessing its garments, and puts a taper of red and green wax into its hand, after which it kisses the altar and the cross and the ceremony is over. During this time the priest has taken off his coat and put on a white robe, and the priest asks the eight-day-old baby, "What doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the baby and dips it into the water, and after a long ceremony declares that it is a child of Christ. He then dresses the child, after blessing its garments, and puts a taper of red and green wax into its hand, after which it kisses the altar and the cross and the ceremony is over. During this time the priest has taken off his coat and put on a white robe, and the priest asks the eight-day-old baby, "What doest thou demand?" The Godfather, answering for the child, replies, "I demand to be baptized," and the priest gets in another question at the young infant, asking, "Dost thou truly demand it?" To this the Godfather replies, again speaking for the baby, "I demand with faith to be baptized and purged from sin, to be cleansed from the sins of my parents."

The priest replies, "Be it unto thee according to thy faith."

The priest then takes the

Today's Anniversaries.

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 4.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Field—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts Cities and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

At 8 P.M. 30, 54, 58 and 68 put into the Quincy fire alarm.

World Wide.

A Frenchman past his prime—a man of some name in the service of parliament. Engaged in destroying the English and their colonies. After this there is a long prayer. The child has its clothes taken off and asks the eight-day-old baby, "Who demand?" The godfather, the child, replies, "I demand," and the priest gets in another at the young infant, asking, "only demand it?" To this the priest, again speaking for the child and with faith to be baptized from sin, to be released from all to serve God.

The priest said, "Be it unto thy faith." The priest dips the baby and dips it into the water a long ceremony declares child of Christ. He then dresses blessing its garments, and red and green wax into its which it kisses the altar and the ceremony is over. During priest has bound on the head a little gold cross, and this for eight days after the baptism. Carpenter in National American Children.

They have better home life than the they are very fond of their parents, and the mother gives her friends when the baby is born, to show them the new arrival. The baby is eight days old, it is washed all over with water every day before this. On the doorstep of the church father partakes of the sacrament in order that he may stand up with the baby. The priest asks a lot of questions which the godfather, as its a catechism longer than the Christian church, and the child, replies to the priest, after this there is a long prayer. The child has its clothes taken off and asks the eight-day-old baby, "Who demand?" The godfather, the child, replies, "I demand," and the priest gets in another at the young infant, asking, "only demand it?"

To this the priest, again speaking for the child and with faith to be baptized from sin, to be released from all to serve God.

The priest said, "Be it unto thy faith." The priest dips the baby and dips it into the water a long ceremony declares child of Christ. He then dresses blessing its garments, and red and green wax into its which it kisses the altar and the ceremony is over. During priest has bound on the head a little gold cross, and this for eight days after the baptism. Carpenter in National

the Clergyman's Ire.

A train on the Brooklyn everyday a week looking clergyman joined a 300 pound man, seated himself, and talked hemmed to a friend in a unintelligible to the other except one, the clergyman, right discoursed in Danish, the man who had dumped taste. The latter was a Brooklyn station the man of poise, who seemed to have of his ire into a generous his opportunity and gave cause of his wrath a violent outburst against a post on the force enough to sprain his and destroy his choler. The minister, calling upon him, rushed after his assistant, and said, "I'll drive just arrived and put a check to the police station both men and released—Brook-

Paved Streets Clean.

distinct prospect that before generation passes from the there will be several miles in Detroit. In the and the further one that as avenue are already provided the dust which is driven by the operation of the steam roller surface, it may call attention to the device adopted in certain easterning men at the expense of property owners, who shall at work with hand brooms and thus prevent the accumulation which the machines drive into every crevice. One keep two or three blocks expense for the year is a profit Free Press.

Better Side.

ight a man sat in an open on Crooked street, and of the door uttered the words of death. Along the streets, singing and they caught sight of the how they came to a halt, began:

crippled one of his com-

you see that his baby is excuse us," said two or and the gang tip-toed away around the corner. The th had brought out the troth Free Press.

of a Horse.

horse, and remember that more than we know, and more than they can say much of any animals.

dicine in the place of restings take too much medicine are forever dosing their with a brain mash, and extra rest in an even ten-best medicine nine times do not forget that a good, and a true horse are laying them, treat them well—Providence Journal.

Bigest Wedding Fee. largest wedding fee you the writer asked of Dr.

the largest sum of money," as once presented with a ball, but it came from a rich millions himself and arrived to millions whom I performed the day gave me a dollar. I said that that dollar was the world. So you see in the most—"New York striked."

"kerd quite fresh?" asked but pompous old colored name to her door.

puffily so, puffily "Jesus nostril them

What do you mean said the peddler, with a pity of her ignorance, in 'em!"—Youth's Com-

Reason.

He hasn't spoken a cross ten years. Yes, sir, ten day."

Why are you so certain as just ten years ago to-rable to the Cure- ed is a series of mind ned the patient firmly, into politics."—Pack-

A Plucky Girl.

It is sad to relate that Chief Counsel Mott, of Maryland, is a victim of misplaced confidence, or rather want of confidence, in a member of his family. His daughter, Mrs. Coleman, has been for some time persistent in an expressed desire for some particular household furnishing without making any decided impression on the admitted head of the family. Knowing how proud the stern parent is of her cycling skill she was inspired to naively inquire, "Will you purchase these things for me if I climb Windy Gates?"

Now, Windy Gates is a test hill and has long been the terror of wheelmen. In fact, no one had succeeded in mounting it until the Baltimore meet brought famous hill climbers from all parts of the country. Of course the sanguine victim confidently believed he might safely promise the world or anything tangible on what he considered an impossibility, and so she cheerfully replied:

"Oh, certainly, anything on the earth or in the waters under the earth." Tues-day the plucky little woman added a new chapter as a seasoning to her ordinary breakfast table in these words: "Papa, I want you to take me out to Windy Gates this afternoon."

Mr. Mott thought he would have a nice spin with pleasant companionship and no serious results, and so gladly accepted the invitation of his daughter.

Well, sir, she just waltzed him out there and never left the saddle from Halle-stand to the top of Windy Gates, and then turned back and climbed Mount Washington (either of them more difficult than the famous Ford's hill, of Philadelphia), and all the balance of the hills on the return. The duped parent is something over $100 out, besides a supper at Halstead's. She climbed South mountain during the summer on a trip with a party of the Maryland club from Hagerstown to Baltimore, and now there is no rideable hill in her vicinity she has not conquered. All this has been done on her ordinary ladies' safety.

—Bicycling World.

A Dog Catching Episode.

A black French poodle was trotting down Fifth Avenue on a breezy, bright afternoon with a fine, straight young woman. The dog seemed proud of his mistress and the girl was proud of her dog. While all was peaceful and danger seemed nowhere nigh a rickety andreaking covered wagon drawn by a pitiable wreck of a horse, and having on its seat two repulsive young men, came around a corner. One of the young ruffians leaped to the ground and made a quick plunge for the dog, catching it by the hind leg and whirling it above his head in a circle, running as he did so toward the rear of his wagon. Quicker than it takes to say so the young tough was in front of the young tough, with one hand clutching his coat collar and the other holding the muzzle of a silver mounted shotgun to his face.

"You drop my dog or I'll shoot you," said the girl.

The young fellow peered out of his small eyes into the determined face before him, and, as he attempted to shake the girl's hand from his collar, said:

"Aw, wot yer given me, any way? Don't ye see we're der dog catchers, an' you ain't got no right her have yer pupp without a muzzle! Der dog goes along wid us, see?"

The girl's face took on a still fiercer and more ominous look. The dog still in the grasp of the man, was twisting to get away, and relaying with pain.

"If you do not drop my dog this instant," said the girl, "I will fire. Do you hear me?"

The catcher dropped the dog. By this time people were coming up to see the disturbance. The young woman put the bogus weapon into the small chalaine bag that she wore, blew a small silver whistle, and accompanied by her joyous dog pursued her morning walk serenely and with stately grace.—New York Sun.

The Hunter's Moon.

The full moon next following the harvest moon is called the hunter's moon, or because it is still at a point in the sky near enough to the sign Aries for us to make a small angle with the east at sunset when rising, though larger than at the time of the harvest moon.

The harvest moon was supposed in the old to be a special interposition of Providence to help the husbandmen in gathering the fruits of the earth, the hunter's moon was considered as a special boon to the huntmen in the pursuit of their favorite sport.

At the time of the harvest moon the steamer paid to the port of New York was about $60,000,000. could thus be expected for the same staff in 100 days, the entire population of the earth, thus including Asiatics and savages, estimated at 1,000,000,000, could be easily determined in less than 200 days.

The loss of the schooner was about $64,000, part of which is covered by insurance.

Energetic Work of Women.

The English electrical papers in concerning the great success achieved in Washington by the electrical census tabulating machine, which enabled the authorities to deal with the large returns with admirable expedition and absence of confusion, express the hope that a similar arrangement will be adopted in approaching census in England.

England was able by means of the electric machine to count the entire population of the United States in ten days working hours each. The percentage of the civilized world, putting in $60,000,000, could thus be expected for the same staff in 100 days, the entire population of the earth, thus including Asiatics and savages, estimated at 1,000,000,000, could be easily determined in less than 200 days.

The loss of the schooner was about $64,000, part of which is covered by insurance.

Saco Mill Hand Out.

SACO, Me., Nov. 4.—Fifty weavers in the York mills, left work yesterday, claiming that Second Hand Edward F. Smith was overbearing and unreasonable in his demands. A committee waited on Agent Norton, demanding the removal of the second hand. Their demand was not concurred in, and they are still on strike.

Mrs. Cook said one of the greatest needs of having the Bible read in the schools was the alarming increase of young criminals. She believed the absence of religion was one cause of it.

The reports of the women who had charge of the petitions in the chin-chains were then called for, and twenty-five churches showed between three and four thousand signatures. Of this number Agent Norton, demanding the removal of the second hand, their demand was not concurred in, and they are still on strike.

In Behalf of Murders Birth.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—Petitions from Great Britain for the retrial of Birchall, who was overbearing and unreasonable in his demands. A committee waited on Agent Norton, demanding the removal of the second hand. Their demand was not concurred in, and they are still on strike.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

W. PATRICK PRATT, of the Sugar Trust, Boston, Nov. 4.—Forecast for Maine and New Hampshire: Fair, slightly cooler, westerly winds.

For Vermont: Fair, followed by light rain; temperature, westerly winds.

For Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut: Fair; slightly cooler; westerly winds.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

A most extraordinary project for power distribution is at present under consideration in Saxony, Germany. It is proposed to establish near the city of Dresden an immense electric central station to furnish high tension currents for lighting and power to 100 small towns situated in the territory circumfered by the towns Meissen, Friedberg, Pirna, Schandau, Schleinitz and Leipzig.

Hardly any English people intend to leave the country winter in India. The season of the last few seasons has been stopped for the time by the outbreak of cholera in Arabia, which Egypt is also likely to suffer severely as many people who were intending to winter on the Nile are frightened, and consequently have changed their

WAS TOO OFFICIOUS.

Serious Blunder of a Eoy Telegraph Operator.

HE MISPLACES A SWITCH,

Causing the Death of Four Persons and Serious Injury to Many Others—Damage to Rolling Stock is Enormous.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 4.—A terrible accident occurred on the Delavan, Leavenworth and Western railroad at Rock Cut, a station about three miles south of this city at 5:40 p. m., through the undue officiousness of a boy telegraph operator, M. A. Clark. It resulted in the death of four persons, the injury of many others and the destruction of several thousand dollars' worth of rolling stock.

The New York and Pacific day express train from the south, which is due in Syracuse at 5:45 p. m., passed Rock Cut at 5:40 o'clock in the usual rate of speed, about forty miles an hour. Before the express train was due at Rock Cut, the passenger train from Syracuse had arrived at the station and been run in on a switch. Clark, the operator, was in his room in the station on the lookout for the express. The latter was on time, and as the headlight of its engine came into view it flashed through Clark's mind that the switch was open and that if it was not closed the express would dash into the coal train.

He at once dashed out of the door, rushed to the switch and swung it over. Then he realized, but too late, his mistake. As the switch was turned the express swung onto the side track and the crash of the engine spoke the result. The noise of the collision was lost in the cries of the passengers within the coaches of the express train. The fireman and engineer of each engine were caught in the wreck and ground to death. Their bodies were recovered by the firemen and the switch was found to be open.

At the scene of the accident, the body of Fireman Fernand was found lying on the "enca" on the north side of the track. His left arm was severed from the body. The body of Fireman Fernand was found buried under tons of wreckage Burke's body lay under a great mass of twisted iron and wood on the south side of the track. The body of Fireman Lee was found tightly wedged in between the body of his engine and the cab. The baggage and express cars of the passenger train careened over into the ditch on the north side of the track.

He at once dashed out of the door, rushed to the switch and swung it over. Then he realized, but too late, his mistake. As the switch was turned the express swung onto the side track and the crash of the engine spoke the result. The noise of the collision was lost in the cries of the passengers within the coaches of the express train. The fireman and engineer of each engine were caught in the wreck and ground to death. Their bodies were recovered by the firemen and the switch was found to be open.

At the scene of the accident, the body of Fireman Fernand was found lying on the "enca" on the north side of the track. His left arm was severed from the body. The body of Fireman Fernand was found buried under tons of wreckage Burke's body lay under a great mass of twisted iron and wood on the south side of the track. The body of Fireman Lee was found tightly wedged in between the body of his engine and the cab. The baggage and express cars of the passenger train careened over into the ditch on the north side of the track.

He at once dashed out of the door, rushed to the switch and swung it over. Then he realized, but too late, his mistake. As the switch was turned the express swung onto the side track and the crash of the engine spoke the result. The noise of the collision was lost in the cries of the passengers within the coaches of the express train. The fireman and engineer of each engine were caught in the wreck and ground to death. Their bodies were recovered by the firemen and the switch was found to be open.

At the scene of the accident, the body of Fireman Fernand was found lying on the "enca" on the north side of the track. His left arm was severed from the body. The body of Fireman Fernand was found buried under tons of wreckage Burke's body lay under a great mass of twisted iron and wood on the south side of the track. The body of Fireman Lee was found tightly wedged in between the body of his engine and the cab. The baggage and express cars of the passenger train careened over into the ditch on the north side of the track.

He at once dashed out of the door, rushed to the switch and swung it over. Then he realized, but too late, his mistake. As the switch was turned the express swung onto the side track and the crash of the engine spoke the result. The noise of the collision was lost in the cries of the passengers within the coaches of the express train. The fireman and engineer of each engine were caught in the wreck and ground to death. Their bodies were recovered by the firemen and the switch was found to be open.

At the scene of the accident, the body of Fireman Fernand was found lying on the "enca" on the north side of the track. His left arm was severed from the body. The body of Fireman Fernand was found buried under tons of wreckage Burke's body lay under a great mass of twisted iron and wood on the south side of the track. The body of Fireman Lee was found tightly wedged in between the body of his engine and the cab. The baggage and express cars of the passenger train careened over into the ditch on the north side of the track.

He at once dashed out of the door, rushed to the switch and swung it over. Then he realized, but too late, his mistake. As the switch was turned the express swung onto the side track and the crash of the engine spoke the result. The noise of the collision was lost in the cries of the passengers within the coaches of the express train. The fireman and engineer of each engine were caught in the wreck and ground to death. Their bodies were recovered by the firemen and the switch was found to be open.

At the scene of the accident, the body of Fireman Fernand was found lying on the "enca" on the north side of the track. His left arm was severed from the body. The body of Fireman Fernand was found buried under tons of wreckage Burke's body lay under a great mass of twisted iron and wood on the south side of the track. The body of Fireman Lee was found tightly wedged in between the body of his engine and the cab. The baggage and express cars of the passenger train careened over into the ditch on the north side of the track.

He at once dashed out of the door, rushed to the switch and swung it over. Then he realized, but too late, his mistake. As the switch was turned the express swung onto the side track and the crash of the engine spoke the result. The noise of the collision was lost in the cries of the passengers within the coaches of the express train. The fireman and engineer of each engine were caught in the wreck and ground to death. Their bodies were recovered by the firemen and the switch was found to be open.

At the scene of the accident, the body of Fireman Fernand was found lying on the "enca" on the north side of the track. His left arm was severed from the body. The body of Fireman Fernand was found buried under tons of wreckage Burke's body lay under a great mass of twisted iron and wood on the south side of the track. The body of Fireman Lee was found tightly wedged in between the body of his engine and the cab. The baggage and express cars of the passenger train careened over into the ditch on the north side of the track.

He at once dashed out of the door, rushed to the switch and swung it over. Then he realized, but too late, his mistake. As the switch was turned the express swung onto the side track and the crash of the engine spoke the result. The noise of the collision was lost in the cries of the passengers within the coaches of the express train. The fireman and engineer of each engine were caught in the wreck and ground to death. Their bodies were recovered by the firemen and the switch was found to be open.

At the scene of the accident, the body of Fireman Fernand was found lying on the "enca" on the north side of the track. His left arm was severed from the body. The body of Fireman Fernand was found buried under tons of wreckage Burke's body lay under a great mass of twisted iron and wood on the south side of the track. The body of Fireman Lee was found tightly wedged in between the body of his engine and the cab. The baggage and express cars of the passenger train careened over into the ditch on the north side of the track.

He at once dashed out of the door, rushed to the switch and swung it over. Then he realized, but too late, his mistake. As the switch was turned the express swung onto the side track

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Lodger Office, 112 Hancock Street, Quincy Singer's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros.' Store, Plumer's Block, Quincy
Coram's Store, Copeland Street, Quincy
M. H. Scott's Store, Jones' Corner, Quincy
Post Office, Weymouth Heights, Quincy
Depot, Henry B. Vinton,
M. R. Pratt, Weymouth

A Big Vote!

[Continued from First Page.]

A large number of the voters in this ward go to Boston every morning, so the first hour the voting was very lively, sixty-five votes being cast. Eben L. Davis cast the first vote.

The total vote in this ward last year was 158. The progress in this election is given below:

Hour.	Votes Cast.
Eight o'clock	65
Nine "	89
Ten "	110
Eleven "	131
Twelve "	153
One "	184

The polls will close at four o'clock.

The Disaster and its Results.

To the Editors of the Daily Ledger:

The awful calamity which occurred on the Old Colony railroad August 19 is still fresh in the minds of everybody, and during the past few days the memory of that tragedy has been revived by the removal to their distant homes of the last remaining mutilated victims, who since that fatal day have been nursed and tended by loving hands and tender hearts in the city of Quincy. Most pathetic of these removals was that of dear little Elizabeth Fenley of Louisville, Ky., whose grandmother, mother, aunt, cousin and two sisters were killed in the accident, while the little girl herself, the last and only remaining member of the family except her broken-hearted father, is a complete physical wreck.

About two weeks ago I read that a meeting of the Old Colony railroad company had been held, at which a stockholder very reasonably asked, "who was to blame for the accident?" said stockholder being of opinion that the accident was caused by an act of culpable negligence, the blame for which rightly attached to the manager or superintendent of the road, and not to a poor section boss or gauger. The papers have also informed us of the arrest, examination and committal for trial on a charge of manslaughter of the man who had charge of the work and the men when and where the accident happened. At the stockholders' meeting alluded to above an evasive answer, an explanation, was given to the question asked, and these two matters ended. The public, however, remain dissatisfied and will await with unabated interest the legal outcome of this serious business, the general opinion being that the section foreman is simply being made a scapegoat for a most wicked dereliction of duty, of which some one occupying a high official position is guilty.

As if in estimation of somebody's guilt, the Directors of the Old Colony Railroad company, have declared their readiness and willingness to meet all claims made against the company, on account of this disaster, without going to law. On the face of it, to many persons this will look like a generous, not even to say a magnanimous effort, for the Directors estimate the cost to them will aggregate about $500,000.

Daniel W. Dinnegan started in business this morning as a tea, coffee and spice merchant. He has a very fine looking team, and will travel through the surrounding towns.

Mr. John Lynch of Quincy Neck had the misfortune to lose one of his fingers, on Friday last, while running a heeling machine in a North Weymouth shop where he has been employed.

Owing to a mistake on the part of Mr. Fritz Giese regarding his engagements, he will not play at the concert for the Hospital Nov. 12. Mr. C. N. Allen the well known violinist has kindly consented to take his place.

One of our citizens on Spear street, assisted by his wife, was today gathering berries from a bush on their own grounds, thinking that the heavy frost last night had made them ripe enough to eat.

The Young Men's Catholic Lyceum Association, of Atlantic, have moved into their new quarters, the building formerly occupied by the Chemical Engine Co. They will present the "Stolen Will," in the new Musical hall, on Tuesday evening, November 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Littlefield were last evening tendered a reception at the residence of his grandfather Mr. Eben Grindell, No. 9 Franklin street. Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield reside in Mont Clare, N. J. and were married last week, and came to this city on a bridal trip. The evening was very pleasantly passed in singing, music and games.

Forgetful.

It is singular how learned and intelligent men will act like fools at times. There were several instances of it at the polling places in this city today. Where wise and capable men threw away their votes carelessly. We will only call the attention to one, although there were several, among the number a doctor of much ability. But the one we noticed was formerly one of our selection, an overseer of the poor, a high way surveyor, a deputy sheriff; and has held many important positions. He was naturally one capable of giving to others necessary information.

Well, what did he do? He went to the polling place and received his ballot and stepped up to the booth, very carefully marked the same. Thinking he had done his work in a manner most acceptable, he turned round, and noticing a friend outside the railing stepped up to him and shook hands heartily; congratulating him on the handsome vote his party would throw today. Then, thinking, he had not voted, attempted to go back inside and vote. But lo and behold! the officer could not permit him inside the second time and he was obliged to take his nicely marked ballot away with him.

Tremont.

Rosina Vohes is coming next Monday, Nov. 10th to the Tremont and that means a grand awakening of interest among theatre goers. She will appear in three plays each evening, commencing with "Percy Pendragon," "A Double Lesson" and "My Lord in Livery." The first is new in Boston and the other two are well worth seeing several times. Rosina Vohes has a charm peculiar to herself which has made her universal favorite, and her name on any theatre billboard is a sufficient guarantee of a delightful evening and a full house.

precedence; others in the very prime of life at their best, with families of young children dependent upon them, are wasting their time in enforced idleness, because of their inability to find employment of any kind, and many of them have been with the Old Colony Company fifteen, eighteen, twenty years and upwards. Already many of them are feeling the pinch; if they don't succeed better ere long, and the chances are they will not, what will be their experience before next spring?

Sentiment or no sentiment, I maintain that this phase of the matter has a right to be entertained by the Old Colony Company, or any other big rich corporation under like circumstances. I maintain further that the fair-minded, justice-loving people of this commonwealth have a right to insist that this aspect of the matter shall have some consideration too.

Let me put forward another view of this movement however. The company by its action in discharging, even practically asserts that it has been employing too many men hitherto.

May I ask it is that the fact has been discovered since the Quincy disaster and not before? No sane man will, for a moment believe any such prescribe assertion; for there is no firm or corporation in existence that employs hands than it needs absolutely; and were such a single instance to the contrary to be found, the directors would be considered incompetent, unbusiness-like and entirely unfit to be entrusted with other people's capital, for they would be spending it in superfluous labor, in other words they would be guilty of a gross breach of trust.

Such a plea then, about employing too much labor is too weak to be believed by anyone, and the only alternative belief and actual fact is, the company has, right along, employed just sufficient labor safely to administer its affairs, to handle its extensive business, and to—in a measure—protect the lives of its patrons.

And here I most emphatically assert that the right of the people lining throughout the entire territory tributary to the Old Colony railway system come in. During every year, millions of people travel over the road. Hitherto the entire staff of men employed, has been barely sufficient to ensure safe travelling for those millions. I don't assert that more accidents have occurred, or more lives been lost during past years on the Old Colony road than on most others, for I believe it has not been so; but I do assert that the discharge of several hundred men must, and will of necessity, increase the dangers of travel, many fold, for the men still employed, will have more work to do; more duties to perform; the passenger trains cannot be as well and carefully worked; the rolling stock cannot be kept up to par and the railroad track itself neglected. And all this means increase of danger right along the track throughout the entire system; and against such a state and condition of things, the travelling public has a moral and legal right to stand up and protest; and if the public does not, we are empathetic manner, assert its rights, then it will be largely to blame if some day, a more frightful disaster than the recent one, occurs. The discontinuance of a few summer trains is no excuse for this wholesale dismissal of men, while the packing together of passengers, like cattle on every inch of standing room, and even crowding the baggage cars through lack even of standing room in the passenger cars, which is the invariable rule daily on several Old Colony suburban trains, is a disgrace to the management of any railway.

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

BRAINTREE.

The old time weather prophets used to say that when the evening was red and the morning gray that these were the signs of a fair day, but old things have passed away and all things have become new, and so we find that although the signs of the weather this morning were the opposite of the old prediction, the morning being red, yet we had the most delightful weather that we have had on election day for years. The weather is a little chilly, but nothing to what it will be tomorrow in the case of the defeated candidates.

The polls opened at 8 o'clock A. M. and will close at 2:30, unless otherwise changed to a later hour by a vote of the meeting.

The voting is in progress at this writing and it looks as if there would be a large vote cast.

The most of the excitement, if there is any, is manifested over the election of a Representative, and this will have the effect of bringing out the voters, because each of the candidates are conveying their respective friends, at least all who chose to go by such means, and who live at a distance, to the polls.

There was a little stir made over the right to vote preferred by Robert Brooks and which was objected to by the Board of Registrars, on the ground that "Brooks" naturalization papers were so mutilated that it was impossible to make a correct record of them, which the law obliged the Registrars to do.

Mr. Brooks made a statement as to the time he was naturalized, which statement he was ready to make oath.

Hon. F. A. Hobart, one of the Registrars, expressed himself as being in favor of taking a liberal view of the case.

Mr. Albert E. Avery was not disposed to take the same view as Mr. Hobart, but he moved that Mr. Brooks be allowed to cast his vote under protest, and it was so agreed.

DIED.

BRACKETT—In Boston, Nov. 3, Mr. Samuel Eaton Brackett, formerly of Quincy, aged 84 years and 27 days.

SPEAR—In Newton, Nov. 3, Mr. Alfred Spear, formerly of Quincy, aged 85 years.

The Disaster and its Results.

The awful calamity which occurred on the Old Colony railroad August 19 is still fresh in the minds of everybody, and during the past few days the memory of that tragedy has been revived by the removal to their distant homes of the last remaining mutilated victims, who since that fatal day have been nursed and tended by loving hands and tender hearts in the city of Quincy. Most pathetic of these removals was that of dear little Elizabeth Fenley of Louisville, Ky., whose grandmother, mother, aunt, cousin and two sisters were killed in the accident, while the little girl herself, the last and only remaining member of the family except her broken-hearted father, is a complete physical wreck.

About two weeks ago I read that a meeting of the Old Colony railroad company had been held, at which a stockholder very reasonably asked, "who was to blame for the accident?" said stockholder being of opinion that the accident was caused by an act of culpable negligence, the blame for which rightly attached to the manager or superintendent of the road, and not to a poor section boss or gauger. The papers have also informed us of the arrest, examination and committal for trial on a charge of manslaughter of the man who had charge of the work and the men when and where the accident happened. At the stockholders' meeting alluded to above an evasive answer, an explanation, was given to the question asked, and these two matters ended. The public, however, remain dissatisfied and will await with unabated interest the legal outcome of this serious business, the general opinion being that the section foreman is simply being made a scapegoat for a most wicked dereliction of duty, of which some one occupying a high official position is guilty.

As if in estimation of somebody's guilt, the Directors of the Old Colony Railroad company, have declared their readiness and willingness to meet all claims made against the company, on account of this disaster, without going to law. On the face of it, to many persons this will look like a generous, not even to say a magnanimous effort, for the Directors estimate the cost to them will aggregate about $500,000.

Daniel W. Dinnegan started in business this morning as a tea, coffee and spice merchant. He has a very fine looking team, and will travel through the surrounding towns.

Mr. John Lynch of Quincy Neck had the misfortune to lose one of his fingers, on Friday last, while running a heeling machine in a North Weymouth shop where he has been employed.

Owing to a mistake on the part of Mr. Fritz Giese regarding his engagements, he will not play at the concert for the Hospital Nov. 12. Mr. C. N. Allen the well known violinist has kindly consented to take his place.

One of our citizens on Spear street, assisted by his wife, was today gathering berries from a bush on their own grounds, thinking that the heavy frost last night had made them ripe enough to eat.

The Young Men's Catholic Lyceum Association, of Atlantic, have moved into their new quarters, the building formerly occupied by the Chemical Engine Co. They will present the "Stolen Will," in the new Musical hall, on Tuesday evening, November 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Littlefield were last evening tendered a reception at the residence of his grandfather Mr. Eben Grindell, No. 9 Franklin street. Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield reside in Mont Clare, N. J. and were married last week, and came to this city on a bridal trip. The evening was very pleasantly passed in singing, music and games.

Forgetful.

It is singular how learned and intelligent men will act like fools at times. There were several instances of it at the polling places in this city today. Where wise and capable men threw away their votes carelessly. We will only call the attention to one, although there were several, among the number a doctor of much ability. But the one we noticed was formerly one of our selection, an overseer of the poor, a high way surveyor, a deputy sheriff; and has held many important positions. He was naturally one capable of giving to others necessary information.

Well, what did he do? He went to the polling place and received his ballot and stepped up to the booth, very carefully marked the same. Thinking he had done his work in a manner most acceptable, he turned round, and noticing a friend outside the railing stepped up to him and shook hands heartily; congratulating him on the handsome vote his party would throw today. Then, thinking, he had not voted, attempted to go back inside and vote. But lo and behold! the officer could not permit him inside the second time and he was obliged to take his nicely marked ballot away with him.

Tremont.

Rosina Vohes is coming next Monday, Nov. 10th to the Tremont and that means a grand awakening of interest among theatre goers. She will appear in three plays each evening, commencing with "Percy Pendragon," "A Double Lesson" and "My Lord in Livery." The first is new in Boston and the other two are well worth seeing several times. Rosina Vohes has a charm peculiar to herself which has made her universal favorite, and her name on any theatre billboard is a sufficient guarantee of a delightful evening and a full house.

precedence; others in the very prime of life at their best, with families of young children dependent upon them, are wasting their time in enforced idleness, because of their inability to find employment of any kind, and many of them have been with the Old Colony Company fifteen, eighteen, twenty years and upwards. Already many of them are feeling the pinch; if they don't succeed better ere long, and the chances are they will not, what will be their experience before next spring?

Sentiment or no sentiment, I maintain that this phase of the matter has a right to be entertained by the Old Colony Company, or any other big rich corporation under like circumstances. I maintain further that the fair-minded, justice-loving people of this commonwealth have a right to insist that this aspect of the matter shall have some consideration too.

Let me put forward another view of this movement however. The company by its action in discharging, even practically asserts that it has been employing too many men hitherto.

May I ask it is that the fact has been discovered since the Quincy disaster and not before? No sane man will, for a moment believe any such prescribe assertion; for there is no firm or corporation in existence that employs hands than it needs absolutely; and were such a single instance to the contrary to be found, the directors would be considered incompetent, unbusiness-like and entirely unfit to be entrusted with other people's capital, for they would be spending it in superfluous labor, in other words they would be guilty of a gross breach of trust.

Such a plea then, about employing too much labor is too weak to be believed by anyone, and the only alternative belief and actual fact is, the company has, right along, employed just sufficient labor safely to administer its affairs, to handle its extensive business, and to—in a measure—protect the lives of its patrons.

And here I most emphatically assert that the right of the people lining throughout the entire territory tributary to the Old Colony railway system come in. During every year, millions of people travel over the road. Hitherto the entire staff of men employed, has been barely sufficient to ensure safe travelling for those millions. I don't assert that more accidents have occurred, or more lives been lost during past years on the Old Colony road than on most others, for I believe it has not been so; but I do assert that the discharge of several hundred men must, and will of necessity, increase the dangers of travel, many fold, for the men still employed, will have more work to do; more duties to perform; the passenger trains cannot be as well and carefully worked; the rolling stock cannot be kept up to par and the railroad track itself neglected. And all this means increase of danger right along the track throughout the entire system; and against such a state and condition of things, the travelling public has a moral and legal right to stand up and protest; and if the public does not, we are empathetic manner, assert its rights, then it will be largely to blame if some day, a more frightful disaster than the recent one, occurs. The discontinuance of a few summer trains is no excuse for this wholesale dismissal of men, while the packing together of passengers, like cattle on every inch of standing room, and even crowding the baggage cars through lack even of standing room in the passenger cars, which is the invariable rule daily on several Old Colony suburban trains, is a disgrace to the management of any railway.

AND THE

TOMORROW'S LEDGER.

WILL CONTAIN THE Full Vote of Quincy by Wards!

ALSO THE QUINCY AND WEYMOUTH

VOTE FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

By Towns, in the District,

AND THE

Vote for Senator

IN ANSWER

TO the question which is asked us so often, How have you built up so large a town? we would say that it is by buying only the best and selling at the smallest possible profit.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY.

Quincy, Sept. 24. tft

THE ONLY PLACE IN QUINCY

Hours, 8 to 10 A. M.

Boston Office, - - - 85 Devonshire St.

Hours, 12 to 2 P. M.

N. B. Plans of nearly all the Real Estate in the City of Quincy can be found at my offices.

May 28. d3&w-tf

To get the Famous

Lebanon Overalls and Jumpers

PROPERTY.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 175.

QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

the property of the city, a certain issue, so that the total of a tax rate per thousand $12.00.

Value.	Tax.
$1,000	400
400	700
1,000	800
300	400
200	24 48
1,000	350
3,000	18 36
1,500	61 20
550	19 04
200	4 72
300
1,300
300
950	48 92
100	1 36
500
100	8 26
500
900	19 04
500
500
1,500	44 88
500
700	16 32
1,600
600
850
350
400	59 84
400	5 44
150	2 04
400	22 40
1,450
825	30 94
100	3 36
900
550	19 72
800
400 900
900 300
250	48 28
1,200
700	25 84 street, 900
1,000
700
1,400	54 40
1,100
1,350	33 32
800 100 200
1,600
1,000
100
350	58 44
900
250	17 64
100	1 36
5,500
500 900
700	112 16

We Have a Large Stock

— OF —

Imported and Domestic Cigars.

ALL THE POPULAR BRANDS.

5 and 10 Cent Goods.

Also, a Large Stock of Chewing and Smoking Tobacco.

GIVE US A CALL!

ROGERS BROS., Adams Building, Quincy.

50 DOZEN

Children's

Knee

Pants,

Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BEST IN THE MARKET!

FOR $6.50 CASH

WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.

[FRANK S. PATCH.]

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY

ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,

In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,

AS HERETOFORE.

Oct. 25.

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.

CORRESPONDENCE OF

JOHN STETSON COMPANY.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

THURSDAY, OCT. 16,

IN ADAMS BUILDING.

STOCKS, GRAIN and PETROLEUM.

TELEPHONE 9-8-

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

Oct. 15.—tf

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

MUST be higher, as the pack is small. We are receiving a large variety of NEW CANNED GOODS of all kinds, which we shall sell at present at last price.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY,

Durgin & Merrill's Block.

Quincy, Sept. 24.

THE CITY DEMOCRATIC.

200 Plurality for "Governor" Russell.

Plurality of 74 for Bushrod Morse, Democratic Candidate for Congress.

Wm. N. Eaton, Candidate for Senator, Goes Out of the City with 298 Plurality.

Quincy, Burke and Shaw Lead for Representatives. Mr. Shaw Only Republican to Receive a Plurality.

It is a Democratic sweep in the State and city. The vote of Massachusetts and other states is given on pages two and three.

In Quincy the only Republican to receive a plurality is John Shaw, a candidate for Representative.

Mr. Russell carried the city by just 200 plurality. He secured pluralities in four of the six wards, viz 2 in Ward Two, 32 in Ward Three, 229 in Ward Four and 10 in Ward Six. Mr. Brackett carried Wards One and Five by pluralities of 12 and 70 respectively.

Congressman Morse reduces the minority of 122 in 1888 to 74 this year. He had pluralities in four wards as follows: Ward One, 31; Ward Two, 16; Ward Three, 10 and Ward Five, 68. "Cousin Bushrod" had pluralities of 188 in Ward Four and 11 in Ward Six, which put him 74 ahead in the city.

Had Quincy been a representative district by itself, the three fortunate ones would have been Messrs. Quincy, Burke and Shaw; their total votes being 1212, 1137 and 1029. Mr. Bicknell of Weymouth was fourth man, and only 7 behind Mr. Shaw. The standing of each of the candidates in each ward is shown by the summary below:

	One.	Two.	Three.	Four.	Five.	Six.	Total.
Zachariah L. Bicknell, D.	6	4	4	3	5	3	4
James F. Burke, D.	5	3	2	1	6	2	2
Joseph A. Cushing, R.	2	5	5	2	4	5
James H. Flint, R.	4	6	6	6	3	6	6
Josiah Quincy, D.	3	2	1	2	4	1	1
John Shaw, R.	1	1	3	4	1	5	3
A. W. Sprague, P.	8	7	7	7	8	7
Waldo Turner, P.	9	9	9	9	9	9	9
J. H. Yeoman, P.	7	7	8	8	7	7	8

THE VOTE OF QUINCY.

Governor.	WARDS						Total.
	One.	Two.	Three.	Four.	Five.	Six.
John Blackmer, P.	12	6	10	11	15	8	62
John Q. Brackett, R.	228	181	185	152	186	90	1005
William E. Russell, D.	216	183	217	381	96	112	1205
Blanks,	13	9	9	—	—	6	37
Plurality for Brackett,	12	—	—	70	—	—	200
Plurality for Russell,	—	2	32	220	—	19	200

Lieutenant Governor.	195	175	209	376	85	108	1148
John W. Corcoran, D.	195	175	209	376	85	108	1148
William H. Haile, R.	248	184	200	155	176	96	1059
George Kempton, P.	10	5	8	9	12	3	47
Blanks,	16	15	4	—	—	12	47

Secretary.	13	4	6	5	13	7	48
George D. Crittenden, P.	13	4	6	5	13	7	48
Elbridge Cushman, D.	181	174	209	379	79	107	1129
William M. Olin, R.	250	180	193	149	179	92	1043
Blanks,	25	21	13	—	—	13	72

Treasurer and Receiver General.	16	6	5	5	16	9	57
William H. Gleason, P.	16	6	5	5	16	9	57

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)

— BY —

GREEN & PRESCOTT,
115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carriers or Mail.

One month, $.50
Three months, 1.50
Six months, 3.00
One year, 5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 10 cents each insertion.
10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Scarcity of Fruit in France.

French journals lament that unfavorable weather has almost altogether deprived the country of fruit this year. A disastrous amount of rain has so afflicted the central, northern, western and southern districts that the markets have been almost bare of fruit except such as had come from the south. One correspondent, writing from the department of the Seine-et-Marne says: "We have had neither cherries nor apricots nor plums; apples have been greatly injured by hail; pears have suffered less, but our grapes will not ripen."

And another writing from Brittany, says that there the pears are all spoiled, apples are lacking in many localities, and almost all the plums had perished; that peaches are everywhere non-existent; that gooseberries and raspberries had been relatively scanty, and that, although strawberries had been quite plentiful, they "had only the form of the fruit with the taste of water." Meanwhile the complaints of excessive drought have been coming in from the south, where we are told even in the carefully watered gardens the trees and shrubs had faded and withered. Near the coast the moist sea breezes "assure the abundance of the grape crop," but further north the grape growers are reported to be in despair over the persistent dryness.

Parental Gloom in Our Homes.

Boys and girls are often spoiled by parental gloom. The father never unbends. The mother's rheumatism hurts so she does not see how little Maggie can ever laugh. Childish curiosity is denounced as impertinence. The parlor is a parliament, and everything in everlasting order. Balls and tops in that house are a nuisance, and the pap that the boy is expected most to relish is geometry, a little sweetened with the chalk of blackboards. For cheerful reading the father would recommend "Young's Night Thoughts" and Henry's "Meditations Among the Tombs."

At the first chance the boy will break loose. With one grand leap he will clear the catechisms he will burst away into all riotous living. He will be so glad to get out of Egypt that he will jump into the Red sea. The hardest coils to catch are those that have a long while been locked up. Restraints are necessary, but there must be some outlet. Too high a dam will overflow all the meadows.—Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

New Type of Gun.

William T. Chamberlain, of Norwich, has invented and perfected a gun which promises to be the most durable, simple and effectual gun ever made. It is called the electric hydrogen gun. There are three methods of firing the arm. By the first method Mr. Chamberlain claims the projectile is sent from the gun by a pressure equal to 37,000 atmospheres, by the second process by four times that force, and by the third method it is transformed into an air gun with a pressure of from 1,500 to 2,000 pounds. The gun is simple, without other machinery than the chamber and barrel. The demands for new and valuable weapons is so large that some of the great powers may find in this arm the executor they have been anticipating, while Mr. Chamberlain may find in it the fortune the shadow of which has kept his brain active and his hands busy for many a day.—Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin.

They are Glad to Know Him Now.

A New Yorker of very limited means recently got a bequest, the news of which was printed in the papers. As soon as the fact became known he got heavy mails that brought him letters from all kinds of charitable societies in need of aid, and from a host of the sufferers by improvidence. He also found more callers at his house than there ever before had been knockers at his door, and he likewise enjoyed when in the streets the sight of many more smiling faces than he had previously been acquainted with. Never until this month had he realized the attractive power of the mighty $$. He now finds that his deceased bachelor uncle, who left him a bequest, had endowed him with something else not set down in the last will, so to wit, cynicism.—New York Sun.

The Parnellite business cost The London Times exactly £180,000. The share-holders of the paper were compelled to forego their dividends for the last year and for the first six months of this year in order to pay it. John Walter owns sixteen shares, and his loss was £48,000, the dividend on each share being £3,000. The circulation of the paper and its receipts for advertisements are constantly increasing.—Chicago Herald.

IT IS MR. RUSSELL.

Carries the Old Bay State by 15,000 Plurality.

BIG DEMOCRATIC GAINS.

Congressional Districts Lost by the Republicans.

GRANITE STATE'S ELECTIONS

Will Also Result in Large Gains by the Democrats—McKinley Elected by a Small Majority—Pennsylvania Carried by Democrats by About 4000 Plurality.

New York Assembly in Doubt—Republicans Claim Cameron's Election in Illinois—Returns from Nearly Every State, Though Incomplete, Show That the Next National Congress Will Be Decidedly Democratic.

The New York Sun says: The next house of representatives is evidently Democratic by about 35 majority. The most remarkable result is the overturn in New Hampshire. The gains in Rhode Island and Massachusetts are very notable. The southern states show heavy Democratic gains, the Republicans being wiped out in Missouri and Maryland. McComas, leader of the Republicans in the house, is badly defeated in a Republican district.

Ohio elects 8 Republican congressmen and 12 Democrats, with the 16th district to hear from.

The Ohio congressional delegation stands 11 Democrats to 11 Republicans, according to the estimate of the latest returns. Donovan, Dem., is elected over Brigham, Rep., in the 6th congressional district. In the 21st congressional district, Cadwell, Rep., is elected over Brown, Dem.

At 6 o'clock in the evening an official telegram was received here announcing that the Democratic congressional committee of McKinley's district concede his re-election by a small majority. The Democratic state executive committee received the same information from another source, and admit that they are afraid it is true.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 5.—The latest returns from the 8th congressional district indicate that Hare, Dem., is elected by 300 majority over Foster, Rep.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—No specials to the press from the Granite state say: Cantz, the Democratic candidate for the 4th district, is thought to have 1300 majority. Owens, Dem., in the 14th district, has a considerable majority.

At 6 o'clock in the evening an official telegram was received here announcing that the Democratic congressional committee of McKinley's district concede his re-election by a small majority. The Democratic state executive committee received the same information from another source, and admit that they are afraid it is true.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The 30th congressional district is still in doubt. Halbert S. Greenleaf, Dem., has an apparent majority of 71 over John Van Voorhis, Rep. The official count will be necessary to determine the result.

Returns so far received indicate that the Democrats have made a net gain of at least 7 or 8 assemblies, with some districts still in doubt. It seems reasonably certain, therefore, that the Democrats will have control of the next assembly, but it is as yet clear whether they will have a majority on joint ballot. In any case the majority on joint ballot will be very slight.

KANSAS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—Dispatches from Kansas indicate that Moonlight, Dem., will defeat Broderick, Rep., and L. C. Clark, F. A., in the 1st district. Webb McNall, Rep., in the 6th district, is doubtless elected. Jerry Simpson, Dem., and James R. Holloway, Rep., are running a close race in the 7th district. The district is in doubt.

Returns for congressmen show 6 out of 7 districts certainly Democratic by large majority. The 7th is in doubt, with chances favoring Elliott, Dem., against Miller and Drayton both Republican candidates. The election throughout the state has been the quietest ever known so far as heard from.

Returns from 703 precincts outside of Hamilton county show a 50% vote for McKinley and a majority for Rep., Rep., of 32%. These precincts last year gave Campbell, Dem., a majority of 1114. There are over 2400 precincts in the state, and the total vote promises to be about 750,000. With a majority of 700 in Hamilton county for Ryan, it is estimated that his majority in the state will be from 12,000 to 18,000.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 5.—A dispatch from Foster, O., says: Foster, Rep., is elected to congress in the 5th district by 400.

The Republicans claim a majority of 7 to the house. The Democrats have elected 3 members of the executive council and the Republicans 2, leaving 1, the 2d district, in doubt, with the probability that the legislature will be called upon to elect.

OHIO.

Returns Indicate that McKinley is Elected by a Small Plurality.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 5.—Latest returns greatly increase the rate of Republican gains. One hundred and eighteen precincts in Ohio outside of Hamilton county give Ryan, Rep., 26,438; Cromley, Dem., 24,842; Lockwood, Pro., 1441. At this rate, the state outside of Hamilton county will give the Democrats a majority of 3500, but in Hamilton county the returns indicate a majority of 7000 for the Republicans.

Two private telegrams have just been received by the Republican head-quarters, which inform them that the election of McKinley. One states that Wayne county gives McKinley 600 majority, which shows a change of 1800 votes in his favor. The other dispatch states that in 14 precincts of Stark county, McKinley's home, McKinley made a gain of 800 votes. This information has not yet been contradicted nor verified by official returns.

DONOVAN, Dem., is elected over Brigham, Rep., in the 6th congressional district. In the 21st congressional district, Cadwell, Rep., is elected over Brown, Dem.

At 6 o'clock in the evening an official telegram was received here announcing that the Democratic congressional committee of McKinley's district concede his re-election by a small majority. The Democratic state executive committee received the same information from another source, and admit that they are afraid it is true.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 5.—The latest returns from the 8th congressional district indicate that Hare, Dem., is elected by 300 majority over Foster, Rep.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—No specials to the press from the Granite state say: Cantz, the Democratic candidate for the 4th district, is thought to have 1300 majority. Owens, Dem., in the 14th district, has a considerable majority.

At 6 o'clock in the evening an official telegram was received here announcing that the Democratic congressional committee of McKinley's district concede his re-election by a small majority. The Democratic state executive committee received the same information from another source, and admit that they are afraid it is true.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The 30th congressional district is still in doubt. Halbert S. Greenleaf, Dem., has an apparent majority of 71 over John Van Voorhis, Rep. The official count will be necessary to determine the result.

Returns so far received indicate that the Democrats have made a net gain of at least 7 or 8 assemblies, with some districts still in doubt. It seems reasonably certain, therefore, that the Democrats will have control of the next assembly, but it is as yet clear whether they will have a majority on joint ballot. In any case the majority on joint ballot will be very slight.

KANSAS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—Dispatches from Kansas indicate that Moonlight, Dem., will defeat Broderick, Rep., and L. C. Clark, F. A., in the 1st district. Webb McNall, Rep., in the 6th district, is doubtless elected. Jerry Simpson, Dem., and James R. Holloway, Rep., are running a close race in the 7th district. The district is in doubt.

Returns from Kansas on the state ticket indicate the election of Governor Humphrey, Rep., by 10,000 to 15,000 plurality. Robinson, Dem., is running behind Willard, F. A., Ives, F. A., candidate for state attorney general, is running ahead of his ticket and may be elected.

The news from Kansas, although comparatively meager, shows an unexpected strength in the Farmers' Alliance. Robinson, Dem., for governor, is pretty generally elected to congress in the 5th district. The Farmers' Alliance claims Willard elected by a small plurality, and Webster elected by a small majority.

Late returns received are very meager and indefinite. It will require the official action to determine the result for congress in the 1st and 4th districts, and in the 3d district Alderson, Dem., is re-elected by a majority of about 600. Wilson, Dem., in the 2d district is probably elected by a narrow majority.

CONNECTICUT.

HARTFORD, Nov. 5.—Senatorial districts 1, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 13, 19, 22, 24, Dem., 2, 3, 16, 17, 21, Rep.; other 7 still doubtful.

One hundred and thirty-six out of 168 towns give Merwin, Rep., 51,011; Morris, Dem., 52,844; Augur, Pro., 2447. The legislature is apparently Republican on joint ballot by about 25. Sperry in the 1st and Willcox in the 2d, Dem., are elected to congress in the 2d district, Rep., in the 3d district, Rep., is elected.

In the 4th and 5th districts the Farmers' Alliance elected Willard, Rep., in the 4th, and Alderson, Dem., in the 5th. The Farmers' Alliance claims Willard elected by a small plurality, and Webster elected by a small majority.

Late returns received are very meager and indefinite. It will require the official action to determine the result for congress in the 1st and 4th districts, and in the 3d district Alderson, Dem., is re-elected by a majority of about 600. Wilson, Dem., in the 2d district is probably elected by a narrow majority.

ILLINOIS.

Result is Uncertain, Both Sides Claiming a Victory.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Chairman Jones claims that the Republicans will probably get two congressmen in the state. In the 16th, Fifth, Dem., was defeated by Roeder, Farmers' Alliance, and in the 18th, Forman, Dem., was beaten by Lindley, president of the Illinois F. M. B. A. He also claims the state legislation on joint ballot by a majority of 16. The Democratic committee here do not concede the defeat of their candidates.

Of the 20 congressional districts in Illinois the indications point to the undoubted election of 10 Republicans congressmen and 10 Democrats, with 4 districts still in doubt. The returns thus far indicate the election of 3 Republican congressmen in Chicago and 1 Democrat, although the Democrats still deny the election of Taylor in the 1st. They claim that Mason's victory in the 3d is not conclusive. Congressman Adams, Hopkins, Pitt, Henderson, Hill, and Payson, Rep., are probably elected. Clegg, Rep., is re-elected, and Webster, Rep., is probably elected.

The 10th district, with 4 districts still in doubt, is in the 10th district. In the 11th district, Congresswoman Gest's election has been stubbornly contested by Benjamin T. Cable, Dem., and the result is still in doubt. Wike, Springer, Lane and Williams, Dem., are re-elected, and the indications point to the re-election of Smith, Rep., in the 20th district, and Foman, Dem., in the 18th, with the 16th district still in doubt. The 17th district, Congresswoman Cannon, Rep., in the 15th district, but the Republican state central committee still claim Cannon's re-election by 500 majority.

The uncertainty as to results is unexplained. Figures indicate the probable result. The returns from the 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, 59th, 60th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 64th, 65th, 66th, 67th, 68th, 69th, 70th, 71st, 72nd, 73rd, 74th, 75th, 76th, 77th, 78th, 79th, 80th, 81st, 82nd, 83rd, 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, 88th, 89th, 90th, 91st, 92nd, 93rd, 94th, 95th, 96th, 97th, 98th, 99th, 100th, 101st, 102nd, 103rd, 104th, 105th, 106th, 107th, 108th, 109th, 110th, 111th, 112th, 113th, 114th, 115th, 116th, 117th, 118th, 119th, 120th, 121st, 122nd, 123rd, 124th, 125th, 126th, 127th, 128th, 129th, 130th, 131st, 132nd, 133rd, 134th, 135th, 136th, 137th, 138th, 139th, 140th, 141st, 142nd, 143rd, 144th, 145th, 146th, 147th, 148th, 149th, 150th, 151st, 152nd, 153rd, 154th, 155th, 156th, 157th, 158th, 159th, 160th, 161st, 162nd, 163rd, 164th, 165th, 166th, 167th, 168th, 169th, 170th, 171st, 172nd, 173rd, 174th, 175th, 176th, 177th, 178th, 179th, 180th, 181st, 182nd, 183rd, 184th, 185th, 186th, 187th, 188th, 189th, 190th, 191st, 192nd, 193rd, 194th, 195th, 196th, 197th, 198th, 199th, 200th, 201st, 202nd, 203rd, 204th, 205th, 206th, 207th, 208th, 209th, 210th, 211st, 212nd, 213rd, 214th, 215th, 216th, 217th, 218th, 219th, 220th, 221st, 222nd, 223rd, 224th, 225th, 226th, 227th, 228th, 229th, 230th, 231st, 232nd, 233rd, 234th, 235th, 236th, 237th, 238th, 239th, 240th, 241st, 242nd, 243rd, 244th, 245th, 246th, 247th, 248th, 249th, 250th, 251st, 252nd, 253rd, 254th, 255th, 256th, 257th, 258th, 259th, 260th,

EXIT PERFUMERY.

Fashion of Bringing the Odors of the Evening into Bedchairs.

who abominant a personal use have invented a brand new suggesting sweet and flowery aristocrats protest that inc-decency, sunshine and fresh the only fragrance a thorough-care to carry about with her;
of their good faith they all fine but scented soaps, salves, with pure starch powders, at in genuine English fashion that every garment before it be exposed to a prolonged violet sacheted laces, cologne with breaths of white rose to stir the senses as my All those little tricks relegated to another class.

withstanding her vigorous dethe feminine soul cleaves to times. She could not put her from her, and as a sort has transferred the for-she luxury from herself to things. This new prejudice end to her apartments, and filling with vague yet de-gessions of flowery meads, woodlands, clean smelling exotic blossoms, rich and the odor and not the color is distinguish different chanc-room signifies that charming very possibly in warm here every inspiration fills with an ecstasy of subtle Not only does this conserve fragrance deep in the heart, andfuls of the spicy petals beneath the divan rag into seductive silk pilin the dusky corner, cunningly worked head pouches decorating chairs. It is recognized was melting in tall taper again, like rare incense, oil fed lamps.

very name and color—red costly, long stemmed beau-pe hedge—have alike perfected to a fastidious taste, ed with orris root and an indescribable charm
furnished morning rooms, elegant of springtime eveliness.

my bad taste to light joss pot, but when a heavy cri-ce is sought in velvet where eastern stuff, soft East India idols and predominate, the effect is tying one live coal in a frankincense. Some wo-tivated with the new idea tests are expected their thoroughly sprinkled a hour in advance of the rival. Geranium water with a clean pungency, act of lily leaves and the spicy opanax are prime
New York Sun.

Bridal Robes.

little village of Redwood in Francisco, is disturbed that have followed the George Wehrin's bride on ight. Wehrin had far-ge, but when he came to wedding party the bride him to her room. In found her dead in bed bottle by her side.

ned that her mind was previous love affair, but or who knew her well, e victim of her match
This woman induced her in, and she persuaded from her the cottage in found the fate of Lucy who married them de-sermon over the hapless the blame of her death to that led to the violation girl's affections. It is it will be forced to take The girl had recently many, and was noted for She was buried in her dress, that was found by her bed.—Cor. St.

Democrat.

Seeking Votes.

time in the history of a woman is a can-of school commission republican convention in the Opera house, Mount Vernon M. Horton, of Port unanimously nominated as the First district, which and 186 teachers. The is $1,200 a year.
political career dates
when she was elected the board of education.
Her term she was elected the board, and in that was married to the board
a term of three years, the president of that or-
New York Sun.

Female Writer.

suspicious journalist is moment, is a woman who is a socialist herself Jacqueline, as Rene, and as a revo-Severine. And althe woman preaching a the oppression of the

began to write sermons in the fourth story France, Rue Monmart room furniture was of Jules Valles, the Paris Letter.

A Harvester.

an educated young this summer moved acres) on her a mowing machine from the high school field Union.

DELWARE.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 5.—The indications are that the Democrats have carried
the state by a reduced majority.

Delaware is Democratic by about 1000

COLORADO.

DENVER, Nov. 5.—Returns from both
city and county are coming very slowly.
They indicate that the Democrats have elected the treasurer, attorney general and the state auditor.

Today's Anniversaries.

IT IS MR. RUSSELL!

Important and Minor Events of Local
and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 5.

in Quincy and vicinity—On the Battle Fields—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts'
Cities and Norfolk County Towns—
Foreign Matters.

TOWN of Needham incorporated.
Light Infantry attended church.

Quincy & Boston Street Railway commenced to lay tracks.

World Wide.

Self Winding Clocks.

A chain of synchronized self winding clocks is being established here through the efforts of Henry Deaver, manager of the Western Union Telegraph company.

The time pieces do not obtain their motion subject to hindrances resulting from the action of a fine spring, as does an ordinary clock. Two small cells of carbon are placed in the top of the case connected with a magnet secured to the lower part of the movement. As the center wheel, driven by the unwinding of the spring, advances, a lever is raised that unlocks the armature and allows the spring back into position ready for winding. When the lever drops the crown is instantly closed, the spring being wound by the pawl fastened to the armature.

The action of winding breaks the circuit when the winding is completed.
The contacts are made so short that the noise of the battery is very slight, thus enabling it to perform the work of winding for one year without renewal or alteration. Each clock is provided with a simple attachment by means of which it can be controlled automatically by electricity. To secure absolute uniformity of time throughout the city the clocks will be connected with a time signal passed off centrally. The negro vote fell off in the eastern portion, being largely due to the exodus and the apathy
of the voters. The Democrats are reported to have gained 500 in Johnson county.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 5.—The Democrats gain in this state have been heavy. From advice it is almost certain that both branches of the legislature will be solidly Democratic, although the Republicans claim the 13th district. The Democrats expect a majority in the next legislature
and re-election of Senator West.

WEST VIRGINIA.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 5.—Indications point to a Democratic victory in the congressional and senatorial districts.

The Democrats have made large gains in the city and county, but the result will not be definitely known until late to-day.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 5.—The Democratic gains in this state have been heavy. From advice it is almost certain that both branches of the legislature will be solidly Democratic, although the Republicans claim the 13th district. The Democrats expect a majority in the next legislature
and re-election of Senator West.

NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 5.—The weather was fine to-day all over the state and the election passed off orderly. The negro vote fell off in the eastern portion, being largely due to the exodus and the apathy
of the voters. The Democrats are reported to have gained 500 in Johnson county.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 5.—The Democrats claim 8 of the 9 congressmen. Republicans claim 2. The Democrats claim the state by 20,000.

KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 5.—It is reasonably certain that out of 11 congressional districts in Kentucky, 10 have gone Democratic.

Congressman W. C. P. Breckinridge is re-elected by 8000 majority. There is an indication of a strong fight in the 10th district. Clark County, a strong Republican county, went Republican by 40 majority. It is the first time since the war. Kendall, Dem., may win by 1000.

ARKANSAS.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 5.—With the single exception of trouble at Pine Bluff, where a negro deputy sheriff fatally wounded a policeman named Laming and shot two other white men, the election in Arkansas was quiet. Returns coming in indicate Democratic gains over the state election in September. The Democrats claim the election of all the congressmen, including Brockinridge in the 2d district.

MISSISSIPPI.

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 5.—The election passed off quietly throughout the state.
Indications are that the state has been elected a solid Democratic delegation.

The Democratic state committee has received returns which assure the election of a solid Democratic congressional delegation by majorities ranging from 30 to 4000.

NEBRASKA.

OMAHA, Nov. 5.—Returns indicate the choice of Boyd, Dem., for governor, the choice of 3 Democratic congressmen and the defeat of prohibition. The majority against the latter will be 15,000 to 10,000.

Indications show that Boyd, Dem., is elected governor. The rest of the state ticket is still in doubt.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT, Nov. 5.—Present indications from meager sources of information are that the Democrats have carried the 1st, 5th, 7th, 8th and 10th congressional districts, with possibilities in the 6th, 8th and 4th. Chipman's election in the 1st is conceded.

OKLAHOMA.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—Returns from Oklahoma territory are to the effect that Harvey, Rep., is elected delegate to congress by about 1000 majority over McCoy, Dem., and Crocker, F. A.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 5.—The election passed off quietly. The vote in this city and county was much less than in the August election. Caine, Mormon, is elected over Goodwin, Liberal, by 3000 majority.

DELAWARE.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 5.—The indications are that the Democrats have carried
the state by a reduced majority.

Delaware is Democratic by about 1000.

COLORADO.

DENVER, Nov. 5.—Returns from both
city and county are coming very slowly.
They indicate that the Democrats have elected the treasurer, attorney general and the state auditor.

ATLANTA.

ATLANTA, Nov. 5.—The indications are that the Democrats have carried the state by a reduced majority.

Georgia is Democratic by about 1000.

TEXAS.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 5.—It will be some days before official returns of the elections are received, but it may be assumed that the Democratic state ticket is elected by something like the usual large majority, and a full Democratic or Independent delegation to congress.

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 5.—Incomplete but very full returns from all over the state show that the Democrats carry the state by a w. t. majority as usual. The entire congressional delegation is elected. Mil's majority is much increased, and Grinn's majority will be between 6000 and 7000.

NEW MEXICO.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 5.—It is superintendent of public instruction.

The vote on the remainder of the ticket will be close. In many districts the Democratic gain has been large.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Scattering returns from Washington indicate a light vote with Democrats, 4,000, Dem., 3,000, for congress, running ahead of his record.

Returns come in very slowly. Indications seem to point to the fact that Mack-han, Rep. candidate for governor is elected. Nothing at all has been received from any of the 6 congressional districts.

EDWARD T. COOPER.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 5.—It is certain that Anthony Joseph, Dem.,

delegate to congress, has carried 10 out of the 14 counties in the territory with a majority of at least 1000. The Democrats have probably a majority of both houses of the legislature, the first time in 24

years.

EDWARD T. COOPER.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 5.—It is

certain that Anthony Joseph, Dem.,

delegate to congress, has carried 10 out of
the 14 counties in the territory with a majority of at least 1000. The Democrats have probably a majority of both houses of the legislature, the first time in 24

years.

EDWARD T. COOPER.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 5.—It is

certain that Anthony Joseph, Dem.,

delegate to congress, has carried 10 out of
the 14 counties in the territory with a majority of at least 1000. The Democrats have probably a majority of both houses of the legislature, the first time in 24

years.

EDWARD T. COOPER.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 5.—It is

certain that Anthony Joseph, Dem.,

delegate to congress, has carried 10 out of
the 14 counties in the territory with a majority of at least 1000. The Democrats have probably a majority of both houses of the legislature, the first time in 24

years.

EDWARD T. COOPER.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 5.—It is

certain that Anthony Joseph, Dem.,

delegate to congress, has carried 10 out of
the 14 counties in the territory with a majority of at least 1000. The Democrats have probably a majority of both houses of the legislature, the first time in 24

years.

EDWARD T. COOPER.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 5.—It is

certain that Anthony Joseph, Dem.,

delegate to congress, has carried 10 out of
the 14 counties in the territory with a majority of at least 1000. The Democrats have probably a majority of both houses of the legislature, the first time in 24

years.

EDWARD T. COOPER.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 5.—It is

certain that Anthony Joseph, Dem.,

delegate to congress, has carried 10 out of
the 14 counties in the territory with a majority of at least 1000. The Democrats have probably a majority of both houses of the legislature, the first time in 24

years.

EDWARD T. COOPER.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Ledger Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Southern's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
Adams' Store, Franklin Street, West Quincy
Coran's Store, Copeland Street, West Quincy
Post Office, Jones' Corner
Henry K. Vinton, Wollaston Heights
M. K. Pratt, Braintree
Weymouth

Today's Almanac.—November 5.
High water at 5:45 A. M. and 5:45 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:23; Sets at 4:33.
Moon rises at 12:01 A. M.
New Moon Nov. 12.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

Russell and Hale.

Now for city nominations.

Pleasant days are not always favorable to the Republicans.Some Republicans are now talking ex-Councilman Shaw for Mayor.Mr. James Pantor from Lowell is paying his parents in this city a visit.Mrs. William Craig left yesterday for a two weeks' visit at Petersboro, N. H.Mr. Ralph J. Saxe, of Wollaston, left Tuesday for a business trip through the Southern states.Mr. E. Frank Badger of Wollaston moved into his new house, next to Mr. W. G.
Cortherl's, Tuesday.Rev. Mr. Freeman preached a powerful temperance sermon in the M. E. church, Wollaston, last Sunday evening.Ernest Marcy the obliging clerk at Brewer's drug store, Jones' corner, has left and gone to Hillsboro Bridge, N. H.A writer wants to know "what's the price of the Democratic flag staff? A certain real estate agent's sign announces it for sale."Rev. George S. Chadbourne, D. D., will deliver a lecture in the M. E. church, West Quincy, tonight, taking for his subject, "What are you fit for?"

The alarm from Box 40 at 1:35 A. M. this morning was for fire in the blacksmith shop owned by F. J. Fuller, and situated in a lot off Copeland street, West Quincy.
The building was wholly destroyed.
Loss about $150.

A first class entertainment will be given in the Methodist church, Wollaston, this evening. Miss Nelle Kingsbury reader;
Mrs. A. M. Williams, soprano; Mr. T.
Harry Sylvester, harmonica bells; and Miss M. L. Sylvester accompanist: will be the artists. There will doubtless be a large company present.

The Vote.

The prediction of the DAILY LEDGER that over 2,300 votes would be thrown, was verified. The total of every ward shows an increase over a year ago. Ward
One was 24 ahead; Ward Two, 40; Ward
Three, 25; Ward Four, 67; Ward Five, 4; and Ward Six, 61. A total increase of 221, and a total vote of 2,327. The summary below gives the names on list, the vote of last year and this year by wards:

Names	Vote Cast on List.	Vote Cast in 1889.	Vote Cast in 1890.
Ward One,	559	445	469
Ward Two,	473	339	379
Ward Three,	505	396	421
Ward Four,	624	490	537
Ward Five,	322	278	282
Ward Six,	238	158	219
	2741	2106	2327

The greatest surprise is the vote of Ward Six which threw 219 votes out of a total of 258, getting out all but 39 voters. Ward Four made the greatest gain, all but 67 of its voters going to the polls. Ward Two although making the next largest gain had the most stay-at-homes, 94. Ward One got out all but 90, Ward Three all but 84, and Ward Five all but 40.

THE REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT.

Messrs. Quincy, Bicknell and Burke Elected to the Legislature.

The Fifth Norfolk district will be represented in the next Legislature by three Democrats, who are elected by handsome majorities. They are Mr. Josiah Quincy, Quincy, Mr. Zachariah L. Bicknell of Weymouth, and Councilman James F.
Burke of Quincy. Mr. Quincy is reelected by a very flattering vote, and is the leading man. Mr. Bicknell follows closely, being only 44 behind. Mr. Burke, the third man, has over 200 more votes than any of the defeated candidates who are closely bunched together in the sixteen hundreds.

The order of the candidates in Quincy, was Quincy, Burke, Shaw, Bicknell, Cushing, and Flint. In Weymouth the order was Bicknell, Quincy, Flint, Burke, Cushing, Shaw.

The summary below gives the vote in Quincy and Weymouth and the total:

Quincy, Wey-	month, T. tal.
Josiah Quincy, D.,	1212 884 2076
Zachariah L. Bicknell, D.	1022 1010 2032
James F. Burke, D.	1137 760 1897
James H. Flint, R.	843 830 1073
Joseph A. Cushing, R.	933 730 1663
John Shaw, R.	1029 592 1621
A. W. Sprague, P.	61 — —
Waldo Turner, P.	30 — —
J. H. Yeoman, P.	48 — —

Mailed free to any address—"The care and Feeding of Infants"—a book issued by the proprietors of Bellin's Food, and giving much valuable advice and assistance to the mother in feeding her child.
Address: Dohler-Goodale Co., 41 Central Wharf, Boston, Mass.

SENATOR EATON.

The Quincy Man Elected by Large Majority.

The DAILY LEDGER has not received complete return from the First Norfolk Senatorial District, but the margin was small last year and the Democrats have made gains this year, which will undoubtedly elect Mr. William N. Eaton of this city.

VOTE.	PLURALITY.	EATON, D.	GLEASON, R.
Braintree,	321 350	14	127
Canton,	401 274	4	63
Holbrook,	171 234	—	—
Hyde Park,	516 657	79	14
Milton,	252 266	—	—
Quincy,	1223 225	47	298
Randolph,	890 800	134	9
Weymouth,	797 679	72	118
Totals,	3,664 3,588	228	600
Gleason's plurality in the district last year, 76.	524

Eaton's plurality, with Randolph to hear from is 187.Randolph last year gave Dr. Everett the Democratic nomine 116 plurality.It is safe to say Mr. Eaton's plurality is from 300 to 400. The DAILY LEDGER congratulates the gentleman, feeling confident he will execute the public trust, as he has on several former occasions, to the satisfaction of his constituents.

The Vote of 1889.

VOTE.	PLURALITIES.	GLEASON, R.	EVERETT, D.	ALDERMAN, P.	GLEASON, R.	EVERETT, D.
Braintree,	293 269	10	20	—	—	—
Canton,	254 335	9	—	141	—	—
Holbrook,	248 171	—	77	—	—	—
Hyde Park,	694 429	68	265	—	—	—
Milton,	192 8	116	—	—	—	—
Quincy,	817 1,084	43	—	267	—	—
Randolph,	253 369	18	—	116	—	—
Weymouth,	797 679	72	118	—	—	—
Totals,	3,664 3,588	228	600	524	—	—
Gleason's plurality in the district last year, 76.	524

Entertainment.

Dobie's hall was crowded to its utmost capacity last night on the first anniversary of the Order of the Fraternal Circle. The entertainment consisted of singing, reading, comic recitations, piano solos, etc.It was all home talent and they did their work elegantly. Mr. Peter Kerr, chief secretary of the class, explained the workings and benefits of this comparatively new order. After the entertainment five new members were initiated.

BORN.

WENTWORTH—In Quincy, Nov. 4, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P.
Wentworth.

DIED.

MCKENZIE—In South Quincy, Nov. 4,
Mrs. Salome, wife of Mr. John McKenzie, aged 65 years and 10 months.

Keeping the Chicken Back.

When the chicken incubator show was here, a young man infatuated with the idea purchased one and placed therein about thirty eggs. According to the rule they were to be hatched the 2d of the month. But it appears that the boy of 14 will be easy to the man.

SIXTH—That the best capital for a boy
is not money, but a love of work, simple tastes and a heart loyal to his friends
and his God.—Youth's Companion.

Third—That muscular strength is not health.

FOURTH—That a brain crammed only
with facts is not necessarily a wise one.

FIFTH—That the labor impossible to the boy of 14 will be easy to the man.

SIXTH—That the best capital for a boy
is not money, but a love of work, simple tastes and a heart loyal to his friends
and his God.—Youth's Companion.

And even foolhardiness are not manliness. The most firm and courageous men have usually been the most gentle.

Third—That muscular strength is not health.

Fourth—That a brain crammed only
with facts is not necessarily a wise one.

Fifth—That the labor impossible to the boy of 14 will be easy to the man.

Sixth—That the best capital for a boy
is not money, but a love of work, simple tastes and a heart loyal to his friends
and his God.—Youth's Companion.

Largest Stock.

Finest Assortment.

Saville & Jones.

MAKING IT A

Desirable Advertising Medium.

RATES LOW.

DO YOU WANT

A DRESS SHOE, buy N.

CURTIS & CO.'S

Patent Leather, Congress or Bal.

SAVILLE & JONES.

UNGARNERED.

The sunlight flicks my cottage door;
A single bird swing high, swings low,
Red throated trumper at my door
To wake me from my flower bed.
My little sunbird eye and wise,
Beholds the sun god's scattered wealth.
Night gowned he crawls, with clumsy stealth.

—America.

She Was Dazzled.

They tell a good story at the expense of Col. Moore, one of the members of the Everett Piano company, and no one enjoys it better than he does. While he was a resident of Colorado some years ago he was appointed a member of the staff of Governor Grant, and on the day the governor was inaugurated the staff appeared in resplendent uniforms, that of Col. Moore being further embellished with the medals he had won for distinguished bravery in the Crimean war, for which he served there when a mere lad.

The colonel is a large, handsome man, and with his uniform and medals is pretty apt to make considerable of a display. On this occasion, when the inauguration was over, he called upon a friend of mine, who was a native of this country, and only a boy at the time, to play the organ for him. The organist, however, was not able to do so, and the colonel, who was not a man to be trifled with, said to him,
"I will give you a dollar if you will play the organ for me." The boy, who was then about twelve years old, said, "I will play for you, sir, if you will let me play the organ for the colonel." The colonel said, "Very well, boy, go on." The boy then played the organ for the colonel, and the colonel, who was a man of great importance, said, "Well, boy, you have done well, but you must not play the organ again, for I have a piano in my house, and I want you to play that." The boy said, "Yes, sir, I will play the piano
again, if you will let me play the organ
again." The colonel said, "Very well, boy, you may play the organ again, but you must not play the piano again." The boy said, "Yes, sir, I will play the piano
again, if you will let me play the organ
again." The colonel said, "Very well, boy, you may play the organ again, but you must not play the piano again." The boy said, "Yes, sir, I will play the piano
again, if you will let me play the organ
again." The colonel said, "Very well, boy, you may play the organ again, but you must not play the piano again." The boy said, "Yes, sir, I will play the piano
again, if you will let me play the organ
again." The colonel said, "Very well, boy, you may play the organ again

PROPERTY.

property of the city, a certain issue, so that the total of a sumptuary tax per thousand $13.60.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 176.

QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

50 DOZEN

Children's Knee
Pants,
Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BEST IN THE MARKET !

FOR $6.50 CASH

WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.

[FRANK S. PATCH.]

Quincy, July 9.

tf

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY
ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,

In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,

Oct. 25 AS HERETOFORE. tf

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE

CORRESPONDENCE OF

JOHN STETSON COMPANY.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

IN ADAMS BUILDING.

STOCKS, GRAIN and PETROLEUM.

TELEPHONE 9-8.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

Oct. 15.-tf

We Have a Large Stock

—OF—

Imported and Domestic Cigars.

ALL THE POPULAR BRANDS.

5 and 10 Cent Goods.

Also, a Large Stock of Chewing and Smoking Tobacco.

GIVE US A CALL !

ROGERS BROS., Adams Building, Quincy.

Value.	Tax.
$300	$4.08
2,000	27.20
2,000	27.20
300	3.60
250	2.04
1,700	20.40
500	6.00
1,000	8.00
1,500	12.00
2,500	20.00
1,300	7.40
150	2.04
1,100	5.00
2,500	20.00
1,600	7.92
700	3.40
50	0.25
1,200	6.00
400	2.00
800	4.00
400	2.00
2,000	7.48
150	0.75
2,500	12.00
1,000	5.00
600	2.50
200	1.00
200	1.00
600	2.50
100	0.50
450	1.50
150	0.40
100	0.36
50	0.20
700	3.50
400	1.50
2,000	7.48
1,500	7.02

800	12.94
225	3.60
900	15.40
225	3.60
500	32.26
300	18.00
800	25.50
150	2.68
250	5.00
1,000	65.28
300	18.00
1,000	65.28
900	19.04
1,500	23.12
200	3.60
1,000	65.28
900	19.04

800	12.94
225	3.60
900	15.40
225	3.60
500	32.26
300	18.00
800	25.50
150	2.68
250	5.00
1,000	65.28
300	18.00
1,000	65.28
900	19.04
1,500	23.12
200	3.60
1,000	65.28
900	19.04

THE COMPLETE VOTE.

Mr. Eaton Has Plurality of 341 and Majority of 9.

The DAILY LEDGER has received official returns of the senatorial vote of the district from the several town clerk, and the totals elect Mr. William N. Eaton of this city by 341 plurality. The totals are: Eaton, 4105; Gleason, 3764; Dizer, 309.

The complete vote is printed below. It will be noticed that four towns gave Democratic pluralities and four Republican.

VOTE. PLURALITY.

Eaton, 341; Gleason, 3764; Dizer, 309; P., 1.

Delivered.

Jan. Sept. Oct.

Registered letters, 21 42 50

Letters, 17,188 22,759 23,750

Postal cards, 2,418 3,733 4,728

2d, 3d and 4th class, 5,743 13,972 15,573

Collected.

Local letters, 602 936 1,033

Mail letters, 6,373 10,156 10,418

Local postal cards, 659 939

Mail postal cards, 842 1,405 1,562

2d, 3d and 4th class, 298 684 1,145

4105 3764 332 588 247

Pieces handled, 34,137 54,366 59,198

Local postage, $94.15 $90.75 $111.73

WARD ONE.

WARD ONE.

To Whom Taxed.

Gordon, John A. Money, stocks, bonds and income,

Four horses, 600

Cow, 50

Carriages, 200

House on Hancock street, 3,500

Stable, 600

Land, 68,100 feet, 8,000

House on Saville place, 2,300

Land, 6,080 feet, 900

House on Hancock street, 1,800

Land, 12,351 feet, 2,400

Gordon, John A., guardian. Money, 5,500

Gordon, Lizzie W. Stock in trade, 74.80

Gourley, Alexander. House on Sea street, 550

Land, 8,664 feet, 300

WARD TWO.

WARD TWO.

Gordon, John A. Land on Washington street, 300

Gore, Henry. House on Main street, 300

House on Main street, 1,800

Land, 9,720 feet, 500

Good, Mrs. Susan. House on Summer street, 600

Land, 14,215 feet, 500

Good, Michael P. Land on Summer street, 10,410 feet, 350

WARD THREE.

WARD THREE.

Goodline, John H. Stock in trade, 200

Personal mortgage, 800

Two horses, 250

Goodline, Mitchell. Stock in trade, 500

Horse, 100

House on Phipps street, 1,700

Stable, 300

Land, 40,340 feet, 1,200

House on Phipps street, 400

House and bakery on Water street, 1,300

Land, two-thirds acre, 1,000

Stable, 100

Store and shop on Phipps street, 600

Gordon, John. House on Gordon street, 1,500

House on Gordon street, 1,700

Land, one-fourth acre, 700

Gould, Emily A. Horse, 100

House and barn on Water street, 800

Land, one-eighth acre, 150

WARD FOUR.

WARD FOUR.

Gould, E. W., & Co. Machinery, 1,200

Goven, Joseph. House on Common street, 1,000

Land, 6,600 feet, 300

WARD FIVE.

WARD FIVE.

Gordon, John A. Land on Old Colony avenue, 6,000 feet, 400

WARD SIX.

WARD SIX.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING.
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)

—BY—

GREEN & PRESCOTT,
115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

AFTER THE BATTLE

How It Looks Since the Smoke Has Cleared.

M'KINLEY IS DEFEATED.

Head of Ohio Ticket Has a Plurality of 10,000.

KANSAS HAS A LANDSLIDE.

Republican Majority of $2,000 is Out of Sight—Probability That Senator Ingalls Will Be Defeated—Both Parties Claim Minnesota—Democratic Plurality for Governor of Pennsylvania Is Over 16,000—Result in Illinois is Still in Doubt—No Choice for Governor in New Hampshire, and the Legislature is Very Close—Latest Figures Regarding the Vote in Massachusetts—Further Election Returns from Different Sections of the Country.

The returns from the outside states come very slowly. Those from the Pacific slope show gains for the Republicans. The western states, however, increase the Democratic vote, while the south holds its solid position in the Democratic column.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The final footings of the vote of Tuesday in this state shows that the plurality for Governor Russell falls but a trifle short of 10,000 and the congressional candidates, including Mr. Coolidge in the eleventh district, have safe margins.

G. Snodd is still lacking. The total vote of the state reported is:

Total.....	141,746
Brackett, Rep.....	131,856
Hale's plurality.....	9,890
Total.....	138,816

Hale's plurality..... 5,354

The total vote is the largest ever cast in this state, except in the 2 presidential elections of 1884 and 1888.

The returns show that Mr. Russell made his gains about evenly in city and country, swelling his total vote all over the state as compared with last year.

Chairman A. M. Jones of the Republican state central committee, speaking of the result in this state said, "I tell you we will do well if we come out of the fight with our hide. It is due to the school house issue."

M'KINLEY DEFEATED.

Ohio Will Send Fourteen Democrats and Seven Republicans to Congress.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6.—The Republican state central committee, on unofficial returns received from 75 counties, and the balance estimated, claim the Republican plurality on the head of the state ticket will be between 14,000 and 15,000. The committee concedes the defeat of McKinley, Rep., for governor by 200, and Foster, Rep., by over 100. The congressional districts, the other close congressional districts received majorities ranging from 500 upward, with the exception of Cosgrove, at Captain O'Brien, Rep., who is defeated by 100. The most remarkable Democratic gains was in the 11th district, where Patterson, Dem., was elected by 310, with a gain of 1500 over last fall's vote. The Republican committee concedes the delegation to congress will stand 7 Republicans to 6 Democrats.

It is evident that the substantial plurality given to Lieutenant Governor Hale that the Republican state ticket had been chosen. This is probably true of Mr. Marden, the candidate for treasurer, and Col. Olin, the candidate for secretary, but there may be a doubt about Mr. Pillsbury, the candidate for attorney general.

It is hardly probable that either Mr. Marden or Col. Olin has so large a vote as Lieutenant Governor Hale, although their plurality may prove as large from the failure of some of the voters fully to mark their tickets.

The considerable feeling against Mr. Pillsbury because he took no nomination away from a man in the western part of the state, and if Attorney General Waterman's friends carried their ticket to the polls, they may have elected Mr. Maynard, the Democratic candidate. The probabilities, however, rather favor Mr. Pillsbury. Mr. Treadwell, the Democratic candidate for auditor, is undoubtedly elected by a safe margin.

In the list of congressmen elected in the 9th congressional district, it is evident that the election of Hale and Warwick is not established by complete returns, and the apparent majority in each case is so small as to make it unsafe to claim an election until the official count is made. From official and unofficial returns received from all the counties of the state, except 10, and estimating that the same as last year on the vote for governor, the plurality of D. J. Ryan, Republican candidate for secretary, is 15,129.

WOOSTER, O., Nov. 6.—According to returns received by the Democrats, Warwick will have 301 majority over McKinley. The chairman of the Republican committee says Warwick will not have over 380.

Calvin Brice is Happy.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Senator S. B. White telegraphs Chairman Phelps of the state central Democratic committee: "Congratulations. Ohio elects 14 Democratic congressmen, a gain of 9. McKinley and Foster both defeated."

NO CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR.

New Hampshire Legislature Must Elect the Chief Executive.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 6.—Returns from all but 26 towns in the state give Tuttle, Rep., for governor, 39,131; Amsden, Dem., 38,473; Fletcher, Pro., 1223. In 1888 these 26 towns gave Goodell, Rep., 2525; Amsden, Dem., 2773; Carr, Pro., 66. In 29 cities Tuttle leads, Amsden 704. There will be no choice and the legislature will elect John M. Tyler of Claremont, Henry M. Quimby of Gilford and George C. Ramsdell of Nashua, Reps., and E. C. Lewis of Laconia, Dem., are elected councilors.

There is no choice in the first councilor district. The Republican elect 13 senators and the Democrat 8. There is certainly no choice in the Winnipesaukee and Somersworth districts, and probably none in the Londonderry district. The house is very close, both parties claiming it by a small majority.

McKinley, Dem., carries the first congressional district by a good plurality, and Daniel, Dem., the second by a very narrow margin.

HOW KANSAS VOTED.

An Overwhelming Defeat for Republicans—Senator Ingalls' Chances.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6.—There has been a veritable landslide in Kansas City. The Republican majority of $2,000 has disappeared.

Returns, practically complete, elect Willets, Farmers' Alliance, governor.

Only 1 of the 7 Republican congressmen, voted is still in doubt and must remain so until the official returns are in, although the probabilities are that the Republicans will have a bare majority on joint ballot. One of the disappointments of the Democrats has been the failure to carry all the doubtful Cook county districts. Had they done as well in the city of Chicago as in the state a Democratic general assembly would have been the result. But even as it is, the returns are still falling in, and until the official canvass determines the result in the dozen doubtful districts of Chicago and the state. The house will certainly be very close, with the chances in favor of the Democrats on the face of the incomplete returns.

Latest returns from the 10th congressional district of Illinois indicate that the Democratic congressman, Fithian, has been defeated by Reeder, the Farmers' Mutual Benefit association candidate, by a majority of 230. This is probably correct, and will leave the Illinois delegation: 11 Democrats, 8 Republicans, and 1 Farmer's M.

A. Congressmen of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, 59th, 60th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 64th, 65th, 66th, 67th, 68th, 69th, 70th, 71st, 72nd, 73rd, 74th, 75th, 76th, 77th, 78th, 79th, 80th, 81st, 82nd, 83rd, 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, 88th, 89th, 90th, 91st, 92nd, 93rd, 94th, 95th, 96th, 97th, 98th, 99th, 100th, 101st, 102nd, 103rd, 104th, 105th, 106th, 107th, 108th, 109th, 110th, 111th, 112th, 113th, 114th, 115th, 116th, 117th, 118th, 119th, 120th, 121st, 122nd, 123rd, 124th, 125th, 126th, 127th, 128th, 129th, 130th, 131st, 132nd, 133rd, 134th, 135th, 136th, 137th, 138th, 139th, 140th, 141st, 142nd, 143rd, 144th, 145th, 146th, 147th, 148th, 149th, 150th, 151st, 152nd, 153rd, 154th, 155th, 156th, 157th, 158th, 159th, 160th, 161st, 162nd, 163rd, 164th, 165th, 166th, 167th, 168th, 169th, 170th, 171st, 172nd, 173rd, 174th, 175th, 176th, 177th, 178th, 179th, 180th, 181st, 182nd, 183rd, 184th, 185th, 186th, 187th, 188th, 189th, 190th, 191st, 192nd, 193rd, 194th, 195th, 196th, 197th, 198th, 199th, 200th, 201st, 202nd, 203rd, 204th, 205th, 206th, 207th, 208th, 209th, 210th, 211st, 212nd, 213rd, 214th, 215th, 216th, 217th, 218th, 219th, 220th, 221st, 222nd, 223rd, 224th, 225th, 226th, 227th, 228th, 229th, 230th, 231st, 232nd, 233rd, 234th, 235th, 236th, 237th, 238th, 239th, 240th, 241st, 242nd, 243rd, 244th, 245th, 246th, 247th, 248th, 249th, 250th, 251st, 252nd, 253rd, 254th, 255th, 256th, 257th, 258th, 259th, 260th, 261st, 262nd, 263rd, 264th, 265th, 266th, 267th, 268th, 269th, 270th, 271st, 272nd, 273rd, 274th, 275th, 276th, 277th, 278th, 279th, 280th, 281st, 282nd, 283rd, 284th, 285th, 286th, 287th, 288th, 289th, 290th, 291st, 292nd, 293rd, 294th, 295th, 296th, 297th, 298th, 299th, 300th, 301st, 302nd, 303rd, 304th, 305th, 306th, 307th, 308th, 309th, 310th, 311st, 312nd, 313rd, 314th, 315th, 316th, 317th, 318th, 319th, 320th, 321st, 322nd, 323rd, 324th, 325th, 326th, 327th, 328th, 329th, 330th, 331st, 332nd, 333rd, 334th, 335th, 336th, 337th, 338th, 339th, 340th, 341st, 342nd, 343rd, 344th, 345th, 346th, 347th, 348th, 349th, 350th, 351st, 352nd, 353rd, 354th, 355th, 356th, 357th, 358th, 359th, 360th, 361st, 362nd, 363rd, 364th, 365th, 366th, 367th, 368th, 369th, 370th, 371st, 372nd, 373rd, 374th, 375th, 376th, 377th, 378th, 379th, 380th, 381st, 382nd, 383rd, 384th, 385th, 386th, 387th, 388th, 389th, 390th, 391st, 392nd, 393rd, 394th, 395th, 396th, 397th, 398th, 399th, 400th, 401st, 402nd, 403rd, 404th, 405th, 406th, 407th, 408th, 409th, 410th, 411st, 412nd, 413rd, 414th, 415th, 416th, 417th, 418th, 419th, 420th, 421st, 422nd, 423rd, 424th, 425th, 426th, 427th, 428th, 429th, 430th, 431st, 432nd, 433rd, 434th, 435th, 436th, 437th, 438th, 439th, 440th, 441st, 442nd, 443rd, 444th, 445th, 446th, 447th, 448th, 449th, 450th, 451st, 452nd, 453rd, 454th, 455th, 456th, 457th, 458th, 459th, 460th, 461st, 462nd, 463rd, 464th, 465th, 466th, 467th, 468th, 469th, 470th, 471st, 472nd, 473rd, 474th, 475th, 476th, 477th, 478th, 479th, 480th, 481st, 482nd, 483rd, 484th, 485th, 486th, 487th, 488th, 489th, 490th, 491st, 492nd, 493rd, 494th, 495th, 496th, 497th, 498th, 499th, 500th, 501st, 502nd, 503rd, 504th, 505th, 506th, 507th, 508th, 509th, 510th, 511st, 512nd, 513rd, 514th, 515th, 516th, 517th, 518th, 519th, 520th, 521st, 522nd, 523rd, 524th, 525th, 526th, 527th, 528th, 529th, 530th, 531st, 532nd, 533rd, 534th, 535th, 536th, 537th, 538th, 539th, 540th, 541st, 542nd, 543rd, 544th, 545th, 546th, 547th, 548th, 549th, 550th, 551st, 552nd, 553rd, 554th, 555th, 556th, 557th, 558th, 559th, 560th, 561st, 562nd, 563rd, 564th, 565th, 566th, 567th, 568th, 569th, 570th, 571st, 572nd, 573rd, 574th, 575th, 576th, 577th, 578th, 579th, 580th, 581st, 582nd, 583rd, 584th, 585th, 586th, 587th, 588th, 589th, 590th, 591st, 592nd, 593rd, 594th, 595th, 596th, 597th, 598th, 599th, 600th, 601st, 602nd, 603rd, 604th, 605th, 606th, 607th, 608th, 609th, 610th, 611st, 612nd, 613rd, 614th, 615th, 616th, 617th, 618th, 619th, 620th, 621st, 622nd, 623rd, 624th, 625th, 626th, 627th, 628th, 629th, 630th, 631st, 632nd, 633rd, 634th, 635th, 636th, 637th, 638th, 639th, 640th, 641st, 642nd, 643rd, 644th, 645th, 646th, 647th, 648th, 649th, 650th, 651st, 652nd, 653rd, 654th, 655th, 656th, 657th, 658th, 659th, 660th, 661st, 662nd, 663rd, 664th, 665th, 666th, 667th, 668th, 669th, 670th, 671st, 672nd, 673rd, 674th, 675th, 676th, 677th, 678th, 679th, 680th, 681st, 682nd, 683rd, 684th, 685th, 686th, 687th, 688th, 689th, 690th, 691st, 692nd, 693rd, 694th, 695th, 696th, 697th, 698th, 699th, 700th, 701st, 702nd, 703rd, 704th, 705th, 706th, 707th, 708th, 709th, 710th, 711st, 712nd, 713rd, 714th, 715th

PICKPOCKETS.

EMS TO BE THE TRAIN-HOOL FOR THEM.

1,000 in the Big City—Paris Large Crowd of Them Belong to Clubs and Have Lots of Their Own.

lry ago Paris had only pickpockets, now the police that their number has increased in the metropolis ten thousand in the . These figures are nearly times of reviews, races, and exhibitions by re- broad. But, singularly all come or have been Great Britain. England is hotbed of pickpockets. As firmly established as bricklaying, it has its graduates, professors, emerit agents. Novices distinguish a Frenchman a Russian from a German from an Italian; acquainted with the important differences in the cut of the face of the pockets, the ring jewelry, watches, cash.

pills are supposed to have only by their education, ched at Christmas time to of London, where they st. The agent, who has a trio, puts them through if they acquit them, gives card and special instruc- them abroad to ply their management. As soon, if personality has become familiar to the police of y are returned and ex- rest set under the same numbers 100,000 in ng women and children: are in the obscure Giles, Whitechapel, the low lying wharves of is there that they hold organize their detach- on future movements, banks and clubs, and of assisting those of are ill, shadowed or in form a regular associa- onsmakers and shop- men, however, they are visits in Paris, although un- they do not dwell scattered all over the to snare the spoils at moments, in dark or wine shops situated in the Champs Elysees. The as the French, operators living houses, called in millers, where they dis- and, it is a re- of these transactions carried on both sides fairness and honesty, observant person might spot who shadows him by the peculiar roving the eye, of which even un- ones cannot en- themselves. The habit is onset of their careers; it becomes invertebrate embraces at a glance in a shop window cal- the passerby, the con- victim's pockets, the around him and the which his bagbear, the ty to appear. The En- rarely offers any oppo- in the act; he submits off by his captor; only sl. thrash, sob, scratch the characteristic na- and lack of emotional contribute more than tude to make the Brit- cile prince in his art, envy and admiration to the professions in other

ORK IN PARIS.

WICH WAY.

the profession retains methods. The Spanish American, does not save in a tolerably Italian works generally bad, because he is the Turk is fearless, and, even in the police, with one hand to steal with the which make a specialty of which is effected by one cognizance in some inno- ing individual a relation usually falling on his the error is explained the deed is done by the most dangerous of the becouse, usually a pretty girl, who makes a benevolent wish in his cheeks and calls him up he will have good r, as it has cost him property.

lessness of the public operations of the pick- tree, which has often expressions of either complement the legend, beware of them, the do well to affix a few observance of which active protection.—Lon- Sun.

in Imports.

import lists show that paid on about $120,000 diamonds in the last , of which $80,000,000 paid during the last 1885 $1,000,000 worth and about $1,200,000 in the amount in 1889, or in the latter year previous.—Exchange.

Great at a Bargain.

Ponape—I must telegraph Emily my master.—What shall you say? Ponape—Yes. You can send ten words for the same money.

And Ponape wired as follows: I have send to do as you have requested me—New York Evening Sun.

Today's Anniversaries.

DUE TO BOSS QUAY.

A Washington Opinion of the Pennsylvania Landslide.

WILL BE NO EXTRA SESSION

Is the Opinion of Three Members of the Presidential Cabinet—Appropriation Committee Called Together—The New York Census.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—A Washington special to The Journal says: The best information is that Delamater, Quay's nominee for governor in Pennsylvania, is defeated by a plurality of 5000, while the rest of the Republicans are ticket and the legislature have been elected by a large Republican majority. This circumstance furnishes its own explanation. It is not a defeat of the Republican party, but a rebuke to the boss system of Matthew Stanley Quay in the Keystone state. Delamater was defeated by Republicans, and not by Democratic votes.

The brilliant Republican leader of Pittsburgh, Chris Magee, one of the most enthusiastic protectionist Republicans in the country, was an open rebel in revolt against the domination of Boss Quay. But it is to be noticed that this Republican revolt against the rule of a self-constituted leader did not extend to the state ticket, and was not directed against the Republican members of the legislature.

The returns show, for instance, that in one Republican stronghold, which has gone 1600 against Delamater, every Republican legislative candidate is elected. Don Cameron has been apparently unopposed, so that his children might not want for bread. Like lightning an idea flashed through the brain of Quay for four years, but Quay's man Delamater is beaten, while the legislature which is to re-elect Don Cameron to the senate has been chosen.

There are reports that Don Cameron has not forgotten all the cunning of his father, and that he has seen to it that whatever he can do to Quay's governor or to his political colleague in the senate, he was determined to see to it that his own re-election was not put in jeopardy.

Extra Session Doubtful.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Postmaster General Wanamaker, in answer to an inquiry by a representative of The Associated Press, said that there was no probability of an extra session of congress. While he said, only the president could speak authoritatively upon the subject, he (Mr. Wanamaker) did not believe that the president had any thought of calling congress together before the regular session.

Two other members of the cabinet, who were unwilling to be quoted by name, said in response to similar inquiries: "There will be no extra session."

Figures on the Next House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The Evening Star estimates that the Democratic majority in the next house will be about 95.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Tribune says the Democratic majority in congress will be over 50. The Times says the majority will be 151.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—From Associated Press dispatches up to 12:45 a.m. the house of representatives will probably stand as follows: Democrats 25, Republicans 100, Independent Republican 1, Farmers' Alliance 5. Territorial delegates not included.

Preparing for the Short Session.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—In accordance with directions from Chairman Cannon, the clerk of the house committee on appropriations has notified the members of the committee to meet at its rooms in the Capitol on Thursday, the 20th inst., at 12 o'clock. This is in keeping with the usual custom of calling the committee together one day before the opening of the short session of congress, so as to enable it to consider and facilitate the preparation of appropriation bills in advance of the regular meeting of congress.

No Recount.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Supervisor Kenny of New York called at the interior department to learn whether Secretary Noble had anything to communicate to him relative to Mayor Grant's request for a recount, before his return to New York. Learning that the secretary had nothing further to communicate Mr. Kenny returned to New York, taking the police enumeration books with him.

Marriage Tableaux.

The women of Boston gave a unique entertainment in the Hollis Street theatre. The evolution of the institution of marriage was represented through its various stages, from the marriage by capture to the imposing modern celebration of the rite.

Mrs. Weir's Cooking.

Mrs. R. F. Weir, wife of the professor of chemical surgery in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, tidings of whose death have just come from Milan, was more widely known and admired than most women in strictly private life. During the civil war she was a hospital nurse at Frederick City, Md., where not only the sick and wounded Federal soldiers, but the captive Confederates as well, were tenderly cared for. Mrs. Weir was then Miss Marie Washington McPherson, whose delicate cookery not less than her faithful nursing helped to complete the cure which the skill of Dr. War had begun, and whose unfailing kindness made her name a household word in hundreds of homes both north and south which she has never seen.—Harper's Bazaar.

The Care of the Throat.

This is the time of year when school children begin to the silk handkerchiefs about the throat. It is not well to do this, if one can possibly do without the muffling, for if once begun, it must be carried through the entire season, or colds will result. Then, too, covering the throat is apt to make it sensitive. The muscles of the throat can be strengthened by reasonable exposure. But singers and speakers should always cover the throat after singing or speaking, when going into a cool room, or into the open air. A light bit of lace, or any open work covering for the neck that will admit of ventilation, is the best protection.—New York Ledger.

More Bracelets.

Three men were killed by a collision on the Canadian Pacific railroad.

Succi, the Italian, has begun his forty-five-day fast in New York.

President Harrison reached Washington last evening from Indianapolis.

Three soap powder mills at Gladstone, Conn., were burned; loss, $100,000.

London dockers have been frightened into submission by a threat of a lockout.

A way of man seems imminent between the Union Pacific and the Rock Island, the Burlington and the Chicago and St. Paul roads.

Bids were opened at the treasury department for the construction of the public building at New Bedford, Mass., the lowest bid of Portland, Conn., was the lowest bidder at $80,850.

Women are everywhere using their advantages in helping their neighbors. The power of organization is a new thing for us, for when I was a young woman it was not possible. In those days it was often said that woman was

WOMAN'S WORLD.

HOW PATTI MADE HER FIRST APPEARANCE, DOLL IN ARMS.

Women as Court Stenographers—Marriage Tableaux—Woman Lifted to a Higher Level—The Newest Fad—The Fashions in Hosiery.

Mme. Patti, like many of her sisters in art, is brilliant in conversation as she is gifted in song, and is wont to entertain her guests at Craig-y-nos with many anecdotes of her early life. Long before she could speak, the diva could sing all the airs which she had heard her mother rehearsing with the director of the opera, and so correct was her ear that she could detect the slightest falsetto of intonation, and showed her displeasure by shaking her head at the delinquent.

Nothing delighted her so much as to be allowed to go to the opera when her parents were performing in New York, and on returning home, after having been put to bed, she would creep again when all in the house were fast asleep, and perform the whole opera to the best of her ability by the light of a flickering taper.

When Patti was about 7 years old she well remembers seeing her father in great distress on the point of parting with a diamond ornament he possessed, so that his children might not want for bread. Like lightning an idea flashed through her mind.

"Papa," she exclaimed, "you just give a concert, and I will sing!"

Signor Patti laughed heartily at the idea, but so persistently did the little Adelina entreat that her wishes should be carried out that at length consent was given. Signor Patti plaited the long hair of his tiny daughter and powdered her round brown cheeks. She had many misgivings when the hour arrived for her to be dressed for her first concert, but the miniature prima donna herself, clutching her favorite doll "Henriette" tightly in her arms, was entirely mistress of herself, and carried with laughable dignity and importance on finding herself face to face with her audience. Her success, as everybody knows, was immediate.

The returns show, for instance, that in one Republican stronghold, which has gone 1600 against Delameter, every Republican立法ent had the most elaborate hampered work on the entire top and sides. Gods and goddesses, little cupids and all the birds of the air were represented in great numbers. This, too, bore a crest and monogram, and cost the indulgent papa of the owner a small fortune.

Then there are bedsteads formed of various and expensive woods, richly inlaid with pearl and brass. In fact, there is no end to the variety of styles, and furniture dealers are apparently giving most of their attention to this new demand on the part of Miss Manhattan.—New York Letter.

Fashions in Hosiery.

Although black remains the leading style for ladies, men, misses and children, yet we have had several modifications of the cast iron rule of "black only" of late. Men are wearing gray, tan and mode shades in cotton and silk, darker for evening being prettily clocked in solid colors. Children are usually dressed in black hose with all frocks, though some for best wear have stockings to match the dress. It has often been claimed that domestic hosiery is not as well shaped or made as the foreign, but there is at least one firm here selling beautiful examples of silk hose made in this country.

"It is a poor foot that won't shape its own stocking," but nothing will make a thick-seamed stocking comfortable. Always darn black hose with fast black darning cotton, as the others soon turn green, as, unfortunately, many so-called fast black hose. Ladies are wearing tan, gray and tartan hose with dresses to match, and some very pretty black silk hose have colored tops, heels and toes. Black cotton hose are somewhat higher in price, but it pays to buy good stockings of reliable brands."—Dry Goods Economist.

Chrysanthemums Growing in Favor.

Chrysanthemums are now very much in favor among swell women. They are brilliant in color and contribute a pleasing and decorative effect to a woman's costume. The yellow ones, which are very yellow indeed, are the most highly prized. Some of the large ones are priced as high as $1.50 each. The florists say, however, that the largest chrysanthemums in this country are very small compared with the chrysanthemums in Japan, which oftentimes attain the size of an American sunflower. The chief objection to the use of chrysanthemums is that not fit for women's ears. Several of the Chicago judiciary were visited and their opinions asked as to whether this objection was well sustained. Judges Blodgett and Walter Q. Gresham were found together, and said that they could see no reason why a woman should not perform the duties of stenographer.

"There are too many cases, of course," said Judge Blodgett, "where the evidence is not even fit for men's ears, but if a woman enters the arena of labor she must take chances on having her sensibilities shocked. It is recorded that in some cases where the evidence was of a particularly racy character the court room has been cleared of all women, including any female officials there might be about, but these cases are rare." Continuing, Judge Blodgett, who also spoke for Judge Gresham, said:

"The official stenographer of our court is a woman, and I do not remember that she has complained of the nature of the evidence which she was obliged to take down, and if it was not exactly fit for publication she doubtless realized that it was simply a matter of business, nothing more. I think on this matter our Canadian conferees are a little too sensitive."

Yankee ingenuity, however, has been at work on the problem suggested by this objection, and some flower dealers have made use of the chemicals applied directly to the growing plant to achieve a flower which is odorless or almost so. It has been not unusual in the flower trade, it is said, to add perfume to flowers occasionally by dipping them in some fragrant essence, but the chrysanthemum case is the first case of flowers going through a process of deodorization.

In the flower trade, it is said, to add perfume to flowers occasionally by dipping them in some fragrant essence, but the chrysanthemum case is the first case of flowers going through a process of deodorization.

At the beginning of the year, Mrs. Weir, wife of the professor of chemical surgery in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, tidings of whose death have just come from Milan, was more widely known and admired than most women in strictly private life. During the civil war she was a hospital nurse at Frederick City, Md., where not only the sick and wounded Federal soldiers, but the captive Confederates as well, were tenderly cared for. Mrs. Weir was then Miss Marie Washington McPherson, whose delicate cookery not less than her faithful nursing helped to complete the cure which the skill of Dr. War had begun, and whose unfailing kindness made her name a household word in hundreds of homes both north and south which she has never seen.—Harper's Bazaar.

Old Colony.

On and after Oct. 13, 1890.

Train Leave

QUINCY FOR BOSTON.—6.11, 6.35,

7.27, 7.33, 7.38, 7.52, 8.12, 8.34, 8.46, 9.18,

9.34, 9.49, 9.54, 9.58, 10.24, 10.38, 10.52, 10.55,

11.29, 11.34, 11.39, 11.44, 11.49, 11.54, 11.59,

12.05, 12.10, 12.15, 12.20, 12.25, 12.30, 12.35,

12.40, 12.45, 12.50, 12.55, 12.60, 12.65, 12.70,

12.75, 12.80, 12.85, 12.90, 12.95, 13.00, 13.05,

13.10, 13.15, 13.20, 13.25, 13.30, 13.35, 13.40,

13.45, 13.50, 13.55, 13.60, 13.65, 13.70, 13.75,

13.80, 13.85, 13.90, 13.95, 14.00, 14.05, 14.10,

14.15, 14.20, 14.25, 14.30, 14.35, 14.40, 14.45,

14.50, 14.55, 14.60, 14.65, 14.70, 14.75, 14.80,

14.85, 14.90, 14.95, 15.00, 15.05, 15.10, 15.15,

15.15, 15.20, 15.25, 15.30, 15.35, 15.40, 15.45,

15.50, 15.55, 15.60, 15.65, 15.70, 15.75, 15.80,

15.85, 15.90, 15.95, 16.00, 16.05, 16.10, 16.15,

16.20, 16.25, 16.30, 16.35, 16.40, 16.45, 16.50,

16.55, 16.60, 16.65, 16.70, 16.75, 16.80, 16.85,

16.90, 16.95, 17.00, 17.05, 17.10, 17.15, 17.20, 17.25, 17.30, 17.35, 17.40, 17.45, 17.50, 17.55,

17.60, 17

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER--THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1890.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Post Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Grover's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
Jordan's Store, Copeland Street, Quincy
Post Office, Jones' Corner, Quincy Point
Henry B. Vinton, Wollaston, Braintree
Weymouth
Mr. K. Pratt.

Today's Almanac.—November 6.

High water at 6:45 A. M. and 6:45 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:24; Sets at 4:31.
Moon rises at 12:01 A. M.
New Moon Nov. 12.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

November was the wettest month of 1889.
Mr. John Colahan is the new assistant at W. E. Brown's.

The Woman's Relief Corps go to Hingham
this evening.

The Hospital collection at the West Quincy M. E. church Sunday, amounted to $13.00.

"The War of the Roses" tonight at the Congregational church by the King's Daughters.

The Board of Registrars hold a meeting next week to revise the voting list for the city election.

Mr. Walter Wilson is building a large dwelling house on the Greenleaf Land Associates' property.

The roof on the Willard school is being rapidly put on. One of the ends is nearly finished and looks very good.

A broken brake rod delayed the inward Cape express at Quincy, shortly after ten this morning, for five minutes.

Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, who was struck by the electric car Monday morning on Hancock street, Atlantic, died Wednesday.

Foreman Reed at Badger Bros.' quarry will move his family here the first of the week and will make this place their home.

Mr. Alfred Spear, an aged citizen of Newton, who died on the 2d instant, was brought to this city on Tuesday for interment.

The combined vote of the Republicans and Prohibitionists would not have been sufficient to defeat Mr. W. N. Eaton for Senator.

Mr. Martin Kelliher, employed for some time by W. E. Brown in the undertaking business, has accepted a position with G.
Bates.

Louis, the young son of Mr. W. E. Badger, who has been very ill with typhoid fever is a great deal better and is now able to sit up.

The West Quincy M. E. church voted Sunday on the question of admitting women to the general conference. It stood 18 to 15 against.

A large number of friends from Quincy attended the wedding of Mr. Sumner Coolidge, conductor of the Quincy Musical Club, at Cambridgeport last evening.

Certificates of nomination for all city offices to be filled at the coming election, must be filed at least eleven days previous to Dec. 2, that is on Friday, Nov. 21, two weeks from tomorrow.

Mr. Charles T. Baker of Wollaston, entertained a large company of Knights and Ladies of Honor at his house-warming, Wednesday evening. Mr. Baker was presented with a French marble clock.

There was a quiet family wedding at Hingham on Sunday, the contracting couple being Miss Emma, daughter of Mr. Thomas Margetts, and Mr. Mortimer W. O'Brien, a compositor in the LEDGER office.

The Democrats of East Weymouth will hold a jollification meeting on Wednesday evening of next week. A reception will be held in the new Odd Fellows hall and a supper will be served in Reynold's hall.

Miss Lizzie Elocok of Copeland street, in her haste to get down stairs yesterday morning at the time of the alarm for fire, fell the whole length, and broke her right arm at the elbow. Today she is comfortable.

Postmaster Adams' coffin arrived promptly after election. At least, so many have told him who have viewed a large long narrow box which sits in the post office. He endeavours to make his friends believe it is an advertising clock, and assumes them its term has over two years to run.

In every ward of the city, on Tuesday, over 80 per cent of the vote was cast.
Ward Four not only got out the largest vote and made the largest g. in over last year, but the percentage of votes cast to the names on the list was largest. The percentage was as follows: Ward One, 83;
Ward Two, 80; Ward Three, 83; Ward
Four, 80; Ward Five, 87; and Ward Six, 84.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keenan were called upon last evening by number of their many friends, and presented with a handsome clock. Among those present may be mentioned, Miss Fannie A. Magee and Miss Grace Magee of Dorchester; Miss Craddock of Neponset, Miss Lottie
Donovan, Miss Lucy Donovan, Miss Julia
Duffy, Miss Annie Keenan of Quincy;
Mr. James McGovern, Mr. Cornelius
Kelliher, Mr. John Keenan, Mr. D. Baldwin,
Mr. J. Swingle, Mr. E. Brown and Mr.
F. Beattie.

MARRIED.

O'BRIEN—MARGETTS—In Hingham,
Nov. 2, by Rev. Alsop Leffingwell, Mr.
Mortimer W. O'Brien of Halifax, N. S.,
to Miss Emma F. Margetts.

DIED.

CARLTON—In South Quincy, Nov. 5,
Mrs. Mary J. Carlton, widow of Joseph
W. Carlton, aged 69 years, 9 months.
SULLIVAN—In Atlantic, Nov. 5th, Mrs.
Margaret Sullivan, aged 80 years.

UP WITH THE TIMES.

A New Machine.

We had the pleasure of witnessing today
a new machine erected by Messrs. Shepard & Sons, at their mill on Granite street, near the railroad. Having bought the building owned by Mr. Henry H.
Faxon, they have enlarged the same,
placed their engine under cover, and after sawing the wood, it is carried by an endless belt up stairs, where a new machine is erected for splitting the wood in kindlings.

It will cut easily, either hard or pine, into any size, coarse or fine, desired. With this new machine, they can cut as much wood in an hour, as two men can do in a day. It is a great saving in labor, and gives our enterprising merchants a chance to furnish their customers with wood,
sawed and split to suit them, at short notice, and at a very low price.

Press Comments.

The democrats of Massachusetts may thank the McKinley bill for Tuesday's turnover. The new tariff scarecrow frightened a big flock of voters over to the beckoning cornfields of democracy and free trade.
"High prices" is an effective campaign war cry.—Brooklyn Enterprise.

THE ONLY PLACE IN QUINCY

To get the Famous

Lebanon Overalls and Jumpers

is at

SAVILLE & JONES'.

IN ANSWER

To the question which is asked us so often, we always say that we buy no large a trade; we would say that it is by buying only the best and selling at the smallest possible profit.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY.

Quincy, Sept. 24. if

HORSES BOARDED.

THE Subscriber has accommodations to board a few horses. Best of care,
Winter Prices.

10 HORSES FOR SALE.

WILSON TISDALE, Washington Street,
QUINCY.

Oct. 23.

Umbrellas!

Largest Stock.

Finest Assortment.

Saville & Jones.

Upwards of 5000 Copies

IS THE

Weekly Circulation

OF THE

Quincy Daily Ledger.

MAKING IT A

Desirable Advertising Medium.

RATES LOW.

MARRIED.

O'BRIEN—MARGETTS—In Hingham,

Nov. 2, by Rev. Alsop Leffingwell, Mr.

Mortimer W. O'Brien of Halifax, N. S.,

to Miss Emma F. Margetts.

DO YOU WANT

A DRESS SHOE, buy N.

CURTIS & CO'S

Patent Leather, Congress or Bal.

SAVILLE & JONES.

DIED.

CARLTON—In South Quincy, Nov. 5,

Mrs. Mary J. Carlton, widow of Joseph

W. Carlton, aged 69 years, 9 months.

SULLIVAN—In Atlantic, Nov. 5th, Mrs.

Margaret Sullivan, aged 80 years.

UP WITH THE TIMES.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT.

A Boston Merchant Accused of Robbing

a Philadelphia Firm.

We had the pleasure of witnessing today

a new machine erected by Messrs. Shepard

& Sons, at their mill on Granite

street, near the railroad. Having bought

the building owned by Mr. Henry H.

Faxon, they have enlarged the same,

placed their engine under cover, and after

sawing the wood, it is carried by an endless

belt up stairs, where a new machine is

erected for splitting the wood in kindlings.

It will cut easily, either hard or pine, into

any size, coarse or fine, desired. With this new machine, they can cut as much

wood in an hour, as two men can do in a day. It is a great saving in labor, and

gives our enterprising merchants a chance

to furnish their customers with wood,

sawed and split to suit them, at short notice, and at a very low price.

We had the pleasure of witnessing today

a new machine erected by Messrs. Shepard

& Sons, at their mill on Granite

street, near the railroad. Having bought

the building owned by Mr. Henry H.

Faxon, they have enlarged the same,

placed their engine under cover, and after

sawing the wood, it is carried by an endless

belt up stairs, where a new machine is

erected for splitting the wood in kindlings.

It will cut easily, either hard or pine, into

any size, coarse or fine, desired. With this new machine, they can cut as much

wood in an hour, as two men can do in a day. It is a great saving in labor, and

gives our enterprising merchants a chance

to furnish their customers with wood,

sawed and split to suit them, at short notice, and at a very low price.

We had the pleasure of witnessing today

a new machine erected by Messrs. Shepard

& Sons, at their mill on Granite

street, near the railroad. Having bought

the building owned by Mr. Henry H.

Faxon, they have enlarged the same,

placed their engine under cover, and after

sawing the wood, it is carried by an endless

belt up stairs, where a new machine is

erected for splitting the wood in kindlings.

It will cut easily, either hard or pine, into

any size, coarse or fine, desired. With this new machine, they can cut as much

wood in an hour, as two men can do in a day. It is a great saving in labor, and

gives our enterprising merchants a chance

to furnish their customers with wood,

sawed and split to suit them, at short notice, and at a very low price.

We had the pleasure of witnessing today

DORPED ATTACK AT NIGHT.
A Picture of "David" and "Goliath" in Modern Naval Warfare.

opportunity comes—a dark night impetuous. The clouds have covered stars like a pall, and there is a wind which drowns all other. The pigmy vessel makes ready to sea. It rushes along as swift wind and as silent as a calm. Big sometimes sweep over it from end as it plunges through the darkness they are not heeded. Small as is stanchly built and can stand in storm as well as its adverse. All men save one are snugly shut tending the flying engine and the missile of destruction. A strange bolt, shaped like a cipher ten feet in length, and the ice it in the bow tube. The man stands behind a little iron tower shields him from the shock of the and then he steers the boat. In darkness they seek their advermedly, and with deadly purpose they are the protectors of native land. The boat searches in vain, for the big "C" has all lights and is lying in a monster upon the waves, awaiting to renew the havoc. The ship remained thus the little bold never find her; but "Goliath" uneasy: he fears "David" will attack, so he has determined to ing cone of white light suddenly from a point in the darkness leans upon the water. Slowly about over the sea in circling at once the little boat is bathed in ant, blinding glare. The monster finds it! But in finding the battle ship has disclosed itself, countless little adversary steams forward at utmost speed. Flame are now shooting from white light, while the rattling rifles and machine guns rise over the wind's roar. Shot and shell are falling about like hail water, but the monster cannot range of the onrushing boat, missiles fly wide of the mark.

The great ship looms up shadowy, overpowering. It is almost near enough to be

Yet a little closer, and the gony, still unharmed, slows with that ominous black shots are falling upon the

the man who was steering has in his iron tower; but in a wheel, and he can steer as for, around him on a level

res are little slits through can see. Now seconds are the brave little craft is to re. The moment has comes a short, hoarse roar,

the little boat begins to turn,

cape with the speed of the

the boat can turn a dull, has jarred the sea. A gigan-of white water rushes up the black clouds. In it the

the monster ship seem to and clash together. The the guns is sharply succeeded man terror.

If water falls back into the roaring crash and scatters

in great piles of glistenthe wind, sweeping again,

waves over the disturbed

monstership has disappeared

in the deep is conquered antagonist.—John M. Ellicholas.

Fitting Necessary.

to find it difficult to spare strength at the dress-fitting and trying on of gowns a season comment on the trouble their more sisters must take who own ores. In point of fact the earlier time getting twenty or three.

dry and dressy women have smoker's a gown form of which is a plaster of paris on life. Every detail of and bedded figure to the accurately reproduced, and is then mounted upon a

the same height as the cus-quadeuse, as the case spends a single morning

smoker choosing fabrics, etc., indicating occasions will be needed and the polish the season's ward-tunes are made up and counterfeit presentment sent home, often not eration of a single hook

York Times.

Tapioca.

or cassava is a native of

but it has been success-for cultivation into or tropical countries. It is, six to ten feet high, near the ends of the articles prepared for

from the roots or tubers, and like turnips, but as high as thirty contain a milky juice

but also rich in hydro-which makes the juice—in —a very deadly poison.

even out by heat and the juice is extracted by ated root maker what is tapioca as cassava or ca-is used for food. The is exported as Braziland tapioca is made heating process which in granules and causes changes.—Good House-en Question.

a, don't Quakers take

dear; their belief is will not uncover their now do they get their

Bulletin.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 177.

QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

50 DOZEN

Children's Knee
Pants,
Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

DURGIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BEST IN THE MARKET!

FOR $6.50 CASH

WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.

[FRANK S. PATCH.]

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY
ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,

in Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,

AS HERETOFORE.

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.

CORRESPONDENCE OF

JOHN STETSON COMPANY.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

IN ADAMS BUILDING.

STOCKS, GRAIN and PETROLEUM.

TELEPHONE 9-8.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A.M. TO 5 P.M.

THE WAR OF THE ROSES.

Delightful Entertainment by King's Daughters of Congregational Church.

The chapel of the Congregational church was crowded Thursday evening, and those present witnessed a very pleasing entertainment.

A supper by the Chapel Builders was first in order, and was served between six and eight o'clock by the King's Daughters, dressed in white; half the young ladies had sashes of red cheeze cloth and roses, and the others of white.

The entertainment programme at eight o'clock was as follows:

1. Trio "Lift Thine Eyes," Misses Litchfield, Gray and Turner.
2. Pictures "The Gipsy," Dairy Maid.
3. Solo "Kitten Song," Miss Bailey.
4. Reading "Selected," Miss Elliott.
5. Quartette "Lady Bird," Misses Hardwick, Tupper, Scammel, Gray.

INTERMISSION.

6. Sheet music on a new scale.
7. Reading (Piano accompaniment) "Rock Me to Sleep," Miss Burns.
8. Solo (Guitar accompaniment) "The Sparrows are Calling," Miss Burns.
9. Tableau "Must 'R In and Must 'R Out." (This Scene previous to the following contest)
10. THE WAR OF THE ROSES.

The last number was the crowning feature. The contest was between the red and the white roses, the rivals being as follows:

Red.	White.
Minnie Litchfield, Cora Newcomb, Mary Drake, Alice Stetson, Lulu Tupper, Edith Gray, Annie Nelson, Mary Gardner, Paul Elliott, Matie Hardwick, Lucy Tarbox.	Bessie Burns, Ida Cameron, Mamie Sampson, Fannie French, Lillie Taylor, Mary Evans, May Merrill, Rosa Drake, Mary Bailey, Lillie Schumrell, Nellie Mitchell.
The judges were Mr. Theophilus King, Mr. H. W. Lull; Mrs. George W. Clapp, Mrs. W. H. Fay.
Mr. Federhen, wife of Assessor Federhen, with her infant daughter, returned to her home at Quincy Point by an electric car on Thursday. The conductor left the car at Chubbuck street, leaving the car solely in charge of young Mr. Perry. The car stopped for Mrs. Federhen to alight, but the motorman did not wait a sufficient time. Thinking her out he started up, throwing Mrs. Federhen and the babe down. Her dress caught, and had it not given way she would have been dragged.
It was a severe shock to the baby who has been all of a shake since, and was unable to sleep. Mrs. Federhen is very lame.
It was very careless of the conductor to leave his post, as he has learned to his sorrow. It is a practice that Superintendent Duggan should certainly stop.

TODAY'S COURT.

Charles Spencer for being a tramp at Milton was sent to the State farm at Bridgewater for nine months.

John Fallon of Quincy for an assault on Peter Smith of Braintree; case continued until Dec. 19, his furnishing $500 bonds.

Daniel Crowley and Cornelius Lynch of South Weymouth for breaking and entering the factory of C. & P. H. Tirrell in that place. Crowley was discharged and Lynch was held in $500 for the Superior court. For having stolen goods in his possession Crowley was held in $300.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

William B. Rice, to H. L. Rice $100. Harry L. Rice, to E. L. Rice $1. John Q. Adams, et al, trs. to M. J. Walsh $1. George K. Gannett, to Timothy Riordan $50. Timothy Riordan, to Edward Buckley $60.

A. D. S. Bell, et al, trs. to C. J. Emery (2) $2. A. D. S. Bell, et al, trs. to J. H. Veazie (2) $2.

Josiah P. Quincy, et al, trs. to M. E. Elkins $1. Thomas F. Brody, to E. L. Hunt et al, $1.

George H. Abbott, to G. W. Bancroft $1. William H. Glover, to J. M. Glover $500.

In Braintree: Mary Porter, to S. L. French $500. John Davidson, to A. T. Wilde $150. Paul Wilde, to A. T. Wilde $178. Joseph DeYoung, to Frank Landry $150.

Ellen Trask, to W. H. Trask $100. Anna J. Spear, to M. A. Lincoln $1. Daniel F. Hart, to J. W. Hart $1. Thomas Fitzgerald, to E. H. Stetson $200.

Louis J. Hart, to J. W. Hart $900. Turner Torrey, to Baxter Torrey $585.

QUNICY WATER COMPANY.

The Assets by the Annual Return Amount to $542,135.

The annual certificate of the Quincy Water Company was filed with the Secretary of State Oct. 28, from which the following information is gleaned:

Fixed capital, $250,000. Capital paid in, $250,000. ASSETS.

Land and water power, $13,540. Buildings, 6,000. Machinery, 25,000. Cash and debts receivable, 3,235. Water mains and easements, 477,908. Profit and loss, 16,551.

Total, $542,135.

LIABILITIES.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED)
—BY—
GREEN & PRESCOTT,
115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.
SUBSCRIPTION RATES,
By Carriers or Mail:

One month, $5.00
Three months, 1.50
Six months, 3.00
One year, 5.00

CASE IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as a lost, found, wanted, for $1.00. To be paid, not exceeding ten cents each, 25 cents first insertion, 10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Ensign Jackson's Good Fortune.

Congress has done a very creditable act in authorizing the president to appoint Richard H. Jackson, of Alabama, an ensign in the navy. Young Jackson, having finished his studies in the naval school, was sent on a two years' cruise, at the end of which a part of the class, under the law, was retired and the others made ensigns. Jackson fell among those retired. But when he was on his great cruise he distinguished himself so greatly that this special law has been passed to retain him in the navy.

It was at the great storm at Apia, Samoa. At a critical moment, when the Trenton was about to drift on a reef, he led the men aloft, where their bodies had the effect of a sail, and thus saved the ship. Admiral Kimberly highly complimented Mr. Jackson on his bravery in time of such peril, and in a report to Secretary Tracy says that he not only saved the Trenton's crew, but also that of the Vandalia, who would all have been lost had not the Trenton drifted alongside and rescued her men.

Mr. Jackson is only 23 years old, and was appointed to the Naval academy by Gen. Wheeler, of Alabama, graduating in 1887.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Contesting a Live Man's Will.

In the probate court at Cincinnati the case of Mrs. Josephine Pees against J. J. Hopple was heard by Judge Goebel. It is a case in which the daughter sues her father to prevent the carrying out of his will, instead of waiting until after his death to contest it, on the ground that he has, by undue influence, disinherited her not only, but also her son, to aver that she was not his daughter, by reason of some alleged flaw in his marriage to her mother, his first wife.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The Wells elevator in Buffalo was destroyed by fire.

A large copper shop at Reed's Ferry, N. H., was burned.

The weekly payment bill was killed by the Vermont legislature.

Bull fighting has been suppressed in the federal district of Mexico.

Lord Chief Justice Coleridge of England was seized with a stroke in court.

William G. Bell & Co., commission picture merchants, Boston, have assigned.

Mary Hart will entertain the visiting Irish leaders during their stay in Boston.

The Royal Albermarle are preparing to give the count of Paris a brilliant reception in London.

Governor Page says he knows of the existence of three bogus medical colleges in Vermont.

Commercial treaties, without mention of tariffs, may be concluded by the French government.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

A law is proposed in Mexico that only native priests shall occupy the church pulpits in the country.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland. A number of houses at Skibbereen were washed away.

The rumor prevails in London that the Prince of Wales is to take up his residence in Buckingham palace.

The German government proposes to purchase Professor Koch's consumption cure and establish a hospital for its application.

A receiver has been appointed for the Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance company of Wisconsin.

</

Today's Anniversaries.

OFFICERS' SCHOOLS.

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 7.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Fields—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts Cities and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

1808—Quincy thanked Hon. Josiah Quincy for new Bible and gave old one to Rev. Mr. Whitney.

World Wide.

JOHN E. OWENS.

1808—Death of Sir Martin Frobisher, famous navigator.
1811—Battle of Tippecanoe, Ind.
1814—British expelled from Peninsular War by Andrew Jackson.
1815—Death of Jean Andre de Gouvion, naturalist; born 1772.
1816—John P. Loveloy, abolitionist, killed at Alton, Ills.
1820—Birth of Lotta (Charlotte) Cozzens, American actress.
1826—The entire Prussian army called out to enforce execution of the small German states.
1827—England entered Naples as king, and Garibaldi resigned the dictatorship and retired to Capri.
1828—Capture of Port Royal, S. C., by the Union fleet under Admiral Dupont.
1829—Jahns of Italy, 1829.
1830—Revolution in Autumn, France, to seize Napoleon MacMahon; offenders convicted.
1830—Death of John E. Owens, American comedian.
1832—The Japanese minister of foreign affairs may burst by a bomb thrown into his car, and the assassin cut his own throat and died.

BE SAFE IN CANADA.

1841—War Made No Attempt to Kill Dillon and O'Brien.
Nov. 7.—Sir John MacDonald, what fate might be in store Dillon and O'Brien in case they went to Canada, said that the government had no power in the Canadian government to make any information available to the immigrants regarding their safety in Canada and Sir John to be the highest degree that any effort would be made to molest them.

PUGNACIOUS EX-MAYOR
at Career Ended by a Few Shots from a Gun.

Nov. 7.—Ex-Mayor of Westport, a few weeks ago, fled to Canada, and became a fugitive from justice, killed by the chief of police. He was drunk last night and by the police. He was challenged him to fight a duel, in consequence of Cottrell had armed himself with a gun and was sitting outside when Cottrell drove up a few words had been exchanged, began firing, with the intent of killing him.

T SOURED HIM.

Candidate for Office Fatally Hid His Opponent.

Nov. 7.—Col. Thomas R. of the Gazette of the Voice of the People, who was shot and mortally wounded in the arm. Both men were enemies on a Missouri Pacific Higgins was a candidate on before the Democratic nomination and was defeated by in Philadelphia.

Nov. 7.—Four buildings of the city were burned during a loss of $15,000 which the flames started in the Philadelphia Cooperage with a large three-story building up as a soap factory, building, and a large one-story storage destroyed. The Snowden searched and a number of were more or less damaged.

A Thankful Deacon.

Nov. 7.—Henry Winsthrop of the North River Sugar Corp., in a suit brought by Havemeyer and others against the Sugar Trust, has secured judgment of the supreme court of New York and San Francisco in favor of the plaintiff, or carry on any legal proceedings or order of injunctions assets of the trust.

L INTELLIGENCE.

of the New and Markets—Nov. 6.

is the stock market story, the cincos in the market. In today's market, the pounds down. In the Boston recorded marked depreciation.

Stock Market.

For Prof. 75% Oregon Natl. 92

94% Pacific Mail. 49%

Reading 7%

7% Union Pacific 17%

11% Union Pac. 41

10% Wabash S. L. & P. 30

10% Western & Lake Erie 39%

10% Western Union 39%

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

Old Colony Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Souther's Store, Market Street, Plumer's Block, Quincy.
McGill's Store, Copeland Street, West Quincy.
Oram's Store, Jones' Corner.
Miss Bartlett's Store, Granite Point.
Post Office, Weymouth.
Henry B. Vinton, Wollaston Heights.
M. K. Pratt, Braintree.
Weymouth

Today's Almanac—November 7.

High water at 7:30 A.M. and 7:45 P.M.
Sun rises at 6:25; Sets at 4:30.
Moon rises at 1:01 A.M.
New Moon Nov. 12.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by Ledger Reporters.Mr. Chase Parker is still under the weather.Mr. R. P. Blacknur, who has been ill for past ten days, is improving steadily.Senator-elect Eaton received more votes in Quincy than any other candidate.The estate of Kilborn Freeman, at Germantown, has been sold to a Brockton lady.Miss Ada Kedy, of Chelsea, is spending a fortnight with her aunt, Mrs. John L.
Edridge.Mr. Charles Reed and wife have returned to Atlantic after a ten weeks' trip through the South and West.Mr. John Benson is building a new stable on River street. He has several trotters to board this winter.The funeral of Mrs. Sullivan, who died on Wednesday noon, was held from the St. John's church this morning.The engagement of Mr. Charles Duggan and Miss Annie Lovell of Atlantic is announced, the marriage to take place soon.Mr. James H. Stetson is improving his beautiful residence on School street by having it painted brown with light trimmings.Misses Sullivan, Golden and Hoar and another young lady will hold a supper and dance in the old engine house, Atlantic, this evening.The M. E. church of Neponset held a turkey supper and fair in Wood's Hall on Wednesday evening. A number attended from Atlantic.Mr. Herbert L. Boutin who has been in the employ of E. H. Doble & Co. is soon to enter into partnership with Emond Bros., of West Quincy.Mr. F. S. Patch, the coal merchant, after several weeks' illness was able to take dinner with his people Thursday, and will soon be at his business.Rev. E. O. Dyer, of South Braintree, will exchange on Sunday morning with Rev. Geo. Benedict, of the Washington street Congregational church.Twenty members of the Paul Revere Relief Corps of this city went to Hingham by barge Thursday evening, to be present at the inspection of the local corps.Rev. E. S. Ufford of Hingham will give a lecture on the subject "A trip across the continent," illustrated by stereopticon views in the Washington street Congregational church, next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.Miss Lizzie Brewer, bookkeeper for the Quincy Water Company owing to poor health, has been obliged to take a vacation, and leaves today for New Hampshire.
May the change restore her to good health is the wish of her many friends.The greatest loser by the burglary at Mr.
John Cavanagh's has not yet been reported.
Mrs. Fannie Cavanagh, of Boston, daughter of Cornelius Moynihan, of this city, who was staying at Mr. Cavanagh's that night lost a gold watch and chain.Quincy Republicans who voted the straight Republican ticket may congratulate themselves upon the election of half their candidates, the Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Attorney General, Representative to Congress, Councillor, and County Commissioner.A second meeting of the presidents of this city, to arrange for a union meeting, is called for Tuesday at 2 P.M. at Miss Spear's music room, 8 Chestnut street. If unable to be present, presidents are requested to send substitutes or their addresses.Mrs. Salome, wife of Mr. John McKenzie died on Tuesday, at her residence on Water street, after a long and painful sickness, which she bore with Christian meekness. She was a devoted wife, a kind neighbor and a sincere friend. Her husband has the sympathy of a host of friends in this great affliction.The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

Miss Lizzie Callahan, of Boston, is the guest of Miss Lizzie Sullivan, of Quincy.

Dr. Everett has written a letter thanking those in the Sixth district who voted for him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chamberlin of Wollaston are spending the winter in the South.

Rufus J. Haight managing editor of the Monumental News, of Chicago, Ill., is in town today.

Messrs. Herbert W. Marshall and Charles P. Hutchins are building a house on Taylor street, Wollaston.

It will be noticed by a card in today's paper that Mr. E. C. Wimberger, has gone into business for himself. That of carriage and sign painter, with which he has become quite familiar. His shop is at 48 Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Griffin, lately married, were visited by about twenty-five friends last night and presented with an elegant bed lounge. The evening was very pleasantly passed in singing and speaking, when a supper was served. At a late hour the party broke up and all returned to their homes with their best wishes for the happiness of the young couple.

Miss Nellie Coffey who is playing one of the leading feminine parts with the James O'Neill company on the southern and west circuit is making quite a hit and has received many flattering comments from critics. She appeared in Baltimore as Cerisse in the "Dead Heart" and in Cleveland as Mds. Douglass in "Monte Christo."
She is rapidly gaining popularity and the young Quincy actress has very bright prospects before her.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 11, the new Musical hall on Newbury avenue, erected by the Atlantic Social Club, will be dedicated.
Major Porter will deliver an address.

The following artists will appear in the concert to be given: Mr. Wulf Fries,
Mrs. Avis Gray Harriett, Miss Mamie Rogers, Miss Jennie W. Spencer, Mr.
Bertrand J. Harriett, Mr. Clarence Afton Wheeler, Miss Anna E. Wagatt, and the Waverly male quartette.

Houghs Neck Land.

As going to show the high business standing of the members of the firm, it may be advised that William G. Bell was a director in the Everett National Bank for 11 years, having resigned only a few days ago, and that A. D. S. Bell is a director in the Monument National Bank and in the Boston National Bank. The name of A. D. S. Bell has been prominently identified with several enterprises, though the brothers pooled their issues in all financial ventures. The junior member drew $10,000 a year as treasurer of the Minnesota Threshing Company of Minneapolis, was connected with the Aberdeen Land Company, the Suffolk Cordage Company, Houghs Neck Land and Manet electric railway enterprises and others, and was lately chosen one of the two assignees to wind up the affairs of the Worcester steel works.

It has been stated that outside business adventure and speculations have caused the firm's downfall at this time. The direct line of their trade has always been considered profitable. It is understood that they lost through business dealings with the Potter-Lovell Company, although the amount was not large. Mr. W. G. Bell said the principal cause of the failure was the stringency of the money market. Had it not been for that, he said, we should have gone on without any interruption.

We shall prepare a detailed statement of our affairs as soon as possible, and the creditors will then be called together.
What they think best for us to do we shall try to do. The indebtedness is to quite an extent to banks, but there are quite a number of other creditors.

A stranger went to him one day, and without any reference to the matter of their retailer began, "My father died and made a will," and then he went on to tell all Wall street he had recently fitted up and elegant. They are comfortable offices, just as the genial Bob is a comfortable
man. Great numbers of stories are told about him. Here is one guaranteed to be new:

A stranger went to him one day, and without any reference to the matter of their retailer began, "My father died and made a will," and then he went on to tell
all Wall street he had recently fitted up
and elegant. They are comfortable offices,
just as the genial Bob is a comfortable
man. Great numbers of stories are told about him. Here is one guaranteed to be new:

"Do you understand the case now?"
asked the stranger.

"No, sir," responded Mr. Ingersoll, "I do not." Some what embarrassed the stranger went away. He told a friend of his experience with the philosophical lawyer.

"Go back to him," said the friend, "lay a thousand dollar bill on his desk and then talk."

The advice was followed. He was received as one who had never been in the office before. He laid the big bill down and said, "My father died and made a will!"

Mr. Ingersoll was at once interested. He interrupted his new client. "How?" said he, "could your father die and make a will?
Do you not mean that he made a will and then died?"

In half an hour he was familiar with all the details of the case. The story need not convey the impression that Mr. Ingersoll is mercenary.—New York Press.

The extent of the failure cannot be estimated at this time, but it is said half a million will cover it.

Mr. A. D. S. Bell is

President of Quincy Manet Railway, and is the principal stockholder. During the summer he resided at Houghs Neck.

Supt. Morton was seen by a LEDGER representative. That gentleman did not think the company would be involved. It was doing a prosperous business and its stock would find a ready sale if put on the market. Mr. Bell was also one of the Manet Land Associates, but the other gentlemen will see that the bond their property has taken is not retarded.

A jury at Syracuse, N. Y., a few days ago found a verdict for the defendant, but the foreman blunderingly announced a verdict for the plaintiff, and the court recorded the same and gave judgment accordingly. When the mistake was discovered after the jury's discharge the judge said he could not change the record.

The case furnishes a riddle for the lawyers.

While swimming in the Marine dock,
St. Louis, a few days ago Richard Jackson felt a sharp, stinging pain in the leg, and thought he was bitten by a snake.
Dressing himself he was on his way home when he fell screaming in agony.
Investigation disclosed that the "snake bite" was a two inch slice of wood.

Herman Zietung, now in London, expresses a desire to be nailed up in a box and shipped to New York. He has traveled considerably in that way and likes it. He once made the journey between Vienna and Paris in a trunk, and has just completed the trip between Berlin and London, also in a trunk.

Street Commissioner Wolverton, of Adrian, Mich., had a calf which had the habit of sticking its head out of the barn door. Recently a bolt of lightning killed it. The queer part of the case is that the barn entirely escaped.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

Mr. Salome, wife of Mr. John McKenzie died on Tuesday, at her residence on Water street, after a long and painful sickness, which she bore with Christian meekness. She was a devoted wife, a kind neighbor and a sincere friend. Her husband has the sympathy of a host of friends in this great affliction.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

The third entertainment in the M. E.
course, Wollaston, was given in the church
on Wednesday evening. The greeting to
Miss Nellie Kingsbury was very flattering,
encores being given after each reading.
Mrs. A. M. Williams, ever popular,
received a warm welcome and frequent
encores. Mr. T. Harry Sylvester, from Boston University was recalled after each
selection, his harmonica bells taking immensely. Miss Mabel Williams, a young
girl, finely rendered a violin obligato.
Miss M. L. Sylvester and Mrs. W. C. Pierce
were the pianists. Congressman-elect
Morse will give the next lecture in the
course, Nov. 19.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 178.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

PROPERTY.

property of the city, a certain issue, so that the total of a sum by interested parties, rate per thousand $13.00.

Value.	Tax.
$2,000	$41.44
900	500
500	15.60
1,000
200 100
50
3,300
300
2,100
1,200
500
750
3,500	57.80
3,500
700
4,500
4,800
33,000
1,200	648.72
900
1,000	27.84
200	2.72
100 700
150 700 500 100
100	27.16
5,000
450	74.12

Special Bargains
IN
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,
94 Hancock Street, - - - Tirrell's Block.

GENT'S SHOES from LADIES' SHOES from CHILDREN'S SHOES from
James O'Donovan.
Nov. 8.

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY
ORGANS AND PIANOS
AT THE NEW ROOM OF
R. D. CHASE,
In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,
AS HERETOFORE.
Oct. 25.

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.
CORRESPONDENCE OF
JOHN STETSON COMPANY.
OPEN FOR BUSINESS
IN ADAMS BUILDING.
STOCKS, CRAIN and PETROLEUM.
TELEPHONE 9-8.
OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.
Oct. 15.-tf

We Have a Large Stock
— OF —
Imported and Domestic Cigars.
ALL THE POPULAR BRANDS.
5 and 10 Cent Goods.
Also, a Large Stock of Chewing and Smoking Tobacco.
GIVE US A CALL!
ROGERS BROS., Adams Building, Quincy.

50 DOZEN
Children's Knee
Pants,
Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,
DURGIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BLANK POPULAR.

He Received Nearly as Many Votes as

FLINT FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

A Great Indifference or Carelessness on the Part of Voters. The Australian System Responsible for Many Blank Votes.

Curiosity led a representative of the DAILY LEDGER to ascertain the number of blanks cast for the various offices on Tuesday. These he found to vary from 55 for Governor, to 1271 on one of the amendments.

In the case of Representatives there were 660, not that number of voters did not vote for Representatives but they were entitled to vote for three, and some voted for one only, and some for only two, and in the aggregate the blanks counted 666. This was 771 less only than Judge Flint received of the office. In Weymouth the number of blanks for Representatives was even larger, although the total vote was over 400 smaller. There were in that town 748 blanks, a total 1415 in the district, and only 214 less than Mr. Shaw's total vote. Who can tell what the result might have been had these votes been divided among the candidates.

A glance at the auditor's vote shows the number of blanks to have been twice as large as for any other State office, which the LEDGER attributes to the way the ballot was printed, the word "Republican" not ending the line near the square for marking, as will be seen below:

AUDITOR.	Vote for one.
CHARLES R. LADD, of Springfield, Republican Voter Non Paper.
AUGUSTUS R. SMITH, of Leominster.	Prohibition.
WILLIAM D. T. TREFRY, of Marblehead.	Democratic.

There were undoubtedly those voters who put their cross against the party designated rather than the candidate and through this carelessness throughout the State Mr. Ladd was defeated, rather than from any feeling against him.

It was surprising that even fifty-five who went to the polls did not vote for governor. Below is the number of blanks for each office:

Governor.	55
Lieut-Governor.	73
Secretary.	107
Treasurer and Receiver-General.	116
Auditor.	234
Attorney-General.	117
Representatives in Congress,
Second district.	101
Councillor, Second district.	142
County Commissioner.	139
District Attorney, South-eastern district,	174
Senator, First Norfolk district,	132
Representatives in General Court,
Fifth Norfolk district,	666
Amendment, Disfranchisement of Voters,	1111
Amendment, Soldiers' Exemption,	1271

The amount saved was 1 foot of dry pine wood. Prizes, $2, $1, and 50 cents respectively. John didn't have to walk home; it was a happy time all round.

The Senate a Tie.

An error has been discovered in the returns of the First Plymouth Senatorial District, which elects Thomas Alden of Duxbury, the Democrat, in place of Mr. Oakman as reported, and ties the Massachusetts Senate.

The Democrats will thus be able to defeat any apportionment of the State into Congressional Districts, which to them seems unfair.

K. OF H. FAIR, BRAINTREE.
A Wood Sawing Match One of the Features Last Night.

For three nights of this week the above organization has held a fair and entertainment at the Town hall. We only attended the last night and judging from the attendance on that evening we should say that the financial returns must have been highly satisfactory.

The features of Thursday evening were the ladies' hat trimming contest, in which each contestant was allowed twenty minutes time to exercise his taste and skill on this essential adornment to lovely woman. Mr. Holland of Hall avenue proved to be the best milliner. F. A. Oliver's, W. A. Kane's and Charles Sherman's work was judged in the order named.

The Vincent quartette sang some fine melodies on Tuesday night.

Friday evening the program was as follows: Miss Annie Bonney of Whitman, declamation, which was loudly encored, when she responded with a comic recitation of the young man who was thought to be in love, but 'twas only a bug crawling down his spinal column. A fine piano duet by Messrs. Hayward and Whitmarsh of Neponset. At this point the Right Hon. John Foster Gray of East Braintree entered the hall amid the prolonged applause of the audience. Miss Ethel Holland of four summers or thereabouts recited "Specially Jim" and "You'd scarce expect one of my age," etc., ending with a rapturous ovation. Then came a solo by Master Hayward of Neponset.

The silver berry spoon was given to J. B. Poore, our popular blacksmith; and child's carriage robe to Mrs. Clara Sanborn of Crescent avenue, mother of Richard and John Sanborn. Mr. Charles Hill had the most votes in the whip contest, but there were more to come when this was reported.

Mr. W. A. Kane acted as master of ceremonies in a really happy manner. The next and last thing on the tapis was the wood sawing match, in which the winners and their time is given:

F. A. Oliver, 16 minutes, 30 seconds.

Chas. Townsend, 18 minutes, 45 seconds. Right Hon. John Foster Gray who should have had his saw horse nailed down, 23 minutes.

The amount saved was 1 foot of dry pine wood. Prizes, $2, $1, and 50 cents respectively. John didn't have to walk home; it was a happy time all round.

The Senate a Tie.

An error has been discovered in the returns of the First Plymouth Senatorial District, which elects Thomas Alden of Duxbury, the Democrat, in place of Mr. Oakman as reported, and ties the Massachusetts Senate.

The Democrats will thus be able to defeat any apportionment of the State into Congressional Districts, which to them seems unfair.

This will be a people's mass caucus. Let everybody take part in it. The LEDGER will be chairman, and it will be a caucus with nothing "packed" or "cut and dried" about it.

Be ready for the ballot on Monday. The polls will close at 9 A. M., Wednesday next, November 12.

Initial Trip of the Plymouth.

The new steamboat Plymouth of the Fall River line is completed, and is now ready for service in connection with the fleet with which she is to consort. She made her first trip between Fall River and New York on Thursday night, Nov. 6.

The Plymouth is a beautiful craft to look upon. Her proportions are excellent, and her lines are as delicate and graceful as those of an artistic piece of sculpture. Her model insures ease and comfort and safety in the water; and, if she does not prove a good sea boat and fast sailer, then the "calculations" of many good judges of marine construction will be sadly at fault.

The dimensions of the Plymouth are as follows: Length on water line, 351 feet 8 inches; length over all, 396 feet; beam, moulded, 50 feet; breath over guards, about 80 feet; depth, moulded at lowest point of sheer, 21 feet. Like the Pilgrim and Puritan, the Plymouth is constructed on the double hull, bracket plate and longitudinal system, every effort having been directed toward securing absolute safety for the ship as regards sinking or destruction by fire.

The general finish of the woodwork in the saloons and staterooms of the Plymouth is in panels of the same style as found in the Puritan, and nearly of the same tinting and ornamentation. The quarter-deck is finished in figured panels and differs from that of every other boat of the line. The flooring is of fine mosaic work, as are the floors of the more important rooms contiguous. On one side of this deck forward is the purser's office, and on the opposite the barber's shop, while midway between the two is the single flight stairway leading to the grand saloon.

The staterooms are arranged mainly in two tiers along each side of the saloon and gallery decks. Of parlor rooms there are 15; and these are identical in finish, furnishings and ornamentation with those of the Puritan.

In short, in every department and particularly of construction, appliance and accommodation, this new craft is the peer of any ship of her class afloat, while she has excellencies of many kinds peculiar to herself.

Her machinery proves a marvel of simple and perfect running, and, massive as it is, can be entirely controlled by the little finger of the engineer.—Boston Herald.

OUT OF THE FIELD.

A Report on the Street This Morning that

MAYOR PORTER WILL NOT RUN.

The Ledger Representative Unable to Obtain an Interview With His Honor Since Hearing the Report.

There has been considerable anxiety among voters, and would-be candidates for Mayor, to learn whether Mr. Porter was in the field for a re-nomination. A representative of the DAILY LEDGER was informed this morning by what he considered reliable authority that Mayor Porter had positively decided not to be a candidate for re-nomination. An important reason for this decision was that his brother, his business partner was ill health, and the increasing business of the firm demanded more of his time.

Mayor Porter has held the office for two years and aside from some of his appointments, has discharged the duties very acceptably to the people.

The representative of the DAILY LEDGER regrets that His Honor had left Boston this morning before he heard the news, but deeming the report of importance he has given it to the readers.

WHO IS YOUR CHOICE?

A People's Mass Caucus to Obtain the Preference of Voters for Mayor.

The following plan originated with the Brockton Enterprise to obtain the choice of the voters in that city and we reproduce it, making it applicable to Quincy.

Who for Mayor?

Next comes the municipal election, and nobody has any definite idea as to who will be the next mayor, or even who will be the candidate for that office.

With an idea of getting an expression of public preference in the matter, the DAILY LEDGER will on Monday print a blank ballot, which it would be glad to have each reader fill out with the name of the man he believes would make the best mayor for '91 and then send it to this office, addressed "Mayoralty Vote, DAILY LEDGER." No one will of course be entitled to cast more than one vote, and each ballot must be signed by the name of the voter—not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. If accompanied by brief and pointed statements as to why the voter believes the man he names would ably fill the office, so much the better.

This will be a people's mass caucus. Let everybody take part in it. The LEDGER will be chairman, and it will be a caucus with nothing "packed" or "cut and dried" about it.

Be ready for the ballot on Monday. The polls will close at 9 A. M., Wednesday next, November 12.

Initial Trip of the Plymouth.

The new steamboat Plymouth of the Fall River line is completed, and is now ready for service in connection with the fleet with which she is to consort. She made her first trip between Fall River and New York on Thursday night, Nov. 6.

The Plymouth is a beautiful craft to look upon. Her proportions are excellent, and her lines are as delicate and graceful as those of an artistic piece of sculpture. Her model insures ease and comfort and safety in the water; and, if she does not prove a good sea boat and fast sailer, then the "calculations" of many good judges of marine construction will be sadly at fault.

The dimensions of the Plymouth are as follows: Length on water line, 351 feet 8 inches; length over all, 396 feet; beam, moulded, 50 feet; breath over guards, about 80 feet; depth, moulded at lowest point of sheer, 21 feet. Like the Pilgrim and Puritan, the Plymouth is constructed on the double hull, bracket plate and longitudinal system, every effort having been directed toward securing absolute safety for the ship as regards sinking or destruction by fire.

The general finish of the woodwork in the saloons and staterooms of the Plymouth is in panels of the same style as found in the Puritan, and nearly of the same tinting and ornamentation. The quarter-deck is finished in figured panels and differs from that of every other boat of the line. The flooring is of fine mosaic work, as are the floors of the more important rooms contiguous. On one side of this deck forward is the purser's office, and on the opposite the barber's shop, while midway between the two is the single flight stairway leading to the grand saloon.

The staterooms are arranged mainly in two tiers along each side of the saloon and gallery decks. Of parlor rooms there are 15; and these are identical in finish, furnishings and ornamentation with those of the Puritan.

In short, in every department and particularly of construction, appliance and accommodation, this new craft is the peer of any ship of her class afloat, while she has excellencies of many kinds peculiar to herself.

Her machinery proves a marvel of simple and perfect running, and, massive as it is, can be entirely controlled by the little finger of the engineer.—Boston Herald.

WANTED.

WANTED—People to know that it costs but 25 cents the first day and 75 cents a week, for four lines in this column; to be paid invariably in advance.

TO LET.

TO LET—New house at Wollaston, 6 rooms, bath room, hot and cold water, and furnace. Call or address F. A. PERKINS, 45 Elm street, Quincy. Nov. 5-11

TO LET—A large, sunny front room, furnished or unfurnished. Apply at 43 Elm street, Quincy, Mass. Nov. 6-11

TO LET—Houses, Stores, Offices, Society Halls, and Light Manufacturing Rooms in Quincy and vicinity; also large variety of Estates for sale on easy terms. GEORGE H. BROWN & CO., Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Agents, Adams Building, Quincy.

TO LET—Nice House and Stable on Greenleaf street and bounded place. Apply to MRS. S. D. HOLDEN, 9 Adams street, Quincy. Oct. 29-11

TO LET—In French's building, Chestnut St., opposite the Congregational Church. Large rooms up one flight. Suitable for Dressmaker, Tailor or Barber. Apply at Bussell's Studio, Adams building. 11-11

FOR SALE.

TO LET—The Estate belonging to the late Mr. John Page, consisting of one story and a half cottage house, and about 14,000 feet of land, situated on Foster street.

JOHN PAGE, 104 Hancock St. Quincy, Feb. 15. 21-21

Deu Indianska Doktoren Svenska. Consultation Free in Boston.

THE Indian Doctor who gave Indian Camp Shows in Quincy last July,

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)
— BY —
GREEN & PRESCOTT,
115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for by week.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion, and each additional insertion.

Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

A BARRIER BETWEEN THEM.

Hostile Neighbors in Africa Who Have Established a No Man's Land.

A little British expedition recently steamed far up the Benue branch of the Niger river in a small steam launch, and finally entered a tributary of the Benue and explored a region which no white man has ever visited before. The most interesting thing about their journey was the curious experience they had with the natives.

They had been passing for a good while through a region that was inhabited by Modem blacks, fruits of the rather severe methods of conversion employed by the Arab invaders of the Sondan. The country was very fertile, and the people were numerous; but all of a sudden, though the country still wore its usual aspect, and the soil was apparently rich, population entirely ceased. For a stretch of over twenty miles not a hut was to be seen, nor was a single sign of human life anywhere observed. The expedition wondered at this remarkable state of affairs, for the country was certainly inviting, and they could not imagine why it had no inhabitants.

All at once, however, as they rounded a bend in the river they saw big crowds of natives running down the slopes of the hill to the bank. They brandished their spears at the white men on the little boat, and told them to go back, for they wanted no Moslems in their country. There was an interpreter on the vessel, who succeeded in convincing the natives that the visitors were not Moslems, and thereupon the people became quite friendly.

Then the reason for this curious lack of population was ascertained. When the tribes who had been converted to Islam found the natives near them were just as strong as they were, the spread of their religion in that direction abruptly ceased, but these heathen people and the Moslem converts near them could not live at peace with one another. It was finally decided that as they could not be good neighbors, a stretch of country should be placed between them where no one should live, and in that way they expected to get along with less bloodshed.

So all the people who inhabited this fertile region, about twenty miles wide, packed up their little belongings and moved away, and the stretch of country thus came to be without a single inhabitant. Today it is a No Man's Land, and the only reason is that the people who are neighbors there cannot live on friendly terms, and, having tired of fighting, have put this barrier between them.—Boston Herald.

Freak of a Sonnambulist.

A young man who is well known in this city had an unpleasant experience a short time ago. He is a sonnambulist, and often does peculiar things in his sleep. He went to visit some friends in Waterbury, and as he was not in the habit of retiring as early as the members of the family he was visiting, he remained up and took his shoes off before ascending the stairs.

A few nights after his return to his home he lay down on a lounge and fell asleep. After sleeping soundly half hour he awoke, walked to the foot of the stairs, took off his shoes, and not being content with doing that, he drew off his stockings also. He then clambered upstairs to his room. Taking a match from his pocket he brought one of his feet up so that he could reach the bottom of it, and then deliberately scratched the match on the flat surface.

The match did not light immediately, but he kept on scratching. Finally the match did light. The man was unconscious of the fact and kept on scratching. Suddenly he awoke in great pain from the burn. He limped about for several days, and since that time questions about the proper mode of lighting a match have been distasteful to him.—New Haven Palladium.

Honors to a Dead Dog.

I saw a queer corpse in the undertaking establishment of Lewis Jones, on LaGrange street, a few days ago, queer even in that grim receptacle. On the embalming board lay the body of a prettily brown spaniel and near by a handsomely constructed hardwood box, elegantly lined, which was to doggie's chamber when planted in the cold, cold ground. The animal was the pet of a rich lady, who, when he one day became ill, sent him to the dog hospital, and when he died had his body cared for with as much tenderness as though he were a human being. Doggie was shipped from here to the lady's former home in Maine, where the animal was interred with full honors.—Boston Record.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 151 in the Union Square this week, against 164 last week, and 248 the week before. Canada had 37 this week, against 30 last week. The total number of failures in the United States, Jan. 1 to date, is 8302, against 9631 in a like portion of 1882.

A Singular Accident.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—A passenger train loaded with gunpowder collided near Berlin and a terrible explosion followed. The two engineers and several passengers were injured, but no one is reported to have been killed.

Under the British Flag.

ZANZIBAR, Nov. 8.—The establishment of the British protectorate over Zanzibar has been formally proclaimed.

THE WEEK'S FAILURES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 151 in the Union Square this week, against 164 last week, and 248 the week before. Canada had 37 this week, against 30 last week.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

WATSON, Nov. 8.—Forecast for New England: Fair; continued high temperature; slightly warmer in southwester Maine; southerly winds.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.
Well-Known Newspaper Man Locked Up in a Lowell Police Station.

LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 8.—Henry J. Moulton was arrested at Young's hotel, in Boston, on a charge of forgery. He is well known as a newspaper man, and also for his connection with state house matters and politics. Some ten years ago he was the New York correspondent of a Boston daily paper, and continued to act for the same paper after he came to Lowell to take the editorship of The Daily Citizen. After this he became editor of The State, a Republican paper in Boston, and when that ceased to exist he took editorial charge of The Lowell Sunday Critic. He was also for several years editor of the state board of health, and this office has always been busy with political and state matters. While running The Critic he got into financial difficulties, and is alleged to have forged upon the Appleton National bank here, using the name, as is understood, of John H. Buttrick, a man of considerable wealth, and a friend of Moulton.

The warrant was sworn out by President J. F. Kimball, of the Appleton bank. Moulton was held at the police station late during the evening while friends endeavored to procure bail, but up to a late hour last night had been unsuccessful, and he was locked up. An attempt is to be made to settle the matter, and it is possible that this may be done, although the matter has been under consideration for several months.

The amount involved is about $1000. The case is hardly within the outer criminal law. Buttrick has endorsed Moulton's paper for years, and it is generally understood here that he gave him more or less liberty in the use of the name in raising money.

An Original Package Case.

WORCESTER, Nov. 8.—In the superior court, yesterday, in the case of Francis Lavoie, druggist of Sutton, was tried for illegal keeping of intoxicating liquor. The officers testified they found a lot of Bass' ale and lager beer in bottles sealed with tin foil. Lavoie admitted that he sold the ale and beer, but claimed that he had a right to sell them in the original packages as agent of one Stebbins of Woonsocket. The government claimed that the bottles were not original packages in the meaning of the supreme court decision, and Judge Aldrich sustained the point. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty, and the case will go to the supreme court on exception.

Verdict of Almost $50,000.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—In the superior court, the jury returned a verdict of $49,439.15 for the plaintiffs in the case of Joseph W. Low et al. vs. the American Insurance Company, which was an action to recover on policies of insurance on the factory and stock of the plaintiffs on Belmont street, Cambridge, destroyed by fire on March 4, 1887. The defendants claimed that the plaintiffs made false representations as to the value of the stock, and that they claimed that certain stock was not there.

Viscount Cantelupe was a nephew of Baron Sackville. He climbed the rigging and cleared the masts for a while, but the cold was so bitter that he became numb and was swept overboard.

MR. BALFOUR'S JOURNEY.

For Him Lead to a Scrimmage Between Unionists and Nationalists.

DUBLIN, Nov. 8.—Mr. Balfour left Gwydir yesterday and went to Letterkenny.

There he had a long interview with the Catholic bishop and received deputations of prominent Unionists asking for railway concessions. Mr. Balfour declared that the present government's policy of conciliation would be looked back upon as an era of efficient public works in the poor districts of Ireland. On arriving at Omagh he received an address from the inhabitants.

Here a number of Nationalists cheered for Gladstone and O'Brien and were attacked by the Unionists. A scrimmage ensued, the Unionists, who were in greater numbers, finally supressing the Nationalists. When the row was over Mr. Balfour went to Londonderry, where he was welcomed by the people.

At Portadown, where he met Dr. Bright of Oxford.

Three hundred people are reported killed by an explosion of the government powder mill at Portadown.

The police think they are on the track of the one who attempted to kill Dr. Bright of Oxford.

Three hundred people are reported killed by an explosion of the government powder mill at Portadown.

President Thomas of the New York Produce Exchange has written to Secretary Blaine urging reciprocity with Newfoundland.

Judge Thurman comments with satisfaction on the result of the elections and says the people revolted against the McKinley bill.

Henry H. Johnson of Haverhill, Mass., Republican, a member of the house in 1889 and 1890, has been re-elected on a recent.

President Thomas of the New York Produce Exchange has written to Secretary Blaine urging reciprocity with Newfoundland.

Judge Thurman comments with satisfaction on the result of the elections and says the people revolted against the McKinley bill.

Henry H. Johnson of Haverhill, Mass., Republican, a member of the house in 1889 and 1890, has been re-elected on a recent.

As a result of Emperor William's intervention, Dr. Koch's consumption cure will be given government support and its benefits extended throughout the world.

Senator Sherman remarks that the Republicans have been snubbed under before, and predicts that another year, when the people have begun to realize the benefits of the new tariff bill, will see a different result.

While fencing at Bath, Me., Thursday night, in a play "Joan of Arc," Miss Marion Banks, the actress, broke the mid-finger of her right hand. She showed a great deal of suffering, and as soon as the bone was set, resumed her part, but was soon taken ill.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

Charles Raymond, Jr., 23 years old, was thrown from a New York, Providence and Boston freight train at Lonsdale, R. I., and was run over and killed.

Early yesterday morning a train on the Missouri Pacific was wrecked by train robbers.

The escape of the passengers from death was remarkable.

General Miles gives an interesting account of the religious craze among the Indians and expresses the belief that the Mormons are prime movers in it.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

As a result of Emperor William's intervention, Dr. Koch's consumption cure will be given government support and its benefits extended throughout the world.

Senator Sherman remarks that the Republicans have been snubbed under before, and predicts that another year, when the people have begun to realize the benefits of the new tariff bill, will see a different result.

While fencing at Bath, Me., Thursday night, in a play "Joan of Arc," Miss Marion Banks, the actress, broke the mid-finger of her right hand. She showed a great deal of suffering, and as soon as the bone was set, resumed her part, but was soon taken ill.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

Charles Raymond, Jr., 23 years old, was thrown from a New York, Providence and Boston freight train at Lonsdale, R. I., and was run over and killed.

Early yesterday morning a train on the Missouri Pacific was wrecked by train robbers.

The escape of the passengers from death was remarkable.

General Miles gives an interesting account of the religious craze among the Indians and expresses the belief that the Mormons are prime movers in it.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

As a result of Emperor William's intervention, Dr. Koch's consumption cure will be given government support and its benefits extended throughout the world.

Senator Sherman remarks that the Republicans have been snubbed under before, and predicts that another year, when the people have begun to realize the benefits of the new tariff bill, will see a different result.

While fencing at Bath, Me., Thursday night, in a play "Joan of Arc," Miss Marion Banks, the actress, broke the mid-finger of her right hand. She showed a great deal of suffering, and as soon as the bone was set, resumed her part, but was soon taken ill.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

As a result of Emperor William's intervention, Dr. Koch's consumption cure will be given government support and its benefits extended throughout the world.

Senator Sherman remarks that the Republicans have been snubbed under before, and predicts that another year, when the people have begun to realize the benefits of the new tariff bill, will see a different result.

While fencing at Bath, Me., Thursday night, in a play "Joan of Arc," Miss Marion Banks, the actress, broke the mid-finger of her right hand. She showed a great deal of suffering, and as soon as the bone was set, resumed her part, but was soon taken ill.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

As a result of Emperor William's intervention, Dr. Koch's consumption cure will be given government support and its benefits extended throughout the world.

Senator Sherman remarks that the Republicans have been snubbed under before, and predicts that another year, when the people have begun to realize the benefits of the new tariff bill, will see a different result.

While fencing at Bath, Me., Thursday night, in a play "Joan of Arc," Miss Marion Banks, the actress, broke the mid-finger of her right hand. She showed a great deal of suffering, and as soon as the bone was set, resumed her part, but was soon taken ill.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

As a result of Emperor William's intervention, Dr. Koch's consumption cure will be given government support and its benefits extended throughout the world.

Senator Sherman remarks that the Republicans have been snubbed under before, and predicts that another year, when the people have begun to realize the benefits of the new tariff bill, will see a different result.

While fencing at Bath, Me., Thursday night, in a play "Joan of Arc," Miss Marion Banks, the actress, broke the mid-finger of her right hand. She showed a great deal of suffering, and as soon as the bone was set, resumed her part, but was soon taken ill.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

As a result of Emperor William's intervention, Dr. Koch's consumption cure will be given government support and its benefits extended throughout the world.

Senator Sherman remarks that the Republicans have been snubbed under before, and predicts that another year, when the people have begun to realize the benefits of the new tariff bill, will see a different result.

While fencing at Bath, Me., Thursday night, in a play "Joan of Arc," Miss Marion Banks, the actress, broke the mid-finger of her right hand. She showed a great deal of suffering, and as soon as the bone was set, resumed her part, but was soon taken ill.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

As a result of Emperor William's intervention, Dr. Koch's consumption cure will be given government support and its benefits extended throughout the world.

Senator Sherman remarks that the Republicans have been snubbed under before, and predicts that another year, when the people have begun to realize the benefits of the new tariff bill, will see a different result.

While fencing at Bath, Me., Thursday night, in a play "Joan of Arc," Miss Marion Banks, the actress, broke the mid-finger of her right hand. She showed a great deal of suffering, and as soon as the bone was set, resumed her part, but was soon taken ill.

A dispatch from Kiel says that a German tourist was ashore near Svanehaven, on Bornholm Island, Denmark, and that a steamer has gone to his rescue.

As a result of Emperor William's intervention, Dr. Koch's

Today's Anniversaries.

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 8.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Fields—Birth and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts Cities and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

First passenger train run between Boston and Plymouth.

Division 5, Ancient Order of Hibernians, organized in Quincy

World Wide.

Death of Louis VIII, of France, called Le Lion;

Death of Cardinal Ximenes, governor of Spain during minority of Charles V;

Death of Frederick I, King of Bohemia, defeated by the Austrians near Prague;

Death of John Milton; ARCHER

Death of John Byron, distinguished French revolutionist;

Death of Louis II, 13 years old, was declared by the Cortes to be of age;

Purchase of eight acres of ground in Sydney for $1,000,000.

Death of George Peacock, dean of Ely, mathematician and astronomer.

Sir-Louis re-elected president in the United States

Signed his command in the Mexican revolution;

Death of Capt. C. F. Hall, American arctic explorer;

Death of Maria Vittoria, ex-queen of Spain, died in Italy; greatly lamented; aged 82.

Death of Fred Archer, famous English boxer.

Tomorrow's Anniversaries.—Nov. 9.

Quincy adopted resolutions complimentary to Hon. Charles Francis Adams, minister to England.

Great-Britain fire.

World Wide.

Death of Mark Akenside, English poet; died 1772.

Death of Paul Sandby, founder of English school of topography and Gobertone, implicated in the Gordon riot, put to death at Madrid.

Death of Edward, Prince of Wales, born.

Death of Alexander of Russia, heir to the crown, son of Princess Dagmar, of Denmark.

Death of Louis received as British ambassador in Paris.

Death of Germans, under Gen. Von der Tann, defeated between Coulmiers and Baccon, near Paris, retired to Thionville.

Death of Bonaparte; loss $73,600,000.

Death in Edinburgh, Scotland, of James Hall, publisher.

Smaller City of Waco burned off Galveston, Tex., Oct. 25.

Removing Notes from the Eye.

The following is a simple and expeditious way of removing specks from the eye. The only instrument needed is a wooden toothpick or match, made sharp at the point. Hard wood, however, is preferable. The sufferer stands in a good light and rests his body and head against a door, post or some fixed object. With the thumb and finger the operator holds the eyelids sufficiently apart to see plainly the front of the eye and also to prevent winking. If the speck be on the cornea it may be difficult to see it, and it can then only be found by changing the direction of sight until a favorable position is secured.

Stanley's Course Sharply Criticized.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Mr. Bartelot says that Stanley's account of his brother's death is completely at variance with Jameson's account and Sorga's confession.

Lieut. Baert, one of the officers who tried Sorga, says that Stanley's assertion that an English jury would have acquitted him seems to be in contradiction of the court martial's fairness. Sorga's only defense was that Bartelot was about to strike his wife, and as the Manxmen penalty for murder is merely pecuniary, Sorga needed no further provocation. Bonapart did not appear until after the scene, and if Stanley depends on the accounts of the Manxmen, he must remember that they were relatives of the murderer.

In justifying his brother's severity as necessary, under the circumstances, and only the same as that to which Stanley was accustomed to resort, Mr. Bartelot declares that Stanley only raised the question of the punishment of the court martial's fairness. Sorga's only defense was that Bartelot was about to strike his wife, and as the Manxmen penalty for murder is merely pecuniary, Sorga needed no further provocation. Bonapart did not appear until after the scene, and if Stanley depends on the accounts of the Manxmen, he must remember that they were relatives of the murderer.

The most difficult part of the business is to have the inexperienced person fix the sight on some object and hold the eye perfectly quiet. If this can be done only for a few seconds the operator approaches the mote with the point of the stick, still holding the eyelid, and with gentle passes and gradual advances soon touches the speck and brings it away. The transparency of the eye makes it necessary to approach the surface with care, or it will be reached before it is expected. If the mote is hidden underneath the upper eyelid the eyelash should be gently raised, while the upper part of the lid is held downward with the stick. When turned the stick is withdrawn and the lid is held in this position by the eyes.

Stanley's Course Sharply Criticized.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 8.—At a lengthy conference of Republicans to consider the legislative situation a committee was appointed to canvass matters thoroughly and report at a future meeting. The party continues to claim the house by a good majority, and doubtless will until the roll is made up by the clerk the first Wednesday in January next. It is highly probable that the superior court will be called upon to decide the rights of the members chosen from the towns formerly classed, and possibly those conditionally elected to seats in the house. The situation is certainly very complicated.

A Complicated Situation.

Mr. Bartelot says that although the rear column was composed of feeble and sick men and the worst characters, and it was in a miserable condition through famine and inactivity the mortals he had less than in Stanley's opinion. Bartelot says the column diminished with 300 lashes, and if it had been magnified so much the mortality was only due to bad and insufficient food.

Bartelot was absent from June 24 to July 17, and was killed July 19, therefore he could not have been responsible for the defeat last evening. Mrs. Lucy Peabody, the widow of the officers and was arrested with number of local Anarchists. Herr Most was present, but escaped in the crowd.

LATER.—The trouble was more serious than at first reported. The police were attacked and there were loud cries of "shoot them," "kill them." The police reserves were called out and after a hard fight quelled the riot. Most escaped to the house of an Anarchist, but is being watched by the police.

Big Loss to Republicans.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 8.—An Anarchist meeting at Sanger hall was broken up by the police last evening. Mrs. Lucy Peabody, the widow of the officers and was arrested with number of local Anarchists. Herr Most was present, but escaped in the crowd.

LATER.—The trouble was more serious than at first reported. The police were attacked and there were loud cries of "shoot them," "kill them." The police reserves were called out and after a hard fight quelled the riot. Most escaped to the house of an Anarchist, but is being watched by the police.

Anarchists Bagged.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 8.—An Anarchist meeting at Sanger hall was broken up by the police last evening. Mrs. Lucy Peabody, the widow of the officers and was arrested with number of local Anarchists. Herr Most was present, but escaped in the crowd.

LATER.—The trouble was more serious than at first reported. The police were attacked and there were loud cries of "shoot them," "kill them." The police reserves were called out and after a hard fight quelled the riot. Most escaped to the house of an Anarchist, but is being watched by the police.

A Change of mind has often occurred after the marriage bands have been published. A clergyman tells recently of a man having put in the bands, and after they had been twice published asked if he might substitute the name of another girl for the one first entered, adding by way of explanation: "I think she will suit me better in the long run." On being told that the change could not be effected unless the first bands were withdrawn, others substituted and the fees paid a second time, also that the full amount, including three Sundays, must be paid before the marriage could be celebrated, the man hesitated. "Certainly," was the reply, "the bands must be published three times in the names of the persons who are actually to be married." And must I pay all over again if I have the other girl?" "Yes," said the clergyman. "Well, I call that too bad."

The candidate for matrimony remained for some moments in a brown study, then broke out with: "Then I'll stick to the first girl. I'm not going to pay twice over for anybody." He was married during the following week in accordance with this decision, evidently considering the proposed substitution would be too dear at the price of double fees. This did not say much for No. 2, as would be bridgemen are usually of all people most inclined to be liberal.—Ladies' Treasury.

Railroad Wages Advanced.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8.—The wages of the freight engineers and firemen in the employ of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad company have been increased 20 cents a day. The engineers are advanced from $3.50 to $3.70, and the firemen from $1.63 to $1.55.

AGAINST STANLEY.

Some of His Statements Contradicted by Lieut. Troup.

TERRIBLE PANGS OF HUNGER

And Other Privations Suffered by the Explorer's Officers—Maj. Bartelot's Brother Out in a Sharp Criticism.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The Journal says:

Lieut. J. Rose Troup, the rear guard in the late expedition for the relief of Emin Pasha gave a Journal reporter yesterday some interesting facts in relation to the mode of living at camp Yumbuya. Mr. Troup has from the first maintained that Mr. Stanley was responsible for the starvation and death that reduced the rear guard to more than half. In an interview in New York on Thursday Mr. Stanley censured the officers of the rear guard for not breaking into the stores left in their charge in order to save themselves from death by starvation. Lieut. Troup has proof to sustain his contention. Stanley's last instruction to Maj. Bartelot was to guard carefully the stores and give them for the advance guard when it should return; for "the loss of the stores means the ruin of the expedition, and without them, like Emin Pasha, we should be lost."

Lieut. Troup says that Maj. Bartelot would have died before touching any of the stores thus intrusted to his care.

Mr. Stanley alluded in such a broad manner to the white men of the rear guard as though they were not to be trusted.

Peterburg, Ind., Nov. 8.—The town of Pike county, was wiped out by fire. The houses were all frame structures, and not one is left standing, 400 people being left homeless. There was no great excitement.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Acting Adj.

Gen. McKeever has submitted his annual report to the secretary of war. The report says that the desertsions from the army during the past year were 49 less than in the previous year.

Two important measures long advocated by the adjutant general's office have, as yet, recently become laws. The first authorizes the establishment of summary courts for the prompt cognizance of minor offenses, and the second provides that when the punishment is left to the discretion of court marshals it shall not, in time of peace, exceed a limit which the president may by law prescribe.

A well considered code of punishment for all military offenses has been enacted, specially prescribed by the rules and regulations of war, will undoubtedly remove a great source of irritation and discontent resulting in the present inequality of punishment awarded offenses of a similar nature, but committed at different times and at different posts.

At the date of his last annual report,

Gen. McKeever says the canteen system, while giving promise of full realization of the anticipations which had led to its creation, has not, in reality, developed.

Great progress, however, has been recently made and, the preliminary details having been accomplished, the institution may be considered as permanently established. At present canteens are in successful operation at eighty-six posts, and during the six months ended June 30, 1890, transacted a business of $474,625, with a resulting profit of $38,400.

In addition to the operations of the general recruiting service in the larger cities, Gen. McKeever says, temporary rendezvous posts are established in time of war.

Lieut. Troup claims that Stanley showed very poor management when he appointed such a martinet in charge of the rear guard.

Mr. Stanley alluded in such a broad manner to the white men of the rear guard as though they were not to be trusted.

Mr. Stanley said on Thursday that the Mexican government had placed an import duty on cattle from the United States, the secretary of agriculture immediately called the attention of the department of state to this matter, with a request that the real facts be ascertained.

He is now in receipt of a communication

from the department of state enclosing a telegram from the United States consul

at Nuevo Laredo to reply to one

from the Mexican government.

Stanley's last instruction to Maj. Bartelot

was to guard carefully the stores and give them for the advance guard when it should return; for "the loss of the stores

means the ruin of the expedition, and without them, like Emin Pasha, we should be lost."

Lieut. Troup says that Maj. Bartelot

would have died before touching any of the stores thus intrusted to his care.

Mr. Stanley said on Thursday that the

Mexican government had placed an import duty on cattle from the United States, the secretary of agriculture immediately called the attention of the department of state to this matter, with a request

that the real facts be ascertained.

He is now in receipt of a communication

from the department of state enclosing a telegram from the United States consul

at Nuevo Laredo to reply to one

from the Mexican government.

Stanley's last instruction to Maj. Bartelot

was to guard carefully the stores and give them for the advance guard when it

should return; for "the loss of the stores

means the ruin of the expedition, and without them, like Emin Pasha, we should be lost."

Lieut. Troup says that Maj. Bartelot

would have died before touching any of the stores thus intrusted to his care.

Mr. Stanley said on Thursday that the

Mexican government had placed an import duty on cattle from the United States, the secretary of agriculture immediately called the attention of the department of state to this matter, with a request

that the real facts be ascertained.

He is now in receipt of a communication

from the department of state enclosing a telegram from the United States consul

at Nuevo Laredo to reply to one

from the Mexican government.

Stanley's last instruction to Maj. Bartelot

was to guard carefully the stores and give them for the advance guard when it

should return; for "the loss of the stores

means the ruin of the expedition, and without them, like Emin Pasha, we should be lost."

Lieut. Troup says that Maj. Bartelot

would have died before touching any of the stores thus intrusted to his care.

Mr. Stanley said on Thursday that the

Mexican government had placed an import duty on cattle from the United States, the secretary of agriculture immediately called the attention of the department of state to this matter, with a request

that the real facts be ascertained.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Lester's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern's Store, Franklin Street, West Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Copeland Street, Quincy
Post Office, Jones' Corner, Quincy Heights
Henry B. Vinton, Wollaston Heights
M. K. Pratt, Braintree
Weymouth

Today's Almanac—November 8.
High water at 8:15 A. M. and 8:30 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:27; Sets at 4:29.
Moon rises at 2:03 A. M.
New Moon Nov. 12.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by Ledger Reporters.Rogers Bros. have all the popular brands of imported and domestic cigars.Bargains can always be found at the Quincy One Price Clothing store.The City Council will meet next week on Wednesday evening, instead of Monday.Will our contemporary please explain what a "motorneer" has to do with an electric car.Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Rogers mourn the loss of their infant son, who died last night.Mr. James R. Wild shot a coon weighing over twenty pounds in Milton, on Wednesday night.James O'Donovan offers special bargains in boots and shoes at his new store in Tirrell's building.The School Committee did not have a quorum Thursday evening, consequently no meeting was held.Mrs. E. A. Glover has returned from Norwood, where she has been attending the sick for six weeks.Mr. W. P. Barker's residence has been reached by the painter's brush, and is one of the prettiest in the city.Mr. Clifford Thayer, the engineer of the Steamer, has just received a coon cat which was sent to him from California.The Steamer Company are in the voting contest for the library offered by the Boston Daily Globe. Send along your votes.It looks like business to see seven two-handed city carts loaded with crushed stone go through the square in a procession.Mr. Daniel McGrath, one of the police officers in Ward 6, has been appointed janitor of the new Music Hall in that ward.Two merchants have already accepted the special rates for advertising announced in yesterday's LEDGER. A five inch "ad" for 25 cents per day.Miss Mamie Rice, daughter of William B. Rice, Esq., entertained many of her young friends last evening. It was one of the prettiest parties of the season.City Clerk Spear informs a representative of the LEDGER that the entrance and exit to the booths at the polling places will have gates at the election day.The Epworth League held a very pleasant meeting at Mr. N. O. Parker's, Belmont street, Wollaston, on Thursday evening. Refreshments were served.The Granite Manufacturers' Association, at their monthly meetings on Tuesday last, voted to give to the Quincy City Hospital $500 a noble act which will be duly appreciated.Mr. James C. White has bought out the livery business carried on by John McKinnon, in West Quincy, for a number of years and will run a first class livery and stable.Mrs. Hiram W. Phillips, with her youngest daughter, Elsie, left yesterday for Valley Falls, R. I., to spend a week. We hope on her return she will be much improved in health.A paper is being passed around for subscriptions to defray the expense of the grand political celebration to be held on Thursday evening, and is meeting with very good success.The three injured in the disaster at Quincy, in August, now at Mrs. Lane's, will start for their home in California next week. They will go by special car which will be in charge of one of Raymond & Whitcomb's conductors.Pratt's Flurries, 2,646.
From figures compiled by the Brockton Enterprise, Harvey H. Pratt is elected District Attorney by 2,646 plurality. Millis and Cohasset have not been heard from.The oldest man in the world is probably Osman of Cavallot, Turkey. He has lived 100 years, and has documents to prove it. He is an Arabian widower and is supported by small pension from the Sultan.It is reported that there are about 3,000-000 tons of ice down on the Kennebec, and that fully half of this will have to be carried through the winter. It seems to be a case where a greed for high prices has over-reached itself.

DIED.

ROGERS—In South Quincy, Nov. 7, Wales C., son of Mr. Osborne and Mrs.
Carrie G. Rogers, aged 21 days.

E. C. WINNEBERGER,
CARRIAGE,
Sign and Ornamental Painter.
LETTERING A SPECIALTY.
Interior Painting, Furniture Varnishing
And Polishing.

48 Washington Street.
Quincy, Nov. 5. p. t. f.Skirts. Skirts.
SKIRTS.

ALL PRICES FROM

39c. to $2.00.

Cotton Skirts and Skirt
Patterns.Wool Skirts and Skirt Patterns.Satin Skirts in a large variety.D. E. Wadsworth & Co., ADAMS BUILDING.DO YOU WANT
A DRESS SHOE, buy N.
CURTIS & CO'S
Patent Leather, Congress or Bal.
SAVILLE & JONES.H. T. Whitman, CIVIL ENGINEER
AND SURVEYOR,
ADAMS BUILDING, QUINCY.Hours, 8 to 10 A. M.
Boston Office, - - 85 Devonshire St.
Hours, 12 to 2 P. M.
N. B. Plans of nearly all the Real Estate in the City of Quincy can be found at May 28. d3:aw-tfTHE ONLY PLACE IN QUINCY
To get the Famous Lebanon Overalls and Jumpersis at SAVILLE & JONES'.THE ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN BYDR. SOLOMON'S CO.
AT

Robertson Hall, Tonight

WILL BE ENTIRELY NEW.

ADMISSION, - - 10 CENTS.

Quincy, Nov. 8. tf

MILKMAID BRAND
CONDENSED MILKNothing better for babies.
Full Cream. Full Weight
Best on Earth.For sale by
J. F. Merrill,
QUINCY, MASS.

Oct. 4. Sat—3mos

Upwards of 5000 Copies

IS THE
Weekly CirculationOF THE Quincy Daily Ledger.MAKING IT A Desirable Advertising Medium.

RATES LOW.

Comedian Hart's Pitiful Condition.
Poor Tony Hart! While his relatives and friends are quarreling over the will of his dead wife, who was known in the theatrical world as Gertie Granville, the once clever partner of Ned Harrigan is slowly but surely wasting away in an insane asylum at Worcester, Mass. In fact, he is but a shadow of his former self. When Tony Hart was in the very zenith of success and fortune smiled upon him but he was straight and erect in stature, but now he is bent and his gait is a shuf-fing one, while his voice, but a little while ago clear and musical, has now become hoarse; he can scarcely articulate and the listener cannot understand him.

Paresis, that dread disease of the brain, is gradually doing its fatal work and,
according to the statement of Dr. Noble, the superintendent of the asylum, who has attended Tony since he was committed to the institution, the days of the poor fellow are numbered. Dr. Noble expressed the opinion to a visitor at the asylum, who once knew Tony that the latter can scarcely survive six months longer, and paralysis of the brain may result at any moment and be followed by death shortly afterward.

The contest over the will of the late Mrs. Tony Hart will be renewed before Surrogate Rollins shortly, when some interesting evidence regarding the bequests and the reason why no provision was made for Tony will be brought out.

The fund raised at the benefit performance, and placed in the hands of Frank W. Sanger and A. M. Palmer, the theatrical managers, as trustees, is used to pay Hart's expenses at the asylum.—New York Telegram.

Keeping Cider Sweet.

Cider to be kept unfermented should be made as late in autumn as possible, as it would be difficult to keep from fermenting when made early in the season. November made cider, if bunged up tight and stored where a temperature near the freezing point can be maintained, will probably keep sweet indefinitely. Some people put in a half pound or a pound of mustard seed to the barrel of cider and others use sulphite of lime in the same way. The old time method of scalding is considered by many people one of the best and least objectionable methods.

We see this described as follows: When the cider has slightly fermented it should be drawn or dipped from the casks where it has been standing to settle into large copper kettles or an old copper still, and be heated just up to the boiling point and no longer, when it should be again put into open casks to settle and become cold. It will then be ready to be tightly bunged in barrels and stored away. During the heating a large quantity of scum will rise to the top to be skimmed off, and during the cooling most of the impurities still held in solution will be deposited as sediment in the bottom of the casks.—Popular Gardening.

Mr. Beecher's "Account Books."

I was talking with Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher a few days ago regarding the widely copied report that some account books kept by Mr. Beecher of his farming and domestic expenses had been rescued from a pile of house rubbish and were about to be published. "There is no truth in the report whatever," said Mrs.
Beecher. "Why, Mr. Beecher was the last man in the world to keep such things as account books. He never kept any in his life, for he had not the patience for it.
I kept all the accounts he had occasion for. Such a thing as an account book was never among his effects, and none, therefore, could have been unearthed.
I have no idea how the report started, but you can deny in toto." I am sorry to spoil a very good literary paragraph, but these are the facts.—Edward W. Bok's Letter.

Air Ships to Be Operated by Electricity.
The advocates of the possibility of navigating the air by means of electricity have taken the first step toward putting their ideas into practical shape by the formation of a company with a capital of $20,000,000 having for its object the building and operating of electrical air ships. The company is to carry on its work in Chicago, and promises to have a car ready in six months. The proposed ship resembles the hull of an ordinary sea vessel. It requires only two men to operate it.
The motive power is supplied by storage batteries, which work a system of wings and propellers, and also act as ballast. The driver or motorman or "pilot" takes his place in front of the car, and controls its course by a series of levers and switches.—New York Communicator.

Aged Sea Gull.

Dick is expected at Brenton's reef lightship for the winter. Dick is only an aged sea gull, but aboard the lightship he is part of the ship's company from October to April. This bird has passed its winters at the reef for eighteen years, and now, as usual at this season of the year, the crew are watching for his return, with some forebodings that perhaps he had died of old age.
Dick is perfectly tame and much respected by his human friends aboard ship.—
Fall River News.

Raspberries in October.

Rev. George Matthews, of South Dartmouth, on Saturday picked up from his red raspberry bushes one and three-fourths quarts of ripe berries, and the week before he picked two quarts. He expects to gather more this week if there is no frost.—New Bedford Standard.

Reckless Extravagance.

Miss Prudence—Those Liverwells will certainly come to grief.
Miss Patience—Why so?

Miss Prudence—At dinner last evening their chief dish was a great plate of apple sauce.—Pittsfield Bulletin.

Leprosy in India.

The latest statistics show that there are 71,287 lepers in Bengal, 13,844 in Madras and 13,843 in Bombay. The lepers in the native states are not included in these totals.—Philadelphia Ledger.

BEST IN THE MARKET!
FOR $6.50 CASH
WE SELL A TON OF THE
WEBSTER NUT COAL,
It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.
[FRANK S. PATCH.]

Quincy, July 9.

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

MUST be higher, as the pack is small. We are receiving a large variety of NEW CANNED GOODS of all kinds, which we shall sell at present at last year's prices.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY,
Durgin & Merrill's Block.

Quincy, Sept. 24.

COMMERCIAL ADVERTISING!

At Very Low Rates

IN THE

Quincy Daily Ledger.

THE AVERAGE CIRCULATION OF

1000 Copies Daily

Makes it a Desirable Advertising Medium.

Don't wait for the Ledger man to call and solicit your advertisement, but come forward and reap the benefit of advertising while the rates are low, and assist to make the Daily a success.

WEYMOUTH.

The Unitarian Society, Rev. W. S. Key, pastor, will have a social party in Masonic hall next Thursday evening.

The annual ball of Division 9, A. O. H., will be held Nov. 27.

A union temperance meeting will be held Sunday, Nov. 16.

Rev. Oliver Huckel, of the Union church, will begin a series of sermons on "The Old-Fashioned Virtues," on Sunday.

The Social Circle of the First Universalist society, will repeat the operetta "The Seven Old Ladies of Lavender Town" in Lincoln hall on Tuesday evening.

At a short time ago we called upon a certain man in business in Weymouth, and asked him why he did not advertise in The Chronicle.

"Oh, because," he answered, "what's the use? Nobody will ever see it."

"You're mistaken," said we; "every page in our paper is read."

"Nonsense," he replied; "even if they did read my ad', people would never think of it again. I don't want to advertise."

"But—"

"No bats at all. I don't want to advertise and don't bother me any more.
I'm busy." And he walked back into his store and strangled a poor little fly that was helping itself from a barrel of sugar.

Time passed, and we never again interested him in advertising to him, although meeting him daily. Yesterday the gentleman called at our sanctum, looking a little uncertain as to how he would be received. We cherished no hard feelings, and motioned him to a chair.

"I suppose you heard of that little affair of mine below?"

"Oh, yes," said we; "that little escaped on Kearney street right before last."

"Yes, we've got all the particulars"—

"Hush! Not so loud, please," said he;
"of course, you are going to say nothing in the paper about it."

"And why not? It's a matter of interest to your friends and the people generally."

"Heavens! Why, it would ruin me."

"Oh, no, guess not. Nobody will ever see it."

"Yes, they will. And it will ruin me as sure as I'm sitting here. I'll be the laughing stock of the town. They will see it!"

We rose and touched him impressively on the shoulder.

"Well, we will admit that the people will see it, but then,

BODY WILL EVER SEE IT.

for the Benefit of Those Who Don't Believe in Advertising."

advantages of thoroughly advertising whatever one has to sell have been born by the newspapers in the strongest, so that most people acknowledge to be overwhelming.

Vallejo (Cal.) Chronicle contains the evidence to be overwhelming.
wing, which illustrates this subject, shows that a man may be a doubtful character, yet have considerable faith in him, if he becomes aroused by some extraordinary circumstance:

short time ago we called upon a certain man in business in Vallejo, and asked him why he did not advertise in the Chronicle.

"because," he answered, "what's it? Nobody will ever see it."

"we're mistaken," said we; "everyone in our paper is read."

"he replied; "even if they read my 'ad' people would never get it again. I don't want to advertise."

but at all. I don't want to advertise and don't bother me any more."

"And he walked back into his and strangled a poor little fly that was clinging itself from a barrel of sugar.

passed, and we never again in-

"advertisement" to him, although he daily. Yesterday the man called at our sanctum, looking a little uncertain as to how he would be received. We cherished no hard feelings, motioned him to a chair, suppose you heard of that little fly mine below?"

"yes," said we; "that little escape in Kearney street night before we've got all the particulars!"

"Not so loud, please," said he;

we're going to say nothing ever about it."

"why not? It's a matter of interest to our friends and the people generally! Why, it would ruin me!"

no, guess not. Nobody will ever they will. And it will ruin me as I'm sitting here. I'll be the stock of the town. They will see and touched him impressively shoulder.

I will admit that the people but then, you know, they will think of it again.

ords came back to him like a he trembled so violently that alls fairly jingled, and he was object of consideration that we to keep mum. This little moral,

from the above, is applicable over. Ask a man to advertise immediately in the macines, that "Nobody will ever in advertising gratis some little he may command and he im-grows indignant over the cer-

the whole world will know it

Advertising Charts.

action of the country is subject to a general raid by the slick gentle-

the advertising chart, in which the advertiser a choice position to $10, according to the credula-and the estimated size textbook. Of these charts, all from twenty-five to fifty, or even one hundred, may be scattered about, but are printed in bulk, where they will any one any harm or good.

as recently come to our attention of these chart gentlemen, who of two hundred of these

bers printed, and whose solicigentlemen who had patron-

so slight that he did not the edition from the office in was printed. The only gentle-manipulated the chart scheme with each manufacturer or sented thereon, collected his skipped from town between

It was afterward learned that used to issue 5,000 copies use them all over the state.

paid as high as $10 for a

He claimed to have netted in six days. Most of his victous doubt, were the manufac-

"did not believe in news-

"He did not catch a dealer who was posted as to and the mediums through rs to operate.

rising chart deal is only one numerous devices resorted to but indolent fellows, who to skip about the country schemes of this kind than to

to any legitimate line of merchant or manufacturer

a money into an advertising usually save valuable time the same results by trapping his out of hard cash into his

The result would be pre-name-his money would be not any compensating return.

display an Advertisement.

it to fix any rate, since each different treatment. In a "catch line" or a "catch able, which will arrest the glance.

words used the better in advertisements. Avoid descriptions of articles; people them.

type, easily read. The test is its legibility.

and intricate designs are a and space. Puzzles, in-lines set on angles or columns never accomplish ected of them. Leave a blank space on top, sides and our advertisement, and it aid to its effectiveness.

ly Advertising.

threw a little novelty into matter. An advertisement hard facts, without a or spice thrown in to hole, is apt to weary the course him from follow-to the end. Make your advertising brief,

briefly,

and to its effectiveness.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 179.

QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY
ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,
In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,
AS HERETOFORE.

Special Bargains

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,

94 Hancock Street, - - Tirrell's Block.

GENT'S SHOES from $1.25 to $5.00.
LADIES' SHOES from $1.00 up.
CHILDREN'S SHOES from 35c. to $1.50.

James O'Donovan.

Nov. 8.

We Have a Large Stock

OF

Imported and Domestic Cigars.

ALL THE POPULAR BRANDS.

5 and 10 Cent Goods.

Also, a Large Stock of Chewing and Smoking Tobacco.

GIVE US A CALL!

ROGERS BROS., Adams Building, Quincy.

50 DOZEN

Children's

Knee

Pants,

Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

DURGIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.

CORRESPONDENCE OF

JOHN STETSON COMPANY.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

IN ADAMS BUILDING.

STOCKS, GRAIN and PETROLEUM.

TELEPHONE 9-8.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

WHO FOR MAYOR?

MR. BURKE ENTERTAINS.

The Representative-Elect Gives a Supper and His Friends Pass a Pleasant Evening.

Prominent Gentlemen Mentioned in Connection With the Office.

MAY BE PRESIDENT FAIRBANKS.

Theophilus King, John F. Merrill, John Shaw and H. M. Federhen also Suggested by Republicans—William A. Hodges the Only Democrat Prominently Mentioned.

The withdrawal of Mayor Porter will make a lively contest among Republicans for the nomination for Mayor which must be made within two weeks. At least one would think so from the number of gentlemen mentioned since the announcement. None cared to enter the field in opposition to Mr. Porter, but now that the field is open, the question is who will be his successor.

Some weeks ago there appeared a two line item in the DAILY LEDGER reading something like this: "Mayor Fairbanks looks well, sounds well and would act well." This met with instant favor among many, and although not penned with the intention of starting a boom for that gentleman, perhaps had that effect. Mr. Fairbanks, as president of the City Council this year, and an active member of the first Council, has been prominently before the people for two years, and to his credit it can be said he has made no enemies.

Ex-President Federhen is prominently mentioned, and it is doubtful if there is an able man in the city for the position. Another Ward Two citizen, ex-Councilman Shaw, is also suggested, and the fact that he was the only Republican at the late election to receive a plurality, is considered a strong point in his favor.

There are Republicans who believe a Quincy man should be nominated, and they bring forward the name of the popular grocer and ex-representative, John F. Merrill.

Others interviewed say Mr

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)
— BY —
GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Small advertisements such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Easily Opened a Burglar Proof Safe.

Mind Reader Johnstone's feet of opening a Chicago hotel safe was outside in Saxon Falls, S. D., by a 16-year-old boy Ed M. Sanders. The county officials have just taken possession of the new court house, and young Sanders has been at work in the building as a plumber's assistant.

County Treasurer Swenson, Chairman McKee, and a number of other county officials were in the treasurer's room, and were congratulating themselves that the county now had a burglar proof vault which would defend all attempts to open it. Young Sanders happened along and made the remark that he could open the safe himself. Chairman McKee smiled at the young man's bluff and offered to make him a present of $5 if he would open the safe. The young man replied that he was too busy at that time to undertake the job. Mr. McKee offered to increase the amount to $10, whereupon the young man accepted.

The young man then left the room, and County Treasurer Swenson proceeded to close the vault doors and to securely lock them. The youthful imitator of Johnstone was brought in and set about his task. He asked all present to keep very quiet, and placing his ear against the door of the safe, commenced operations. His sensitive ear caught every fall of the tumblers, and in less than five minutes the young man, with a smile on his face, threw open the door. The $10 was handed him, and the county commissioners will insist upon the safe company taking out the vault, as the company had guaranteed the vault to be perfectly burglar proof.—Cor. Chicago Herald.

Blondin Still Active.

Thirty-one years ago M. Blondin made his famous journey across Niagara falls on the high rope. It may surprise many of our readers to learn that the veteran gymnast is not only still living, but that he was a few days since, although now in his 67th year, again astonishing large crowds in the neighborhood of London in the old style and with the old agility and daring. The occasion was a two days' fete at Brookwood park, Horn Hill, prior to the handing over of the beautifully wooded estate to the public, and Blondin gave his high rope (seventy feet) performance twice each day. The hempen track was not only high, but unusually long, and upon it he went through a varied entertainment of more than an hour's duration.

Appearing in glittering brazen armor, he sang and skipped along the cord blindfolded (by means of a sack pulled over his head); as well as free, and subsequently carried his son upon his back, stood upon his head, and rode a bicycle with grooved wheels. His piece de resistance, however, as in the old times, was his appearance with an oil stove strapped to his back, which stove he balanced (as well as himself) on the center of the rope while he prepared, cooked and "tossed" a savory omelette.—Belfast News.

The Longest Passage on Record.

The British ship Hospodar, Capt. Thomason, arrived in port Oct. 16 after a passage of 474 days from London, England, via Rio Janeiro 191 days and Valparaiso 60 days. The passage of the Hospodar is the longest one ever made by a vessel between the two ports. She left London on June 29, 1889, and on Dec. 27 was reported at Rio Janeiro with rigging damaged and the captain sick. On Dec. 30 word was received that the vessel had been dismantled. The captain went home and the mate, Capt. Thomason, took command. New rigging was sent out from England, and after refitting the Hospodar sailed on March 18 for this port. On Aug. 5 she put into Valparaiso and sailed again the same day. Capt. Thomason states that he does not know exactly where the vessel was when she was dismantled, as the captain took her logbook home with him. He says that he put into Valparaiso, being short of provisions.—San Francisco Call.

Playing with a Snake.

At Somerville, N. J., the other day, the 2-year-old baby of William Porter was found seated on the kitchen floor playing with a flat headed adder three feet long. The infant laughed and crowed gleefully as the serpent coiled its sinuous length around its throat and arms. The mother of the babe screamed and fainted at the sight, but a neighbor ran in and enticed the snake away with a bowl of warm milk. The little one had been stroking the serpent's body, and the snake had apparently enjoyed the sensation, as it made no demonstration of anger.—New York Times.

THE THREATENED FAMINE.
The American Committee Withdraws its Appeal Because of the British Government's Action in That Direction.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The American committee for the relief of famine in Ireland issues the following public statement:

The American committee for the relief of famine in Ireland temporarily withdraws its appeal to the American people. As the result of the action of the British government there was issued a proclamation that there was no reason for believing that the distress which would follow the failure of the potato crop in Ireland would be relieved otherwise than by American relief. No step had been taken by the British government to meet the crisis. The first effect of the action of the American committee was to provoke unchristian and flippancy on the part of the British government. The distress existed, and that famine was threatened. Nevertheless, the developments of the past month have fully confined the warning of impending calamity put forth in the American committee's appeal.

But while the physical situation in distressed Ireland has not altered, there has been provided the promise at least, of relief with the adequate amount of time to insure the safety of the distress which is at hand. The British government has been so spurred first, to investigate, through its secretary for Ireland, the danger which threatened the people, and second, to undertake a system of public works in the distressed districts, which, by affording partial relief, will at least postpone the invasion of the demon of famine. The British government has shown that it is not the fault of the British government that this sudden activity on the part of the British government is largely due to the prompt sympathy and support spontaneously offered from this country, and the coming of the American committee to Ireland. The American people have secured for the sufferers in Ireland a substantial hope of relief without the expenditure of a cent.

Under the changed circumstances, and inasmuch as the British government is now pledged to prevent distress coming to the Irish people, the American committee has decided that there may be no need of sending food and clothing to Ireland from America. This conclusion is reached after friendly consultation with the representatives of the Irish people now in America, and with the good offices of the British government.

Bonny confirms the report that Bartelot asked him for a tasteless poison with which to remove Tippo Tip's nephew, with whom he had a quarrel. Bonny pretended to search for such poison, but hid all the poisons. He then told Bartelot, who was angry, that he procured cyanide of potassium, but rejected it as useless for the purpose. On account of its salinity, he said, it was not the slightest good to give it to Hades. In the prose Eddas it is written: "Iduna keeps in a box apples which the gods, when they feel old age approaching, have only to taste to become young again. It is in this manner that they will be kept in renovated youth until Ragnarok—the general destruction."

Azrael, the angel of death, accomplished his mission by holding it to his nostrils; and in folk-lore Snowdrop is tempted to death by an apple, half of which a crane has poison in it, covering her life when the stalk falls from her lips.

The Golden Bird seeks the Golden Apples of the king's garden in many a Norse story; and when the tree bears no more fruit, Frau Bertha reveals to her favorite that it is because a mouse gnaws at the tree's root. Indeed, the kind mother goddess is sometimes personified as an apple tree, but often the apple is the tempter in northern mythology and sometimes makes the nose grow, so that the peer alone can bring it to moderate size."—All the Year Round.

Some of the Major's Misdeeds.

The situation in political parties in Ireland is peculiar and the committee is strenuously anxious to avoid creating new complications by interference of any sort. Their representation is made from the fact that the boy, Son of the Major, was entirely entitled to consideration so long as there is no immediate danger of actual suffering by famine. When that point is reached, the committee will consider the full, with the full approval and co-operation of the Irish leaders, renew its appeal and trust to the generosity of the American public to carry on an adequate relief movement.

The crisis will come at about the close of the year. It will then be apparent whether the policies of the British government are to be kept, and whether the representations of the committee will be adopted. The committee will accordingly maintain its appeal to the public to continue its efforts in the event that it may act at once if events require.

HOPE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Experiments Indicate that Professor Koch's Remedy is a Success.

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—Professor Bergmann inoculated fifteen consumptive patients on Thursday by Professor Koch's process, and on the following day exhibited one of the patients, a woman, to a number of physicians in order to show the changes that had resulted in twenty-four hours.

The Borsen Courier says it has authority for the statement that Professor Koch's remedy has proved to be a success. A famous German surgeon, it says, cured within five days a case of lupus, or necrotic tubercular destruction of the face.

The National Zeitung says that Professor Koch, although he has performed a number of cures, did not yet consider the time come for the publication of his researches. Although the remedy has been applied to patients in the charity hospital and in some private cases, its composition remains a profound secret.

Life in Chicago.

CHECAZO, Nov. 10.—John Robinson and Emil Alm, the cashiers of a Swedish dancing party, were terribly beaten and robbed at daylight Sunday, by three members of a gang of desperate hoodlums. Robinson will probably die. The assault occurred on the edge of a locality known as "Little Hell." The assailants, Joseph Wright, Martin Noel and John McCarthy, were arrested later in a low den. It was noted that during the night they had beaten and robbed a number of other persons.

Endorsed By Canon Farrar.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Thousands of persons were turned away yesterday from Westminster Abbey, where Canon Farrar preached a sermon on Gen. Booth's philanthropical scheme, after having made a tour of the Salvation Army centres during the previous week. Canon Farrar made a special appeal in behalf of the scheme, but he wished it to be understood that he alone was responsible for the views he expressed on the subject.

Editor Way Heard From.

WESTFIELD, Mass., Nov. 10.—W. H. Way, who was on the staff of The Valley Echo here until last summer, when he suddenly disappeared, has been heard from in a western city by his Holy relatives. Nothing is obtainable from them, however, about his reasons for leaving his wife or his present occupation.

A Broker's Punishment.

LODGE, Nov. 10.—The Stock Exchange has expelled Percival Preston, a broker, from its ranks, on the charge that the client had ordered Preston to sell a large parcel of Mexican securities, but that the broker, disregarding the interests of his client, first sold for himself, thus defeating his client's market.

Reminder of the Haymarket Riot.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—About 200 persons paraded yesterday in celebration of the third anniversary of the hanging of the Anarchists. They then took a special train to Waldheim cemetery, where, after visiting the graves with flowers, they listened to a number of lurid speeches. There was no disturbance.

Chief Gerald Justified.

MONROVIA, Ala., Nov. 10.—Chief of Police A. S. Gerald was discharged from custody in the preliminary trial on the ground of justifiable homicide for killing W. W. Correll. The result meets general approval.

A Cheeky Skipper.

HALIFAX, Nov. 10.—It is reported at White Point, Aspy bay, that the Gloucester schooner Lizzie W. Hosman handled fifty barrels of mackerel within the limit there the other day. It is also alleged that she had a long float of nets out the same night with lights at both ends.

To Tell Real Wool.

A quick and easy method for determining whether or not a fabric is "all wool" is given in The London Lancet. This is to separate the warp from the wool and to hold each to a flame. Wool burns into a shapeless mass, and no threads can be traced in it. If removed from the fire before it is all burned it ceases to blaze. Cotton, on the contrary, continues to burn, and its ash retains the shape of the thread.

Statistics of the poultry trade show that about 78,000,000 pounds of poultry are eaten every year in New York. That includes 10,000,000 pounds of live fowls, or 800 carloads, and 68,000,000 pounds, or 800 carloads, of dead fowl.

The greater part of this poultry comes from Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Vermont and Massachusetts, that from New Jersey being considered the best source of city life.—Boston Transcript.

EMIN'S LIFE WAS THE OBJECT.

The Relief Committee Deny That the Stanley Expedition Was for Gain.

LODGE, Nov. 10.—The Emin relief committee published a denial of the statements that they desired to acquire Emin's ivory rather than to rescue Emin's life.

The committee say that they only stipulated that if ivory was found it should be used to defray expenses, but that none was received. The expedition cost them $10,000, and the services gratis.

It was mathematically demonstrated at the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science that it is desirable for conductive purposes to make the circuit wire too thick when the alternating currents are used, and that the greater the effective conductance is not an accurate one. The ohmic resistance is increased as the wire is thicker than necessary.

The system of penny savings banks in schools is especially popular in Pennsylvania, where it includes the schools of Pottstown, Norristown, Chester and West Chester. It has even spread to Moorestown, and Juniper, in the far off Nebraska, Orangeburg in South Carolina, and Harrisonburg in Virginia. Capt. R. H. Pratt has incorporated it into his training school for Indians at Carlisle, Pa.

Experts say that the buried city of Pompeii has not yet yielded up a third of its artistic treasure; that at the present rate of progress seven years will elapse before it is thoroughly unearthed.

There is no one condition that tends in a greater degree to produce good health and vigorous growth of the body than a good sound set of teeth.

Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. Highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other food.

It is good for all diseases; worth its weight in gold to keep the body healthy. Testimonials Sent Free. Sold everywhere.

For sale by mail. Price, $1.00 per can. Six cans, express prepaid, $6.00.

E. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston.

Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. Highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other food.

It is good for all diseases; worth its weight in gold to keep the body healthy. Testimonials Sent Free. Sold everywhere.

For sale by mail. Price, $1.00 per can. Six cans, express prepaid, $6.00.

E. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston.

Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. Highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other food.

It is good for all diseases; worth its weight in gold to keep the body healthy. Testimonials Sent Free. Sold everywhere.

For sale by mail. Price, $1.00 per can. Six cans, express prepaid, $6.00.

E. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston.

Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. Highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other food.

It is good for all diseases; worth its weight in gold to keep the body healthy. Testimonials Sent Free. Sold everywhere.

For sale by mail. Price, $1.00 per can. Six cans, express prepaid, $6.00.

E. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston.

Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. Highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other food.

It is good for all diseases; worth its weight in gold to keep the body healthy. Testimonials Sent Free. Sold everywhere.

For sale by mail. Price, $1.00 per can. Six cans, express prepaid, $6.00.

E. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston.

Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. Highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other food.

It is good for all diseases; worth its weight in gold to keep the body healthy. Testimonials Sent Free. Sold everywhere.

For sale by mail. Price, $1.00 per can. Six cans, express prepaid, $6.00.

E. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston.

Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. Highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other food.

It is good for all diseases; worth its weight in gold to keep the body healthy. Testimonials Sent Free. Sold everywhere.

For sale by mail. Price, $1.00 per can. Six cans, express prepaid, $6.00.

E. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston.

Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. Highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other food.

It is good for all diseases; worth its weight in gold to keep the body healthy. Testimonials Sent Free. Sold everywhere.

For sale by mail. Price, $1.00 per can. Six cans, express prepaid, $6.00.

E. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston.

Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. Highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other food.

It is good for all diseases; worth its weight in gold to keep the body healthy. Testimonials Sent Free. Sold everywhere.

For sale by mail. Price, $1.00 per can. Six cans, express prepaid, $6.00.

E. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House St., Boston.

Today's Anniversaries.

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

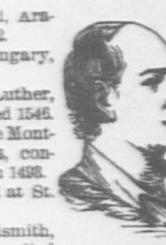

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 10.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Fields—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts' Cities and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

1854—Rural Lodge surrendered charter, anti-Masonic times.

World Wide.

550—Birth of Muhammad, Arabic prophet; died 632.
144—Death of Hunyadi, King of Hungary.
1450—Birth of Varna.
1485—Death of Martin Luther, German reformer; died 1546.
1507—Death of Marshal de Matignon.
1519—Death of Donat, cardinal of France; born 1469.
1520—Hippocrates defeated at St. Peters.

1526—Birth of Oliver Goldsmith, poet and dramatist; died 1770.

1540—Birth of Granville Sharp, slavery abolitionist and miscellaneous writer; died 1812.

1545—Birth of Frederick Schiller, German poet and dramatist; died 1567.

1546—Death of Georges de Selve, the Cardinal of Rohan; born 1494.

1547—Birth of George Washington, American general; died 1799.

1550—Birth of François Rabelais, French poet and dramatist; died 1553.

1553—Death of Georges de Selve, the Cardinal of Rohan; born 1494.

1554—Birth of Michel de Montaigne, French philosopher; died 1592.

1556—Birth of Cesare Borgia, Italian condottiere; died 1507.

1560—Birth of Henry IV, King of France; died 1610.

1563—Birth of Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1567—Birth of Sir Francis Drake, English naval officer; died 1596.

1570—Birth of John Dee, English mathematician and astrologer; died 1608.

1571—Birth of Sir Humphrey Gilbert, English explorer; died 1583.

1572—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1573—Birth of Sir Philip Sidney, English poet and soldier; died 1586.

1576—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1578—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1580—Birth of Sir Thomas Gresham, English merchant; died 1609.

1582—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1584—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1586—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1588—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1590—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1592—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1594—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1596—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1598—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1600—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1602—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1604—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1606—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1608—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1610—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1612—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1614—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1616—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1618—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1620—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1622—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1624—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1626—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1628—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1630—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1632—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1634—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1636—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1638—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1640—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1642—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1644—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1646—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1648—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1650—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1652—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1654—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1656—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1658—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1660—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1662—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1664—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1666—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1668—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1670—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1672—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1674—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1676—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1678—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1680—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1682—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1684—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1686—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1688—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1690—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1692—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1694—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1696—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1698—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1700—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1702—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1704—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1706—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1708—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1710—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1712—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1714—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1716—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1718—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1720—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1722—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1724—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1726—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1728—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1730—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1732—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1734—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1736—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1738—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1740—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1742—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1744—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1746—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1748—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1750—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1752—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1754—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1756—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1758—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1760—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1762—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1764—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1766—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1768—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1770—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1772—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1774—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1776—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1778—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1780—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1782—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1784—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1786—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

1788—Birth of Sir Robert Cecil, English statesman and soldier; died 1612.

1790—Birth of Sir Francis Bacon, English statesman and author; died 1626.

1792—Birth of Sir Walter Raleigh, English explorer; died 1618.

1794—Birth of Sir Francis Walsingham, English statesman and spy; died 1606.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.Old Colony Depot, Boston
Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros. Store, Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Copeland Street, West Quincy
Post Office, Jones' Corner, Quincy Point
Depot, Wollaston Heights, Braintree
Henry B. Vinton, Weymouth
M. R. Pratt, Weymouth

THE SUIT CLUB CO.

The Boston Manager Disappears
With the Money.

THE QUINCY AGENT ARRESTED.

Those Lucy Enough to Draw Suits Not Lucky Enough to Get Them—Maintaining a Lottery the Charge Preferred—Prompt Work of Quincy Officers.Today's Almanac—November 10.
High water at 9:30 A.M. and 10:00 P.M.
Sun rises at 6:20; Sets at 4:27.
Moon rises at 4:10 A.M.
New Moon Nov. 12.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by Ledger Reporters.Paul Revere fair opens a week from tonight.Bacci Antonio of South Quincy left for Genoa, Italy, last week.The Board of Health will have a meeting this evening at 8 o'clock.Mr. Joseph W. Robertson who has been confined to the house is improving slowly.The marriage of Edward Harris and Miss Esther Rice, will take place Thursday evening Nov. 27th.Mrs. Capt. Daniel Higgins arrived home on Friday last, after a three week's trip to Hallowell, Maine.Rev. E. O. Dyer of South Braintree exchanged pulpits Sunday morning with Rev.
George Benedict, Quincy Point.The Universalists are to give one of their famous bean suppers, to be followed by a social, next Wednesday evening, the 12th.Walter F. Loud who has been confined in bed for six weeks with typhoid fever was able to walk out in the yard Saturday.Mr. R. D. Wentworth, of Wollaston, has left for his annual trip to Kentucky, where he will make his Thanksgiving purchases of poultry.R. D. Chase has sold for L. B. Carlson his house on Station street to J. M. O' Brien; also the house of Angus McMillan on Liberty street to W. H. Paterson.The piano lamp for which the members of the W. H. C. of this city are competing, to be given away at the G. A. R. fair, is on exhibition at C. B. Tilton's hardware store.Rev. Edward Norton of Quincy, preached at the Washington Street Congregational church, Sunday evening. He gave an excellent discourse to an appreciative audience.Republican caucuses for choice of delegates to the Mayoralty convention will be held next Monday evening, and the convention will take place the Wednesday following.The Epworth League, connected with the West Quincy M. E. church, will give an entertainment in the vestry Tuesday evening. The programme will be mostly by Quincy talent.The clerks of Weymouth and Quincy, will meet on Friday at noon to ascertain what persons have been elected Representatives by the Fifth Norfolk District, and issue certificates.We acknowledge an invitation to be present at the third annual supper of the Braintree Light Infantry, in the Town hall, Braintree, Friday evening, November 21. These events have always been very enjoyable.Mr. James McMorrow, a well known young man in East Weymouth, and having a number of friends in this city, while on a gunning trip to Cohasset on Saturday, was shot through the heart and instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his gun.Among the deaths announced today is that of Mr. Isaac Rindge Thompson, son of the late Capt. Jacob W. and Artemisia R. Thompson, of Portsmouth, N. H., which occurred at the residence of his sister, Mrs. George B. Wendell on Sunday.
He was in his 49th year.Professor Turner will give his interesting, illuminated lecture on the ancient abbeys, cathedrals, and castles of Great Britain;
wanderings in Paris; and glimpses of Switzerland, in the Wollaston Baptist church on next Wednesday evening. Mr.
Wendell G. Correll has invited all of the scholars of the Baptist Sunday School and the Wollaston Grammar school to be present. No tickets will be sold.The hospital for Somerville is now an assured success, $22,700 having been raised.

MARRIED.

NELSON—CARLSON—In Quincy, Nov.
8, by Rev. H. Hanson, Mr. John Nelson to Miss Emma Carlson, both of Quincy.

DIED.

PITTS—In Quincy, Nov. 9, Mrs. Munick
Pitts, aged 59 years.JOLLY—In South Quincy, Nov. 8, Mrs. widow of John Jolly aged 77 years.THOMPSON—In Quincy, Nov. 9, Mr.
Isaac Rindge Thompson, aged 48 years,
7 months and 15 days.PORTER—In Boston, Nov. 8, Mr. John W. Porter formerly of Quincy, aged 63
years.

MAKING IT A

Desirable Advertising Medium.

RATES LOW.

Upwards of 5000 Copies

IS THE

Weekly Circulation

OF THE

Quincy Daily Ledger.

As much as possible

FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

Many people do not know this

The Most Wonderful Family Remedy Ever Known.

For

Pains

Diseases

Cough

Catarrh

Cholera

Dysentery

Rheumatism

Body or Limbs.

Stops Inflammation in Cutaneous

Parts

Relieves all Cramps and Crises like magic.

Price

One

Express

prepaid.

L. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by John E. Barnard and William D. Burns, both of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to Daniel G. Chase, dated July 19th, 1890, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 640, folio 481, and also with Quincy City Records, libro 11, folio 507, for back rent of one thousand one hundred dollars, will be sold at Public Auction on the premises on TUESDAY, December 2d, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock
p. m., the premises goods and chattels being described as follows:A tract of land, with the buildings thereon, containing 16,984 square feet, situate in said Quincy, and being lots Nos. 18 and 19 on a plan of land on Willard street, West Quincy, made by Whitman & Breck Surveyors, and dated April 1st, 1874, and bounded northwardly on land of John Flaherty, one hundred and eight feet, and on land of Timothy Fitzgerald, fifty-four feet; easterly on land of J. W. Robertson, thirty-four feet; southerly on land of one McAvitt, forty-four and nineteen-one-hundredths feet, and on land of one McDavitt, about twenty-two feet; southwesterly on land of one Farnum, one hundred and twenty-one and four-tenths feet; southwesterly on Bank street, one hundred and twenty-one feet; and $400 to be paid in cash at time and place of sale.DANIEL G. CHASE, Mortgagee.
Nov. 10, 1890. 10, 17, 24.

DO YOU WANT

A DRESS SHOE, buy N.

CURTIS & CO.'S

Patent Leather, Congress or Bal.

SAVILLE & JONES.

E. C. WINNEBERGER,

CARRIAGE,

Sign and Ornamental Painter.

LETTERING A SPECIALTY.

Interior Painting, Furniture Varnishing

And Polishing.

48 Washington Street.

Quincy, Nov. 5. p&i tf

H. T. Whitman,
CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR,

ADAMS BUILDING, QUINCY.

Hours, 8 to 10 A.M.

Boston Office, - 82 Devonshire St.

Hours, 12 to 2 P.M.

N. B. Plans of nearly all the Real Estate in the City of Quincy can be found at my offices.

May 28. d3ew-tf

TO LET.

TO LET—New house at Wollaston,

6 rooms, bath room, hot and cold water, and furnace. Call or address F. A. PER-

KINS, 46 Elm street, Quincy. Nov. 5-11

TO LET—Houses, Offices, Society

Halls, and Light Manufacturing Rooms in Quincy and vicinity. No large variety of Estates for sale on easy terms. GEORGE H. BROWN CO., Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Agents, Adams Building, Quincy. Oct. 3-11

TO LET—Nice House and Stable on

Greenleaf street and Linden place.
Apply to MRS. S. D. HOLDEN, 9 Adams

Oct. 29-31

TO LET—In French's building, Chestnut St., opposite the Congregational church, desirable rooms up one flight. Suitable for Dressmaker, Tailor or Barber. Apply at Bussell's Studio, Adams building. 11-12

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A good Family Horse, second-hand two-seated carriage and harness, cheap, as the owner has no use for them. Apply at 72 Washington Street.

Quincy, Nov. 10. tf

SAVILLE & JONES.

IN ANSWER

To the question which is asked us so often, How have you built up so large

a trade? we would say that it is by buying

only the best and selling at the smallest possible profit.

JOHNSON'S

ANODYNE

LINIMENT

Unlike Any Other.

As much

FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

Many people do not know this

The Most Wonderful Family Remedy Ever Known.

For

Pains

Diseases

Cough

Catarrh

Cholera

Dysentery

Rheumatism

Body or Limbs.

Stops Inflammation in Cutaneous

Parts

Relieves all Cramps and Crises like

magic.

PROPERTY.

xable property of the city, a certain each issue, so that the total of a computed by interested parties. Tax rate per thousand $13.00.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 180.

QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

ROGERS BROS.

ARE AGENTS IN QUINCY FOR

Searle's Disinfecting Powder.

A Positive Destroyer of all poisonous Odors, Vapors and Gases.

As a destroyer of Roaches, Water Bugs, Insects on Plants, Fleas, Red and Black Ants, Moths, etc., it has no equal, and can be handled by the smallest child.

CALL AND EXAMINE.

ROGERS BROS.

Adams Building, Quincy.

Quincy Corporation Society.

W. F. COLBY, Manager.

Groceries, Provisions, Fish and Oysters

AT BOTTOM PRICES.

CROWN CREAMERY BUTTER,

The Best in the Market.

FRANKLIN STREET, - - - QUINCY.

Nov. 10.

tf

Special Bargains

IN

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers

AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,

94 Hancock Street, - - - Tirrell's Block.

GENT'S SHOES from $1.25 to $5.00.
LADIES' SHOES from $1.00 up.
CHILDREN'S SHOES from 35c. to $1.50.

James O'Donovan.

Nov. 8.

1m

50 DOZEN

Children's Knee
Pants,
Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.

CORRESPONDENCE OF

JOHN STETSON COMPANY.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

IN ADAMS BUILDING.

STOCKS, GRAIN and PETROLEUM.

TELEPHONE 9-6.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

Oct. 15.-tf

THE MAYORALTY.

It May Make Some Difference in the Nomination Which Sewerage Bill

THE CITY COUNCIL ADOPTS.

Whether the Mayor-Elect Will be One of the Commission, or Whether He Will Simply Have the Appointment of the Commissioners—Bill to be Discussed Tomorrow Evening.

The all absorbing question now is, who will the Republicans nominate for Mayor. The caucuses will be held next Monday evening for the choice of delegates to the mayoralty convention, which will follow two days later. The party recognizes that it must put up the strongest candidate, for the contest is to be a close one. A prominent worker believes the chances of Republican success, are as good or better than last year, and as a clincher quotes the vote for Governor last year and this. In 1889 Russell's plurality in the city was 230, which at the late election it was reduced to 200. In 1880 Mayor Porter's plurality was 183 and if the Republican nominee this year receives the same number of independent votes, his plurality will be greater.

The action of the City Council tomorrow evening on the substitute sewerage bill, may have an important bearing on the selection of a candidate. It provides that the Mayor, President of the City Council and City Treasurer shall be the commission. This is, however, thought to be the weakest feature of the substitute, and rumor has it that it will never be adopted. Many agree that a permanent commission, such as the original bill proposes is not desirable, but think the Mayor and President of the Council should not be involved in it.

Some of the coupons printed in Monday's DAILY LEDGER have already found their way back to the office. The first received was from a Democrat and was for Henry H. Faxon, and was accompanied by a letter. Others are for William A. Hodges, H. O. Fairbanks, John F. Merrill, W. T. Shea and others. Let all express their choice before 9 a. m. Wednesday, at which time the polls will close. See tomorrow's DAILY LEDGER for the result.

Ward Four Has a Candidate.

To the Editors of the Daily Ledger:

You ask in your paper of Saturday "Who for Mayor?" A Democrat undoubtedly, and I believe Ward Four should name the man. This is the business part of the city and the strongest Democratic ward; and is entitled to more recognition in the distribution of offices than it has ever received.

My candidate is Councilman William T. Shea, one of the most popular residents of West Quincy, and a member of the City Council since the organization of the city form of government. Mr. Shea is identified with the great industry of the city, and popular with both manufacturers and employees. As candidate for Mayor he would receive many Republican votes in Ward Four, and go out of the ward with over 400 majority. Let us follow up the election of Councilman Burke as Representative with Councilman Shea as Mayor. GRANITE.

W. A. Hodges the Man.

Dear Editor: My reason for naming this particular man for the Mayor's seat are that as he is a man capable, and trustworthy; a man who has filled several positions, under our town government, and no reflection can be cast upon him for not discharging his duty faithfully and conscientiously. A man who will not appoint a Commissioner of Public Works who will be at the City Hall two hours in the day, hire a clerk out of other appropriation and bring several out of town gentlemen in our city employ, and pay them from two to four dollars a day. Hence let us have William A. Hodges for Mayor. I am no relation, as far as party goes to Mr. Hodges, but would like to see him next Mayor of Quincy, and let us stop importing our city employees.

C. J. N.

W. A. Hodges the Man.

If the city wants a live Mayor the coming year, who will make things hustle, it will elect Mr. Henry H. Faxon. I understand he would accept a nomination this year, that he thinks some reforms are necessary and wants to correct them. The city owes much to Mr. Faxon, and the honor of an election as mayor would be a fitting tribute.

L. W. J.

A New Directory.

The citizens of Quincy are to have a new resident and business directory next year, which is much needed. It is to be similar to the one issued two years ago by W. F. Richardson & Co., with some improvements and perhaps with a map of the city. It is to be published by E. B. Butterfield & Co. of Ayers, Mass., and their agent, A. B. Sparrow, is in town and will commence the work of compiling at once.

Send for the book "The Care and Feeding of Infants," issued by the Dolber-Goodale Co., 41 Central Wharf, Boston, Mass., proprietors of Mellin's Food. It contains advice that every mother will find of the greatest value and assistance in feeding her child. It is mailed free to any address.

SEWERAGE BILLS.

The Second Draft of Councilman Slade—Material Changes.

Councilman Slade seems to be fickle as to what should be incorporated in a sewerage bill. He has cast aside his draft printed in the DAILY LEDGER and come out with a new one, which he will move tomorrow evening, to substitute for the committee's bill, if he does not change his mind.

He proposes now to make the commission a permanent one, it to determine upon the plans and make all contracts, but the construction to be under the direction and control of the Commissioners of Public Works.

This position is directly in opposition to the views of the Committee on Sewers who think they have had a sufficient example this year of what "direction and control" by the Commissioner means. He would probably consider it necessary to employ expert engineers and delegate his authority to them. If this is the case they argue that the less the Commissioner has to do with the sewerage system the better. The city however may have a Commissioner next year who will give his whole time to the city, and things may be different.

He swam on a Wager.

Everybody knows "Ed," who is employed in a North Main street leather store, Brockton, we need not call any names—and he has been quite a fellow to tell what a remarkable diver and swimmer he used to be when he was down at Quincy. Saturday he was talking about some of his aquatic feats in his characteristically modest manner when another employee in the store put in his ear and expressed his belief that he could swim all around Ed.

The discussion got quite warm, and finally Ed, exclaimed, "I'll bet you so much money that you can't go down to Salisbury lake now and swim fifty feet."

"Done!" was the prompt response, "Put up your money."

The challenged party started right off for the lake, accompanied by half a dozen witnesses, peeled off his clothes, plunged into the cold water and swam out fifty feet and back.

Ed paid the bet, and isn't saying as much about swimming as he was.—Enterprise.

Yes, we know Ed, he dove into the mud about Houghs Neck one day, but we did not think he will blow about it.

A Monument to Anna Sewell.

Mr. H. M. Arnold, of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, who has, at different times, ordered and paid us for thirteen hundred copies of "Black Beauty," writes us October 13th as follows:

"Whether, I can afford it or not, and though I do not believe in monuments, I would like to give fifty dollars towards a monument to Anna Sewell."

It is by no means impossible or improbable that within the next two years we may have the privilege of erecting over the English grave of the earnest Christian woman who wrote this remarkable book, a monument which shall show our English friends our gratitude; but in the meantime there is hardly a finer monument in America than the one we are building for her here.

GEO. T. ANGELL,
In Our Dumb Animals.

WEYMOUTH.

R. C. Hazzard of Weymouth had a miraculous escape Monday. He was employed at Haskell's shoe manufacture, when he got caught in a belt and was whirled around the shafting several times, until every bit of his clothing was torn off. He escaped with slight injuries.

Some of the balls used in the State election of 1880 are alleged to have played a part in the recent State election in Weymouth. According to the Herald the practice was for a man to take in the bogus ballot, and, quietly hiding away the one presented to him by the election officer, pretend to mark it as being the genuine one and then its honest looking appearance gave it admission to the box without any close scrutiny.

The genuine ballot was carried out unmarked and handed over to the wirepuller, who marked it to suit himself, and was given to a voter who could be trusted to do the work required of him, which was simply to accept his ballot from the officer, pretend to mark and vote it, but in reality to put in the marked ballot given him outside, and carry out unmarked the one he got inside.

This game could be continued as long as a voter could be found to be bribed or intimidated.

The following board of directors of the new institute and gymnasium have been elected: Thomas A. Watson, Francis Ambler, Charles T. Crane, John W. Hart, J. J. Loud, Dr. W. F. Hathaway, Dr. W. Tinkham, Dr. F. P. Virgin, Dr. W. T. Roberts, Dr. G. D. Bullock, Revs. B. F. Eaton, W. L. Smith, O. H. Buckell, William Hyde and J. J. Murphy, James H. Flint, A. P. Worthen, A. E. Avery, H. L. Owen, D. J. Pierce, Francis H. Cowing, H. N. Redfern, Mrs. L. Gutterson, Mrs. T. A. Watson, Miss Emma S. W. Clapp, Miss Susie H. Richards, Mrs. R. L. Hunt, Miss Alice B. Blanchard, Miss Ella W. Shepard, Miss C. E. Wentworth, Mr. W. H. Clapp, and Mr. C. A. Chessman.

Brockton did not get out a very heavy vote at the recent election. There were 1533 stay-at-homes out of a total of 4870, over 30 per cent.

WANTED.

WANTED.—A Girl for general house-work. Apply at MRS. E. W. SHEPPARD'S, 4 Johnson avenue, Quincy. Nov. 11. tf

WANTED.—A situation to do general house-work. Apply at MR. JOHN SHEPPARD'S, Bunker Hill avenue, West Quincy. Nov. 11. tf

WANTED.—A young man for general work about stable and house. Apply at once to DR. G. B. RICE, Wollaston. Nov. 10-21.

WANTED.—People to know that it costs but 25 cents the first day and 75 cents a week, for four lines in this column, to be paid invariably in advance.

BOARDERS WANTED in a quiet family, central location. Terms reasonable. Address Box 557, Quincy, Mass. Nov. 10. tf

WANTED.—One or two Boarders in a single private family. Parties looking for fine class board and room can find the same by addressing D. N. F. Quincy, Nov. 10-31.

DO YOU WANT any Glass set before you leave? If so, leave your order at once, at FRANCY F. CRANE'S Furniture Store, No. 4 Chestnut street. Quincy, Nov. 10. tf

TO LET.

TO LET.—Now house at Wollaston, 6 rooms, bath, room, hot and cold water, and furnace. Call or address F. A. PERKINS, 48 Elm street, Quincy. Nov. 10-11.

TO LET.—Houses, Stores, Offices, Society Halls, and Light Manufacturing Rooms in Quincy and vicinity; also large variety of Estates for sale and rental. GEORGE H. BROWN & CO., Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Agents, Adams building. Oct. 3-11.

TO LET.—In French's building, Chestnut St., opposite the Congregational church, desirable rooms up one flight. Suitable for Dressmaker, Tailor or Barber. Apply Bussell's Studio, Adams building. 11-11.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.—A good Family Horse, second-hand two-seated carriage and harness, cheap, as the owner has no use for them. Apply at 72 Washington Street. Quincy, Nov. 10. tf

CALL at Music Room, 18 Chestnut street, before selecting a PIANO or ORGAN.

Miss C. F. Speer has some fine samples, and can sell New or Second-hand goods at reasonable prices and on easy terms. Room open from 9 to 12 A. M.; 2 to 8 P. M. Nov. 11. tf

E. C. WINNEBERGER,
CARRIAGE,
Sign and Ornamental Painter.

LETTERING A SPECIALTY.

Interior Painting, Furniture Varnishing

And Polishing.

48 Washington Street.
Quincy, Nov. 5. p&t tf

WEYOUTH.

R. C. Hazzard of Weymouth had a miraculous escape Monday. He was employed at Haskell's shoe manufactory, when he got caught in a belt and was whirled around the shafting several times, until every bit of his clothing was torn off. He escaped with slight injuries.

Some of the balls used in the State election of 1880 are alleged to have played a part in the recent State election. According to the Herald the practice was for a man to take in the marked ballot given him outside, and carry out unmarked the one he got inside.

This game could be continued as long as a voter could be found to be bribed or intimidated.

The following board of directors of the new institute and gymnasium have been elected: Thomas A. Watson, Francis

Ambler, Charles T. Crane, John W. Hart,

J. J. Loud, Dr. W. F. Hathaway, Dr. W.

Tinkham, Dr. F. P. Virgin, Dr. W. T.

Roberts, Dr. G. D. Bullock, Revs. B. F.

Eaton

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED)
BY
GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	$.50
Six months,	$.50
One year,	$.50

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $2.00;
Short insertion, 25 cents; as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriage free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Pilgrims to Mecca in Ill Luck.

Cruel ill luck has befallen some of the Indian pilgrims to Mecca this year. The pilgrim steamer Deccan, which left Bombay for Jeddah on the 17th of June, had on board more than 1,200 of these pious Mohammedans, packed, it is said, as usual, "like herrings in a barrel." It is not surprising that during the voyage six cases of cholera occurred. This led to the ship being detained in quarantine at the great Red sea port for ten days. When this period had elapsed another case was declared, which involved a second quarantine.

By this time the period of the sacred ceremony of walking round the kaaba or temple of the prophet and kissing the black stone said to have been given by an angel to Abraham was at an end, and the poor pilgrims having spent all they had upon thisious duty were compelled to return as they came. It is painfully significant that the Deccan brought back 122 persons less than she took out. A similar incident, it is said, has not occurred for more than half a century. It is regarded by the faithful as a visitation of the Irish agitator, was present.

FOR UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE.

Brussels Workmen Insist Upon Having What They Consider Their Due.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 11.—Delegates of the Radical association have appealed to the municipal council and presented a petition in favor of universal suffrage. At the same time an immense crowd of working men assembled around the Hotel de Ville awaiting the result of the petition.

The burgomaster promised the delegates that a bill would be introduced in the next chambers to revise the constitution in the respect indicated. This answer failed to satisfy the workingmen, who received it with threatening demonstrations and refused to disperse. The number of people in the crowd is estimated at 10,000. The government holds a large force of troops, but though rioting is feared, no disorder has yet occurred.

Fan and Suffering.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 11.—Capt. Poe of the football eleven was so injured in the game Saturday that he could not stand upright yesterday. He is now so weak from loss of blood and pain that the best that is hoped for is that he may be able to play within two weeks.

The members of the team are still somewhat stiff from their meeting with the Philadelphia men. All engagements for exhibition games have been cancelled, and the outlook for the Yale game is discouraging.

Voted by the Sheriff.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., Nov. 11.—Sheriff Golder of Queens county will not permit the fight between George Godfrey, the Boston colored heavy-weight, and Ed Smith of Denver, to take place. They were to have fought last night in the Puritan Athletic club's new building for a purse of $2000 offered by the club. Warrents are out for the arrest of the pugilists if they appear in town.

Will It Go?

TORONTO, Nov. 11—Counsel for the plaintiff in the libel suit against The Toronto Globe, the suit arising out of the Benwell murder, has secured an affidavit from Birchall, to be used in lieu of his evidence, which the courts refused to allow him to give in person. Counsel will endeavor to have the affidavit accepted as evidence when the case is tried.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Latest Quotations of the New York and Boston Stock Markets.—Nov. 10.

The great market decline of the last week seems to be at an end. There is a general panic in Wall street. Prices opened way below Saturday's low closing figures and kept on down most of the day. The market was closed by a member of the New York board. James Struders, was struck with apoplexy and died shortly after. His death caused a temporary halt. Business was suspended for half an hour. The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

Business was suspended again at 1 P.M. and remained quiet until 4 P.M. when it reopened. The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

After the market had closed, the market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

The market recovered rapidly and closed with a small gain.

It is evident that the market has recovered from its recent decline and is likely to continue to do so.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.—Nov. 10.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Lester Office, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros.' Store, Planner's Block, Quincy
Post Office, Copeland Street, Quincy
Miss Ballou's Store, Jones Corner, Quincy
Post Office, Deport, Quincy
H. B. Vinton, Wollaston House, Braintree
M. K. Pratt, Weymouth

Today's Almanac.—November 11.
High water at 10:00 A. M. and 10:30 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:30; Sets at 4:26.
Moon rises at 5:16 A. M.
New Moon Nov. 12.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by Ledger Reporters.

The first disagreeable day in November.
Have you voted for Mayor by the use of the DAILY LEDGER coupon?

Quincy was represented at the Foresters' fair in Brockton last evening.

The first snow of the season this morning. It was accompanied by hail.

Music hall at Atlantic will be dedicated this evening.

Norfolk County Probate Court in Quincy, Wednesday morning, in the Adams building.

J. J. Baker, the druggist in West Quincy, is making preparations to put in a hot soda fountain.

Mr. Adam Gordon of South Quincy, leaves New York today for Aberdeen, Scotland.

Mr. Frank Bussell, our photographer, has been confined to the house for a few days, by a very bad cold.

Mr. Daniel C. Little a prominent young man in Ward Four is soon to be married to a young lady in Neponset.

Mr. William Martin of South Quincy left on Monday for New York where he will sail for Glasgow, Scotland.

The Wollaston Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle met with Miss Elizabeth L. Nesbit on Monday evening.

The New York Life Insurance Company has opened an office in the Adams building with Mr. W. H. Sass as superintendent.

M. D. Wolcott, the agent for the Club Sait Co., has been unable to obtain bail and remains in the lockup waiting trial.

Foreman Reed of Badger Bros. quarry, has moved his family here from the Cape, and has taken the Carey homestead on Hall place.

Mr. S. F. Willard, the druggist, has put out a very fine new sign. Something out of the usual run, being a red ground work and gilt letters.

Miss Ellen E. Thompson, will give a literary talk on Bret Hart at the parish house of Christ's church, Tuesday evening Nov. 18.

The friends of Miss Lizzie Elcock of West Quincy, who broke her arm last week, will be glad to hear that she is improving as rapidly as possible.

Edward McDevitt and Edward Havahan are erecting a building near the corner of Crescent and Willard street, where they will open a grocery store.

John P. S. Churchill, clerk of the District Court, is confined to his house in Milton with nervous prostration. Constable N. B. Furnald fills the vacancy during his absence.

Four members of the School Committee will be elected this year: one at large for three years, one from Ward Four for three years, one from Ward Five for one year, and one from Ward Six for three years. The retiring members are Sylvester Brown, John F. Cole, Wendell G. Cortrell and Thomas Gurney.

The steamer boys with the help of their friends are gathering in a large number of votes to help them along in the contest for the Globe library. A box has been placed outside of the house, so that passersby can drop them in if they wish. All persons having votes are respectfully asked to forward them or give them to the members.

Born to Earn His Money.

It was amusing this morning, on South street, in Boston, to see a street-sprinkler out with his horse and cart sprinkling the street; at the same time the rain drops were falling thick and fast, and the snow was quite thick in the air.

From the Boston Record.

Complete returns from the Second district give Congressman Morse a plurality of 1855 over "Cousin Bushrod," which is a larger plurality than Gov. Long received in an off year and at his last election, over the same candidate, and the Second shows a much smaller falling off from the Presidential vote than any other district in the state, which leads the "Boston Sunday Globe" to name Mr. Morse as the most available Republican candidate for Governor next year. Elijah carried Brockton and Taunton, and ran ahead of the Republican ticket in twenty-nine cities and towns in the district. Good for Elijah.

BORN.

SASS—In Quincy, Oct. 14, a son to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sass.

OUR ITALY.

The Phases of Life Through Which Southern California Has Passed.

Southern California has rapidly passed through varied scenes, and is not yet old enough to show the world what it is. It had its period of romance, of pastoral life, of lawless adventure, of crazy speculation, all within a hundred years, and it is just now entering upon its period of solid, civilized development. A certain light of romance is cast upon this coast by the Spanish voyagers of the Sixteenth century, but its history begins with the establishment of the chain of Franciscan missions, the first of which was founded by the great Father Junipero Serra at San Diego in 1769.

The fathers brought with them the vine and the olive, reduced the savage Indians to industrial pursuits, and opened the way for that ranchero and adobe civilization which, down to the coming of the American, in about 1840, made in this region the most picturesque life that our continent has ever seen. Following this is a period of desperate adventure and a period of peaceful state building; and then the advent of the restless, the cranky, the invalid, the fanatic from every other state in the Union.

The first experimenters in making homes seem to have fancied that they had come to a ready made elysium—the idle man's heaven. They have since brought with them little knowledge of agriculture or horsemanship, where ignorance and want of success in this soil and climate, and left behind the good industrial maxims of the east. The result was a period of chance experiment, one in which extravagant expectation and boasting to some extent took the place of industry.

The imagination was heated by the novelty of such varied and rapid productivity. Men's minds were inflamed by the apparently limitless possibilities. The invalid and the speculator prospered. The transcontinental roads leading hither. In this condition the frenzy of 1886-7 was inevitable. I saw something of it in the winter of 1887. The scene then daily and commonplace now read like the wildest freaks of the imagination.

The bubble collapsed as suddenly as it expanded. Many were ruined, and left the country. More were merely ruined in their great expectations. The speculation was too great. When it had reached its height it left the climate as it was, the fertility of the soil, and the value of arable land not reduced. Marvelous as the boom was, I think the present recuperation is still more wonderful.

In 1890, to be sure, I missed the bustle of the cities and the creation of towns in a week under the hammer of the auctioneer. But in all the cities and most of the villages there has been growth in substantial buildings and in the necessities of civic life. The school system is well organized, while the country, as the acreage of vines and oranges, wheat and barley, grain and corn and the shipments by rail testify, has improved more than at any other period, and commerce is beginning to feel the impulse of a genuine prosperity, based upon the intelligent cultivation of the ground. School houses have multiplied, libraries have been founded, museums established, both in order to sell to society lots of art, brush, have been turned into schools and colleges.—Charles Dudley Warner in Harper's.

Heat or Cold Has No Effect on Snails' Eggs.

The snail's eggs are not so numerous nor yet so microscopic as those of the eel. Their claim to notoriety rests solely upon their reputation for extraordinary vitality, which claim, were it not for the testimony of scientific men, would hardly have been believed.

It is claimed for them that they may be dessicated in a red hot furnace until reduced to minuteness barely visible, and that they will again regain their original bulk and dimensions upon being dampened; that then the young may be brought forth successfully, as though the eggs had never been molested. When it was found that heat had no appreciable effect upon them, the experiment tried.

Darwin, of Stockholm, kept them frozen in ice for eighteen months, yet they hatched when removed as readily as if they had always been in their native element. Next artificial cold was tried. A phial of the eggs was submitted to a temperature of what would be equal to 100 degs. below the zero mark of Fahrenheit, still their vitality did not seem to be injured in the least.—St. Louis Republic.

Traveling in England.

"I find some errors prevalent here in New York," an Englishman observed, "about the cost of railway traveling in England. It is erroneous, for example, to say that the third class carriages, which carry passengers at the rate of a penny a mile, according to law, are lacking in any desirable comfort or convenience. The fact is that they are satisfactory in every respect, and are used by the vast majority of our travelers and by the most respectable people of all classes and both sexes. You can see in them, in every train, business men and fashionable ladies, as well as mechanics and others. When I traveled with my family over Great Britain we always took third class fare, and we never regretted it. The law requires that every passenger shall be provided with a seat, and both this and the penny a mile law are enforced. There is a saying in Europe that only Americans and fools ride in the first class carriages."

New York Sun.

How to Treat a Shying Horse.

Do you strike a horse when he "shies?" You only make matters worse. He shies because of fear of being hurt. Now, if you strike him he will certainly kick the harmless brush heap with pain. It is better not to change the tension of the rein at all; that is, if you were driving with a loose line when the animal shied not do nervously clutch the rein, as you were frightened also. It will do no good for you, you cannot gather up a loose line quick enough. If the horse shies very badly speak to him, and gather the lines easily and firmly. If you were driving with a taut line, which is always best, in my judgment, do not jerk as he shies, but press steadily and keep cool.—New York Weekly.

Improvement in Window Glass.

One of the recent improvements in the manufacture of window glass is the introduction of a process of dipping the sheet into a mammoth bath tub containing a mass of various liquids. Its results are instantly seen. It removes all dirt and deposition, and the glass becomes clear and pure as it was before it went through the flattening oven.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Dangers of Matrimony.

Mr. De Peck.—Since I married you I am losing all my good looks.

Mr. De Peck—Doesn't agree that nothing will spoil a woman's beauty quicker than frequent ebullitions of temper.—New York Weekly.

Upwards of 5000 Copies

IS THE

Weekly Circulation

OF THE

Quincy Daily Ledger.

MAKING IT A

Desirable Advertising Medium.

RATES LOW.

IN ANSWER

To the question which is asked us so often, How have you built up so large a trade? we would say that it is by buying only the best and selling at the smallest possible profit.

Boston Branch Grocery.

Quincy, Sept. 24. tf

Deu Indiana Doctoren Svenska.

Consultation Free in Boston.

The Indian Doctor who gave Indian

Cure Show in Quincy last July, will at his city office, 24 West Dedham street, Boston, Nov. 5. tf

Upwards of 5000 Copies

IS THE

Weekly Circulation

OF THE

Quincy Daily Ledger.

MAKING IT A

Desirable Advertising Medium.

RATES LOW.

SECTION IX.

This Act shall take effect upon its passage.

Substitute Sewerage Bill Revised.

Some Very Material Changes Made by Councilman

Slade—The New Draft.

Councilman will not offer to the City Council

the Draft Made a Couple of Weeks Ago, but has Reconstructed and Will Present the Following:

SECTION I.

The city of Quincy is hereby authorized to construct a system of sewerage for the whole or a part of its territory, according to the general plan, approved by the State Board of Health, under which the main body of sewerage shall be emptied into tide water in the channel known as West Gut, between Nut and Peddock's islands in Quincy Bay.

Portions of the territory of Quincy that cannot be drained into the general system may be drained by local sewers and the sewage deposited in such places as may be approved by the State Board of Health.

SECTION II.

The city of Quincy shall have full power to take, by purchase or otherwise, for the purposes aforesaid, any lands, flats, water rights, rights of way, or easements in said city, necessary for the establishment of such system of sewerage and sewage disposal, and for main drains and common sewers, if any, not included in such system, together with the outlet or outlets for the discharge of the sewage into tide water, and the connections therewith; and may divert streams or water courses, may construct sewers under or over any water course, street, bridge, embankment, railroad, highway or other way, in such manner as not unnecessarily to obstruct the same, and may enter upon and dig up any private land or street for the purpose of laying such sewers beneath the surface thereof, and of maintaining and repairing the same, and may do any other thing necessary or proper in executing the purposes of this Act.

SECTION III.

A board of three commissioners, to consist of the Mayor, the chairman of the City Council and the City Treasurer, shall have power to execute all the provisions of this Act other than the work of constructing and maintaining the sewers and appurtenances necessary thereto.

Said commissioners shall have such office room and clerical assistance, and shall receive such compensation as the City Council may determine.

SECTION IV.

Said board shall, within thirty days after the selection of any lands, flats, water rights, rights of way, easements or other property to be purchased or taken under this Act, file, or cause to be recorded, in the Registry of Deeds for Norfolk County, a description thereof sufficiently accurate for identification, with a statement of the purpose for which the same is taken or purchased; which description and statement shall be signed by said commissioners, and the fee or title of the land or property so taken or purchased shall therupon vest in the city of Quincy, and the date of such filing or recording shall be deemed the date of the taking. Said city shall be liable to pay all damages that shall be sustained by any person or corporation by reason of said taking; such damages to be ascertained and determined in the manner provided for ascertaining and determining damages in case of the laying out, altering or discontinuing of ways within the city of Quincy.

SECTION V.

Said commissioners shall cause to be made and filed in the office of the Commissioner of Public Works complete plans of the sewers and drains to be constructed under this Act. They shall make a report of their proceedings and expenditures to the City Council semi-annually, and at such other times as they may be requested so to do by said Council.

SECTION VI.

The construction of the sewers and appurtenances necessary thereto shall be according to the plans determined upon by the said board of commissioners, but shall be under the direction and control of the Commissioner of Public Works, as provided in section thirty-four of the charter of the city of Quincy. Said Commissioner shall make all contracts for the above purposes in the name and behalf of the city; but no contract shall be made which involves the expenditure of money not already appropriated for the purpose by the municipal government of said Quincy.

SECTION VII.

Said city shall in respect to all work and structures in tide water below high water mark be subject to the provisions of chapter nineteen of the Public Statutes and of the acts in amendment thereof, so far as the same are applicable to the subject matter of this Act.

SECTION VIII.

Said city may, for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses and liabilities to be incurred under this Act, issue from time to time bonds, notes or scrip to an amount not exceeding in the aggregate four hundred thousand dollars beyond the limit of indebtedness fixed by law for said city; said bonds, notes or scrip shall bear on their face the words "Quincy Sewer Loan," and shall be payable at the expiration of periods not exceeding forty years from the date of issue, with interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, and provisions of chapter twenty-nine of the Public Statutes shall otherwise apply to the issue of said bonds, notes or scrip and to the establishment of a sinking fund for the payment thereof at maturity. Provided, however, that said city may, instead of creating such sinking fund, provide by the terms of said bonds and notes that at least ten thousand dollars shall be due and payable each year upon the principal of said debt, and if so paid, said sinking fund need not be established.

SECTION IX.

This Act shall take effect upon its passage.

QUINCY'S TAXABLE PROPERTY.

Below is given another instalment of the list of taxable property of the city, a certain part of a letter for each Ward being published in each issue, so that the total of a person having property in each of the Wards may be computed by interested parties. The poll tax is included in the amount of the tax. Tax rate per thousand $13.00. Today's list includes all the Hardwicks.

WARD ONE.

To Whom Taxed.	Value.	Tax.
Hardwick, Theodore C. Money, stocks, bonds and income,	$1,500	$22 40
Hardwick, Frank C. Cow,	50
Yacht,	100	2 04
Hardwick, Charles H. Money, stocks, bonds and income,	18,000
Two horses,	300
Carriages,	400
Houses on Chestnut street,	18,000
Houses off Canal street,	3,500
Stable,</td

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 181.

QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

table property of the city, a certain each issue, so that the total of a computed by interested parties.
Tax rate per thousand $13.60.

ROGERS BROS.

ARE AGENTS IN QUINCY FOR

Searle's Disinfecting Powder.

A Positive Destroyer of all poisonous Odors, Vapors and Gases.

As a destroyer of Roaches, Water Bugs, Insects
on Plants, Fleas, Red and Black Ants, Moths, etc., it has no equal, and can be handled by the smallest child.

CALL AND EXAMINE.

ROGERS BROS.

Adams Building, Quincy.

Quincy Corporative Society.

W. F. COLBY, Manager.

Groceries, Provisions, Fish and Oysters

AT BOTTOM PRICES.

CROWN CREAMERY BUTTER,

The Best in the Market

FRANKLIN STREET, - - - QUINCY.

Special Bargains

IN

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers

AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,

94 Hancock Street, - - - Tirrell's Block.

GENT'S SHOES from $1.25 to $5.00.
LADIES' SHOES from $1.00 up.
CHILDREN'S SHOES from 25c. to $1.50.

James O'Donovan.

50 DOZEN

Children's Knee
Pants,
Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BUY

PIANOS

SE,

- Quincy.

Instruments. An Organ or

Mortgages,

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.

CORRESPONDENCE OF

JOHN STETSON COMPANY.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

IN ADAMS BUILDING.

STOCKS, CRAIN and PETROLEUM.

TELEPHONE 9-8.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

PROUD OF IT.

The Atlantic Social Club Dedicates a Pretty New Hall.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR PORTER.

A Rich Musical Programme presented by Wulf Fries, the Waverly Male Quartette and other Talent.

It promises to be a gay season in Ward Six. It may be said to have begun last evening, when the Atlantic Social Club dedicated its new hall on Newbury avenue. Atlantic has always needed a public hall, and now that they have got one, the people will doubtless endeavor to make up for deferred pleasure.

They are proud of the new hall, for their claim, that it is the best in the city, is well founded. It is among the largest, is conveniently arranged and its ventilation and acoustic arrangements are good. The hall is situated in the second story of a new building just completed by Mr. C. W. Higgins and has been leased by the Atlantic Social Club for five years. The building cost over $6000.

The hall is reached by a broad winding stairway. At the head of the stairs, occupying the front of the building, are the quarters of the club which consist of a good-sized reading room and a coat room. The former is richly carpeted and the furniture is of oak. When the furnishing is complete, it will make very cosy quarters for the members.

At the other end of the building is the stage 20 by 12, the former dimension being the opening. The curtain divides in the centre. On each side of the platform is an ante room. Two large furnaces heat the hall.

The Dedication
was simple. President Read welcomed the large number of friends told them that their presence assured the success of the enterprise of the club in the building the hall, and said the evening's concert was the first of a course which would be given by the club.

Mayor Porter was introduced. He said it afforded him great pleasure among his last acts as Mayor of the city to dedicate the hall to social and musical purposes. It was just such an institution as Atlantic needed and would be a great benefit. He complimented Ward Six upon its delightful situation, and its rapid growth and improvement in the past two years. The hall was of good proportion and good height, and one of which the club and people might well be proud. He then declared it dedicated for social and musical purposes.

A delightful concert followed.
The Programme.
1. Male Quartette, vocal march, Waverly Quartette.

2. Violincello Solo, (a) Melodie, (b) Caprice Hongrois, Mr. Fries.

3. Reading, "Jovita, or the Christmas Gift," Mr. Wheeler.

4. Song, "Bright Star of Love," Mrs. Harriett, obligato by Mr. Fries.

5. Violin Solo, "Albumleaf," Mr. Harriett.

6. Song, "Le parlate d'amour," Miss Spencer.

7. Male Quartette, "Tom, the Piper's Son," Waverly Quartette.

PART SECOND.

8. "Song of the Page," Miss Rogers.

9. Violincello Solo, (a) Serenade badine, (b) Kountra, Mr. Fries.

10. Reading, "Courtship under Difficulties," Strophobletton, Jones, Prudence, Mr. Wheeler.

11. Ballad, Mrs. Harriett.

12. Violin Solo, "Romanza," Mr. Harriett.

13. Male Quartette, "Absence," Waverly Quartette.

Guardians Appointed.

Hugh H. McQuillan to be guardian of Sarah E. Pettengill, an insane person of Dedham; bond, $400.

Mary A. Bosworth to be guardian of Charles N. and Caroline Bosworth, minors of Quincy; bond, $6,000.

Mrs. Eliza W. Fisher was granted a widow's allowance in the estate of Joshua Fisher, late of Dedham.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

We copy from the private sales in this county, the following in this city:

Sarah J. Gildersleeve (ux. Ansel B.) to

Henry P. Oakman, land on south side of

Atlantic street, $1080.

Sarah J. Gildersleeve (ux. A. B.) to Elmer P. Oakman, land on north side of Billing street, $1080.

Seth Spear, by executor, to Henrietta B.

Pratt, 25,740 square feet and buildings on southwest side of Spear street. Also

10,018 square feet on northeast side of

Spear street, on both sides of a private

way. Also one undivided sixth part for such interest of said Seth Spear in two lots, woodland, in "600-acre lot," containing respectively 1½ acres and three acres, $10,000.

Laws B. Carlson to John M. O'Brien,

8700 square feet and buildings on south side of Station street, $1200.

It was difficult to decide who was the proudest member of the social club, for they were all in clover.

All the local Councilmen are prominent members of the club.

The representatives of the press were extended every courtesy.

The LEDGER trusts that the club, which looks to the local press for encouragement, will not have its printing done in Boston.

PROBATE COURT.

Judge White Holds the Monthly Session in This City.

The following Norfolk County Probate business was transacted in Quincy this morning:

WILLS ALLOWED.

Of John Lamb late of Quincy, Marin Lamb executrix; bond, $500.

Of Patrick Watson late of Quincy, Bridget Watson executrix; bond, $3,000.

Of Alexander Mason late of Quincy, Frank Kemp executrix; bond, $800.

Of James Mitchell late of Brookline, Bridget Mahoney executrix. Appeal taken.

Administrations Granted.

Estate of Emma Littlefield late of Braintree, Albert Littlefield, administrator; bond $2000.

Estate of Rebecca N. Ellis late of Dedham, Susan D. Ellis administratrix; bond, $500.

Estate of Nora E. Shay late of Randolph, Mary A. Shay administratrix.

Estate of Jeannie Bosworth late of Quincy, Mary A. Bosworth administratrix; bond, $7000.

Estate of Joanna M. Tilden late of Coopersett, Charles F. Tilden administratrix; bond, $6000.

Estate of Edward Coleran late of Weymouth, Julia Coleran, administratrix.

Accounts Allowed.

Second of Edwin W. Marsh, administrator of estate of Cotton Center Johnson late of Quincy; $12,327.71.

First and final of Henry A. Pettengill, guardian of Sarah E. Pettengill of Dedham, a minor; $192.00.

Of Ellen E. Thayer, administratrix of estate of Charles H. Thayer of Randolph; $461.

Second of Seth Mann, 2d, executor of estate of Avis Perry late of Randolph; $5750.00.

Of Ephraim Wales guardian of Mary Wales of Randolph, $1135.50.

First and final of Andrew J. Bates, administrator of estate of John Bates of Randolph, $3,082.95.

First and final of Elizabeth A. Packard, administrator of estate of Mary E. Newcomb late of Quincy; $1,181.92.

Of Mary A. Roel, executrix of will of Sarah Hollis late of Randolph; $925.

First and final of Charles C. Hayes and Simeon M. Hayes executors of will of Florence E. Hayes late of Hyde Park; $8,100.

Inventories Presented.

Estate of Joshua Fisher late of Dedham; $5,303.

License to Sell.

Abraham H. Tower, administrator of estate of Elizabeth T. Souther, late of Coopersett, to sell real estate.

David G. Doane, guardian of James F. Doane of Cohasset, to sell real estate.

Joanna W. King, administrator of estate of Ellen F. Palmer, late of Westfield, N. J., to sell real estate.

Guardians Appointed.

Hugh H. McQuillan to be guardian of Sarah E. Pettengill, an insane person of Dedham; bond, $400.

Mary A. Bosworth to be guardian of Charles N. and Caroline Bosworth, minors of Quincy; bond, $6,000.

Mrs. Eliza W. Fisher was granted a widow's allowance in the estate of Joshua Fisher, late of Dedham.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

We copy from the private sales in this city, the following in this city:

Sarah J. Gildersleeve (ux. Ansel B.) to

Henry P. Oakman, land on south side of

Atlantic street, $1080.

Seth Spear, by executor, to Henrietta B.

Pratt, 25,740 square feet and buildings on southwest side of Spear street. Also

10,018 square feet on northeast side of

Spear street, on both sides of a private

way. Also one undivided sixth part for such interest of said Seth Spear in two lots, woodland, in "600-acre lot," containing respectively 1½ acres and three acres, $10,000.

Laws B. Carlson to John M. O'Brien,

8700 square feet and buildings on south

side of Station street, $1200.

Merry Mount Kennels.

Merry Mount Kennels of Wollaston report the sale of a St. Bernard puppy to Mr. O. F. Connelly of Carlisle, Pa., also one to Mr. W. H. Thompson of Somerville, Mass.

Mr. Charles H. Akery of Tonawanda, N. Y., has purchased a very promising St.

Bernard puppy, whelped June 30, 1890, weighing 65 pounds.

Mr. Kent has also secured from

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)

— BY —
GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carriers or Mail.

One month, $1.00
Three months, 3.00
Six months, 5.00
One year, 6.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

A Successful and Benevolent Venture.
The new Mission Kindergarten just started on First avenue is flourishing. Richard Watson Gilder, who runs The Century, is president of the Kindergarten association, and Mrs. Grover Cleveland is vice president. Sixty of the lowest class of hol-poll children made their appearance on the first day and have kept on coming through the rain and shine of fall weather with a persistency that would astonish the mothers of Murray Hill tots. And if you could see what these children eat—what they bring for lunch. Bad bananas, wormy figs, speckled pears and plums, "chunks" of hard brown bread, bones cruelly devoured of meat, and everything else calculated to derange it's internal organs of any other than these street gamins.

Yet they are intelligent and healthy, too. You would be surprised, you really would, if you could behold the fat, rosy cheeks and the bright eyes that follow the teacher's every move. Her gentle "No, no, little boys; never do that," is to them a royal command. And a whole manual of etiquette is found in her smile and frown. A nursery maid is in constant attendance. The parents were requested not to send babies under 3 years old, but more often than not, little 2-year-old is intrusted with the care of Yosef, aged 2, and Mina, "just turned 1 year."—New York World.

An Experiment in Keeping Lodgers.
An experiment is to be made by "The Silver Circle" of the King's Daughters in the shape of a "Quiet House." Mrs. M. L. Hollister is treasurer and Miss Anna F. Pierson president of the movement. The sum of $1,000 has been promised and no difficulty is anticipated in securing the necessary funds. A large house will be rented suitable for the convenience of twenty families. There will be a common assembly room or parlor, a general laundry and a nursery and kindergarten, where the young children will be cared for and amused at an expense of a few cents a week.

The rooms will be rented singly or in suites of two and three at not more than $1 a week. The object, while philanthropic, is in no way charitable, the idea being to assist working women, widows with children to support, and aged people in finding a safe, convenient, cheerful and inexpensive dwelling place free from contaminating influences. The society proposes to paint the floors, thus doing away with carpets to lay in a large supply of fuel and retail it to the tenants at actual cost, and to help solve the problem of bread and butter, provisions and light in the same manner.—New York World.

A Chinese Suttee.

A case of suttee, which is unusual in China, although it is regarded as a great virtue, is reported from the neighborhood of Foochow. The victim was a young woman, 24 years of age, whose husband died of leprosy early in the year. She was childless and had none except distant relatives to depend upon for support. She had, therefore, she said, no alternative but to commit this act of self-sacrifice. As soon as her intention became known she received several invitations to grand banquets, all of which she accepted and enjoyed as if there were no sequel.

After a special feast of this character she ascended a staircase constructed for the purpose, where the village elders came to make their obeisances, each three times, as if she were already a canonized saint. The signal having been given by firing of a gun, she ascended a scaffold with her hands unpinioned, and there, in the sight of all, strangled herself. Her body was placed in a coffin, which was duly prepared beforehand. It is said that the emperor will grant a tablet extolling her virtue as soon as the vicereyn of the province represents the case to the throne.—London Times.

A Princess' Break.

Here's a true story about the Princess Engelichoff, fresh from the Fair City. Not long ago that beautiful Russian lady attended a reception given at the Calumet club. She was regal in old satin and old jewels and was escorted by one of the handsomest officers of the club. In the old settlers' room the portrait of Long John Wentworth was pointed out to her. Now, the late Mr. Wentworth was far from spiritual, and at the first glance the princess, with a little start, exclaimed, looking at a circle of friends, "Do show me a big sticker! I have heard so much about the Chicago pig sticker." The gentleman flushed a little; then her hostess replied, "Princess, you are on the arm of one."—Chicago Letter.

Ten Years in State Prison.

WOONSOCKET, Nov. 12.—W. F. Addison McAndrews, condemned last week in the superior court of burglar, was sentenced by Judge Aldrich to ten years in state prison. McAndrews broke into the house of Henry Stowell at Attleboro a year ago, and stole bonds and notes to the value of about $30,000.

CORDIALITY PAYS.
Brazil's Reception to the White Squadron Will Be Amply Recognized.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The United States government will make every endeavor to give the Brazilian squadron a reception that will equal in cordiality the reception given to the British and the white squadron at Rio Janeiro.

The Brazilian fleet will arrive at New York between Nov. 15 and 25. The Dolphin and the Yorktown will meet the fleet at Sandy Hook, and the Dolphin will fire a salute to the Brazilian admiral. Capt. Sterling of the Dolphin will go on board the Brazilian flagship and welcome the admiral and his officers to their country.

The Yorktown will pass the Zerstörer, the fleet will pass through the Narrows and up the harbor, and salutes will be fired from the forts in the harbor. A personal salute to the Brazilian admiral will be fired from Governor's Island. The ships will then pass between Bell's Island and the Battery, and anchor in the North River, where the Philadelphia (Admiral Gherardi's flagship) and the Varuna will be waiting to receive them. As the vessels enter the anchorage, Admiral Gherardi will fire a personal salute to Admiral Da Silveira.

The principal officers of the Brazilian squadron will probably be entertained at dinner in New York the day after their arrival. After spending a short time in New York, the Brazilian fleet will proceed to Washington, D. C., will be open at Mt. Vernon and another at the naval academy. A reception by the president and other entertainments are on the Washington program of entertainment. The officers will visit Philadelphia and go probably thence to Niagara Falls before returning to New York. The Brazilian fleet will consist of the armored cruiser Aquidabon and the cruiser Guanabara.

A SENATIONAL TRAGEDY.

Prominent Exchange of "Hotels Between Prominent Men on a Rail Track."

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 12.—On the race track at the Chattahoochee Valley exposition, among the attractions of the day was a gentlemen's trotting race, in which T. G. Dawson of Glendale, Ala., was entered. The race produced $1,000 on the ground and the grand stand was packed with ladies and children. Immediately after the close of the race Dawson drove into the open space in the rear of the judges' stand, directly opposite the grand stand, and got out of his sulky. In a few seconds the crowd was startled by the report of a pistol, and the sight of Dawson running, pursued by three men who were firing at him. Dawson was seen trying to get his pistol out as he secured the weapon he turned on his pursuers and returned the fire. Some thirteen shots in all were fired. Dawson fell and expired in a few seconds.

Policemen arrested the murderers, who really would, if you could behold the fat, rosy cheeks and the bright eyes that follow the teacher's every move. Her gentle "No, no, little boys; never do that," is to them a royal command. And a whole manual of etiquette is found in her smile and frown. A nursery maid is in constant attendance. The parents were requested not to send babies under 3 years old, but more often than not, little 2-year-old is intrusted with the care of Yosef, aged 2, and Mina, "just turned 1 year."—New York World.

An Experiment in Keeping Lodgers.

An experiment is to be made by "The Silver Circle" of the King's Daughters in the shape of a "Quiet House." Mrs. M. L. Hollister is treasurer and Miss Anna F. Pierson president of the movement. The sum of $1,000 has been promised and no difficulty is anticipated in securing the necessary funds. A large house will be rented suitable for the convenience of twenty families. There will be a common assembly room or parlor, a general laundry and a nursery and kindergarten, where the young children will be cared for and amused at an expense of a few cents a week.

The rooms will be rented singly or in suites of two and three at not more than $1 a week. The object, while philanthropic, is in no way charitable, the idea being to assist working women, widows with children to support, and aged people in finding a safe, convenient, cheerful and inexpensive dwelling place free from contaminating influences. The society proposes to paint the floors, thus doing away with carpets to lay in a large supply of fuel and retail it to the tenants at actual cost, and to help solve the problem of bread and butter, provisions and light in the same manner.—New York World.

Conspiracy to Rob a Railroad.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 12.—A conspiracy has been unearthed on the part of employees of the general passenger department of the Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo railroad and passenger and express company in placing bogus passes and editors' books in circulation. Two local ticket brokers, Blaney and Rainey, have been arrested and given bonds for appearance. Charles E. Rose, chief clerk to the general passenger agent and later rate clerk of the Panhandle railroad at Pittsburgh, and a woman, worked for the conspiracy who escaped.

Mrs. Sagmuhli, who arrived a few days ago from Germany, went to bed intoxicated and was also asphyxiated.

Thomas W. Williams, a worker, fell down the bunk and broke his neck.

Diphtheria continues to rage unabated, there having been thirty-three new cases and four deaths in twenty-four hours.

Conspiracy to Rob a Railroad.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 12.—A conspiracy has been unearthed on the part of employees of the general passenger department of the Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo railroad and passenger and express company in placing bogus passes and editors' books in circulation. Two local ticket brokers, Blaney and Rainey, have been arrested and given bonds for appearance. Charles E. Rose, chief clerk to the general passenger agent and later rate clerk of the Panhandle railroad at Pittsburgh, and a woman, worked for the conspiracy who escaped.

Frank Bishop, who had just arrived from Weymouth, Mass., on a visit, blew out the gas at the hotel where she was staying and was asphyxiated.

Thomas W. Williams, a worker, fell down the bunk and broke his neck.

Diphtheria continues to rage unabated, there having been thirty-three new cases and four deaths in twenty-four hours.

Conspiracy to Rob a Railroad.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 12.—A conspiracy has been unearthed on the part of employees of the general passenger department of the Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo railroad and passenger and express company in placing bogus passes and editors' books in circulation. Two local ticket brokers, Blaney and Rainey, have been arrested and given bonds for appearance. Charles E. Rose, chief clerk to the general passenger agent and later rate clerk of the Panhandle railroad at Pittsburgh, and a woman, worked for the conspiracy who escaped.

The Republican party was criticized for its stinginess in pensions to ex-prisoners.

Fifty comrades were present at the banquet in the evening.

They Died Together.

HARTFORD, Nov. 12.—Two old maids, Mary and Anne Myers, who lived with an invalid mother in a 15-story street, were found dead yesterday morning. They were evidently found dead since Sunday, as the bodies were somewhat decomposed. Medical Examiner Knight announced the cause of death as neglect and old age.

Ten Years in State Prison.

WOONSOCKET, Nov. 12.—W. F. Addison McAndrews, condemned last week in the superior court of burglar, was sentenced by Judge Aldrich to ten years in state prison. McAndrews broke into the house of Henry Stowell at Attleboro a year ago, and stole bonds and notes to the value of about $30,000.

Bond Offers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The amount of 41.2 percent bonds redeemed yesterday under the circular of Oct. 9 was $157,500, making the total to date $4,601,500.

Day After Tomorrow.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Nov. 12—it has been decided that Birchall will be executed at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

SCARCITY OF MONEY

Causes Great Flurry and Excitement in New York.

TWO FAILURES ON 'CHANGE.

Importers of Silks Suspend for More Than a Million Dollars—Philadelphia Bankers Go Under—Banks Boistered Up by the Clearing House—Secretary Windom—Thinks the Worst is Over.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Rumors of trouble among banking institutions were current on Wall street all day yesterday, but not till after the close of business was it known that the worst had come. Three banks, members of the New York Clearing House association, were unable to settle the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not meet. The other banks were the North River and the Mechanics and Traders. During the day the Mechanics and Traders, with the clearing house, had made arrangements with all the other banks to receive the claims of the other banks against them. There was a balance against the Bank of North America of $1,400,000, which it could not

Today's Anniversaries.

TEN PERSONS KILLED

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 12.

In a Frightful Collision on a Railway in England.

OLPHERT EVICTIONS BEGUN.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Fields—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts' Cities and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

1888—First or Stone Church, Quincy, dedicated.

1888—Mr. William B. Rice gave Quincy a hospital and land; dedicated June 17, 1890.

World Wide.

1888—Death of Alexander the Great.

1888—Death of Richard III.

1888—Death of King Edward VII.

1888—Emperor Paul I of Russia.

1888—Death of Charles Kemble, English actor.

1888—Death of Alphonse of Spain.

1888—Emperor Paul I of Russia.

1888—Emperor Paul I of Russia.

1888—Attack on Parisians repelled (Russia-France war).

1888—Boulanger issued a manifesto to the French people from the Island of Jersey.

1888—A destructive flood in the Yangtze-Kiang river region China, the cause of much loss of life and property; 12,000,000 acres of rice destroyed.

Some Noted Jews.

There is a Jew said the Rev. Dr. Black, as he sat in his study with a Jew later and pointed to a plaster cast of Michael Angelo's magnificent head of Moses. "And there is another Jew!" he added, as he pointed to a painting of the Veronica Christ. "And there are yet other Jews," he continued, as he glanced around the walls at the pictures of the prophets, apostles and sages, from David and Jeremiah to Paul and Peter. "Yes, my Christian brother, these are Jews, and they not men who have voiced the highest thought of the world for ages. Their teaching is the guide of our morality and will lead mankind to the end of time." The Jew had never taken full account of these things before hearing his pastor's impassioned words, which, however, set him a-thinking—New York Sun.

The Memory of a Chinese.

Talk about the power of a Chinaman.

"I am a Chinaman," said an East Side groceryman. "I was in a Fifteenth street laundry the other day and the almond eyed scoundrel, whose quick motions sometimes made you think of a knife, was over with a paint brush. He was painting a red sign reading 'Chinese Laundry,' and painting it neatly as a professional painter. He could not read a word of English and had no copy before him, and when I asked him how he did it, he simply said, 'See him lots!'"—Kansas City Star.

WRETCHED INDEED.

Sixteen Families Ejected from the Oliphert Estate—The Owner Denounces.

DU SILL, Nov. 12.—The threatened evictions on the Oliphert estate were begun at midnight yesterday. A fierce storm had raged all night, and the work of eviction was begun under a cloudy sky, the gloomy weather adding to the wretchedness of the scene. It was thought some of the tenants might resist the evictors and a force of heavily armed policemen was on the ground to meet such an emergency. Sixteen families, comprising 100 persons, were ejected from their homes.

A recent contract provides for street lighting in Paris on a novel plan. Power is distributed by the compressed air system to a great number of small lamps, each of which supplies currents for a small number of lamps.

Women Who Want to Fight Duels.

At the last meeting of the League for the Emancipation of Women Mme. Severe proposed a vote of censure on the article called "Severine," whose article had caused Mr. Merimee to fight M. Lemoine. Mme. Severe was condemned by the whole assembly of women voting for emancipation, because she did not take up the challenge of the author of the revelations of Boulangism, and meet him on the field of honor, herself instead of allowing an obliging journalist to fight for her. The resolution proposed by Mme. d'Estoc was that every woman who does not assume responsibility for her actions and who allows a man to champion her cause is guilty of a deed of inferiority.—Paris Cor. London Telegraph.

They Murder an Aged Woman and a Person to Seeine Plunder.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—A story of robbery and murder comes from the town of Arge. Last night burglars broke into the house of the parish cure there and proceeded to plunder the place. The burglar, a woman, was captured, and the work of eviction was begun under a cloudy sky, the gloomy weather adding to the wretchedness of the scene. It was thought some of the tenants might resist the evictors and a force of heavily armed policemen was on the ground to meet such an emergency. Sixteen families, comprising 100 persons, were ejected from their homes.

During a squabble Mr. O'Neill, member of parliament, put a chalk mark on a policeman's arm and accused him of disloyalty.

He warned the others that he would similarly mark all who would be guilty of misbehaviour, this being the only way to identify the men as long as the authorities declined to make them wear badges.

A number of English visitors, including several ladies, witnessed the evictions, and afterwards held an indignation meeting, at which the action of the owner of the estate was roundly denounced. The bishop of Raphoe arrived at Ardsberg in the afternoon for the purpose of assisting the evicted families.

WORK OF BURGLARS.

They Murder an Aged Woman and a Person to Seeine Plunder.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—A story of robbery and murder comes from the town of Arge. Last night burglars broke into the house of the parish cure there and proceeded to plunder the place. The burglar, a woman, was captured, and the work of eviction was begun under a cloudy sky, the gloomy weather adding to the wretchedness of the scene. It was thought some of the tenants might resist the evictors and a force of heavily armed policemen was on the ground to meet such an emergency. Sixteen families, comprising 100 persons, were ejected from their homes.

It was a serious moment, for the Irish had retired in high dudgeon from the house; the ministry were hard beset and required the Irish vote to prevent them from being defeated. Mr. Gladstone had been compelled to make a speech suggesting that if he were defeated he should resign to consider his personal position. All eyes turned to the small group of Irishmen who had such momentous issues at their mercy.

At that moment Mr. Parnell, looking down on the surging, excited and deeply observant house underneath, uttered a few words to his companion with a look of inscrutable mystery. No one can tell what priceless gurdon would have been given to that friend who would reveal such a confidence and lay bare the great and secret of the nation. The news that he had been defeated had found expression in this supreme hour.

What Mr. Parnell had said was: "I wonder why so many men in the house of commons are bold?"

Hungry and Penniless.

How a Wicked Italian Treated Two Young English Girls.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Two pretty English girls, who gave their names as Jenny and Alice, to relatives and Katie, disappeared, came to the barge office and told a pitiful story of desertion and want. Both girls claim that they met an Italian, Stephani, who engaged them to come to America and sing in concert halls for 10 shillings a week. The trio landed here on Oct. 17, and on the following night Stephani took the girls to Brooklyn, where they sang songs in the street, collecting money from the crowd that surrounded them. The following week they visited Bridgeport, New Haven, Hartford, Norwich and New London, Conn., and Springfield, Mass. At New London the girls objected to doing any more singing, and though the Italian swore and threatened, they remained firm. Stephani then, taking all their clothing, left them and skipped out. New London city officials paid the girls' fare to this city. The barge office officials will try to send them back to England.

Bluecoats' Presence Calmed Them.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A large crowd assembled at Cooper Union to hear Lucy Parsons and Herr Most eulogize the Anarchists who were hanged at Chicago, Nov. 11, 1887. The hall was decorated with red flags, and pictures of the five dead Anarchists were suspended on the stage. Mrs. Parsons' speech was mainly devoted to an attack upon the police. She eulogized the martyrs and argued that they were not as bad as Herr Most and a number of other speakers followed. No necessity arose for the services of the 100 policemen present.

They Were Going Around the World.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—The police have in confinement two boys who ran recently away from their homes in Central Falls, R. I. Their names are William Burnham and Theodore Lawton. Burnham is 13 years old, and his father is proprietor of a prominent factory. The boys were discovered trying to ship on board a vessel. In their possession were found two razors, a revolver and a lot of cheap novelties. The Burnham boy said that when they left home they intended to go around the world, but now they are willing to go home. Their parents have been notified.

Formerly Organized.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The Daughters of the American Revolution last night adopted a constitution and by-laws. Mrs. Harrison, the president of the society, assisted in receiving the charter and guests. Mrs. Darling, the founder of the society, announced the election of Mrs. James K. Polk, Mrs. Thomas A. Hendricks and Mrs. Admiral Porter as honorary vice presidents of the new organization.

Mail Carriers in Collision with Crooks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Postoffice Inspectors Jacobs and Harsthorne have recommended the dismissal of seven letter carriers for collusion with "green goods" men. The inspectors found that the carriers, whom they have shadowed for some time, have been delivering the mail to these swindlers and received compensation therefor.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Forecast for New England: Fair, preceded by light rain on the coast; no change in temperature; variable winds.

London, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

Maine is a Great State.

C. H. Guffman, of Lewiston, has recently returned from a visit to Somersbury. A week ago he and his wife had a slide down hill on the snow, and the same day had for dinner green corn from the garden.—Auburn Gazette.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times in its financial article says it has heard of $1,500,000 is coming from Russia and $2,000,000 from France. The collapse in Americans at the close yesterday was due to a rumor that a minor American railroad magnate had failed.

The Thunderer's Explanation.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Boston Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Schooner's Store, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy.
McGraw Bros.' Store, Plummer's Block, Quincy.
Coran's Store, Copeland Street, West Quincy.
Miss Bartlett's Store, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy Point.
Post Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy Point.
Depot, Wollaston Heights, Braintree, Weymouth.

Today's Almanac.—November 12.
High water at 10:45 A. M. and 11:15 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:02; Sets at 4:25.
Moon rises at 5:21 A. M.
New Moon Nov. 12.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

City Council this evening.

Something has upset the weather again.

The concert in aid of the Hospital will be given this evening.

A buffalo robe is advertised in the lost column.

Mr. Wm. J. Welsh, merchant tailor, has raised a handsome new sign.

The Granite Clothing Co., have several new advertisements in this issue.

Mrs. F. H. Downe of Hartford, Conn., is visiting her grandfather, Mr. Albion P.
Wright.

Supper and social tonight at the Universi-alist vestry. Bean supper at half past six followed by a social good time.

There will be a delegation in this city during fair week from Robert G. Shaw Post, New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y.

Dr. Smith is the new doctor in West Quincy. He comes from Pennsylvania and has taken an office at 157 Copeland street.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Carrie Hall and Mr. Samuel E. Ames which will occur Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Stephen Hall, 105 Hancock street.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas Crane Public Library of $2000, to the Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

TODAY'S COURT.

M. D. Wolcott, the agent for the Boston
Custom Suit Club Co. arraigned in Court Monday, appeared again this morning on his case which was continued. A number of members of the club in this city were summoned as witnesses. Judge Humphrey reserved his decision for two weeks and placed Wolcott under $400 bonds which the latter furnished.

Edward Cavanagh, of Randolph, for second drunk fine $7. In default of fine was committed.

Epworth League Entertainment.

A pleasing entertainment was given in the vestry of the M. E. church, West Quincy, last evening under the auspices of the Epworth League. There was a good attendance. Ice cream and cake were served. The programme included an address by Mr. J. W. Frost; solo by Flora Shackley; harmonica solo by Fred Leavitt; reading by Lizzie Mason; song by Hattie Fuller; flute duet by Messrs. N. Williams and E. Bath; recitation by Miss Litchfield; female quartette by Misses Miller, Shackley and Fuller.

Burglary at Wollaston.
The residence of Dr. J. W. Record, on First Hill, Wollaston, was entered by burglars last night. Only twenty dollars worth of silver was taken. Entrance was gained by opening a window in the dining room, which had been accidentally left unlocked. The burglars were very fashionable. Before leaving they retired to the pantry and had a hearty lunch.

The Panama Canal works are wrecked, even traces of the excavations are vanishing and the constructive machinery is worthless. This enterprise, in which $400,000,000 has been sunk, will figure as the monumental failure of the age.

Books and Magazines.

Table Talk for November is on hand to cheer the body with its pleasing presence and delicious contents. Among the many good things to be found in this number that will deeply interest the housewife, is a Thanksgiving dinner prepared by its editor, Mrs. S. T. Rorer, whose fame for good dishes is world wide. Mrs. Rorer gives three bills of fare, with quantities for twelve persons, and tells you how to make everything the menu calls for. Table Talk Publishing Co., 1617 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

BORN.

AUSTIN—In Quincy, Nov. 9, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Austin.
GOUELLA—In South Quincy, Nov. 5, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gouelle.

FAIRBANKS LEADS

The Daily Ledger Has a Good Sized Caucus.

VOTE FOR FAXON A SURPRISE.

Ex-Councilman Shaw Also has Many Friends in the Mayoralty Contest—Messrs.
King, Hodges, Federhen and Others Receive Votes.

The people's caucus inaugurated by the DAILY LEDGER may not settle the mayoralty question, or even forecast the nominees, but considerable interest is manifested is shown from the fact that 100 readers of Monday's LEDGER have voted. It should be borne in mind that the caucus appeared but once.

Nine candidates are represented in the list below, which includes Republicans and Democrats. No one has a majority, but President Fairbanks of the City Council has a large plurality. The greatest surprise of the contest is the strength developed by Henry H. Faxon, he standing second on the list. Ex-Councilman Shaw also has many votes.

The Result of the Ballot.

Was as follows:

Number of votes cast 109
H. O. Fairbanks had 44
Henry H. Faxon 16
John Shaw 15
Theophilus King 9
William A. Hodges 8
H. M. Federhen 8
John F. Merrill 5
William T. Shea 3
James Thompson 1

A QUESTIONABLE SEIZURE.

Action of a Prince Edward's Ireland Collector May Cause Trouble.

HALIFAX, Nov. 12.—The Gloucester schooner Edward, Captain C. C. May, arrived here yesterday, P. E. L. and was chartered by Matthew McLean & Co., to load turnips and potatoes. She was ready to sail Monday afternoon, but when Capt. Seeley applied to Collector Foley for his clearance papers, that official refused to issue them and also it is reported, declined to give his reasons for refusing. Later in the evening the vessel was seized on the charge of violating the customs act. The vessel is alleged to have been committed last year when the vessel was under a different captain and owned by another firm.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MILLER SAYS "NO!"
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In response to
the inquiries made by Postmaster General
Wanamaker, Miller decided Oct. 18, 1890,
to the administration departments newspapers
that the "guessing contest" in its various phases are in violation of section 384 of
the revised statutes, as amended by the anti-lottery act of Sept. 10, 1890, Attorney
General Miller has submitted his opinion,
in which he holds the negative.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wollaston will meet at the house of Mr. A. G. Olney on Saturday evening, November 15, at 7 o'clock. All active and honorary members are earnestly
requested to be present.

The city of Quincy has received its legacy
of $2000 left by the will of the late Cotton Center Johnson for Thanksgiving dinners
for the poor. The legacies to the Thomas
Crane Public Library of $2000, to the
Christ Church of $1,000, and to the Winchester Home for Aged Women of $2000,
have also been paid by the estate.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 182.

QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

50 DOZEN

Children's Knee
Pants,
Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BEST IN THE MARKET!

FOR $6.50 CASH

WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.

[FRANK S. PATCH.]

Quincy, July 9.

G. A. R. Fair.

OPENS MONDAY, NOV. 17, 1890.

HANCOCK HALL.

ONE WEEK ONLY!

Entertainment and Music

EACH EVENING.

The Committees are as follows:

Executive,—J. D. Williams, Chairman; I. M. Holt, Secretary; A. W. Gardner, Treasurer.

Reception,—Charles L. Orne.

Entertainment,—W. H. Warner.

Season Tickets,—H. O. Souther.

Refreshments,—G. H. Osborne.

Wheel,—J. S. Farrell and S. D. DeForest.

Confederator,—O. M. Whittier.

Chances,—Franklin Curtis.

Door Keeper,—M. E. Hanson.

Popular Contests

Among Councilmen for Gold Headed Cane.

Among Members of Relief Corps for Piano Lamp.

Among Members of Sons of Veterans for Gold Watch.

Admission Tickets, - - 25c.

Season Tickets, 50 Cents.

Nov. 11.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Councilman Thompson President Pro Tempore.

Auditor Hall's Statement of Expenditures and Balances Nov. 1.

A Small Attendance and a Short Session—Sewerage Bill on Table.

It was expected that the sewerage bill would come up for discussion in the City Council last evening and there was a good attendance of citizens, but only seventeen Councilmen answered to the roll call. Two of the six absences came in later, but another went out. Those absent from the entire session were: Messrs. Burke, Fairbanks, Faunce and Kapples. It was the first meeting that the first two have missed either this year or last year, and the engagements which kept them away, must have been very important.

In the absence of President Fairbanks, Councilman-at-large Newcomb, the senior member, took the chair.

The reading of the records was begun, but was dispensed with.

Upon motion, the Council proceeded by roll call to elect a President pro tempore. Councilman Thompson received 14 and Councilman Slade 3, and Councilman Thompson was declared elected.

Communications From Auditor.

Auditor Hall asked further time on the order calling for a statement of the bills of 1889 paid this year. Granted.

Auditor Hall reported the appropriation for fountains exhausted. Communication referred to Committee on Finance.

The Auditor's statement for November 1, was submitted and without being read was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Items.	Balance.
Almshouse and outside poor.	$1,972.07
Assessors department, plans of wards.	500.00
Books, binding and postage.	86.75
Transfers.	23.00
Miscellaneous expenses.	32.87
Clerical services.	0.00
Abatements.	4,500.00
Bridges.	140.35
Widening and deepening brooks.	239.51
City Hospital.	0.00
Burial places.	0.00
Pay of City officers.	3,531.38
Memorial Day.	12.90
Garbage.	18,102.58
City debt.	200.00
Law department.	0.00
Fountains.	0.00
Fire Department.—Fire alarm.	234.00
Rubber goods.	150.50
Lighting engine houses.	71.28
Coal and fuel.	148.62
Horse keeping, and shoeing.	47.74
Pay of men, 1888.	77.40
Pay of men, 1890.	3,065.81
Miscellaneous.	172.39
Repairs.	219.54
New Hose.	64.50
Surveys of Water street.	500.00
Watering certain streets.	0.00
Election expenses.	993.09
Streets.	670.23
Elm and Canal street.	667.35
Lines of Elm street.	15.00
Liberty street.	20.87
Belmont street.	29.26
Culvert on South street.	100.00
Common street.	70.70
Bates avenue.	9.50
Street lines and grades.	1,100.00
Lawyer lane.	350.00
Removal of Snow.	59.74
Whitwell street.	0.00
Hancock street.	213.31
Sidewalks.—edgestones.	2,799.05
Street lighting.	1.99
Board of Health.	250.00
Pay of Board of Health.	245.70
Hydrants.	45.00
Interest.	3,370.45
Receipts.	3,721.53
Thomas Crane Public Library—Books.	100.08
Fuel and lighting.	49.32
Salaries and assistants.	137.57
Miscellaneous.	0.00
Parks.	60.57
Enforcement of liquor law.	1,000.00
Police.	198.15
Police station.	15.96
Repair of public buildings.	32.26
Schools.—Evening schools.	334.75
Evening drawing schools.	238.29
Salaries, fuel and care.	8,742.22
Repairs schoolhouses.	9.71
Miscellaneous.	150.43
Books and stationery.	78.78
Transportation.	431.75
Wollaston schoolhouse.	0.00
Willard schoolhouse.	38,872.76
State Aid.—Chapter 301.	1.00
Chapter 279.	0.00
Chapter 298.	140.60
Mahoney claim.	0.00
West street.	235.39
Advertising, printing and stationery.	53.82
Pointing wall—Beale street.	0.00
Miscellaneous, city received from tax estate.	329.85
Engine house, Ward Six.	6.78
Clerk for Commissioner of Public Works.	186.09
Draft of Sewer Bill.	16.70
Land Laura Hinckley.	0.00
Rydens Street.	0.00

Andrew Olsen and others petitioned that Ryden street be accepted and laid out as a public way, and extended to Whitwell street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Hall License.

E. G. Hall, chairman of the directors of the Atlantic Social Club petitioned for a license to give entertainments in Music hall. City Clerk authorized to issue same in consideration of $86.

More Light.

M. W. Gerry and others petition that the lights Colony street, not removed, but that they be lighted. Referred to Committee on Lights.

Councilman Hall offered a resolve requesting the Mayor to locate two oil lights on Newbury street. Referred to Committee on Lights.

A License.

The Committee on Licenses reported an order instructing City Clerk to issue common victualler license to Charles Lorenzo. Adopted.

Election Returns.

The Committee on Election submitted the vote of the city at the recent election which was read by the clerk, and declared approved by the president.

Warrant for City Election.

Councilman Ewell offered an order that warrants be issued for the city election, Tuesday, Dec. 4. Adopted.

Trafford Street.

The order laying out Trafford street came up for a second reading. A substitute order was offered by Councilman Jones, accompanied by a deed of the street from the Adams Real Estate Trust. Adopted.

Rule one was suspended and at 8:30 the Council adjourned to Nov. 24.

TODAY'S COURT.

The General Theological Library.

This library has just become settled in its own finely located new building, 6 Mount Vernon street, Boston, overlooking the Common, after a history of thirty years.

Its chief object is the permanent establishment of a complete theological library and reading-room, together with a religious museum filled with objects that illustrate the Bible and the progress of Christianity, for the benefit of all clergymen and others of both sexes desiring theological and Christian books, in all portions of our country. So far as we know this is the only library of this specific kind in the United States. The society has a property, including its books, of about $80,000, and it needs a very large additional sum to become fully endowed.

Annual members can use the library and draw books at five dollars a year, while all strangers are made welcome. Members within ten miles of Boston may have out four ordinary books or two new ones at a time, keeping the first for a month and the second for a fortnight. Persons beyond ten miles may have the same number of books and keep them twice as long. Books can be taken to any distance in the country, and can be drawn by mail or express. Hon. William Claffin is president of the society; Samuel R. Payson, Esq., treasurer, and Rev. Luther Farnham, secretary.

Quincy Illustrated.

F. H. Claffin of the Boston Traveller writes: Our Quincy article is about ready for publication. It will be illustrated with 50 engravings executed by our artists, including those of leading men, public buildings, business blocks, manufactures, etc. One page will be devoted entirely to the granite industry with fully 25 illustrations of quarries and samples of work made of Quincy granite. The article will deal with Quincy of today, and not in the past. The co-operation I have received from all quarters has been remarkable and pleasant.

An article on the city, including the work of many leading men in active life in Quincy, written by one of the best known residents, will add much to the value and interest of the edition. Another feature of special interest will be an illustrated article on the Yacht Club.

Waltham Illustrated.

F. H. Claffin of the Boston Traveller writes: Our Quincy article is about ready for publication. It will be illustrated with 50 engravings executed by our artists, including those of leading men, public buildings, business blocks, manufactures, etc. One page will be devoted entirely to the granite industry with fully 25 illustrations of quarries and samples of work made of Quincy granite. The article will deal with Quincy of today, and not in the past. The co-operation I have received from all quarters has been remarkable and pleasant.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE.

Through the courtesy of Mr. W. G. Correll, the members of the Wollaston Baptist Sunday school and the pupils of the Wollaston Grammar school were invited to be present at the Baptist church on Wednesday evening, to listen to Professor Turner's illuminated lecture on the castles, cathedrals, and ancient abbeys of Great Britain; scenes in Paris, including views of the Grand Opera House, the Louvre, the Tuilleries, and Napoleon's tomb; and glimpses of Switzerland.

Waltham Watches.

Waltham Watches.

LARGEST

AND

MOST COMPLETE

STOCK OF WATCHES

—IN—

QUINCY.

IN SOLID GOLD, FILLED AND SILVER CASES.

COMPLETE

London Assurance Corp.

OF ENGLAND.

Waltham Watches.

Only $5.00.

FULLY WARRANTED!

Williams,

THE

West Quincy Jeweler.

Nov. 13.

It was Mr. J. D. Record's house, not Dr. Records, which was burglarized yesterday morning.

Nov. 13.

31.

Caused by Overheated Furnace in Basement of Drug store of C. C. Hearn.

The alarm from Box 46 at 4:10 P. M. yesterday, was for a fire discovered in the building situated on Copeland street and occupied by Charles C. Hearn as a drug store and the upper part by John Hussey as a tenement. The fire department responded promptly and found the building full of smoke and the fire raging in the basement. Two streams were put on, and before long the firemen had the blaze under control. The building was deluged with water. Hearn's stock was damaged badly by smoke and water as was also Hussey's furniture.

$1,300 FIRE.

LOST.

LOST On Saturday last, between Atlantic and Quincy Avenue, a Light Colored Buffalo Robe. The finder will be suitably rewarded on leaving the same at the Ledger Office.

Nov. 12.—31

WANTED.

WANTED.—Situation to do general housework or second work by a Swede girl. Apply at No. 56 Granby street.

Quincy, Nov. 13.

21*

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER,
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED),
—BY—
GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50; a short advertisement, $1.00; Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion. Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Women and Their Dogs in Paris. Women here, as in London, have an insatiable mania for carrying or leading by chain pup dogs of all degrees of ugliness. One afternoon, during a shower of rain, one was seen walking along the Quai Jemmapes, where a number of workmen had just finished discharging a cargo of coal from a barge. The lady held in one hand an umbrella, with which she carefully protected from the last drop of wet an ugly little dog with a gorgeous blue ribbon round its neck. Her side trotted her daughter, a little girl about 3 years old, her shoes not so waterproof as they might have been, who, deprived of the protection of the umbrella monopolized by the dog, was rapidly getting drenched.

As she was about to cross the bridge which spans the canal one of the coal heavers went up to her and said, "Allow me, madam, to relieve you of your dog, so that you may carry your girl to the other side." The woman accepted the offer, but when the party arrived at the other end of the bridge the coal heaver threw the pup into the canal, telling its mistress at the same time, "That's a lesson to you not to shelter a dog while your child is getting wet."

The woman screamed and soon a crowd collected, to whom she pathetically narrated the assassination of her pet. Two policemen at her instigation took the coal heaver to the station, but the superintendent declined to formulate any charge against him. All she could do, however, was to bring a civil action for the value of her dog. She left the station, apparently much dissatisfied with the decision.—Paris Cor. London Telegraph.

All Watches Compares.

A few days ago I was standing by an American gentleman when I expressed a wish to know which point was the north. He at once pulled out his watch, looked at it, and pointed to the north. I asked him whether he had a compass attached to his watch. "All watches," he replied, "are compasses." Then he explained to me how this was. Point the hour hand to the sun, and the south is exactly half way between the sun and the figure 10 on the watch is due south. My American friend was quite surprised that I did not know this. Thinking that very possibly I was ignorant of a thing that every one else knew, and happening to meet Mr. Stanley, I asked that eminent traveler whether he was aware of this simple mode of discovering the points of the compass. He said that he had never heard of it. I presume, therefore, that the world is in the same state of ignorance. Amaldi is proud of having been the home of the inventor of the compass. I do not know what town boasts of my American friend as a citizen.—London Truth.

A Farmer on a Bicycle.

The New England farmer of today is much given to the covered carriage and horse that holds his head high. I suspect that the reliable but somewhat deliberate ox satisfied his ancestors. I met one farmer near Holyoke driving his cow home from the pasture on a bicycle—that is, the cow was on a bicycle and the cow was ahead of him on foot, though she looked as if she would approach a bicycle, too, as he was speeding her along on a rather lively trot. I stopped him and asked him if there was any room for a farmer to make money in that section, and while the patient cow leaned against a tree and caught her breath he replied that there was none whatever.

His grandfather had made money on the farm, he said, but he could not. Then he called to the cow to "hump herself," and went spinning down the road with the long suffering beast making desperate efforts to keep from being run over. It occurred to me that perhaps his grandfather did not pick the stones off the farm with a bicycle and a pair of tongs.—Cor. New York Tribune.

Declared Improper.

There was lately landed in San Francisco a freak worth mentioning in the shape of a coal black mare from Australia that is utterly and absolutely without a single hair, having not so much as mane or tail. In all other respects she is a model of the equine race.

Duty on Corsets.

Girl (to her betrothed)—Why do you squeeze my waist with both arms?

Lover—Don't you know that the McKinley will double the duty on corsets?—Texas Siftings.

BAD WAY TO DO BUSINESS.
What an Examination of a Chicago Insurance Company's Methods Revealed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Attorney General Hunt filed a bill in the circuit court to wind up the affairs of the Mutual Fire Insurance company of Chicago and to set aside a deed of assignment executed Oct. 28 by the company to George Bradford on the ground that it was a fraudulent conveyance. The state auditor caused an examination of the company's affairs to be made a month ago, and the fact was disclosed that the liabilities amounted to $147,905, and that the assets were much less. The attorney general now charges that the account books of the company prior to July 1, 1887, were burned with fraudulent intent, and that during the last three years the company has been issuing policies for more than the amount paid without taking a deposit note or any contingent liability on the part of the insured. The premiums on such outstanding policies amounted to $88,854. It is charged the officers and directors have wrongfully paid to themselves at least $64,000. The assignment is said to be conclusive and made to defraud the creditors, and the court is asked to remove Hislop and appoint a receiver. The court is also asked to dissolve and forfeit the charter of the company and to restrain any disposition of the assets.

COULD NOT BE TRUSTED.

Judge Ely Refuses to Allow Silas Drew to Take the Poor Debtor's Oath.

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—In the poor debtor's court, Judge Ely refused to allow Silas Drew to take the oath that he would not release the state if released from the bonds imposed in the civil suits against him. Judge Ely made a long address, saying the prisoner could not be trusted. This was shown by the fact that on Feb. 25 he took oath when going ball for Edmund K. Quaid that he was worth $30,000 or $40,000, when really he was not worth $100. In fact, the judge said, Drew laid himself liable to perjury. Another thing that the judge said was that Silas Drew was that he had absconded from the first appearance of the creditors, claiming he was sick; but at the time he was out of town only one person knew where he went; and that he did not return to Boston until he thought matters could be settled without any criminal charges being brought against him.

HIS LAST DAY ON EARTH.

The Once Happy-Go-Lucky Birchall Is Completely Broken Down.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 13.—John Birchall, it is said, has completely broken down and no longer wears his careless, indifferent smile. Rev. Mr. Wade is him much of the time now. Everything is being done to him to help him get well again. Birchall's will was drawn up yesterday by solicitors of this place. He bequeaths everything to his wife, Turkye Forbes and Mr. Leethan of Montreal are the trustees named in the will. Birchall claims that he is to fail heir to certain property in the spring and that when his mother dies there will be several thousand pounds left to each of his children. Mrs. Birchall, it is said, broke her husband's last farewell last night. Dr. Rice, the jail surgeon visited the prisoner and found him in excellent health.

THE WHITNEY FAILURE.

May Resume Business if State of the Market Warrants It.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—George M. Whitney & Co., who failed on Tuesday, says that the firm owes about $3,600,000, which is covered by collateral at 20 per cent. margin at the time of making the loans. The firm had on hand, he said, about $100,000 in cash, and the balance was in the form of bills due in cash, which it was thought would be paid within the next few days and would go toward making up to creditors any deficiencies on securities. The creditors have thus far borne themselves most amicably and some of the larger ones had offered several days to straighten out the difficulties, if possible. The firm owed nothing outside of the $3,600,000 due on loans, on which on which were deemed sufficient when the securities were made. Mr. Quintard said that the question of whether Whitney & Co. would be able to go on with their business depended upon the state of the market the next few days and the value of the securities pledged. Charles M. Whitney, Frank M. Larchar and Edwin S. Larchar, members of the firm of Whitney & Co., have filed individual assignments to Mr. Quintard.

PROFITS ARE TOO SMALL.

Two Old-Established Insurance Companies Go Out of Business.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The Knickerbocker and the Guardian Fire Insurance companies have decided to retire from business. The Knickerbocker, in the present low rates and the resulting small profits, has decided to close its doors.

The Guardian began business twenty-six years ago. They have not been making money of late years, and their liquidation is voluntary.

Banker Walcott Suspends.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Albert Culatta, a Belgian, 25 years old, and two companions were on their way from River Point to Natick, using the New York and New England tracks. They were caught on a long, high bridge by a train. Two of the men jumped off the pilot of the engine, which was running slowly, but Culatta fell under the wheels and was dismembered. This is the third fatality to track walkers near that place in three months.

The Thurman Banquet.

LEBANON, Pa., Nov. 13.—All the tickets have been sold and everything is ready for the Thurman anniversary banquet to be held on Saturday evening at the Princeton Inn, an editorial, strongly favors a game between the Princeton and Harvard football elevens this fall, but says it must take place at Princeton, as the last game was played at Cambridge. It also says there must be an understanding as to further meetings for a definite number of years. The paper is supposed to speak for the college.

GOT OFF VERY LUCKY.

LEBANON, Pa., Nov. 13.—A passenger train going west on the Reading railroad jumped the track at a fog near Annville, and was derailed, dropping a few feet into a bank. Three passengers were in a baggage car were thrown over on the sides. The train was crowded, but no one was killed, and only seven persons were hurt, all slightly, except two.

Two Important Decisions.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 14.—The Vermont supreme court has decided that the corporate tax law, as far as relates to railroads, is unconstitutional. Judge Ross dissenting. Also in the same connection it decides that the Central Vermont railroad may pay taxes on the Rutland road and take the amount out of the sum to be paid the Rutland company as rental.

Princeton on Football.

PENNSYLVANIA, Nov. 13.—The Princetonian, in an editorial, strongly favors a game between the Princeton and Harvard football elevens this fall, but says it must take place at Princeton, as the last game was played at Cambridge. It also says there must be an understanding as to further meetings for a definite number of years. The paper is supposed to speak for the college.

MAKEDONIAN CHASE FOXES.

WELLSFORD, Mass., Nov. 13.—The most recent trophy of the Makedonian Chase Fox club was attended by a large number of hunters, and eight foxes were shot during the day. Last evening a banquet was held, nearly 300 persons attending, including several from Worcester and Boston.

SIXTY-JOUR TO NOTHING.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 13.—Harvard defeated Yale 60 to 0. Capt. Cummings presented his strongest team, and had Bradford not failed to kick four goals, the final score would have been 72 to 0. Harvard scored 36 in the first, and 28 in the second half.

The Austrian Disaster.

VIENNA, Nov. 13.—The bodies of thirty of the persons who lost their lives by the capsizing of a ferry boat in the river Waag, near Bisztritz, have been recovered.

They Will Have It Out.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—It has been learned that the police prevented the duel between M. Louguere and M. De Ruelle. The principals, however, are determined to have a meeting, and it is probable that the fight will take place in Luxembourg.

ITS DOORS CLOSED.

North River Bank of New York Financially Embarrassed.

IT WAS LONG ESTABLISHED.

Its Affairs Now in the Hands of the Bank Examiners—Two Insurance Companies Wind Up Their Business.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The bank examiners have taken over the North River bank at 2:30 p. m. yesterday and closed its doors. The bank had a capital of $30,000 and a surplus of $10,000. In Saturday's bank statement it reported deposits of $1,975,000. Its outstanding loans amounted to $2,013,000 and it held in reserve only $18,000 in specie and $18,000 in legal tenders.

An excited crowd of depositors gathered in front of the bank last evening. The bank examiners had ordered them to clear the floor for a loan, and a committee was on the way to examine into the condition of the bank when it was learned that it was in the hands of the bank examiner. Assistant Bank Examiners E. H. Cahill and Attorney left the bank at 8 o'clock last night. Mr. Cahill said they had not concluded their examination of the books, and would not until Chief Examiner Preston had arrived. "We will resume the examination," he said, "to-morrow, and may be in a position to make a statement about noon."

The bank is one of the oldest in the city, having been the ninth in the order of establishment. On Sept. 27 the quarterly statement showed a capital stock of $40,000, a net surplus of $18,500, and deposits amounting to $2,500,000. On Oct. 29 the bank's stock was quoted at 160. According to its statement for the week ending Saturday, its capital stock was $30,000, its surplus $10,000, and deposits $2,165,400. The bank operates under a state charter granted in 1842. It is a member of the Clearing House association. Its president is Edward E. Gedney, and its cashier Frank R. Ingerson.

COST THE ATCHISON $2250.

Evidence That Western Country Editors are Abusing Railroad Privileges.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The Rock Island has purchased at scalping offices 90,000 miles of editorial tickets, issued by the Atchison, and has sent them to Chairman Bullay for redemption. Under the agreement such tickets, if found on the market, must be redeemed by the road that issued them at the rate of 2 1/2 cents a mile. The Atchison will have to hand over $2250 editorial tickets and issue to editors of country papers 90,000 miles of editorial tickets, if found on the market, of the same editor. The affairs of the company should be put up, without preference. The committee agreed, in other words, that the creditors should not sell out on each other, but that the liquidation should be gradual.

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

Underwear ?

Comprising Everything from the
Cheapest to the Best !

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Lester's Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Southern's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros.' Store, Plumer's Block, Quincy
Levi & Co., Copeland Street, West Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner, Quincy Point
Post Office, Quincy Point
Depot, W. B. Vinton, Wollaston, Braintree
M. K. Pratt, Weymouth

Today's Almanac.—November 13.
High water at 11.15 A. M. and 11.30 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:33; Sets at 4:24.
Moon rises at 5:17 A. M.
First quarter Nov. 19.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

It is time the no-license movement was started.

John Reardon has gone to work for E.
H. Dibble & Co.

Sociable at the Wollaston Congregational church this evening.

The Democrats of Ward One will hold their caucus Tuesday evening.

The City Hospital has received a legacy of $1000 from Eaton Brackett.

The Democratic Mayoralty convention will be held next Thursday evening.

It promises to be fair, for the Democratic jollification at West Quincy tonight.

City Messenger Tirrell took the official returns of the recent State election, to the State House today.

The date of the departure of Rev. and Mrs. Dimmick and Miss Chase for California, has not yet been decided.

It is rumored now that T. A. Whicher & Co., who were to build at West Quincy, will build near the Quincy Adams station.

The patients at Mrs. Cushing Lane's have presented Miss Lane, for her many kindnesses, with an elaborate riding saddle.

Mrs. Charles E. Bowker was quite severely hurt this noon by a kick from a horse.

The concert given at Faxon hall last evening was very well attended, and was of a high order.

The Odd Fellows had another of their enjoyable dances last evening. An entertainment is next in order.

Robert A. McMillan, station agent at New Mills on the Inter-Colonial R. R., is on a visiting tour among his relatives in Quincy.

Granite commandry, No. 36 P. F. Y. B.
O., at their meeting last evening, had three initiations and seven applications for membership.

Mrs. C. F. West and daughter of La.
Grande, Oregon, (formerly of this city), is visiting her mother, Mrs. Chamberlin, on Adams street.

Paul Revere Post, G. A. R., will be inspected this evening by Aide-de-camp
W. L. Gage of Braintree. An oyster supper will be served.

Upon the subscription paper passed to defray the expenses of the Democratic jubilee at West Quincy tonight, appear the names of several prominent Republicans.

Mr. Charles Jose, employed at E. H.
Dibble's, nearly severed the first finger of his left hand yesterday, while chopping ice.
Dr. Smith attended him and dressed the wound.

It looks as if a Republican from Ward
One might be nominated for Councilman at-large this year. As the Mayor has always been from this ward the party has not done this heretofore.

There was an extra call for the DAILY LEDGER at Atlantic yesterday, over double the usual number being sold by the newsboy John Granahan. Many commented on the excellent report of the dedication of Music Hall.

Mr. W. G. Kane of this city and Miss Margaret Glass of Liverpool, Eng., were married Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. James Dunston on Jackson's lane, in the presence of many friends.
Rev. H. E. Cotton officiated. The happy couple received many presents. When they left for their new home on Penn street they received a cannon salute.

Jollification in Weymouth.

The Democrats of Weymouth had a jollification at the Opera House last evening. It consisted of a banquet and speeches
by Albert P. Worthen, Hon. Bushrod Morse, or Sharon, James F. Moreland, of Woburn, Representatives-elect Josiah Quincy, James Burke, of Quincy, Z. L. Bicknell, of Weymouth and others. There was music by the East Weymouth orchestra.
Outside were fireworks and the booming of cannons.

Masonic Visitation.

Rt. Wor. Henry O. Fairbanks, of this city, district deputy of the Twenty-fourth Masonic District, concluded his annual round of official visitations last evening, when he and his suite visited Norfolk Union Lodge of Randolph. W. H. Balkham, the Worshipful Master, and his officers, gave a fine exemplification of the work. Many visiting brethren were present.

THE ENTERTAINMENT

GIVEN BY

DR. SOLOMON'S CO
AT
Robertson Hall, Tonight

WILL BE ENTIRELY NEW.

ADMISSION, - - 10 CENTS.

Quincy, Nov. 8. tf

C. M. & E. C. WINNEBERGER,

CARRIAGE, SIGN AND

ORNAMENTAL PAINTERS.

SHOP, - - SCAMMELL'S BUILDING,

QUINCY AVENUE.

Nov. 13. 3 mos

Cardigan Jackets

AT

SAVILLE & JONES'

HORSES BOARDED.

THE Subscriber has accommodations to board a few horses. Best of care,
Winter Prices.

10 HORSES FOR SALE.

WILSON TISDALE, Washington Street,

QUINCY.

Oct. 23.

GLOVES!

Kid Gloves, Driving Gloves,
Working Gloves.

SAVILLE & JONES.

All Wool Suits,

$10.00.

SIZES 34 TO 44.

Granite Clothing Co.

IN ANSWER

TO the question which is asked us so often, How have you built up so large
a trade? we would say that it is by buying
only the best and selling at the smallest possible profit.

Boston Branch Grocery.

Quincy, Sept. 24. tf

Deu Indianska Doctoren Svenska.

Consultation Free in Boston.

THE Indian Doctor who gave Indian Camp Shows in Quincy last July, will give consultation the rest of the winter at his city office, 24 West Dedham street, Boston. He also treats by letter.

Boston, Nov. 5. tf

WE CARRY

A Full Line of

LEBANON OVERALLS AND JUMPERS.

CRANITE CLOTHING CO.

FOR SALE.

ALMOST New Cutting Board built to order. Gas Stove with 4 burners.
Screens, Shades and two Pictures. Will sell cheap on easy terms.

Apply to V. G. OSBORNE, Evans
House, Boston. Oct. 7. tf

IF YOU WANT A

New Overcoat

REEFER OR ULSTER,

It will pay you to call on the

Granite Clothing Co.

THE ONLY PLACE IN QUINCY

To get the Famous

Lebanon Overalls and Jumpers

is at

SAVILLE & JONES'.

WOULD BE COUNCILMEN.
Ward Four Where a Nomination is Equivalent to an Election Has Many Candidates.

As the city election draws near the interest in the contest for the Council chairs in Ward Four increases. The two preceding years the fight has been very lively, and this year indications point toward the liveliest of all. Of course Councilman Burke will not be in the race this year. Councilman Shea it was understood sometime ago would not run. The withdrawal of these two had a tendency to place many aspirants in the field.

It is understood at present that Mr. Shea will run, and Councilman Fallon will put on his best suit of clothes and will try for the nomination from that ward which means a sure election.

The voters from that part of the ward beyond Willard street think they have not had a fair shake in the election and also think that they should be represented in the city government. A large number of votes are in that district and this year they will do their best to obtain a man to represent them.

Mr. Joseph Kennedy has announced himself as a candidate for the nomination. He resides on the Rail, is in the granite business, and has a large following of friends.

Daniel C. Little is a very popular young man, is a hard worker in the party and would fill the chair in a satisfactory manner.

James F. Rooney would also like to be one of the three from Ward Four. He is a member of the Temperance society, a stone cutter by trade, and was the popular manager of the St. Mary's base ball club the past season.

James White is another popular young man who would no doubt give good satisfaction. He is engineer of Hose three, is a genial fellow, and has a host of friends.

William F. Powers is another citizen whose name is spoken of by a large number. He is chairman of the Ward committee and a hustler. When it comes to real work he is the one who always takes off his coat and goes to work for all he is worth, and generally accomplishes what he tries for. He is a good speaker and is well liked by both the young and old voters.

Many others could be mentioned who would like to try it for a year and who would no doubt satisfy the citizens of the ward as well as those mentioned here.

SILVER PASSES. "Stopping at the Fifth Avenue Hotel," writes a New York gossipier, "is a small plain-looking man, not unlike Jay Gould in stature and general appearance. His name is Otto Mears, and he is the President of the famous Silverton Railroad of Colorado.

I am famous because the silver passes which he issues annually become known as souvenirs all over the world. They are the annual passes with which he compliments newspaper men and friends of the road to whom free passage is extended. Each year he has a new design made of about a dollar's worth of pure silver, so shaped that it may be worn as a pin, a badge or a watch charm. There is an inscription showing to whom it is issued and for what purpose, and you are sold on the Silverton road if you wear one of them. The road is not over seventy-five miles long, but its passes are the most unique in the world."—Hartford Courant.

Tired fathers, weary mothers, when is your happy day coming? Long since you expected it to dawn. It is not here yet, nor will it ever be so long as you do not determine that it shall be today. This failure to take comfort as you pass along life's pathway, but ever looking forward for all enjoyment of good, is throwing away the real sweets of life. You may as well attempt to store up summer sunshine to warm in winter, or bottle moonshine for cloudy nights. The real and only true way is to find in the present all the good God gives us. Our whole lives may be filled with joy if we are only willing to learn that in all good work there is profit, in all care compensation. Make the most of today, and your future will grow brighter and brighter as you step into it.

Let the old saying that "Man never is, but always to be, blessed," be proven false by your finding in the present all the fulness of blessing it really possesses.

A medical statistician estimates that the citizens of the United States are carrying gold to the value of $500,000 in the recesses of what ought to be their teeth. There are no people on the face of the globe who have such bad teeth and who spend so much money upon them as the Americans. No doubt the habit of hurried feeding and the wholesale consumption of sweet dishes have assisted much toward this end. But is it not a mistake to suppose, as says the medical statistician, that false teeth set in gold are buried when their owner shuffles off this mortal coil? If this is the custom in America, it is not so in England, or why the numerous advertisements offering to buy old artificial teeth? The old teeth are not bought to use again, as some nervous people fancy, but simply for the sake of the gold.—Popular Provider.

—Milford had a $30,000 fire last night a straw factory being destroyed.

TRY IT ! TAKE NO OTHER !

WONDERFUL IN ITS

MADE UP !

KANE GLASS—In Quincy, Nov. 12, by

Rev. H. E. Cotton, Mr. W. G. Kane of Liverpool, Eng.

FRANKLIN STREET,

QUINCY.

ROGERS BROS.

ARE AGENTS IN QUINCY FOR

Searle's Disinfecting Powder.

A Positive Destroyer of all poisonous Odors, Vapors and Gases.

As a destroyer of Roaches, Water Bugs, Insects on Plants, Fleas, Red and Black Ants, Moths, etc., it has no equal, and can be handled by the smallest child.

CALL AND EXAMINE.

ROGERS BROS.

Adams Building, Quincy.

Special Bargains

IN
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers
AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,
94 Hancock Street, - - Tirrell's Block.

GENTS'S SHOES from $1.25 to $5.00.
LADIES' SHOES from $1.00 up.
CHILDREN'S SHOES from 35c. to $1.50.

James O'Donovan. Im

Nov. 8.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

Oct. 15.—tf

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY

ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,

In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages, AS HERETOFORE.

Oct. 25. tf

FLANDERS' TONIC

Tones up the Stomach. Makes the Brain Active.

Purify your Blood with Flanders' Tonic. That Tired Feeling will be Unknown to those who use it.

E PROPERTY.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 183.

QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

taxable property of the city, a certain amount is computed by interested parties. Tax rate per thousand $13.80. th "Ha."

NE.

Value.	Tax.
7,000	95.20
1,100	16.96
1,500	22.40
3,300	40.00
2,200	32.00
1,600	22.40
1,200	16.96
400	5.20
800	18.32
1,500	22.40
500	7.60
200	5.20
1,000	9.52
2,400	32.00
500	7.60
600	9.52
	63.20

income,

VO.

175

300

300

100

50

150

550

200

14.24

50

2,300

127.36

LEE.

reet,

1,000

400

1,300

450

200

800

500

1,300

50

800

1,200

100

1,000

60.52

R.

1,600

400

1,000

50

1,050

150

2,000

50

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

700

700

1,000

800

1,500

150

700

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Lodging Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Southern's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGloven Bros.' Store, Plummer's Block, Quincy
Cotton & Copeland Street, West Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner
Post Office, Wollaston Building, Quincy Point
Depot, Braintree
Henry B. Vinton,
M. E. Pratt, Weymouth

Today's Almanac.—November 14.

High water at 11:45 A.M. and 12:00 M.
Sun rises at 6:34; Sets at 4:23.
Moon rises at 6:00 A.M.
First quarter Nov. 19.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

Mr. Charles Preston, of Hancock street, has moved to Glover's corner.

The evening mail for Quincy Point, now leaves the Quincy office at five o'clock.

Mr. Charles R. Safford's father has been visiting him the past few days, at Atlantic.

The Texas Jubilee Singers will give a concert in Music Hall, on Sunday evening.

The Democrats of Ward Six will hold their ward caucus tonight in the Engine house.

Next week will be a busy one politically.
All the nominations for city offices must be made.

It will be noticed by referring to our want column that a young lady clerk is wanted.

Mr. J. A. Kendall has bought the house on Walker street, formerly occupied by Mr.
Lucius Bassett.

Miss Mary Gilbert left Monday to visit her grandparents in Pennsylvania, to be gone two or three weeks.

The Atlantic Social Club has admitted two new members, Messrs. Charles A.
Hall and William Belcher.

Miss Hall, the operator at the Atlantic depot, has been taking a few days' vacation.
Miss Sumner filled the vacancy.

The Young Men's Catholic Lyceum will hold their first entertainment and dance in Social hall on Tuesday evening.

One of Patch's double coal teams took a prominent place for an accident this morning, breaking an axle in front of the post office.

The alterations on Thomas Gurney's stores are nearly completed. The front of the store makes a very good show at present.

Mr. Charles T. Foster and family of Edgartown are in Quincy, and will spend the winter with his father, Mr. Rufus Foster of Chestnut street.

The Ward 5 Republican caucus to nominate three councilmen and nine delegates to the mayoralty convention, will be held in Hose Hall, Monday evening, at 7:30.

Rt. Wor. H. W. Lull, of this city, as district deputy, made an official visit to Masonic lodge at West Medway Thursday evening. It was a notable Masonic event.

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. will hold its next meeting in the Congregational vestry on Friday, P. M. Nov. 21. Devotional meeting opens at 2:30, the regular meeting at 3 o'clock.

Rev. Alexander Blackburn, of Lowell, whose daughter was injured in the Old Colony disaster at Quincy and was taken to the Hospital, is now active in a movement Lowell for a hospital.

Richard Grant, Esq., of New York, will speak in the M. E. church West Quincy, on Sunday, at 10:30 on "Missions." He has been attending the missionary society meeting which was held the past few days.

There will be a meeting under the auspices of the Y. W. C. T. U. at the Congregational church, Wollaston, on Thursday Nov. 20, at 7:45 P. M. Miss Caswell, of Boston, will deliver an address;
the public is most cordially invited to be present.

The interest on the "Johnson Turkey Fund" will amount to $40 this year and Overseer-of-the-Poor Field under the direction of the Committee on Poor of the City Council, is authorized to distribute at Thanksgiving time, turkeys to that valley among needy poor.

About 75 commands and a few visitors were present at the inspection of Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., Thursday evening, by Aide-de-camp Gage of Braintree. The work was exemplified and pronounced perfect, and the oyster supper furnished by Comrade Osborne also came in for considerable praise.

Aaron Nelson of Station street, employed at McKenzie & Paterson's on Canal street, rode to his work, on an electric car this morning. He jumped off while it was in motion at the corner of Hancock and Canal streets and was thrown. He was thought to have been seriously injured and was taken into Dr. Welch's, but he was simply stunned and soon went to his work.

On Sunday, at 11 A.M., the pastor of the Congregational church, Quincy Point, will speak on "The Bible definition of Love."
Sunday school at 12:15. The regular evening service will be held at 6 o'clock instead of 4, until further notice. At this service a children's choir will be in attendance to aid in the half hour service of song. At all these services the seats are free, and all are invited and urged to attend.

A fair will soon be held by the Memorial church.

Isaac M. Holt leaves for Florida about the first of December.

N. B. Grignon the West Quincy baker is to start a bakery at Swifthorn's corner.

Mr. Mathew Harding who has resided on Newbury street for some time moved to Roxbury on Thursday.

The Ward Five Democratic caucus, to nominate three Councilmen and delegates to the Mayoralty convention, will be held in Hose hall, Saturday evening.

A first class entertainment will be given in the Washington street Congregational vestry, Thursday evening, at 7:45 o'clock.
The following named talent has been secured: Mrs. Eva Baker, of Weymouth, Miss Alice Murdoch, of Boston, Mrs.
Ella Rhines, of Quincy, Mr. W. E. Arnold, of Boston, and Mr. Allen, of Boston.

Today's Almanac.—November 14.

High water at 11:45 A.M. and 12:00 M.

Sun rises at 6:34; Sets at 4:23.

Moon rises at 6:00 A.M.

First quarter Nov. 19.

THE ONLY PLACE IN QUINCY

To get the Famous

Lebanon Overalls and Jumpers

is at

SAVILLE & JONES'

HORSES BOARDED.

THE Subscriber has accommodations to board a few horses. Best of care,
Winter Prices.

10 HORSES FOR SALE.

WILSON TISDALE, Washington Street,
QUINCY.

Oct. 23.

GLOVES!

Kid Gloves, Driving Gloves,
Working Gloves.

SAVILLE & JONES.

IF YOU WANT A

New Overcoat

REEFER OR ULSTER,

It will pay you to call on the

Granite Clothing Co.

MAKING IT A

Desirable Advertising Medium.

RATES LOW.

Special Bargains

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers

AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,

94 Hancock Street, - - - Tirrell's Block.

GENTS'S SHOES from $1.25 to $5.00.
LADIES' SHOES from $1.00 up.
CHILDREN'S SHOES from 35c. to $1.50.

James O'Donovan.

Nov. 8.

IN

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.

CORRESPONDENCE OF

JOHN STETSON COMPANY.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

IN ADAMS BUILDING.

STOCKS, CRAIN and PETROLEUM.

TELEPHONE 9-8.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

Oct. 15.—tf

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY

ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,

In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

—

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,

Oct. 25. AS HERETOFORE.

tf

ROGERS BROS.

ARE AGENTS IN QUINCY FOR

Searle's Disinfecting Powder.

A Positive Destroyer of all poisonous Odors, Vapors and Gases.

As a destroyer of Roaches, Water Bugs, Insects
on Plants, Fleas, Red and Black Ants, Moths, etc., it has no equal, and can be handled by the smallest
child.

CALL AND EXAMINE.

ROGERS BROS.

Adams Building, Quincy.

GREAT GRANITE GORGE.

A Vivid Picture of the Scenery Along the Banks of the Colorado.

The great Granite Gorge is about forty miles in length. That portion from its head to the Bright Angel creek, some nineteen miles, is narrow, dark and gloomy.
It stands at the upper gateway of the great canyon as if by its very form to keep back the intruder, and guard from vulgar eyes and sordid greed the grandeur, the beauty and hidden treasure of the lower canyon. At the Bright Angel creek everything changes —the granite slopes are flatter, they are of a softer black granite, cut into sharp pinnacles and crags, and seem more as if formed of very coarsely stratified slate.

The canyon grows more and more picturesque and beautiful the farther we proceed.
The granite has lost its awful and threatening look, and slopes back in beautiful hillsides of variegated black, gray and green.

At the side canyons, and from the ends of the river, the upper portions of the whole gorge are brought into view, showing the great marble and sandstone cliffs, bunched back far away from the river, while mountains jut in close between the side canyons and washes nearly a mile and a quarter in height. As we look down the river, or up a low side canyon, with the placid water between its polished walls of black and gray and green for a foreground, there rise above the dark sandstone, tier upon tier, bench upon bench, terrace upon terrace, stepping back farther and farther, and higher and higher, and in immensity of height and proportion seeming to tower almost over our heads. First above the dark sandstone come the flattened slopes of the lime and mineralized matter, in horizontal layers of yellow, brown, white, red and green.

Then rise sheer walls of stained marble,
1,000 feet or more, the lower portions yellow, brown and red, the coloring of red growing brighter as it nears the top. Above this smaller benches of marble, at the top of each a little mesa covered with green bunch grass and bushes, and above the, a dozen or more terraces of scarlet and flame colored sandstone, stained on their outer points with black, and the little benches between them relieved by the bright green of the grease wood and bunch grass, the whole crowned with perhaps a couple of thousand feet of the lighter gray, yellow and white sandstone ledges, capped by pinnacles and spires, turrets and domes, in every imaginable shape, size and proportion.—R. B. Stanton in Scriber's.

Names.

There is a certain amount of satisfaction perhaps in giving a whimsical name to a pet animal, but such names often require so much explanation that they become a burden. A Boston lady lately related this little story of her cat:
"We had a kitten who had a marvelous talent for escaping from all kinds of perils. He was shut up in an oven by a heedless servant and left there over night, but although it seemed that he must be baked to a crisp, he came out in the morning none the worse for the fiery ordeal."

"He was run over by a railroad train, but crouched close to the ground and escaped injury. He received a charge of bird shot one day while he was himself hunting birds in the woods, but we picked out as many of the shot as we could, and he began at once to recover and soon was all right again.

"Finally he was put into a bag with a stone and thrown into a river, but he managed to find a small hole in one corner of the bag, and enlarged it so that he was able to get out. Then he swam ashore and came home.

"In view of these marvelous escapes we decided to keep the cat, and gave him the name of Plutarch, because he had so many lives."

The name was a happy one, and yet, as the story of Plutarch's adventures had to be told each time his name was mentioned to a new acquaintance, his owners wished at last that they had named him plain Tom or Dick.

Similar explanations were necessary on the part of the man who named his two canaries Wheeler and Wilson, "because neither was a Singer."—Youth's Companion.

Great Range in Price of China.

In English ware the Doulton ranges in price from $10 for a set of 125 pieces to $125 for one dozen plates. There is a difference in the quality of the ware as well as in the decoration. The cheaper sets, from $10 to $30 each, are porcelain;
the finer and more expensive are china.
The porcelain is decorated by stamping or painting the colors on, and little or no gold is used. All the fine English and French chinaware show a great deal of dull or burnished gold in the decoration. It wears better than bright gold and has a softer effect. All the gold used for this purpose is fourteen or sixteen carat, and its cost is a heavy item in the price of the ware.

Minton china, also English, is very beautiful. Sixty-five dollars will buy one dozen handsome plates. Royal Worcester is so expensive that only the favored few can possess it.

To those who cannot pay fancy prices, perhaps the Doulton offers greater possibilities, as much of it is what the dealers call open stock and the entire set need not be purchased. Dessert and luncheon plates, decorated in blue and gold and of different designs, are $11 a dozen.—New York Telegram.

Baking by Electricity.

Bakers are now using the electric motor as a bread mixer, and are thus enabled to do in four or five minutes an amount of work that would otherwise require hours of hand labor. A writer in a medical paper says he had frequently obtained much relief from facial neuralgia by applying an incandescent light to the part affected. He suggested that the lamp could also be used in poulticing advantageously. It could be laid over a flare or other form of poultice, and constant heat could be thus secured.

QUINCY'S TAXABLE PROPERTY.

Below is given another instalment of the list of taxable property of the city, a certain

PROPERTY.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

L. 1. NO. 184.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

BEST IN THE MARKET!
FOR $6.50 CASH

WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.

[FRANK S. PATCH.]

Quincy, July 9.

OFF FOR CALIFORNIA.

Rev. and Mrs. Dinnick and Miss Chase Start for Home Today.

It will be three months next Wednesday since the Quincy disaster on the Old Colony occurred. At present writing five of the injured are still in this city—Mr. Joseph Brown of Lawrence, and Mrs. M. A. Hall of Fort Wayne, Ind., at the City Hospital, and Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Dinnick and Miss Martha E. Chase of California at the residence of Mrs. Cushing Lane on Goffe street. Before this paper reaches many readers today those at Mrs. Lane's will have departed for their homes.

A special train with one car, "the Iolanthe," one of Raymond & Whitecomb's Pullman cars, will leave Boston about 2.30 o'clock this afternoon. It will reach Quincy about 2.50 and leave at 2.55 for Fitchburg, via Taunton. It will there be attached to the Chicago express, and at Chicago will join the Raymond party which left Boston last Thursday for California.

The party will be as follows: Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Dinnick, Miss Martha E. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dane and child (Mrs. Dane is a sister of the injured ladies), the Misses Chase (nieces of the ladies), Col. Smith, Dr. Hunting and his mother, and Miss Julia Coffey the nurse. Mr. C. B. Botsford a friend, has written a couple of verses, which echo the sentiments of Quincy people. They are:

God keep you safely on the rail,
Appoint your journey in detail,
The time to start, each wayside stay,
Your speed, companionship, and way.
All for civil subsistencies command
And bring you safe to sunset land.
By inward grace, with outward sign,
Fit for a life-work more divine.

Your plans have missed, but miss you not
The why, the wherefore and the what
That Providence benignly sought
And with delay your footstep fraught Inscrutable! His secret plan
Awful'd ring to the mind of man,
Amid the mists beneath the skies
Where revelation's song shall rise.

A representative of the DAILY LEDGER had a pleasant interview with the injured this morning. All were in good condition physically, and have nearly recovered from the accident, but not without marks which they will carry through life. They are all very grateful to Quincy people, particularly to Mrs. Lane's household and her neighbors, who have kindly remembered them on several occasions.

The party naturally have some dread of railroad travel after their bitter experience, but they all have been great travelers in this country and Europe, and they take a philosophical view of it. They realize that one very seldom is in two such accidents as the Quincy one, while it is only a very small number of the many who travel that are injured. The LEDGER wishes them a safe journey.

THE G. A. R. FAIR.

The Programme and Attractions for the Opening Night.

A six-days fair by Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., will be opened in Hancock hall on Monday evening. Department Commander George H. Innis and staff will be present, and take part in the opening exercises. Commander Williams will briefly introduce S. V. C. Charles L. Orne, chairman of the reception committee, who will preside. Addresses are expected from Department Commander Innis, Mayor Porter, President Fairbanks of the City Council. Among the other invited guests, is Mrs. Prudence Stokes, a department officer in the W. R. C.; Mrs. Isabel Souther, President of Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps; Capt. Bowker of Francis L. Souther Camp, S. V.; C. L. Badger, the oldest Son of a Veteran in the State, Representative-elect Burke and others.

Prominent features at the fair will be under the direction of Miss Mamie Gardner, Miss Cynthia Souther, Comrade Thomas, the W. R. C. and the S. V. In the gallery will be a shooting gallery. All are warned not to get too near the wheel.

Reception and Ball.

The first complimentary reception and ball tendered to Prof. Banta's pupils, will take place next Wednesday evening, the 19th inst., at Faxon hall, Quincy. A handsome programme especially gotten up for the occasion, will be issued. Banta's Union Park orchestra of Boston will furnish the music. We are informed that Miss Ida May Templeton will dance at this reception a Spanish dance and Highland fling in costume. Miss Templeton is a pupil of Prof. Banta, only fifteen, pretty as a picture and wonderfully easy and graceful in her style of dance, in which she has no equal. The professor may be called upon, no doubt, to give his pupils a treat in the style of step dancing, besides his famous medley which he usually dances for the benefit of pupils, showing how easily and gracefully the different styles of dancing may be attained. Mr. Banta's many styles of dancing are peculiar to himself; attempted by no other ball room teacher. Together with this and Miss Templeton's dancing, is well worth the admission alone. The tickets of admission have been placed at twenty-five and fifty cents, to be had of pupils and at the door.

Congregational Church.

Rev. Edward Norton, pastor. Preaching by the pastor at 10.30 A. M., and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at 11.45 A. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Usual evening service, 7 o'clock. Short sermon by the pastor. Social service Friday evening at 7.30. All are welcome.

First Church.

Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor. Church services at 10.30 A. M., preaching by the pastor. Sunday School at 11.45 A. M. Guild of the Great Teacher at 6.30 P. M. Illustrated lecture on Palestine by the Rev. Alfred Manchester at 7.30 P. M. The public are cordially invited.

Sunday Services.

Pastors of Quincy churches are invited to send in weekly, the announcement of Sunday services, which will be printed free of charge in the Saturday LEDGER.

First Church.

Rev. Edward Norton, pastor. Preaching by the pastor at 10.30 A. M., and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at 11.45 A. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Usual evening service, 7 o'clock. Short sermon by the pastor. Social service Friday evening at 7.30. All are welcome.

Congregational Church.

Rev. Edward Norton, pastor. Preaching by the pastor at 10.30 A. M., and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at 11.45 A. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Usual evening service, 7 o'clock. Short sermon by the pastor. Social service Friday evening at 7.30. All are welcome.

Christadelphian Services.

At French's hall, at 7.00 P. M., there will be a lecture delivered by Mr. F. R. Shuttleworth of Birmingham, Eng. Subject, "Death and the Resurrection of the Dead, or the Life that now is and that which is to come." All are welcome.

As much

For INTERNAL as EXTERNAL use.

Many people do not know this.

MAYORALTY GOSSIP.

Who Will be the Nominee for the Executive Chair.

It is by no means certain who will secure the nomination for Mayor by either party at the convention next week. President Fairbanks of the City Council may have the inside track with the Republican party, but the friends of ex-President Federhen are pushing him hard for the nomination. A writer in today's PATRIOT, who says he is a Mugwump, gives Mr. Federhen a very flattering record, and there is no doubt but the gentleman is ably fitted for the position.

Councilman Thompson received one vote in the "LEDGER caucus," but it was enough to set the voters to thinking, and it is possible he may be brought forward as a compromise candidate. He is a conservative gentleman, and one who could not be easily influenced by politicians.

Ex-Councilman Shaw is still in the contest, and his candidacy is looked upon with much favor by many.

Although Henry H. Faxon received many votes in the "LEDGER caucus," his nomination is not seriously considered. Republicans say he is too independent to suit them.

Philippus King is the ideal of a great man, but he has once, two years ago, declined to be a candidate, and it is generally thought he would not accept now.

Ex-Representative Merrill says he is not in the race, and never has been. As President of the Republican City Committee he will work for the election of the Republican nominee.

Republicans recognize that whenever their candidate is he must pledge himself to make certain changes in department officials. The opposition to the present Commissioner of Public Works, is great within the party as without. Either Mr. Fairbanks, Mr. Federhen or Mr. Thompson can be depended upon to make a change.

The present Principal Assessor is not popular with the rank and file of the party.

Surprise at Atlantic.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Weymouth gave them a pleasant surprise party Thursday evening, being their first weddinng anniversary, a paper wedding; bringing them money and other useful presents which were gratefully received; also a supper, well supplied with fruits and cake.

After which the evening was spent with music and singing; all departing at an early hour feeling that they had spent a very pleasant evening.

Official Vote for Representatives.

The Town Clerk of Weymouth and the City Clerk of Quincy met yesterday and revised the votes in the two places for Representatives to the General Court. There were slight changes in the Weymouth vote from the figures given the day after the election, reducing slightly the totals for Flint and Burke and increasing those for Cushing and Shaw.

The official figures are:

JOHN PAGE, 104 Hancock St. Quincy, Feb. 15. 2tw-tf

The Estate belonging to the Heirs of the late John Page, consisting of one story and a half cottage house, and about 14,000 ft.

land, situated on Foster street.

JOHN PAGE, 104 Hancock St.

Quincy, Nov. 10. 2tw-tf

BRAINTREE.

The new railroad station at South Braintree is going ahead. The foundation, a substantial one, is nearly finished.

Mrs. Hattie A. Elkins, wife of the proprietor of Elkins Park, Brockton, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Alva A. Saunders, Hall avenue.

The large block now in process of erection by the firm of John Long & Sons is making rapid progress and is going to be an imposing and fine looking building.

"Onward and upward" is the motto of Braintree now.

The Ladies Aid Society connected with the M. E. Church of South Braintree intend holding a fair on two successive nights next week, at the Town hall. Having lost in the cars this morning the copy of an advertisement intended for today's OBSERVER

we can only make this announcement.

The celebration of the third anniversary of the Woman's Relief Corp. No. 94, connected with our Grand Army Post, came off with great eclat last night in the Town hall. The proceedings were of the most interesting character, but we find that we will have to defer making a full report, which the occasion deserves, until next week.

The treasurer of the building fund, Mrs.

James Johnson, connected with the new Methodist church about to be erected in East Braintree has received a donation of nearly forty-five dollars from the Sunday school connected with the Congregational church of Braintree, towards helping along this laudable object. Mrs. Johnson expresses the warmest thanks for the gift.

The first lecture of the Braintree course was given last night in the chapel of the First parish Congregationalist church by

L. Waterhouse, Esq., of Quincy entitled

"Foreign Travel Illustrated."

Mr. Waterhouse is a natural traveller and the subject was made highly interesting in his hands.

The audience was not so large as it ought to have been, but it is feared that the people of Braintree love almost everything but "Art."

John Eaton and Albert Sears the respective fragmen

tary and River street crossing have exchanged positions, so that the former is now performing duty at River street crossing, and the latter at Union street crossing. In making the change the Australian ballot was not used and there was no politics in it.

Last evening about fifty friends from Quincy and Braintree assembled at Mr.

Alonzo Minchin's, on Middle street, to help him celebrate his twenty-first birthday anniversary. The evening was delightfully spent in social intercourse, singing and games and later in the evening, a fine collection was served. Mr. Minchin was the recipient of many gifts, and one was especially becoming, namely a handsome freedom suit from his mother.

His friends presented him with a beautiful dressing case containing about a dozen pieces which was quite a surprise to Mr. Minchin, but he managed to convey his thanks in his usual hearty manner, showing that he fully appreciated the good feeling and brotherly love which prompted the gift.

—Six members of the Fenley family, killed in Quincy disaster last August, were buried at Louisville, Ky., last Monday.

The bodies were carried to Louisville soon after the disaster and placed in a vault

</

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAY EXCEPTED.)

— BY —
GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASE IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.

Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents; five insertions, 50 cents each additional insertion.

Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Anglophobia in France.

It would be a pretty question whether the English or the Germans are the more heartily detested in Paris. It is certain that the rascars of Waterloo have not been softened by the humiliations of Sedan. The fact is that your Frenchmen has an unlimited capacity of hatred.

A newspaper has been started which is called the Union Franco-British, and the main object is to rake up stale fictions and to invent new libels on the English people.

In curious contrast to the vulgar dislike is the undisguised admiration of English people and English customs which runs through all the smart circles of Parisian society. They imitate the cut of our coats and reproduce the latest thing in London hats; they buy English horses and English guns; they talk English slang. They always did admire English girls, but that was inevitable. It is a higher compliment when they copy English dandies.—St. James' Gazette.

A Tramp with $1.400.

The worshippers at St. Bonifacius' Roman Catholic church, on Norris square, were excited on Saturday evening by the discovery of a sleeping man in the organ loft. He was put out, but shortly afterward returned, when he was arrested. On being searched at the station house $1,000 in English gold was found about his person. When he was asked where he got the money he pulled out $400 more in Bank of England notes, and told the following story:

"I lived on a farm in England. My mother dying a short time ago I sold the farm and came over here one week ago. On Friday night I slept at a fifteen-cent lodging house at Ninth and Race streets with the money on my person. I don't see why you think it strange that I have so much money."

The man had the look of a typical tramp.—Philadelphia Record.

Tall Story from Clarion.

Near Raine's flour mill stands a hemlock tree, which is probably 100 feet high, at the butt is all of six feet in circumference and is minus of limbs at least ten feet up in jagged trunk. On the extreme top of the tree a wild grape vine blossomed and bore fruit this season, and a number of the young lads have climbed the tree at various times to secure the fruit. Dr. E. M. Sloan's little daughter, 7 years old, was missed from home the other day, and her mother discovered her standing on one of the topmost limbs of the old hemlock, gathering grapes. The child came down as nimbly as a squirrel. It was a daring feat.—Clarion Republican.

Yachtsmen Threatened by a Waterspout.

During the severe storm which prevailed here and over the Sound Oct. 19 a huge waterspout was seen off Charles Island. A party of New Haven yachtsmen were close to it in a naptha launch, and for a time were in danger of being swamped. The waterspout came from a southerly direction. It drew up the water of the Sound and created additional disturbance to the turbulent sea. It finally broke between Charles Island and Burns' Point by the wind changing to northwest. It would have been destructive to any boat which came in its path.—Cor. New Haven Register.

Eighteen thousand acres of land, heavily timbered with hemlock and other hard woods, the last of the famous Pennsylvania hemlock, has been conveyed by the New England railroads to a Chicago company under an agreement of counsel, under which the tracks are to be removed by Dec. 1 and suitable damages to be awarded by the Asylum street bridge commission. All legal proceedings are to be dropped, including those in the federal courts. The matter has been stubbornly fought for months, during which time the master has gone to the superior and supreme courts of this state, the United States district court and the United States supreme court.

Rich, but Tired of Life.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 15.—Louis J. Camacho, for twenty-five years a citizen of Baltimore and worth $70,000, swallowed poison and died from it, and died from the effects. Mr. Camacho had for several years suffered internally from malaria and insomnia. He was a Cuban refugee, of good family and 56 years old.

Ex-Bank President Sent to Prison.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 15.—Judge David McLean, ex-president of the Savannah Savings bank at Savannah, Mo., was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for defrauding his depositors out of $100,000 which he lost in speculations.

A Light Voter.

Deer Isle claims the "lightest" voter at the last election—John O. Robbins, who weighs but 29 pounds. Owing to his diminutive size Robbins was lifted to the ballot box by Mr. J. W. Green, and much interest was manifested in the little fellow's movements. He is 25 years old.—Portland (Me.) Press.

The Luray Caverns.

The Guide—This is the Giants' chamber. Mr. Shortstop—You ought to see their quarters up at the Polo grounds in New York.—Puck.

THE WORST IS OVER.

Financial Atmosphere in New York is Clearing Up—North River Bank May Soon Resume Business.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The financial situation seems to have assumed down to a normal condition so far as banks are concerned. The special clearing house loan committee met at the clearing house and adjourned, as there was nothing for them to do. There were no applications for loan certificates up to 11 o'clock, and none were issued. The quintet of bank presidents (and they are some of the biggest and most prominent bank presidents in this town) considered the situation as quite favorable, and they left the clearing house fully convinced, apparently, that all trouble was at an end.

The amount of clearing-house loan certificates so far issued altogether is $1,765,000, an insignificant amount when compared with the issue of $27,000,000 in the panic of 1884.

One of the leading officials of the Stock Exchange, speaking of the situation, said, "I see no dark spots on the financial horizon. All serious menaces in my opinion have been removed; stocks are in powerful hands and a large amount of securities have been bought and paid for, and are not likely to come upon the market till much later." Figures will be established. One liquidation is expected in the Villard group of stocks, and while it is in progress more or less feverishness will be but natural. When this is over we may have a short season of dullness pending the consummation of important railroad deals, but in my judgment railway shares have seen their lowest figures for some time to come."

At a meeting of the board of directors of the North River bank, it was resolved to make active efforts to re-establish the bank's credit. A circular will be distributed among the depositors asking them to leave their deposits intact for ninety days. If those whose deposits aggregate $1,000,000 agree to do this, the bank may be able to resume without loss. One of the largest depositors presented an agreement, signed by depositors representing $175,000, to leave their money in bank for the necessary ninety days. President Gedney said that his friends would stand by him, and the prospects of opening the bank are good. State Superintendent Preston said if the plans of the directors were successful the bank ought to reopen Monday or Tuesday.

BIRCHALL EXECUTED.

The Convicted Murderer Dies Without Making Any Confession, Except, Possibly, to His Spiritual Adviser.

WOOSTER, Oct. 15.—The sentence of the law was executed upon Reginald Birchall, in the jail yard, yesterday. About 150 persons were present to witness the execution.

The condemned man's wife visited him the evening before, and remained with him until 1 o'clock in the morning, when the final parting took place, and the weeping woman returned to her hotel. After Mrs. Birchall had left the jail, some time was passed by Birchall and Rev. Rural Dean Wade, reading the Scriptures, praying and talking. During the night Mr. Wade came out of the cell, and Mr. Forbes, who is on Birchall's execution, came in and spoke some words to him, talking about his temporal affairs. Birchall had little to leave except a legacy which he could not afford to have made out in a document denying that he had confessed.

Birchall had begun to fear that some means of a faded confession might be worked out, and after he had done, and to guard against that, he made out a document denying that he had confessed.

TOKYO, Nov. 15.—Rural Dean Wade, Birchall's spiritual adviser, spoke freely about the letter given to Guard Perry by Birchall, dated the 10th inst., denying that he had made a confession to any one. Mr. Wade says the letter was a lie, and he gave up hopes of the man repeating. The inference is that Birchall confessed to the clergyman. Dean Wade refused to read the Church of England burial service, and simply said a prayer at Birchall's grave.

WILL SOON BE OPENED.

Baltimore Medical School for Women Receives a Big Boom.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 15.—The scheme to raise $500,000 to guarantee the opening of the Johns Hopkins Medical School to women of the body rich and poor, and in some instances even to 41 contestants. At the same time pains in the limbs are noticeable. The patient coughs, experiences much irritation and great exhaustion. Some patients also suffer nausea and vomiting. In some cases there is noticed a slight icteric (jaundice-like) coloring, or exanthema resembling measles, on the chest neck.

The symptoms just described begin to manifest themselves five or four hours after the injection of the curative substance. They last from twelve to fifteen hours. The patient is not much affected by the attack induced by the fluid, and after it is over feels comparatively well; even better, in fact, than before the injection. The second, or local, reaction, produced by the injection of the fluid in a patient suffering from tuberculosis, can best be observed in persons whose tuberculous affections are visible, as for instance in the case of persons suffering from lupus. The reaction made under the skin of the back, the limbs and a sore begins to swell and reddens. During the fever which the patient experiences, the swelling and reddening of the sores increase until finally the lupus tissue assumes in places a dark brown tint and a necrotic condition.

After the subsidence of the fever, the swelling of the lupus sores gradually decreases and possibly disappears altogether within two or three days. Meanwhile, however, the lupus sores have become covered with an crustaceous exudate, formed by the action of the fluid injected.

Bishop Paddock affirms an offer to present to the public his views in regard to Fr. Ignatius.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

A fire in San Francisco caused a loss of $250,000.

Secretary Blaine is pushing negotiations for reciprocity treaties.

The Sawtell murder trial at Dover, H. I., is set down for Dec. 16.

Mr. John D. Deille, the American consul at Bristol, Eng., is dead.

Hon. Moody Merrill was nominated for mayor by the Boston Republicans.

Yale college is to receive $375,000 from the estate of the late Thomas C. Sloane.

The sudden stopping of a train in Valley Falls, R. I., demolished fifteen coal cars.

Bishop Paddock affirms an offer to present to the public his views in regard to Fr. Ignatius.

"Well?"

"I have sometimes fancied"—

A prolonged pause.

"Well, out with it. What have you fancied?"

"That she cares for you more than—otherwise than as a mere friend, I mean. There is an expression in her eyes when she speaks of you!"

"Monsieur," she said rapidly in French, "I have the honor of asking your hand in marriage for Mlle. Stanhope."

He struck him like a blow. It blinded him—took his breath away. He could not speak, was only conscious that Margaret was kneeling beside his chair with her hands on his arm; that her face was upturned, grave and tender.

"Paul," she whispered, "I love you. Will you marry me?"

He understood at last, and at last he held her in his arms and kissed her reverently.

"Paul! Paul!" she sobbed, "you must not think badly of me. I know you love me. I knew you would not speak. Oh, my darling, never leave me! Will you promise it? Never for a day, for an hour. Paul! Paul!" MacRae E. M., low in Drake's Magazine.

Stella watched him blankly for a mo-

KOCH'S DISCOVERY.

Its Effects, but Not Its Ingredients Described.

AN ACCOUNT OF EXPERIMENTS

Made Upon Himself and Others—He Makes No Claim of Curing Advanced Consumption—Minute Statement of the Lymph's Value.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—The article by Professor Koch in this week's number of the Deutsche Medizinische Wochenschrift (German medical weekly) is entitled: "Further communications on the cure of tuberculosis, and experiments which Dr. Libberty and Staff Surgeon Prushy performed relating thereto, under Professor Koch's direction."

In this article Professor Koch says that he is yet unprepared to indicate the sources from which the curative matter is derived. Neither is he ready to explain the method of preparation. The reason given is that the reaction is so violent that it cannot be brought to completion.

The lymph is described as consisting of a brownish transparent liquid. It is so prepared as to be proof against deterioration.

When, however, it is diluted with water to the necessary degree for use, the matter is liable to decay.

It is necessary, therefore, that the attenuated matter be perfectly sterilized by heat, and preserved in wadding covering, or made with a solution of phenol, 50 per cent. strong. When taken into the body the curative matter proves to have no effect.

When the curative matter is applied subcutaneously by means of a valveless syringe. The kind of syringe recommended by Professor Koch is one furnished with a small hollow rubber ball.

In thousands of cases, he says where it has been used for subcutaneous injections, not a single abscess resulted.

When the curative matter is applied to a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimes of the fluid applied to a guinea pig produced little, if any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a centime intensely affected a healthy full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

Professor Koch experimented with a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimes of the fluid applied to a guinea pig produced little, if any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a centime intensely affected a healthy full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

Professor Koch experimented with a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimes of the fluid applied to a guinea pig produced little, if any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a centime intensely affected a healthy full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

Professor Koch experimented with a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimes of the fluid applied to a guinea pig produced little, if any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a centime intensely affected a healthy full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

Professor Koch experimented with a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimes of the fluid applied to a guinea pig produced little, if any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a centime intensely affected a healthy full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

Professor Koch experimented with a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimes of the fluid applied to a guinea pig produced little, if any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a centime intensely affected a healthy full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

Professor Koch experimented with a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimes of the fluid applied to a guinea pig produced little, if any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a centime intensely affected a healthy full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

Professor Koch experimented with a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimes of the fluid applied to a guinea pig produced little, if any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a centime intensely affected a healthy full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

Professor Koch experimented with a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the investigations. Two cubic centimes of the fluid applied to a guinea pig produced little, if any, apparent effect. Twenty-five hundredths of a centime intensely affected a healthy full-grown man who was subjected to experiment.

Professor Koch experimented with a patient the usual course is to inject it under the skin of the back, between the shoulder blades, and in the proximity of the spine. The experiments made on human beings are much more susceptible to the effect of the new substance than are guinea pigs, which have been largely used in the course of the

YOU WILL FIND
Blankets

Colored and White at 88c.

$1.00,

$1.25,

$1.50,

$2.00,

$2.50,

$3.00,

$3.50,

$4.00,

$5.00,

$6.00,

AT

C. S. Hubbard's,
58 Hancock St.,
Mass.

Children's TER CAPS
te Clothing Co.

You Know THAT

Hill & Jones offering a Full Line of nderwear ?

st to the Best !

City Grain Store.

BEST GRADES OF RAIN HAY AND STRAW, ne Cement and Drain Pipe.

ent for the Celebrated
's Fertilizer.

ard Russell,
ROPRIETOR.

TON St, cor. Coddington, at South Quincy, near Rail
one Connections.
1-3m

' Cossamers.
EN'S
osh Coats.
Clothing Co.

Today's Anniversaries.

Important and Minor Events of Local
and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 15.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle
Fields—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts
Cities and Norfolk County Towns
Foreign Matters.

World Wide.

Birth—Andrew Marvell, poet-writer; died 1678.
Death of John Kepler, astronomer; born 1571.

Birth—Lord Chatham.

Birth—William Cowper.

English poet.

Death—Sir William Herschel, astronomer and scientist.

A Federal government adopted by congress.

Death—Friedrich von Gluck, German musical composer; born 1714.

Death of Queen Maria II, of Portugal.

An explosion of 100,000 pounds of gunpowder occurred near Inverness, Scotland, causing great loss of life.

Prince George, after visiting Canada and the United States for three months, returned to England.

The British International exhibition was three times repudiated near Vienna by the Russians.

Revolution in Brazil and a republic proclaimed; Emperor Dom Pedro took refuge in Portugal.

Tomorrow's Anniversaries.—Nov. 16.

Quincy voted to locate schoolhouse on Training Field.

Second edition of Christ Church burned.

World Wide.

Death—Margaret, queen of Scotland, sister of Edgar Atheling; born 1064.

Death of Henry III, son of England, son of King Edward I; died Oct. 28, 1276.

Deaths of Fort Washington, N. Y., by the British.

Death—James Ferguson, natural pharmacist and astronomer; born 1710.

Statement of John Bright, English statesman;
he was recently repudiated by all the Cobden party to repeat the course, and during the American civil war these two gained the credit of preventing any official recognition of the Southern Confederacy.

Poland, having been declared a free republic by treaty in 1815, the courts of Russia and Prussia recognized it, and it attached Cracow to Austrian territory.

Death of James Ward, Royal academy painter; born 1774.

Sherman on his march through Georgia set fire to Atlanta.

King Alfonso, duke of Aosta, second son of the king of Italy, elected king of Spain by the Cortes.

Death in London of Sir Samuel Morton Peto, railroad builder and financier; aged 70.

Men and Horses Fall 110 Feet.

James Wilson and John Martin, residing near Edwardsville, went to New Albany recently to procure a coffin in which to bury James Routh. On their return from the city the heavy rain began to fall, and the sky became so dark that they were unable to see the road ahead of them, and they trusted to their horses to take them safely along to the dangerous highway.

At the point where the storm overtook them the road winds around the high bluff, and in many places passes near precipices. The rain was pouring down in torrents, and it was only when the lightning flashed they were enabled to see the road at all.

Suddenly there was a brilliant flash of lightning, followed by a deafening peal of thunder, which stunned the men and seemed to stagger the horses. Before they could recover from the shock the horses and wagon fell over a precipice, and all went down a distance of 110 feet.

Some men who were passing heard the cries of distress and went to their assistance. They found the men and the horses and wagon in a deep hollow, more than one hundred feet below where the road passes the top of the precipice.

The rain continued to fall.

He encloses Assad's retraction, in which he says the story in regard to buying a girl
to be eaten by cannibals was misunderstood.

The handkerchief said to be given for her purchase was a gift and had no reference whatever to the occurrence with which they are erroneously connected.

SHOT THOUGH THE HEAD.

A Boston Stable Keeper Murdered by a Discharged Employee—Evidence That
the Deed Was Premeditated.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Last evening, Benji-
min F. Taylor shot Wilder F. Hutchings, causing a wound from which the victim died.
Hutchings was in charge of a hack and feed stable at 24 Fleet street. Last October Taylor was working for him in the capacity of foreman. About Oct. 3,
Hutchings accused Taylor and one Edward Smyer of stealing grain from him, and had them arrested. They were confined in Charles street jail until last Tuesday,
when a jury in the superior criminal court acquitted both defendants. Since that time Taylor, it is said, has frequently said
he would kill Hutchings.

Yesterday he went to Hutchings' house twice, looking for him. During the forenoon he met Officer Fessenden of Station
1 on the street and told him he intended to kill Hutchings. Last evening about 6.30 Taylor called at the stable. Hutchings was not in the office at the time, but came in a few minutes afterwards. Taylor claimed that Hutchings owed him $150
and asked him for it. Hutchings told him to get out, that he did not want him there.
Taylor then drew a revolver and shot
Hutchings through the head, the bullet entering the brain just below the right eye. The bullet was sent for, and the wounded man removed to his home.
Drs. Weeks and Wheeler were summoned, but could do nothing for him. He died at 11.05 o'clock.

Immediately after the shooting Taylor started toward the station, as he said, to give himself up, when he was met by Officers Glancy and Hines and arrested. He claims, it is said, that when he was ordered out of the stable Hutchings put his hand in his hip pocket as if to draw a revolver, and that he fired in self-defense, but this is not credited, in view of the fact that he had been hunting his victim all day. Hutchings was a married man with one child, and was 40 years old. Taylor is single, 35 years old.

CANNIBALISM IN AFRICA.

Mrs. Jameson Produces a Letter in Defense of Her Husband, Written by Him to Sir William MacKinnon.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Jameson writes to the papers as follows:

"The Anti-Slavery Relief committee appear to consider it their duty of refunding devoures upon me. I ask the paper to insert the following letter from my husband, who died a fortnight after writing it, and who therefore was unable to take the further steps which he intended to clear his character." Jameson's letter is addressed to Sir William MacKinnon and is dated Stanley Falls, Aug. 30, 1888. After describing Assad Farran's statement as false and cruel, Jameson writes:

"Upon arrival at Riaruba the chief invited me to his residence where he was surrounded by curious native savages following other cerebrations while Tippoo said was usually followed by a cannibal feast. I laughed sceptically, whereupon another Arab described a horrible story. I flatly declared that it was impossible for this to be true. The Arab retorted, 'Give me a bit of cloth and see.' I thought this a mere ruse to obtain a gift, but the Arab had formerly been kind, so I gave him a piece of six handkerchiefs. They followed the man home, and even passed into his life. The whole thing happened so quickly that it was impossible to make sketches had I wished to do so. Further, I had nothing to sketch with. The small sketches I made were done in the exterior of our house. The girl never looked back. She seemed to know it was her fate. She never stirred hand, foot or head. How the girl was obtained I don't know, but will send you all the particulars, signed by witnesses, as promised."

Then follows the statement that Assad was guilty of swindling the British government in the purchase of camels at Sunkum, where he also made money by dividing with policemen, spoils captured from the troops. The statement concludes as follows:

"This is the low brute whose word the Belgian officers would accept to destroy the world."

He encloses Assad's retraction, in which he says the story in regard to buying a girl
to be eaten by cannibals was misunderstood.

The handkerchief said to be given
for her purchase was a gift and had no
reference whatever to the occurrence with which they are erroneously connected.

SOLD HIS FAMILY FOR $40.

A Trade Between Nova Scotians Which Has Proved Unatisfactory.

HALIFAX, Nov. 15.—Some months ago ago William Gifford of this city sold his wife and family to George Thompson for $40, and since then Thompson has been living with Mrs. Gifford and her children.

Everything went serenely for a time, but lastly Thompson, it is alleged, has been abusing the family cruelly. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children will obtain warrants for the apprehension of the children and they will be placed in an institution.

Mr. Gould Makes Known His Views.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Jay Gould writes to the Sun that the difference between the earnings of the western and southwestern system of railroads under the "presidents' agreement" is due to their operation under the present loose methods is about $200,000 annually in favor of the agreement. These railroads have probably among their stockholders, many of them small investors who depend for a living on their dividends. It is to be hoped, says Mr.
Gould, that the presidents can be called together again, "with the assurance that they have the whole mass of investors behind them."

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

The feature of the New York stock market was the heavy selling of Northern stocks preferred which declined to 57. The general impression was that most of the selling came from parties who held it as collateral for a loan who bought it at 60. The buyers were very active in the stock, and its transaction ran up to the largest figure yet.

There was a good deal of buying in the afternoon and the market steadily throughout the day. Trading in the Boston market continued of good volume, although it was not so excited as heretofore, and activity tended to concentrate into fewer specialists.

The Boston Market.

Fourteen Cents Capital.

The possession of how much money does it require to save a man from the charge of being a pauper? Lately a ship load of 500 Italians was landed at New York city, and the cash capital they brought with them averaged just fourteen cents each. A man in a strange land and unacquainted with the language of the country, who possesses fourteen cents, may not be a pauper, but, unless he is willing to work and hustle to secure employment, he is likely to become very shortly after his arrival—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

SHOT THOUGH THE HEAD.

A Boston Stable Keeper Murdered by a Discharged Employee—Evidence That
the Deed Was Premeditated.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Last evening, Benji-
min F. Taylor shot Wilder F. Hutchings, causing a wound from which the victim died.
Hutchings was in charge of a hack and feed stable at 24 Fleet street. Last October Taylor was working for him in the capacity of foreman. About Oct. 3,
Hutchings accused Taylor and one Edward Smyer of stealing grain from him, and had them arrested. They were confined in Charles street jail until last Tuesday,
when a jury in the superior criminal court
acquitted both defendants. Since that time Taylor, it is said, has frequently said
he would kill Hutchings.

Yesterday he went to Hutchings' house
twice, looking for him. During the forenoon he met Officer Fessenden of Station
1 on the street and told him he intended to kill Hutchings. Last evening about 6.30 Taylor called at the stable. Hutchings was not in the office at the time, but came in a few minutes afterwards. Taylor claimed that Hutchings owed him $150
and asked him for it. Hutchings told him
to get out, that he did not want him there.
Taylor then drew a revolver and shot
Hutchings through the head, the bullet
entering the brain just below the right
eye. The bullet was sent for, and the wounded man removed to his home.
Drs. Weeks and Wheeler were summoned, but could do nothing for him. He died at 11.05 o'clock.

SHOT THOUGH THE HEAD.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Boston
Adams Office, Adams Building, Quincy
Souther's Store, McGovern Bros. Store, Plumer's Block, Quincy
Coffey's Store, Copeland Street, Weymouth
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner, Quincy Point
Post Office, Holliston
Henry B. Vinton, Wollaston
M. K. Pratt, Braintree

Today's Almanac—November 15.

High water at 12:34 A. M. and 12:34 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:35; Sets at 4:22.

Moon rises at 6:53 A. M.

First quarter Nov. 19.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by Ledge Reporters.Thanksgiving week the public schools will close Tuesday night.Rural Lodge will elect officers at the next communication.Clan McGregor will hold its annual ball in the Coliseum on Thanksgiving Eve.The Q. M. C. B. A. intend to run a grand ball in the Coliseum on New Year's eve.G. M. Wight, the electrician of the Quincy Fire department, is ill with slow fever.The flag on G. A. R. hall is at half mast in respect to their dead comrade, J. L.
Eldridge.What is to be done with the swill? There has been no collector of garbage around this week.Miss Emma Evans of Fitzwilliams, N. H., is visiting at Mr. Jas. A. Hayden's, Quincy Point.A large number of young people attended the ball given by the Fraternal Circle in Milton last evening.The Butcher Boy Engine Co. will hold its annual ball in the Braintree Town Hall on Thanksgiving Eve.The stockholders of the Quincy and Boston street Railway hold a special meeting at three o'clock this afternoon.Hon. Moody Merrill, the Republican nominee for mayor of Boston, is a brother of Mr. Jonathan G. Merrill of Wollaston.Mrs. Boyle, a well known and capable nurse of this city, arrived home from New York, where she has been on a long visit.Mr. Frank S. Patch rode out for the first time yesterday, and that he will now rapidly gain in the wish of the many friends.Mr. Charles C. Hearn, the druggist, who was burned out, is ready to fill all prescriptions, new and old, having saved the files of the latter.W. A. Smith, the granite contractor on Penn street, had his left foot badly jammed at his works, yesterday. He was in great pain last night.Miss Floretta Vining is to close her summer house next week and take apartments at the Parker House, Boston, where she will pass the winter.Cards are out for the church wedding of Miss Elizabeth Evans and Mr. Horace A.
Spear, to take place Tuesday evening, Nov.
25, at eight o'clock, in the Congregational church.The votes for the Steamer Co. who are in the Globe Contest are coming in very fast. All desiring to help them along can give vote to the members or leave them at the house.Councilman W. T. Shea of Ward Four wishes to have the statement in the LED-GER that he was a candidate for re-election contradicted and desires it understood that he will not be in the contest.Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Lombard, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage last Wednesday evening by going to Boston to the theatre. Mr. Lombard is such a busy man, that an evening from the store is quite a treat, and they thoroughly enjoyed the evening.Mr. Cliff Rogers of East Marshfield, brother of Mr. Alvin Rogers of this city, is a very smart man considering his age which is around the 80's. He visited Boston Friday and returned to his brothers in this city and started off again for Boston
Saturday morning.Miss Jennie B. Walker and Mr. Charles H. Williams of North Weymouth, were married on Tuesday, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac H.
Walker, in the presence of many friends.
The happy couple received many gifts.
They will reside on Lincoln street.Work on the roof of the new Willard school is being rapidly pushed and the building will soon be covered over. The cheapest looking thing on the structure is the plate with Willard school and the dates on it. It seems that the builders might have cut large letters and had them polished in order to make them show to a good advantage.

West Quincy Post Office.

List of advertised letters Nov. 14.

Michael Blaake, Stephen Kerigan,
Miss Ada Barter, Mrs. G. W. Lane,
Mr. John Gilbert, John Lynch,
Mrs. F. Flory, Michael McFeran,
Mrs. Theo. Guard, Miss Mary Norback,
Mrs. E. Glynn, Miss Ellen D. Leahy, John Herrington, Michael Pitts,
J. H. Kain, A. Riddock,
M. F. Keane, A. J. E. Thorson.
W. F. Nutting, P. M.

The First Gen.
Democrats of Ward Six held their caucus last night.

The following were nominated as Coun-cilmens:—Edmund Pope, Daniel Lyons and Cornelius Duggan.

For School Committee,—Elijah G. Hall.
For Councilman-at-large,—John A. Duggan.

Delegates to attend the Mayoralty Convention,—John A. Duggan, Daniel Golding, Daniel Lyons, F. C. Pope, James Martin.

The delegates were pledged to vote for John A. Duggan for Councilman-at-large.

An attempt was made yesterday morning to enter the residence of John P.
Loveless, of Weymouth, but a talkative parrot asked the burglar "What do you want?" as he was entering the window, and frightened him away.

At the annual communication of Old Colony Lodge of Masons of Hingham, the following officers were elected: Worshipful Master, William F. Harden; senior warden, Charles H. Marple; junior warden, Charles T. Burr; treasurer, Horace Peare; secretary, William H. Thomas.

A citizen of Malden has brought suit against that city for the loss of a pig dog, whose death was caused by eating pants green spread about by the Gypsy Moth Commission.

TOTAL POPULATION. The census bureau announces the total population of the United States, exclusive of Indians, and white men in Indian Territory and Alaska at 62,480,540. The largest gains in population are credited to the section embracing the states of Ohio, Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska.

BORN.

PETERSON.—In Braintree, Oct. 5, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O.
Peterson.

SIMMONDS.—In South Braintree, Nov. 9, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Willie H. Simmonds.

MARRIED.

COLCORD—LOUD.—In Weymouth, Nov.
11, by Rev. William Hyde, Mr. Frank W.
Colcord of Newport, R. I., to Miss Ida Lund.

DAMON—MCISAAC.—In Braintree, Oct.
24, by Rev. W. B. Heath, Joseph J.
Damon, of Abington, to Mrs. Mary A.
McIsaac of Portland, Me.

DIED.

GOODHUE.—In Neponset, Nov. 13, Mary O., daughter of Mr. Augustus B., and Mrs. Sarah Goodhue, aged 3 months and 14 days.

ROGERS BROS.

Adams Building, Quincy.

WE CARRY

A Full Line of

LEBANON OVERALLS AND JUMPERS.

CRANITE CLOTHING CO.

Special Bargains

IN

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers

AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,

94 Hancock Street, - - - Tirrell's Block.

GENTS'S SHOES from $1.25 to $5.00.
LADIES' SHOES from $1.00 up.
CHILDREN'S SHOES from 35c. to $1.50.

James O'Donovan.

1m

A BARGAIN.

TEN Pound Chests of New Formosa
Oolong Tea at

50 cts. a lb.

Guaranteed to please.

J. F. MERRILL.

Umbrellas!

Largest Stock.

Finest Assortment.

Saville & Jones.

MILKMAID BRAND
CONDENSED MILK

Nothing better for babies.

Full Cream. Full Weight

Best on Earth.

For sale by

J. F. Merrill,

QUINCY, MASS

Oct. 4 Sat-Sun

Quincy, Sept. 24.

YOU CAN BUY
A. SHUMAN & CO.'S CELEBRATED

Children's Suits
AT THE
Granite Clothing Co.'s

DO YOU WANT

A DRESS SHOE, buy N.
CURTIS & CO.'S
Patent Leather, Congress or Bal.
SAVILLE & JONES.

IN ANSWER

TO the question which is asked us so often, How have you built up so large a trade? we would say that it is by buying only the best and selling at the smallest possible profit.

Boston Branch Grocery.

Quincy, Sept. 24. tf

TRUNKS, BAGS,
UMBRELLAS,

A LARGE ASSORTMENT.

GRANITE CLOTHING CO.

THANKSGIVING GOODS.

We have a full line of New Thanksgiving Goods, consisting of

New Raisins, Currants, Citron, Prunes, Evaporated Peaches and Apricots.

Also, all the

NEW NUTS

to be found at this Season.

We have the finest line of SPICES packed
They are put up in 1-4 lb. Tins, by Silas Pierce & Co., Boston, and are warranted extra strength.
Give them a trial in making your mince meat.

ROGERS BROS.

Adams Building, Quincy.

Special Bargains

IN

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers

AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,

94 Hancock Street, - - - Tirrell's Block.

GENTS'S SHOES from $1.25 to $5.00.
LADIES' SHOES from $1.00 up.
CHILDREN'S SHOES from 35c. to $1.50.

James O'Donovan.

1m

FLANDERS' TONIC

Tones up the Stomach. Makes the Brain Active.

Purify your Blood with Flanders' Tonic. That Tired Feeling will be Unknown to those who use it.

A Boon to Overworked Men and Women.

If your Children are ailing, "no appetite," languid and without Strength, Flanders' Tonic will build them up.

TRY IT! TAKE NO OTHER!

A Combination of Malt Calisaya and Hypophosphites
Tonic and Stimulant.

$1.00. Six Bottles for $5.00.
FLANDERS' MANDRAKE PILLS beats
them all. Price 25 Cents.

Physicians endorse it. Ask your druggist for it; if he cannot supply you, send direct to us. We prepay express charges upon receipt of price. Made only by

Flanders' Tonic.

Cleveland for President.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15.—At the Thurman banquet, which lasted until 3 o'clock yesterday morning, the last speaker was Congressman Springer, who made an effective speech and nominated Cleveland for the presidency in 1892.

Cleveland for President.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—Herr & Friend, the brokers whose suspension was caused on Tuesday by the panic in the stock market, have resumed business. Their creditors accepted $3 cents on the dollar.

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

MUST be higher, as the pack is small. We are receiving a large variety of year's prices.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY,

Durgin & Merrill's Block.

Quincy, Sept. 24.

Wines and Liquors

Rock & Rye, $2 per gal, $6.50 per case.

Old Whiskies, $2, $3, and $4 per gal.

Elite Whiskey, $5 per gal. $16 per case.

Holland Gin, $2.75 per gal.

Imported Sherries, $2, $3, & $4 per gal.

Port Wines, imported, $2, $3 & $4 per gal.

Matured Rums, $2, $3 & $4 per gal.

Brandy, $3, 4.50, 5.50 & 7.00 per gal.

PROPERTY.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 185.

QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

G. A. R. Fair.

OPENS MONDAY, NOV. 17, 1890.

IN HANCOCK HALL.

ONE WEEK ONLY!

Entertainment and Music

EACH EVENING.

—$—

The Committees are as follows:

Executive,—J. D. Williams, Chairman; I. M. Holt, Secretary; A. W. Gardner, Treasurer.

Reception,—Charles L. Orne.

Entertainment,—W. H. Warner.

Season Tickets,—H. O. Souther.

Refreshments,—G. H. Osborne.

Wheel,—J. S. Farrell and S. D. DeForest.

Confectioner,—O. M. Whittier.

Chances,—Franklin Curtis.

Door Keeper,—M. E. Hanson.

Popular Contests

Among Councilmen for Gold Headed Cane.

Among Members of Relief Corps for Piano Lamp.

Among Members of Sons of Veterans for Gold Watch.

Admission Tickets, - - 25c.

Season Tickets, 50 Cents.

Nov. 11.

12c.

50 DOZEN

Children's Knee
Pants,
Only 25 Cents a Pair.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

DURGIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BEST IN THE MARKET!

FOR $6.50 CASH

WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.

[FRANK S. PATCH.]

Quincy, July 9.

Value.
House on Chest.
$3,000
3,300
3,000
5,000
800
300
3,500
1,500
1,800
500 700
1,500
1,900
900 500
4,200
900 200
3,200
700 900
250 250
1,000
600
6,000
400 900 600
Knell street,
180 10
700 21 76
250 250
1,000
600
6,000
400 900 500
500
1,500
450 Washington street, 300
600 900
550
21 72
1,000
1,500
100 700 100
1,300
600
1,200
300
1,400
800
1,400
800
146 88
1,500
2,500
1,200
1,400
800
1,400
800
146 88
EXCHANGE.
NCE OF COMPANY.
SINESS
DING.
PETROLEUM.
Oct. 15.—
CAN BUY PIANOS
ASE,
Quincy.
of Instruments. An Organ Mortgages,
e Society.
Manager.
sh and Oysters ICES.
Y BUTTER,
arket.
QUINCY.

QUINCY DISASTER.

The Report of the Railroad Commissioners Thereon.

WELCH WAS NOT DISOBEDIENT.

But His Fault Was a Failure to Realize the Peculiar Danger of His Position—He Was Immediately Responsible for the Accident.

Quincy people had almost forgotten that the Railroad Commissioners had not reported on the Quincy disaster of August 19. They have just made public their report, which makes a document of 22 pages, and to it is appended a special report on brakes by Prof. George F. Swain.

Omitting the preliminaries and many of the details which are very familiar to LEDGER readers, we come to the Commissioners view of the accident: The jack was under the westerly rail, at a point 10 feet south of the northerly end of the curve. The engine was not derailed until it reached a point 20.4 feet north of said northerly end of the curve, or 30.4 feet from the location of the jack. At the end of the curve the super-elevation of the easterly rail is 1½ inches, which elevation is gradually reduced from that point. The engine jumped the track to the west; that is, toward the ditch and not toward the outbound track. After striking the jack the engine ran about 280 feet, and finally toppled over its side, and stopped with its front end driven into the bank and its rear end projecting over the inbound track.

The position of the cars after the wreck indicates that, when the engine stopped, having turned over on its side, its front end having been driven into the bank and its rear end projecting over the inbound track, the thrust of the nine cars behind turned the tender around on its connection with the engine as on a pivot, and, in turning, the tender operated as a wedge to force the baggage car off the inbound track and push it over on the outbound track, thus causing it to pass without striking the engine. The link and pin connection between the baggage car and tender held, while the shackle and chain connection between the tender and engine broke, and the tender, having first operated as a wedge to throw the baggage car over on the outbound track, was dragged backward down the track.

The Pullman, coupled to the baggage car by its Miller coupling, followed closely the course of the baggage car. It was forced off the inbound rails and carried over to the outbound track, and it, too, escaped a collision with the projecting rear end of the engine. The next car, the smoker, following the Pullman, barely grazed the engine as it passed.

The influence of the tender as a wedge was gradually being lost, and when the fourth car, No. 263, came along to the point where the engine lay, although its front end was derailed toward the outbound track, it was not thrown over sufficiently to avoid a collision. It was driven diagonally against the engine, which, from a point a few feet back of the front left-hand corner of the car, tore out the whole side of the car to a point about 15 feet from its rear end. When this position was reached the train came to a stop.

In car 263 were 70 passengers, a larger number than in any other car in the train. When it struck the engine it was moving so slowly that some of the passengers saved themselves by jumping from the left to the right side of the aisle. Those passengers on the left side of the aisle who remained in their seats were driven back behind the framework of the engine, and especially held the great driving wheel, and were crushed and pinned down by the debris of the cab, of the framework of the car, of the seats and of the floor.

Third—Tools, pieces of iron, of wood or of other material used for track, signal, interlocking, bridge, carpenter or other work, should not be brought on the track or allowed to remain there except when needed for immediate use. Tools should not be dropped or laid between the rails.

Wedding Bells.

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated on Saturday last at the new residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carter, Linden place.

The contracting parties were their daughter, Florence Louise, and Mr. Edson Leone Whitney. The marriage ceremony was performed in the presence of a large company of the relatives of the bride and groom, Rev. Edward Norton of the Congregational church officiated. After the marriage, an informal reception was held and caterer Blunt spread the feast.

The numerous and handsome presents displayed, testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held by their many friends.

Mr. Whitney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Whitney of Boston, a graduate of Harvard, receiving from the college last summer the degree of Ph. D. He is at present engaged in teaching in Syracuse, N. Y.

At an early hour Mr. and Mrs. Whitney left amid showers of rice for their future home. The good wishes of a large circle of friends go with them.

Ward Five Democratic Caucus.

The Ward Five Democrats met in House hall, Saturday evening, and made the following nominations:

Councilmen—Jason G. Witham, William H. L. Smyth, Walter H. Bowker.

School Committee—Wendell G. Correll.

The delegates to the mayoralty convention and the ward committee are:

Delegates—Watson H. Brase, Charles T. Baker, Jason G. Witham, John F. Neill, Henry A. Jones.

Ward Committee—Josiah Quincy, Walter E. Simmons, John F. Neill, William P. Chase, Jr., Jason G. Witham, Charles T. Baker, Walter H. Bowker, Arthur Murphy, Martin Burns.

was seen by the engineer of the express, but not until his engine was within 100 feet of it; and that the conductor of an outbound gravel train, who was standing on the front platform of the caboose attached to the rear of said gravel train, saw the cowcatcher of the express strike the jack, he being at that time directly opposite to it.

The immediate responsibility for this terrible accident rests upon Joseph F. Welch, the section master. In condemning him, however, it must be remembered that on a straight piece of track, he would have been justified by the general practice on the Old Colony and on other roads, in using the jack as he did, even after the express was due. His fault was not disobedience of a plain rule, but a failure to realize the peculiar danger of his position. He did not appreciate that the curve made the jack far more dangerous than usual. He did not stop to think that he could only see 540 feet, and that an express train going at the rate of 30 miles an hour, would cover the distance in 12 seconds.

Welch's most inexcusable neglect was his failure to keep such an outlook as would insure his seeing the train the instant it came in sight. He was not aware of the approach of the train until the whistle was sounded. As has been shown elsewhere, the train was then within 400 feet from the jack, or within 300 feet from him, so that after it came in sight it had advanced 180 feet before he knew of its approach.

On the Boston, Clinton & Fitchburg, the New York & New England and the Old Colony he has had 20 years' experience as section master. Up to the time of this accident he had a record of good and honest service, free from responsibility for accidents. His fault was not drunkenness or laziness. He was at work. He was trying to accomplish as much work as possible; but, in attending to a part of his work which should have been postponed, he neglected an immediate and vital duty.

In the light of this accident, it is clear that more definite and stringent regulations must be adopted with reference to the use of the track jack.

Conclusions Reached.

First—A track jack should not be used either on the inside or the outside of the rail, nor should a lever bar or other similarly cumbersome instrument be used between the rails, unless such jack bar or instrument is protected as required when the track is obstructed.

Second—When repairs are being made, which do not interfere with the safe passage of trains, the track should be clear of men and tools before an approaching train gets within a quarter of a mile of the point where the work is being done.

On the approach of a train the section master should not only cause his men to leave the track as above, but, before he leaves the track himself, he should be satisfied that the track is free from tools and otherwise safe.

If, for any cause, the view is permanently or occasionally obstructed, the section master should take extra precautions to enable him to comply with the foregoing requirements; and, if the situation is such that he can not or may not be able to insure such compliance, then cautionary signals should be plainly exhibited on the track at such distance, not less than a quarter of a mile, as to give timely warning to approaching trains—in both directions if on single track—and should be kept there until recalled by order of the section master. In getting off the tracks, section men should, so far as possible, avoid crossing or standing on other tracks.

Third—Tools, pieces of iron, of wood or of other material used for track, signal, interlocking, bridge, carpenter or other work, should not be brought on the track or allowed to remain there except when needed for immediate use. Tools should not be dropped or laid between the rails.

WEDNESDAY.

THURSDAY.

FRIE.

SATURDAY.

SUNDAY.

MONDAY.

TUESDAY.

WEDNESDAY.

THURSDAY.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,

(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)

—BY—

GREEN & PRESCOTT.

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., receive no insertion fee, but will be inserted at 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

CLEVELAND FOR PRESIDENT.

An Old Slave's Romance.
A colored woman, bent nearly double with eighty years and a heavy bundle, was seen to board the Cincinnati Mail line packet yesterday afternoon. Approaching the clerk of the boat she slowly untied a knot in the corner of her red bandana handkerchief and produced enough cash to purchase a deck ticket for Cincinnati. The wrinkled and feeble old negress is the heroine of a romance. In ante-bellum days she was a slave, and was owned by a planter near Asheville, N. C. At an early age she was married to a slave of the same master. By him she had several children. Over half a century ago her husband was taken from her and her children, and was sold to another planter. The woman continued to work on the North Carolina plantation, and in a short time was again married. Her whole family was then sold to a Virginia man.

When the emancipation proclamation was promulgated the family took advantage of their freedom and journeyed northward, finally taking up their home in Louisville. The husband died after the close of the war, and the children one by one left their mother to seek their fortunes elsewhere. The mother toiled and labored to make a livelihood. She heard nothing of her first husband until about a month ago, when one of her sons found that the old man was living in Newport, Ky. The old negro journeyed thither and found the husband of her youth. He had also been married the second time and had several children by the second wife. The latter was dead, however, and the reunited couple decided to again live together. The woman returned to Louisville, disposed of her effects, and yesterday afternoon completed the romance of fifty years by returning to her husband.—Louisville Post.

DROUGHT-STRIKENE NEBRASKA.

Steps Taken Toward Aiding Sufferers—Fears of a Coal Famine.
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 17.—At a mass meeting held in this city, presided over by Governor Thompson, a bill was introduced to relieve the destitute in the western part of the state and a substantial fund raised. It is designed to tide over all pressing wants by individual subscription until the meeting of the legislature, when the state can take action. The commission appointed by the governor reported that twelve counties are included in the drought-stricken districts, and that an appropriation of $100,000 would be sufficient to meet their necessities because of lack of protection afforded them by the government. The most conservative feel gloomy at the outlook.

The Dangers of Railroading.
There is no branch of railroading that is safe," is a saying among men who make their living on the iron rails, and a man's long service and skillful knowledge do not throw absolute safeguards about him. Poor Martin Ryan, who had the science of railroading down to the finest notch, was killed by his own train after eighteen years of service. Richard Graham, a yard man of Richmond, who worked for the Pennsylvania company twenty-five years, was struck by a pony engine a few days ago. Samuel Morgan's body was brought here last night. Morgan was an engineer on the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis for thirty years. Advancing age incapacitated him from running an engine, and he was given charge of a water station at Marshfield, near Scottsburg. Night before last he was run down by a freight train and killed. "Did you notice that six out of ten railroad men die violent deaths if they continue in the business?" said a conductor last evening. "If they don't it's because they leave the railroad service."—Indianapolis News.

Moody Cuts Off a Tedious Prayer.
A man who can say fervently and throw himself into words of prayer, and find favor in the eyes of Evangelist Moody, yet like all good men he knows when he has had prayer enough. One evening in the short devotional service which followed the Bible lecture, some one in the rear of the platform began a rambling, incoherent offering, to which Mr. Moody graciously knelt as long as his patience lasted.

"Will the audience sing the doxology and be dismissed?" he asked at last, and in the burst of song which followed the ending of the prayer, if he had an end was lost.—Buffalo Courier.

A Boy's Prayer.

A little boy who had been punished for an exhibition of ugliness was sent to bed with instructions to pray that he might be a better boy in future and that his temper might be reformed. His mother stooped to the door of his room to make sure that he had carried out, and this is the prayer that she said: "Lord, please take away my bad temper. And when you are about it you might as well take mother's."—New York Evening Sun.

Extracting Teeth with Electricity.

An electrical instrument invented for avoiding the pain incident to the extraction of teeth consists of adjustable prongs, carrying buttons and connected with an electrical battery. The buttons are placed on the upper and lower nerves leading from the teeth to the brain, and a circuit is established the moment the extracting instrument touches the teeth.—New York Telegram.

Don't Want to Try It.

The Medical Journal says that a well-meaning man will suffer more from the kick of a mule than from the pain of dissolution in case he dies a natural death. It assures the timid that there is really no pain connected with the act of dying.

THE STORIES DON'T JIBE.
Two Doubtful Accounts of an Express Robbery in Georgia.

AGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 17.—A week ago yesterday both trains on the Georgia road, between Augusta and Atlanta, were robbed of express matter. Last night's train from here for Atlanta met the same fate. Express Messenger Corps of Atlanta, who is in place of one of the passengers who were on board, was in his car unseating. Above Messina a man entered and commanded him to open the safe. There are two stories of the robbery. One is that Corpus refused to comply, at the same time drawing his revolver, whereupon the robber fired, the ball penetrating his hat, but not touching the messenger, who returned the shot. Corpus thinks it hit the robber, as there are spots of blood on the car floor. Detectives and express officials visited the scene, but, strange to say, can find no evidence of where or when jumped from the train, if he left it at all.

Another account of the affair is that the robber covered the messenger with a pistol and commanded him to open the safe and hand out the money, which Corpus proceeded to do. Quickly drawing his pistol while apparently obeying the command of the Serpent, he reached around to his left side and fired through his coat, hitting the man. A Spanish gunboat which yesterday passed the scene of the disaster, found no trace of the Serpent. A body washed ashore yesterday is supposed to be that of the commander of the Serpent.

The British gunboat Lapwing brought the Serpent's survivors to Corunna yesterday. They are now in safety, though he is still bound to his couch. The astronomical observations were impossible, owing to the bad state of the weather.

A Spanish gunboat Lapwing brought the Serpent's survivors to Corunna yesterday. They are now in safety, though he is still bound to his couch.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 17.—The Tribune's Mandan, N. D., special says: Settlers living on the border of the Sioux reservation bring stories of the cannibalism of Indians. One man was eaten by a Sioux named Buckeye, who speaks their language. Buckeye came in yesterday and says that every Indian on the reservation will shortly go on the warpath, and that they have got possession of Custer's rifles, which the United States army have never found. Local hardware men have in the last few days sold their entire stocks of ammunition to the Indians. The Indians say that if they are unsuccessful in the raid, they will make no more rations and they have nothing to live on.

Citizens here and settlers who are unprotected believe that Gen. Ringo and the Indian authorities are harboring a feeling of false security and that when too late the number of troops at Fort Lincoln will be increased. The mayor of Mandan has called a meeting and the war department will be asked to furnish citizens with guns if not soldiers. Many settlers between Mandan and the reservation are afraid to go to town, fearing that they will be attacked by Indians.

Mr. Springer quotes him as saying, "With complete control of my own time, but if they want me I shall be willing to accept." Mr. Springer goes further, and regards Mr. Cleveland's nomination as a certainty. "He will be nominated," said Mr. Springer. "No matter whether New York wants it or not. He can carry Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Nebraska, and come near to carrying Kansas and Minnesota. The whole northwest is with us on the tariff reform idea, and it has come to stay."

A colored woman, bent nearly double with eighty years and a heavy bundle, was seen to board the Cincinnati Mail line packet yesterday afternoon. Approaching the clerk of the boat she slowly untied a knot in the corner of her red bandana handkerchief and produced enough cash to purchase a deck ticket for Cincinnati. The wrinkled and feeble old negress is the heroine of a romance. In ante-bellum days she was a slave, and was owned by a planter near Asheville, N. C. At an early age she was married to a slave of the same master. By him she had several children. Over half a century ago her husband was taken from her and her children, and was sold to another planter. The woman continued to work on the North Carolina plantation, and in a short time was again married. Her whole family was then sold to a Virginia man.

When the emancipation proclamation was promulgated the family took advantage of their freedom and journeyed northward, finally taking up their home in Louisville. The husband died after the close of the war, and the children one by one left their mother to seek their fortunes elsewhere. The mother toiled and labored to make a livelihood. She heard nothing of her first husband until about a month ago, when one of her sons found that the old man was living in Newport, Ky. The old negro journeyed thither and found the husband of her youth. He had also been married the second time and had several children by the second wife. The latter was dead, however, and the reunited couple decided to again live together. The woman returned to Louisville, disposed of her effects, and yesterday afternoon completed the romance of fifty years by returning to her husband.—Louisville Post.

The Dangers of Railroading.

There is no branch of railroading that is safe," is a saying among men who make their living on the iron rails, and a man's long service and skillful knowledge do not throw absolute safeguards about him. Poor Martin Ryan, who had the science of railroading down to the finest notch, was killed by his own train after eighteen years of service. Richard Graham, a yard man of Richmond, who worked for the Pennsylvania company twenty-five years, was struck by a pony engine a few days ago. Samuel Morgan's body was brought here last night. Morgan was an engineer on the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis for thirty years. Advancing age incapacitated him from running an engine, and he was given charge of a water station at Marshfield, near Scottsburg. Night before last he was run down by a freight train and killed. "Did you notice that six out of ten railroad men die violent deaths if they continue in the business?" said a conductor last evening. "If they don't it's because they leave the railroad service."—Indianapolis News.

Moody Cuts Off a Tedious Prayer.

A man who can say fervently and throw himself into words of prayer, and find favor in the eyes of Evangelist Moody, yet like all good men he knows when he has had prayer enough. One evening in the short devotional service which followed the Bible lecture, some one in the rear of the platform began a rambling, incoherent offering, to which Mr. Moody graciously knelt as long as his patience lasted.

"Will the audience sing the doxology and be dismissed?" he asked at last, and in the burst of song which followed the ending of the prayer, if he had an end was lost.—Buffalo Courier.

A Boy's Prayer.

The Dangers of Railroading.
There is no branch of railroading that is safe," is a saying among men who make their living on the iron rails, and a man's long service and skillful knowledge do not throw absolute safeguards about him. Poor Martin Ryan, who had the science of railroading down to the finest notch, was killed by his own train after eighteen years of service. Richard Graham, a yard man of Richmond, who worked for the Pennsylvania company twenty-five years, was struck by a pony engine a few days ago. Samuel Morgan's body was brought here last night. Morgan was an engineer on the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis for thirty years. Advancing age incapacitated him from running an engine, and he was given charge of a water station at Marshfield, near Scottsburg. Night before last he was run down by a freight train and killed. "Did you notice that six out of ten railroad men die violent deaths if they continue in the business?" said a conductor last evening. "If they don't it's because they leave the railroad service."—Indianapolis News.

Moody Cuts Off a Tedious Prayer.

A man who can say fervently and throw himself into words of prayer, and find favor in the eyes of Evangelist Moody, yet like all good men he knows when he has had prayer enough. One evening in the short devotional service which followed the Bible lecture, some one in the rear of the platform began a rambling, incoherent offering, to which Mr. Moody graciously knelt as long as his patience lasted.

"Will the audience sing the doxology and be dismissed?" he asked at last, and in the burst of song which followed the ending of the prayer, if he had an end was lost.—Buffalo Courier.

A Boy's Prayer.

The Dangers of Railroading.
There is no branch of railroading that is safe," is a saying among men who make their living on the iron rails, and a man's long service and skillful knowledge do not throw absolute safeguards about him. Poor Martin Ryan, who had the science of railroading down to the finest notch, was killed by his own train after eighteen years of service. Richard Graham, a yard man of Richmond, who worked for the Pennsylvania company twenty-five years, was struck by a pony engine a few days ago. Samuel Morgan's body was brought here last night. Morgan was an engineer on the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis for thirty years. Advancing age incapacitated him from running an engine, and he was given charge of a water station at Marshfield, near Scottsburg. Night before last he was run down by a freight train and killed. "Did you notice that six out of ten railroad men die violent deaths if they continue in the business?" said a conductor last evening. "If they don't it's because they leave the railroad service."—Indianapolis News.

Moody Cuts Off a Tedious Prayer.

A man who can say fervently and throw himself into words of prayer, and find favor in the eyes of Evangelist Moody, yet like all good men he knows when he has had prayer enough. One evening in the short devotional service which followed the Bible lecture, some one in the rear of the platform began a rambling, incoherent offering, to which Mr. Moody graciously knelt as long as his patience lasted.

"Will the audience sing the doxology and be dismissed?" he asked at last, and in the burst of song which followed the ending of the prayer, if he had an end was lost.—Buffalo Courier.

A Boy's Prayer.

The Dangers of Railroading.
There is no branch of railroading that is safe," is a saying among men who make their living on the iron rails, and a man's long service and skillful knowledge do not throw absolute safeguards about him. Poor Martin Ryan, who had the science of railroading down to the finest notch, was killed by his own train after eighteen years of service. Richard Graham, a yard man of Richmond, who worked for the Pennsylvania company twenty-five years, was struck by a pony engine a few days ago. Samuel Morgan's body was brought here last night. Morgan was an engineer on the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis for thirty years. Advancing age incapacitated him from running an engine, and he was given charge of a water station at Marshfield, near Scottsburg. Night before last he was run down by a freight train and killed. "Did you notice that six out of ten railroad men die violent deaths if they continue in the business?" said a conductor last evening. "If they don't it's because they leave the railroad service."—Indianapolis News.

Moody Cuts Off a Tedious Prayer.

A man who can say fervently and throw himself into words of prayer, and find favor in the eyes of Evangelist Moody, yet like all good men he knows when he has had prayer enough. One evening in the short devotional service which followed the Bible lecture, some one in the rear of the platform began a rambling, incoherent offering, to which Mr. Moody graciously knelt as long as his patience lasted.

"Will the audience sing the doxology and be dismissed?" he asked at last, and in the burst of song which followed the ending of the prayer, if he had an end was lost.—Buffalo Courier.

A Boy's Prayer.

The Dangers of Railroading.
There is no branch of railroading that is safe," is a saying among men who make their living on the iron rails, and a man's long service and skillful knowledge do not throw absolute safeguards about him. Poor Martin Ryan, who had the science of railroading down to the finest notch, was killed by his own train after eighteen years of service. Richard Graham, a yard man of Richmond, who worked for the Pennsylvania company twenty-five years, was struck by a pony engine a few days ago. Samuel Morgan's body was brought here last night. Morgan was an engineer on the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis for thirty years. Advancing age incapacitated him from running an engine, and he was given charge of a water station at Marshfield, near Scottsburg. Night before last he was run down by a freight train and killed. "Did you notice that six out of ten railroad men die violent deaths if they continue in the business?" said a conductor last evening. "If they don't it's because they leave the railroad service."—Indianapolis News.

Moody Cuts Off a Tedious Prayer.

THE LOST SERPENT.

A Survivor's Vivid Description of the Disaster.

THEORIES AS TO THE CAUSE.

The Famous Banking House of Baring Bros. Nobly Rescued from Financial Difficulties—The Jameson Cannibal Incident Confirmed—Other Foreign News.

CORUNNA, Nov. 17.—A week ago yesterday both trains on the Georgia road, between Augusta and Atlanta, were robbed of express matter. Last night's train from here for Atlanta met the same fate. Express Messenger Corps of Atlanta, who is in place of one of the passengers who were on board, was unseated and commanded him to open the safe. There are two stories of the robbery. One is that Corpus refused to comply, at the same time drawing his revolver, whereupon the robber fired, the ball penetrating his hat, but not touching the messenger, who returned the shot. Corpus thinks it hit the robber, as there are spots of blood on the car floor. Detectives and express officials visited the scene, but, strange to say, can find no evidence of where or when jumped from the train, if he left it at all.

Another account of the affair is that the robber covered the messenger with a pistol and commanded him to open the safe and hand out the money, which Corpus proceeded to do. Quickly drawing his pistol while apparently obeying the command of the Serpent, he reached around to his left side and fired through his coat, hitting the man. A Spanish gunboat which yesterday passed the scene of the disaster, found no trace of the Serpent. A body washed ashore yesterday is supposed to be that of the commander of the Serpent.

The British gunboat Lapwing brought the Serpent's survivors to Corunna yesterday. They are now in safety, though he is still bound to his couch.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 17.—The Tribune's Mandan, N. D., special says: Settlers living on the border of the Sioux reservation bring stories of the cannibalism of Indians. One man was eaten by a Sioux named Buckeye, who speaks their language. Buckeye came in yesterday and says that every Indian on the reservation will shortly go on the warpath, and that they have got possession of Custer's rifles, which the United States army have never found. Local hardware men have in the last few days sold their entire stocks of ammunition to the Indians. The Indians say that if they are unsuccessful in the raid, they will make no more rations and they have nothing to live on.

Citizen here and settlers who are unprotected believe that Gen. Ringo and the Indian authorities are harboring a feeling of false security and that when too late the number of troops at Fort Lincoln will be increased. The mayor of Mandan has called a meeting and the war department will be asked to furnish citizens with guns if not soldiers. Many settlers between Mandan and the reservation are afraid to go to town, fearing that they will be attacked by Indians.

Mr. Springer quotes him as saying, "With complete control of my own time, but if they want me I shall be willing to accept."

Mr. Springer goes further, and regards Mr. Cleveland's nomination as a certainty.

"He will be nominated," said Mr. Springer. "No matter whether New York wants it or not. He can carry Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Nebraska, and come near to carrying Kansas and Minnesota. The whole northwest is with us on the tariff reform idea, and it has come to stay."

A Sixty-Year-Old Villain Ends His Career with a Double Tragedy.

CARON, Ills., Nov. 17.—A horrible tragedy was enacted at Utica, a village ten miles southeast of Canton. Philip T. Smith, a farmer, 60 years of age, had for some time been jealous of his wife, aged 40 years. Yesterday he threw her to the floor and severely choked her. Mrs. Smith got away from him and ran into the yard. Smith seized a Winchester rifle and followed her. After firing four shots into her body, she died. Smith was then beaten to death by his neighbors.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Lester's Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Southern's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros.' Store, Plumber's Row, Quincy
Coral St., Copeland Street, West Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner, Quincy
Post Office, Wollaston Heights, Braintree
Henry B. Vinton, Weymouth
M. K. Pratt, Weymouth

Today's Almanac.—November 17.

High water at 2:15 A. M. and 2:30 P. M.

Sun rises at 6:58; Sets at 4:21.

Moon sets 9:07.

First quarter Nov. 19.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by Ledger Reporters.

Republican caucus tonight.

The G. A. R. fair opens tonight.

George W. Wright's pension has been increased.

The Democrats of Ward Three will hold their caucus this evening.

William T. Pierce is making preparation to start a market in Mitchell's block.

The Swedish Lutheran church will hold a four days' fair this week, opening Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. W. F. Lawford of the M. E. church, West Quincy, preached in the Wollaston Methodist church, Sunday night.

The residence of Dr. Cutting on Franklin street, was burglarized Friday night. Considerable silver ware was secured.

James G. Witham, the Democratic candidate for Mayor last year, has been nominated for the Council by Ward Five Democrats.

Richard Grant, Esq., who was to preach in the M. E. church, West Quincy, on Sunday, was detained in New York and was unable to come.

In the district court this morning, William J. Perry, of East Weymouth, for no support of his family, was ordered to pay $8 per week.

After the delegates are chosen by the Republican caucuses this evening, it will be easier to predict who will be the nominee for Mayor.

Councilman Hall for two years in the City Council, is not a candidate for re-election, having been nominated by Ward Six for School Committee.

No Council will be held this evening, the rule requiring meetings to be held the first and third Mondays having been suspended and an adjournment made to Nov. 24.

The funeral of Eugene Sullivan was held from his residence on Granite street, Sunday afternoon. The body was interred in the Catholic Cemetery, West Quincy.

Holbrook now has two mails daily direct to Brockton; why is there not a movement to have direct communication between Quincy and Wollaston, Atlantic and West Quincy?

The provisional assignment of commencement parts at Harvard College next June were made last week. In the list is John O. Hall, Jr., of this city, and son of Auditor Hall.

A union Thanksgiving service will be held in Rev. Mr. Norton's church, the Congregational churches at Quincy Point and Atlantic, and the Presbyterian at South Quincy uniting.

There were many beautiful floral offerings at the funeral services at Mr. John L. Eldridge on Sunday, including a wreath from Paul Revere Post, G. A. R. Rev. George Benedict officiated. The interment was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Owing to some misunderstanding in regard to his engagements, Mr. H. G. Allen will be unable to appear at the Quincy Point concert on Thursday evening, and Mr. Julius Elischer, the well-known violinist of Boston will fill his place.

Many have the impression that it was the St. Mary's or Temperance hall, which was burned Saturday night, and the Boston Herald so reported it, but it was Forester's hall. Both are occupied temporarily as school rooms which caused the rumor.

A horse owned by A. Tabor and hired by a Mr. Gallagher, while hitched on Granite street, yesterday afternoon, became frightened and ran away. He collided with a telephone pole on Copeland street, throwing him down and demolishing the buggy. He struck a team owned by John Ford of Weymouth, badly damaging one of the wheels.

It is difficult to predict at this time who will be the candidate of the Democrats for Mayor. None of the party leaders interviewed will admit who the probable nominee will be. Col. Packard says he does not desire it. Messrs. William B. Rice, Josiah Quincy, James H. Slade and William T. Shea are the names prominently mentioned.

Rev. Mrs. Dinnick and Miss Chase started for California, Saturday afternoon, shortly after three o'clock. Several persons were at the depot to see them off, among the number were Dr. Gilbert, Dr. Webley, Dr. Gordon and relatives. Through a misunderstanding the car "Iolanthe," in which the party will travel, was sent to Boston instead of Quincy, and too late to be transferred across the city. The "Pilgrim" therefore took the party to Fitchburg where a change was made. Mrs. Lane, Miss Lane and others went as far as Taunton.

It is rumored that Rev. A. F. Roche will be nominated as the candidate for School Committee by the Democrats of Ward Four, in place of John F. Cole who declines to run again this year.

The citizens beyond Willard street in Ward Four, held a meeting on Saturday night and decided on Daniel C. Little as the man they would like to have in the Council the coming year. He will probably be nominated at the caucus on Tuesday evening.

Over 1100 votes were received at the Steamer house yesterday and this morning. All the school children are collecting in this district. It is hoped that everybody will help as the boys have made up their minds to go in and do their best to win.

Those Weymouth Votes.

The Gazette explains the recent ballot episode in town as follows:

"Our efforts to get at the facts of the sensational story in circulation as to a large number of the ballots of 1889 being in existence and used in Ward Five at the recent election to defeat the ends and aim of the Australian system, viz: a pure election, reveal the following story:-"

After the election of 1889 the ballots, both used and unused, were taken to the Town House and locked up in the vaults where they remained until a few days before the recent election when they were taken out and destroyed as the law directs. The law makes no disposal of old and unused ballots. Mr. Raymond, the Town Clerk, had kept these in the vault with the others, thinking they might be called for.

Shortly before the late election Mr. Howe, of Ward Five, asked if he might take a few. After an investigation of the right of disposing of them he was allowed to take some, and not only he but other members of the board also. They wished to study the system of marking as well as to look over the list of candidates.

The question now arises, were any of those ballots improperly used? The precinct officers of the several precincts say it was impossible that any of them could have been used as ballots. They served a purpose in instructing voters, before they entered the booths, how to work the new ballots, but beyond this and the little sensation now existing, they were of no account.

Reception and Ball.

The first complimentary reception and ball tendered to Prof. Banta's pupils, will take place next Wednesday evening, the 19th inst. at Faxon hall, Quincy. A handsome programme especially gotten up for the occasion, will be issued. Banta's Union Park orchestra of Boston will furnish the music. We are informed that Miss Ida May Templeton will dance at this reception a Spanish dance and Highland fling in costume. Miss Templeton is a pupil of Prof. Banta, only fifteen, pretty as a picture and wonderfully easy and graceful in her style of dance, in which she has no equal. The professor may be called upon, no doubt, to give his pupils a treat in the style of step dancing, besides his famous melody which he usually dances for the benefit of pupils, showing how easily and gracefully the different styles of dancing may be attained. Mr. Banta's many styles of dancing are peculiar to himself; attempted by no other ball room teacher. Together with this and Miss Templeton's dancing, is well worth the admission alone.

The tickets of admission have been placed at twenty-five and fifty cents, to be had of pupils and at the door.

Braintree Woman's Relief Corps.

The celebration of the third anniversary of Corps 94, W. R. C., of Braintree, last Friday evening, was a very enjoyable occasion. Addresses were made by Mrs. Mary E. Knowles, department president; Miss M. E. Elliott, department secretary; Mrs. Prudence H. Stokes of the department executive board; Commander Monk of the Post and Mrs. Benjamin F. Dyer. The latter presented a Grand Army volume to the Post, to contain a record of the service of the members. Mrs. Merritt, corps president, was presented with a marble clock by the corps. An excellent musical program and a collation were furnished.

Holiday.

The celebration of the third anniversary of Corps 94, W. R. C., of Braintree, last Friday evening, was a very enjoyable occasion. Addresses were made by Mrs. Mary E. Knowles, department president; Miss M. E. Elliott, department secretary; Mrs. Prudence H. Stokes of the department executive board; Commander Monk of the Post and Mrs. Benjamin F. Dyer. The latter presented a Grand Army volume to the Post, to contain a record of the service of the members. Mrs. Merritt, corps president, was presented with a marble clock by the corps. An excellent musical program and a collation were furnished.

TRY IT!

A Combination of Malt Calisaya and Hypophosphite. Tonic and Stimulant.

Guaranteed by all Druggists.

$1.00. Six Bottles for $5.00.

FLANDERS' MANDRAKE PILLS beats them all. Price 25 Cents.

Physicians endorse it. Ask your druggist for it; if he cannot supply you, send direct to us. We prepay express charges upon receipt of price. Made only by Health & Beauty.

Flanders' Tonic Co., Woburn, Mass., U. S. A.

Nov. 10.

MADE IN U. S. A.

</div

PROPERTY.

of taxable property of the city, a certain in each issue, so that the total of a be computed by interested parties.
tax. Tax rate per thousand $13.00.
with "H."

ONE.

Value.	TAX
$400	$5.44
3,000
2,000
500
4,000
825
2,100
600	179.14
200
3,400
500
2,275	86.70
75	3.02
1,800
1,500	46.88
150	2.04
200 2,800
500
1,800
4,000	126.48
7,000
700 350
5,000
700
5,400	202.44
1,500	20.40
500
1,900
200
1,700	58.48
income,

VO.

1,250
800	29.88
300
900
700	46.24
1,200
400	21.76
1,000
50
450	20.40
200
200	7.44
EE.

REE.

1,700	32.26
525	1.36
100 1,000
800
1,500	44.88
500
200	9.52
1,100
250	18.36
250	3.40
1,800
1,800
700	60.48
R.

REE.

50
700	22.40
750
1,400
300	25.12
200 600
1,600
100 150
1,000
300
700	78.12
850
300	15.64
1,200
500	25.12
E.

E.

2,500	41.44
1,700	34.64
100
2,200
100 500
2,000	72.04
1,000	15.60
3,500
1,000	61.20
2,000
300	33.28
2,200
1,200	48.24
income,

income,

75	3.02
200	2.72
1,400	26.48
400
1,500	24.14
275
3,000
1,000
1,500
200	77.52
the rate
re,

the rate

re,

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 186.

QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

LARGEST STOCK! LOWEST PRICES!

Men's, Youths' and Children's
Suits and Overcoats,
Underwear, Shirts and Gloves, Suspenders,
Umbrellas, &c., &c.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING CO.,
DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

G.A.R. Fair.

OPENS MONDAY, NOV. 17, 1890.

HANCOCK HALL.

ONE WEEK ONLY!

Entertainment and Music

EACH EVENING.

The Committees are as follows:

Executive,—J. D. Williams, Chairman; I. M. Holt, Secretary; A. W. Gardner, Treasurer.
Reception,—Charles L. Orne.
Entertainment,—W. H. Warner.
Season Tickets,—H. O. Souther.
Refreshments,—G. H. Osborne.
Wheel,—J. S. Farrell and S. D. DeForest.
Confectioner,—O. M. Whittier.
Chances,—Franklin Curtis.
Door Keeper,—M. E. Hanson.

Popular Contests

Among Councilmen for Gold Headed Cane.

Among Members of Relief Corps for Piano Lamp.
Among Members of Sons of Veterans for Gold Watch.

Admission Tickets, - - 25c.

Season Tickets, 50 Cents.

Nov. 11.

G. A. R. FAIR.

Successfully Inaugurated Last Evening.

Brief Speeches by Mayor Porter and Others.

Department Commander Innis and Members of Staff Present.

Good Attendance Although Stormy. Some of the Attractions.

The annual fair of Paul Revere Post, G. A. R., was opened in Hancock hall last evening, and will be an attraction all the week. The weather was unfavorable and political caucuses were being held in all the wards of the city, but in spite of these facts, the attendance was good, and the receipts fair. The Post is assisted by the Woman's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans, and their united efforts should be crowned with success.

The Opening Exercises.

Peter's Orchestra of Boston furnished music, and while it played "Hail to the Chief," the speakers and invited guests took seats upon the platform. There were Commander Williams of Paul Revere Post; Department Commander Innis and staff, including J. V. C. Churchill of Worcester and Department Inspector W. A. Weatherbee; Mayor Porter and President Fairbanks of the City Council; Mrs. Prudence Stokes, the wife of the Mayor of Massachusetts, W. R. C.; Mrs. Isabel Souther, President of Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps; Capt. Bowker of the Sons of Veterans; Lewis Badger, the oldest Son of Veteran; Representative-elect Burke and others.

Commander Williams said the fair was to replenish the relief fund of Post 88. The demands on it were heavy, $500 having been required the past year. He introduced S. V. C. Orne as the presiding officer.

Comrade Orne expressed thanks to those who had contributed so abundantly to the tables, which were unusually attractive. That and the attendance on such an inclement night spoke of the liberality of the people. He said people might soon expect to see the fair announced in the old Farmers' Almanac, "Expect G. A. R. fair about this time," as it was the intention to have one annually. He quoted the late Gen. Logan as saying that soldiers were generally poor, because they had given the best four years of their lives to the country, where many had contracted diseases.

Mayor Porter was then introduced. He said it was again his pleasure to be at the opening of the annual fair of Post 88. He told those assembled, that the money which the fair would net, was for the noblesse purpose to which money could be expended, the relief of the soldiers. He called attention to the corps' badges which decorated the hall, and said there were many in Quincy who had fought in those corps. They had saved this country; they had made this great and glorious country, and they deserve help now from the citizens. Disease had crippled them, and they were fast passing away, and they should not want.

President Fairbanks.

The next speaker said: It was to him a most pleasant duty, as the representative of the City Council of Quincy, to convey to the members of the G. A. R. its best wishes for the success of this noble undertaking. We are too apt, he said, in this busy life of ours, to be proud of results to admire success, and give but little thought to the means by which that end was attained. The citizens of today have the pleasure of gazing upon that banner which floats o'er an undivided country, and to them it is symbolic of heroic struggles in the past, and they are proud of the result of the noble duty performed by those who answered their country's call.

To you, it is not only symbolic of these same true, loyal thoughts, but it means still more, for you treasure in your hearts the ever-living remembrance of the sacrifices made by those who helped achieve the final result. This must always be with you, not simply because you, too, shared in the duty of protecting your country's honor, but as you meet around your camp-fires in good-fellowship you see the daily needs of those who, either by the direct results of their own loyal post, or indirectly, by those who were all in all to them, have a right to that sympathy of the living, to be expressed not merely in words but by deeds. You are ever planning to relieve the distress of those bound to you by a silver link, and willing hands have been busy carrying forward your plans, from which I trust may come that most desired result, to enable the noble work to be carried in the future. An undertaking, inspired by that noble charity to soothe the pathway of life of those who shared, directly or indirectly, in that struggle which gave to us the proud banner of today, deserve, and will, I know, receive the support of those who are proud of your results.

The City Council of Quincy hopes for that success so richly merited, and bid you Godspeed in your noble work.

Department Commander Innis was the next speaker. Once he said he was called upon to plead to the American people to help care for the sick and needy of the Grand Army. Those who heard the promises made in the sixties, would never have believed that it would have been necessary for soldiers to hold fairs annually to raise funds to help needy comrades. But they had gone to the front, and many had contracted disease which prevented them working at their calling. Was it any wonder they were needy. But he would be brief, the purpose of the fair was not to hear speakers, but to purchase the goods displayed. He therefore declared the fair opened in due form.

The Attractions.

The "Centre Table" was presided over by Mrs. John A. Pratt, assisted by Mrs. William A. Field, Mrs. F. P. Loud and Mrs. John Nightingale. It was loaded with fancy articles, including two pretty rockers to be disposed of by chance, one for the nearest guess on the number of pins in a bottle; the other on the length of a string, also in a bottle.

The "West Quincy Table" was in charge of Mrs. E. W. Gourd, Mrs. Lewis Badger, Mrs. Josiah Randlett and Mrs. Maggie McNealy. Here one was offered a doll if he would guess her name, or a feast of candy for the nearest guess as to weight, or a fruit cake for the nearest guess on the length of a tape, or a box of cigars on chance.

The "South Quincy Table" was very attractive. The committee were Mrs. Alice Litchfield, Mrs. C. L. Orne, Mrs. J. D. Williams, Mrs. Eliza Hobart and Mrs. Charles F. Pettingill. Mr. Pettingill declined to accept and the nomination was tendered to Edward Southworth, who also declined. John O. Holden was then nominated and he accepted. Later it was decided to run Mr. Mortor at large, and to fill the vacancy Walter Gray was nominated, and he accepted. The ticket will therefore be Messrs. Bass, Holden and Gray.

The following committee of five selected delegates to the mayoralty convention: Henry F. Faxon, Frank A. Spear, J. O. Williams, W. W. Ewell and Dr. J. A. Gordon. Their report as follows was adopted: John F. Merrill, W. W. Ewell, George O. Langley, E. W. Bass, H. H. Faxon, Wilson Marsh, Joseph C. Morse, John O. Hall, George W. Morton, Theophilus King and Charles A. Howland.

The delegates were empowered to send substitutes, and were instructed to vote for George W. Morton as candidate-at-large.

The following ward committee was chosen for the ensuing year: John F. Merrill, Frank A. Spear, W. W. Ewell, Charles Johnson, E. W. Adams, Wilson Marsh and John McGowan.

Ex-Councilman Shaw was chairman, and Arthur W. Newcomb clerk.

The following nominations were made for Councilmen: Horace O. Souther, John E. Drake and Joseph L. Whiton.

Delegates to Mayoralty convention: Fred H. Smith, George H. Higgins, John Shaw, Thaddeus H. Newcomb, George A. Sidelingier, John R. Graham, William Caldwell and Samuel Crane.

Ex-Councilman Herbert M. Federhen was endorsed for Mayor.

Ward Committee,—John Shaw, John R. Graham, Albert Keating, Joseph W. Hayden, James R. Wild, Arthur W. Newcomb, E. W. Newcomb and Charles E. Very.

Quincy, No. 17, 1890.

Editors of the Ledger:

As you have added my name to the list of available candidates for Mayor of Quincy, please say in the next issue of the LEDGER that I am not a candidate for that office, or any other, and you will oblige.

A. B. PACKARD.

Make

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED),
—BY—

GREEN & PRESCOTT,
115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carriers or Mail.

One month, $.50
Three months, 1.50
Six months, 3.00
One year, 5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one issue, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 30 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Kicking Horse to His Fellow Indians.

Indian Agent McLaughlin has given the Sioux to understand that he will stand no nonsense in regard to the coming of the Messiah. More than a dozen of the red men now live in the guard house for unseemly conduct, and Kicking Horse, who claims to have just returned from heaven, has been ordered to leave the reservation forever.

Kicking Horse claims to have gone to heaven through a hole in the clouds. He is cunning enough to mix Christian doctrine with his prophetic preaching to make it seem real. The Great Spirit told Kicking Horse that his children, the Indians, had suffered long enough, and the time had arrived when they would again occupy the earth so long held by the whites, but they must not kill or molest the whites. The Great Spirit said he himself would wipe out the white race from the face of the earth. The Great Spirit told him the earth was getting full of holes, and many places were rotten.

He would gradually send a wave of earth twenty feet or more over the country. It would move slowly. The Indians must keep dancing, so as to keep on top, and when the wave passed all the whites would be buried underneath and the Indians would be on top. All the dead Indians would be restored to life again, and all the buffaloes, horses, game and all their old hunting grounds would be as they were hundreds of years ago, and the Indians would for all time in the future own and occupy this earth. All Indians who would not listen to the words of the prophet and keep dancing would be turned into fishes and occupy the rivers and streams.

He said that while talking to the Great Spirit the devil came to them. He describes the devil as being very tall, with immense knee joints and monster mouth and long teeth. He was covered all over with coarse hair. He asked for half of the people, meaning the Indians. The Great Spirit told him no. He asked again, and the Great Spirit replied, "You can have none of my chosen Indian children, but you can have all the whites." Standing Rock (N. D.) Cor. Chicago Tribune.

Strawberries in Alaska.

Alaska has usually been looked upon as a bleak and distant section of Uncle Sam's domain, where the land was mostly water, furnishing seals and salmon, while icebergs and glaciers adorned wonderfully picturesque landscapes and waterscapes, the delight of summer tourists who visit that far northern clime to enjoy a few elongated days.

Among the arrivals in this city yesterday was James Cox, who left here for Chilkat a year ago last April with his family, consisting of his wife and three children. Mr. Cox is quite well pleased with the climate where he was stationed, the temperature seldom dropping to 15 degs. below zero and occasioning no inconvenience. He had quite a nice garden last summer, in which he raised fine vegetables—turnips, beets, carrots, onions and potatoes. He says there is an old half-breeding woman at Chilkat mission, a few miles from Chilkat, who has raised potatoes and vegetables for many years past. This last season she experimented with some strawberries, and succeeded in growing some very fine ones.—Astorian.

Drinks from the Slot.

The latest development in the "penny-in-the-slot" system is an automatic coffee tavern now on exhibition at Birmingham. The purchaser drops in his penny and pulls out a knob labeled with the drink desired. Then, by pressing a tap, he is able to draw the exact quantity. There are two plated cups for the use of customers, and a second tap gives a constant supply of water for rinsing. Each reservoir of drink holds seven gallons, and tea and coffee are kept hot by an unseen gas burner. The automaton turns the gas out when the reservoir is exhausted, and displays a notice "Empty" in front. Iced drinks are to be sold through the same machines, which can also be utilized for the sale of sandwiches, pies and cakes—London Tint-Bits.

A lazy boy's shirking of tasks does not often result so well as in the case of W. C. Smith, of Round Pound, who has made application for a patent on a milking machine which promises to be a good thing. He got his ideas when a boy living on the "Meadow Flat Stock farm." His parents would send him to milk and he would want to play ball with the other boys, and as he couldn't play ball and milk both at the same time he would put straws in the cows' teats, and they would milk themselves. Afterward he made improvements on this plan which resulted in the milker—Pemaquid (Me.) Messenger.

THE INDIAN SCARE.

Ghost Dance Making Trouble in North Dakota.

THE EXCITEMENT INCREASING.

White Men Insulted and in Fear of Their Lives—Identity of the "New Messiah" Established—The News Received at Washington.

St. PAUL, Nov. 18.—F. W. Pettigrew, one of the surveyors of the Sioux reservation and now a resident of Fort Pierre, in an interview with the reporter, said the probabilities of an outbreak, said:

"There are serious at the agencies and for the settlers nearby. Were it a different season of the year, trouble would probably occur, but the approach of winter and cold weather will nip an uprising. Indians do not go on the warpath in the winter as a rule. The trouble all comes from the ghost dance. Chasing Crow, an eccentric member of the Humps tribe, is the leader. While out on the first to sign the late treaty, prompted no doubt to do so because he got a nice span of mares, he is one of the meanest Indians on the reservation, and his adherence to the ghost dance is bringing trouble. Kicking Horse is another looney Indian, and is the fellow who left the Pine Ridge agency and travelled from one agency to another with his dances. Agnes Palmer of Cheyenne, had her hands tied and locked up for three months. She was let out on a promise of obedience, but no sooner was she set at liberty than he began the dance again.

"Troops will have a good effect on them, and it will take the presence of troops to break up these dances. Were it springtime trouble would surely follow the present excited condition of the Indians. If the dance continues to grow, these dances and pow-wows are broken up by the Indians will forget all about it by spring. Our people are not much excited, though a few nervous ones will feel better when the soldiers arrive."

Gen. Rugar, in command of the department of Dakota, says he does not anticipate serious trouble. He has been making a special study of the situation for a fortnight, and is doing all he can to prevent trouble. The agencies indicate that the religious craze is on the increase. The Indians are constantly getting more and more excited. They refuse to obey some of the agents, who fear that should any one appear claiming to be the Messiah and tell the Indians that he has been gathering in that all was offered at low enough figures. Baring Bros., the bankers who are now in such bad shape, have been largely interested in Santa Fe holdings, and it is believed by many persons that that stock has been one of the milestones that has dragged them down.

In the Hands of a Receiver.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—An even-tempered paper publishes the following sensational item from Kansas City: It is learned here that Jay Gould has sold his controlling interest in the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. Last week it was announced that one of the Gould boys was admitted to the directory of the Atchison. It is known that last May Gould secured at least one-fourth of the Santa Fe stock, and since that time he has been gathering in that all was offered at low enough figures. Baring Bros., the bankers who are now in such bad shape, have been largely interested in Santa Fe holdings, and it is believed by many persons that that stock has been one of the milestones that has dragged them down.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the diplomatic service, and therefore the greater necessity of making his instructions explicit. To all of these important matters the secretary intends to give his clearest.

The Banking sea difficulties and the fisheries are causing Mr. Blaine a great deal of embarrassment, as England persistently insists upon arbitration in both these matters, while the secretary, on the other hand, as strenuously insists upon keeping the control in his own hands. The president, in his message to congress, will endeavor to closer commercial relations for mutual advantage. He is particularly anxious, therefore, that the instructions which these ministers take with them to their posts shall be comprehensive and complete. He apprehends more difficulty in dealing with Spain than with the American republics. Gen. Grubb, it appears, has never had any experience in the

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER,--TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1890.

Two Thanksgivings.
Within the castle hall,
and of music echoes through the night,
in tapers, clustered on the wall,
at the banquet table bright, year, fair youth and beauty meet and dance to strains of music sweet.
Evening hours around the banquet, there in the gay and festive season;
lovely faces, unaware,
smiles a discontented man:
a life of ease and pleasure's sense
no thanks, no worthy recompence.

The winding road beside the brook, old cottage stands upon the green;
you have seen the little nook of rest yeoman, and his wife have been set hamlet, where the even flow days and summer come and go.

trip of fruitful garden plot limits of their circuit bound;
d and labor is their lot,
or by year, the family gathers round, one sunny child is missing, there calmly bows his head in prayer.

Hayden in Jenness-Miller Magazine.

Hero of a Practical Joke.
A man of about 25 is just now of a select circle of friends in the town of friends, and in peculiar history he quite delivered. Five years ago he was in a bank on a meager salary one time some of the same defends of these days thought it a good joke to pretend he had been robbed, and warn him as suspected. This a number they called him up about midday to give the joke a more appearance. After telling him hours before burglars had $100 in bank notes, they added clues were now on the way to as a suspect.

opened that he had, but two were in the vicinity of the fearful of not being able to it, he gathered his available together and caught an early train for the north. Of course a big row in the vicinity of fellow's home and his funny to leave town. Fortunately fellow was a bachelor, and he equipped. Recently he wrote quaintance here from Canada in replying to the truth about like. Then the young fellow but not as he went away, a parlor car and swelled back. He had gone to Monster the first shock had settled gradually by lucky had grown rich.—Philadelphia.

in the Crimea.
resting results were obtained theological explorations during Crimea during last summer. Vesselovski found paintings in two graves—six skeletons, grave and one in another.
own archaeologist, Professor Breslau, who was present the congress of archaeolo-gists, of opinion that these belong to the original inhabitants of the Crimea, the Cimmerians of It was a usage with them dead on elevated spots so might consume the flesh.
bleached they painted the some mineral pigment, such painted skeletons and in Central Asia, but instances. Only three such en previously found in the essor Grempler proposes to lets with him to Paris, hem at the congress of an-
to be held there during the Session Transcript.

for a Delayed Message.
supreme court of North confirmed the action of the which awarded to J. T. aven County, N. C., $10,000
inst the Western Union company. It is represented Young's wife was taken
S. C. Mr. Young her in that she was sick, and to come to her at once.
the message until six in the meantime Mrs. was buried. Young not her fact till all was over."

Painting.
Nicolai has set Ber-shilting his painting of Pilate. It is said to be large, and the action where is crowded to suffocation.
that it is vastly inferior to
of the same title, concerned, but they ad-power.—Kate Field's dressing grow larger, the scarf pins, as if regu-lizing hand, become simple in design. A plain the circumference of a piece, studded with turred pattern—is very dis-

ing into fashion again, and out of sight of the
the time will come
I feel justified in prothe smoking compare, or in stalking along me, after the fashion of in England.

Minister of war lately of-er the swiftest bird in a neus to Paris, 310 miles.
entries, and the winner in seven hours and
ten.

sight in the atmospherend of cannon has been feet, when Mr. Glaisher er Birmingham heard was being proved there.

of Hart county, Ga., mths old and weighing feet 7 inches long, and as broad as a barn

Today's Anniversaries.

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 18.

in Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Fields and Deaths of the Presid- ents—Incorporation of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

Severe earthquake shock felt in this vicinity.

Private way laid out to quarry of Wil- liam Packard.

World Wide.

Captain of Fort Lee, N. J., by the British.

Justice captured by Cornwallis, and Wash- ington retreated to Trenton, N. J.

Birth of Sir David Wilkie, English painter;

Empire occupied Vienna.

Impose funeral of the duke of Wellington in London.

Emperor, King, who were finally defeated.

French opening the chambers; this date is named by French historians as the beginning of its decline.

Mail service with pigeons established between London and Paris.

Death between this date and Jan. 29, 1871.

Grand Duke Alexis, of Russia, warmly received in New York.

After two days fighting Kars taken by force and wounded: 300 guns and 10,

000 prisoners captured.

Death of George Law, American capitalist;

second time adopted.

Death of ex-President Chester A. Arthur, in

New York, aged 56.

A BARGAIN IN CRABS.

Dr. Tompkins Found Bait Enough

To Fish for Bass All His Life.

I like to do a little black bass fish-now and then," said Dr. Tompkins, of Penn Yan, "but I'm not one of those enthusiastic people who can't get along without it. The other day, though, a trout came in with a fine catch and, I think, the eight of them rather put me in the humor of going out and getting it myself."

"What did you catch 'em with?" I said my friend.

"Crabs," he said.

"We call crawfish 'crabs' in Penn

Yan. I had heard before that crabs were good bait for black bass, and think-that I might get some fun out of them as well as anybody else. I went out to Lake Keuka outlet to bait. I looked around in the creek for three hours turning up stones and slopping about in the water knee deep, and succeeded in capturing five little crabs.

"Well, I said to myself, that isn't a very bad bit of bait to start on a day's fishing with, but I guess I won't have any more getting two or three nice ones, anyway."

King Humbert's railway train, which cost 600,000 lire, was greatly damaged on its trial trip by an explosion of gas.

It was decided at the superior court at Taunton, Mass., in a liquor case that an initial letter does not legally identify a man.

A brave man was struck by a locomotive at Somerville, Mass., while rescuing an intoxicated man from an approaching train.

The jury disagreed in the case of Prize-

Fighters Slavin and McAluliffe in London.

Mrs. Willard is re-elected president of National W. C. T. U.

The secretary of the treasury has appointed Willis T. Emmons, deputy collector of customs at Portland, Me., at a salary of $30,000 per annum.

The plant of the East Florida Land and Produce Co. in Buena Esperanza, Fla., and a large quantity of lumber were lost, $107,000, partly insured.

Mrs. Susan M. Train, daughter of George Francis Train, was married to

Philip Oulbry, at All Soul's church, New York. The bride's father gave her away.

There were several well known people

present.

COULDN'T RAISE THE FUNDS.

North River Bank Will Not Resume Business—Two More Failures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—State Superintendent of Banking Preston stated late yesterday afternoon that it had been definitely decided that the North River bank would not resume business, the directors not being able to raise the funds required.

The creditors of the firm of Mills, Robson & Smith, wrecked by the forgeries of the senior partner, will hold a meeting to-day where the statement of the firm's liabilities and assets will be presented.

These items are now approximately stated

as: Liabilities, $600,000; Assets, $635,000.

Henry Villard is said to have cabled

Decker, Howell & Co., $825,000, but the money came half an hour too late.

Randall & Wierum, stock brokers at 50

Exchange place, have made an assignment to Henry W. Barnes. Mr. Wierum said that their suspension was due to disappointment in obtaining assistance and to the critical sickness of Charles K. Randall, the senior partner. He said the liabilities were not large. The firm had principally business for brokers. Mr. Randall has been ill since the beginning of the year. The firm was formed in 1872.

The firm of Gregory, Ballou & Co., bankers and brokers at 1 New street, have made an assignment to Herbert R. Dis-son.

London Newspapers Join in a Chorus

Denouncing Him—Disaster Off the

Dalmatian Coast—Serious Riot Near

Moscow—Other Foreign News.

PARNELL IS GUILTY,

According to the Judgment of the Court.

HE IS IN A BAD PREDICAMENT.

London Newspapers Join in a Chorus

Denouncing Him—Disaster Off the

Dalmatian Coast—Serious Riot Near

Moscow—Other Foreign News.

FIRE EATERS' TRICK

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Leverett's Store, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
McGowen Bros' Store, Adams Building, Quincy
Grand Opera House, Copeland Street, West Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner
Post Office, Quincy Point
Depot, Wollaston Musical Society, Braintree
Henry B. Vinton, Wollaston Musical Society, Weymouth
M. K. Pratt,

Today's Almanac.—November 18.
High water at 3:15 A. M. and 3:15 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:39; Sets at 4:20.
Moon sets 10:21.
First quarter Nov. 19.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

Five large dwellings are now being erected on the Wollaston Park land.

Nearly all of the pews in the Wollaston Congregational church have been let.

Rehearsal of the Quincy Musical Club at Faxon hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Swedish Lutheran church holds its annual fair in Plumer's hall this week.

Mr. Gustav Bergors has commenced to build a dwelling on Nightingale avenue.

Mr. William A. Hayden's little daughter Bertha who has been quite ill for a fortnight is improving slowly.

The Whatever ten of the Wollaston Circle, King's Daughters, have presented a matress and pillow to the City Hospital.

The Quincy and Boston Street Railway stockholders voted to double the capital stock on Saturday, making it now $100,000.

Mrs. Sarah Marsters and Mr. James Marsters, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are the guests of Mrs. Thomas W. Carter, Quincy Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ferguson of Ward Three are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the arrival of a young daughter.

Dr. P. K. Browne who has had an office in Post Office block, West Quincy, for some time has removed to the residence of Mr.
David McGrath on Willard street.

Miss Maggie Bryan who was burned out in the Foresters' hall fire has taken rooms in Lamb's block, near the Hose House and will be ready for business at once.

We were pleased to meet Jesse, son of Mr. Ira Litchfield, on the street this morning. He has been confined in the house with typhoid fever for the last two months.

The Cavalry Baptist Society of South Quincy is looking for a suitable site on which to erect a church building. This society now holds its meetings in Doubt's hall.

It is required by law that the street with the street number, if any, on which a candidate's resides, shall be added to the name of each candidate on ballots for city officers.

The piano and stove in the Foresters'
hall fire also went through the Willard fire.
The teachers in Foresters' hall were Miss Nellie Fegan assisted by Miss Annie Cahill.

Mr. Alexander Morton of Edwards street, has lately purchased a farm in New Hampshire, and will move there next week. His fine estate will be leased, and has been placed in the real estate agency of George H. Brown & Co.

Certificates of nominations for all city offices must be filed with City Clerk Spear at least eleven days previous to the day of election. Nomination papers may be filed one day later. Objections in either case must be made within 72 hours of the last day fixed.

Miss Ellen E. Thompson gives a literary talk with readings—subject, "Bret Harte," at Christ's church parish house, Elm street, this evening at 7:45. The proceeds go toward the fund of the Circle of Charitable Tens of the King's Daughters, to be used for charitable purposes.

Was it Fred Allen?

A despatch from Kansas City, Mo., reports a freight train of the Kansas City, Wyandotte & Northwestern Railroad to have gone through a bridge over the Kaw river, Monday morning. Among the number dead is Fred Allen, the fireman. Fears are entertained that he may be a Quincy boy who went West a year or two ago, and accepted a position on a railroad, but no intelligence has yet been learned by his relatives here.

Mechanics Fair, Boston.

Two bands will furnish music at the fair this week, and the closing days of the exhibition will be brilliantly attractive. In order to give every possible encouragement to school children to take an "object lesson" by visiting the fair, the managers will, during the remaining two weeks of the exhibition, admit children under 15 years of age for 15 cents. Excursion trains will be run over the various railroads to the city.

The Boston Globe says: "Three months after the Quincy railroad accident, the potent, grave and reverend signors of the Board of Railroad Commissioners make their report, in which they come to the sage conclusion that there should be more stringent regulations in regard to the use of track jacks."

The Massachusetts Teachers' Association will hold its forty-sixth annual meeting in the High School building, Worcester, on Friday and Saturday, Nov.
28 and 29.

WERE THEY LEGAL?
A Question Raised as to the Legality of the Republican Caucuses.

A prominent citizen has discovered that the call for the Republican caucuses was defective. Being called under Chap. 441 of the Acts of 1888, the call should have been designated by name or office, the person who shall call such meeting to order. This it failed to do.

Not content with his own interpretation of the law, the gentleman saw the Secretary of the State this morning, and he said the caucuses were illegal.

Wollaston Musical Society.

The regular meeting of the Wollaston
Young People's Musical Society was held on Monday evening at the residence of Mr.
Frank H. Sprague. The following new members were elected: Mr. W. E. Manning, Mr. Henry O. Westendorp, Miss Mabel L. Battison, Miss Lillie Hill, Miss Louisa Kolb.

The programme was

W. A. MOZART—1756-1791.

Miss Sarah A. Swift.

Sketch of Mozart's life.

Mr. Charles A. Jameson.

1. Overture: "The Magic Flute,"

Miss R. L. Pinkham, Mrs. Chas. T. Baker.

2. Songs: a. "Evening feeling,"

"The Violet,"

Miss Lottie Pfaffman.

3. Quartet: "Ave Verum,"

Mrs. F. B. Sanborn, Miss Leila Pinkham.

Mr. Justin Emery, Mr. Jesse G. Swift.

4. Sonate: No. 16 (Facile) Allegro; Andante;

Rondo, allegretto.

Mr. Arthur C. Sprague.

5. Trio: "Ye once again we come to greet ye" from "The Magic Flute,"

Miss Hattie Lincoln, Lucia Haynes

and Leila Pinkham.

6. a. Menuet favori.

b. Menuet from "Don Juan"—transcribed by Franz Bendel.

Miss Minnie P. Prescott.

7. Overture: "Titus," No. 7, for violin and piano.

Mr. W. M. Wright and Miss Prescott.

8. Songs: a. "Lullaby,"

"Contentment,"

Mrs. Frank B. Sanborn.

9. Menuet—arr. for 6 hands by Theo. Herbert.

Misses Gertrude Sherman, Addie Witham and Helen Foster.

10. Trio: "Call me to remembrance,"

Mrs. Saxe, Miss Lottie Pfaffman and Mr. I. W. Faunce.

11. "L'Addio," (The Farewell.)

Mrs. E. A. King.

12. Songs: a. At the commencement of Spring,"

"Tis well ye birds,"

Miss Lottie Pfaffman.

14. "Sanctus" and "Gloria,"

Mrs. Ralph J. Saxe, Mrs. Geo. Weston,

Mr. W. M. Wright, Mr. I. W. Faunce.

Publishers' Convention.

A convention of marble and granite polishers, sawyers and bed rubbers of the United States opened its session at No. 147 West Thirty-second street, New York, at 9 A. M. Nov. 10, and formed the national organization of the Brotherhood of Marble and Granite Polishers, Sawyers, and Bed Rubbers of the United States. National President, Owen Laughran of New York City; First Vice-President, John Gordon, Quincy, Mass.; Second Vice-President,
Michael McCarthy, Boston; Recording Secretary, Thomas Ryan, New York City; Financial Secretary, Charles H. Roule of Barre, Vt.; and Treasurer, John Beck of Alleghany.

The executive board elected was John Dobbin, New York; Frank McGann, Brooklyn; L. L. Rogers, St. Louis; Michael Sheron, Pittsburgh; Archibald McLane,
Quincy; David Ceely, Barre; William H.
Cushing, Boston.

The object is to get a more uniform rate of wages and the protection and help of each local union.

There was a talk on the evils of piece work and considerable time spent in discussing the question of convict labor and various plans for its suppression. It was decided to appeal to the various legislatures. A constitution and by-laws were adopted.

An effort will be made immediately to form a local union in Quincy. Archibald McLane of the executive board can give the necessary information.

—

Ward 5 Republicans Uniting on Witham.

To the Editors of the Daily Ledger:

There is a great deal of dissatisfaction among the Republicans of Ward 5 over the nomination of Dr. Faxon as a candidate for councilman. A large number of Republicans will vote against him and unite on Mr. Witham, the Democratic nominee for mayor last year. REPUBLICAN.

—

Was it Fred Allen?

A despatch from Kansas City, Mo., reports a freight train of the Kansas City,
Wyandotte & Northwestern Railroad to have gone through a bridge over the Kaw
river, Monday morning. Among the number dead is Fred Allen, the fireman. Fears are entertained that he may be a Quincy
boy who went West a year or two ago, and accepted a position on a railroad, but no intelligence has yet been learned by his relatives here.

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

PROPERTY.

able property of the city, a certain each issue, so that the total of a computed by interested parties. Tax rate per thousand $13.00, L," and the J's to "Joh."

Value.	Tax.
$300	$4 08
300	4 08
250	3 40
125	9 18
300	4 08
1,500	22 44
100	1 38
600	1 38
100	11 52
50	1 38
150	18 56
500	38 76
1,000	450
2,500	1,500
5,000	2,000
500	2,000
2,000	1,550
3,000	350 20
5,000	40 80
300	150
1,200	8 12
100	17 68

VOL. 1. NO. 187.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

BUTTER ! BUTTER !

To the Public that enjoy the Finest Article to be found for Butter, we would say that we have taken the agency for the

KEENE CREAMERY,

which we think will suit every person that will try it. It can be depended upon as always being the same, and can be got fresh from the Creamery every day if desired.

Below is the Card from the Manufacturer:

The Butter manufactured at this Creamery is of the Finest Quality; every process, from milking to the completion of its manufacture, being conducted under strict regulations in regard to cleanliness. It is put up in a neat manner in 1-2 lb. Prints, 5 lb. Boxes, 10, 20, 30, 40 and 50 lb. Tubs.

FOR SALE ONLY BY

ROGERS BROS.

Adams Building, Quincy.

G. A. R. Fair.

NOW OPEN

IN HANCOCK HALL.

ONE WEEK ONLY !

Entertainment and Music
EACH EVENING.

Popular Contests

Among Councilmen for Gold Headed Cane.
Among Members of Relief Corps for Piano Lamp.
Among Members of Sons of Veterans for Gold Watch.

—$—

The Committees are as follows:
Executive,—J. D. Williams, Chairman; I. M. Holt, Secretary; A. W. Gardner, Treasurer.
Reception,—Charles L. Orne.
Entertainment,—W. H. Warner.
Season Tickets,—H. O. Souther.
Refreshments,—G. H. Osborne.
Wheel,—J. S. Farrell and S. D. DeForest.
Confectioner,—O. M. Whittier.
Chances,—Franklin Curtis.
Door Keeper,—M. E. Hanson.

Admission Tickets, - - 25c.
Season Tickets, 50 Cents.
Nov. 11. 12t

BEST IN THE MARKET !

FOR $6.50 CASH
WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.

[FRANK S. PATCH.]

t

DEMOCRATS

Complete Their Ward Nominations.

Also Their Delegations to the Mayoralty Convention.

Witham and Slade are in the Mayoralty Race.

The Democratic nominations and delegations in Wards Three, Five and Six have been published in previous issues of the LEDGER. Last evening the nominations were completed, and also the delegates to the mayoralty convention to be held tomorrow evening in City Hall.

Everett a Candidate in Ward One.

E. Emery Fellows was chairman and Luke J. Coyle secretary of Ward One caucus.

The following nominations were made for Councilmen: William Everett, Samuel H. Spear and Elisha Packard.

The delegates to the Mayoralty convention are: W. A. Hodges, Elisha Packard, John J. Byron, W. A. Metcalf, D. J. McCarty, Fred F. Green, D. Vinton Pierce, Luke J. Coyle, F. A. Dunbar, E. Emery Fellows.

Fred F. Green was endorsed as the choice of the ward for Councilman-at-large.

The following ward committee of eleven was elected for the ensuing year: Sigourney Butler, E. Emery Fellows, Luke J. Coyle, Fred F. Green, John Swifthorn, Walter Wilson, John J. Byron, W. A. Metcalf, D. J. McCarthy, Thos. McDonnell, Geo. W. White.

Ward Two Endorses Slade.

Ward Two made the following nominations:

For Councilmen,—Slias B. Duffield, John C. Ring and J. Francis Hayward.

The following were elected delegates to the Mayoralty convention:—S. B. Duffield, W. H. Sampson, J. C. Ring, George Williams, Jas. Collins, Frank Barnes, Jas. Cleverly and M. T. Sullivan.

Delegates were instructed to vote for James H. Slade for Mayor.

Delegates were allowed to send substitutes.

Contest in Ward Four.

W. T. Shea was chairman and W. D. Burns secretary. There were two tickets in the field. The result of the vote was as follows:

Whole number cast, 215.

William T. Powers, 207.

Daniel C. Little, 173.

Peter T. Fallon, 123.

John Rooney, 104.

Joseph Kennedy, 1.

Messrs. Powers, Little and Fallon were declared nominated.

For school committee for three years, Ambrose F. Roche.

The following list of delegates to the mayoralty convention was then presented and elected: William T. Shea, at large; James F. Burke, John D. Sullivan, Daniel C. Little, Peter T. Fallon, John McGivern, Patrick J. Kelly, Maurice Driscoll, Bernard Donahue, Frank J. Havahan, Thomas Wallace, Frank Folsom, Peter J. Donahue, Martin Garrity, Mathew Lyons, Bernard O'Neil.

Ward committee for the ensuing year: William F. Powers, William D. Burns, James F. Burke, William T. Shea, Daniel C. Little, John W. Burke, Michael F. O'Brien, John H. Rooney, Peter T. Fallon, James A. White, Thomas J. Foley, John E. Burns, Jeremiah J. Lyons, John D. Sullivan, William H. Callahan.

Cape Codders.

It is whispered that Jason G. Witham will again be the Democratic nominee for Mayor, if the Republicans nominate Mr. Fairbanks.

The Ward Two delegation proposes to contest the nomination, however, and have endorsed Councilman Slade of their ward.

The Nationalist Club.

The regular monthly educational meeting of the First Nationalist Club will be held at 98 Boylston street, Boston, tomorrow evening. Mrs. Abby Morton Diaz will deliver the address: Subject, "The Ethics of Nationalism." The public is cordially invited.

Rabbi Solomon Schindler will give a lecture at Tremont Temple, Friday evening, on "Nationalism as a Religion."

William L. Faxon of this city is president of this club and E. S. Huntington, secretary.

Literary Talks.

One hundred or more ladies and gentlemen passed an hour very pleasantly and profitably Tuesday evening in the Parish House of Christ's Church. It was a literary talk with readings by Miss Ellen E. Thompson on "Bret Harte." An interest was awakened in literary work, and the course of five talks on American authors to follow will doubtless be well attended. They will be in Mrs. Follett's parlor, 12 School street on Monday afternoons from 5 to 6. Particulars may be obtained of Miss C. F. Spear.

THE SECOND NIGHT.

Increased Attendance at the Grand Army Fair—The Entertainment.

Last evening was favorable for a large attendance at the Grand Army fair, and Hancock hall was uncomfortably crowded from the time the doors opened.

The entertainment was furnished under the direction of the Woman's Relief Corps, and consisted of some fine readings by Mrs. M. E. Knowles, the department president; piano solo by G. P. Williamson, and selections by the Nilsson quartette of Weymouth. The quartette was composed of Eva L. Baker, first soprano; Ida F. Orr, second soprano; M. Abbie Rogers, first alto; Lizzie W. Cushing, second alto. Their selections were beautifully rendered.

The Popular Contests.

The management of the fair make a mistake in not announcing daily the standing of the candidates in the popular contests. Were this done they would be much more interesting and the financial return would be larger. Those pushing their favorites need not make complete returns daily but use their own judgment. The DAILY LEDGER will publish the standing each day without charge if the management adopt the suggestion. Books are now out for the following persons:

Among councilmen for the gold-headed cane—Roger H. Wilde, Henry O. Fairbanks, John R. Graham, Fred F. Green and James F. Burke.

Among members of the Relief Corps for the piano lamp—Miss M. L. Furnald, Mrs. Charles Batson, Mrs. Edgerton and Mrs. F. L. Souther.

Among Sons of Veterans for the gold watch—Bert Leavitt, W. G. Clubbuck, Arthur O. Allen and Isaac Jones.

The entertainment this evening will consist of songs by John Daley, cornet solos by Julius Koch, duets by the Misses Garrity, club swinging by John McGovern and banjo solos by Edward Martyn.

An Impostor.

Look out for a very stylish appearing young man, apparently twenty-three years old, neatly dressed, of dark complexion and very agreeable manner, who has one hand bandaged claiming that it has been cut off. He is an impostor and sneak thief. Tuesday afternoon he called at the residence of Mr. Charles W. Jones, Wollaston. Mrs. Jones and Miss Jones were up stairs at the time. Miss Jones met him at the door and inquired who he wished to see. He asked for Mrs. Jones and said that Mr. Horace G. Lewis would like to see her, he was invited to be seated in the parlor until she could be called. He stated to her that he had lost his hand in an accident and showed a letter purported to have been written by a Boston doctor stating that he was in needy circumstances and also a list of names of people who had given him money.

It was discovered, after he had taken his departure, that he had stolen a pair of gold mounted opera glasses, marked—A. W. Peaks.

Brockton and Quincy.

In Quincy, letters of withdrawal as candidates for mayor seem to be in order. In marked contrast to this is the situation in Brockton, where men push themselves forward. Here is a letter:

BROCKTON, Nov. 17, 1890.

To the Citizens of Brockton:

After mature consideration, and by the earnest solicitation of many voters of both the Republican and Democratic parties, I have consented to be a candidate for mayor of the city of Brockton, and, if elected, shall be mayor of the whole city, and not of any part or fraction. Respectfully,

L. H. HARRIS.

Fairbanks or Federhen.

The nominee of the Republicans for Mayor, is still in doubt. Friends of both Mr. Fairbanks and Mr. Federhen, claim that their candidate has the majority of the delegates chosen, but an impartial observer believes the claims of Mr. Fairbanks' friends are the most reliable, and that he is sure of the nomination.

Republicans generally will be satisfied with either. The campaign has been a friendly one, and both gentlemen would ably fill the position if elected.

Witham or Slade.

It is whispered that Jason G. Witham will again be the Democratic nominee for Mayor, if the Republicans nominate Mr. Fairbanks.

The Ward Two delegation proposes to contest the nomination, however, and have endorsed Councilman Slade of their ward.

The Nationalist Club.

The regular monthly educational meeting of the First Nationalist Club will be held at 98 Boylston street, Boston, tomorrow evening. Mrs. Abby Morton Diaz will deliver the address: Subject, "The Ethics of Nationalism." The public is cordially invited.

Rabbi Solomon Schindler will give a lecture at Tremont Temple, Friday evening, on "Nationalism as a Religion."

William L. Faxon of this city is president of this club and E. S. Huntington, secretary.

Literary Talks.

One hundred or more ladies and gentlemen passed an hour very pleasantly and profitably Tuesday evening in the Parish House of Christ's Church. It was a literary talk with readings by Miss Ellen E. Thompson on "Bret Harte." An interest was awakened in literary work, and the course of five talks on American authors to follow will doubtless be well attended. They will be in Mrs. Follett's parlor, 12 School street on Monday afternoons from 5 to 6. Particulars may be obtained of Miss C. F. Spear.

NEW CALLS.

Republicans to Hold New Caucuses.

Don't Think the Point Raised
Was Well Taken.

But They Wish to Avoid Any Possible Contest.

President Merrill, of the Republican City Committee, immediately investigated, yesterday, the point raised as to the legality of the Republican caucuses held Monday night, in that it was alleged that the calls did not state who should call the caucuses to order. He reached the conclusion that the point raised was not well taken; that the calls were signed by the chairman of the ward committee and the rules of the Republican City Committee provided that the caucuses should be called to order by the chairman of the ward committees.

Among councilmen for the gold-headed cane—Roger H. Wilde, Henry O. Fairbanks, John R. Graham, Fred F. Green and James F. Burke.

Among members of the Relief Corps for the piano lamp—Miss M. L. Furnald, Mrs. Charles Batson, Mrs. Edgerton and Mrs. F. L. Souther.

Among Sons of Veterans for the gold watch—Bert Leavitt, W. G. Clubbuck, Arthur O. Allen and Isaac Jones.

The entertainment this evening will consist of songs by John Daley, cornet solos by Julius Koch, duets by the Misses Garrity, club swinging by John McGovern and banjo solos by Edward Martyn.

An Impostor.

Look out for a very stylish appearing young man, apparently twenty-three years old, neatly dressed, of dark complexion and very agreeable manner, who has one hand bandaged claiming that it has been cut off. He is an impostor and sneak thief. Tuesday afternoon he called at the residence of Mr. Charles W. Jones, Wollaston. Mrs. Jones and Miss Jones were up stairs at the time. Miss Jones met him at the door and inquired who he wished to see. He asked for Mrs. Jones and said that Mr. Horace G. Lewis would like to see her, he was invited to be seated in the parlor until she could be called. He stated to her that he had lost his hand in an accident and showed a letter purported to have been written by a Boston doctor stating that he was in needy circumstances and also a list of names of people who had given him money.

It was discovered, after he had taken his departure, that he had stolen a pair of gold mounted opera glasses, marked—A. W. Peaks.

Brockton and Quincy.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)—BY—
GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carriers or Mail.
One month, $ 2.00
Three months, 1.50
Six months, 3.00
One year, 5.00
CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents each insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

The Man with a Patent.

There were only half a dozen people in the palace car all day long, and after dinner, when the man who had been sleeping and reading in seat No. 12 came over to me for a chat, I welcomed him with open arms. He said his name was Saunders, and that he had a patent or improvement on some part of a locomotive. He was going through to Cincinnati to have it perfected or adopted there. Three deaths attributed to a supposed cure.

He had been in partnership with a mean man—a man who had tried to swindle him out of a fortune. To get even he had stolen the patent and run away. He had it with him in a valise. That was all he said just then, but later on he confided to me the fact that at a town about thirty miles away this wicked partner of his might possibly be on hand to board the train and attempt to wrest the treasure from his keeping. He wanted my advice, and I offered to take charge of the valise. He thanked me with great enthusiasm, and as we approached the town he shut himself into the smoking compartment.

As the train drew up I saw an old acquaintance on the platform, and while we were talking a posse was hunting the train for my friend. They didn't find him, as he had dropped off and struck out for the country. I went on to Cincinnati, taking his valise along, and although I was there four days he didn't show up. I arranged to leave it with the landlord, and it was carried to the office to be opened by a meddlesome clerk.

Instead of a profit it contained wedges, drills, a brace, fuse and other neat little devices for successfully working a burglar's job, and it cost me two days of the hardest kind of talk to satisfy the chief of police that I wasn't in it. I had ridden over 100 miles with a full fledged burglar, and one who had made his mark, and I must say he was a better talker and more of a gentleman than any governor I ever met.—New York Sun.

With a Corpse Bleed?

Formerly there was a popular belief in a widespread superstition that the corpse of a murdered person would bleed afresh from the wounds that had caused death did the murderer touch it or even allow his eyes to rest upon it.

The belief is shown to have been universally established in Scotland as late as 1665. In that year one Philip Standfield was arrested for the murder of a person who had been buried several days. Although the man had lain in the grave almost a fortnight, Sir George Mackenzie, the crown counsel, caused the body to be exhumed and brought into open court to apply what people thought would be the test of Standfield's guilt or innocence. The sworn deposition of several witnesses is as follows:

"God Almighty himself was pleased to bear a share in the testimonies which we produced. That divine power which makes the blood circulate during life has oftentimes, in all countries, opened a passage for it after death upon such occasions. After the wounds had been sewed up, and the body designedly shaken up and down—and, which is most wonderful, after the body had been buried several days, which naturally causes the blood to congeal—upon the removal of the surgeon who were there to witness the event, Standfield, astonished more than they, threw down the body, crying, 'Oh, God! Oh, God!' and, cleaning his hands, grew so faint that the doctors had to give him a cordial."—St Louis Republic.

Mixed in Her Lines.

A friend's little 4-year-old daughter went to Sunday school a few Sundays ago, and was very much impressed by the exercises. She remembered bits of some of the hymns, and for some days never tired of singing them over and over again. She was a trifle irregular in some of her "lines," however; one well known hymn began:

There's a land that is fair by day,

And by faith we may see at night.

Her father, who is a Wall street man, but a good churchman withal, hopes she is mistaken.—New York Star.

One of our Ford farmers was so anxious to get his cotton picked that after riding around the neighborhood several times hunting for nuts without success he went to a negro camp meeting and appealed to them in many ways, but without success. At last he went up to be prayed for, put a nickel in the mission box, and afterward got plenty of pickers.—Orangeburg (S. C.) Enterprise.

It has been suggested that the study of the influence of diet and habit upon the color of hair in different nations of men may cause discoveries by which the color of the hair in the human race may be modified by judicious treatment.

DR.

Koch's Discovery.

Foreign Doctors Attend a Lecture and View Living Illustrations—Vienna Physicians Rather Critical.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—Professor Gorhardt expects to meet here later this month a number of foreign doctors, exhibiting some cases in illustration. The first was a case of aggravated disease of the throat. The patient received an injection Monday of two milligrams of the lymph. Yesterday there was a decided reaction and a cure is expected. The second was a case of phthisis, in which the treatment had already been attended with marked success. In the third, the treatment was applied in a means of diagnosis, and as no reaction followed, Professor Gorhardt assumed that the patient was free from tuberculosis. In the course of a lecture Professor Gorhardt warned his hearers against the idea that Koch's treatment merely required the injection of the lymph to drive out the disease.

Professor Koch is charged over the re-appearance of lupus in a patient reported as cured. This is the only instance, however, of the return of the disease after a supposed cure.

Room for Doubt.

VIENNA, Nov. 19.—Doctors who have returned from Berlin express doubts as to the radical cure of lupus by Koch's treatment. They say that in some of the cases declared to be cured, suspicious looking pustules were seen breaking out afresh near the cicatrized wounds. The leading Austrian specialists warn the faculty against over-estimating the efficacy of Koch's method. They affirm that up to now no permanent cure has been effected. They also think it possible that the strong reaction of the remedy on diseased tissues may prove dangerous to weak lungs and interfere with respiration. Three deaths attributed to a good faith in the treatment.

STANLEY AND JAMESON.

Editor Quilter Claims to Have Made a Startling Discovery.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Mr. Quilter, editor of the Universal Review, has an article in that publication on the Stanley controversy which has attracted much attention.

Mr. Quilter says he is especially informed that Jameson's party sent private letters warning him to burn his papers, and that his death, and that the box after being sealed up by Bonny, was confined to Stanley.

Instead of forwarding the box to Jameson's family, Stanley broke the seals, opened the box and retained the papers in his possession, only parting with them after repeated applications including a letter from a lawyer acting for Jameson's family. The family commanded legal proceedings, whereupon Stanley delivered the papers to the care of the Ottomans, and from them were received by the family.

Stanley made extracts from the diary before handing it over to the Ottoman bank. Mr. Quilter traces the origin of the stories against Bartelot and Jameson to Bonny, who, he says, acted as bearer general to the camp.

Stanley, he declares, would never have dared to make such statements unless he had been assured that Bonny would confirm them. Bonny, he says, was paid a thousand dollars by the government.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Bishop William Taylor speaks highly of Stanley's conduct in Africa.

Feather-eight Johnny Griffin defeated Barney Hubbard in tea rounds.

Proceedings have begun to wind up the North River bank of New York.

The Toronto University club holds the football championship of Canada.

President Prince of the Players' league says that organization is all right.

The steamer La Normandie arrived in New York with smallpox on board.

Burglars in Allegan, Mich., chloroformed a man and his wife and robbed them.

Senator Morrill says that two years will vindicate the Republican position on the tariff.

Henry M. Stanley lectured before a large and distinguished audience in Boston Music Hall.

A monster protest against the prosecution of the Jews is to be published in St. Petersburg.

Much damage to railway property was caused by the derailing of a stock train at Hooksett, N. H.

A document has been discovered showing that the name of "Crispus Attucks" was Michael Johnson.

A verdict of not guilty was rendered in the case of the Biddeford, Me., aldermen charged with conspiracy.

Adjt.-Gen. Dalton is to retain his present position in the Massachusetts militia under Governor Russell.

A monster protest against the prosecution of the Jews is to be published in St. Petersburg.

Six persons were killed and sixteen injured in a fight between opposing members of a church in B. S. B. Transylvanian.

The British steamer Venetian, which sailed from Liverpool for Boston, Nov. 12, has sustained damage and returned to Liverpool.

Rev. Simon Rompiere, for many years connected with the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Boston, died at Boston.

Methodist bishops selected Cleaveland as the next meeting place of the missionary committee, and adopted resolutions calling for $1,250,000 for the year 1891.

Capt. John Hagar of Concord, N. H., who formerly commanded the famous Concord Light Infantry, in which Franklin Pierce served as a private, is dead.

Old Statehouse in Nebraska shows the election of Boyd, D. B., as governor, and the rest of the Republicans ticket.

The financial condition in Buenos Ayres is now calmer. Semi-official journals now declare that the indications point to the success of the negotiations for a new loan.

Rev. Fr. Papin, who is said to have been a French nobleman and a cousin of Count of Chambord, died at St. Vincent's Hospital, New York.

The sugar refinery situated on Ponte Pavia, Manzanilla, Houma, La., was destroyed by John T. Davis, who claims to be his husband. Davis ran away, but was caught. Davis is supposed to be crazy. Miss Price said that she did not even know him by sight.

It has been suggested that the study of the color of hair in different nations of men may cause discoveries by which the color of the hair in the human race may be modified by judicious treatment.

ALL ABOUT INDIANS.

Conflicting Reports of the Situation in the Northwest.

MANDAN IS NOT THREATENED

According to the Story of an Army Officer, While Another Report Says That Settlers' Lives are in Danger—Trouble at Pine Ridge Agency.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 19.—Professor Gorhardt expects to meet here later this month a number of foreign doctors, exhibiting some cases in illustration. The first was a case of aggravated disease of the throat. The patient received an injection Monday of two milligrams of the lymph. Yesterday there was a decided reaction and a cure is expected. The second was a case of phthisis, in which the treatment had already been attended with marked success.

In the third, the treatment was applied in a means of diagnosis, and as no reaction followed, Professor Gorhardt assumed that the patient was free from tuberculosis.

In the course of a lecture Professor Gorhardt warned his hearers against the idea that Koch's treatment merely required the injection of the lymph to drive out the disease.

Professor Koch is charged over the re-appearance of lupus in a patient reported as cured.

This is the only instance, however, of the return of the disease after a supposed cure.

Room for Doubt.

VIENNA, Nov. 19.—Doctors who have returned from Berlin express doubts as to the radical cure of lupus by Koch's treatment. The Indians located nearest to Mandan are about thirty-five miles away on the Cannon Ball river. They are thrifty, industrious, peaceable people, who have been known as builders and traders, own cattle, horses and wagons and are in good circumstances.

They are Christianized Indians, having no faith in aboriginal superstitions and disliking this new Messiah craze, for they say that it interferes with the progress of the people; and every year these Indians sell hundreds of thousands of pounds of beef to Standing Rock agency, receiving not only a good price therefor, but also some of the beef in return as rations.

Now, you can't convince me that people who live in huts, stock, cattle, wagons, crops and revenue are at all anxious to go to war. And yet, these are the ones to whom the people of Mandan have sent scouts.

The Indians say that the whites are to be destroyed, but the Indians are not afraid of them.

And when I say that the Indians are not afraid of them, I mean that the Indians are not afraid of the whites, but the Indians are to be hit above it until it passes over. This ghost dance, too, is a harmless affair, being equivalent to Christian communion, that is, a preparatory ceremony through which the participants aim to perfect themselves before the coming of the master.

The band from which any real outbreaks are anticipated is headed by Uncle Tom, who is situated somewhere near of Sterling Rock. Like all leaders, he is very wily, and if the promised Messiah does not arrive in the spring, he will probably tell his people that the whites are using their influence to keep him back, and that the best way to aid him will be to kill some of the pale faces. However, in the event of the extreme emergency the troops will be fully equal to the occasion.

The arrival of the Dakota and the Plateau being close together since the March, when we first heard of this craze, two companies of militia have been camped south of Pine Ridge, and others on the Tongue river and elsewhere, so that it will be impossible for the Indians to mass at any one point.

It must be taken into account that some of the agents are new men, unused to the Indians, who delight in frightening those whom they can affect by a glance or a gesture. Older men would pay no attention to it.

SETTLERS FLEEING FOR SAFETY.

Depradations Being Committed by Redskins at the Pine Ridge Agency.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 19.—A Chardon Neb., to the Tribune says: It is reported here that the Indians at the Pine Ridge Agency, Dak., are now entirely beyond the control of the agent there and have already begun depredations in the way of stealing cattle and other property. Three hundred soldiers from Fort Robinson passed through here on their way to the scene of excitement and it is said that there would be 2000 troops on hand by to-morrow.

A flatboat spoke to The Tribune says: A flatboat, which was to have been a train from West End country and to Biomarck for safety. At Glendale, forty miles west, citizens turned out en masse, throwing up circular breastworks by moonlight, large enough to get into for protection.

A supply of rifles was sent to the station by mail.

A monster protest against the prosecution of the Jews is to be published in St. Petersburg.

Much damage to railway property was caused by the derailing of a stock train at Hooksett, N. H.

A document has been discovered showing that the name of "Crispus Attucks" was Michael Johnson.

A verdict of not guilty was rendered in the case of the Biddeford, Me., aldermen charged with conspiracy.

Adjt.-Gen. Dalton is to retain his present position in the Massachusetts militia under Governor Russell.

A monster protest against the prosecution of the Jews is to be published in St. Petersburg.

Six persons were killed and sixteen injured in a fight between opposing members of a church in B. S. B. Transylvanian.

The British steamer Venetian, which sailed from Liverpool for Boston, Nov. 12, has sustained damage and returned to Liverpool.

Rev. Simon Rompiere, for many years connected with the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Boston, died at Boston.

Methodist bishops selected Cleaveland as the next meeting place of the missionary committee, and adopted resolutions calling for $1,250,000 for the year 1891.

Capt. John Hagar of Concord, N. H., who formerly commanded the famous Concord Light Infantry, in which Franklin Pierce served as a private, is dead.

Old Statehouse in Nebraska shows the election of Boyd, D. B., as governor, and the rest of the Republicans ticket.

The financial condition in Buenos Ayres is now calmer. Semi-official journals now declare that the indications point to the success of the negotiations for a new loan.

Rev. Fr. Papin, who is said to have been a French nobleman and a cousin of Count of Chambord, died at St. Vincent's Hospital, New York.

The sugar refinery situated on Ponte Pavia, Manzanilla, Houma, La., was destroyed by John T. Davis, who claims to be his husband. Davis ran away, but was caught. Davis is supposed to be crazy. Miss Price said that she did not even know him by sight.

It has been suggested that the study of the color of hair in different nations of men may cause discoveries by which the color of the hair in the human race may be modified by judicious treatment.

ONCE UPON A TIME.

OMAHA, Nov. 19.—Troops from Fort

Robinson, Fort Niobrara, Neb., and a pack train from Fort Russell, Wyo., have been ordered out to hold the Indians in check at the Pine Ridge and Rosebud agencies on the Dakota frontier. The troops at Fort Niobrara and Robinson, which is not far from the scene of the difficulty, will march to-day.

ONCE UPON A TIME.

OMAHA, Nov. 19.—Troops from Fort

Robinson, Fort Niobrara, Neb., and a pack train from Fort Russell, Wyo., have been ordered out to hold the Indians in check at the Pine Ridge and Rosebud agencies on the Dakota frontier. The troops at Fort Niobrara and Robinson, which is not far from the scene of the difficulty, will march to-day.

ONCE UPON A TIME.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
South's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros. Store, Plummer's Block, Quincy
Orson's Store, Copeland Street, Weymouth
Miss Belcher's Store, Jones Corner
Post Office, Quince Point
Depot, Wollaston House, Braintree
Rt. 1, R. Vinton, Weymouth
M. K. Pratt.

Today's Almanac—November 19.

High water at 4:15 A. M. and 4:30 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:40; Sets at 4:18.
Moon sets 11:36.
First quarter Nov. 19.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

Mr. William Corbett has been ill for the past few days.

Mr. Ole Nelson is building a large dwelling house on Buckley street, Ward 4.

Prof. Banta's dancing school gives a reception and ball at Faxon hall this evening.

Mrs. Sherman of Dorchester is building a fine residence near Sailor's Home, in Wollaston.

Mr. Anton Carlson is having a dwelling built by M. W. Frolund on Hillside avenue, in West Quincy.

Mrs. Rufus Foster and Miss Mary Foster, leave this afternoon for an extended trip through the insurance companies.

Charles C. Hearn, the West Quincy druggist who was burned out, has settled with the insurance companies.

Friday evening Nov. 28 will be ladies' night with Merry Mount Lodge, K. of H.
Members with lady friends are invited to attend.

A young lady about sixteen years old,
who is a good reader and writes a fair hand, can hear of a pleasant situation by calling at this office.

It is probable that Representative Quincy of this city will be the Democratic candidate for speaker of the House of Representatives.

Republicans and Democrats hold their municipal conventions tomorrow evening, the former in the Durgin & Merrill block and the latter in the Ward Room, City Hall.

The Registrars will meet this evening and Saturday afternoon and evening to add names to the voting lists. Registration for the city election will close Saturday at 10 P. M.

The large tract of land on Centre street, near Granite street owned by the Nightingale heirs, has been cut up into house lots.
Plans can be seen at George H. Brown &
Co.'s real estate agency.

The Wollaston Co-operative Bank at its meeting Tuesday evening, sold $1,100 at 5 cents, $500 at 10 cents and $400 at 20 cents premium, and has only a few shares in the present series left.

Work has commenced on a new wing to John E. Drake's shoe manufactory on Barter street, which it is hoped to be completed in three weeks. It will be 30x60 and three stories high, and when equipped it is the intention to nearly double the capacity of the factory. They now make about 900 pairs a day, but expect to make 1500 pairs.

The third rehearsal of the Quincy Musical Club was held at Faxon Hall last evening.
Owing to the absence of Mr. Dudley Hall,
the accompanist, Mr. Frank C. Gilbert officiated at the piano. Two new members were admitted to the chorus; and the Club invites all musical persons to join either the active or associate membership.

The new residence of Mr. Alvin W.
Polk, on Beach street, Wollaston Park; was the scene of a pleasant occasion on Monday evening. A party of about thirty young people from Boston took possession of the house, and tendered congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Polk on the completion of their new house; bringing with them expressions of friendship in the shape of two large easy chairs.

The Boston Journal says, "The facts brought out in the report of the Railway Commission upon the Quincy disaster, as to the inadequate equipment of our roads in the matter of improved brakes upon passenger cars and engines, are somewhat startling, and should cause an early reform in this particular. This defect is one that puts in peril a great many human lives."

SALE OF THE BOSTON PILOT. Mr.
Patrick Donahue, editor of Donahue's Magazine, has purchased the Boston Pilot.
He will take control at once. It is stated that he will hold two-thirds of the stock when the paper is capitalized and the remainder will be held by friends. Mr.
O'Reilly's death left the paper on the archbishop's hands, and the object for which he had taken it—to make Mr. O'Reilly its editor, having been obtained, he thought best to dispose of the property.—Boston Globe.

Antonia de Navarro, better known as Mary Anderson's husband, has come into a legacy of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, left him by the late Francis Dykes, of New York. That I just like some girls' luck.

The children of great and good men are often mischievous and ungrateful, but it is seldom that a youngster makes such a family break as has Major McKinley's little Bill.

CALIFORNIA GRAPES.
THEY ARE GROWN IN NEARLY EVERY PART OF THE STATE.

Skirts. Skirts.

SKIRTS.

ALL PRICES FROM

39c. to $2.00.

Cotton Skirts and Skirt
Patterns.

Wool Skirts and Skirt Patterns.

Satin Skirts in a large variety.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.,

ADAMS BUILDING.

Cardigan Jackets,
LEATHER JACKETS,

Blanket Lined.

Reefer Vests,

A full line at the

Granite Clothing Co.'s.

DO YOU WANT

A DRESS SHOE, buy N.
CURTIS & CO.'S
Patent Leather, Congress or Bal.
SAVILLE & JONES.

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY

ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,

In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,

Oct. 25.

AS HERETOFORE.

ff

Special Bargains

IN

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers

AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,

94 Hancock Street, - - Tirrell's Block.

GENTS'S SHOES from LADIES' SHOES from CHILDREN'S SHOES from

James O'Donovan.

Nov. 8.

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

MUST be higher, as the pack is small. We are receiving a large variety of NEW CANNED GOODS of all kinds, which we shall sell at present at last year's prices.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY,

Durgin & Merrill's Block.

Quincy, Sept. 24.

FLANDERS' TONIC

Tones up the Stomach. Makes the Brain Active.

Purify your Blood with Flanders' Tonic. That Tired Feeling will be Unknown to those who use it.

A Boon to Overworked Men and Women!

If your Children are ailing, "no appetite," languid and without Strength, Flanders' Tonic will build them up.

TRY IT! TAKE NO OTHER!

A Combination of Malt Calisaya and Hypophosphites.
Tonic and Stimulant.

Guaranteed by all Druggists.

$1.00. Six Bottles for $5.00.

FLANDERS' MANDRAKE PILLS beats
them all. Price 25 Cents.

Physicians endorse it. Ask your druggist for it; if he cannot supply you, send direct to us. We prepay express charges upon receipt of price. Made only by

WONDERFUL

IN ITS

MAKE-UP!

Flanders' Tonic Co., Woburn, Mass., U. S. A.

THE SECRET MOURNER.

They bore him on to his grave in the heart of the busy town; And with fifteen footmen following I watched him lay him down; The mourners, many and sad—though they wept there one and all, The tears that fell were as naught to mine, that could not fall.

We loved each other dearly, in a day that is distant now; But something got to his ear, and he suddenly closed somehow— A something got to his ear, I never could gather what— And he kept away from thence, and his love for me was not.

I hid my grief in my heart, and bore it as best I might; There was never darkness yet but had some relieving light; And I used a ball in the thought that, although his love was gone, I could follow him secretly, and in secret still love him.

And this I've done through the years that have come and gone since then (So far the love of women surpasses the love of men); I've hung on his track to the last, for I only ceased today, And from his grave in the town I turned in my woes away.

Earth now looks lone in my eyes, yet I am not all I have firm faith that at last I shall somewhere grasp Love's crown! That when the end shall have come, whatever is good and true Will receive its just reward, and a love like mine will.

—James Dawson.

Glycerine as a Wool Preservative.

In order to make wool tissues water proof manufacturers have to expose the fabrics to temperatures as high as 266 to 284 degs. Fahrenheit, and it has been found that the tissue thus treated loses all its resistance. Up to 230 degs. there is no change in wool or woolen goods, but when heated to 266 degs. or above both turn yellow and show evidences of combustion. By a series of experiments
Mr. J. Perzog, an eminent French analytical chemist, has discovered a new process by means of which wool threads and fabrics may be made to retain their durability and original resistance under high temperature during the process of manufacture.

Acting upon the established fact that glycerine greatly prevents evaporation of humidity, Mr. Perzog saturated some woolen fabrics with a solution containing 10 per cent. of glycerine, and exposed them to high temperatures. The fabrics thus treated showed not the slightest change under a temperature of 284 degs. Fahrenheit, and they retained 18 per cent. of the glycerine. The discovery of this simple principle removes one of the greatest difficulties with which manufacturers of waterproof fabrics have had to contend.—Philadelphia Record.

About Torpedo Boats.

The next most important thing to speed in a torpedo boat is the quick turning, and for this purpose the larger Normand, Schicane and Yarrow boats have two rudders, one in the usual place at the stern and one under the bow.
Mr. Thornycroft has another device.
He puts two curved rudders near the stern and the propeller is between them, so that when the rudders are turned together, the water which the propeller is driving astern is turned a little to one side and helps to push around the boat.

The latest idea in torpedo boats is to have their launching tubes mounted on turn tables on deck instead of being fixed in the bow. With this improvement a boat will not have to steam straight at her enemy, stop, launch its torpedo and then run away; but it can train its tube on the big ship as if the tube were a gun, and launch the torpedo while rushing past at full speed.
This would be less dangerous for the torpedo boat, for it would not afford the men on the ship a good aim at her.—
John M. Ellicott, U. S. N., in St. Nicholas.

An Odd Coincidence.

An old friend (call him W.) relates how, while he was in Florida, his watch stopped. Since it was a very good watch and had never stopped before, and had been duly wound the evening before, W. was much surprised that it wouldn't go. By the head of the house (call him B.) came in. "Will you please give me the time?" said W. "Certainly," said B., and pulled out his watch. B. had a timpiece which was entirely trustworthy, not given to irregularities of any kind. He pulled it out of his pocket. "By Jove!" he exclaimed.
"My watch is stopped; that's queer."

They compared the two watches, and they had stopped at the same hour and at the same minute, and why they had stopped neither man was able to discover.—Boston Transcript.

A Clever Youngster.

Little Kitty Clover is the most brazen of beggars.

"Grandma, will you please lend me your gold beads?" she asked, for perhaps the seventh time that week.

Grandma patiently took them from the drawer, and said, with her usual mildness, as she gave them to the child:

"Try not to ask for them any oftener than you can help, Kitty."

"No'm," said Kitty, adding, as a clever solution of the difficulty occurred to her, "If you don't like to lend 'em, grandma, you could give 'em to me and then I needn't ask!"—Youth's Companion.

First Settlers of Virginia.

Dr. Stephen B. Weeks, of Johns Hopkins university, has made a special study of the early Virginia settlements under Sir Walter Raleigh. He maintains that it can be shown by legendary and historical evidence that the earliest English settlers in the New World were not massacred, as is generally supposed, but were absorbed by the tribe of Croatan Indians, and their descendants are still to be found in North Carolina.— Baltimore American.

Misnamed.

"Misfit photographs for sale!" is written up over the door of a certain photographer's. Why "misfits"? One might be more inclined to set them down as mis-takes!—Judy.

QUINCY'S TAXABLE PROPERTY.

Below is given another instalment of the list of taxable property of the city, a certain part of a letter for each Ward being published in each issue, so that the total of a person having property in each of the Wards may be computed by interested parties.
The poll tax is included in the amount of the tax. Tax rate per thousand $13.00.
Today's list concludes all whose surname begins with "J."

WARD ONE.

	Value.	Tax.
Jones, Dorothy C. House on North common, Land, three-fourths acre,	$700
Jones, George J. Stock in trade,	400	$14.96
Jones, Horse and carriage,	800
Jones, House,

PROPERTY.

le property of the city, a certain ch issue, so that the total of a computed by interested parties.
Tax rate per thousand $18.00.

Value.	TAX.
$700	$14.96
400	8.04
800	12.04
200	4.04
2,900	58.04
2,500	50.04
1,100	22.04
1,600	32.04
800	16.04
900	18.04
400	8.04
150	3.04
500	10.04
150	3.04

Value.	TAX.
1,500	30.00
250	5.00
2,000	51.00

Value.	TAX.
600	8.16
1,000	19.08
300	19.08
400	27.88
1,700	41.44
300	41.44
500	41.44
1,350	78.75
700	27.88
1,800	88.22
500	33.96
100	2.00
4,000	8.16
200	2.00
875	2.00
1,400	2.00
500	2.00
1,600	2.00
900	2.00
1,700	2.00
1,500	2.00
500	2.00
700	2.00
150	2.00
95	2.00
500	2.00
2,000	2.00
1,000	2.00
3,000	2.00
1,500	102.00
200	2.72
1,100	30.56
1,000	2.00
750	18.70

Value.	TAX.
500	14.28
250	14.28
300	14.28
300	32.64
1,000	21.04
400	21.04

Value.	TAX.
2,400	46.88
600	46.88
1,700	46.88
1,350	43.48
250	3.40
2,000	38.08
800	38.08
1,600	38.08
900	38.08
1,250	20.74

Value.	TAX.
500	14.28
250	14.28
300	14.28
300	32.64
1,000	21.04
400	21.04

Value.	TAX.
2,400	46.88
600	46.88
1,700	46.88
1,350	43.48
250	3.40
2,000	38.08
800	38.08
1,600	38.08
900	38.08
1,250	20.74

Value.	TAX.
500	14.28
250	14.28
300	14.28
300	32.64
1,000	21.04
400	21.04

Value.	TAX.
2,400	46.88
600	46.88
1,700	46.88
1,350	43.48
250	3.40
2,000	38.08
800	38.08
1,600	38.08
900	38.08
1,250	20.74

Value.	TAX.
500	14.28
250	14.28
300	14.28
300	32.64
1,000	21.04
400	21.04

Value.	TAX.
2,400	46.88
600	46.88
1,700	46.88
1,350	43.48
250	3.40
2,000	38.08
800	38.08
1,600	38.08
900	38.08
1,250	20.74

Value.	TAX.
500	14.28
250	14.28
300	14.28
300	32.64
1,000	21.04
400	21.04

Value.	TAX.
2,400	46.88
600	46.88
1,700	46.88
1,350	43.48
250	3.40
2,000	38.08
800	38.08
1,600	38.08
900	38.08
1,250	20.74

Value.	TAX.
500	14.28
250	14.28
300	14.28
300	32.64
1,000	21.04
400	21.04

Value.	TAX.
2,400	46.88
600	46.88
1,700	46.88
1,350	43.48
250	3.40
2,000	38.08
800	38.08
1,600	38.08
900	38.08
1,250	20.74

Value.	TAX.
500	14.28
250	14.28
300	14.28
300	32.64
1,000	21.04
400	21.04

Value.	TAX.

<tbl_r cells="2" ix="5"

Today's Anniversaries.

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 20.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Fields—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts' Cities and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

1844—Methodist Church, corner Chestnut and Canal streets, dedicated.

World Wide.

1822—Edward I. of England, crowned.
1845—Passage to the East Indies by the Cape of Good Hope discovered by Vasco de Gama.
1850—Birth of Thomas Chatterton, English poet; soon died.

1856—Death at Blackstock's, S. C., of a section riot at Paris; several persons killed.

1861—Death of Lord Elgin, ex-governor general of Canada and India.

1863—The English government declined the French Emperor's proposal for a congress of Europe.

1869—The national palace and government archives in San Salvador destroyed by fire.

FULL OF PERIL.

As a Gouging Adventure in a Gold Mine.

That Shaft Scarred Two Men.

About as tight a place as I ever got into and a Comstock miner, was some years ago at the old Empire shaft, Gold Hill. Myself and another man were down in the shaft for the purpose of trimming it up, as the swelling ground was squeezing the sides and it was a good deal out of shape.

We were not on a cage, but simply on a platform of planks, with ropes going from the corners to the main cable, which was of hemp. When we reached a tight place in the shaft we stopped and trimmed out the guides, then went on till another such place was reached.

At one point, having given the signal to lower, we went down some distance, when we finally stuck. We reached for the bell rope to give the signal to stop, but we found that it had wound round a nail some distance above, and we could not use it. The engineer knew nothing about the engine, but continued to lower away. There was no station near, and on all sides rose the smooth walls of the shaft, leaving us suspended over the terrible chasm.

Dawn upon us came the heavy cable. We feared every moment that the platform would turn over or would be pressed through the tight place and drop from under us. All we could do was to get hold of the cable and keep the coils of it under our feet as it came down. Should the platform turn over or drop from under us we might be able to save our lives by hanging on to the cable.

We shouted up the shaft till we were hoarse, but no one heard our cries, and steadily down came the cable, causing great trouble to keep on top of its coils. We felt that the great weight must soon start the platform, when both would most likely be hurled to the bottom of the shaft.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

Finally, to our great relief, the cable ceased to descend. For a long time we waited in suspense, not knowing what would be the next move of those above. At last, however, we heard the voice of a man shouting down to us from the nearest station above. We explained our perilous position in a few words, and at length the great cable began to crawl slowly up the shaft again. Still, being afraid the platform would give way, we were obliged to hold to the rope and dare about on the coils as they unwound.

It was a tedious business, and was all the time the matter of the toss of a cent whether we got out alive or went to the bottom; but at last the platform tightened up under us and we began to ascend. Our work was over then and we felt safe. On arrival at the surface we found that the engineer had concluded that we were going too far, and halting or stopping his engine had sent a man down to the station to find out if anything had gone wrong.

I may have been in more dangerous places in the mines, but was never in a place where the danger lasted so long, and the time up to fever heat. Still, being afraid the platform would give way, we were obliged to hold to the rope and dare about on the coils as they unwound.

It was a tedious business, and was all the time the matter of the toss of a cent

whether we got out alive or went to the bottom; but at last the platform tightened up under us and we began to ascend. Our work was over then and we felt safe. On arrival at the surface we found that the engineer had concluded that we were going too far, and halting or stopping his engine had sent a man down to the station to find out if anything had gone wrong.

Section 4. The board shall be hereby authorized to make rules and regulations for the management and for the management of its affairs not inconsistent with law, subject to the approval of the secretary of the treasury.

Section 5. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

RULES OF THE ROAD.

Marine Board for Their Enforcement Proposed.

MERCHANT MARINE INTERESTS

Will Be Greatly Advanced by the Adoption of a Bill Submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury—Secretary Winslow on the Financial Situation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The committee appointed by the secretary of the treasury, under date of Oct. 11 last, to consider and report the views upon the suggestions of the United States delegates to the International Marine conference, concerning the "establishment of a board to have charge and general superintendence of matters relating to merchant vessels and seamen," have made a report, in which they say:

It is proposed to state that, so far as your committee are aware, the bill, as now prepared and submitted to you, meets the requirements of the maritime interests concerned, with particular reference to the marine board. The committee believe that the establishment of a marine board will be of advantage in facilitating the business of the department, and as well for the advancement of the interests of the merchant marine.

The following draft of a bill is submitted:

A bill to establish a marine board for the advancement of the interests of the marine.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled: That there shall be in the department of the navy a marine board under the direction of the secretary of the treasury. The marine board shall consist of one of the assistant secretaries of the treasury, who shall be ex-officio chairman of the board, and designated by the secretary of the treasury, and two other members, who shall be ex-officio members.

The chairman of the lighthouse board, the supervising inspector general of steam vessels, the surgeon general of the marine hospital service, the captain of the life-saving service, the commissioner of navigation, the superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey, the chief hydrographer of the navy, the chief of the bureau of the census, and receiver of any addition or continuation by reason of any services performed under the act, but shall receive mileage at the rate of 5 cents per mile when traveling under official orders.

Section 2. The marine board shall meet for the purpose of transacting business within sixty days from the passage of this act, and thereafter it shall meet on the first Tuesday of January, April, July and October of each year and at such other times as the secretary of the treasury shall direct, for joint consultation and recommendation to the secretary of the treasury for presentation by him to congress of any changes in existing laws or enactment of new ones, for the protection of the interests of the government and the benefit and improvement of the merchant marine of the United States, or for the relief of the merchant marine from any harsh or injurious treatment of any foreign government, and for the transaction of any other business that may properly come before it.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application, grant hearings relative to any of the above matters, and persons, except political matters, may appear and give evidence in the hearing, repairing and navigation of vessels, the authorized representatives of any organized bodies connected therewith, and any other persons who may be interested in marine or naval affairs, their statements in writing, or may, upon its own instance, take the examination of any such persons upon any of said matters.

The board shall upon application,

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Ledger Office, 116 Hancock Street, Quincy
Souter's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros.' Store, Plummer's Block, Quincy
Foster's Store, Copeland Street, West Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner, Quincy Point
Post Office, Wollaston, Braintree
Depot, Longfellow, Vinton, Weymouth
Mr. K. Pratt,

Today's Almanac.—November 20.
High water at 5.15 A. M. and 5.30 P. M.
Sun rises at 6.41; sets at 4.18.
Moon sets 12.01 A. M.
Full Moon Nov. 26.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by Ledger Reporters.

Who?

Witham or Slade?

Fairbanks or Federer?

Today is among the coldest thus far this season.

James W. Pierce has been granted a pension.

Will Ward Five or Ward Two get the nominations?

Mr. O. F. Hammock lost a very valuable horse yesterday.

The warrants for the city election will be posted this week.

Both Republicans and Democrats hold Mayoralty conventions this evening.

Mr. Peter Reinhalter, of Pennsylvania, is in West Quincy on a business trip.

All nominations by caucuses or convention must be filed with City Clerk Spear tomorrow.

The platform on the east side of the station at Wollaston is being extended toward the north.

Work has begun on a new house on the estate of the late Thomas F. Hinkley, at Atlantic.

A telegram from Kansas City, announces Fred Allen of West Quincy to be safe. He was not in the accident.

The engagement of Mr. W. L. Dewson, of this city, and Miss Whitmarsh, of Neponset, is announced.

John Hall has hung two very handsome signs at his establishment on Hancock street.

Emond & Boutin is the name of the new firm which purchased the grocery of Emond Bros., on Copeland street.

Miss Florence G. Roberts of Wollaston entertained a number of her friends with a whist party, on Wednesday evening.

George H. Brown & Co., real estate agents, have sold for the Nightingale heirs 6000 feet of land on Nightingale avenue to Mrs. Jane S. Knowling.

Congressman Morse gave an interesting lecture in the Methodist church course at Wollaston last evening; subject:—"Our great National incubus."

The Ladies' Benevolent Society had a bean supper and entertainment at the Memorial church, Atlantic, Wednesday evening. The latter was in charge of Mrs. Bemis.

The advance guard on the Hancock street improvement, has nearly reached the Neponset bridge, and the pavers are nearly to Atlantic street, but none of the mile gone over, is finished.

Several Quincy Odd Fellows who have taken the encampment degree attended the special session and exemplification of the Grand Encampment at Boston, Wednesday.

John H. McGovern, who has carried on the shoe business in West Quincy for a number of years, sold out his stock to Boston parties yesterday, and will go West shortly.

The Board of Registrars have added 33 names to the voting list since the State election, holding meetings Saturday evening and last evening. Eleven have previously been Quincy voters, while 22 are new.

The rooms in Post Office block, West Quincy, occupied as a shoe store and barber shop are to be vacated, and will then be used as a school to accommodate the scholars of the school which was burned out on Sunday morning.

It is rather a queer coincidence that the gentleman who is chairman of the Republican City Committee, and who was responsible for the error in calling the caucuses, was a member of the Legislature which enacted the caucus act.

The Social Club of First church has organized for the coming season with the following Committee: Jas. H. Slade, President; James F. Harlow, Treasurer; Miss C. C. Faxon, Secretary; Mrs. Eben Stanwood, Mrs. James H. Slade, Mrs. J. G. Moore, Mr. Henry Eaton and Charles H. Porter, Jr., Dr. S. N. Hunting.

Mamma—"Sit down, Willie. Do you hear me?" (Five minutes elapse.) "Willie Jones, if you don't sit up you may leave the table!"

There are 206,749 railroad bridges in the United States, spanning 3218 miles.

A pair of bantam chickens were sold at the London Crystal Palace for $500, which was almost twice their weight in gold.

Prof. Banta's Reception.

The pupils of Prof. J. Jay Banta gave their first reception and ball Wednesday evening in Faxon hall, and it was a very enjoyable party. The grand march was led by the professor and Miss Mary E. Griffin. Fifteen numbers and extras followed, including the polka glide, or toe and toe, Detroit, Lanciers and others. These were interspersed with fancy exhibition dancing. Miss Ida Templeton appeared in a Highland fling, hornpipe, and Spanish dance, in each of which her movement was easy and in perfect time. Prof. Banta gave his famous medley of ball room steps in his own inimitable style, and afterwards the Irish reel on sand.

Four pieces of Union Park orchestra furnished music. About forty couples participated in the dancing.

West Quincy Post Office.

List of advertised letters Nov. 19.
William F. Barrett, Ernest Eaton,
M. T. Buckley, Mrs. Farnsworth,
E. A. Boyle, Emma Fitzgerald,
John Broggan, Gertrude Gardner,
Edward Connor, Jeannie Guerne,
Peter Casimiro, Annie George,
Francisco Cirro, Michael Sullivan,
Miss Connors, Mrs. C. Sexton, Andrea Caron, August Thorstenson,
James Conley, Lizzie Tibbitts, Michael Dunn, John Vester, Michael Donagan, John White,
J. G. Dunn,

W. P. Nutting, P. M.

Institute and Gymnasium.

The dedication of the new People's Institute and Gymnasium at Weymouth, took place Wednesday evening, in the vestry of the Union church. William H. Baldwin, president of the Young Men's Christian Union, made an address, and there were remarks by other gentlemen. A class from the Cambridge gymnasium gave a drill. Sup't Lyons furnished supper to the guests.

The Bridgewater Independent tells the following singular circumstances: "A local sensation was developed in New Bedford recently by the announcement that a frog had been removed from Mrs. Abbie Taylor's stomach. The woman seen by a reporter said that Dr. Matthew Travers had removed the frog from her stomach. Mrs. Taylor for the past eight years had a ravenous appetite and at times had been very sick. She has been on the point of submitting to an operation several times and at last consented. She said she must have drunk the frog in the water over eight years ago. The frog is exhibited at the woman's house and many callers have been received. The frog had the appearance of a dried up toad and was partially decayed.

In speaking of German Koch's method of inoculation for consumption, the New Bedford Standard says: "If it proves a success, he will have a thousand patients to one for the hydrophobic cure of the French Pasteur, and will have conferred a boon on humanity such as it has never yet received. Jenner's discovery is the nearest approach to it that has yet been made.

The German Emperor has given him half a million marks, and will have the remedy utilized in his army at once. There is, it is to be hoped, no patent medicine business about this. The whole world should be willing to contribute to enrich the discoverer. He is not far better entitled to a hundred million dollars than a Vanderbilt or a Rockefeller?

"What is it, little girl?" said a Dearborn-street grocer to a five-year-old miss, as he leaned over the counter.

Little girl—"Mamma sent me for a lamp chimney, and she hopes it will be as strong as that last butter you sent us."

In a discussion lately carried on in Europe as to the distance at which large objects can be seen on the surface of the earth, it was stated that the Himalaya mountains have appeared to view from the great distance of 224 miles, and Mount Blanc 210 miles.

The Department of Massachusetts of the Grand Army has made a net gain of 800 comrades during the last quarter.

MARRIED.

LEMIEUX—READY—In St. John's church, Quincy, Nov. 19, by Rev. F. A. Friguetti, Mr. Tellis Lemieux to Miss Mary O'Donovan, aged 17 days.

MORRISON—In Braintree, Nov. 20th, Norma Grace, daughter of Mr. Fred G. and Mrs. Anna I. Morrison, aged 2 years, 1 month and 4 days.

CUSHING—In Braintree, Nov. 19, Mrs. Fannie C., wife of Mr. Cyrus Cushing, aged 76 years and 6 months.

DIED.

ODONOVAN—In Quincy, Nov. 19th, Mary, daughter of Mr. John and Mrs. Mary O'Donovan, aged 17 days.

MORRISON—In Braintree, Nov. 20th, Norma Grace, daughter of Mr. Fred G. and Mrs. Anna I. Morrison, aged 2 years, 1 month and 4 days.

CUSHING—In Braintree, Nov. 19, Mrs. Fannie C., wife of Mr. Cyrus Cushing, aged 76 years and 6 months.

NOTICE.

THERE will be a special meeting of Paul Revere Post Saturday Evening, Nov. 22d, at 6.45 sharp, at Hancock Hall. All comrades are requested to be present.

For order of D. WILLIAMS, Commander. [OFFICIAL] I. M. HOLZ, Adjutant. Quincy, Nov. 20.

1t

G. A. R. FAIR.

Great Attraction!

WOOD SAWING MATCH

BETWEEN

Four Members of the Post

TONIGHT!

Quincy, Nov. 20.

14

G. A. R. NOTICE.

Commander Williams of Paul Revere Post requests that contestants for the Gold Headed Cane, Piano Lamp and Gold Watch at the Grand Army Fair, make a return of vote each evening to Franklin Curtis, the committee in charge.

BUTTER ! BUTTER !

To the Public that enjoy the Finest Article to be found for Butter, we would say that we have taken the agency for the

KEENE CREAMERY,

which we think will suit every person that will try it. It can be depended upon as always being the same, and can be got fresh from the Creamery every day if desired.

Below is the Card from the Manufacturer:

The Butter manufactured at this Creamery is of the Finest Quality; every process, from milking to the completion of its manufacture, being conducted under strict regulations in regard to cleanliness. It is put up in a neat manner in 1-2 lb. Prints, 5 lb. Boxes, 10, 20, 30, 40 and 50 lb. Tubs.

FOR SALE ONLY BY

ROGERS BROS.

Adams Building, Quincy.

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY

ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,

In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages, AS HERETOFORE. Oct. 25.

1t

Quincy Co-operative Society.

W. F. COLBY, Manager.

Groceries, Provisions, Fish and Oysters

AT BOTTOM PRICES.

CROWN CREAMERY BUTTER,

The Best in the Market.

FRANKLIN STREET, - - QUINCY.

Nov. 10.

QUINCY CITY EXCHANGE.

CORRESPONDENCE OF

JOHN STETSON COMPANY.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

IN ADAMS BUILDING.

STOCKS, GRAIN and PETROLEUM.

TELEPHONE 9-8.

OFFICE HOURS FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

NEW WORLD'S WONDERS.

FABLED SEVEN THROWN INTO OBSCURITY IN COMPARISON.

Scores of the Creations of Modern Times Surpass Any or All of the Wonders of the Ancients—Some of America's Remarkable Achievements.

Compared with the seven wonders of the world classified by the ancients there are seven times seven wonders now. The fabled Colossus of Rhodes, the Alexandrian lighthouse, the hanging gardens of Babylon, sink into insignificance beside the achievements of modern times. The Colossus of Rhodes was, in all probability, a myth, while the Bartholdi statue is an accomplished fact, and undoubtedly equal in point of achievement to any of the seven wonders of the ancients, not even exceeding the pyramids.

As a matter of fact, the real wonders of the world, albeit they have ceased for the most part to be wonders by reason of familiarity, represent inventions rather than engineering and architectural skill; the railway, the steamboat, the photograph, the telescope and the self-binding reader are in themselves wonders of which the Egyptians and the Greeks never dreamed. But in the line of engineering skill, which was the most prominent feature of the original seven wonders, there are so many proud triumphs that it is by no means an easy matter to name the foremost seven.

THE MODERN LIST.

The list comprises the Forth bridge, in Scotland; New York's underground aqueduct, which is thirty miles long, on an average 150 feet underground, and cut through rock; the Eiffel tower; the Brooklyn bridge; the St. Gothard tunnel, between Switzerland and Italy, begun at a height of 1,340 feet, and cut for nine and one-half miles through the solid rock; the improvements at Hell Gate, and the jetties at the mouth of the Mississippi. It is easy to take exceptions to this list.

There are probably few intelligent people who will not dispute the claims of some one or other of these achievements. The Eiffel tower, for example, lofty as it is, should scarcely be permitted to crowd out the Suez canal, and the engineering feat of removing the obstructions at Hell Gate is hardly to be compared with the building of the Pacific railroads. The Siberian railroad also is entitled to dispute the claim of some of the wonders in the list, while the Bartholdi statue is scarcely to be crowded out, not only for its colossal proportions, but by reason of the skill required to produce the results aimed at. There are several cantilever bridges also, some one of which is likely to suggest itself to engineers as having good grounds for disputing the place in the list of seven.

To many unfamiliar with the problem to be solved it may seem as if the jetties of the Mississippi were hardly entitled to a place in the list. There are no mighty buttresses of stone, no marvelous structures by human hands to arrest attention—only lines of willow basket work, filled with mud and gravel and sunk in the river channel. But we see what has been accomplished by such simple means suggested by the genius of Capt. Eads.

SIMPLE BUT WONDERFUL. Here is the problem: A river necessary to the inland commerce of a continent, whose waters continually bear vast quantities of sand and gravel toward the sea. A cubic mile of solid earth, it has been estimated, is thus borne down by the Mississippi every year. When the stream met the waters of the gulf the current was checked by the inflowing tide, and a great burden of earthy matter was deposited, while the river spread out over a great extent of territory. Navigation was rendered uncertain and dangerous, and millions of dollars expended in dredging brought no practical results. The river could beat the United States government in a contest waged on that line.

Then came Capt. Eads with a proposition to gather the willows along the shores, make them into crates or mattresses, fill them with mud and gravel, place them in parallel lines where a channel was wanted, and set the river to do its own digging by means of a quick-set current. That was the basis of the jetty system, which has more than doubled the depth of the channel at the mouth of the most important river on the globe.

The waters continued to deposit sand and gravel between the jetties and the shores, the willows sprouted and grew, and thus solid banks of earth were formed and protected by trees. It is only necessary to extend the line of willow baskets from time to time as occasion demands in order to carry the channel still further into the gulf. The jetty system is a grand triumph of simplicity, but fairly entitled by reason of the results obtained to be reckoned among the leading seven wonders of the world.—Frank Leslie's Monthly.

The Last Resource. Mrs. Brown—I'm afraid I'm only encouraging my husband to smoke by making him a present of this box of cigars.

Cobwigger—Not at all. If that doesn't cure him nothing will.—Munsey's Weekly.

Hedgehogs are occasionally cannibalistic, the larger ones, when hard up for dinner, chasing the smaller at a wonderful rate, and devouring them without mercy when caught and conquered.

QUINCY'S TAXABLE PROPERTY.

Below is given another instalment of the list of taxable property of the city, a certain part of a letter for each Ward being published in each issue, so that the total of a person having property in each of the Wards may be computed by interested parties. The poll tax is included in the amount of the tax. Tax rate per thousand $13.50. Today's list includes all whose surname begins with "Kx" or "Ke."

WARD ONE.

To Whom Taxed.	Value.	Tax.</

E PROPERTY.

taxable property of the city, a certain amount in each issue, so that the total of a tax rate per thousand $13.60.

"Ka" or "Ke."

Value. Tax.

$700
100	$10.88
100	1.36
150	2.04
2,500

500

100

600

200

1,800

77.52

250

75

1,700

200

1,000 45.86

1,000 45.86

200 16.32

400

400

50

1,800

1,000

300

100

5,000 125.08

900

2,600 49.60

1,000

300 19.68

1,000 700 23.12

650

300 14.92

3,500

1,600 71.36

500

800 17.68

1,200

150 18.36

950

400 18.36

1,300

150 25.16

1,400

400 24.48

1,200

250 21.72

50

1,600 25.84

350 4.70

500

400

600 26.48

1,100

450 21.08

1,100

1,000

600 52.32

100 1.36

1,200 29.20

1,000

700 23.12

250 5.40

400

150 9.48

700

250 12.92

75

300

600 15.26

500

1,000 20.40

900 14.24

300 4.08

600 14.24

450 6.12

900

2,200 42.84

50

250 4.08

200

100 4.08

2,550

1,200 51.00

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 188.

QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

G. A. R. Fair.

NOW OPEN

IN HANCOCK HALL.

SS

ONE WEEK ONLY!

Entertainment and Music
EACH EVENING.

Popular Contests

Among Councilmen for Gold Headed Cane.
Among Members of Relief Corps for Piano Lamp.
Among Members of Sons of Veterans for Gold Watch.

SS

The Committees are as follows:

Executive,—J. D. Williams, Chairman; I. M. Holt, Secretary; A. W. Gardner, Treasurer.
Reception,—Charles L. Orne.
Entertainment,—W. H. Warner.
Season Tickets,—H. O. Souther.
Refreshments,—G. H. Osborne.
Wheel,—J. S. Farrell and S. D. DeForest.
Confectioner,—O. M. Whittier.
Chances,—Franklin Curtis.
Door Keeper,—M. E. Hanson.

Admission Tickets, - - 25c.
Season Tickets, 50 Cents.

Nov. 11.

H. O. FAIRBANKS

Nominated for Mayor
by Republicans.

Had a Good Majority on the First Ballot.

A Strong Ticket Nominated for Councilmen-at-large.

The Candidate Summoned—He Accepts
in a Very Neat Speech.

The delegates to the Republican Mayoralty convention Thursday evening, did not have the appearance of struggling for a "lost cause." It was a gathering of citizens who were full of hope for the success of the ticket they should nominate.

The convention was called to order by John F. Merrill, the President of the Republican City Committee, who was elected chairman. In accepting the position, he said he always considered it an honor to preside at a Republican gathering. He was sanguine of party success at the polls, if every Republican did his duty. The organization was completed by the choice of Mr. Wendell G. Corliss as secretary.

Upon motion, the chair appointed the following committee on credentials: Henry H. Faxon, Charles A. Faxon and George H. Field. The committee reported a full delegation of 50 as follows:

Ward One, 11 delegates.
Ward Two, 8 "
Ward Three, 11 "
Ward Four, 7 "
Ward Five, 9 "
Ward Six, 4 "

Report accepted and adopted.

It was voted on motion of G. H. Field to proceed to an informal ballot for Mayor.

George A. Litchfield presented the name of Henry O. Fairbanks as a candidate, and spoke highly of him.

George H. Higgins placed in nomination Herbert M. Federhen, believing him a man able and worthy of the responsible position. He possessed to an eminent degree all the qualities so essential in a Mayor. He has served the people in many public trusts and has tried and not found wanting.

Messrs. John R. Graham, Sylvester Brown and Wilson Marsh were appointed a committee to receive, sort and count the ballots. The result of the informal ballot was:

Number of votes cast, 50
James Thompson had 1
Herbert M. Federhen 19
Henry O. Fairbanks 30

Upon motion of John Shaw the ballot was made formal and the chairman declared Mr. Henry O. Fairbanks the nominee for Mayor.

Daniel McGrath moved that the custom in the past be followed in the selection of candidates for Councilmen-at-large, that is, one each from the wards outside that from which the Mayor was selected, and it was so voted.

Mr. McGrath then moved to nominate the Councilmen-at-large by acclamation.

Henry H. Faxon and Theophilus King opposed believing in a ballot.

J. Q. A. Field thought each ward caucus or delegation had selected a candidate, and it was safe to nominate by acclamation.

At the suggestion of the chair, Mr. McGrath withdrew his motion that the wards might present their selections.

The following were presented by the respective delegations:

Ward One,—George W. Morton.
Ward Two,—Thaddeus H. Newcomb.
Ward Three,—Frederick L. Jones.
Ward Four,—Charles L. Hammond.
Ward Six,—Roger H. Wilde,

Upon motion of G. A. Litchfield of Ward Five, the above gentlemen were unanimously nominated by acclamation by a rising vote as candidates for Councilmen-at-large.

For candidate for School Committee at large for three years Sylvester Brown was unanimously renominated upon motion of W. G. Corliss.

A collection was taken to defray campaign expenses, and while this was in progress a committee went in search of candidate Fairbanks. He was found and introduced to the delegates as the next Mayor of Quincy. [Cheers.]

Mr. Fairbanks said he duly appreciated the honor which the convention had conferred on him, and he fully realized the many responsibilities which devolved upon his office. It was his belief that the city should be conducted strictly as a business corporation, and every citizen was entitled to the full return of his money. Should the nomination be ratified at the polls, he should endeavor to faithfully, conscientiously and conservatively administer public affairs. [Hearty applause.]

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT.

A Pleasing Entertainment Presented at the Quincy Point Church.

The complimentary concert given by Messrs. F. E. and H. T. Drake for the benefit of the Washington Street Congregational church, on Thursday evening, was a great success.

Quincy offered numerous attractions in the way of entertainment. The attendance at the church was, however, large, and the audience a most appreciative one. The selection of talent of such high order reflects most creditably upon these two gentlemen. The following named artists appeared: Mrs. Effie Rhines, pianist; Mrs. Eva Baker, soprano; Miss Alice L. Murdoch, elocutionist; Mr. Julius Eichler, violinist; Mr. W. E. Arnold, baritone, and the Coolidge Quartette: Miss I. B. Kittridge, soprano; Miss M. W. Litchfield, 2d soprano; Miss C. G. Souther, 1st alto; Miss L. M. Newcomb, 2d alto; Suppli.

Brightly the Sunlight, Mrs. Baker.

Reading, Selected

The Two Roses, Werner

Quartette, Shuman

Suite for Piano (a. Benedictus, Mr. Arnold, & Violin, b. Mazurka, Mr. Eichler)

The Two Grenadiers, Watson

INTERMISSION, De Beriot

Reading, Miss Murdoch.

The Spanish Gypsy, Mrs. Baker.

Fantasia, Mr. Eichler.

Palm Branches, Faure

When Evening's Twilight, J. L. Hatton

Quartette.

Mrs. Baker, who has once before favored a point audience, was warmly received and her selections were greatly appreciated.

Miss Murdoch's recitations were given in excellent style and with great expression.

Her manners were pleasing and she fairly captivated the audience.

Mr. Eichler is a member of the Symphonies orchestra. He handled the violin in a masterly manner and his selections were listened to with much pleasure.

Mr. Arnold sang with much expression, power and sweetness of tone. His rendering of "The Two Grenadiers" brought a round of applause.

Members of the ladies' quartette sang together for the first time and received many compliments. The selection, "The Two Roses," brought them a hearty encore.

Considerable discussion ensued upon motion that the ballot be made formal, and it was finally decided to proceed to a formal ballot. Messrs. Shea and Green withdrew as candidates. The ballot resulted as follows:

Number of votes cast, 54

F. F. Green, 2

W. T. Shea, 8

J. H. Slade, 12

Jason G. Witham, 32

Considerable discussion ensued upon motion that the ballot be made formal, and it was finally decided to proceed to a formal ballot. Messrs. Shea and Green withdrew as candidates. The ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes cast, 54

J. H. Slade had 2

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)

BY —

GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.

Short advertisements, such as lost, found, wanted, etc., 25 cents; short, not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.

Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Wealthy Women Beggars.

Several weeks ago two plainly dressed middle aged women appeared on the streets here as mendicants. Both had accordions, from which they pumped the most doleful specimens of harmony imaginable, and to the accompaniment they sang in high, cracked voices. With characteristic American carelessness, the crowds contributed nickels and pennies by scores and the women reaped a liberal harvest.

Among the hundreds who saw the women here was a lady who recognized them. "I have seen them in New York, in Portland, Ore., and in Salt Lake City," she said. "They go to Salt Lake City every year to look after valuable property they have there. The truth is, I am told, they are wealthy. They saved several thousand dollars from their street earnings and invested the sum in real estate in Salt Lake City. Then the boom came on there and in a few months the women were rich. Now they have valuable investments in various cities, and their business judgement seems excellent. The great bulk of their wealth is in Utah, however, and their property there is growing more valuable every day.

"The women like their old profession of harping to the public, and stick to it as industriously as ever. They make a surprisingly large income from it and save a great deal every year, which goes to swell their investments. The possibility of these women following mendicancy as a profession, and prospering at it, is a striking comment on the unthinking, unquestioning generosity of the American people." — Indianapolis News.

Doesn't Give Lease Now.

"The giving of leases to all sorts of tenants is not so prevalent as it used to be," a real estate agent said. "Experience has shown that a tenant whose financial responsibility is limited to a moderate income cannot be held to the provisions of a lease, and that most tenants take advantage of this fact. The law of this state favors the married debtor who has no property but his household effects and is dependent on an income for his living. In fact, the owners of houses and flats rarely sue tenants who break their leases nowadays, and rarely recover anything when they do."

"I sued a man recently who had occupied one of my flats and had given it up a year before the lease expired. He did not even defend the suit. When I had him summoned in supplementary proceedings he testified that his income no more than paid his living expenses, and that his household effects belonged to his wife. He was released, and now I can whistle to recover my judgment. As a rule tenants want leases, but we don't give them if we can avoid doing so with ordinary apartments. We have come to the conclusion that only the owners are bound by the provisions of the leases, while the tenants do as they please about observing them." — New York Sun.

England's Taste in Smoking.

The English cigars are made of American tobacco, but fail in manipulation according to our standard. They look bright and "wooden" rather than like a natural leaf product. When cigars were introduced into England they all came from Cuba, and this being before the days of steam the goods were five or six weeks in transit, packed in the vessel's hold with no ventilation. The cigars being made in a humid climate, packed while fresh, fermented and generated a fungus (like mites in cheese), which tasted very bitter when smoked, utterly destroying their value. It was then discovered that by subjecting the cigars to the dry heat of a kiln the life of the fungus was destroyed and the cigar became smokable.

It is owing to this fact that the English insist on "dry" cigars to the present day, and pinch them to see if they crackle before they buy them. The cigar dealers knowing this mark a date on the bottom of cigar boxes when fresh stock is received, but the date marked is six months back, so a box marked Oct. 1, 1889, would be received by the dealer April 1, 1890.—New York Telegram.

A Magnetic Separator.

Among the numerous magnetic separators one of the most remarkable is that for the extraction of iron from the sea sand. It is stated that ordinary sea sand contains from 5 to 7 per cent. of iron, enough to give a large excess over cost of extraction. The machine consists of a cylinder, whose surface is composed of electro-magnets, revolving on the inside of an endless canvas belt. The sand is fed to the belt, and a spray of water separates the particles, the iron being retained by the powerful electro-magnets and carried off on the belt to a receptacle at the other end, while the sand falls into the trough below.—Exchange.

WANTED TO MAKE A FORTUNE.
Boston Man Duped by an Advertiser
Who Made Big Promises.

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—An advertisement was recently published in some of the Boston papers, announcing that an honest man who could "invest $400 and services as working partner" in a high-class "turner's shop" would receive a salary of $65 per week. Charles S. Fliske answered the advertisement, and was invited to call upon James McGrath at 266 Washington street. He says McGrath claimed to be the manufacturer of patent ink erasers, silver polish 'and toe the powder.

By his book of which was shown to Fliske there seemed to be a profit of fully ten times in the business. To show further that he did a big business, it is alleged that several agents called to leave "orders." So influenced Fliske that he paid McGrath $400 and went into the business. The first day he received orders for goods to the extent of $50 from the supposed agents, but after that he got none. Fliske succeeded in recovering all $50.

Arlon W. Sloane, 266 Washington street, recovered $150. Soon after he became acquainted with Fliske, and they had McGrath arrested. In the possession of McGrath was found a book with five names, including those of Fliske and Sloane, and it showed that in all he had secured $120. The prisoner is about 35 years old. He refuses to say anything, except that he was employed by Rand, Avery & Co. for seven years.

WILL SUE THE GOVERNMENT.
A Condition and Decision on Which the Cherokee Strip Association Relies.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21.—Secretary John A. Blair of the Cherokee Strip Live Stock Association says that within thirty days from the time the strip will be taken by the party containing Socialists, land nationalizers and others whom they were not in sympathy. The mayor of Cork and others supported Mr. McCarthy, in moving a vote of confidence in the leader of the Irish party, but did not ignore the other features of the strip they had to encounter, but he was sure that it would not cost them a single friend who had supported them from the first.

Timothy Healy, in seconding Mr. McCarthy's motion, said that for Irishmen Parnell was less a man than an institution. If Parnell resigned he would immediately be redeemed. If the Irish party disintegrated, it would be the result of a party working in parliament for Ireland—a party containing Socialists, land nationalizers and others whom they were not in sympathy. The mayor of Cork and others supported Mr. McCarthy's resolution, which was carried amid great enthusiasm.

Sir Thomas Esmonde, Messrs. Redmond and Leamy and other prominent Nationalists spoke.

In the convention of Nationalists of county Galway, fifty priests were present, Sir Thomas Esmonde, M. P. for Dublin county, south, said that the Irish would be the greatest of fools if they changed their leader. Comptons Sheehy, Nolan and other speakers endorsed this sentiment.

A Sharp Rebuke.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Journal (Irish Catholics) says Mr. Parnell has wounded the moral and religious sense of the people.

He has sinned nearly as much Ireland as against morality. He has needlessly created what may be a barrier to the national movement.

In response to an inquiry, Mr. Gladstone has telegraphed that it is not true that he has conveyed any intimation to Mr. Parnell as to the course he should pursue in consequence of the result of the O'Shea divorce case.

London, Nov. 21.—The Tablet says: In itself the conduct of Mr. Parnell cannot be justified. In certain other lands, but it will be a different thing if his followers persist in retaining him in the teeth of the abhorrence of their liberal allies, as co-leader with Gladstone. Inter-course with Mr. Gladstone will be especially difficult. There ought to be no hesitation on the part of the Nationalists.

In the interest of elementary morality politicians should not be afraid to let the world know of their connection with Mr. Parnell. They may gratefully remember his services, but as a leader he ought to be impossible to the future.

PARNELL DECLARIES HIMSELF.

He Thinks Private Matters Should Not Interfere with Politics.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Mr. Parnell has sent to his colleagues a communication to the effect that as long as he is supported by his colleagues and the Irish people he will remain at the helm in politics. He says that he has never sought either office or position in the British or English party, and he does not seek their assistance now. The Irish people, not English politicians, must decide the question of the leadership of the Nationalist party. At the present critical juncture he would fail to his duty if he should desert his position because of private matters with which politics have no concern.

When his mission is accomplished and justice has been done for Ireland after her long struggle against the English, like the people may choose whom they will to conduct their local affairs. If they desire others as leaders they will be able to let a leader he ought to be impossible to the future.

WOULD LIKE THEIR BACK PAY.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Members of the Players' League club in Chicago were made temporarily happy by the report that an injunction suit was about to be filed in the circuit court for the purpose of restraining President Addison from selling out. There is said to be some opposition to the plan of the club, some of those who oppose it hope to get it off.

Adison has been for Ireland after his long struggle against the English, like the people may choose whom they will to conduct their local affairs. If they desire others as leaders they will be able to let a leader he ought to be impossible to the future.

MISS WILLARD'S Objection.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 21.—Miss Willard sent the following telegram to the convention session at the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny City:

Mrs. E. G. Phinney, Believing that it is legally and morally wrong for anybody to take the name of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, with the prefix non-partisan, we ask you as Christian sisters to discontinue the use of this name.

FRANCES E. WILLARD, President, MARY A. WOODBRIDGE, Secretary.

DARING DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

HARTFORD, Nov. 21.—Two men, H. Carter and a man named Drumond, entered the rooms of a pawn shop kept by Frank N. Sharpe and asked for an advance of $5 on a previous loan on overcoat of Carter.

This was refused. Carter then seized Sharpe by the throat and attempted to strangle him, but was beaten off, was thrown to the floor, and the two made off with $60. Carter was arrested at his home. Drumond has not yet been arrested. No money was found on Carter.

Saw But One Train.

HINSDALE, Ill., Nov. 21.—Merle L. Seward, 20 years old, a young man employed at the Third National Bank, in Pittsfield, was instantly killed at the depot here by a western bound express. He waited for a train to pass and then stepped over on the other track, not noticing the other train. The body was partially mangled.

BEATING THE REVENUE.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Nov. 21.—John McCay's pacer, Little Brown Jug, which has a record of 2:11 1/2, and which was recently purchased in Boston, has been seized by the customs authorities here for under-valuation. The matter has been referred to the authorities at Ottawa.

Death of Gen. Mater.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 21.—Gen. Thomas S. Mather died here of heart failure. He was adjutant general of Illinois during the war, and signed Grant's first commission.

A Russian Mystery.

WAISAWA, Nov. 21.—When the Vienna mail train reached Kutno last night, it was discovered that two of the passengers had been murdered and buried.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Forecast for New England: Fair; continued lower temperature; northwesterly gales.

Cautious signals are displayed along the Atlantic coast from Eastport to Norfolk section.

LOYAL TO PARRELL.

Nationalists Adopt a Vote of Confidence in Their Leader.

WILL REMAIN AT THE HELM

Is His Announcement to His Colleagues
More Newspaper Comments—Mission
Steamboat Confiscated in Africa—Other Foreign News.

DUBLIN, Nov. 21.—The statement made in the paper, announcing that an honest man who could "invest $400 and services as working partner" in a high-class "turner's shop" would receive a salary of $65 per week. Charles S. Fliske answered the advertisement, and was invited to call upon James McGrath at 266 Washington street. He says McGrath claimed to be the manufacturer of patent ink erasers, silver polish 'and toe the powder.

By his book of which was shown to Fliske there seemed to be a profit of fully ten times in the business. To show further that he did a big business, it is alleged that several agents called to leave "orders."

So influenced Fliske that he paid McGrath $400 and went into the business. The first day he received orders for goods to the extent of $50 from the supposed agents, but after that he got none. Fliske succeeded in recovering all $50.

Arlon W. Sloane, 266 Washington street, recovered $150. Soon after he became acquainted with Fliske, and they had McGrath arrested.

In the possession of McGrath was found a book with five names, including those of Fliske and Sloane, and it showed that in all he had secured $120. The prisoner is about 35 years old. He refuses to say anything, except that he was employed by Rand, Avery & Co. for seven years.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

At the great National meeting held in Leinster hall, the lord mayor made the opening address. He said that the only crime of which Ireland would take notice was that Mr. Parnell had resigned his seat in parliament at the end of the session and will offer himself for re-election.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Ledger Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Sudier's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGoverns Bros. Store, Plumer's Block, Quincy Copeland Street, Post Office, Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner
Post Office, Wollaston Hall, Braintree
Depot, Weymouth
H. R. B. Vinton, Wollaston Hall, Braintree
M. A. Pratt, Weymouth

Today's Almanac—November 21.

High water at 6:30 A. M. and 6:45 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:43; Sets at 4:18.
Moon sets 12:50 A. M.
Full Moon Nov. 26.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by Ledger Reporters.The political pot is getting hot;
The boys can shout, and whoop;
But some will find, if they don't mind
They're with 'em "in the soup."

Ward Five had the call.

A Wollaston man will be Mayor in 1891.

City election a week from next Tuesday.

The residence of Mr. Albert Thayer was sold at private sale on Wednesday.The candidates for School Committee at large are also from the Wollaston ward.Mr. H. P. Oakman of Dorchester, has bought the lot near John A. Duggan's and will erect a house there.The building being put up on the Hinkley estate will block a much needed improvement, the extension of Walker street.The weekly Bible class will be held at the house of Rev. W. S. Key, 4 Prospect avenue, Wollaston, on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock.All certificates of nominations must be filed with City Clerk Spear today. Saturday will be the last day to file nomination papers.The changes at Gurney's store are nearly completed and it will be one of the finest looking establishments in the city when finished.The Ladies' Aid of the Wollaston Unitarian Society will meet with Mrs. C. R.
Sherman, Grand View avenue, next Wednesday, Nov. 26th, at 2 o'clock.Mr. L. H. Adams and his sister, Miss E.
C. Adams of Elm street in this city, are visiting with their cousin, Mrs. Edwin Barlett in Annandale, New York.The St. John's held another dance in their hall last evening, which was largely attended. Martin H. Garrity was floor director, assisted by M. E. Cook and a corps of aids.Mrs. Louis W. Rogers, of Boston, will build a fine house on Billings street and the frame is already being raised. Good parties from Neponset have bought land
on this street and will soon build.Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Baptist church, Wollaston, on Thursday morning at 10:30. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Luther Freeman, pastor of the M. E. church. Every one invited."Objections to and arguments for revivals," will be the subject of Rev. Mr.
Freeman's sermon in the M. E. church next Sunday morning, at 10:45. Praise service at 7:30 A. M., followed by sermon by the pastor.The Swedish Lutheran fair is being well attended. Last night Plumer's hall was crowded, and everybody seemed to be delighted with the programme. Tonight there will be an auction. Saturday night
the programme will be chiefly in the English language.The popularity of Dr. J. M. Cutting among the masons of the 24th Masonic district was attested the other evening
when he was presented with a valuable gold headed cane. The doctor prizes the gift very much coming as it did from Masonic friends.What might have been a serious fire was discovered in the basement of Hodges'
bakery about 11 o'clock last night. Mrs.
Hodges saw the light and told her son
Frank who ran across the street and with the help of George H. Field the blaze was extinguished. Damage small.The coachman employed by Mrs. J. L.
Eldridge left the horse and carriage outside of Tilton's store, this morning, while he was making a purchase. The animal became frightened at the electric car which was passing, and started for home on the run. He brought up at the stable door without injuring any part of the rig.The first annual meeting of the Boston District Epworth League met in Dorchester on Wednesday. About twenty members of the Wollaston league were present. At the election of officers Mr. C.
W. Johnson was elected one of the vice presidents. Miss Rena Chamberlin read an interesting paper on the work of the league.The Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Wollaston, held their first public meeting in the vestry of the Congregational church on Thursday evening. Miss C. M. Caswell, of Boston, gave an exceedingly interesting talk, chiefly addressed to the young ladies. Rev. Mr.
Freeman followed in his usual happy vein.
There was singing by the audience and a solo by Mrs. R. J. Saxe. Miss Minnie Prescott presided at the piano. Miss Minnie Sparrow had charge of the meeting.Blue hill says "fair and warmer for Saturday."Ten of the present Councilmen have not been renominated.Mr. Richard H. Lincoln of Wollaston is in Fort Payne, Alabama.McGovern Brothers have received a very fine line of Christmas goods.Dr. William Everett will withdraw as a candidate for the City Council.W. T. Pierce will open his meat market in Mitchell's block on Saturday.The Republicans have filed all their nominations with City Clerk Spear.Major Porter will attend the annual super of Co. K, of Braintree, this evening.The Dorchester Social Club will hold a dance in Robertson hall Thursday, Dec. 4.A Democratic nominee for Councilman believe Mr. Fairbanks will be the next Mayor.The City Council will meet next Monday evening, and several important measures will come up.The Steamer company sent in 2,500 votes to the Globe office this morning. Send along all you can collect.Electrical Wight of the Fire Department, who has been ill for the past week, reported for duty today.The Democrats have filed their conventional nominations, but at noon none of their ward nominations had been filed.Mr. George Cahill, Jr., who has worked for Tighe & Burke of Boston for a number of years, has accepted a position with G. F.
Wilson & Co.A delegation of eight members from Robert G. Shaw Post of Staten Island, N.
Y., are expected at the Grand Army fair Saturday evening.When free delivery is established in West Quincy, a week from next Monday, subscribers of the DAILY LEDGER may receive the paper by mail every afternoon.The nomination of Frederick L. Jones for Councilman-at-large, leaves the Republican nominees for the Council in Ward Three, Messrs. Thompson, Dakers and Pratt.Miss Caswell of Charlestown delivered an interesting address on temperance before the Wollaston Young Women's Christian Temperance Union, on Thursday evening, in the vestry of the Congregational church, Miss Emma Sparrow presided.Entertainment at Atlantic.
The Young Men's Catholic Lyceum held its first grand entertainment and ball, on Tuesday evening in Music hall. The "Stolen Will" was presented by a company composed of young people in that ward. The hall was crowded and the concert was greatly enjoyed by those present.After the concert the floor was cleared and dancing commenced. About 150 couples participated. The floor was in charge of John Cunningham assisted by B. Mc-Lane, John Carty and John McKenna.The affair was a grand success socially and financially and reflected great credit on the society.

TODAY'S COURT.

Horace R. Lewis, who was arrested on suspicion of being the person who stole the opera glasses from the residence of Charles W. Jones in Wollaston, an account of which was published in the LEDGER, came into court this morning proved his innocence to the judge and was discharged.Thomas Plummer and Thomas Little, two of the best looking "tramps" seen in Court for some time, being unable to find work and wishing to escape the wintry blasts, were given six months at the State Farm at Bridgewater.The St. John's held another dance in their hall last evening, which was largely attended. Martin H. Garrity was floor
director, assisted by M. E. Cook and a corps of aids.Mrs. Louis W. Rogers, of Boston, will build a fine house on Billings street and the frame is already being raised. Good parties from Neponset have bought land
on this street and will soon build.Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Baptist church, Wollaston, on Thursday morning at 10:30. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Luther Freeman, pastor of the M. E. church. Every one invited."Objections to and arguments for revivals," will be the subject of Rev. Mr.
Freeman's sermon in the M. E. church next Sunday morning, at 10:45. Praise service at 7:30 A. M., followed by sermon by the pastor.The Swedish Lutheran fair is being well attended. Last night Plumer's hall
was crowded, and everybody seemed to be delighted with the programme. Tonight
there will be an auction. Saturday night
the programme will be chiefly in the English language.The popularity of Dr. J. M. Cutting among the masons of the 24th Masonic district was attested the other evening
when he was presented with a valuable gold headed cane. The doctor prizes the gift very much coming as it did from Masonic friends.What might have been a serious fire was discovered in the basement of Hodges'
bakery about 11 o'clock last night. Mrs.
Hodges saw the light and told her son
Frank who ran across the street and with the help of George H. Field the blaze was extinguished. Damage small.The coachman employed by Mrs. J. L.
Eldridge left the horse and carriage outside
of Tilton's store, this morning, while he was making a purchase. The animal became frightened at the electric car which was passing, and started for home on the
run. He brought up at the stable door without injuring any part of the rig.The first annual meeting of the Boston District Epworth League met in Dorchester on Wednesday. About twenty members of the Wollaston league were present. At the election of officers Mr. C.
W. Johnson was elected one of the vice presidents. Miss Rena Chamberlin read
an interesting paper on the work of the league.The Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Wollaston, held their first public meeting in the vestry of the Congregational church on Thursday evening. Miss C. M. Caswell, of Boston, gave an exceedingly interesting talk, chiefly addressed to the young ladies. Rev. Mr.
Freeman followed in his usual happy vein.
There was singing by the audience and a solo by Mrs. R. J. Saxe. Miss Minnie Prescott presided at the piano. Miss Minnie Sparrow had charge of the meeting.

BUTTER! BUTTER!

To the Public that enjoy the Finest Article to be found for Butter, we would say that we have taken the agency for the

KEENE CREAMERY,

which we think will suit every person that will try it.
It can be depended upon as always being the same, and can be got fresh from the Creamery every day if desired.

Below is the Card from the Manufacturer:

The Butter manufactured at this Creamery is of the Finest Quality; every process, from milking to the completion of its manufacture, being conducted under strict regulations in regard to cleanliness. It is cut up in a neat manner in 1-2 lb. Prints, 5 lb. Boxes, 10, 20, 30, 40 and 50 lb. Tubs.

FOR SALE ONLY BY

ROGERS BROS.

Adams Building, Quincy.

AND NOW YOU CAN BUY

ORGANS AND PIANOS

AT THE NEW ROOM OF

R. D. CHASE,

In Durgin & Merrill's Block, - - Quincy.

Many years' experience in the Use and Selection of Instruments. An Organ or Piano is often a life-long companion. Be careful.

Insurance, Real Estate, Mortgages,

Oct. 25. AS HERETOFORE.

Crown Creamery Butter,
The Best in the Market.

FRANKLIN STREET, - - - QUINCY.

Nov. 10.

TODAY'S COURT.

Boots, Shoes and Rubbers

AT THE NEW SHOE STORE,

94 Hancock Street, - - - Tirrell's Block.

Clerks Elect Officers.

The Quincy Mercantile Clerks' Benevolent Association at its regular meeting Thursday evening elected the following officers for the ensuing term.

President,—Robert E. Foy.

Vice President,—A. J. Dixon.

Recording Secretary,—Jas. F. Allen.

Financial Secretary, Joseph P. Prout.

Treasurer,—James Rapson.

The association is now in a very flourishing condition and new members are coming in at every meeting.

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

MUST be higher, as the pack is small. We are receiving a large variety of NEW CANNED GOODS of all kinds, which we shall sell at present at last year's prices.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY,

Durgin & Merrill's Block.

Quincy, Sept. 24.

THE ONLY PLACE IN QUINCY

To get the Famous

Lebanon Overalls and Jumpers

is at

SAVILLE & JONES'.

A BARGAIN.

TEN Pound Chests of New Formosa

Oolong Tea at

50 cts. a lb.

Guaranteed to please.

J. F. MERRILL.

OLD PAPERS

FOR SALE—

10 cts. a Hundred,

At the LEDGER OFFICE.

TRY IT! TAKE NO OTHER!

A Combination of Malt Calisaya and Hypophosphites.

Guaranteed by all Druggists.

$1.00. Six Bottles for $5.00.

FLANDERS' MANDRAKE PILLS beats

them all. Price 25 cents.

Physicians endorse it. Ask your druggist for it; if he cannot supply you, send direct to us. We prepay express charges upon receipt of price. Made only by

Flanders' Tonic Co., Woburn, Mass., U. S. A.

MADE IN U. S. A.

It is Hard.

Why don't you shave yourself and save time and money?

Because I can't bear to cut an old acquaintance.

Life.

UNCLAIMED MILLIONS.

FORTUNES IN THE HANDS OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATORS.

Strange Searches for Heirs to Large Fortunes in Brooklyn—A Strange Disappearance—The Fund in Charge of the State Treasurers Keeps Increasing.Speaking roughly there is at the present time over $5,000,000 in hard cash in the hands of the various state treasurers in this country awaiting the claim of legal heirs.

PROPERTY.

xable property of the city, a certain each issue, so that the total of a computed by interested parties.
Tax rate per thousand $13.60.
"Ke."

Value.	Tax.
$150
50 100
2,300
300
975	$54.70
500	6.80
3,000
1,600
230
2,300	98.56

150 800 100
1,000	27.88

1,200
250	21.72
300 700
300
350	22.44
200
1,200
1,200
400
7,800	148.88
2,000
250	30.60
1,100
250	18.36

100
1,200	21.08
200
2,000	36.00
500
1,000
200
600	26.48
600	8.16
600
1,200	26.48

300
50
4,000	133.96
2,200
300	36.00
200 2,000
600
450	46.20

1,500
300	51.68
2,000	1.02
75
400 100
1,200
200
800	40.76
50
2,800
700	47.60
900	12.24
150
1,400
50
500	30.56

XCHANGE.
CE OF COMPANY.
NESS
NG.
PETROLEUM.
S.
Oct. 15. tf

OUR TING
Office.
Frances, July 9.
C. PATCH & SON.	[FRANK S. PATCH.]

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 189.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

STOP ! STOP ! STOP !

Keep at Work !

There is not any need of your losing a day by going to BOSTON to buy your THANKSGIVING DINNER. We are on DECK and shall have the LARGEST and BEST STOCK in the City to select from, including

Turkeys, Chickens, Geese and Fowl,
Ducks, Game of all Kinds,
And a Large Line of all Kinds of MEATS.

Also Fruits, New Nuts, Candies, Raisins, Currants, Citron and Preserves, Celery, Lettuce, and a Full Line of Vegetables, at

WILSON'S MARKET,
108 Hancock Street, - Quincy.
Nov. 22.

G.A.R. Fair.

NOW OPEN

IN HANCOCK HALL.

ONE WEEK ONLY !

Entertainment and Music
EACH EVENING.

Popular Contests

Among Councilmen for Gold Headed Cane.
Among Members of Relief Corps for Piano Lamp.
Among Members of Sons of Veterans for Gold Watch.

—SS—

The Committees are as follows:
Executive,—J. D. Williams, Chairman; I. M. Holt, Secretary; A. W. Gardner, Treasurer.
Reception,—Charles L. Orne.
Entertainment,—W. H. Warner.
Season Tickets,—H. O. Souther.
Refreshments,—G. H. Osborne.
Wheel,—J. S. Farrell and S. D. DeForest.
Confectioner,—O. M. Whittier.
Chances,—Franklin Curtis.
Door Keeper,—M. E. Hanson.

Admission Tickets, - - 25c.

Season Tickets, 50 Cents.
Nov. 11.

BEST IN THE MARKET !

FOR $6.50 CASH
WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,
It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.
[FRANK S. PATCH.]

Quincy, July 9.

ANNUAL SUPPER

Co. K Celebrates Third Anniversary.

Maj. Benyon and Staff of the Fifth Regiment Present.

Also Many Distinguished Citizens of Braintree and Quincy.

The annual supper of the Braintree Light Infantry, Co. K, of the Fifth Regiment, M. V. M., has become one of the great events of the town, and certainly a very happy one to the members. Last evening's gathering celebrating the third anniversary, and nearly one hundred gentlemen participated. There were present 55 members of the members of the Democratic City Committee, who were present, were requested to meet after the convention. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the proposed nomination of Dr. Faxon by the Ward Five Democrats for the Council.

The doctor's political standing was inquired into, and one member of the committee stated that he had asked that gentleman what party he affiliated with. The doctor replied that he was an independent, and will be remembered by those who were at Ward Five's special Republican caucus, that Mr. Tuckerman charged that Dr. Faxon was a Democrat. Mr. Tuckerman said that his reasons for making that statement was, that the doctor had told him in the course of a conversation held a day or two before the caucus, that he was in hope that James H. Slade would be the next Mayor of Quincy.

Nevertheless, if the doctor did make that statement, the Ward Five Republican caucus sent him as a delegate to the Republican Mayoralty convention.

To go back to our story. The Democratic committee after talking the matter over concluded that he had enough Democratic blood in his veins to allow him to run on the Democratic ticket. The Ward Five Democrats met last evening and ratified that decision.

The Company drawn up in open order received the invited guests, who marched in and took seats at the head table. Three other tables were spread for the members of the Company. Rev. D. M. Wilson of Quincy, asked the blessing. While discussing the excellent menu, served by J. Tyler Hicks & Co., four pieces of Hussey's Orchestra of Boston, furnished excellent music.

The Menu.
Turkey. Oysters. Ham. Chicken.
Lobster Salad. Chickens Salad. Escaloped Oysters. Apple Fritters. Fruit Jelly. Charlotte Russe. Ice Cream. Sherbets. Frozen Pudding. Cake. Coffee.

Capt. Morrison presided at the post-prandial exercises. He read letters of regards from Congressman Morse, Charles A. Pitkin, George O. Wales, Josiah Quincy and Col. William A. Bancroft. The latter was particularly pleasing to the "boys," they appreciating praise from such a source. The letter:

FIFTH INFANTRY, M. V. M. { November 7, 1890.
MY DEAR CAPTAIN :
I regret that I cannot join with you in your supper on Nov. 21, but you have my best wishes.

It gives me much pleasure to say that you consider me much improved during the past year, and after its three years' service with the regiment, judging from its behavior when under my observation, there is no company its superior in discipline and few excel it in general efficiency. May it have all the prosperity which its record deserves, and rest assured that your own indefatigable labors in behalf and in behalf of the regiment have been appreciated by headquarters.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM A. BANCROFT.
Capt. Walter E. Morrison.
Braintree Light Infantry.

Others had accepted invitations, Capt. Morrison said, but were not present.

Capt. Morrison spoke briefly of the duties which devolved upon enlisted men. Nine, he said, completed today the full term of three years, and their record was remarkable, for they had not missed a meeting or drill. The company appreciated the interest of citizens who were building the new armory.

Major Porter of Quincy, who occupied a seat on his right, was first introduced. He said that he felt when talking to the "soldier boys" that he was talking to the old boys who went with him through the war. The 5th Regiment, he said, was a historic one, as that regiment was the first to the front. It is to the young men that the country looks for triumph, and he hoped that the boys before him would respond as did their senior regiment if their country called them. Service in the militia makes better men, and inspires to better deeds.

Maj. Benyon followed. He believed himself in good comradeship. He complimented Co. K on its work at Attleboro on the recent field day, saying it performed the most intelligent service of any company in the state. Soldier and gentlemen were synonymous, and while perfection had never been reached, he believed Co. K came near it. The company had been handicapped without an armory, but was happy to hear one was being built.

Judge French was next introduced. He did not believe in large standing armies, but while it seemed impossible that the nation should ever go to war again, he thought the true way was to be prepared for war;

to be fortified, to have a navy which would command respect, and men who would respond promptly to a call. He was glad the company was to have an armory. Much of the success of the company was due to the untiring efforts of Capt. Morrison.

Maj. William H. Oaks, Rev. D. M. Wilson, Col. Drinkwater and Capt. Stover of Charlestown Cadets also spoke. Each received rousing cheers from the soldier boys as they were introduced, and the party broke up with cheers for Mr. Long, the builder of the armory.

Faxon Nomination.

Dr. Faxon's nomination Friday night by the Ward Five Democrats makes things mighty interesting in that lively ward. His nomination was not a surprise to those who are on the inside track of city politics. After the Democratic Mayoralty nomination, on Thursday evening, all of the members of the Democratic City Committee, who were present, were requested to meet after the convention. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the proposed nomination of Dr. Faxon by the Ward Five Democrats for the Council.

The doctor's political standing was inquired into, and one member of the committee stated that he had asked that gentleman what party he affiliated with. The doctor replied that he was an independent, and will be remembered by those who were at Ward Five's special Republican caucus, that Mr. Tuckerman charged that Dr. Faxon was a Democrat. Mr. Tuckerman said that his reasons for making that statement was, that the doctor had told him in the course of a conversation held a day or two before the caucus, that he was in hope that James H. Slade would be the next Mayor of Quincy.

Nevertheless, if the doctor did make that statement, the Ward Five Republican caucus sent him as a delegate to the Republican Mayoralty convention.

To go back to our story. The Democratic committee after talking the matter over concluded that he had enough Democratic blood in his veins to allow him to run on the Democratic ticket. The Ward Five Democrats met last evening and ratified that decision.

The Company drawn up in open order received the invited guests, who marched in and took seats at the head table. Three other tables were spread for the members of the Company. Rev. D. M. Wilson of Quincy, asked the blessing. While discussing the excellent menu, served by J. Tyler Hicks & Co., four pieces of Hussey's Orchestra of Boston, furnished excellent music.

The Menu.

Turkey. Oysters. Ham. Chicken.
Lobster Salad. Chickens Salad. Escaloped Oysters. Apple Fritters. Fruit Jelly. Charlotte Russe. Ice Cream. Sherbets. Frozen Pudding. Cake. Coffee.

Capt. Morrison presided at the post-prandial exercises. He read letters of regards from Congressman Morse, Charles A. Pitkin, George O. Wales, Josiah Quincy and Col. William A. Bancroft. The latter was particularly pleasing to the "boys," they appreciating praise from such a source. The letter:

FIFTH INFANTRY, M. V. M. { November 7, 1890.
MY DEAR CAPTAIN :
I regret that I cannot join with you in your supper on Nov. 21, but you have my best wishes.

It gives me much pleasure to say that you consider me much improved during the past year, and after its three years' service with the regiment, judging from its behavior when under my observation, there is no company its superior in discipline and few excel it in

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER,--SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1890.

SUS IS CRUCIFIED.

VIII, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 23.

the Lesson, Luke xxii, 38, 47.
at Verse 33, 34—Golden Text,
I. 6—Commentary by Rev. D. M.

from Lesson Helper Quarterly by per-of H. S. Hoffman, publisher, Philadelphia.

and when they were come to the which is called Calvary, there they Him, and the malefactors, one on hand and the other on the left," lesson left Him in their hands to pleasure with Him; and after the and mocking we see the cross on the torn and bleeding body. He goes forth bearing His cross (v. 17). While it is not said that the truth is in the fact that they the Cynics about, and Him to bear it after Jesus' verse as if He may have intended it, is stumbled through weakness or god. Then hear as He says men who follow "Weep not for yourselves and your children" And see the two malefactors each its cross. Thus follow to Calvary the place of a skull (Matt. 27).

And now see the three crosses its living, dying, agonizing either side an evil doer suffered, but in the midst the Holy Jesus said for the unjust.

"Father, forgive them,

for they know not what they do."

He stripped of his raiment, upon the cross, the nails driven its quivering flesh, and then hear

"Father, forgive them."

The people stood holding rulers also with them deriding.

He saved others, let Him save

Him. He is Christ, the chosen of His people, and they do to Him

what they did to Jesus.

He said Himself if He can call all the power of men or devils harm him unless He had

it. Hear His own words: "I lay life that I might take it again.

Let it from me, but I lay it myself. I have power to lay it

I have power to take it again.

andment have I received of my ohn x, 18).

the soldiers also mocked Him,

and offering Him vinegar.

and death of Christ, cast out of all the temples of the true

God who in trial forsakes Him;

or only, who being tempted,

lose highest in religious things, es in temporal power, who of eternal realities and care use people; the irreligious (as we), who care for none of these

the scoffing of the earth punishment for their crimes their hearts revealed by the cross saying, If thou be the King of of myself." They could not comprehend who had no followers to have no power.

A subscription also was written in letters of Greek and Latin

This is the King of the Jews."

christians objected to this, and to write. "He said, I am

Jesus" (John xii, 21); but Pion keeping it as he had written one of the malefactors which had rallied on Him, saying, If see the self and me?" Bul-malefactors all utter the

"Save thyself."

the other answering, rebuked

Dost not thou fear God, seein the same condemnation?"

indeed, must have been the condemned man, who, know-most soon meet God in rid, rallied even to the last.

they indeed justly; for we rewarded our own deeds, but we done nothing worse. An-any the innocence of "This was heard it from Judas, from Plaut's wife, indirectly from now from this thief on the

we said unto Jesus, Lord, re-when Thou comest into Thy

This is grand. Not only does is a justly punished wicked unless that the man at his own men suffered not notwithstanding that has been and to him. He is really a king, and he humbly reverenced in that kingdom.

was said unto him, Verily I today shall thou be with me

"What a trophy for day among the redeemed!

was about the sixth hour,

a darkness over all the earth

a hour." It was crucified hour (Mark xv, 29) which the sixth set the darkness was shamed till He died a man refused to shine like the sun put on mourning.

was darkened, and the

the sun was in the midst."

symbol of His body or flesh-

and temple, the very corner of God's tabernacle. All His material body of Christ

in the glory of

Jesus had died with a

said, Father, into Thy hands

spirit and soul and thus

the last

the cross. For the darkness in the midst.

symbol of His body or flesh-

and temple, the very corner of God's tabernacle. All His

material body of Christ

in the glory of

Jesus had died with a

said, Father, into Thy hands

spirit and soul and thus

the last

the cross. For the

darkness in the midst.

symbol of His body or flesh-

and temple, the very corner of God's tabernacle. All His

material body of Christ

in the glory of

Jesus had died with a

said, Father, into Thy hands

spirit and soul and thus

the last

the cross. For the

darkness in the midst.

symbol of His body or flesh-

and temple, the very corner of God's tabernacle. All His

material body of Christ

in the glory of

Jesus had died with a

said, Father, into Thy hands

spirit and soul and thus

the last

the cross. For the

darkness in the midst.

symbol of His body or flesh-

and temple, the very corner of God's tabernacle. All His

material body of Christ

in the glory of

Jesus had died with a

said, Father, into Thy hands

spirit and soul and thus

the last

the cross. For the

darkness in the midst.

symbol of His body or flesh-

and temple, the very corner of God's tabernacle. All His

material body of Christ

in the glory of

Jesus had died with a

said, Father, into Thy hands

spirit and soul and thus

the last

the cross. For the

darkness in the midst.

symbol of His body or flesh-

and temple, the very corner of God's tabernacle. All His

material body of Christ

in the glory of

Jesus had died with a

said, Father, into Thy hands

spirit and soul and thus

the last

the cross. For the

darkness in the midst.

symbol of His body or flesh-

and temple, the very corner of God's tabernacle. All His

material body of Christ

in the glory of

Jesus had died with a

said, Father, into Thy hands

spirit and soul and thus

the last

the cross. For the

darkness in the midst.

symbol of His body or flesh-</

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Boston
101 Colony Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy Lodge, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros' Store, Plumer's Block, Quincy
Grant, Copland Street, Jones' Corner
Miss Bartlett's Store, Quincy Point
Post Office, Wollaston, Braintree
Henry H. Vinton, Weymouth
M. K. Pratt,

Today's Almanac—November 22.
High water at 7.30 A. M. and 7.45 P. M.
Sun rises at 6.44; sets at 4.19.
Moon sets 2.02 A. M.
Full Moon Nov. 26.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Local Gathered by Ledger Reporters.The G. A. R. fair closes tonight.
Quite a number left here this morning to attend the Harvard-Yale football game in Springfield.A variety of weather today—threatening, clear, cloudy, rain and snow and at two o'clock fair.James Kane of West Quincy is building an addition to his store which he will use as a lunch saloon.It will take about four weeks to finish cutting the stone for the stone work on the new Willard School.A special session was held in the District Court this morning to accommodate persons wishing to become citizens.The Willard A primary recently burned out at Foresters hall will probably open in the post office block a week from Monday.Dr. H. H. Smith the new doctor who opened an office in West Quincy and remained a few days disappeared Nov. 13 and has not been seen since.Dr. William Everett having declined the Democratic nomination in Ward One for the City Council, Frederic W. Tirrell has been placed on the ticket.Mr. John S. Farrell, who has been appointed letter carrier for West Quincy, is going through the ward taking the names and street numbers of residents.G. F. Wilson & Co., advertise today that they will have all the "fixins" for Thauks-giving, and at reasonable prices, so that it will not be an object to buy in Boston.The John Boyle O'Reilly club held their second dance in Washington hall East Milton, last evening, which was largely attended and the club netted a good sum.The Keene creamery butter, of which Rogers Bros. have the agency for this city, is all that the manufacturers claim—a butter of the finest quality, which will please every person.At a special Democratic caucus held in Ward Five last evening, Dr. W. L. Faxon was nominated councilman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jason G. Witham.The Steamer company of this city now stand in seventh place among the list of steamer companies in the Globe contest for the library. A large number of votes were sent in yesterday.The public installation of the officers of Rural Lodge will take place Friday evening, Dec. 5, as Robertson hall was engaged for Dec. 4. Rt. Wor. Henry O.
Fairbanks will be installing officer.The following committees have been chosen by Mt. Wollaston Lodge, I. O. O.
F., to arrange for the annual ball: John
F. Merrill, W. W. Adams, F. W. Folson,
Charles F. Pettengill, Nathan Ames, H.
A. Willey, W. H. Cobb, G. W. Cummings and Hazen E. Ricker.The Swedish Lutheran fair has so far been a great success. Tonight is the last evening and therefore the last chance to sip in the artistic grotto and hear the melodies from the land of song. The programme this evening will be largely in the English language, and American friends are specially invited.Miss Condich, who has been for many years a most devoted and successful missionary in heathen lands, will address the congregation at the Presbyterian church, next Sabbath evening, on missions. She has addressed several congregations in Boston and Roxbury to the delight of all who heard her. A rare treat is before the congregation. Rev. Mr. Leland has agreed to preach in the morning. All well come.

QUINCY POST OFFICE.

Letters advertised November 22.

Adams, Willie B. McLeod, David
Baxter, Geo. W. Macneil, James Berry, Phineas McDonald, Katie
Carey, Michael McBurney, John
Cheney, A. W. Pratt, F. H.
Dawson, Charles Robertson, Mr. C.
Glover, E. Rogers, E. (2)
Gilders, P. Harvey Stevens, Mrs. S.
Hennessey, Richard Sullivan, M.
Hodgkins, Frank B. Seavers, N. B.
Jones, M. A. Stewart, James
Johnson, B. Tirrell, Cora Laury, Edith Tabbin, Eugene Living, Mary

Pay of Firemen:

To the Publishers of the Ledger:
I saw an article in your issue of Nov. 20th by "Fair Play," in regard to the pay of our firemen, which I think is good sound sense, and I don't see how any citizen can think otherwise. As and I am a citizen of Quincy, I for one, wish to endorse his remarks.

A CITIZEN.

Too Funny for Anything.

Congressman Morse Replies to Tariff Reform Speakers.Democratic Victory a blow to the Industries
Which Would Have Been Built up
Under the McKinley Tariff—Republicans
Sure to Carry the Country in 1892.

[From the Boston Herald:]

As several speakers at the Tariff Reform meeting last evening saw fit to refer to me, I ask a little space in which to reply.The inconsistencies and contradictions of the different speakers were too funny for anything.First they put on Hon. Peleg McFarlin, who, until within a few weeks, has been posing as a Republican and avowing himself a protectionist upon everything but what he terms raw material, and tries to show how to do the great equestrian act of riding two horses going in opposite directions at the same time, and how we can have free trade in the products of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and the West, and at the same time, protection for the manufactured goods of New England.Next they put on Mr. Tobey, and he drops the subject of iron and coal, and counsels his hearers and the Democratic party that they must be discreet in this, their hour of triumph, and must stop the Democratic screechers like Mills of Texas, Carlisle of Kentucky, Rodgers of Arkansas, and Senator Vest of Missouri, who are crying out, "Down on the tariff," "Death to manufacturers," "All tariff is a tax and robbery."He admonishes the Democratic party that notwithstanding the recent Democratic victory, New England and the country believe in protection, and that, unless the Democratic party takes ground in favor of protection to manufactured goods, the present victory will be short-lived, and reversed at the next election.Then enters Hon. John E. Russell, who, it seems, has been absent during some of the previous speaking, and he pours tub of cold water on the speeches of Messrs.
McFarlin and Tobey by saying:—"The Worcester Spy INever Dared Deny in Public that I was a free trader," and then declares, "That is the only true thing that they ever said about me."So then, the voters of Massachusetts will take notice that "these be thy gods!
O Israel!"

But wait! Mr. Russell is not done yet.

The man who on the stump got thousands of votes by declaring in Norwood, Taunton and Plymouth that the charge that the Democratic party was a free trade partywas a slander and a falsehood, now, after his election, says: "When was I ever invited to speak in Boston? Never until the victory was won."In other words, because he was true to his alma mater, because he stood with President Eliot, young Hoar, Williams and
Dr. Everett and others who have bowed at this shrine of learning, because he stood for absolute, unrestricted free trade, he has heretofore been muzzled in Boston, and not allowed to speak at all.This statement leaves out of account the protective policy of the Republican party—the smaller iron industries of New England were never more prosperous, never employed more men, and never paid more wages than at the present moment on a ton of crude material.In spite of the interference of the interstate commerce law, a Democratic measure,
born in Texas, which has, undoubtedly done great harm to New England, I affirm
here and now, and I challenge those gentlemen to contradict it, that under the protective policy of the Republican party the smaller iron industries of New Englandare this matter, because he stood with President Eliot, young Hoar, Williams and
Dr. Everett and others who have bowed at this shrine of learning, because he stood for absolute, unrestricted free trade, he has heretofore been muzzled in Boston, and not allowed to speak at all.

Well, well; here is an after-election love

feast with a moral, of which the manufacturers, business men and wage earners of Massachusetts will take notice at the next election.The question is repeatedly asked, What will be the effect of the Democratic victory on the new manufacturing enterprises, which were promised as a result of the McKinley bill, and the general prosperity of the country?It is not at all probable that any change will be made in the McKinley bill at the present session of Congress—indeed, it is almost absolutely certain that there will not be.What would happen if the Democrats succeed in blocking legislation, as threatened, in the Senate at the coming session,
and thus necessitate the calling of an extra session of the 52d Congress to pass the appropriation bills, remains to be seen.It also remains to be seen what action
the enormous Democratic majority in the House of Representatives of the 52d Congress, with their increased Democratic vote in the Senate, will do in regard to the tariff.Certain it is that the country needs a rest from tariff legislation.Even a bad bill with certainty is better than uncertainty, and the threatened reopening of the tariff cannot fail to have

A Most Depressing Effect.

Upon the business interests of the country,
and retard the growth and development of the new industries that would spring up
all over the country under the McKinley tariff bill if the business men were assured that it was permanent.

Thus the Democratic success has struck

a blow at the business success of the country, and especially at the manufacturing of
New England, which the deluded Republicans, who stayed at home or failed to vote,
will find out to their sorrow later on.

I have not modified my views in regard to the McKinley bill in the slightest.

The McKinley tariff bill redeems the Republicans pledges in the Presidential campaign of protection to American manufacturers and American labor, and time would show that it was a great, wise and beneficent public measure, and could several months have intervened, as Maj. McKinley intended, between its passage and the election, which was prevented by the endless debate in the Senate, it would undoubtedly have vindicated itself.

Its benefits would have been patent to the humblest voter, and the Republicans would, undoubtedly, have swept the country, instead of being confronted by an appealing reverse.The tariff bill was only three weeks old at election, the people were ignorant of the bill and its provisions. The bill doubled the free list, it absolutely removed all duty from articles not produced or manufactured in this country, and, instead of increasing duties as charged by the Democrats on the stump, it actually reduced the duty on the basis of the importations of last year, as clearly shown by Senator Aldrich in closing the debate on the measure in the United States Senate.The Democratic falsehoods and misrepresentations in regard to the bill on the stump and in the Democratic papers went unchallenged and undenied to the mass of the voters, for want of time and opportunity.Some things credited to Mr. Blaine, and some statements of his in his published letters without the explanation which he would have undoubtedly placed upon them, were used with damaging and telling effect in the farming sections in the West, notwithstanding Secretary Blaine made a speech in McKinley's district in defence of the bill.I confidently anticipate that the Republican voters will go to the polls two years hence,

When the Truth Shall Be Known, and endorse this great measure of protection and elect a Republican President and a Republican Congress, and thus continue that policy which for a quarter of a century has given us a development and prosperity unprecedented in the history of states and nations.While it is undoubtedly true, as Mr.

Tobey and Mr. McFarlin claim, that the heavier iron industries of New England, such as car wheels, axes and heavy forgings, cannot be successfully carried on in competition with Pennsylvania manufacturers, yet it is not true that the smaller iron industries are not and cannot be successfully carried on in New England.Under existing freight from Pennsylvania and existing tariff the value of a ton of iron is $150 per ton. It will be seen from this how unimportant and insignificant is this matter of $1 or $2 freight and duty on a ton of crude material.In spite of the interference of the interstate commerce law, a Democratic measure,
born in Texas, which has, undoubtedly done great harm to New England, I affirm
here and now, and I challenge those gentlemen to contradict it, that under the protective policy of the Republican party the smaller iron industries of New Englandare this matter, because he stood with President Eliot, young Hoar, Williams and
Dr. Everett and others who have bowed at this shrine of learning, because he stood for absolute, unrestricted free trade, he has heretofore been muzzled in Boston, and
not allowed to speak at all.

Well, well; here is an after-election love

feast with a moral, of which the manufacturers, business men and wage earners
of Massachusetts will take notice at the next election.The question is repeatedly asked, What will be the effect of the Democratic victory on the new manufacturing enterprises,
which were promised as a result of the McKinley bill, and the general prosperity of the country?It is not at all probable that any change will be made in the McKinley bill at the present session of Congress—indeed, it is almost absolutely certain that there will not be.What would happen if the Democrats succeed in blocking legislation, as threatened, in the Senate at the coming session,
and thus necessitate the calling of an extra session of the 52d Congress to pass the appropriation bills, remains to be seen.It also remains to be seen what action
the enormous Democratic majority in the House of Representatives of the 52d Congress, with their increased Democratic vote
in the Senate, will do in regard to the tariff.Certain it is that the country needs a rest from tariff legislation.Even a bad bill with certainty is better than uncertainty, and the threatened reopening of the tariff cannot fail to have

A Most Depressing Effect.

Upon the business interests of the country,
and retard the growth and development of
the new industries that would spring up
all over the country under the McKinley tariff bill if the business men were assured
that it was permanent.

Thus the Democratic success has struck

a blow at the business success of the country,
and especially at the manufacturing of
New England, which the deluded Republicans, who stayed at home or failed to vote,
will find out to their sorrow later on.

I have not modified my views in regard to the McKinley bill in the slightest.

Fire destroyed the stable of Mr. Winters at North Weymouth early Friday morning.He lost a cow and several tons of hay. No alarm was rung.Miss Susan Bicknell, 88 years old, died on Tuesday at her residence in North Weymouth. Her funeral occurred yesterday.The East Weymouth fire department will give a concert and ball December 12.

Unitarian sociable next Tuesday evening.

Next Wednesday evening, Division 9,

A. O. H., held its annual concert and ball.

A CITIZEN.

W. R. C.—S. of V.

Commander Williams requests that members of the Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps and Francis L. Souther Camp, Sons of Veterans, meet with the Post this evening at 6.45, sharp. The business is of interest to all.

J. D. WILLIAMS, Commander.

Quincy, Nov. 22. 1t

C. M. & E. C. WINNEBERGER,

CARRIAGE, SIGN AND ORNAMENTAL PAINTERS.

SHOP, - - SCAMMELL'S BUILDING,

QUINCY AVENUE.

Nov.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 190.

QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

THIS WEEK ONLY!

MEN'S WORKING SHOES, - - $1.00
BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES, - - 1.00
MISSES' SCHOOL SHOES, - - 1.00

ALL OTHER KINDS AT EQUALY LOW PRICES AT THE

New Shoe Store,
94 HANCOCK STREET, TIRRELL'S BLOCK.
JAMES O'DONOVAN.

GRANITE CLOTHING CO.

Just as it is we've this to say,
To Quincy we have come to stay.
Our Line of Suits, and Coats as well,
All others of the kind excel.

We furnish Children's Clothing, too,
At Prices to astonish you!
The Goods which now we show our trade
Are all completely Tailor made.

We Guarantee a fit complete,
The best of Goods and Patterns neat.
Our Fall and Winter Good are new,
Come in and prove these statements true.

GRANITE CLOTHING CO.,

ADAMS BUILDING, QUINCY.

GEORGE N. NASH, Manager.

STOP! STOP! STOP!

Keep at Work!

There is not any need of your losing a day by going to BOSTON to buy your THANKSGIVING DINNER. We are on DECK and shall have the LARGEST and BEST STOCK in the City to select from, including

Turkeys, Chickens, Geese and Fowl,
Ducks, Game of all Kinds,
And a Large Line of all Kinds of MEATS.

Also Fruits, New Nuts, Candies, Raisins, Currants, Citron and Preserves, Celery, Lettuce, and a Full Line of Vegetables, at

WILSON'S MARKET,
108 Hancock Street, - - Quincy.

LARGEST STOCK! LOWEST PRICES!

Men's, Youths' and Children's

Suits and Overcoats,

Underwear, Shirts and Gloves, Suspenders, Umbrellas, &c., &c.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING CO.,

DURGIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

A TESTIMONIAL.

R. G. Shaw Post of Staten Island, N. Y.

Presents Handsomely Framed Resolutions with Photo.

To Paul Revere Post of This City on Saturday Evening.

Members of Paul Revere Post, No. 88, G. A. R., were not so much surprised Saturday evening to be remembered by R. G. Shaw Post of Staten Island, as they were at the form of the gift and the thought it required.

They knew a delegation was expected Saturday, and it was whispered that something was up. The delegation reached the city Saturday morning, and were as heartily received as in August last. There was Post Commander Eadie, Andrew Fetherston, James E. Mulligan and George Bowman, who were here encampment week, and they were accompanied by P. M. Dailey, Post Commander Twyford and Mr. Eddie's young son, Bertram, a full fledged Son of a Veteran.

Your most obedient servant,
(Signed) C. A. NORTON, M. D.

The doctor is evidently a myth, and a funny thing about the case is that when the "worthy" young man appeared at the residence of Mr. Knapp, both of his hands were all there, and apparently in a healthy condition.

Another Endowment Order. The Golden Grail, another endowment order, was organized in French's hall, November 15. The evening proved unfavorable on account of the heavy rain, but twenty-one of our Quincy boys enrolled as members. Last Saturday night was the second meeting, when twenty-five asked for admission to the ranks,—twenty gentlemen and five ladies,—and as they proved to be of the class that every society is proud to own, a hearty welcome was given them as brothers and sisters of Excelsior Commandery, No. 75, of Quincy. At the next meeting from twenty-five to fifty more will be initiated. The citizens of this city seem to take to this kind of endowment insurance. This commandery agrees to pay every member $50 and $100 in six months, and $5 and $10 per week sick benefit.

Past Commander Eadie, the chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, made the speech in behalf of R. G. Shaw Post, and Commander Williams accepted in behalf of Paul Revere Post.

The resolutions were as follows:

HEADQUARTERS, R. G. SHAW, POST NO. 112, DEPARTMENT OF NEW YORK, G. A. R., NEW BRIGHTON, RICHMOND CO., STATE OF NEW YORK, AUGUST 27, 1890.

At a meeting of the members and guests of R. G. SHAW POST NO. 112, Grand Army of the Republic, Department of New York, who attended the National Encampment of the G. A. R., held at Boston August 11, 12 and 13, 1890, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, the magnificent reception accorded to R. G. Shaw Post No. 112, G. A. R., and guests and the distinguished honors bestowed upon its veterans and visitors by PAUL REVERE POST, NO. 88, THE WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS, AND THE SONS OF VETERANS OF QUINCY, MASS., while in attendance at the Annual Encampment of the G. A. R. held in the City of Boston, Mass., was such as not only to sustain the well deserved reputation which those organizations have always enjoyed, but was in a peculiar sense such as to merit our most heartfelt and sincere commendations and gratitude; and

WHEREAS, it is the earnest desire and sincere wish of this Post and its guests, that the fraternal relations so auspiciously begun on that occasion, may not only continue but grow broader and deeper as the years go by; therefore be it

Resolved, That in remembrance of the many kindnesses, courtesies and honors received in that occasion, R. G. SHAW POST NO. 112, G. A. R., and guests return to the various organizations alluded to, and especially to the WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS, its sincere and heartfelt thanks, cherishing the hope that in the near future the vicissitudes of our order may afford us the opportunity to show our appreciation of all the favors received in a more substantial manner.

Resolved, That the foregoing preamble and resolutions be engrossed and a portrait of each member who had the pleasure of being entertained be placed in a suitable frame to be presented to PAUL REVERE POST NO. 88, CITY OF QUINCY, MASS.

JOHN H. EADE, Chairman.
EDWARD TWYFORD,
THOMAS BURKE,
PETER DIMLER,
ANDREW FETHERSTON,
JOHN N. DEWURST,
JAMES E. MULLIGAN,
GEORGE BOWMAN,
EDWARD F. MCCLURE,
G. T. JOHN KOLTZAMP,
JAMES SANTRY.

The gift occupied a conspicuous place on the platform, and was admired by the many who attended the fair, while the Veterans, the Corps and the Sons, were very proud of it.

The visiting delegation found their second visit fully as enjoyable as the first. Their stay was short, however, they returning by boat Sunday evening.

The resolutions have been placed in the show window at C. B. Tilton's store.

HORACE R. LEWIS.

The Wollaston Impostor Works His Little Game in Brookline.

Horace R. Lewis the impostor and sneak thief, whose doings in Wollaston were described in Wednesday's LEDGER, has turned up in Brookline. Saturday's Herald says:

Surburban residents would do well to be on their guard against a well dressed and nice appearing young man who is about soliciting aid to help him through college. He has been working in Brookline for the past two or three days, and so far as can be learned he secured $13 from well known residents. Yesterday morning he appeared at the residence of Mr. E. R. Knapp on Beacon street, and gave the servant girl his written appeal for aid, to present to Mr. Knapp. While the servant girl was delivering the message, the "worthy" young man grabbed a new overcoat and skipped.

The following is a copy of the petition which he left as a souvenir at Mr. Knapp's house:

"To all whom it may concern. This is to certify that I am Horace R. Lewis, who has been honorably discharged from under my care, he having had his hand amputated the 16th of last February, and he having no means by which to continue his education, I therefore recommend him to you, in order that you may help him, and I remain

Your most obedient servant,

(Signed) C. A. NORTON, M. D.

The doctor is evidently a myth, and a funny thing about the case is that when the "worthy" young man appeared at the residence of Mr. Knapp, both of his hands were all there, and apparently in a healthy condition.

Another Endowment Order.

The Golden Grail, another endowment order, was organized in French's hall, November 15. The evening proved unfavorable on account of the heavy rain, but twenty-one of our Quincy boys enrolled as members.

Last Saturday night was the second meeting, when twenty-five asked for admission to the ranks,—twenty gentlemen and five ladies,—and as they proved to be of the class that every society is proud to own, a hearty welcome was given them as brothers and sisters of Excelsior Commandery, No. 75, of Quincy. At the next meeting from twenty-five to fifty more will be initiated. The citizens of this city seem to take to this kind of endowment insurance. This commandery agrees to pay every member $50 and $100 in six months, and $5 and $10 per week sick benefit.

Arrived Safely.

To telegram to Mrs. Cushing Lane from Los Angeles, Cal., dated November 23, reports the safe arrival in that place of Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Dimmick and Miss Martha E. Chase; also, Dr. Hunting and his mother. The telegram said that they all stood the journey finely, and the injured are steadily improving.

The party left Quincy, Saturday, Nov. 15, and made the trip across the country in a few hours over a week.

BRAINTREE'S NEW HOSE CARRIAGE.

Built in Braintree and Painted by a Quincy Man.

Thayer & Anderson, carriage builders of South Braintree, have just completed a hose carriage for the Braintree Fire Department, which may very well be regarded as a sample of workmanship, perfect of its kind and in every way fitted to compass the ends for which it was built. It is really and truly a substantial and handsome carriage, such as the builders may take credit to themselves for having made, and the town feels proud in owning.

The carriage is constructed of the best material. The body, which is nine feet long, is made of western white wood, and the bottom of spruce. The tiers of the wheels are first quality steel and the hubs of brass beautifully burnished on the outside surface. It has a capacity of carrying 1100 feet of hose, has box for stowing away the "fire laddies" coats, and a frame work of hooks, wherein to hang their hats, when thought necessary in going to or returning from a fire.

It is also furnished with a twelve inch gong, which when struck gives forth no uncertain sound.

Then the superior style and character of the painting of the carriage, calls for special mention and commendation, for really it is this that first attracts attention and excites admiration of the whole affair. This was performed by John Gay a man who has worked for the firm for years, and who resides in Quincy.

The colors used are of the regulation kind used on carriages we have all seen connected with fire apparatus, but the proper combination of these is "the rub" but in this instance the combination is admirable, and the color lines perfectly drawn whether curved or straight. Of the latter it is stated that they extended in one line which would measure 2800 feet.

The carriage is to be known as the M. A. Perkins Hose 2, in honor of a gentleman that is at present one of the engineers, and who has always taken a lively interest in fire matters in Braintree. The honor is therefore well deserved.—Observer.

A Holbrook lady has a plant which goes to sleep about 9 o'clock every night and wakes up when the sun rises in the morning. If the sun does not shine, the plant does not wake up. The lady does not know what kind of a plant she is the possessor of, as she found the seed in beans while picking them over.

True Fraternity.

Charles Branch, of Weymouth, died Sunday morning, after a long illness, in his 53d year.

The deceased joined Pilgrim lodge, No. 485, Knights of Honor of Weymouth, August, 1871, some few years later he moved to Hingham, where he was taken sick April, 1880. Being a poor man he was very soon obliged to call upon his lodge for aid, and the manner in which Pilgrim lodge have fulfilled their obligations toward this brother in distress is worthy of more than a passing notice.

Realizing that their brother's sickness was to be one they immediately took steps to hire for him a house in Weymouth, in which the sick man was soon installed. Since that time their attention has been constant, they have not only paid his assessments and dues in the lodge, but have paid his house rent, and furnished all of his coal, wood and eatables for nearly a year.

Pilgrim lodge numbering but sixty members, this constant drain was reducing their finances, and to replenish them an entertainment was held last June, tickets for the same being sent to the neighboring lodges where they met with a ready sale. A good sum was netted with which Pilgrim lodge has been able to continue their services.

Wards Two and Five are smaller than a year ago, and the latter is smaller than in 1888.

Ward Six shows a gain of 36 in one year, and 44 in two years.

Below is an interesting summary:

	Net Gain	Names State Registrars now on lists	Election.	Dec. 1889
Ward One,	560	20	580	567
Ward Two,	471	8	479	507
Ward Three,	503	21	530	514
Ward Four,	624	18	642	507
Ward Five,	322	14	333	324
Ward Six,	257	15	272	246
	2739	90	2835	278

WANTED.

WANTED.—By a young girl a situation to assist in store or office.

Apply at LEDGER OFFICE.

Quincy, Nov. 24.

3

FOUND.

FOUND.—On Friday morning a black and brown dog, wearing a collar without name. The owner can have the same by proving property and paying charges, by applying to PATRICK MALONEY, Brackett street, Nov. 22—3

Grand Army Fair.

The week's fair of Paul Revere Post, No. 88, G. A. R., closed Saturday evening. The financial returns are not yet known, but Hancock hall was crowded every evening, and it is thought to have been one of the most successful fair the Post has held.

The result of the voting contests was as follows:

Among the councilmen for gold headed cane, John R. Graham, 204.

Among members of Relief corps for piano lamp:

Miss M. E. Farnald,

1078

Mr. Francis L. Souther,

837

Mrs. Edgerton,

833

Among members of Sons of Veterans for gold watch:

Bert Leavitt,

400

W. G. Chubuck,

260

Isaac Allen,

32

The new anti-lottery law forbids news-papers to publish the result of the chances, which accounts for their omission.

The visit and presentation of R. G. Shaw Post is reported elsewhere.

TO LET.

TO LET.—In French's building, Chestnut St., opposite the Congregational church, desirable rooms up one flight.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)

—BY—

GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carrier or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 20 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

Too Good to Sell.

In his life of Horace Greeley, James Parton tells of an old newsdealer who could not be persuaded to sell the last copy of The Tribune remaining on his stand until he had had time to read it. A similar measure of independence appears to lie in the character of the Italian who trundled his fruit truck to the curb in front of the Sun building every night. For a week or two he has been selling the California imitation of Tokay grapes, and his boldness was complimented very soon after dark. The other evening three customers stood at the curb waiting their turn. One asked for half a pound, and the Italian slipped a cluster in two and placed it in a brown paper horn which he rolled tightly over his hand.

The second customer also took a half pound and got the second half of the cluster. That cleared the cart—save for one luscious, heavy cluster lying against the back rail. It was perfect in form, richly ripe, and untouched by decay on even a single grape. The third customer reached over and picked it up. He was about to say "How much?" when the Italian angrily exclaimed:

"What are you doing with that? Put it down!"

As the customer was not speedy in obeying the vendor seized his arm and took the cluster away, after which he laid it gently upon a piece of brown paper.

"But I want to buy it," protested the customer, feeling for his silver.

"You can't do it," said the Italian bluntly. "Think I want any grapes? That's for me." And he pushed his truck away from the curb and started down Park row toward Mulberry street.—New York Sun.

Queer Seed from a Crane's Crawl.
A truly wonderful plant is at the Allegheny conservatory. No one knows to what class it belongs or anything about it. It is the subject of much speculation among botanists, and they anxiously await the development of a botanist forming. Then, they say, they can place the plant. The botanists have a suspicion that the plant is a tropical one, and Superintendent Hamilton is treating it on that supposition.

The history of the plant so far as known is a unique one. During the summer one of a party of gunners brought down a crane. It was a beautiful specimen, and the taxidermist of the party set to work to mount it. In the bird's craw were found several seed. With a view to learning if the seed was killed by the bird eating it they were placed in water. In a few days the seeds sprouted. They were planted in loam and kept in a warm room. Edward V. McCandless took charge of it. The plant was an object of interest to Mr. McCandless and his botanist friends, and its development was closely watched. Last week it was transferred to the conservatory. The leaves are long and broad and heavy, not unlike a species of palm.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Dangerous Bugs.

I have noticed with some surprise the number of people who have been bitten recently by spiders, and the case of the death of a girl in Jersey City from this cause is fresh in mind. Within a week I have met three acquaintances suffering, as they told me, from spider bites, and one of them had a hand so badly inflamed that he was afterward obliged to have it lanced. In this connection a housekeeper has shown me two specimens of "thousand-legged" bugs that were found in his house.

They were each over an inch in length and had twelve legs on a side and two long feelers. The body and feelers were striped, zebra-like, in black and white. I suppose they will be given to some entomologist for examination, and while these particular varieties may not be closely enough related to centipedes to be poisonous they are at least unpleasant companions for a lady to find running about the house, and make her think she has seen a centipede or tarantula.—New York Star.

The Ballot Law Helps the Printer.

One of the most appreciable effects of the new Australian election law is the remarkable boom it has given the job printing business. Never before in the history of elections have the printers been called upon for such vast quantities and varieties of campaign cards and campaign literature generally. Under the new system the personal canvass is the most likely to tell, and hence the use for cards of all dimensions. The confusion existing as to boundary lines of wards and districts has been of benefit to the printer in supplying cards with maps on the back, and best of all is the rage among the candidates to have their portraits printed on their cards.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THIS IS THE LATEST.
Representative Yoder's Story Explaining McKinley's Defeat.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Representative Yoder of Ohio tells a new story regarding McKinley's defeat. Holmes county contains a large number of people with quaint old-fashioned ways, who are known as the Amish sect. One peculiarity of these people is that they eat no meat, and the use of meat, meat hooks and eyes instead. "The Democrats," says Mr. Yoder, "did not use the advance in pearl buttons as an argument, among those people, but they went to the stores in the county and purchased all the hooks and eyes at a price which was about 300 or 400 per cent higher than before. The Amish people did not object to the advance on tin cups, or other necessities of life, but when it came to paying more for holding their clothes together, they voted the Democratic ticket."

A GOOD HAUL.

Chicago Police Stumble Upon a Gang of Crack Robbers.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—The police raided a small cottage on West Washington street and captured six men and two women. The male members of the gang are all old time thieves, most of them having done time in one state or another. Among them are three of the best safe blowers outside prison walls. The police claim that the safe was broken open at the Lake shore depot of the Illinois Central Railroad and Booth & Son's safe and committed other jobs of recent date. They were also credited with stealing from Millionaire Kellor's buggy last week a tin box containing $100,000 of bonds and negotiable paper, for which he has offered a large reward. In the cottage several burglar outfitts were found.

MR. BONNY'S TURN.

Out in a Letter Denying Stories Told by James' Brother.

LODGE, Nov. 24.—The letter written by the brother of the late Lieut. Jameson, in which he charged that his brother had been with a loose life, hospitality and branch of confidence, has brought a reply from Bonny, who writes to the Times denying Jameson's allegations. Mr. Bonny declares that neither he nor Stanley intended to allude to the matters that have caused such a scandal, but were forced to do so by Bartelot's brother. The revelations, he says, were published before he entered the controversy. He denies that he has ever stated that Stanley read Lieut. Jameson's diary and made extracts from it.

Mexico is Lucky.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 24.—The money market is quiet. Several large shipments of silver from the interior have come to the United States. The amount of Mexican bonds bought in London and Berlin by the local syndicate exceeds $1,000,000. President Diaz told the Associated Press correspondent that the financial crisis has not affected Mexico, as this country is meeting all obligations and will continue to do so.

Looking for Trouble.

PARIS, Nov. 24.—The Siecle says that the premier of Malagaracar refuses to retract the insulting expressions he used with reference to France and that he avoids meeting the French residents. This difficulty, the paper adds, will only be overcome by a firm policy on the part of France.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Looking for Trouble.

PARIS, Nov. 24.—The Siecle says that the premier of Malagaracar refuses to retract the insulting expressions he used with reference to France and that he avoids meeting the French residents. This difficulty, the paper adds, will only be overcome by a firm policy on the part of France.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The wool export trade in the north American provinces has been ruined by the new American tariff. Merchants are loudly complaining to the government that they are unable even to unload their goods, owing to vexatious customs formalities.

Mr. Mills' Intentions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Post says to-day that representative Mills of Texas has decided to retire from public life with the close of the Fifty-second congress, unless his state sends him to the senate as the successor of Senator Coke.

Bishop Beckwith Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—John Watrous Beckwith, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia, died from a stroke of paralysis, aged 50. He was a native of North Carolina, and a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford. He was consecrated bishop of Georgia in April, 1882.

Kick at Our Tariff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 2

GRACELAND'S GRAVES.

beautiful city lies over there; a heartache, now, a cure; more longings for brighter days, with the world, at rest in God; one more to the kindly sod, here roses bloom and the fresh green waves washome vagrants Graceland's graves.

In summer morning when skies are bright, or night in winter when snows are white; and when the stars are few when shall have come with the curse of men; the way where our fathers led, to the mystery of the dead;

taking the peace the spirit craves, leaving a home 'midst Graceland's graves.

we can know the burdens borne, the cruel weight of woes we've worn; broken odds were all our own, lips would tremble when the heart would moan;

the dead lie in their beds,

come to the stilling of the waves.

sunset leaves us at Graceland's graves.

when we're gone from the humours of men, the world have less of sunshine then;

another sister, sweetheart, wife

a more of eternity, less of life;

we building a monument high and grand,

days pass upon the sand;

we ask our spirits at the mind's strands the peaceful quiet of Graceland's graves.

—Chicago Post.

It's Be "Scorched" Even in Death,

we is, there ever has been, and likely always will be a feeling of animosity between morning and evenings, and it is a fact that, even both papers are the property of person or company, the forces em-will exert themselves to their ut-to get a "scoop" on each other, news was received one day that the other had been assured by a

the report came in such that the city editor of an after-sheet felt it advisable to send a reand get the truth of the mat-

The reporter learned, of course, arrival at the morning paper of

he was working on a false

but he thought it would be a scheme to interview the editor and that he had to say regarding the re-entered his room and saw the sup-suicide seated at his desk. When explained his mission the editor said out vehemently, "Well, do I be a man who has committed sui-

The reporter was obliged to de-that he looked very little like a man, whereupon the editor roared and if I had committed suicide do

I would be fool enough to do for an evening paper?"—Chicago

Journal.

He Changed His Diet.

vegetarian of this city has become a star since he discovered a scientific that he had not previously been of.

He changed his mind upon a question, and got convinced that were among the proper edibles for after he had been assured by a of chemistry that beef, mutton were merely "transformed vegetables and grain." After pur-ing this interesting law of cheminization he came to the conthat vegetarianism is a doctrine scope, and he adopted a new policy, under which he now enjoins steaks, lamb chops and not to speak of stewed kid-feet and tete de veau.—New York Journal.

A Cute Little Jap.

on the street a little Jap toddling

the side of a stout old Jap.

I took to his father. The there wore a tunic, or whatever it be called, of brilliant blue and bockers green as grass. But this did not extend beyond his clothes.

ight of ages seemed to rest upon stile bro—how could not have than 4 years old—and it is that his infantile legs had bent

the burden. He was an object of lively curiosity on the part of the street, and was much more in appearance than any other creature that I have ever seen.—

New York Journal.

to Kill English Badgers.

ally, it is said, the only way to English badgers is to stop their in the covers along the hillside are out on their midnight expeditions, and then hunt them in the bounds; for the badger is the craftsman of animals, and often the dogs. He will not touch a badger, and an old badger, it is to "throw" a hundred ways with

To dislodge the animals from

if they once gain the earth, an impossibility. They are per and rapid burrowers.—

Companion.

Her Reward.

As grant—What must I do to as an actress?

comedian—Study hard for about day and night; work your five more and then?

comedian—And then you may be sum a soap testimonial, or get in the tobacco stores—

Bulletin.

five thousand baskets hold oysters. Multiply that by number of days in the oyster

nd we have the enormous

3,630,000,000 oysters eaten in opolitan district every year.

is the oysters say that the use nearly one-third as us in the course of a year, or 90.—New York Letter.

ctor of the gatling gun, Dr.

Hartford, Conn., is con-

gry with plans and new inven-

now he is quite an old man, and is a large workshop

where he spends a part of day with his diagrams and est distance ever recorded at sound of cannon has been on Dec. 4, 1892, when the car-were heard in the Erz-

mountains, at a distance of 370

—New York Letter.

Today's Anniversaries.

GALLANT "DICK" TOBIN.

Death of the Senior Vice Commander of the Grand Army.

BOSTON, Nov. 24.—Richard F. Tobin, fire commissioner of this city and senior vice commander of the Grand Army, died at his home in South Boston on Saturday. He was born in Boston in 1814.

In July, 1862, he shipped as landsman in the United States navy, and served on the sloop-of-war Prelate until she was blown up in Pensacola bay, Aug. 27, 1863. Then he served in the gunboat Pensacola, engaged in blockade duty until December, 1863, when he was discharged upon the expiration of his term of enlistment. He served on the staff of General James A. Garfield, then of the Grand Army of the Republic. In 1864 he was a member of the council of administration, and in 1864 was elected junior vice-commander. In 1866 he became commander of the department of Massachusetts, and was made senior vice-commander of the national body last August. He served two terms in the legislature as a Republican in 1855-56, but was defeated for the state senate in 1855. He was appointed fire commissioner of Boston by Mayor O'Brien in 1857. The funeral will take place in the cathedral of the Holy Cross on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

GET OUT YOUR SKATES.

The Indications are That Winter Has Really Set In.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Winter weather now prevails along the Upper Hudson valley. Snow fell throughout Saturday night and the ground is covered. At points throughout the Catskills snow is from two to four inches deep. Ice is formed on interior ponds and lakes begin. It is generally believed that winter has set in earnest, and navigation is being rushed through fear of a sudden closing up of the river and inland streams. Along the Delaware and Hudson canal, boats are being locked through night and day, but it is feared that some of them which recently went to Oneonta on their last trip will be unable to reach tide water. The thermometer is hovering around zero.

A Real Creole Cook.

Aside from a few private houses, there is only one place in New York where a real creole gumbo file, or a real creole doce, can be had, and that is a little restaurant upon the third floor of a large brick house on University place.

The restauranteur is an old creole himself, who is satisfied with an average of twenty customers a day.

He both cooks and serves the food himself, having but one assistant, who washes the pots and kettles and dishes and keeps things clean generally.

But old Moete Maritani is a famous cook and could command a large salary should he listen to some of his friends.

He speaks no English, and in fact no French or Spanish, but simply the real old New Orleans creole dialect, which is a mixture of both French and Spanish.

The gumbo file he serves is a marvel.

It is a great favorite with Dr. Chancy M. Dewey and Mr. H. Walter Webb, the vice-president of the New York Central railroad. It is a sort of soup, made of chicken meat, crabs, shrimp or crawfish, bacon, eggs, okra, sassafras, and flavored with fine old sherry wine. Just before it is served a quantity of grated boiled potatoes and flour and plenty of seasoning is added. It is a whole meal in itself.—New York Journal.

HARVEST VICTORY.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 24.—Harvard, after fourteen years of vain efforts to defeat Yale at the Rugby game, has won a glorious victory, and that over a team acknowledged to be the best that Yale has ever put on the field. The game on Saturday was the closest and grandest contest that has taken place in the history of the school in the country. Before the game it is doubtful if any man with a perfect knowledge of the tactics of both eleven could have named the winning team and wherein it would be superior.

The score was 12 to 6.

A Saturday Night Skind.

DENVER, Nov. 24.—The people of Englewood attempted to hold a meeting on Saturday night to commemorate the Manchester martyrs. A procession was formed, with bands and banners flying, but the police ordered the people to disperse. They refused to obey, whereupon the police charged the crowd, using their batons right and left. The crowd retaliated with stones. Finally the police succeeded in dispersing the crowd and restoring order.

A Saturday Night Skind.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 24.—Harvard, after fourteen years of vain efforts to defeat Yale at the Rugby game, has won a glorious victory, and that over a team acknowledged to be the best that Yale has ever put on the field. The game on Saturday was the closest and grandest contest that has taken place in the history of the school in the country. Before the game it is doubtful if any man with a perfect knowledge of the tactics of both eleven could have named the winning team and wherein it would be superior.

The score was 12 to 6.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Ledger Office, 115 Adams Building, Quincy
Souther's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros., Store, Plumer's Block, Quincy
McGraw's Store, Copeland Street, West Quincy
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner
Post Office, Quincy Point
Wollaston Heights
Henry R. Vinton,
M. K. Pratt, Weymouth

Today's Almanac—November 24.

High water at 9.15 A. M. and 9.45 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:47; Sets at 4:16.

Moon sets 4:24 A. M.

Full Moon Nov. 26.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

Council tonight.

Thanksgiving Thursday.

Church wedding tomorrow evening.

Ninety-six more voters than at the State election.

The lists of candidates will be posted Thursday.

James O'Donovan quotes some low prices
for shoes this week.

Small fac simile of the testimonial of
R. G. Shaw Post can be obtained.

Harry S. Nichols has moved from Garfield to 85 Water street.

Nichols Granite Company are enlarging
their sheds on Centre street.

Coldest morning of the season, thermometer registered twenty above.

The flag on Grand Army hall is flying at half mast in respect to Senior Vice-Commander Tobin.

The weather this morning was the kind that makes the ice man's smile turn into a real grin.

It is now too late to file nominations for be printed on the ballots for the city
election.

The boys are looking after their skates
in anticipation of some good skating
Thanksgiving day if this weather holds.

Twenty-five dollars was collected at the Wollaston Congregational Sunday school,
Sunday, to be sent to Boston on Thanksgiving day.

Cold morning. It was only 18 degrees above zero by the thermometer on the north side of the Quincy post office, at sunrise this morning.

The comic drama, "My Wife's visitors,"
will be presented by the Quincy Minstrels
at Clam McGregor's grand entertainment
and ball, Wednesday evening.

No nominations by nomination papers were made in this city, but might have been had not Dr. Faxon received the Democratic nomination in Ward Five.

The LEDGER representative noticed three
blue men walking through the city Sunday.
They had come on to Boston from New Haven to bet on the Harvard-Yale foot ball match.

The steamer boys still continue to gain
in the Globe voting contest, and if the boys in the other wards will only get their work in they will stand a good chance of getting the library.

Some of the West Quincy business men complain that when the new delivery is established they will be twenty-four hours behind the Centre in their mail. Perhaps they are mistaken.

"George W. Cable" will be the subject of Miss Ellen E. Thompson's literary talk and reading this evening. It will be the first in a course of fire to be given in Mrs.
Follett's parlors, 12 School street.

A friend of the Fenley family, who is here from Louisville, Ky., stated to a LEDGER representative, that Elizabeth
Fenley was still in a very critical condition
with no signs of improvement.

Sigourney Butler of this city will be a member of Governor Russell's staff. The Herald says: "He is a young Democrat of the kind they build in Quincy. He is popular, prepossessing and prosperous."

In the article on Dr. Faxon's nomination
as councilman in Saturday's LEDGER, it was erroneously stated that he was a delegate from Ward Five to the Republican Mayoralty Convention. It was the doctor's brother, Mr. Charles A. Faxon.

Miss Marion Bailey, of Saville avenue,
was runover in Boston Saturday evening
about six o'clock. She was crossing St.
James avenue when a runaway team knocked her down. Her most serious injury was a sprained ankle. A police ambulance took her to the Old Colony depot,
and she was brought home.

TODAY'S COURT.

John Field, of Randolph, was fined $9
for a drunk, and in default was committed.
James West and John Leahy of Quincy,
two tramps, were given 8 months and 9
months at the State farm, Bridgewater.

William H. Buckley and Jeremiah McKey of Weymouth, who appealed from their fines some time recently, came forward and paid up; the former $10 and $5 on two counts, and the latter $5.

One hundred and eighty thousand fishing rods are said to be sent out from the little village of Post Mills, Vt., each season.

WEYMOUTH.

The following officers of Mechanics'
Temple of Honor were installed last Friday evening, by G. W. C. T., Joseph Austin, assisted by W. T. Rice:

W. C. T.—C. H. Pratt, 2d.
W. V. T.—Fred N. Bicknell.
W. R.—Charles G. Everett.
W. A. R.—Stephen Burgoyne.
W. F. R.—Waldo Turner.
Treasurer.—E. B. Tirrell.
Usher.—W. H. Farrar;
W. D. M.—Thomas Margets.
Guardian.—S. A. R. Pratt.
Sentinel.—B. Withington.
Chaplain.—L. W. Cain.
P. W. C. T.—Geo. H. Pearce.

Wompatuck Encampment exalt one candidate to the Royal Purple Degree this evening. A. M. Bicknell is degree master.

A. A. Spear has an unusually handsome display of chrysanthemums at his greenhouse on Broad street.

The East Weymouth Reform Club holds an entertainment at Temperance hall this evening.

The members of the Eureka H. & L.
Company, No. 2, will appear out in new regulation uniforms at the fireman's ball in December.

Rev. J. Moors, D. D., delivered his popular lecture on "Egypt and the Pyramids" at the Unitarian church last evening.

The Sunday school connected with the Universalist church gave a Harvest concert
last evening.

Rev. V. A. Cooper, superintendent of the Little Wanderers' home, preached at the M. E. church Sunday morning.

The relatives and friends of Mrs. Martin Burrell gave her a surprise party Saturday, it being her 70th birthday anniversary.

The Sunday school connected with the Universalist church gave a Harvest concert
last evening.

James O'Donovan quotes some low prices
for shoes this week.

Small fac simile of the testimonial of
R. G. Shaw Post can be obtained.

Harry S. Nichols has moved from Gar-
field to 85 Water street.

Nichols Granite Company are enlarging
their sheds on Centre street.

Coldest morning of the season, thermometer registered twenty above.

The flag on Grand Army hall is flying at half mast in respect to Senior Vice-Commander Tobin.

The weather this morning was the kind that makes the ice man's smile turn into a real grin.

It is now too late to file nominations for
be printed on the ballots for the city
election.

The boys are looking after their skates
in anticipation of some good skating
Thanksgiving day if this weather holds.

Twenty-five dollars was collected at the Wollaston Congregational Sunday school,
Sunday, to be sent to Boston on Thanksgiving day.

Cold morning. It was only 18 degrees
above zero by the thermometer on the north side of the Quincy post office, at sunrise this morning.

The comic drama, "My Wife's visitors,"
will be presented by the Quincy Minstrels
at Clam McGregor's grand entertainment
and ball, Wednesday evening.

No nominations by nomination papers
were made in this city, but might have been had not Dr. Faxon received the Democratic nomination in Ward Five.

The LEDGER representative noticed three
blue men walking through the city Sunday.
They had come on to Boston from New Haven to bet on the Harvard-Yale foot ball match.

The steamer boys still continue to gain
in the Globe voting contest, and if the boys
in the other wards will only get their work
in they will stand a good chance of getting the library.

Some of the West Quincy business men complain that when the new delivery is established they will be twenty-four hours
behind the Centre in their mail. Perhaps they are mistaken.

"George W. Cable" will be the subject of Miss Ellen E. Thompson's literary talk and reading this evening. It will be the first in a course of fire to be given in Mrs.
Follett's parlors, 12 School street.

A friend of the Fenley family, who is here from Louisville, Ky., stated to a LEDGER representative, that Elizabeth
Fenley was still in a very critical condition
with no signs of improvement.

Sigourney Butler of this city will be a member of Governor Russell's staff. The Herald says: "He is a young Democrat of the kind they build in Quincy. He is popular, prepossessing and prosperous."

In the article on Dr. Faxon's nomination
as councilman in Saturday's LEDGER, it
was erroneously stated that he was a delegate from Ward Five to the Republican Mayoralty Convention. It was the doctor's brother, Mr. Charles A. Faxon.

Miss Marion Bailey, of Saville avenue,
was runover in Boston Saturday evening
about six o'clock. She was crossing St.
James avenue when a runaway team
knocked her down. Her most serious injury was a sprained ankle. A police ambulance took her to the Old Colony depot,
and she was brought home.

TODAY'S COURT.

John Field, of Randolph, was fined $9
for a drunk, and in default was committed.
James West and John Leahy of Quincy,
two tramps, were given 8 months and 9
months at the State farm, Bridgewater.

William H. Buckley and Jeremiah McKey
of Weymouth, who appealed from their fines some time recently, came forward and paid up; the former $10 and $5 on two counts, and the latter $5.

One hundred and eighty thousand fishing rods are said to be sent out from the little village of Post Mills, Vt., each season.

WEYMOUTH.

TREATING SICK DOGS.

HOW A SPECIALIST PRESCRIBES
FOR AILING CANINES.

His Customers Are Mostly, if Not Wholly,
Among the Wealthy—People Overfed Their Dogs—Points on When to Feed and What to Give the Animals.

"Yes, I'm a doctor now," said a bird fancier to a reporter, as he dropped a capsule into the open mouth of a bull dog he had between his knees.

"Yes, sir," he continued, patting the dog, "I'm a real doctor now; that is, as far as dogs and birds go. Can I cure them if they are sick? Well, you just try me. Never lost a patient yet, and some of my cures are marvelous. Does it pay? Well, I just reckon it does. Do you see that bulldog? His liver is out of order, and it will take just three days to cure him. At $1 a visit and one visit a day that makes $3—not bad for curing a dog's diseased liver, eh?"

"Is $1 your regular fee?" returned the scribe, taking a seat on a box of dog biscuits.

"That's my visiting fee. Of course, if I take the dog here with me the owner has to pay board for it.

"Surgical operations? Bless your soul, we have plenty of that sort of work. It was only Monday that I amputated a dog's tail. But that's nothing; we cut tails off every day or so. It's a society fad, you know, to have dogs with short tails. Then we clip terrier's ears, but there's not much skill in that. You would laugh if you could see some of the ladies who bring dogs here to have their tails cut. They go on terrible, and if the purp happens to yel, which, of course, it does, they stop up their ears and run away."

ONE OF MANY CASES.

"Do you allow people to see you at work?"

"No, not generally; but when these fine ladies come down nothing will do but they must see everything. Whist!
here comes one now. Just listen."

"Good morning, Mrs. H. How's your dog today?"

"Oh, doctor, Toodles is awful! Didn't sleep all night and forsook his milk and bread this morning. Please see what you can do for him!"

The dog was passed over. "It was a fat pup—so fat, in fact, that it could hardly walk. Yet it carried its pedigree tail in thoroughbred style from without a velvet coat which encircled the dog's body and was fastened underneath with tiny pink bows.

The dog doctor squeezed the pup's throat and out came his tongue.

"The dog's bilious," said the doctor, giving a knowing wink. "You've been feeding him on candy."

"Just a tiny bit, doctor. Oh! say he'll get well!"

The doctor looked thoughtful a moment and continued:

"Yes, I can cure him, but if he gets over this take my advice and don't give him any more sweets."

"I'll never do it again, doctor. Will I, Toodles?" appealing to the dog.

"Then take this box of capsules and give him one three times a day. Wait, I'll give him one now, and you can see how I do it."

Taking the dog between his legs the doctor pressed his knees about its neck and opened its mouth. Then taking a capsule in his mouth he dropped it down the dog's throat, way out of sight.

"I can never do that in the world, doctor," said the lady despairingly.
"Can't you do it in any other way?"

"You might do it in a piece of meat, but my way is the best."

"I'll try the meat way first. How much, doctor?"

"One dollar, please, and twenty-five cents for the medicine."

"My! how reasonable you are. Our family doctor charges me $2 each visit and the medicine always costs about $1.
So handing the fee over she departed with Toodles in her arms.

HOW TO FEED DOGS.

"They are the people we make a living off of," said the doctor as soon as she was out of sight. "She overfeeds her dog in the first place and stuffs him with cake and candy. A bulldog couldn't stand such treatment. The result is the dog gets sick.
Can you blame him? You'd get sick yourself.
And if he isn't treated at once he dies. Dogs should be fed but twice a day—a light breakfast and a hearty dinner."

"Puppies should not be fed oftener, but in either case never overfed. It not only makes the dog lazy but sick. Meat should never be given to puppies. It gives them distemper. A large bone now and then, however, is beneficial, as it aids teething, and when broken up and swallowed aids digestion.
Some people think a good plateau of meat is all a dog requires. Wrong again. Show me a dog brought up on meat and I'll venture to say he is worthless."

"The proper thing to feed a dog with is what you call dog cakes. They are simply the waste meat chopped up with some cornmeal and well done vegetables and baked.

"What kind of patients do dogs make?"
queried the reporter.

"Best in the world," rejoined the doctor. "It is really a pleasure to physic a dog.
You know they can't say anything, even if they do growl a little."

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 191.

QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

ONCE AGAIN, NO-LICENSE.

TO THE CITIZENS OF QUINCY:

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

For the Citizens' Temperance Committee,

THEOPHILUS KING, President.

D. M. WILSON, Secretary.

THIS WEEK ONLY!

MEN'S WORKING SHOES, - - - $1.00
BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES, - - - 1.00
MISSES' SCHOOL SHOES, - - - 1.00

ALL OTHER KINDS AT EQUALLY LOW PRICES AT THE

New Shoe Store,
 94 HANCOCK STREET, TIRRELL'S BLOCK.
 JAMES O'DONOVAN.

GRANITE CLOTHING CO.

Just as it is we've this to say,
 To Quincy we have come to stay.
 Our Line of Suits, and Coats as well,
 All others of the kind excel.

We furnish Children's Clothing, too,
 At Prices to astonish you!
 The Goods which now we show our trade
 Are all completely Tailor made.
 We Guarantee a fit complete,
 The best of Goods and Patterns neat.
 Our Fall and Winter Good are new,
 Come in and prove these statements true.

GRANITE CLOTHING CO.,

ADAMS BUILDING, QUINCY.

GEORGE N. NASH, Manager.

LARGEST STOCK! LOWEST PRICES!

Men's, Youths' and Children's
 Suits and Overcoats,
 Underwear, Shirts and Gloves, Suspenders,
 Umbrellas, &c., &c.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING CO.,

DURGIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

CITY COUNCIL.

Considerable Filibustering and Personalities.

The Sewerage Bill Not Reached Until Late.

Objection to Rushing a School Transfer Through in One Night.

Auditor Hall Reports the Bills of 1889 Paid in 1890.

Councilmen Hall, Slade and Shea to Perambulate Boundary Line.

The City Council again took up the sewerage bill last evening, but not until late, so that really no headway was made. Nearly two hours was squandered on minor matters, during which time more personalities were indulged in than at any session this year.

The attendance at roll call was unusually small, the following failing to respond: Councilmen Duffield, Faunce, Ewell, Fallon, Green, Slade and Souther. All but the first two soon entered.

The reading of the record was begun and Traverse Jurors.

Upon notification and motion, Councilman Read proceeded to draw three traverse jurors for the December court, with the following result: George W. Clapp, James Bean and Luther M. Bradbury, Jr.

Chestnut Street.

Major Porter forwarded the survey of Chestnut street, made under the direction of the commissioner, together with a communication. The proposed grade will be no material change from the present. It is proposed to carry the water through Cottage avenue, and that a paved gutter be built thereon.

Councilman Green requested the presence of Commissioner Alexander, but City Messenger Tirrell reported that he was not in the City Hall.

A motion to lay the report on the table was lost, and on motion of Councilman Ewell it was referred to the Committee on Streets.

School Transfer.

Chairman Brown, of the School Committee, requested in a communication that $150 to the credit of the appropriation for transportation of pupils be transferred to the school appropriation for salaries, fuel and care.

Councilman Thompson moved that the communication be received and placed on file, and offered an order carrying out the wish.

Councilman Green thought the order should be referred to the Committee on Finance. He was a member of that committee and had not been consulted by the chairman before offering the order. He wanted to know the necessity for the transfer, and asked if it was to insure the new Willard schoolhouse.

Councilman Thompson said the School Committee was anxious that the transfer should be made as soon as possible, for this reason he had secured the approval of a majority of the Finance Committee and introduced the order. Councilman Green would have been consulted had he been present before the meeting of the Council.

There was a cross fire between the above, during which Councilmen Slade, Jones, Fallon and Newcomb tried to facilitate matters. Finally the rules were suspended and the order ordained.

An Appropriation Gone.

Auditor Hall reported the appropriation for horse shoeing in the Fire Department exhausted. Referred to Committee on Finance.

Bills of 1889.

In pursuance of a request of the Council, Auditor Hall reported a list of the bills of 1889 which had been paid in 1890 where no balance had been left over from 1889, amounting to about $1,400.

Councilman Green contended that the report was not what was called for, in that it did not include all the bills of 1889 paid this year.

Councilmen Thompson and Auditor Hall thought the order had been complied with.

Councilman Green understood the city was carrying over bills from year to year. The Auditor had told him that the city had inherited a debt of about $14,000 from the town, which would run through five or six years.

Auditor Hall said the amount was practically correct, but denied the latter part of the statement.

A motion of Councilman Green to lay on the table was lost, and it was voted to place on file.

To Preamble.

A communication was received from the Selectmen of Braintree, saying they would preambulate the Braintree boundary Dec. 5, and requested representatives of Quincy to accompany them on the Quincy line.

A motion that the Committee on Streets represent Quincy was made, but was withdrawn and upon motion of Councilman Hall, the President appointed the following committee: Councilman Hall, Slade and Shea to accompany them on the Quincy line.

Street Franchises.

A communication was received from Mayor Hart of Boston requesting Quincy to co-operate with Boston and other cities in petitioning the Legislature to allow cities to ask compensation of private corporations for use of streets. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Ward Three Wants Ward Room.

Councilman Jones presented petition of George H. Field and others for new ward room in Ward Three. Referred to Committee on Public Buildings.

Hydrants Wanted.

Councilman Sherman presented the petition of F. A. Perkins and others for hydrant at junction of Standish and Old Colony avenues.

Councilman Wilde presented the petition of H. W. Hunt and others for hydrant at corner of Newbury and Hollis avenues. Referred to Committee on Fire Department.

Street Lights.

The Committee on Lights reported requesting the Mayor to replace the lights on Old Colony avenue. Adopted.

The same committee reported a resolve requesting the Mayor to locate two oil lights on Newbury street. Adopted.

The Public Fountain.

The Committee on Streets reported an order locating the fountain of the Village Improvement Society at the corner of Hancock and Washington streets. Ordered to second reading.

Reardon Street.

The Committee on Streets reported an order accepting Reardon street in Ward Four, and laying it out forty feet wide, and appropriating $500 to put it in condition. Ordered to second reading.

New Field Driver.

Upon motion of Councilman Jones it was voted to proceed to the election of a field driver in Ward Three. Edward Arnold was elected.

Election Returns.

Upon motion of Councilman Shea the Committee on Elections was requested to meet in City Hall, Tuesday evening, Dec. 2, to receive election returns.

Trafford Street.

In the calendar, the order to accept and lay out Trafford street was passed to be ordained.

The Sewerage Question.

Upon motion of Councilman Newcomb it was voted to take the sewerage bill from the table; Councilmen Fallon, Green, Hall and Shea voting in the negative.

The question came on adopting the committee's report.

Councilman Slade offered a substitute bill, which was recently printed in full in the LEDGER, and the question came on substitution.

Councilman Jones desired that Councilman Slade should explain his bill. He was opposed to the commission proposed—the Mayor, President of the City Council and City Treasurer. Believed these officials already had enough work. Thought it too good a chance for a ring. Would prefer the people should elect the members of the commission for one, two and three years respectively.

Councilman Slade proceeded at length to present the points of his bill. It proposed that Nut Island should be the main outlet, not leaving it discretionary with the commission. The tendency in city governments today was to avoid commissions. It was intended under his bill that the functions of the commission should cease on the selection of the plans, except that it should act in awarding damages, etc. His main points were, first, to secure a permanent office; second, to give the people a choice; and third, to give the Council a voice. Further, he did not desire to add to the office holding list. He contended the proper way to pay for it was by taxation, as was the rule outside of Massachusetts. It was not right that land owners should pay in three ways: by taxes, by assessments, and by increased valuation.

Councilman Jones and Thompson raised some points in opposition to proposed commission and the payment.

As the hour was late it was voted to lay the bill on the table.

Upon motion of Councilman Shea it will be considered in the Committee of the Whole at the next meeting, Dec. 1.

Adjourned at 10.20.

TODAY'S COURT.

The case of M. E. Walcott, of clothing club fame, came up for decision this morning. The court found him guilty, and ordered that he give bonds in the sum of $400 for his appearance at the superior criminal court at Dedham, the first Monday in December next.

Councilmen Thompson and Auditor Hall thought the order had been complied with.

Councilman Green understood the city was carrying over bills from year to year. The Auditor had told him that the city had inherited a debt of about $14,000 from the town, which would run through five or six years.

Auditor Hall said the amount was practically correct, but denied the latter part of the statement.

A motion of Councilman Green to lay on the table was lost, and it was voted to place on file.

To Preamble.

The Atlantic steamship lines have determined to put a stop to ocean racing, and the excitement of beating the record will no longer be one of the pleasures of the steamship traveler. It is doubtless just as well that this crazy amusement has come to an end.

QUINCY'S TAXABLE PROPERTY.

Below is given another instalment of the list of taxable property of the city, a certain part of a letter for each Ward being published in each issue, so that the total of a person having property in each of the Wards may be computed by interested parties. The poll tax is included in the amount of the tax. Tax rate per thousand $13.60. Today's list includes all whose surname begins with "Le" or "Li."

WARD ONE.

To Whom Taxed.	Value.	Tax.
LeFavour, A. Stock in trade,	$2,000	$27 20
Levandall, Elias. Land on Quarry street, 7,775 feet,	200	2 72
Litchman, H. Stock in trade,	100	1 36
Linnehan, Dennis. Two cows,	100
House and barn on Gass place,	650
Land, 11-100 acres,	600	20 36
Littlefield, Walter D. Two horses,	250
Four cows,	175
Wagon,	50
House on Sea street,	450
Land, 5,000 feet,	200	17 30
Livermore, George K. Money,	500
Two horses,	400
Carriages,	400
House on Spear street,	1,600
Stable,	1,200
Land, 14,315 feet,	1,400
House on Sea street,	1,600
Land, 6,616 feet,	450	104 68

WARD TWO.

Lelois, Ambrose B. Stock in trade,	100
House on River street,	750
Land, 23,310 feet,	550
Shop,	100
Marine railroad,	200
Land, 35,585 feet,	1,000	42 80
Leines, Thomas D. House on Winter street,	800
House on Winter street,	400
Land, one-half acre,	600	23 12
Lincoln, Thomas W. Money, stocks, bonds and income,	4,000
Horse and carriage,	200
Vessels,	1,000
House on Washington street,	2,000
Stable,	300
Land, 11,950 feet,	600	112 16
Litch, Eliza C. House on Waington street,	1,000
Land, 8,344 feet,	400	19 04
Litchfield, Charles L. House on South Walnut street,	800
Land, 5,000 feet,	250
House on South Walnut street,	1,000
Land, 10,077 feet,	500
House on Main street,	1,300
Land, 9,405 feet,	450	72 08

WARD THREE.

<

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)

BY—

GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50. Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, etc., will not exceed five lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion. Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 543 QUINCY.

Wonders Under a Marsh.

A remarkable discovery was recently made in the town of Oneonta, where a company is engaged in digging phosphates from the depths of a swamp. In one place the marsh is underlaid at the depth of twelve feet by an impervious stratum of blue clay, above which are found three successive and distinct eras of forest growths. The bottom layer is of deciduous trees that grow only upon lands, such as beech, oak and maple.

The second layer is of soft swamp woods, such as elder, basswood and dogwood.

The upper layer is of coniferous trees such as pine, hemlock and spruce. The puzzle to the naturalist is the finding of upland trees at the bottom of the marsh, with the trunks and larger limbs and abundant specimens of leaves and beech nuts in a good state of preservation. Another wonder unearthed by the excavations is the finding, at a point five feet below the surface and among the trunks of the coniferous trees, of a flat stone about five feet square which had been utilized as a fireplace.

The blackened stone, the large collection of ashes and cinders, and the bits of crumbling bones of animals indicate that long ago somebody cooked food there. That somebody must have been man in the strictly primitive and savage state, for no trace of any utensil or tool, not even a sharpened flint, has been found among the debris of the fire.—Albany Journal.

America the Bourne of the Emigrant.

The degree to which America offers prominent advantages to the emigrant is just now shown strikingly by the existing conditions in Iceland. It is said that that country is gradually becoming depopulated owing to the constant emigration of its people to the shores of Canada and the United States. These emigrants send back such favorable accounts of their new home that others quickly follow. It is estimated that 20,000 natives, nearly one-quarter of the whole population, have left the country in the last year. The emigrants are said to be chiefly from the northern and eastern districts, where labor is carried on only under great difficulties, besides which recent harvests have been very bad and have entailed much suffering.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Frog Child.

A child was born in Birmingham, England, on Sept. 20, which bears a strong resemblance to a frog. Its skin is warty and cold and clammy to the touch; when it cries it makes an unearthly croaking noise. There are three fingers on each hand and four toes on each foot. Besides the points enumerated it has many other characteristics of a frog, even to huge, knotty looking, lidless eyes. The parents are almost dismasted over the occurrence and hourly pray for it to die.

There are two other "frog child" cases on record, one the offspring of a Pinto squaw in Nevada, which was born about ten years since, the other a monstrosity which first saw the light of day at Goshen, Ind., in January, 1889.—St. Louis Republic.

The Age of Indian Outbreaks Is Past.

There is not the smallest danger of a serious Indian outbreak in the northwest. The conditions existing in this region have been entirely changed by the building of railroads and the establishment of means of rapid communication among posts. It is quite impossible to organize an Indian outbreak under the eye of the agent on reservations without the conspiracy becoming known. With existing means of communication and transit an outbreak could be crushed in its incipiency by a rapid concentration of troops. There are elements which might once have been dangerous in the situation at Standing Rock—a heaven sent prophet and a meddling woman—but the age of Indian outbreaks is past.

Portland Oregonian.

Dead in the Saddle.

A special from Payson, U. T., says John Bolton accidentally killed himself while going horseback from Payson to Salem. In the middle of the forenoon he left town to visit his sister in Salem, taking with him a double barreled shotgun, with which he shot himself. He was found on horseback with half the right side of his head blown off. He was sitting in the saddle leaning his head over the horse's neck. Apparently the horse had not moved since the gun exploded. It is believed that he had been dead in the saddle two hours.—Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

Sent to State Prison.

TAUNTON, Mass., Nov. 25.—Dr. James Larcom of Fall River pleaded guilty to performing a criminal operation in the superior court. He was fined $500 and sentenced to six years in the state prison. Elizabeth Court pleaded guilty as accessory, and was released on her own recognizance in $1000.

Was Punished and Friends.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A handsome young girl named Jessie Adams has committed suicide here by taking bromide of potassium. She formerly worked in a Hennings dry goods store, but had been out of work for a considerable time and had no money. Being pressed by her landlady for money, she killed herself.

Count Karoly's Secret.

BUDAPEST, Nov. 25.—Count Julius Karoly has died from cancer of the tongue. He kept his complaint a secret from everybody, including the members of his family, until the last.

Ten Little Boxes of Ceylon tea, each weighing five pounds, were sold by auction in London recently at the extraordinary price of $7.62 per pound. It was a very rare variety known as "choicest golden tipped pekoe." The leaf was small, but literally blazed with golden yellow.

The act passed by the last legislature of Manitoba abolishing the separate schools, has been affirmed in the courts. The Catholics will carry the case to England.

The women of Boston do not wear gimp and calico shoes and carry broad-cloth reticules bulging with manuscript and leaflets of transcendental philosophy. Anna Whitney is the vice president of the St. Bernard club, of Massachusetts, and knows as much about dogology and dogdom as any breeder in the country. She can size up a dog at a glance. At the recent dog show in Detroit, Mich., Miss Whitney was one of the judges. As understood by this canine connoisseur, "Go to the dogs" is not a saw, but a proverb. Instead of a reproach, she claims the meaning has been distorted by abbreviation, "Go to the dogs for a lesson in patience, love, fidelity and sagacity" is her interpretation of the old adage.—Exchange

Louis Fagan, master of prints in the British museum, is on his way to this country on a tour of the world. He will lecture on the treasures of the British museums while on his travels.

A tunnel to Prince Edward island across Northumberland straits, a distance of six and a half miles, is the next great engineering feat talked of in Canada.

Wilkins—Is he cross?

Wilkins—No. I can't spare him.—

York Weekly.

A Valuable Dog.

Billings—Bothered by a piano door, eh? Well, I have a dog which ways howls when my wife plays piano—howls so she has to stop, and let you have him if it wasn't for thing.

Wilkins—Is he cross?

Wilkins—No. I can't spare him.—

York Weekly.

Webster.

World Wide.

In Quincy and vicinity—On Fields—Births and Deaths and World Wide

WHICH HAPPENED ON

1123—William of Normandy, son of Henry I, of England, and 140 noblemen overthrown by a plot in the English channel.

1615—Marriage of Louis XIV with Anne of Austria, of France.

1745—Death of Isaac Watts, author of hymns; born 1674.

1764—Death of William Hogarth, famous English painter; born

1775—Birth of George Washington, first president of the United States.

1783—Memorial services in mebership.

Reading Browning in Massachusetts.

The most devoted and uncompromising worshippers of Robert Browning live in Springfield, and, of course, they are women. They gathered at the home of a well known lawyer, and listened with rap and sullen attention to selections from the great poet as read by the lawyer's wife. At length the reader paused to learn if there might be any ennius on the part of the audience.

"It is exquisite," murmured the Brownings in concert, and the reading proceeded.

Again the hostess paused, solicitors, and asked her guests if they were sure they liked it. "Oh, yes," was the chorus, "it is beautiful."

"But do you understand it?" asked Mrs. Lawyer: "I can't make anything out of it."

"Why, yes," responded the Brownings.

"It is delightful!"

The wicked reader coolly informed the enthusiasts that she had been reading the poems backward for half an hour.

The name of this practical joker may be learned on inquiry of almost any member of Springfield ("society").—Springfield (Mass.) Homestead.

Women in Hotels.

"The most desperate creature on earth," said the clerk of a well known

uptown hotel, "is a woman from out of town in a hotel bedroom on a wet

Sunday. There is absolutely nothing to do, the confinement is almost intolerable,

and the isolation of her lot is made

unusually painful by the fact that so much is going on all around her from which she is debared. Men come to town with their wives or daughters,

leave them at 7 in the morning, and go off to attend to business. The ramifications and extraordinary character of the "business" undertaken by rural visitors is one of those things which no man can accurately gauge. It is certain, however, that the western merchants are out of the hotel pretty much all the time from 8 in the morning till 12 at night.

Sometimes they come in to take their meals with the women of their party, but not infrequently they leave them entirely to their own resources."—New York Tribune.

A Home Society for Girls.

At last New York is to have a home—

a free, respectable American home, where young women out of employment can find shelter, sympathy and substitute aid. The institution is to be the same sort of a place as a public school, with no more charity, religion, politics or restrictions, and will be supported and maintained by the French Evangelical church of the city of New York. The certificate of incorporation has been filed by the county clerk's office and the work of establishment will begin at once, the board of managers including Mrs. Lena Roberts, Mrs. Caroline Leclercq, Mrs.

Marie Grosjean, Mrs. Emilie Swyeffort,

the Rev. H. L. Grandineau and Mr. J.

E. Roberts.

Women in Hotels.

"The most desperate creature on earth," said the clerk of a well known

uptown hotel, "is a woman from out of town in a hotel bedroom on a wet

Sunday. There is absolutely nothing to do, the confinement is almost intolerable,

and the isolation of her lot is made

unusually painful by the fact that so much is going on all around her from which she is debared. Men come to town with their wives or daughters,

leave them at 7 in the morning, and go

off to attend to business. The ramifica-

the hundreds of women who can do, has ever tried to do, and there are women in Kansas who want rights with men. The signs are that they ask will be conceded when they have taken charge of the schools, and no state in the Union. They are members of school county and city superintendents. They lead in the educational prohibition movement.

They are making no noisy or threatening for equal rights. They are showing by what they do that the equal of man and that their hands would not only be wisely used for the betterment and development of a state coming to the front with greater than any other in the Union.—Chicago Tribune.

Brownings in Massachusetts.

They gathered at the home of lawyer, and listened with painful attention to selections read by the law.

At length the reader paused there might be any emoji on the audience. "It is exquisitely Brownings in and the reading proceeded. Hostess paused, solicitous, and guests if they were sure they "Oh, yes," was the chorus, "it." "But do you understand Mrs. Lawyer? "I can't make out it." "Why, yes, we did it perfectly," was the assurance. It is so delightful that we to hear some more." Then reader coolly informed the that she had been reading backward for half an hour of this practical joker may be inquiry of almost any member of society."—Springfield newspaper.

Women in Hotels.

most desperate creature on the clerk of a well known hotel, "is a woman from out a hotel bedroom on a wet day; there is absolutely nothing to torment her is almost intolerable isolation of her lot is made painful by the fact that so on all around her from is debared. Men come to their wives or daughters, at 7 in the morning, and go to business. The ramifications of the undertaking by rural visitors to things which no man can range. It is certain, however, western merchants are out pretty much all the time the morning till 12 at night. They come in to take their the women of their party, frequently they leave them their own resources."—New re of a Well Known Woman.

last week a customer in one Brooklyn dry goods stores for her turn to be served the woman who was the attention of the clerk at the time was nothing about her second glance. She looked over 60 years of age, her hair gray, though not white, and eyes, rather dark eyes looked colorless, unimpressive face. She was short and small, and the time she wore was simple.

Yet when she gave her address for a parcel to be sent said that this little woman of appearance was one whose son years ago was in every from one end of the country, and whose personality was almost as well known.

She was Mrs. Theodore New York Times.

u's Pretty Daughters.

young women these Misses Pullman, of the of the world, because, home is in Chicago, they many people in Boston, New York, Paris and Vienna as in . They walk as erectly as ards. They are superbly their clothing is not in any

They are both tall, being six feet in height; have clear skin and constitutions by judicious work in the They are seen very often in this city, go to the theater, and are known in many houses on Fifth avenue.

their time at the Windsor never they visit this city is eagerly besought by

of the best families.—New cago News.

Boston Women.

of Boston do not wear calves shoes and carry broads bulging with manufac

ments of transcendent

Anna Whitney is the vice

the St. Bernard club, of

, and knows as much and dogdom as any country. She can size up time. At the recent dog

at Mich., Miss Whitney

judges. As understood commeur. "Go to the

but a proverb. In

she claims the mean distorted by abbreviation.

for a lesson in patience, and sagacity" is her inter

the old adage.—Exchange

newspaper.

Master of Prints in the is on his way to this the world. He will treasures of the British on his travels.

Prince Edward island

a distance of a half miles, is the next ingfeat talked of in the old adage.—Exchange

newspaper.

A Valuable Dog.

Billings—Bothered by a piano next door, eh? Well, I have a dog which always howls when my wife plays the piano—howls so she has to stop, and I'd let you have him if it wasn't for one thing.

Wilkins—Is he cross?

Billings—No, I can't spare him.—New York Weekly.

granulated sugar cubes.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Leverett's Store, Quincy
Southern's Store, Adams Building, Quincy
McGovern Bros.' Store, Copeland Street, Quincy Granite Store, Jones' Corner, Quincy Point
Miss Barnes' Store, Quincy Point
Post Office, Wollaston, Braintree
Depot, Henry B. Vinton, Weymouth
M. K. Pratt

Today's Almanac—November 25.

High water at 10:00 A. M. and 10:30 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:45; Sets at 4:15.
Moon sets 5:36.
Full Moon Nov. 26.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by Ledger Reporters.Clan McGregor ball tomorrow night.
Schools close tonight for the remainder of the week.

Will you visit or entertain on Thanksgiving day?

The boys were skating on Green's pond, Wollaston, Monday morning.

There will be no edition of the DAILY LEDGER on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Josiah Sparrow of Wollaston, has returned from a visit to Georgia.

Mr. Frank W. White took possession, Monday, of his new residence on Winthrop avenue, Wollaston.

Charles F. Merrick of the Quincy school will send his vacation at Lawrence, and Miss Mary Prescott of the same school at Natick.

Mt. Wollaston Lodge, I. O. O. F., work the initiatory degree upon one candidate and the third degree upon three candidates tonight.

Hancock street was open to the public yesterday between Squantum and Atlantic streets, and closed between Atlantic street and the bridge.

The society event of the week will be the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Evans and Mr. Horace A. Spear, at the Congregational church this evening, at eight o'clock.

The rumor that J. O. Burdett, Esq., chairman of the State Republican committee had died suddenly at his home in Hingham this morning, is unfounded.

Cards are out for an "At home" to be given by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cortell of Wollaston, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Badger, on Tuesday evening, December 2.

Jack Galvin celebrated last evening, and in the course of his celebration smashed seven panes of glass valued at $5.25 in the house of Mrs. Mary Galvin on Lawyer's lane.

The Sunday school and society of King's Sons of the Memorial church, Atlantic, took up their usual collection Sunday, for the benefit of the Boston City Missionary society.

Six of the Berkeley Temple, Y. P. S. C. E., of Boston, conducted the services at the Memorial church, Atlantic, on Sunday evening. The address being made by Alvah R. Bryant.

T. J. Foley who cut his knee quite badly some weeks ago, from which he was confined to his home some weeks, came out last week, and taking a violent cold is again confined to his home.

Court 25, M. C. O. Foresters, hold their regular meeting tonight at Engine hall, Ward four. Much enthusiasm is being manifested among the members, and a number of new names will be added to the membership this winter.

The Memorial church of Atlantic, Evangelical of Quincy Centre, Washington street of Quincy Point, and the Presbyterian of South Quincy will unite in a union service at Rev. Edward Norton's church, Thanksgiving morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. J. H. Yeoman will deliver the sermon which will be appropriate to the day.

The north eastern district of the Swedish Lutheran Mission holds its next official meeting in Plumer's hall Tuesday and Wednesday this week. Tonight Rev. Mr. Johnson from Manchester, N. H. will preach. Subject: Missions. At three o'clock tomorrow afternoon there will be a general discussion, and in the evening there will be short addresses by several pastors of the district. Friends are invited.

The Wollaston Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle, meet with Miss Florence G. Roberts. Interesting papers on the various religious denominations, were prepared by Mrs. A. E. Rhodes, Congregationalist; Presbyterians, Miss E. L. Nesbit; Methodist, Mr. Herbert Brown; Episcopal, Miss Nan L. Jones; Lutheran, Mr. Clayton Freeman; Quakers, Mr. A. E. Rhodes and Universalist, Miss Florence G. Roberts.

Claim Back Pay.

A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of citizens, formerly employed as granite cutters by the government, who claim back pay under the eight hour law, was held at Faxon hall Monday evening.

John Coyle was president and A. E. Baxter secretary.

The following committee was chosen to further their object by presenting a petition to Congress: Timothy Callahan, Alex. B. Smith, Joseph Walker, Edward Powers, Thomas Davidson, John Bissett, Michael Duncan, John McGilvry, Joseph Tremain and the chairman and secretary ex-officio.

A mass meeting will soon be held, to which all persons interested will be invited to attend.

THE LICENSE QUESTION.

Review of the Vote in Past Years—A Reduced Majority.

On Tuesday next this city will again vote on the question of granting licenses for the ensuing year. Last December the "No" majority was 544, the vote standing: No, 1162; Yes, 618. A total of 2112 votes were cast, and therefore 332 did not vote on this question.

The majority was the smallest since 1885, and it behoves the law and order people to see that it is not further reduced.

Below is a summary of the vote for several years:

Year.	No.	Yes.	Total.	Majority.	Silent.
1882	1037	437	1514	600	75
1883	1086	438	1544	628	126
1884	1067	407	1474	660	200
1885	1002	510	1512	492	200
1886	1017	238	1275	759	325
1887	1071	279	1350	792	425
1888	1064	293	1337	771	569
1889	1394	458	1852	936	414
	1162	618	1780	544	332

East Braintree's Gain.

Our friends in East Braintree are gratified in having Commodore James Hall for a neighbor. As he has bought the house he occupies, they are encouraged to hope that he has come to stay. He and his family may be assured that they are met with the kindest feelings and a most cordial welcome.

He was 80 years old on the Fourth of July last, having been born in Pittston, near Augusta, Maine. He first went to sea at the age of thirteen, and for fifty-eight years his home was on the "mountain wave." It is remarkable that in all those years he was present from any shipwreck or accident. He had command of many sailing ships and visited many parts of the world. For twenty years he commanded ocean steamers in the Pacific, chiefly between Panama and Valparaiso. These steamers were owned by the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, and for three of these years he was commodore of their fleet which at one time numbered seventy-five.

From this company he has received gratifying notices of their entire satisfaction with his services, and of their high appreciation of him personally.

After so much of a life of activity and adventure, it must be pleasant, "through the loopholes of retreat," to look abroad over the wide, wild—Gazette.

MAYORALTY CANDIDATES.

The Method Pursued in Various Massachusetts Cities.

Twenty municipalities in this Commonwealth hold their local elections on Tuesday, December 2, and a glance at the head of their several tickets makes an interesting study to one well versed in politics. Some cities nominate two candidates, some three, and others only one. Quincy nominates a Republican and Democratic candidate as they did in the days of town government, the question as to whether this is the best policy for a city of this kind to adopt is a question. Some people argue, and perhaps wisely, that the best way in the selection of the mayor is for the citizens to throw parties one side and unite and elect one man who would be known as a citizens' candidate. Haverhill and Malvern have done this, and they are both thriving and prosperous cities.

Others believe that the best results are obtained by each party putting forth its best man, and this class of voters seem to have the largest following, for we find that Chicopee, Fall River, Holyoke, Marlboro and Pittsfield, nominate two candidates, namely a Republican and Democrat; Brockton a Labor and Citizen, Independent and Republican; New Bedford and Independent Citizen, Prohibitionist and Citizen; Lawrence a Republican, Prohibitionist and Democrat; Gloucester a Republican, Independent and Democrat; Chelsea a Republican, Prohibitionist and Democrat; Fitchburg an Independent, Temperance and Citizen; Woburn a Citizen, Republican and Democrat and Independent Democrat; Springfield a Republican, Independent and Democrat; Northampton a Prohibitionist, Republican and Citizen; Newton a Citizen and Republican; Walham a Republican and Independent; Somerville a Citizen and Independent; Taunton a Citizen and Republican, and Independent; Cambridge a Citizen and Democrat and a Temple Hall.

It will thus be seen that eleven cities have nominated a citizen candidate, eight Independent, five a Prohibitionist, seventeen a Republican, twelve a Democrat and one a labor candidate.

WEYMOUTH.

Wednesday evening, Division 9, A. O. H. will hold its fourteenth annual concert and ball at Reynold's hall. The concert will be given by the Boston Star Opera company, who will present the opera "Sleeping Queen."

The Unitarians hold their regular fortnightly sociable at Mason's hall, this evening.

The King's Daughters, of Weymouth, hold a chocolate festival in the parlors of the Union church, this evening.

The Ladies' Appleton quartette gives the concert in the co-operative course at Foggs' Opera House, South Weymouth, this evening.

South Shore Commandery conferred the Red Cross degree upon two candidates last evening; oysters were served at the close of the meeting.

An Irish Legend.

Among the legends of Ireland is this beautiful and suggestive myth—the islands of life and death. In a certain lake in Munster there were two islands. Into the first death could never enter, but age and sickness, and the weariness of life and the paroxysms of fearfulness—all were there known, and they did their work till the inhabitants, tired of their immortality, learned to look upon the opposite island as upon a haven of repose. They launched their bark upon the gloomy waters, they touched its shore and they were at rest. This legend represents with pathetic fidelity the sad Erin of today, looking over to Atlantis across the sea—America, the haven of repose, the shores of rest. Of the four and one-half millions of Irish people now left in Ireland it is safe to say 50 per cent, have an ambition some day to see the land of the free and the home of Yankee Doodle.—Cor. Lewiston Journal.

Texas One-Tenth the Country.

A great many people want to know how large Texas is in area. They look quite a number of alleged statistical abstracts and never find the same figures in two of them. The official figures of Texas area are 252,696 square miles—equal to about 9.9 per cent. of the entire area of the United States and territories. Texas is six times larger than New York, seven times as large as Ohio, and 100,000 square miles larger than all the eastern and middle states, including Delaware and Maryland. Compared with the countries of Europe she has 34,000 square miles more than the Austrian empire, 62,000 more than the German empire, and nearly 70,000 square miles more than France.—Texas Trade Journal.

Wade Wilfong, colored, thrashed a school teacher in Pasquotank county, N. C., in ante-bellum days, and had to skip out. He settled at Sedalia, Mo., later, and having since got rich is now on a visit to his old home to buy the plantation on which he worked as a slave.

A new material called rubber velvet is made by sprinkling powdered felt of any color over rubber cloth while the latter is hot and soft. The result looks like felt cloth, but is elastic, waterproof and exceedingly light.

Keep the back, especially between the shoulder blades, well covered; also the chest well protected. In sleeping in a cold room establish the habit of breathing the nose, and never with the mouth open.

DIED.

HAMILTON—In Milton, Nov. 24, Mr. George W. Hamilton, aged 66 years and 9 months.

A BEGGARS' SOCIETY.

A SYNDICATE COMPOSED OF THE MENDICANTS OF PARIS.

Twenty municipalities in this Commonwealth hold their local elections on Tuesday, December 2, and a glance at the head of their several tickets makes an interesting study to one well versed in politics. Some cities nominate two candidates, some three, and others only one. Quincy nominates a Republican and Democratic candidate as they did in the days of town government, the question as to whether this is the best policy for a city of this kind to adopt is a question. Some people argue, and perhaps wisely, that the best way in the selection of the mayor is for the citizens to throw parties one side and unite and elect one man who would be known as a citizens' candidate. Haverhill and Malvern have done this, and they are both thriving and prosperous cities.

Others believe that the best results are obtained by each party putting forth its best man, and this class of voters seem to have the largest following, for we find that Chicopee, Fall River, Holyoke, Marlboro and Pittsfield, nominate two candidates, namely a Republican and Democrat; Brockton a Labor and Citizen, Independent and Republican; New Bedford and Independent Citizen, Prohibitionist and Citizen; Lawrence a Republican, Prohibitionist and Democrat; Gloucester a Republican, Independent and Democrat; Chelsea a Republican, Prohibitionist and Democrat; Fitchburg an Independent, Temperance and Citizen; Woburn a Citizen, Republican and Democrat and Independent Democrat; Springfield a Republican, Independent and Democrat; Northampton a Prohibitionist, Republican and Citizen; Newton a Citizen and Republican; Walham a Republican and Independent; Somerville a Citizen and Independent; Taunton a Citizen and Republican, and Independent; Cambridge a Citizen and Democrat and a Temple Hall.

It will thus be seen that eleven cities have nominated a citizen candidate, eight Independent, five a Prohibitionist, seventeen a Republican, twelve a Democrat and one a labor candidate.

The headquarters is a large wine shop known as "La Cave" at 38 Rue Montorgueil, a main street running almost due north from the middle of the Central markets. When we arrived the place was still crowded, and presented a striking spectacle. In the doorways, dams, walls, and overgrown and overgrown with fungus and clouds of cobwebs, a black roof of bare beams, the many recesses filled with sticks and boxes and broken furniture, was only one large flamed smoking oil lamp, which threw a dim light on a crowd of evil looking men and women.

There was then a fibbled topped rotten table resting obliquely on shaky legs, surrounded by men, women and children, all showing the brands and stains of vice in its various stages. On the ground, the bare earth, were sitting, lying or huddled together scores more of women and children.

KEEPING TRACK OF MEMBERS.

With three of their leaders we sat in a partitioned corner and let them become gradually, not merely loquacious, but arrogantly communicative. It was their day of reunion. Every Wednesday, from 10 p. m. till 12, all the members of the syndicate meet at La Cave for the distribution of the week's money. Daily they hand over to the appointed president and treasurer their gathering. They number several hundred, and every man and woman's post has a fixed or approximated value, which must be realized.

Should there be any falling off or any suspected discrepancy the post is given to a more capable person. There have been cases of what our informant called embezzlement, but the members of the syndicate were always found out and punished. It would be difficult for any member of the association with subversive ideas to dispose of any sum retained.

If he squandered it on the road home it would be known at once, and he would know what fate waited him in La Cave. If he were suspected of secreting any coins he would be quickly stripped, searched and, if found guilty, sent to a more distant prison. He might even be flogged, and then worse if he went to any of the syndicate's stations. He would have the treatment dealt to any other outsider who intruded on the reserved hunting grounds.

The syndicate has a variety of systems in dealing with the collections of its members. In several cases, especially for well known frequenters of a particular site, it levies contributions of a fixed sum per week, in which the syndicate allows a right to deduct fees from the members. The protege of many regular patrons finds this to his advantage.

HOW THE MONEY IS CARED FOR.

In general the sums collected are divided in a very equal proportion, a few receiving an extra percentage pro rata on their drawings. A certain percentage is retained for general expenses of the syndicate and for the reserve fund. There is no sick or burial fund—the sick being best able to beg and having the free hospitals at their service. The reserve fund is being set aside for the purchase of shares and bonds. It is safe in the hands of a small committee, but a difficulty of the syndicate arises in finding a suitable manager.

The more responsible members, who had gone home immediately after the distribution, had many of them very considerable savings. All of these are lodged in the syndicate's funds. Any member could withdraw his money and retire when he had amassed sufficient for any likely object. The usual desire of the economical mendicant, like that of all Parisians, is to get together enough to enable him to buy a small cottage in the country, and live thereafter on a quantity, or, preferably, rank as a ronier or independent person retired on a competency.

A VETERAN BEGGER.

While we were talking an old man whom we all knew by sight as a habitual seeker of charity on the Boulevard des Italiens in the evenings and on the Place de la Bourse in the forenoon, came in and stood at the zinc counter counting out some money to the proprietor there. He then came over to me and said, "Sir, I am going to over another louis—about £2 10s. in all—from one of our companions. That was his share for the week, and he grumbled at it. He drank one or two glasses of wine and left us. The man who had paid him told us the old fellow was always discontented, though he was one of the richest members of the association.

There was an old gentleman who was well known for many years and bore the epithet distinction of an effete marmalade—one of the oldest in France—we were assured, cleaned about £10 a week. He had been a member of the syndicate, which of course guarded him against all competition, and out of his drawings he received £2 plus 20 per cent. from £2 to £3, and 50 per cent. on all between £3 to £4. His share amounted to over £3 10s. a week nearly all the year round. He is now in his eighties.

The "money losers" form a recognized branch of the profession. These are usually children or young female recruits from the country, who bemoan pitifully a supposititious half sovereign which a big man knocked out of their hand as they were going a message. The crowd collects and aids to search the gutter. When the weeping damsels begin to talk of a hard hearted man and a bad wife in the Seine as all that is left for her the weeping becomes practical, and one effusive blue blouse which gives out of the sweat of his brow the first silver coin to make up the lost amount. Then the crowd disperses, patting itself on the back for its tenderness of heart toward the afflicted.

A fruitful Family Tree.

Flossie—I've got three grandmamas. Kitte (a lambord's little one)—That's nothing. I heard papa say he had ten suns.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

QUINCY'S TAXABLE PROPERTY.

[Continued from First Page.]

Lincoln, Daniel B.	House on Safford street,	2,300

<tbl_r cells="3" ix="4" maxcspan="

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 192.

QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

ONCE AGAIN, NO-LICENSE.

TO THE CITIZENS OF QUINCY:

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

For the Citizens' Temperance Committee,

THEOPHILUS KING, President.

D. M. WILSON, Secretary.

tf

THIS WEEK ONLY!

MEN'S WORKING SHOES,	- - -	$1.00
BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES,	- - -	1.00
MISSSES' SCHOOL SHOES,	- - -	1.00

ALL OTHER KINDS AT EQUIALLY LOW PRICES AT THE

New Shoe Store,
94 HANCOCK STREET, TIRRELL'S BLOCK.
JAMES O'DONOVAN.

GRANITE CLOTHING CO.

Just as it is we've this to say,
To Quincy we have come to stay.
Our Line of Suits, and Coats as well,
All others of the kind excel.

We furnish Children's Clothing, too,
At Prices to astonish you!
The Goods which now we show our trade
Are all completely Tailor made.

We Guarantee a fit complete,
The best of Goods and Patterns neat.
Our Fall and Winter Good are new,
Come in and prove these statements true.

GRANITE CLOTHING CO.,

ADAMS BUILDING, QUINCY.

GEORGE N. NASH, Manager.

LARGEST STOCK! LOWEST PRICES!

Men's, Youths' and Children's
Suits and Overcoats,
Underwear, Shirts and Gloves, Suspenders,
Umbrellas, &c., &c.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING CO.

DURGIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

A CHARMING AFFAIR.

Church Wedding of Mr. Horace A. Spear, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Evans.

It was a charming wedding that took place last evening at the Congregational church, when Miss Elizabeth Evans, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, and Mr. Horace A. Spear, Jr. of Walpole, were united in marriage in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

The altar was profusely decorated with smilax and flowers, of which chrysanthemums of every hue, held the place of honor.

To the strains of the Wedding March from "Velent," played by Mr. C. T. Reed, the organist, the bridal party entered by the center aisle; the bride leaning upon the arm of her father, being preceded by the four ushers, Messrs. Joseph Sampson and Joseph Smith of Walpole, Alfred Sampson and Rueben Elliott of this city, the two bridesmaids Miss Mary Evans, sister of the bride, and Miss Gracie A. Spear, sister of the groom, and the maid of honor Miss Katie E. Evans sister of the bride. Arriving at the altar the party was met by the groom and groomsman, Mr. A. Frank Sherman of Barnstable, a cousin of the groom. The marriage ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. Edward Norton, the bride being given away by her father. Mendelssohn's Wedding march was played as the bridal party went out.

The bride looked like a Dresden figure in her exquisite costume of cream faille silk, trimmed with cream lace and long white tulle bridal veil with a large bouquet of white bridal roses. The two bridesmaids wore cream cashmere, and the maid of honor a light blue cashmere, and each carried a bouquet of roses.

Following the marriage service a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 24 Copeland street, at which a large number of guests were present, and at which Mr. and Mrs. John Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Horace A. Spear, parents of the bride and groom, assisted in receiving. An elegant collation was served throughout the evening by Caterer Wales, the tables being tastefully decorated with flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Spear left on the 10.20 train, and after a short honeymoon trip will take up their residence in Walpole, where Mr. Spear is engaged in the hardware business.

They were the recipients of many costly and beautiful gifts from their large circle of friends, among which was an elegant piano lamp, several handsomely framed pictures, half dozen china after-dinner coffee, cake baskets, silver tea, berry, sugar and dessert spoons, silver knives and forks, fruit knives, butter dish, pie fork, pickle jar, set of carvers, rags, hand-painted tides, several beautiful jardinières, two handsome French clocks with bronze ornaments, easy chairs, glassware and ornaments without number, all of which will help beautify their new home.

Mrs. Spear was a member of the Congregational church and Sunday school, and had a large circle of friends, with whom we unite in wishing her much happiness and prosperity in the new life which she has voluntarily assumed.

WEYMOUTH.

A social dance for the benefit of the Ladies' F. L. T. Circle will be held at Odd Fellows' Opera house, Thanksgiving night, to which all Odd Fellows are invited to attend.

The Union Thanksgiving service at Weymouth Landing will be held this evening at the Union church. Rev. Oliver Huckle will preach the sermon, and the music will be by the combined church choirs.

The Hawthorn club hold a select dancing party at Odd Fellows' hall, South Weymouth, this evening.

The drill squad of James L. Bates, Camp 36, S. V., are to have a practice shoot on East Street, Thanksgiving morning.

Miss Carrie Ahern and Mr. P. J. Corrigan, both of Weymouth, were united in marriage, Tuesday, at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Rev. J. J. Murphy performing the ceremony.

The funeral of Charles Branch was held Tuesday, from the Unitarian church, Rev. W. S. Key, P. D., of Wollaston Lodge, officiating. Pilgrim Lodge met at its hall, and accompanied by a delegation from Wollaston, Merry Mount and John A. Andrew lodges, with P. D., T. J. Evans as marshal, escorted the remains to the church, where the Knights of Honor burial service was rendered by D. J. T. Stephens and Chaplain W. P. Rice, the church choir rendering the following selections: "Cast Thy Bread on the Waters" and "Lead Me Gently Home, Father." The remains were then escorted to the East Weymouth cemetery and placed in the receiving tomb, Messrs. O. T. Pratt, A. J. Osgood, Thos. Coleran and W. H. White acting as bearers.

Warner P. Daley, LEDGER agent at Weymouth, was presented yesterday by his wife with a seven pound girl baby.

Secretary Tracy has issued an order that hereafter, until July 4, 1891, the union of the national ensign and the Union Jack used in the naval service shall be composed of five rows of seven stars and one row of eight stars to provide for the addition of the five new States of North and South Dakota, Montana, Washington and Idaho. In the arrangement space is left for the addition of another star to represent Wyoming, which will be added next Fourth of July.

LAST YEAR'S VOTE.

Major Porter Had Plurality in Five Wards

—A Total of 193.

Frequent inquiries are heard as to the vote for Mayor in this city in 1889, either the total vote or that of some particular ward. For convenience, the vote for each candidate and the plurality by wards is given below:

Ward One,	Porter.	Witham.	Porter's plurality.
223	233	164	69
193	193	157	36
210	144	66	44
205	264	—	—
146	84	62	24
112	93	19	74
1,099	906	183	216

* 59 plurality for Witham.

The study of the above will prove interesting when compared with the vote for Governor at the recent State election:

Brackett.	Russell.	Russell's plurality.
228	216	—
181	183	2
185	217	32
152	381	229
166	96	70
93	112	19
1,005	1,205	200

* 12 for Brackett.

† 70 for Brackett.

At the first thought it would appear that the Republican plurality in the city election of 1889 had been overthrown and the Democrats would have an easy victory, but there are some doubts about this as another comparison will show.

Nov. 1888—Russell's (D) plurality,	24
Dec. 1888—Porter's (R) plurality,	275
Nov. 1889—Russell's (D) plurality,	236
Dec. 1889—Porter's (R) plurality,	193
Nov. 1890—Russell's (D) plurality,	200

Wheaton Seminary Club.

The New England Wheaton Seminary Club, a social and literary organization made up of former students, principals and teachers of that honored institution, which was one of the pioneer efforts towards the higher education of women, is now one of the largest clubs for women among the many which have their headquarters in Boston. The membership is drawn from all New England, and though many interested come long distances to attend the meetings held at the Thorndike, on the second Saturday of each month during the season, yet it must be a stormy day indeed when less than a hundred and twenty-five are present. A business meeting, luncheon, social hour and literary exercises make up the usual programme for these meetings, and the topics discussed range through art, literature and music to topics of the time and domestic economy.

From the little year-book of the Club which has just been received, we learn that Mrs. Estelle M. H. Merrill "Jean Kincaid" of the Boston Globe, is president of this Club, while among the members is Lucy Larcom, the poet, a former teacher in the school and the founder of the "Rushlight," the clever school paper and organ of this Association. Miss Eloise A. Hersey, the well known critic and writer, now the lecturer on literature at the Seminary, is also a member; with Mrs. D. A. Lincoln of Cooking School fame, and many others as well known.

No more NEW STATES. No more new states will be admitted for several years, and the flag of forty-four stars after next Fourth of July will not soon be changed. Arizona has applied for admission, but it has too small population, even less than Idaho, which was admitted last session. Utah and New Mexico have not the quality of population requisite for statehood. Mormon influence predominates in the first and Mexican influence in the other.

WE WANT TO LET.

WANTED—By a young girl a situation to assist in a store or office.

Apply at LEDGER OFFICE.

Quincy, Nov. 24.

3 mos.

Congress mill meet again one week from next Monday.

TAKEN from in front of my residence on November 23rd, a Ruby football.

Bethel and receive reward. LEWIS BASS.

Quincy, Nov. 26-31.

LEWIS BURNS.

JOHN E. BURNS.

29-1w.

TO LET.

IN French's building, Chestnut church, descript. rooms up one flight.

Suitable for Dressmaker, Tailor or Barber.

Apply at Bussell's Studio, Adams building.

11-1f.

SAVILLE & JONES.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—Desirable estates and choice building lots in all parts of the city on easy terms; also houses and business rooms

To Let. GEORGE H. BROWN & CO.,

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance

Agents, Adams Building, Quincy, N. 19-1f.

ROBERTSON HALL, QUINCY,

ON THANKSGIVING AFTERNOON AND EVENING, NOV. 22, Grand Carnival of Novelty.

Our Study is to please the Masses.

Our Hall is to amuse the Young.

Our Stage is to excite the Fancy.

Our Pictures are to instruct the Mind.

Our Games are to amuse the Children.

Our Shows are to interest the People.

Our Performances are to amuse the People.

Our Exhibitions are to interest the People.

Our Pictures are to instruct the Mind.

Our Games are to amuse the Children.

Our Shows are to interest the People.

Our Performances are to amuse the People.

Our Exhibitions are to interest the People.

Our Pictures are to instruct the Mind.

Our Games are to amuse the Children.

Our Shows are to interest the People.

Our Performances are to amuse the People.

Our Exhibitions are to interest the People.

Our Pictures are to instruct the Mind.

Our Games are to amuse the Children.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED),— BY —
GREEN & PRESCOTT,
115 HANCOCK STREET.
FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one word, $1.00; one line, 25 cents; short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.

Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE. 54-3 QUINCY.

VERSES OF THE SEASON.

Walt Whitman's Thanks.
Thanks in old age—thanks I go,
For health, the midday sun, the impulsive air—
life, mere life,
For precious ever lingering memories (of you, and your wife, and father—you, brothers, sisters, friends).
For all my days—no those of peace alone—the days of war,
For gentle words, caresses, gifts from foreign lands,
For shelter, wine and meat—for sweet appreciation, (You distant, dim unknown—or young, or old—countless, unspecified, beloved, Wealth, health, love, and life, and yet our souls embrace, long, close and long);
For beings, groups, love, deeds, words, books—
for colors, forms,
For all the brave young men—devoted, hardy Lads who've forward sprung in freedom's help, all lands,
For braver, stronger, more devoted men—(a special laurel are we to life's war's chosen ones).
The cannoneers of song and thought—the great artillerymen—the foremost leaders, capture the soul);
As soldier from an ended war return'd—As traveler ever out of myriad, to the long procession returning.
Thanks—joyful thanks!—a soldier's, traveler's thanks.

—Walt Whitman in New York World.

The American Feast.

BEFORE THE THANKSGIVING DINNER.
Happy, happy man!
Tripping gayly 'long the street,
Loaded down with titbits sweet,
Loaded down with turkey fat,
Delicates and all that—
Happy, happy man!AFTER THE THANKSGIVING DINNER.
Aching, aching man!
Skulking sadly 'long the street,
Loaded down with titbits sweet,
With stuffed turkey, rich and fat,
Delicates and all that—
Unidentified.Little Honora Mullally.
Little Honora Mullally,
At the close of Thanksgiving day,
Was a picture of beauty,
A-watching some children at play.
Her gown was a wonderful garment,
All patches from shoulder to hem,
And her hat and her shoes—well, I beg you'll excuse
Any further remark about them.
poor people like us,
Had a face just as bright as could be,
And no flower in meadow or valley
Was ever as pretty as she,
And so thought an old woman who, passing,
Stopped a moment to smileingly say,
"Why, is not your dear heart, I am sure you have had A very good dinner today?"
"Yes, indeed," said Honora Mullally,
"I did, for my friend Mrs. Down
Had a house of sweet tarts that Sallie
Her sister, baked lovely and brown,
With cream, if you can't have seen it—
The fattest and fallest of them,
And they give me the gizzard and neck of that
him,
And all of the sweet tart skins!"

—Harper's Young People.

Thanksgiving Chimes.

Thanks to our God we pay
For winter's snow,
For spring's soft glow,
For summer's heat,
Thanks to our God this day.
Thanks to our God we pay
For smile and tear,
For grief and cheer,
For gall and tears,
For sorrow, for stress,
Thanks to our God this day.

—R. M. Offord in New York Observer.

The Boy Got It Afterward.

A certain Dexter man isn't a success as a mouser. Furthermore, he has a young son who has shown himself shockingly deficient in the way of compassion for the suffering. The other morning a mouse crept cautiously from the open door of the cellarway. The man of the house grabbed a broom, carefully poised his weapon and launched a mighty blow at the venturesome rodent. As he struck his toe caught in a rug and away he gayly went, head first, bump, thump, bang to the bottom of the cellar stairs. As he was trying to remember whether 'twas last year or day before-to-morrow he became conscious of a face peering over the door sill, a face squinted with a twist of demoniac glee. A pause and then the shrill voice of his youngest chirped, "D'y'e git 'im, d-a-a-d?"—Dexter Gazette.

A Tomb Eighteen Hundred Years Old.

On opening a tomb in the cemetery of Kerich a sarcophagus has been discovered between 1,500 and 1,600 years old, very well preserved, and containing a coffin in which was the head of a girl whose hair was quite uninjured. Remains of textile fabrics and some vase in clay and glass were found at the same time.—Odessa Messenger.

TEN Pound Chests of New Formosa Oolong Tea at

50 cts. a lb.

Guaranteed to please.

J. F. MERRILL.

Agent for the Celebrated

Edward Russell,

PROPRIETOR.

24 Washington St, cor. Coddington.

Branch store at South Quincy, near Rail road Station.

Telephone Connections.

Irish Question on Top.

London, Nov. 26.—Parliament reassembled yesterday, Mr. Gladstone's speech, opening the session, was delivered. After the reading of the queen's speech, Mr. Balfour gave notice that he would introduce four bills relating to Ireland.

Mr. Slaney moved a resolution simply thanking the queen for the speech addressed by her majesty to parliament.

Mr. Fulton (Conservative) seconded the motion.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Forecast for Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont: Rain, turning into snow in Vermont; color: northwesterly winds; fair Thursday. The temperature will fall 20 degrees at Portland.

For Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut: Light rain; northwesterly winds; cooler; fair and cooler Thursday. The temperature will fall 20 degrees at Boston.

Gold is quoted at 250 at Buenos Ayres A financial crisis is imminent.

A Tomb Eighteen Hundred Years Old.

On opening a tomb in the cemetery of Kerich a sarcophagus has been discovered between 1,500 and 1,600 years old, very well preserved, and containing a coffin in which was the head of a girl whose hair was quite uninjured. Remains of textile fabrics and some vase in clay and glass were found at the same time.—Odessa Messenger.

FAMOUS "MRS. PARTINGTON."

Benjamin Penhaligon Shillaber, Known and Respected by All, Pauses Away at His Home in Chelsea.

CHELSEA, Mass., Nov. 26.—The death of Mr. Shillaber took place at his residence last evening. For many years a victim of rheumatism, he died of heart failure, having within a week been prostrated by this disease.

ALL COLORS

BABY RIBBONS

10 Cents

A PIECE.

All Sizes

Children's Oxford Hose,

15c. a Pair.

WORTH 25 CENTS,

AT

Miss C. S. Hubbard's,

158 Hancock St.,

Quincy, - - Mass.

BLANKET LINED

Canvas Jackets

AT

Saville & Jones'.

Granite Clothing Co.'s.

BEST GRADES OF

FLOUR GRAIN HAY AND STRAW.

Brick, Lime Cement and Drain Pipe.

Superior to all others

Edward Russell,

PROPRIETOR.

24 Washington St, cor. Coddington.

Branch store at South Quincy, near Rail road Station.

Telephone Connections.

Irish Question on Top.

London, Nov. 26.—Parliament reassembled yesterday, Mr. Gladstone's speech, opening the session, was delivered. After the reading of the queen's speech, Mr. Balfour gave notice that he would introduce four bills relating to Ireland.

Mr. Slaney moved a resolution simply thanking the queen for the speech addressed by her majesty to parliament.

Mr. Fulton (Conservative) seconded the motion.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Forecast for Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont: Rain, turning into snow in Vermont; color: northwesterly winds; fair Thursday. The temperature will fall 20 degrees at Portland.

For Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut: Light rain; northwesterly winds; cooler; fair and cooler Thursday. The temperature will fall 20 degrees at Boston.

Gold is quoted at 250 at Buenos Ayres A financial crisis is imminent.

OLD PAPERS

FOR SALE—

10 cts. a Hundred,

At the LEDGER OFFICE.

PARNELL IS LEADER.

Will Continue to Head the Irish Party in Parliament.

BOMBSHELL FROM GLADSTONE

He Thinks His Effort in Behalf of Ireland Will Be Nullified by Parnell's Leadership—What is Thought of It.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A meeting of the Irish home rule members of parliament was held before the opening of the session of the house of commons. Mr. Parnell was present. He was loudly cheered as he entered the room. The members of the party who supported him were also present. The chairman of the Liberal party, Mr. Gladstone, was re-elected chairman of the Liberal party. It was carried unanimously.

Mr. Parnell made an address to the meeting in which he thanked his followers for their re-election. He said it was for the Irish members to decide whether he should lead them. If their decision had been a negative one, or there had been any diversity of opinion among them, he would have withdrawn from public life. Nothing but the conviction that his colleagues desire to still utilize his services in their common cause induced him to resume a position which, under his altered circumstances, exposed him and them, through him, to the attacks of their opponents.

Mr. Parnell, subsequent to his re-election to the Irish leadership, had a conference with John Morley and Sir Charles Russell. Notwithstanding his disengagement by the Nationalist party, Mr. Parnell may for a time at least remain in parliament.

The Irish members met at 10 o'clock, as arranged, but without Mr. Parnell, who was in another part of the house. Another meeting has been arranged for this evening.

It is reported that during the trial of the O'Shaughnessy case the Nationalist members of parliament pledged themselves to support Mr. Parnell, whatever the result of the trial might be and not to consider the sentiment of the English Liberals in the matter.

He knew that parliament would honor the king's memory by proving their devotion to the young queen and her mother, who had been bequeathed as precious pledges to the nation. Let the national union be shown by a common reconciliation and let the legislature endeavor to smooth the path of the English members do, whatever it may be, to make the performance of their duties an easy task. Upon the conclusion of the president's remarks the house adjourned.

The body of the king was placed in a coffin last night. The queen was not present. The funeral will take place on Dec. 4.

GODFREY IS A GOOD ONE.

Smith, the Denver Heavyweight, Disposed of by the Colored Pugilist.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The glove fight between George Godfrey and Ed Smith took place on the stage of Croton's theatre, Hellgate, Brooklyn, on Monday evening. Godfrey. The fight was under the auspices of the Puritan Athletic club of Long Island city and was witnessed by about 800 persons. Jerry Dunn acted as referee and he held the $200 purse given by the club. Ex-umpire John Kelly was timekeeper. Godfrey was seconded by Frank Steel, the Boston lightweight, and Jimmie Campbell, William Muloon, the wrestler, and Jack Astor, the boxer. Both fighters were recently defeated by Godfrey. The gloves were weighed and the men got down to business.

From the start it was seen that Smith was overmatched, Godfrey punishing him at will. Smith, however, made a game fight, and several times rescued his work after he had apparently been done for. The fight continued for twenty-three rounds, with Godfrey gaining advantages in the early rounds. In the third round Godfrey started in to his man, and landed a heavy right-hander on Smith's eye. Smith staggered to his corner and nearly fell, but made an effort to again put up his hands. Referee Dunn, however, stopped the fight, saying: I am now able to decide the matter. Godfrey was.

Godfrey at once challenged Godfrey to Hellgate Kilrain, who was among the spectators. Godfrey made no answer to the propositon.

THE POTTS COMPANY FAILURE.

Extinction Caused by Indebtedness of an Extensive Collapse.

AU SAUM, Mich., Nov. 26.—Two chattel mortgages to the amount of $62,000 have been filed with the county clerk against the personal property of the J. E. Potts Salt and Lumber company. This is reported as part of the liabilities, which amount to $1,000,000, for which mortgages, chattel and real, have been filed by the company in favor of creditors in different parts of the state. The following day the third round Godfrey started in to his man, and landed a heavy right-hander on Smith's eye. Smith staggered to his corner and nearly fell, but made an effort to again put up his hands. Referee Dunn, however, stopped the fight, saying: I am now able to decide the matter. Godfrey was.

The expansion of my views I begged of Mr. Parnell, and he agreed to meet me at a certain conclusion in regard to the conduct of the session to-morrow to acquaint Mr. McCarthy with the complexion at which, after using all the means of observation and reflection in my power, I intended to act. Mr. Parnell, however, notwithstanding the splendid services rendered by Mr. Parnell to his country, his continuance at the present moment in the leadership would be protective of consequences which I fear would be disastrous to Ireland. I think it may be warranted in asking you far to expand the conclusions given above as to add that Mr. Parnell's conduct of the session to-morrow will be spontaneous and dictated by his own judgment, and not by any manly hearty and decisive friends of the Irish cause in a position of great embarrassment, but would render my position of the leadership of the Liberal party, however, as it has been now, untenable upon the proscution of the Irish cause, almost a nullity.

In the expansion of my views I begged of Mr. Parnell, and he agreed to meet me at a certain conclusion in regard to the conduct of the session to-morrow to acquaint Mr. McCarthy with the complexion at which, after using all the means of observation and reflection in my power, I intended to act. Mr. Parnell, however, notwithstanding the splendid services rendered by Mr. Parnell to his country, his continuance at the present moment in the leadership would be protective of consequences which I fear would be disastrous to Ireland. I think it may be warranted in asking you far to expand the conclusions given above as to add that Mr. Parnell's conduct of the session to-morrow will be spontaneous and dictated by his own judgment, and not by any manly hearty and decisive friends of the Irish cause in a position of great embarrassment, but would render my position of the leadership of the Liberal party, however, as it has been now, untenable upon the proscution of the Irish cause, almost a nullity.

The expansion of my views I begged of Mr. Parnell, and he agreed to meet me at a certain conclusion in regard to the conduct of the session to-morrow to acquaint Mr. McCarthy with the complexion at which, after using all the means of observation and reflection in my power, I intended to act. Mr. Parnell, however, notwithstanding the splendid services rendered by Mr. Parnell to his country, his continuance at the present moment in the leadership would be protective of consequences which I fear would be disastrous to Ireland. I think it may be warranted in asking you far to expand the conclusions given above as to add that Mr. Parnell's conduct of the session to-morrow will be spontaneous and dictated by his own judgment, and not by any manly hearty and decisive friends of the Irish cause in a position of great embarrassment, but would render my position of the leadership of the Liberal party, however, as it has been now, untenable upon the proscution of the Irish cause, almost a nullity.

The expansion of my views I begged of Mr. Parnell, and he agreed to meet me at a certain conclusion in regard to the conduct of the session to-morrow to acquaint Mr. McCarthy with the complexion at which, after using all the means of observation and reflection in my power, I intended to act. Mr. Parnell, however, notwithstanding the splendid services rendered by Mr. Parnell to his country, his continuance at the present moment in the leadership would be protective of consequences which I fear would be disastrous to Ireland. I think it may be warranted in asking you far to expand the conclusions given above as to add that Mr. Parnell's conduct of the session to-morrow will be spontaneous and dictated by his own judgment, and not by any manly hearty and decisive friends of the Irish cause in a position of great embarrassment, but would render my position of the leadership of the Liberal party, however, as it has been now, untenable upon the proscution of the Irish cause, almost a nullity.

The expansion of my views I begged of Mr. Parnell, and he agreed to meet me at a certain conclusion in regard to the conduct of the session to-morrow to acquaint Mr. McCarthy with the complexion at which, after using all the means of observation and reflection in my power, I intended to act. Mr. Parn

Today's Anniversaries.

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 26.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Fields—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts' Cities and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

1671—Rev. Moses Fiske preached first sermon in First Church.

1821—Severe storm and high tide; tide rose after it had ebbed a foot.

World Wide.

1824—Marriage of Charles IX with Elizabeth of Austria.

1831—Death of Henry Irion, statesman; born 1781.

1834—Awful storm in London.

1834—Jesus order suppressed in France by Louis Philippe.

1836—Sandwich Islands discovered by Capt. Cooke.

1838—Address to the women of America on slavery, addressed by the Duchess of Sutherland and other English ladies.

1846—Fighting at Mine Run, Va.; Union loss 500; Confederate 500.

1850—Jefferson Davis' trial adjourned.

1861—The centennial of the evacuation of New York by the British celebrated in New York.

1863—Die in Michigan Sojourner Truth, aged 80 years.

Indeed, ma'am, you are very kind.

Oppose we name it then."

Thank you, my—I mean sir. We'll look forward with great pleasure your coming."

Those people are extraordinarily political; they thought the young man after their parture, as he sat in his room smoking cigar. "I really think they have taken a fancy to me. My good looks, I think it must be, for I haven't a single commendation besides on earth. Well, find the girl has money I may improve my advantage and offer myself in marriage. Money would be very accessable just at present."

ad Mrs. Jenkins heard this soliloquy would probably have come to the conclusion that there was something about her calculations, but fortunately for our hero this was not the will be readily imagined that Mrs.

Jenkins exerted her culinary skill to the best in preparing for her illustrious guest.

As he saw the numerous dainties laid out before him he felt a glow of pride in his frame, and determined the spot to lay siege to the heart of the reader will easily imagine that his dances were readily met by the young who was quite entranced by the nest which she had achieved over heart of an earl. Not was her more-less gratified. The good lady held head higher than ever, and speedily passed the time when, as mother of an earl, she would take pre-of all who had hitherto ventured down upon her.

you know, Matilda," she said, "that you are a countess I shall of course wager counter, or countess downreally don't know which. I wish

I find somewhere a peacock; then I could find out any trouble?" She thought of to the bookseller and asking him for the book, but of second it decided that it would be most not to run any such risk of re-her aspirations, even if she were to remain in ignorance a little longer.

point, however, puzzled her a

Notwithstanding the very in-terms of the earl with her family ventured any allusion to his income, which Mrs. Jenkins had been very glad to learn.

I suppose, Matilda," she re-to her daughter, "that he is deto remain incog. so as to make you marry him for himself

I have read of such cases in sto-

I never expected to have anyit in my own family. Really it is quite romantic. On the

I guess it would be best to say about it until you are fairly da acted upon her mother's pru-

and although her cariosity

as her parent's she care-against betraying it to the st one memorable day she burst mother's room with a triumph-on her face.

he proposed?" exclaimed Mrs.

in great agitation.

mother" was the reply of the Matilda. "He told me that me to distraction."

congratulate you, comress that is aid her mother. "By the way, anything about his rank?"

a word, mother."

not at all surprised. Be sure you don't give him a hint that anything about it. How much enjoy going to England?"

repeated Matilda. "Surely you pose going across the Atlantic line of life?" said Mrs. Jensibly. "Indeed I do. I don't you shall have all the enjoy-but did the earl fix the day for that to me?"

fix it as soon as possible. You let him slip through your fin-ay three weeks the important took place in Mrs. Jenkins'

Scarcely was it over than that dy, no longer able to restrain addressed her son-in-law:

"my lord, that you will never a day."

repeated her son-in-law.

unequivocal surprise.

only you cannot expect to re-ing any longer?"

have no claim to the title,

"I'm fond of nature."

exclaimed the mother and turning pale. "Are you not an only my Christian name."

what is your employment?"

Jenkins on the point of faint-

A house painter, madam, but she unwell was ordered by the

a couple of months in the a well over the scene that en-lofty fabric of pride which ns had built up to the

I chance of being allied

tivity seems more re-ever.—Caroline F. Preston in De-

dn't Stand Daylight.

Lake Herald is responsible wing: At a quarry near Salt hopped out of a pocket in a rock which had just been ne animal was of small size

white. Its eyes were un-ge, but apparently blind.

mouth should have been only a line. The frog died

Finacial Distress in Brazil.

Corporations Were Ever the Same.

"Corporations have no souls" is a much older expression than most people in agine. It originated with Sir Edward Coke, who in the sixteenth century was considered one of the best legal writers of the age. He says, in one of his treatises,

"Corporations cannot commit trea-pass, nor be outlawed, nor excommunicated for they have no souls."—Detroit

Free Press.

CONFLICTING STORIES

Continue to Come in from Pine

Ridge Agency.

THE SITUATION IS CRITICAL

According to One Correspondent, While

Another Reports That There Will Be

No Uprising—What Indian Rations

Amount To.

OMAHA, Nov. 26.—A Bee special from Pine

Ridge agency, S. D., says: The condition is considered critical. Gen. Brooke and Agents Royer and Cooper had a consultation and all admit that the aspect of affairs is serious. The indications are now that the good Indians are on the point of joining the ghost dancing faction. What the result will be cannot yet be foreseen.

A Bee special from Cheyenne, Neb., says: Today, or at the farthing, to-morrow, is the time set for a bloody engagement between the soldiers and Indians at Pine Ridge. Your correspondent interviewed Baptist Courier, a squaw man now living on the Sioux reservation and having an Indian wife and many children. He is called "Big Bat" by the Indians, has lived among them for thirty years and is intelligent, wealthy and of wide influence among them. He stated in substance that no outbreak or depredation of any nature would occur. "The Indians have been darning," said Pugh, "but that does not signify that they want to murder white settlers or fight soldiers."

Being asked if the Indians would peacefully stop their dance and surrender their arms, he said they undoubtedly would if it was demanded of them. "I don't think they care much about giving up the dance," said he, "but they would kick some on giving up their guns. They would not fight for their guns, though."

"Are many of them armed?" "Yes, about two-thirds of the males, but they do not want to fight. I attended a council of the dancers night before last when they discussed all these matters, and the leaders said that the young bucks will all to the effect that while the council easily wipe out the troops now on hand, if they did so there would be ten soldiers there next day where there was but one the day before, and it would be only a question of days until the last Indian would die. Besides, they said, where would we go to. We are surrounded on all sides by soldiers and settlers. We have no provisions for a campaign and would surely starve and our squaws and papooses would perish before our eyes. The whole council agreed in advising and sending a message to the government to whatever the government demands."

Big Bat urged the necessity of taking away from the Indians all arms and ammunition, not because he thought an uprising probable at any time, but to make them less roving and shiftless and feel more dependent upon manual labor or civilized pursuits.

The strutting turkey is ill at ease; when poor as the turkey of Job," says he: "Today is the day to see you; I've no more of my turkey. Let some poor fellow should gobble me; And a turkey buzzard I think I'll be. For the present, if you please."

—Binghamton Republican.

SOME OLD TIME FIGURES.

A Yankee Thanksgiving Ninety - eight Years Ago.

The following is taken from The Norwich (Conn.) Weekly Register of November, 1821, published by Messrs. Bushnell

& Hubbard:

Thanksgiving day may be a good insight, but it is more like the day of destruction than any other day. It may not be unmanning to take a peep at the transactions and expense of the whole week, and see what real good we derive from this day, and it requires no uncommon intellect to ken the deeds done by 65,000 people, for the same tragical scenes are acting in every family in this state (Connecticut), Rhode Island and Massachusetts all assembled yesterday, and the same number of children present. It is a day of freedom and merriment to every bondman and every bondwoman. Saturday comes the physician's day, and Sunday the day of the weekly market.

The Thanksgiving day Dr. to about 85,000 mugs of flip,

40,000 plain puddings,

20,000 oysters, geese,

125,541 chicken pieces,

214,164 minced pies,

214,164 apple pies,

214,164 tarts,

214,164 pumpkin pies,

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Ledger Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
McGowen Bros' Store, Plumer's Block, Quincy
Coram's Store, Copeland Street, West Quincy
Post Mart's Store, Quincy Point
Post Office, Wollaston Heights
Depot, Braintree
Henry B. Vinton, Weymouth
M. K. Pratt,

Today's Almanac.—November 26.
High water at 10:45 A. M. and 11:30 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:49; Sets at 4:15.
Moon rises 5:01.
Full Moon Nov. 26.

Thanksgiving Notice.

Tomorrow being a Legal Holiday, no edition of the DAILY LEDGER will be published. Advertisers and Newsboys will please take notice.

GREEN & PRESCOTT.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

City election next Tuesday.

May this weather continue tomorrow.

Mr. B. Bryant of Quincy Point is visiting in Fitchburg.

The PATRIOT will be issued at the usual time—Friday evening.

Clan McGregor entertainment and ball at Guy's Coliseum this evening.

Charles C. Hearn, the druggist, expects to reoccupy his store before Jan. 1.

A Frank Russell announces that his studio will be open Thanksgiving day.

Politics are apparently very quiet but the party leaders are getting in their work.

The observer on Blue Hill predicts fair and colder weather for Thanksgiving.

Manet Assembly, Royal Society of Good Fellows, meets at Dr. French's hall tonight.

Peters' orchestra of Boston, will give their first social in Robertson hall, Dec. 11.

The Atlantic Social Club will hold its first assembly Friday evening, Dec. 5.

Mr. John A. Knowling will erect a dwelling on the Nightingale estate this winter.

The Boston Herald have as usual presented their married help with Thanksgiving turkeys.

The St. Mary's C. T. A. S., intend to have a grand celebration when they return to their own hall.

A union no-license meeting will be held by the churches of the Centre in the First church Sunday evening.

Mrs. P. Driscoll and children, left today for Rockland, Me., to spend a month with relatives at that place.

Mr. Walton Hall and family, of Marshfield, are spending a few days at Mr. F. W. Lincoln's, Quincy Point.

Master Harry Adams of East Bridgewater is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. C. B. Newcomb, Quincy Point.

The 8th annual ball of St. Gregory Court, 24, M. C. O. F., will be held at Assembly hall, Milton, this evening.

T. J. Lamb is improving his store on Copeland street by the addition of two large bay windows.

C. W. Johnson, has severed his connection with Rogers Bros., and is to go into business at Quincy Point.

Mrs. Joshua Fisher, of West Dedham, is visiting her daughter Mrs. George W. Prescott, of Spear street.

Owing to the poor health of her mother Miss Kate Delory has resigned her position as clerk at the Ledger office.

The several societies in Ward Four are keeping quiet thus far this season, the cause being lack of a suitable hall.

The markets are filled with turkeys, chickens and lots of good things, all to make Thanksgiving pass pleasantly.

Jonathan Tanner of Marsh street died this morning after a long illness. He was a stone cutter by trade and in his 43d year.

Although the Ward Two voting list is the only one to show a loss over a year ago, it stands third in gain since November 1888.

Mr. John E. Drake has just completed one of the finest stables in Quincy, and with its recent painting adds greatly to the estate.

The specimen ballots, containing the list of candidates to be voted for at the election next Tuesday, will be posted today or tomorrow.

The Steamer boys are in the fifth place this morning. This is a move in the right direction, keep the ball rolling and you will get the library.

Messrs. G. C. and C. F. Adams, of this city, were ushers at the wedding of Miss Harriet Sears Crownshield and Mr. David H. Coolidge in Boston, Tuesday.

Rt. Wor. Henry O. Fairbanks, who will publicly install the officers-elect of Rural Lodge, Dec. 5, will be assisted by Rt. Wor. H. W. Lull, as district deputy grand marshal.

Rev. T. J. Danahy left town today for Newton Upper Falls, where he is to take charge of a parish.

Miss Martha Woodbury of Francesstown, N. H., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. H. Smith, Quincy Point.

No women came forward to be registered this year, and the list of female voters is smaller than a year ago.

It is reported that Mr. John R. Graham has purchased the controlling interest in the Manet Street railway.

Leaves make an excellent fertilizer, and it is a pity the large quantity in the First church yard was not taken care of; which would prevent them from blowing all over the neighborhood.

At the regular meeting of Mt. Wollaston Lodge, I. O. O. F., held last evening, it was voted to invite the degree staff of Crescent Lodge, of Weymouth, to visit them Dec. 9, and work the degree.

The Quincy Electric Light Company intends to enlarge its building on Quincy avenue quite extensively. The foundation is being put in, and Mr. Charles B. Huston has the contract for the mason work.

The Board of Engineers and the captains of the several fire apparatus are to receive complimentary tickets to the first annual concert and ball of the East Weymouth fire department, to be held Friday evening, Dec. 12.

The summary of voters given Monday was correct, but in commenting thereon the statement was made that Ward Five had less voters than a year ago, and even less than in 1888. The fact is that Wollaston had 321 in 1888; 322 in 1889 and now has 336.

TODAY'S COURT.
William Lawless, of Randolph, paid a fine of $11, for a drunk.

New York's Ink Industry.

New York is entitled to consideration as the leading city of the Union in the manufacture of ink. Fifteen years ago English ink controlled the market. Since then the American article has been gradually pushing the British product out of the market by its superiority and excellence. There is a great difference between the wholesale and retail price of the fluid. A little bottle of ink containing two ounces, for which a person pays five cents, costs at the factory one cent. The bottles are really more valuable than the ink they contain.

The best black ink is made from the gall nut and iron. The gall nut is found in Arabia, and is about the size of a hickory nut and grows on a small, scrubby oak. A large majority of the colored inks are made from the extracts of coal tar. The most expensive colored ink used for ruling is carmine, made from the cochineal bug. The cochineal bug is raised with much care in Mexico. The dye from this bug is worth $15 a pound. Since cochineal dye is becoming scarce ink makers are compelled to use an inferior red color from coal tar. The two different colored inks are all made from the extract of coal tar. White ink is made for writing on black paper, but the demand for it is not very great.

New York Telegram.

Another addition to the list of recently invented life saving devices is the shoulder line throwing gun, invented by Capt. D'Arcy Irving, of the English royal navy. The invention consists of a shoulder gun, having the cop or coil of line, suspended in a case, carried under the breech of the gun. A rod is inserted in the barrel, the fore end of the rod being connected with the end of the line, which is in the center of the cop. The line is 144 yards long, and the charge of powder used is two drams. Upon the gun being fired at a high elevation the rod is projected upward and forward, carrying the line trailing after it. The object is, of course, to land the line over the ship or other object, the rod dropping behind it. By this means a rope can be made fast to the tail end of the line by the succoring party, and be hauled on board by those in distress.

The Boston Herald have as usual presented their married help with Thanksgiving turkeys.

The St. Mary's C. T. A. S., intend to have a grand celebration when they return to their own hall.

A union no-license meeting will be held by the churches of the Centre in the First church Sunday evening.

Mrs. P. Driscoll and children, left today for Rockland, Me., to spend a month with relatives at that place.

Mr. Walton Hall and family, of Marshfield, are spending a few days at Mr. F. W. Lincoln's, Quincy Point.

Master Harry Adams of East Bridgewater is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. C. B. Newcomb, Quincy Point.

The 8th annual ball of St. Gregory Court, 24, M. C. O. F., will be held at Assembly hall, Milton, this evening.

T. J. Lamb is improving his store on Copeland street by the addition of two large bay windows.

C. W. Johnson, has severed his connection with Rogers Bros., and is to go into business at Quincy Point.

Mrs. Joshua Fisher, of West Dedham, is visiting her daughter Mrs. George W. Prescott, of Spear street.

Owing to the poor health of her mother Miss Kate Delory has resigned her position as clerk at the Ledger office.

The several societies in Ward Four are keeping quiet thus far this season, the cause being lack of a suitable hall.

The markets are filled with turkeys, chickens and lots of good things, all to make Thanksgiving pass pleasantly.

Jonathan Tanner of Marsh street died this morning after a long illness. He was a stone cutter by trade and in his 43d year.

Although the Ward Two voting list is the only one to show a loss over a year ago, it stands third in gain since November 1888.

Mr. John E. Drake has just completed one of the finest stables in Quincy, and with its recent painting adds greatly to the estate.

The specimen ballots, containing the list of candidates to be voted for at the election next Tuesday, will be posted today or tomorrow.

The Steamer boys are in the fifth place this morning. This is a move in the right direction, keep the ball rolling and you will get the library.

Messrs. G. C. and C. F. Adams, of this city, were ushers at the wedding of Miss Harriet Sears Crownshield and Mr. David H. Coolidge in Boston, Tuesday.

Rt. Wor. Henry O. Fairbanks, who will publicly install the officers-elect of Rural Lodge, Dec. 5, will be assisted by Rt. Wor. H. W. Lull, as district deputy grand marshal.

STOP ! STOP ! STOP !

Keep at Work !

There is not any need of your losing a day by going to BOSTON to buy your THANKSGIVING DINNER. We are on DECK and shall have the LARGEST and BEST STOCK in the City to select from, including

Turkeys, Chickens, Geese and Fowl,

Ducks, Game of all Kinds,

And a Large Line of all Kinds of MEATS.

Also Fruits, New Nuts, Candies, Raisins, Currants, Citron and Preserves, Celery, Lettuce, and a Full Line of Vegetables, at

WILSON'S MARKET,

108 Hancock Street, - - Quincy.

Nov. 22.

Crackers ! Crackers ! Crackers !

WE SHALL SELL THIS WEEK

Kennedy's Best Common Crackers.

Barrel Price, 5 Cents per Pound.

4 POUNDS FOR 25 CENTS.

This Week Only !

ROGERS BROTHERS, Adams Building.

Durgin & Merrill's Block.

Quincy, Sept. 24.

Quincy Co-operative Society.

W. F. COLBY, Manager.

Groceries, Provisions, Fish and Oysters

AT BOTTOM PRICES.

CROWN CREAMERY BUTTER,

The Best in the Market.

FRANKLIN STREET, - - QUINCY.

Nov. 10.

FLANDERS' TONIC

Tones up the Stomach. Makes the Brain Active.

Purify your Blood with Flanders' Tonic. That Tired Feeling will be Unknown to those who use it.

A Boon to Overworked Men and Women !

If your Children are ailing, "no appetite," languid and without Strength, Flanders' Tonic will build them up.

TRY IT ! TAKE NO OTHER !

A Combination of Malt Calisaya and Hypophosphite Tonic and Stimulant.

Guaranteed by all Druggists.

$1.00. Six Bottles for $5.00.

FLANDERS' MANDRAKE PILLS beats them all. Price 25 Cents.

Physicians endorse it. Ask your druggist for it; if he cannot supply you, send direct to us. We prepay express charges upon receipt of price. Made only by

WONDERFUL ! MAKE-UP !

Flanders' Tonic Co., Woburn, Mass., U. S. A.

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000

1000</

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 193.

QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

ONCE AGAIN, NO-LICENSE.

TO THE CITIZENS OF QUINCY:

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

For the Citizens' Temperance Committee,

THEOPHILUS KING, President.

D. M. WILSON, Secretary.

ANNUAL BALL Of Clan McGregor, Order of Scottish Clans.

A Concert by the Quincy Minstrels and a Drama.

Mayor Porter Present, also Representatives of Many Clans.

The youth and beauty of the Scotch, attended the annual concert and ball of Clan McGregor, No. 5, O. S. C., one of the oldest and best known beneficial organizations in this city at the Coliseum Thanksgiving eve, the occasion being known among Scotchmen as the celebration of St. Andrew's day.

Before entering into an account of the gathering, a brief statement of the objects of the order, and what this clan has done in the past, cannot fail to be of interest.

The order of Scottish Clans as its name implies is composed of Scotchmen, their sons, and their immediate descendants, who are over eighteen years of age, are of good moral character and who possess some reputable known means of support.

It seeks to establish a fund for the relief of sick members, and to ameliorate in every reasonable manner their condition, and to accumulate by a graded form of assessment, a fund from which on the death of a member, there shall be paid to his beneficiary, 2000, 1000 and 500 dollars, according to the class insured, and besides these pecuniary benefits, to cultivate fond recollections of Scotland, its customs and amusements.

Clan McGregor, during the past five years paid in bequests something like $104,940.22 and has collected for its general fund during this time $13,544.10, making a total revenue of $118,490.32. During the past year alone, it has paid in sick benefits $500.

This Clan is an active one and at present has a membership of 210, and if the gathering of Wednesday evening is anything to judge from, another year will see their membership many more.

The entertainment or concert was given by the Quincy Minstrels in a very pleasing manner, the jokes of the end men causing much merriment among the audience. The solos were all good, those of Mr. J. Huston and Mr. W. Elrick being especially pleasing. The finale of part first, was the singing of one of America's national airs, during the chorus of which the back curtain being drawn aside exposed to view a beautiful representation of the Goddess of Liberty which was impersonated by Miss Henrietta Esson.

Following was the programme:

PART FIRST.
Opening Chorus, Welcome tonight
Song, Let the dead and the beautiful rest
Mr. A. Kemp.
Song, Mr. William Kingtree.
Song, Poverty's tears ebb and flow
Mr. J. Rose.
Song, Who's that calling so sweet
Mr. D. Wyllie.
Song, My old Kentucky home, good-night
Mr. W. Dickie.
Song, Four little curly-headed coons
Mr. W. Elrick.
Song, Good-by, old home
Mr. J. Huston.
Song, We shall all be angels in the sweet
Mr. A. Hall. [by-and-by] Song, Under the willow she's sleeping
Mr. W. Williams.
Finale.

PART SECOND.
Stump Speech, Mr. Peter Kerr.
Song, Mr. W. Elrick.
Clog Dance, Mr. W. E. Davidson.
Duet, Carry me back to old Virginia
Messrs. D. and J. Wyllie.
Song, In character
Mr. J. Rose.
Song, A mother's watch by the sea
Mr. J. Huston.

The whole concluded with the comic drama, in one scene, entitled "My Wife's Visitors," with the following cast of characters:

Mr. John Jones, Mr. R. Finley
Samson Scuttle, Mr. W. Dickie
Timothy Tootle, Mr. W. Elrick
Felix Fozzie, Mr. D. Wyllie
Mrs. Jonah Jones, Mr. J. Rose
Officer Grab, Mr. A. Scott
Officer Clutch, Mr. A. Hall

DISTRICT ATTORNEY—SOUTHEASTERN DISTRICT.

Arthur W. Tufts of Boston, Rep., 17,968 and appears to be elected.
Chas. D. Duncklee, Brockton, Dem., 17,385
Chas. L. Smith, Norwood, Pro., 1,051
All others, 2

COUNCILLOR—SECOND DISTRICT.

Elijah A. Morse of Canton, Rep., 12,339 and is duly elected.

Bushrod Morse, Sharon, Dem., 10,459

Thomas J. Lathrop, Taunton, Pro., 782

All others, 1

HARVEY H. PRATT—ABINGTON, DISTRICT.

Harvey H. Pratt of Abington, Dem., 14,817 and is duly elected.

Alonzo B. Wentworth, Dedham, Rep., 12,257

All others, 5

REV. S. G. DAVIS.

A very fine portrait of Rev. S. G. Davis,

a former pastor of the Universalist society of Quincy, will be found in the Christian Leader, of this week. Also, an engraving of the beautiful church the society at Fairfield, Maine, has built since he took charge of the society in that place.

president of the St. John's C. L. & A. A.; Peter Kerr, royal secretary of the order of clans; Robert C. Allen, grand chief of Massachusetts; Peter Dacker, past grand chief of Massachusetts, and representatives from Clan McIntosh, Clan McKenzie, Clan Farquharson, Clan McKeena, Clan Gordon, Clan Frazer and Clan McDonald.

The committee of arrangements were: W. Norrie, Secretary; A. C. Smith, Chief; Alexander Emslie, William Norrie, Alex. C. Smith, Richard Gordon, Robert R. Smith, William Pratt and William B. Donald.

Reception committee, Chief and Tant.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Charles Francis Adams Resigns after Six Years' Service as President.

At a meeting of the directors of the Union Pacific railroad, held in Boston on Wednesday, Mr. Charles Francis Adams, of this city, declined the office of president of the road, after a very successful term of over six years.

Jay Gould and other gentlemen of New York, having bought a large amount of the stock so as to get control of the company, desired a change in its management. According to President Adams and two of the directors resigned. Mr. Adams called the meeting to order, and after a few explanatory remarks, said:

"The affairs of the Union Pacific are in some respects more difficult of management than those, possibly, of any other American corporation. The country and especially this has been the case during recent years; consequently, knowing that I represented only a body of stockholders, and could not look for support to any large concentrations of capital, I have always realized that it would be futile for me to attempt to manage the company's affairs, with reasonable hope of success, in the face of any considerable or active opposition either in this board or among those entitled through ownership to claim a representation of it.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

which I have never been in sympathy, and whose confidence I fail to command, have become leading factors in the situation, and as a result of these changes my position has been rendered still more embarrassing.

As you are all aware, changes, both large and important in character, have during the course of the financial complications now going on, taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with

<p

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING,
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED)

BY—

GREEN & PRESCOTT,

115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,

By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Short advertisements, such as Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents; first insertion, 10 cents each additional insertion.

Births, deaths and marriages free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

A Parlor Car Porter's Experience.

Thaddeus Rich, the former valet of John L. Sullivan, when that gentleman was sporting editor of "The Illustrated News," had five years' experience on the Chicago trains of the New York Central.

"I did fairly well with the company," said Thaddeus, "I had only $15 a month salary, but my tips made it up to about $50. I made a good many friends. I was treated with especial kindness by the Vanderbilts, Mr. Arnot, of Chicago; Col. Barker, police commissioner of Cincinnati, and I don't know how many others. The most liberal traveler I ever met was Mrs. Williams, of Cambridge, Mass. I mean Mrs. Williams, the sister of George Lewis, the Lewis who is celebrated for giving diamonds away. This lady not only tips the porter but tips the driver, the guard, the fireman, the cook, the waiter, and every servant on the train, not with paltry nickels or a dollar, but with $5 bills and sometimes tens."

"Speaking of liberal people I mustn't forget to mention John L. Sullivan. He never gave me less than $5 for blacking his boots on the cars. He often gave me more. Especially one morning when he had jumped on me. You see he was talking in his sleep and rolling about restlessly. I went toward him and tried to make him comfortable. The moment I touched him, however, he leaped up and we both fell of a heap on the floor, and with such a racket that everybody awakened up. John L. woke up, too, and was much disgusted when he surveyed the circus, as the bedclothes had come with him from the top berth. I gathered myself together the best way I could and crept to a corner, while John L. got back into bed and was soon sleeping again. In the morning when he left the car he handed me a $30 bill."—New York World.

Took Away the Harvard Man's Breath.

Two men were walking down town to business the other day. One of them was a Harvard man. The other was graduated at a most venerable and yet somewhat formidable rival of that university whose motto is "Lax et Veritas."

They had arrived at City Hall park, and were picking their doubtful way through the crowd which was surging between the elevated station and Franklin street. Suddenly the Yale man exclaimed: "Hold on a minute, old fellow! I want to speak to a friend."

The Harvard man turned and saw his friend in the act of shaking hands with a fine looking, middle aged man who wore a long silken beard, and whose sun-browned face and powerful frame showed the good effect of many vacation moons spent upon the wave and in the depths of the forest. The Yale man continued in earnest conversation with the handsome looking man for a few moments, and then, after a leave taking which was almost brotherly on both sides, joined his comrade, who said:

"Who was that man?"

"Who?" said his friend; "didn't you recognize him? Why, we sat near him and his family on the grand stand at the football championship game up at New Haven in 1880. That was the famous 'Professor B. W.' He was my division officer once, and is one of the most popular instructors at Yale."

"Well, that is just like you fellows," said the other; "but," continued he, "I should just like to see what would happen to a Harvard man if we were to stop a professor of that university in a crowd as you did Professor W.—that's all!"—New York Tribune.

Ambulatory Rail.

A St. Louis civil engineer says the rails on the St. Louis bridge were never stationary, but constantly crept to the east; that is, in the direction of the heaviest travel. The rate of progress, he said, was about 200 feet in the year, or would be if the rails were permitted to creep as they pleased, which, of course, they are not permitted to do.

It reminded him of a hill in southwest Missouri, over which a turnpike road was constructed, and, do what they would, the people could not keep the road up and down the sides of that hill in good condition. The stones would creep to the bottom, and in six months the road would be as bad as ever. They finally had to take up the gravel and macadam and replace them with good sized blocks of rough stone.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Nancy man.

Wife—That pane of glass has been out all summer, and now a freezing cold day has come and we need it. I've told you forty times to send a man here to fix it. Why in the world haven't you done it?

Husband—Because I can fix it myself. Good News.

IN THE NICK OF TIME.
Rescue of the Crew of the Steamer Falcon When They Were Very Near to Death's Door—The Vessel Abandoned.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The steamship Pennsylvania arrived here with the captain and crew of the British steamer Falcon, from New York. The Falcon with a cargo of staves, which was abandoned on the 16th, is in a sinking condition, with bow stave and bulkheads and sails gone. The Falcon's sailors were taken off in a life-boat with great difficulty. Capt. McMillan of the Falcon says his vessel encountered severe weather almost from the very start. Said Capt. McMillan:

"Heavy seas continually washed over the vessel smashing the forecastle, carrying away the mainmast and the fore deck.

On the 16th inst. an enormous sea struck the engine room sky high, smashing it. Through this tons of water poured, putting out the fires. A fresh fire was started by burning loose boards and wood, but the water soon extinguished this also.

We were so near serious danger, as the water was rapidly gaining in the hold and with no steam to work a donkey pump there was little hope of saving the vessel at any moment.

All our life-boats had either been washed overboard or badly damaged.

The only resource left us was to keep the vessel afloat until we could be taken off.

The crew had almost given up hope of being rescued when the lights of a passing vessel attracted their attention. Signals of distress were burned and promptly answered. The men were ready to drop from fatigued when taken on board the Pennsylvania.

The Falcon when abandoned was within 250 miles of Queenstown. She had three feet of water in the forward hold and ten feet in the engine room when the crew left her. It is supposed she went down shortly after.

The OTHER DYING.

A Man and Woman Become Victims of Illuminating Gas.

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—A couple registering as "French and wife" took a room at the Boston hotel Wednesday evening at a late hour. At 2 p. m. yesterday chamber maid found the door and found it fastened. She also found the gas jets of illuminating gas, and reported the matter to the office. The door was burst in. The room was full of gas, and the occupants were upon the led, the man being dead and the woman probably beyond recovery. A doctor was called, and worked a long time, unsuccessfully, to restore the woman to consciousness. She was finally removed to the City hospital, but she cannot live more than a few hours at most.

Investigation shows that the man was Andrew J. Preley, a cobbler, aged 26 years, and that the woman is Kate Roach. The couple had been intimate a long time, but were, it is supposed, unmarried. There is no present means of ascertaining whether the affair was pre-meditated or otherwise. The gas was turned on.

NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and fix the crime upon another man.

Two Men, Sentenced to Death, Respite at Almost the Last Moment.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Yesterday Governor Campbell respite Harry Poplin, Isaac Smith, who were condemned to hang in the penitentiary next Saturday. Both was respite once before when he was within three hours of the time of his execution. He admits his guilt, but extenuating circumstances which surround his crime will probably secure for him commutation to life imprisonment.

Smith has now been respite seven times. His conviction was secured upon circumstantial evidence, and he has always protested his innocence. It is now claimed that new evidence has been discovered which will establish his innocence and

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,

and at the following places.

Old Colony Depot, Boston
Lester's Office, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy
Souther's Store, Quincy
McGovern Bros.' Store, Plummer's Block, Quincy
Corner, corner of Copeland Street, Weymouth
Miss Bartlett's Store, Jones' Corner
Post Office, Quincy Point
Depot, Wollaston Point
H. R. Vinton, Braintree
M. K. Pratt, Weymouth

Today's Almanac—November 28.
High water at 12:15 A. M. and 12:30 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:51; Sets at 4:14.
Moon rises 5:54 A. M.
Last Quarter Dec. 4.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

Christmas next.

Mr. John V. Hunt has been granted a pension.

Both parties in Ward 5 are putting in some lively electioneering work.

Merry Mount Lodge, K. of H., entertain their lady friends this evening at G. A. R.
hall.

Mr. Henry J. Langeler is building a dwelling house on Mason street, in Woblaston.

John Daley and Miss Mary Burnie, both of Quincy, were married at the St. Johns church last evening.

The Wollaston Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet in the Methodist church on Friday afternoon.

Capt. Morris M. White and J. Duffy, represented the Steamer company at the fireman's ball at South Braintree, Thursday evening.

It is expected that there will be a no-license meeting at the Presbyterian church, Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock, in which several citizens will speak.

The regular meeting of the Wollaston Young People's Musical Society will be held at the residence of Mr. Chandler W.
Smith, on Monday evening next.

At the session of Norfolk County Probate Court in Hyde Park, Wednesday, Mr. Alfred Thayer of Atlantic was appointed guardian of Edgar A. Thayer; bond $500.

A regular meeting of the City Council will be held next Monday, at which time a public hearing will be given to all citizens interested in a sewerage system for Quincy.

The funeral of Johnathan Tanner was held from the St. Johns church this morning. He was 42 years old and leaves a widow and three children, two sons and a daughter.

The subject of the morning sermon at the "Corner church" will be "Children of the Light." In the evening at six there will be a no-license meeting. Speakers to be announced.

New plans of the B. W. Reardon estate, off Common street, have been made and George H. Brown & Co., real estate agents, offer some choice building lots on this estate for sale.

A. L. Baker, real estate agent of Woblaston, has sold 10,000 square feet of land at the corner of Central and Highland avenues to Edward A. Hollis, of Boston.
Mr. Hollis will build.

Special services are to be given in the Rev. Mr. Yeoman's church at Atlantic to arouse interest in securing a large "No" vote at the coming election. The Rev.
Mr. Norton from the Centre is to assist.

The Ladies' Home Missionary Society connected with the "Corner Church," Quincy Point, will hold a meeting in the vestry Friday afternoon, Dec. 5th. A large attendance is desired for the annual election of officers.

The ladies and many friends of the Atlantic Social club will be pleased to learn that a select dancing party will be given by them in the new hall on the evening of Dec. 5th. The tickets will be sold by members only, and a very nice party is looked for.

Mr. Jacob Gelb died at his late residence on Washington street, Quincy Point, Thursday night, after a brief illness of pneumonia. Mr. Gelb has lived in the place for sometime and his death will be a great shock to many. He leaves a widow and four children.

William Sullivan who has been employed at the stable of Joseph T. French for the past few weeks, took it into his head to leave, and the weather being somewhat cold and having no coat of his own, he helped himself to one owned by Alexander Campbell. Officer Furnald has a warrant for Sullivan's arrest.

A grand union meeting to urge the duty of voting "no license" is to be held in First church Sunday evening. Theophilus King is to preside and addresses are to be made by Messrs. Wasson, Rice, Southworth, J. O. Hall, and Mayor Porter. The choirs of the Evangelical Congregational church and First church will lead in the singing. The public are cordially invited.

Over 100 of our Swedish residents assembled at Faxon hall, Thanksgiving night, to a temperance meeting conducted in the Swedish language by the "Brodra folks-val." The principal address was made by Yohannes Zellity of Philadelphia. There was music on the organ and violin, singing, declamations, dialogues, etc. Coffee and cake were served at the close. Mr.
Zellity will speak at the same place Saturday evening.

Heaters have been placed in the electric cars.

The Steamer boys find themselves in the 4th place in the voting contest this morning.

Mr. Richard O'Brien and Mr. George Linton are going to Keesville, N. Y., to spend a few weeks.

Owing to the blocking of Hancock street the electrics are only able to go as far as Atlantic street.

A social dance was given in Odd Fellows' opera house, Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Ladies' F. L. T. circle.

District Engineer F. A. Packard, presented the boys at the Steamer house, Thursday with a basket of nuts with which to away their leisure time.

SILVER WEDDING.

The Musical Club to which Mr. and Mrs.
Samuel F. Howard have been members for several years met with them on Monday evening, it being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage; Superintendent French of the Old Colony, presented to them in behalf of the club, with an elegant piano lamp in commemoration of the event.

A SLIGHT FIRE.

A little five-year-old daughter of Mr.
George O. Langley came near making a large fire the first of the week. She got a piece of paper afire at the stove, while her mother was out of the room for a moment, and not knowing what to do, threw it into the wood-box near by. This set the contents on fire, which filled the house with smoke. Her mother discovering the smoke, soon rushed to the rescue of her child, and with heroic efforts soon put the flames out.

Fortunately there was an abundance of water close by, and in a few minutes succeeded in subduing the flames.

WEST QUINCY POSTAL DELIVERY.

Postmaster Adams has located boxes for the collection of mail in West Quincy as follows:

Copeland, corner of Common.
Copeland, corner of Cross.

Crescent and Hill place.

Willard, at depot.

Willard, corner of Cross.

Willard, corner of Robertson.

And at Station A on Crescent street.

The collection will be at 5:45 and 8:30

A. M. and 4:30 P. M.

The deliveries at 7:30 A. M. and 4 P. M.

WEYMOUTH.

The several congregations in the Weymouth and East Braintree villages united in Union Thanksgiving service in the Congregational church on Wednesday evening.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Oliver Huckel of the Union church; other pastors took part in the service. The music was furnished by the united church choirs.

Chaplain McCabe, the war chaplain, will deliver his lecture on "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison" at the Union church
tonight.

Annual 9, A. O. H., held their fourteenth annual concert and ball at Reynolds' hall Thanksgiving eve. The concert was given by the Boston Star Opera Co., they presenting the opera "Sleeping Queen." The ball which followed was also a success, a large number participating.

M. C. Dizer & Co. presented their married employees with Thanksgiving turkeys.
They gave out 250, the total weight of which was 2100 pounds.

TODAY'S COURT.

Victor La Bell, of Holbrook, drunk, $7.
Victor La Bell, of Holbrook, for assault on Officer Wilde, $10.

Napolean La Bell, of Holbrook, for assassination on Officer Wilde, 3 months in House of Correction.

John Sheridan, of Randolph, for assault
on Willard G. Brown, $8.

John T. McAuliff, of Randolph, drunk, $10.

John T. McAuliff, of Randolph, for assassination on Willard G. Brown, $8.

Napolean La Bell, of Holbrook, drunk, $10.

Lawrence Buchanan for obtaining money
on false pretenses from Andrew Milne, was sentenced to 4 months in the House of Correction.

John Sheridan, of Randolph, for assault
on Willard G. Brown, $8.

John T. McAuliff, of Randolph, drunk, $10.

Lawrence Buchanan for obtaining money
on false pretenses from Andrew Milne, was sentenced to 4 months in the House of Correction.

Buchanan has been at work for Messrs.
Milne & Chalmers as engineer. The first of the week he went to Mr. Milne and obtained $10, saying that his mother was dead and he wanted to go to the funeral.
The next day he again went to Mr. Milne and obtained another $10, this time saying that his sister had died from grief of her mother's death. Mr. Milne's heart was touched for his employee, and he kindly loaned Buchanan his wife's black veil for use at the funeral, which said Buchanan soon pawned. Learning of the true facts of the case, a warrant was given Officer Furnald, and the offender now has an opportunity to repent, while sojourning at Dedham.

MARRIED.

HARRIS-RICE—In Weymouth, Nov. 27,
by Rev. B. F. Eaton, Mr. Edwin E.
Harris to Miss Margaretta E. Rice, both of Quincy.

DIED.

FARRELL—In Quincy, Nov. 28, infant of Mr. Thomas and Mrs. Fannie Farrell, aged 17 days.

EWELL—In South Quincy, Nov. 29, Mrs.
Nancy, widow of Mr. Joseph Ewell, aged 8 years and 9 months. Funeral from late residence Saturday, Nov. 29, at 2:30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited.

HOWIE—In South Quincy, Nov. 27,
D., son of Mr. Alexander and Mrs. Charlotte Howie, aged 1 month and 12 days.

STOP! STOP! STOP!

Keep at Work!

There is not any need of your losing a day by going to BOSTON to buy your THANKSGIVING DINNER. We are on DECK and shall have the LARGEST and BEST STOCK in the City to select from, including

Turkeys, Chickens, Geese and Fowl,
Ducks, Game of all Kinds,
And a Large Line of all Kinds of MEATS.

Also Fruits, New Nuts, Candies, Raisins, Currants, Citron and Preserves, Celery, Lettuce, and a Full Line of Vegetables, at

WILSON'S MARKET,
108 Hancock Street, Quincy.

WE SHALL SELL THIS WEEK

Kennedy's Best Common Crackers,

Barrel Price, 5 Cents per Pound.

4 POUNDS FOR 25 CENTS.

This Week Only!

ROGERS BROTHERS, Adams Building,

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

MUST be higher, as the pack is small. We are receiving a large variety of NEW CANNED GOODS of all kinds, which we shall sell at present at last year's prices.

BOSTON BRANCH GROCERY,

Durgin & Merrill's Block.

Quincy, Sept. 24.

Quincy Co-operative Society.

W. F. COLBY, Manager.

Groceries, Provisions, Fish and Oysters

AT BOTTOM PRICES.

CROWN CREAMERY BUTTER,

The Best in the Market.

FRANKLIN STREET, QUINCY.

Nov. 10.

FLANDERS' TONIC

Tones up the Stomach. Makes the Brain Active.

Purify your Blood with Flanders' Tonic. That Tired Feeling will be

Unknown to those who use it.

TRY IT! TAKE NO OTHER!

A Combination of Malt Calisaya and Hypophosphites
Tonic and Stimulant.

Guaranteed by all Druggists.

$1.00. Six Bottles for $5.00.

FLANDERS' MANDRAKE PILLS beats
them all. Price 25 Cents.

Physicians endorse it. Ask your druggist for it; if he cannot supply you, send direct to us. We prepay express charges upon receipt of price. Made only by

MAKE-UP!

Flanders' Tonic Co., Woburn, Mass., U. S. A.

CLUB OF THE FUTURE

KATE FIELD'S IDEA OF AN ORGAN-IZATION FOR BOTH SEXES.

The Necessity of Such an Institution.
Reasons Why Women Should Enjoy the Benefits of Club Life as Well as Men.
Life Will Be Pleasanter for All.

Some of us were startled a while ago by reading that certain New York women had founded a woman's club. I was very glad to learn of the innovation, and have been fighting in its defense privately ever since, as the idea seems to be particularly obnoxious to the average intellect.

Why should there not be clubs not for men only nor for women only, but for men and women, which could become social centers in the elongated babel of New York? Only the very wealthy can now afford to entertain.

Well to do intelligence starves for lack of a natural interchange of ideas and sympathies. Occasional theatre parties and suppers, while significantly expensive, no more nourish healthy friendships than lightning nourishes the growing grass.

Confine the healthy, abolition of social instinct, and explosion comes. If women are to be helpers to their husbands, if they are to be wise mothers, they must know the real world by actual contact.

Without freedom there is no intelligent virtue. Many a man, from inherited habits of thought, entertains oriental ideas without knowing it.

FEATURES OF THE CLUB.</p

PROPERTY.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

VOL. 1. NO. 194

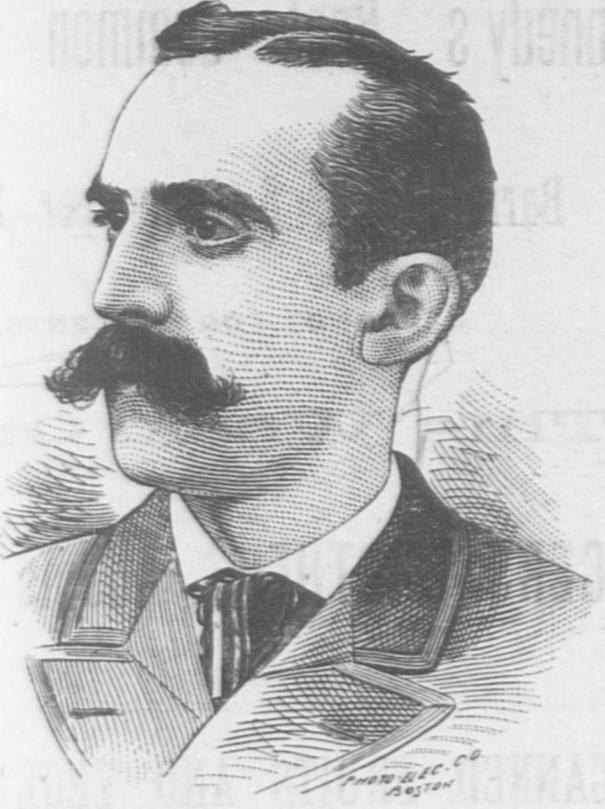

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1890.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

xable property of the city, a certain each issue, so that the total of a computed by interested parties. Tax rate per thousand $13.60. "M" as far as "Mar."

Value.	Tax.
$1,800	$25.84
100	2.72
600	15.64
550	15.64
600	15.64
150	10.20
200	2.72
1,200	23.76
400	10.88
300	10.88
600	10.88
800	10.88
1,000	10.88
600	23.76

Value.	Tax.
1,150	19.00
100	2.72
500	13.60
300	13.60
500	13.60
1,500	27.20
150	2.72
550	13.60
1,200	46.24
1,200	46.24
400	10.88
100	2.72
300	10.88

HENRY O. FAIRBANKS.

Republican Nominee for Mayor—President of the Council for 1890.

Henry O. Fairbanks was born in Boston, June 21, 1852, removing to Quincy in 1871, and has always taken a deep interest in local affairs. He was a member of the City Council, serving on important committees, and the present year has served as President of the Council. From his experiences in the Legislative branch, he has familiarized himself also with the details of the executive department and is fully acquainted with all the details of the City government, is thoroughly equipped for the position. Socially he is found to be of genial and hearty disposition and temperament.

Mr. Fairbanks is a gentleman well known in the social and political world of Quincy, and the business section of Boston. He has been a busy man, having for many years been selling agent for a number of large flouring mills, and until the inauguration of the City government of Quincy, had never held public office, elected to Council from Ward Five at first City election, he quickly found his way to the front in the body as an able debater, and for conscientious hard work of the Committee of Fire Department; being reelected in 1889 he was chosen President of the Council by an unanimous vote, which position he has filled with marked ability and fairness and with a watchful eye to the best interest of the City. Those who know Mr. Fairbanks well, predict that if elected he will conduct the City's business on a conservative business policy throughout every department.

LARGEST STOCK! LOWEST PRICES!

Men's, Youths' and Children's

Suits and Overcoats,

Underwear, Shirts and Gloves, Suspenders, Umbrellas, &c., &c.

QUINCY ONE PRICE CLOTHING CO.,

DURCIN & MERRILL'S BLOCK.

BEST IN THE MARKET!

FOR $6.50 CASH

WE SELL A TON OF THE

WEBSTER NUT COAL,

It is the most Economical Coal sold.

C. PATCH & SON.

[FRANK S. PATCH.]

Quincy, July 9.

GEORGE WOODBURY MORTON.

Elected to the Council by Ward One Last Year—Good Record.

George Woodbury Morton was born in Quincy, May 2, 1842. He attended the public schools and Pierrepont & Wesleyan Academy, until the breaking out of the war in 1861; when he entered the United States Navy as volunteer Paymaster, and was attached to the U. S. Gunboat "R. B. Forbes" in the Dupont expedition at the taking of Port Royal, South Carolina; afterwards temporarily attached to the Frigate "Roanoke" during the engagement between the "Monitor" and "Merrimac" at Hampton Roads, Virginia, and for nearly three years on board the "Hetzet" Flag-ship in the sounds of North Carolina. At the close of the war, he was ordered to the U. S. ship "Juniper" and visited the principal ports in Brazil, Uruguay, Buenos Ayres, St. Helena, Africa, Portugal and England, returning from the U. S. Navy in 1867. Since then, his principal business has been the care of Real Estate, and at the present time has an office in the Adams building. He has served the city one year in the present council, and has been on an important committee, and is eminently fitted to represent the citizens.

Mr. Morton is a gentleman well known in Quincy. His father, the late Judge Morton, was a prominent citizen of the town for a great many years. Mr. Morton is a citizen who believes in progress, and is active in all movements looking to the building up and advancement of the city of Quincy. He is Superintendent of Manet Electric Street Railway, which has done much to develop that beautiful point of land called Houghs Neck.

THADDEUS H. NEWCOMB.

Two Years' Record in Municipal Affairs.

Thaddeus H. Newcomb was born in Quincy March 15th, 1826, and educated in our public schools. He has always been engaged in the granite business and often served on town committees in the old Whig party and also the Republican party

LADIES' NIGHT.

Merry Mount Lodge, Knights of Honor, Entertain the Ladies.

Members of Merry Mount Lodge, K. of H., and their wives, daughters and sweethearts, spent a very enjoyable evening at G. A. Hall last evening. It was ladies' night and an entertainment and supper was provided. The programme included:

Piano solo by E. May McPhail, Song by Miss Fletcher. Duet by Miss C. G. and Mamie Souther, Reading by Miss Minnie Litchfield. Banjo solo by H. O. Studley. Reading by Grand Dictator Brown of Wollaston Lodge.

Violin solo by Miss C. G. Souther, Remarks by Grand Dictator E. Granville Pratt. Song by Mrs. Hamilton of Yarmouth, N. S. Remarks by C. A. Foster. Duet by H. O. Studley and Albert Keating.

The collation included salads, escalloped oysters and coffee. Dancing concluded the evening's enjoyment, music being furnished by Souther's orchestra.

Death of an Aged Resident.

Mr. Michael Devlin of South Walnut street, who sustained a paralytic shock the first of the week, died at 6:00 this morning. He was in his 72d year, and for 45 years has been a resident of Quincy. For about thirty years he had charge of the large farm of the late Judge Bigelow. In those days he was prominent in church affairs and was treasurer of the St. Patrick's Society which flourished then. His work as a landscape gardener is conspicuous at the Mount Wollaston Cemetery.

An Impostor.

A travelling salesman visited Holbrook on Wednesday, and succeeded in getting considerable sympathy and some money. He visited houses, offering small bottles of perfume and lead pencils for sale, and when seeing a favorable spot would fall in what appeared to be an epileptic fit and on reviving would tell a pitiful story by which he would gain financial assistance. He carried a small bottle labelled, "give me two drops in case of sickness," and when the dose was administered he would quickly recover. The Boston Globe says he has practised his imposition in towns in that vicinity for the past year, and claims to be a soldier. He is of medium height, with light mustache and goatee, and some six months since in Brockton he worked the same racket, and was shown up by the local press.

since its organization. Mr. Newcomb served as constable also in fire department. He was a Lieutenant in the war of the rebellion in the 42d Mass. Volks, and was nineteen months in rebel prisons. He has received a large vote for councilman-at-large for two successive years and in committee work has given much thought and labor.

FREDERICK L. JONES.

An Honorable Career in Quincy's First Council.

Frederick L. Jones was born at Monmouth, England, Jan. 31, 1845, and came to America when between 14 and 15 years of age. He attended the Adams School for part of 2 years and enlisted in Co. H 23d Mass. Volunteer Infantry, Dec. 6, 1861, being under 17 years of age at that time, and participated in all the battles the regiment was engaged in; he was slightly wounded at Battle of Newbern March 14, 1862, and very severely wounded at the attack on Fort Crater at Petersburg, July 31st, 1864, after the war was over he learned the trade of stone-cutter with Charles R. Mitchell & Co., of Quincy, commencing the granite business himself in 1877, and has been successful. His firm is that of McGilvray & Jones with extensive works at Quincy Adams. Mr. Jones was nominated by the Republicans of Ward Three and has been elected for 2 years in succession to the city government, and is now the nominee for Councilman-at-large from Ward Three.

CHARLES L. HAMMOND.

An Active Exponent of West Quincy's Needs.

Charles L. Hammond was born in West Quincy, and is about 30 years of age. He has been with C. F. Howe & Co., Boston, for 10 years and has taken a lively personal interest in public affairs in National, State and Municipal government.

Mr. Hammond is a representative of the younger element of the Republican party, and his popularity among a large circle of acquaintances attests the merit which he deserves.

HOSPITAL SUNDAY CONTRIBUTIONS.

QUINCY, Nov. 20, 1890.

Editors of the Ledger:

DEAR SIR:—The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy have received "Hospital Sunday" collections from the following churches:

Swedish Congregational, Quincy, $23.15
Universalist, Quincy, 6.75
Congregational, Quincy, 81.00
First Unitarian, Quincy, 92.30
Methodist, West Quincy, 13.06
Memorial, Atlantic, 8.00
Congregational, Wollaston, 40.00
Unitarian, Wollaston, 20.77
$285.03

Your truly,

TIMO REED,
Secretary of the Board of Trustees.

THE JOHNSON TURKEY FUND.

Twenty-three families were helped and made happy by the C. C. Johnson fund on Wednesday, each receiving a turkey weighing about eight pounds. The Committee on Poor of the City Council, Councilmen Green, Warner and Sherman held a meeting at which various charitable societies presented names of worthy persons. It was voted to purchase and distribute through Mr. Green, the chairman, and Mr. George Field, Overseer of the Poor. The contract was awarded to Ford Bros. who furnished about 184 pounds for the $40 income of the fund.

QUINCY POST OFFICE.

Letters advertised November 28.

Bent, G. W. Harrington, H.
Bennett, A. G. Hedricks, Mrs.
Collins, John H. Jonson, Sovrin Coppering, James K. Karlson, Karl A.
Conway, James L. Johnson, O. A.
Clarkson, J. Longfellow, O. S.
Clarkson, Mr. More, C. F.
Cullinan, Mausey McLeod, Chas. N.
Carson, Peter McLeod, David
Cartwright, Edward J. McLaughlin, J.
Fish, Chas. H. Paul, McLaughlin, J.
French, Mary Roberts, Emma Goddit, Wm. H. Stratton, H. W.
Gove, L. Smith, Frank W.
Gorman, Lizzie Swanson, C. G. T.
Grant, A. E. Taylor, H. A.
Greenlaw, B. F. Woodward, C. A.
Halvorson, Julius White, P.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

Messrs. Allen & Walker on last pay day (Nov. 15,) at their stone sheds suggested a contribution for the City hospital, subscribing five dollars themselves; twelve dollars and seventy-five cents was quickly added to the fund for support of the hospital, which seems to unite all in helpful effort. May this not prove an example to some?

T. KING, Treas.

ROGER HENRY WILDE.

Atlantic's Favorite Son—Two Years in the City Council.

Roger Henry Wilde, was born in Marshfield, Mass., Oct. 24, 1853.

At the age of thirteen he entered Lawrence Academy, Groton; returning to Boston he attended a Commercial college for a short term. He entered the counting room of Messrs. Hart, Taylor & Co., of Boston in 1870, and although there have been a number of successors to that firm, he still remains in the same office and is now bookkeeper for Messrs. Dyer, Rice & Co. He was married in 1871, and took up his residence in Atlantic, now Ward 6. He has been a member of the City Council for two years, as chairman of the Committee on Ordinances during the first year of the city government, he gave a great deal of time and hard labor in framing the ordinances to govern the city. When speaking he speaks to the point and his remarks receive close attention. Mr. Wilde is a quiet unassuming gentleman and very popular in the Ward where he resides.

SYLVESTER BROWN.

Ex-Superintendent of Quincy Schools.

Former Nominee of Republicans and Democrats to School Board.

Sylvester Brown, the candidate of the Republicans for School Committee-at-large was born in Bow, N. H., forty-two years ago. He received his early training in the country district schools and then entered Colby Academy, New London, from which he was graduated in 1871. The same year he was made principal of the Dunbarton, N. H., High school, which position he held till January, 1872, when he was appointed master in Manchester, N. H. Remaining in Manchester for three years he came to Quincy in 1876 as master of the Quincy school at Atlantic, where he remained two years. He was then transferred to the Willard school, the largest in Quincy. It was during Mr. Brown's mastership of the Willard school that the first classes of all the schools in Norfolk county were examined by the State Board of Education. The first class in the Willard school, which Mr. Brown taught, received the highest average mark of any school in Norfolk county. In December, 1879, he accepted the mastership of a school in Brookline, from which position he was recalled to the superintendence of the public schools in Quincy on the retirement of Col. Parker in April, 1880. This position Mr. Brown held for three years to the entire satisfaction of the School Committee, to use the words of the chairman of the School Board at that time. In April, 1883, Mr. Brown accepted a position in the Prince school, Boston, at an increased salary, which position he held till last December, when he was unanimously elected master of the Martin school, Boston, which position he occupies at the present time.

At the next annual town meeting after Mr. Brown went to Boston, in March, 1884, he was elected to the School Board of Quincy, a position to which he has been twice re-elected, having received the nomination from both the Republican and Democratic parties.

Mr. Brown was elected chairman in 1887, a position which he has filled to the present time.

STICKERS.

Straws that Show.

E. W. H. Bass is again called upon to represent for a second term the citizens of Ward One. He is well known as guardian of the interests of N. Curtis & Co. in their Granite street shoe manufacture and besides a store of valuable knowledge, has by his cordial disposition, a host of friends.

John O. Holden of Ward One, accepts nomination for the first time to the City Council, and as a resident who has had his eyes open to the wants of the growing city, can legislate undoubtedly to the satisfaction of his constituents.

H. Walter Gray has long been known locally, and with several years experience in financial circles, is eminently fitted to render valuable advice to the city.

For School Committee, Ward Four places in nomination Charles L. Badger, Ward Five, Wendell G. Corthell, the nominee of both parties and in Ward Six, Horace H. Bemis.

John E. Drake known in Ward Two as a leading citizen, and prosperous business man, is a candidate from the Point district and can readily follow in the footsteps of Councilman Graham.

Horace O. Souther has opportunity to carry on for 1890; the labor he so actively forwarded during 1880.

Joseph L. Wilson, familiarly known by his past connection with the Board of Health, if he receives the support of the ward will promulgate the doctrines of the doctors to the advancement of health in the city.

James Thompson of Ward Three, is one of the most prominent members of the present council, and has devoted earnest work to city finances and other committee labors.

Peter W. Dakers is the second candidate in Ward Three and can expound decided views in furthering causes that may appear to him to be best for the city interests.

Lester M. Pratt is of Pratt & Curtis the school street provision dealers, and by industry has built up a good business, and to turn his energies to city government will make the South Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING.
(SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)

— BY —

GREEN & PRESCOTT,
115 HANCOCK STREET.

FRANK F. PRESCOTT, City Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES,
By Carriers or Mail.

One month,	$.50
Three months,	1.50
Six months,	3.00
One year,	5.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.

Single copies 2 cents, delivered daily by carriers; to be paid for weekly.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One inch, one insertion, 50 cents; one week, $1.00; one month, $3.50.
Size advertising, 50 cents per line, Lost, Found, Wanted, For Sale, To Let, etc., not exceeding four lines in length, 25 cents first insertion; 10 cents each additional insertion.
Births, deaths and marriage free.

TELEPHONE, 54-3 QUINCY.

List of Candidates.

CITY OF
QUINCY.

Office of the City Clerk, Nov. 26, 1890.
I certify that the following is a list of all the nominations made, as provided in Chapter 413, Acts of 1889, to be voted for in the City of Quincy, December 2d, 1890.

CHRISTOPHER A. SPEAR, City Clerk.

For Mayor, Vote for One.
Henry O. Fairbanks, Republican
26 Central avenue.

Jason G. Witham, Democratic Grand View avenue.

For Councilmen-at-large, Vote for Five.
John A. Dugan, Democratic
37 Atlantic street.

Fred F. Green, Democratic
43 Hancock street.

Charles L. Hammond, Republican 44 Crescent street.

Frederick L. Jones, Republican
106 Granite street.

George W. Morris, Republican
2 Spear street.

Thaddeus H. Newcomb, Republican
208 Washington street.

Edward J. Parker, Democratic
36 Water street.

William T. Shea, Democratic
12 Common street.

Michael T. Sullivan, Democratic
27 Main street.

Roger H. Wilder, Republican 25 Billings street.

For Councilmen from Ward One, Vote for Three.
E. W. Henry Bass, Republican 30 Gram St.

H. Walter Gray, Republican
36 Canal street.

John O. Holden, Republican
5 Adams street.

Elisha Packard, Democratic
18 Elm street.

Samuel H. Spear, Democratic
42 Granite street.

Frederick W. Turrell, Democratic Sea street.

For Councilmen from Ward Two, Vote for Three.
John E. Drake, Republican
148 Washington street.

Simeon D. Howard, Democratic 15 Howard avenue.

J. Francis Hayward, Democratic
17 Mill street.

John C. King, Democratic
181 Washington street.

Horace O. Lester, Republican
140 Washington street.

Joseph L. Whitmore, Republican
248 Washington street.

For Councilmen from Ward Three, Vote for Three.
George Cahill, Democratic
96 Water street.

Peter W. Dalton, Republican
145 Water street.

James S. McDonnell, Democratic
91 Water street.

Lester M. Pratt, Republican
4 Franklin street.

James Thompson, Republican
41 Franklin street.

William H. Walker, Democratic Penn street.

For Councilmen from Ward Four, Vote for Three.
Peter T. Fallon, Democratic
22 Common street.

Daniel C. Little, Democratic
Willard street.

William F. Powers, Democratic
Common street.

Jonas Shackerley, Republican
Hall place.

LADIES'
SILK SCARFS
For the Neck,

IN ALL SHADES,

At 75 Cents Each,

AT

Miss C. S. Hubbard's,

158 Hancock St.,

BLANKET LINED
Canvas Jackets
AT

Saville & Jones'.

CLUETT'S
Monarch Shirts
AND
CROWN COLLARS AND CUFFS

Are the BEST manufactured, and can be found at the

Granite Clothing Co.'s.

Deu Indiska Doktoren Svenska.

Consultation Free in Boston.

THE Indian Doctor who gave Indian Camp Shows in Quincy last July, will give consultation the rest of the winter at his city office, 24 West Dedham street, Boston. He also treats by letter.

Boston, Nov. 5. ff

Quincy City Grain Store.

BEST GRADES OF

FLOUR GRAIN HAY AND STRAW.

Brick, Lime Cement and Drain Pipe.

Agent for the Celebrated

Bowker's Fertilizer.

Superior to all others

Edward Russell,

PROPRIETOR.

24 Washington St, cor. Coddington.

Branch store at South Quincy, near Rail road Station.

Telephone Connections.

A BARGAIN.

TEN Pound Chests of New Formosa Oolong Tea at

50 cts. a lb.

Guaranteed to please.

J. F. MERRILL

OLD PAPERS

FOR SALE—

10 cts. a Hundred,

At the LEDGER OFFICE.

QUINCY'S TAXABLE PROPERTY.

Below is given another instalment of the list of taxable property of the city, a certain part of a letter for each Ward being published in each issue, so that the total of a person having property in each of the Wards may be computed by interested parties. The poll tax is included in the amount of the tax. Tax rate per thousand $13.60. Today's list concludes all whose surname begins with "Ma."

WARD ONE.

To Whom Taxed.	Value.	Tax.
Marsh, Annie S. Stocks, income, etc.,	500	6 80
Marsh, Charles, estate of. House on Irving place,	4,000
Land, 2 30-100 acres,	6,000	136 00
Marsh, Ephraim R. House on Bicknell street,	500
Land, one-eighth acre,	100	10 16
Marsh, Thomas M., heirs of. Money, stocks, bonds and income, 3,000
House on Hancock street,	1,300
Land, 11,077 feet,	2,000	85 68
Marsh, Edward B. Money,	500	6 80
Marsh, Wilson. Money and stocks,	1,000
Two yachts,	450	21 72
Matterson, Peter. House on North common,	1,000
Land, 6,000 feet,	100	16 96

WARD TWO.

Marrab, Bridget. House on South Walnut street,	500
Land, 41,925 feet,	1,700	29 92
Massachusetts Baptist Convention. House on Wendell street,	900
Land, one-half acre,	200	14 96
Maybury, William F. Yacht,	200
House and shop on South street,	1,000
Land, 15,380 feet,	450	26 48
Maybury, William M. Yacht,	400	7 44

WARD THREE.

Marnock, Alexander. House on Penn street,	1,300
Land, 7,290 feet,	400	25 12
Marr, Albert A. Fur horses,	400	7 44
Marsh, Edwin W. House on Marsh street,	1,200
Land, 13,350 feet,	900	30 56
Marsh, Edwin W., administrator. Money,	250
House on Granite street,	2,300
Shop,	300
Land on Granite street, 6,700 feet,	575
House on Granite street,	2,000
Land, 7,237 feet,	450	79 90
Marsh, Frederick A. Horse and carriage,	350	6 76
Marsh, J. Mayhew, heirs of. Land on Marsh street, 18,200 feet,	1,800	24 48
Martin, Edward J. Land on Rodman street, 6,000 feet,	225	3 06
Martin, L. N. Land on Centre street, 8,000 feet,	250	3 40
Mason, John. House on Penn street,	1,000
Land, 6,000 feet,	350	20 36
Mason & Company. Stock in trade,	500
Horse,	150	8 84
Mavers, Robert. House on Liberty street,	1,600
Land, 6,585 feet,	325	28 18

WARD FOUR.

Marcille, Winifred. Land on Furnace avenue, one-fourth acre,	100
Marsh, Edwin W., administrator. House on Copeland street,	2,400
Barn and shed,	400
Shop,	100
Land, one-fourth acre,	800	50 32
Martelle, Frederick. House on Common street,	1,300
Barn,	100
Land, one-half acre,	500
Martelle, Severn. House on Common street,	1,500
Land, 8,255 feet,	250	25 80
Martin, Napoleon L. Land on Centre street, 8,000 feet,	300	4 08
Mason, Alexander. House on Copeland street,	1,000
Land, one-fourth acre,	800	26 48
Masten, Wilhelm. Land and cellar on Wilson street,	300
Matthews, Thomas. House off Quarry street,	1,000
Land, 6,530 feet,	200
Land on Common street, one-fourth acre,	300
Land, 2 acres, and quarry,	1,000
Matthews Brothers.

Today's Anniversaries.

Important and Minor Events of Local and World Wide Interest

WHICH HAPPENED ON NOV. 29.

In Quincy and Vicinity—On the Battle Fields—Births and Deaths of the Presidents—Incorporation of Massachusetts' Cities and Norfolk County Towns—Foreign Matters.

MARIA THERESA.

1735—Philip IV., the fair French king, in his seventeenth year died; a few days before, she had herself bound in ropes, and when where her husband, Francis I., had been placed fifteen years before. One of the ropes broke, whereupon she blithely remarked, "He wishes me to keep him company! I shall come soon."

1786—Birth of Hamilton R. Gamble, governor of Maine, in Winchester, Va.; died in Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 21, 1864.

1802—Ohio admitted into the Union.

1807—The prince regent and royal family of Portugal embarked for Brazil.

1811—Birth of George Ripley, orator, in Boston, Mass.; died Feb. 8, 1884.

1820—Poland at war with Russia for her independence; the army declare in favor of the people.

1830—Leech's attack on Knoxville, which was repelled by Burnside, failed and he retreated into Virginia.

1838—Death of M. Berryer, noted French advocate; born 1789.

1838—Death of H. C. Greeley, aged 61.

1838—King of Spain's failure to the Archduchess Isabella of Austria.

1848—France recognized the republic of Brazil.

1849—Death in London of Martin Farquhar Tupper, author of "Proverbial Philosophy," aged 72.

1858—Mr. Calvert and Lord Ashbourne submitted the draft of the Irish bill to a committee of the cabinet.

1869—Severe floods, damage on the lakes and to railroads, reported in the west.

TOMORROW'S ANNIVERSARIES.—NOV. 30.

1858—Barn on Pope farm together with horses and cows burned.

1888—Majority and minority reports on change to a city form of government.

World Wide.

1804—Death of Erquidas, noted Greek tragedian; born 480 B.C.

1807—Birth of Jonathan Swift, celebrated writer; died 1743.

1700—Charles XII. of Sweden, fell upon the Russian border Peipus the Great, and with a force of 4,500 men defeated 100,000 Russians.

1807—The French under Marshal Junot occupied Lisbon; the court sailed for Brazil.

1830—Death of Pope Pius VIII.; born 1761.

1846—The remains of Napoleon I landed at Cherbourg.

1855—Turkish fleet destroyed by Russians at Sinope (Russia-Turkish war).

1861—Jefferson Davis elected president of Confederate States for six years.

1862—Death of James Sheridan Knowles, celebrated actor; born 1799.

1863—Battle of Franklin, Tenn.—Confederates defeated with loss of 6,222; Union loss 2,222.

1875—Hurricane in the Philippine Islands; 3,000 houses destroyed and 352 lives lost.

1877—Death in Chicago, Ills., Gen. Jefferson C. Davis, in his 80th year.

1888—Thomas B. Reed of Maine, nominated by the Republicans for speaker of the house.

A Small Job.

"My lord, but this is sudden! Just give time to collect my scattered wits and I'll—"

"All right. I suppose about a second of time will be all you need for a small collection like that?"—St. Joseph News.

Hadn't Done It Yet.

"Is Mr. Gimley a very popular man, Alcott?"

"Why, I think he is the most unpopular man in the world. He has gone with me all summer and shows no inclination to stop yet!"—Light.

In Time of Need.

"Hey, Jimmy, the de dog loose, an' let him go in de water after a man wot's tumbl'd overboard!"—Light.

TRY A FIVE-INCH ADVERTISEMENT FOR A MONTH.

OUR SPECIAL RATE IS

25 CENTS A DAY.

$1.00 A DAY BY THE COLUMN.

PARNELL'S FRONT

He Asks the Irish People for Their Support.

THE LIBERALS' PLANS

In Dealing with the Irish Question Revealed.

A POLL OF THE IRISH PARTY

Shows Fifty-three Against Parnell and Twenty-three in His Favor—Gladstone Will Issue a Counter-Manifesto—Section of Parnellites Resent the Manifesto—Envoy in America Expresses No Opinion as Yet—Press Comments on the Manifesto Indicate that It Will Injure Parnell.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Mr. Parnell has issued the following manifesto:

To the Irish People:

The integrity and independence of a section of the Irish parliamentary party having been apparently sapped and destroyed by the wire-pullers of the Liberal party, it has become necessary for me, as leader of the Irish party, to take your cause, and, having given you the knowledge which is in my possession, to ask your judgment upon a matter which now solely devolves upon you to decide.

The first point is Gladstone to Mr. Morley, written for the purpose of influencing the decision of the Irish party for the Liberals and their leaders in the choice of their leader and claiming the right to nominate their own candidate.

The second point is the reading of the bill with the necessary amendment.

The third point is the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

I have agreed with Mr. Morley on the same terms as I agreed with him on the same time much hampered, and excepted from his sense of his position in that direction by the attitude of the extreme section of his party, led by Mr. Labouchere, and in a sense I have been compelled to act with the necessity of meeting the second reading of the bill with a direct negative and asked me to undertake the motion. I agreed to this, but only on condition that we were to attack the principle of the measure, but to confine myself to criticism of its details.

I think his was false strategy, but it was the strategy adopted out of regard to the English party, who would be greatly pleased if I did the best possible under the circumstances, and the several days' debate on the second reading reading favors favorably with the Libs.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER.

FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS,
and at the following places.

Old County Depot, 115 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Southern's Store, Adams Building, Quincy.
McGovern Bros.' Store, Plummer's Block, Quincy.
McGraw's Store, Copeland Street, Quincy.
Jones' Corner Post Office, Quincy Point.
Hollister's Store, Post Office, Holliston.
Wollaston's Store, Braintree.
M. K. Pratt, Weymouth.

Today's Almanac—November 29.
High water at 1.00 A. M. and 1.45 P. M.
Sun rises at 6:52; Sets at 4:14.
Moon rises 6:47.
Last Quarter Dec. 4.

THE DAY BOOK.

Interesting Brief Locals Gathered by
Ledger Reporters.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carson spent Thanksgiving at Neponset.

Dr. and Mrs. Welsh of Westboro have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wade on Prospect street.

Andrew Benzie and John Boughton of this city leave today on the Cephalonia, the former for Glasgow and the latter for London.

Owing to the temperance meeting at Social hall Sunday evening, the evening service at the Memorial church will be omitted.

December will be a busy month with the secret and non-secret societies, as they nearly all hold their annual meetings and elect officers.

Wednesday Fuller, Foley & Co. shipped to Buffalo, N. Y., the largest block of granite that has been shipped from West Quincy this year.

Tonight the Post Office at West Quincy will close its doors, and hereafter the office will be at F. E. Kimball's store, and will be known as Station A.

Miss Lizzie Brewer after a three week's visit to New Hampshire has returned home and can be found at the Quincy Water Company's office, as smiling as ever.

A pulley burst at the electric light plant early this morning, no one was injured and the only damage was the splintering of several of the boards in the office.

The Clan McGregor Literary and Debating Society will take up the subject of Free-trade and Protection tonight. Free trade, Alex Souter; Protection, James Copland.

Some of the teamsters are complaining of Hancock street being closed. They say, and perhaps rightly, that there is no need of it. If the workmen would only work one side at a time this trouble would be removed.

The subject of Rev. Mr. Freeman's sermon in the M. E. church, Wollaston, on Sunday morning will be "Objections to and Arguments for Revivals." In the evening "The Factors in a revival." All seats free. The public invited.

A meeting in the interest of "no license" will be held Sunday evening at Music hall, Atlantic. Mr. B. F. Thomas will preside and there will be addresses by Miss Isabel Emery, Rev. Edward A. Norton and Rev. J. H. Yoeman. There will be good singing by a mixed quartette.

S. N. Wood, janitor of the Quincy school at Atlantic has resigned his position, which has been accepted by Supt. Aldrich who has appointed M. N. Churchill to the position. There is a story connected with Mr. Wood's resignation which may show at the poles next Tuesday.

Messrs. Tirrell & Sons has issued from their manufactory a new grocery wagon for J. F. Merrill. The running part is painted vermilion and the body green, with the name "Boston Branch" in raised silver letters on the panels, and J. F. Merrill on the side of the seats.

Mrs. Joseph Ewell, a much beloved and respected lady, who has resided for many years on Payne's Hill, passed away on Wednesday evening, at the advanced age of eighty years. She was the mother of a large family of girls and boys, and among the latter is our worthy Councilman, W. W. Ewell. Her funeral will take place Saturday, at 2:30 P. M.

Manet Beach Improvements.

A private club of Boston gentlemen has purchased the site of the old Willow House at Houghs Neck, Quincy, for $12,000, and will erect an elegant and commodious club-house early in the spring. The erection of two new hotels at Manet Beach is contemplated, and extensive additions are to be made to the Linden House.—Herald.

Election Returns.

An extra edition of the QUINCY DAILY LEDGER will be issued election night about 7 P. M., containing complete returns of the city election. Boys wanted in all parts of the city.

The new Vermont legislature includes 157 farmers.

DIED.

GIER—In Quincy Point, Nov. 27, Mr. Jacob Gier, aged 56 years, 8 months.

DEVLIN—In Quincy, Nov. 29, Mr. Michael Devlin, aged 71 years, 6 months, 9 days.

MERRITT—In South Quincy, Nov. 29, Mrs. Elizabeth A. wife of Mr. Amos Merritt, aged 53 years, 9 months, 21 days.

MANN—In Braintree, Nov. 29, Mr. Charles H. Mann, aged 37 years, 8 months.

WALL PAPER.

Wall Paper, Friezes, Borders and Moldings in Gilt, Black and Gilt, Bronze, Oak, Walnut and Cherry. Good White Back Papers from 7 cents to 15 cents per roll. Gilt Papers from 10 to 75 cents. Borders from 1 to 20 cents per yard. Paper Hangings furnished. Paste and Whitewash for sale. S. H. SPEAR'S, 31 Hancock Street.

Wooden Ware.

Tubs, Pails, Brooms, Clothes Wringers, Wash Benches, Wash Boards, Clothes Poles, Step Ladders from 3 to 10 feet, Clothes, Office and Wood Baskets, Doll Carriages, Sleds, Snow Shovels, Floor Brushes, Dust Brushes, Carpet Sweepers, Coal Stoves, Flour Sieves, and a full line of House Furnishing Goods generally at S. H. SPEAR'S, 31 Hancock Street.

Lace Curtains.

I have just added to my stock a full line of Nottingham Lace Curtains, price from 75 cents upward per pair. A very fine Curtain for $2.00 per pair. Curtain Poons completed with Brass Trimmings, 5 cents each. Brass Curtain Rods and Trimmings, Holland, Tinted Cloth Curtains from 30 cents to $1.25, on best spring fixtures. S. H. SPEAR, 31 Hancock Street.

TAKEN from in front of my residence on November 25th, a Rugby football. Return and receive reward. LEWIS BASS.

Quincy, Nov. 29—18.

WANTED.

WANTED.—A good sound Driving Horse, weight about 1100 lbs. Address H. LEDGER Office.

Nov. 29—18.

FOUND.

FOUND.—In Quincy, Nov. 25th, a Gold Watch. The owner can have the same by applying to J. L. GUSTAFSON, No. 3 Carlton street, Quincy. Nov. 28—18.

TO LET.

TO LET.—Half house on Phipps street, newly built, good well kept, $9 per month. Apply at 37 Phipps street. JOHN E. BURNS.

Quincy, Nov. 26—18.

TO LET.—In French's building, Chestnut St., opposite the Congregational church, desirable rooms up one flight. Suitable for Dressmaker, Tailor or Barber. Apply at Bussey's Studio, Adams building, 19-tf.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.—Desirable estates and choice building lots in all parts of the city on easy terms; also houses and business premises.

To Let—GEORGE H. BROWN & CO., Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Agents, Adams Building, Quincy, N. 19-tf.

TO LET.—Fuller, Foley & Co. shipped to Buffalo, N. Y., the largest block of granite that has been shipped from West Quincy this year.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.

The people of Quincy have so heartily adopted the plan of not granting licenses for the sale of Intoxicating Liquors, that it is felt that it is only necessary to call their attention to the fact that on Election Day they will have another opportunity to vote to continue the present excellent order of things in this regard. We urge you to cast a NO ballot. Vote once again to keep the saloons from Quincy and to remove temptation from the weak. We would respectfully suggest to all Clergymen of Quincy that they preach next Sunday upon the benefit to Quincy of the no-license system. Let all, as heretofore, speak out in this matter.